Lot 89C, we have arranged for the surrender of the area required for Kiukiang Road widening as per the official plans of the Shanghai Municipal Council dated August 22, 1925. Mow 0.254 for the sum of Shanghai Taels Fifty-three thousand six hundred and seventy three and cents fifty (Sh. Tls. 53,673.50) being at the same rate and basis of settlement for B. C. Shanghai, September 18, 1925.

DEAR SIR,—We beg to acknowledge receipt of your letter of September 2, enclosing surrender deed for land ex lot No. 10015.

The negotiations that we carried on with the Council were subject to the final approval of the beneficial owners, the Bank of East Asia, which we are pleased to advise we have finally obtained subject to the proviso that we arranged for a surrender of the same road area on Kiukiang Road from the adjoining lots B.C. 12143 and 12086, for which we have secured the consent from the beneficial owners, the Banque Belge Pour l'Etranger, to make the settlement on the same terms.

This business is now all ready for final settlement and as soon as we receive the papers we will do the needful.

Yours faithfully,
CHINA REALTY COMPANY, LTD.
F. W. SUTTERLE,
President.

E. S. B. ROWE, Esq.
Secretary,
Municipal Council.

Shanghai, September 24, 1925.

DEAR SIR,—With reference to our letter of September 18, re Kiukiang Road widening of B.C. Lot 12143, Cad. Lot 89D, and B.C. Lot 12086, Cad. Lot 89C, and our letter of the same date re B.C. Lot 10015, Cad. Lot 89B. we would ask your early consideration and decision on the first letter.

The arrangements with the beneficial owners of B.C. Lot 10015, Cad. Lot 89B were subject to our being able to arrange for the adjoining lots Cad. Lots 89D and 89C as the Bank plainly indicated they would not want their lot set back, if it was the only one which in their opinion would be a disfigurement and not an improvement.

Working on these lines, we have arranged with the owners of the adjoining lots, as per our letter of September 18.

The owners of B.C. Lot 10015, Cad. Lot 89B, had all their plans prepared on the area of the original lot and the set back of 16 ft. of the Kiukiang Road front, would mean entire changing of their plans so that your decision is holding up their building operations as they are not prepared to accept the Council's proposal unless it has been definitely decided with the adjoining properties which would carry the road frontage up to the Kalee Hotel, will also be decided upon.

We trust that you will appreciate the position and give us an early answer.

Yours faithfully,
CHINA REALTY COMPANY, LTD.

Secretary,
Municipal Council.

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, September 29, 1925.

GENTLEMEN,—With reference to your letters of September 18, I am directed to accept your offer to surrender a further area of Mow 0.134 required from Cadastral Lot 89B, for Kiukiang Road widening for the sum of Tls. 28,316.

With regard to Cadastral Lots 89C and 89D, I am directed to inform you that the scheduled widening of this road to 60 feet, will be shown on the official plans for 1926, and that the various areas required in connection therewith will be acquired as and when opportunity offers.

I am, Gentlemen,
Your obedient Servant,
E. S. B. ROWE,
Secretary.

THE CHINA REALTY CO., LTD.

Shanghai, October 2, 1925.

DEAR SIR,—We beg to acknowledge receipt of your letter of September 29, advising the acceptance of our offer to surrender a further area of Mow 0.134 required from Cadastral Lot 89B, for Kiukiang Road widening, for the sum of Tls. 28,316.

With regard to Cadastral Lots 89C and 89D, we wish to advise that the arranging for the road widening of Kiukiang Road by us was done at the request of the Municipal Council and the owners of Cadastral Lot 89B were against surrendering any further part of their property but after considerable arguments, covering several months, we finally induced them to consent but it was with the specific proviso on their part that we would also arrange for Cadastral Lots 89C and 89D to agree to the same surrender and road widening, as they said they would not agree to set their property back alone as it would be more of a detriment from the road appearance, than a benefit.

We then went to work on the owners of Cadastral Lot 89C and 89D and secured their co-operation and consent to surrender on the same basis of settlement as provided for 89B.

Your statement that, "the scheduled widening of this road (Kiukiang Road) to 60 feet will be shown on the official plans for 1926" will no doubt cover the proviso stipulated by the owners of Cadastral Lot 89B but it has placed us in an embarrassing position as regards the owners of Cadastral Lots 89C and 89D and we therefore, hope when the time arrives for the negotiations and settlement for the road widening for these two lots that the Council will be governed by the understanding which we gave to the owners as an arrangement completed with the Council.

We enclose the documents for Cadastral Lot 89B duly signed by the registered title holders and request you to send check at your earliest convenience.

Yours faithfully,
CHINA REALTY COMPANY, LTD.

Secretary,
Municipal Council,

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, October 22, 1925.

GENTLEMEN,—In reply to your letter of October 2 relative to the widening of Kiukiang Road, I am directed to inform you that the Council does not desire to negotiate at this stage for surrender of the areas to be scheduled from Cadastral Lots 89C and 89D.

The scheduling of the areas in question will, as stated in my letter of September 29, be shown on the official plans for 1926, and the settlement of terms of surrender will in accordance with the Council's usual procedure, be considered when the land is acquired for public use.

I am, Gentlemen,
Your obedient Servant,
E. S. B. ROWE,
Secretary.
THE CHINA REALTY CO., LTD.

Shanghai, October 26, 1925.

DEAR SIR,—We have to acknowledge receipt of your letter of 22nd instant, advising that,

"the Council does not desire to negotiate at this stage for surrender of the areas to be scheduled from Cadastral Lots 89C and 89D."

and while your communication closes further consideration now, we wish to put upon record the facts as connected therewith.

At the recommendation of the Traffic Committee the Shanghai Municipal Council decided if possible to schedule Kiukiang Road for widening, calling for appropriation of 16 feet from south end of that Road of properties fronting on Kiukiang Road between Szechuen and Kiangse Roads.

Kiukiang Road from the Bund to Kiangse Road is one of the most important streets, being the Banking centre of Shanghai, largely used by Exchange brokers whose traps owing to the extreme narrowness of the street create a congestion which during business hours make the passage very difficult.

The Bank of East Asia who recently purchased the property south west corner of Szechuen and Kiukiang Road has planned to erect a seven storey building. If this building was erected on existing lines, it would be many years before any progress could be made with the suggestion of the Traffic Commission and the wish of the Shanghai Municipal Council to schedule the widening of Kiukiang Road.

At the request of the Shanghai Municipal Council, we endeavoured to negotiate with the Bank of East Asia which is a Hongkong Bank with Branch at Shanghai, the Hongkong Chief Manager, the Shanghai Management and the Architect were all opposed and flatly refused.

Their position was, They had not enough room on ground floor for offices required.

Their plans were all ready prepared.

They were ready to go to work.

From reports made verbally to the land office it was known we were having great difficulties in negotiating and the writer was carrying on the fight, as it may be termed, at the Head Office, Hongkong, through the co-operation of a personal friend, the Hon. Chow Shou Son, a member of the Hongkong Legislature and a Director of the Bank of East Asia.

The position was,

The Shanghai Municipal Council wanted that new building set back 16 feet and the Architect and everyone connected with the Bank who knew anything about the situation were opposed to it and the Shanghai Municipal Council had no way to enforce it.

Through a great amount of work covering a period of months with the co-operation of Mr. Chow, the China Realty Company finally obtained a change of opinion and a provisional consent which was,

The Bank of East Asia considered it would be a detriment, not an improvement, if their new building was the only one to be set back, therefore,

They would only consent provided it was arranged that the two adjoining lots would be set back also.

While the Shanghai Municipal Council can schedule the Road widening of Kiukiang Road, that could only be done next year and in the meantime the owners of the Kiukiang Road properties adjoining the Bank of East Asia might plan to rebuild on the present lines as scheduled by the Shanghai Municipal Council. It must be recognized that it is possible placing this restriction on their property might put the owners at a disadvantage in their intentions as regards re-building or selling.

The Bank of East Asia wanted to change their plans and start building. They could nor would not wait until next year when the Shanghai Municipal Council could cinch the assurance of scheduling and placing on the new plans the widening of Kiukiang Road.

It was therefore advisable if not necessary, to obtain an agreement from the owners to set back the line 16 feet and be able to assure the Bank of East Asia it would be done before we could act on their provisional consent.

We therefore after reporting verbally to the land office of the Shanghai Municipal Council progress of negotiations went to work on the owners of the Kiukiang Road properties and principally if not entirely on our advice and assurance that compensation would be allowed them on the same basis as allowed the Bank of East Asia, obtained their consent and on this basis closed with the Shanghai Municipal Council for the Bank of East Asia.

We want to point out that the China Realty Company are not personally interested in whether Kiukiang Road is or will be 30 or 60 feet wide. The Shanghai Municipal Council wanted something done and we did our best to carry it out without any other motive than friendly co-operation as a part return for the past favors and courteous treatment we have received from all the members of the Staff of the Shanghai Municipal Council especially those of the Land Office.

What the future settlement will be with the owners of the Kiukiang Road property is no concern of ours other than that the owners under the impression NOW we had arranged this, which when the proper time comes we will endeavour to explain by laying before them the correspondence and records in the case and for this reason we send this as our final communication to the negotiations which your letter of October 22 has closed for the present.

Yours faithfully,

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, November 24, 1925.

GENTLEMEN,—I am directed to acknowledge receipt of your letter of October 26 relative to the widening of Kiukiang Road as affecting Cadastral Lots 89C and 89D.

In this connection, I am directed to state that, whilst the Council appreciates your co-operation in this matter, it is unable, at the present time, to negotiate for acquisition of the road land required from these lots.

I am, Gentlemen,
Your obedient Servant,
E. S. B. ROWE,

THE CHINA REALTY CO., LTD.

Shanghai, September 11, 1928.

DEAR SIR,—We beg to refer to the previous correspondence pertaining to the surrender required by the Council from Cadastral Lot 89 for the widening of Kiukiang Road up to 60 feet i.e., your letter No. 2993 dated October 22, 1925, and our reply thereto dated October 26, 1925, and wish to advise that the owners contemplate, at an early date, to surrender to the Council the area of Mow 0.249 scheduled.

From our last letter you will notice that the compensation to be allowed our clients should be on the same basis as the settlement made re the widening for Kiukiang Road from Cadastral Lot 89B, which was Tls. 28,316 for mow 0.134 or Tls. 211,313 per mow.

Cadastral Lot 89 is now covered by B. C. Lots 12086 and 12143, and we shall appreciate receiving your acceptance to the above terms together with the necessary surrender deeds at your earliest convenience.

Yours faithfully,
CHINA REALTY COMPANY FED., INC., U.S.A.
A. LOONIS,
Secretary.

J. M. MCKEE, Esq.
Acting Secretary,
Municipal Council.

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, October 1, 1928.

SIR,—I am directed to acknowledge receipt of your letter of September 11, wherein you offer to surrender the area acquired from Cadastral Lots 89C and 89D for the scheduled widening of Kiukiang Road at the same rate as that paid for the area acquired from Cadastral Lot 89B, i.e., Tls. 211,313 per mow.

In reply thereto, I am directed to point out that the compensation paid in the case to which you refer included the estimated cost of reinstating the wall of the property to the new road line together with compensation for the loss of a portion of the building to be removed and temporary loss of rent during reinstatement. It is obvious, however, that this basis of compensation cannot apply in the present case, since the buildings affected by the widening are in a dilapidated condition and are at the end of their economic life. Furthermore, Cadastral Lot 89C and 89D are not of the same value as Cadastral Lot 89B, which is a corner lot.

In the circumstances, I am directed to offer compensation at the assessed value of the lot, i.e., Tls. 125,000 per mow less 1/3rd for betterment on the area required for a 50 ft. road, measured from the middle of the present scheduled road line, plus 10 per cent. for compulsory surrender, making a sum of Tls. 26,721 for the area of Mow 0.254 involved. (Not Mow 0.249 as stated in your letter). In this connection I would state that it was on this basis that compensation was recently arranged with the owners for the surrender of the area scheduled from Cadastral Lots 86A, 87 and 87A. on the opposite side of the road, vide "Municipal Gazette," September 28, 1928.

I shall be obliged if you will inform me whether the above offer is acceptable, in which event, the agreed amount of compensation will be paid when the requisite surrender deeds have been duly executed and the scheduled area is rendered available for public use.

I am, Sir,
Your obedient Servant,
J. M. MCKEE,
Acting Secretary.

Shanghai, October 18, 1928.

DEAR SIR,—We beg to acknowledge receipt of your letter No. 2993 dated October 1, 1928, pertaining to the surrender required from Cad. Lots 89C and 89D, B.C. Lots 12086 and 12143, for the widening of Kiukiang Road.

In reply thereto, we wish to inform you that we cannot possibly accept the compensation as offered by the Council, viz: Tls. 26,721 for the surrender of Mow 0.254 involved, and hope the Council will revise their offer after due consideration.

Upon recommendation of the Traffic Commission, the Shanghai Municipal Council scheduled the widening of Kiukiang Road from 33 feet to 60 feet during the year 1925. This was considered one of the most important necessary Municipal improvements in the way of street widening, Kiukiang Road being the main Banking Section where the important Gold Bar Exchange is situated with its very congested traffic.

But this scheduled widening could not be made officially effective until 1926.

This proposed scheduled improvement could consequently have been practically blocked unless the Bank of East Asia would agree and alter existing plans, made before scheduled road widening, for erection of a large office building corner of Szechuen and Kiukiang Roads.

At the request of the Shanghai Municipal Council Land Office, we endeavoured to negotiate.

The Head Office of the Bank of East Asia is located at Hongkong, and the officials of the Bank especially governed by the objections of the Architects for their proposed new building refused at first to consider, and only after some months of negotiations we succeeded in obtaining their consent provided:—

It was at the same time arranged that the adjoining B.C. Lots 12086 and 12143 would be set back to the scheduled lines.

This necessitated our negotiating with the owners of B.C. Lots 12086 and 12143, the Banque Belge l'Etranger, as the proposed scheduled road widening could only come into effect the following year, and in the meantime they might decide to rebuild and apply for permit on existing lines which could not be refused.

We eventually obtained their (the Banque Belge pour l'Etranger) consent provided the same allowance be made as offered to the Bank of East Asia. There may have been some misunderstanding, but our position we immediately placed on record in our letter of October 26, 1925 and the facts are:—

A. At the time we were acting at the request of the Shanghai Municipal Council and not for the owners of the property.
B. The Bank of East Asia would not agree unless we could arrange and guarantee that the adjoining property would be set back to the new proposed scheduled line.
C. We obtained the undertaking from the Banque Belge pour l'Etranger under our assurances that settlement would be made with them on the same lines as offered to the Bank of East Asia.

In the final disposition of this business, we request consideration by the Shanghai Municipal Council as to whether the removal of what would have been practically a permanent block to this most necessary improvement is not worth the carrying out of the arrangements we made in good faith with the Banque Belge pour l'Etranger.

Should the Shanghai Municipal Council not be willing to consider the position existing at the time of arranging with the Bank of East Asia as set forth in our letter of October 26, 1925, then we wish to answer the points in your letter of October 1, 1928 as follows:—

1. The present buildings standing on Cad. Lots 89C and 89D are similar to those that were existing on Cad. Lot 89B at the time the surrender from this latter lot for the widening of Kiukiang Road was made. As a matter of fact, Cad. Lots 89B, 89C and 89D were originally one lot and the buildings existing thereon were one and the same building.

2. The Council claim that the buildings affected by the widening are in a dilapidated condition and are at the end of their economic life. The eastern section of the building alone above the passage is in a dilapidated condition, due solely to the rebuilding operations that have taken place on Cad. Lot 89B, and due to no fault whatever of the owners. The middle and western sections are still in a sound condition and far from the end of their economic life.

3. If it were not for the widening of Kiukiang Road, it would be worth while to make to the present building the repairs necessitated by the damage caused through the adjoining building operations and/or convert the present godown building into a desirable and suitable office building, and consequently compensation for reinstating the wall of the property to the new road line together with further indemnities for the loss of a portion of the building to be removed and loss of rent during reinstatement should be granted.

4. In connection with the comparison you make for your offer of compensation with the terms recently arranged for Cad. Lots 86A, 87 and 87A, we wish to draw your attention to the fact the strip you take from our clients' lots is 17 feet in width as against 10 feet only on the other side of the road, and for this additional 7 feet taken away from our lot to the advantage of the opposite one, you request deduction of betterment by 1/3rd against us. This does not seem to be quite logical, as from Cad. Lot 86A, 87 and 87A deduction for betterment applied to a strip of five feet only, when the strip from Cad. Lots 89C and 89D on which betterment applies is 12 feet wide.

For the reasons enumerated above, we have to request compensation as per our letter of September 11, 1928, allowing a reduction of Tls. 20,000 per mow on the rate of Tls. 211,313 per mow asked for, due to the fact that the assessed value of Cad. Lot 89B at the time of the surrender from this lot was Tls. 145,000 per mow and that the present assessed value of Cad. Lots 89C and 89D is Tls. 125,000 per mow.

Yours faithfully,
CHINA REALTY COMPANY FED., INC., U.S.A.
A. LOONIS,

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, November 2, 1928.

SIR,—In reply to your letter of October 18 with regard to the area required from Cadastral Lots 89C and 89D for the scheduled widening of Kiukiang Road, I am directed to inform you that the Council is unwilling to endorse the terms of surrender which, it is understood, were agreed to more than three years ago between you and the Banque Belge pour l'Etranger, as they do not have regard to all existing conditions.

It is the opinion of the Council that the conversion of the present building into office accommodation is not a reasonable or feasible proposition, and therefore as the owner must of necessity rebuild there is no reason why the Council should be called upon to pay reinstatement costs or loss of rent. If, as is stated in your letter, the building has been damaged by building operations on the adjoining lot the matter is not one which concerns the Council.

With regard to the question of betterment I am directed to state that it is, as you will appreciate, extremely difficult to assess equitably the betterment accruing to lots on account of road improvement. The Council however endeavours to be as consistent as possible and in the case of Cadastral Lots 89C and 89D a deduction of one-third for betterment is considered not unreasonable. In this connection I would point out that your statement with regard to Cadastral Lots 86A, 87 and 87A, on the opposite side of Kiukiang Road is not quite correct as the depth of the strip in respect of which a deduction for betterment was made actually varies from 5 ft. 3 ins. to 7 ft. 3 ins.

The Council is accordingly unwilling to increase the offer contained in its letter of October 1, and I have to express the hope that on reconsideration you will agree that the sum of Tls. 26,721 is fair and reasonable compensation for the area of Mow 0.254 involved.

In conclusion I am directed to inform you that should plans be submitted and approved for the conversion of the existing building on Cadastral Lots 89C. and 89D. into office accommodation the Council would be prepared to consider the payment of some additional compensation to represent the cost of setting back the front wall of the building to the scheduled road line. Such additional compensation however would only become payable on the completion of the conversion scheme.

I am, Sir,
Your obedient Servant,
J. R. JONES,
Deputy Secretary.

Shanghai, November 23, 1928.

DEAR SIR,—We have to acknowledge receipt of your letter of November 2, and while we have previously answered the technical points as regards your position in our former correspondence, we can only confirm that this is a case that should receive special consideration, and refer you to our letter of October 26, 1925, wherein at the time of the settlement with the Bank of East Asia, we put the situation on record and the facts are, the Shanghai Municipal Council wanted to prevent the Bank of East Asia from erecting their new office building on the old line which the Council had no power to prevent and they requested us to try and negotiate.

The Bank of East Asia positively refused unless we could obtain a consent and agreement with the owners of the adjoining property to the west, Cad. Lots 89C and 89D, that they would agree to set their property back also, and we obtained that agreement from the owners with the understanding that they would receive the same consideration as the Bank of East Asia.

We were doing something which we considered a friendly service to the Shanghai Municipal Council and we hope that you will look further into the situation and not compel us to repudiate the assurances that we gave to the owners of Cad. Lots 89C and 89D.

We practically arranged that the whole south side of Kiukiang Road will now be set back to the new lines recommended by the Traffic Commission. As this question is now about to be settled, we think the value of the arrangements made by us in 1925 should not be overlooked by the Shanghai Municipal Council whose interests were satisfactorily dealt with at the time.

Should the Council fail to see this matter in the same light as we do, we would request you to have this claim for surrender brought before the Land Commission at the earliest possible date.

Yours faithfully,
CHINA REALTY COMPANY FED., INC., U.S.A.

Deputy Secretary,
Municipal Council.

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, December 14, 1928.

SIR,—In reply to your letter of November 23 I am directed to inform you that after careful consideration the Council is unwilling to accept the terms which you state you arranged with the owners of Cadastral Lot 89C and 89D in respect of the area required therefrom for the scheduled widening of Kiukiang Road. The Council cannot consider these terms fair and reasonable particularly having regard to the many different factors which differentiate these two cases from that of Cadastral Lot 89B. Moreover such terms as you may have arranged with the owners were concluded without the knowledge or authority of the Council and would never have been agreed to on the Council's behalf. It is also emphasized that in its letter to you of September 29, 1925, the Council in accepting your offer to surrender the area required from Cadastral Lot 89B made it perfectly clear that the question of Cadastral Lots 89C and 89D. was to be an entirely independent transaction and that the various areas required would be acquired as and when opportunity offered.

The question of the assessment of compensation for the surrender of the scheduled area of land will be referred to the Land Commissioners in accordance with your request, and a further letter on this subject will be addressed to you in due course.

I am, Sir,
Your obedient Servant,
J. R. JONES,
Deputy Secretary.

CHINA REALTY COMPANY FED., INC., U.S.A.

Chapoo and Haining Roads.—In terms of the appended correspondence, it has been decided to refer the undermentioned case to the Land Commission for decision:—

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, October 17, 1928.

GENTLEMEN,—In reply to your letter of September 27 I am directed to inform you that the Council is unwilling to issue a permit to carry out substantial repairs to the buildings situated on Cadastral Lot 916 as a portion of the lot is required for the scheduled widening of Haining and Chapoo Roads.

In the circumstances I am directed to offer compensation for the surrender of the scheduled area of Mow 0.304 shown coloured red on the accompanying plan at the rate of Tls. 40,000 per mow plus 10 per cent. for compulsory surrender making a sum of Tls. 13,376.

I shall be obliged if you will inform me whether this offer is acceptable.

I am, Gentlemen,
Your obedient Servant,
J. R. JONES,
Deputy Secretary.

MESSRS. TEESDALE, NEWMAN & MCDONALD.

Shanghai, November 5, 1928.

DEAR SIR,—We beg to acknowledge receipt of your letter of the 17th ultimo, in which you inform us that the Council is unwilling to issue a permit for repairs to the existing buildings, but that the Council is prepared to offer compensation for the surrender of the scheduled area of Mow 0.304 at the rate of Tls. 40,000 per mow plus 10 per cent. for compulsory surrender making a total of Tls. 13,376.

In reply, we are instructed by our client to point out that since the Council took possession of Mow 0.214 —the previous lot— then required for the scheduled widening of Haining and Chapoo Roads on December 1, 1924, the value of the land in this neighbourhood, as you are aware, has considerably increased. Consequently, our client contends that the rate of compensation should not be fixed on the same basis as that assessed by the Land Commissioners in the last award.

We are, therefore, instructed to make a counter-offer of Tls. 60,000 per mow, plus 15 per cent. for compulsory surrender, making a total of Tls. 20,976. In making this counter-offer, we would put forward the following points for your consideration, namely:—

(1) The excellent locality of the land in question with road frontage on all sides.

(2) Since the surrender by our client to the Council of the last portion, old houses in the neighbourhood have been replaced with big foreign houses, including two theatres.

(3) This corner is a terminus for trams and buses, thereby affording excellent facilities for traffic communication.

(4) The remainder of the land measuring Mow 0.041 is not suitable to our client for any building scheme.

(5) It would be extremely difficult for our client to secure other land in this district of such an excellent situation except at great expense.

With reference to the question of compensation for the existing buildings on this lot which is not mentioned in your letter under acknowledgment, we beg to enclose herewith copies of correspondence exchanged between yourself and us in connection with the surrender by our client to the Council of the previous lot for your guidance. Our client instructs us to state that he is prepared to accept compensation on the same basis, with the exception that the houses involved in the present case are 5½ houses instead of two as in the previous case.

Trusting to receive your early reply,
We remain, Sir,
Your obedient Servant,
TEESDALE, NEWMAN & MCDONALD.

J. R. JONES, Esq.
Deputy Secretary,
Municipal Council.

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, November 14, 1924.

GENTLEMEN,—I am directed to acknowledge receipt of your letter of October 11, to the Commissioner of Public Works, stating that there is now no objection to the Council taking possession of the Northern portion of Cadastral Lot 916, measuring Mow 0.214 required for the scheduled widening of Haining and Chapoo Roads.

In thanking you for the arrangements made, I am directed to offer compensation in the sum of Tls. 1,500 for the buildings standing thereon, and, in the event of acceptance of this offer, to request you to be so good as to obtain the owner's consent to demolition being commenced on December 1, next. In this connection, it is understood that payment of interest on the sum eventually agreed upon as compensation for the land itself, will be made from the date when possession is taken until the actual date of payment.

I am, Gentlemen,
Your obedient Servant,
E. S. B. ROWE,
Acting Secretary.

MESSRS. TEESDALE, NEWMAN & MCDONALD.

Shanghai, November 17, 1924.

DEAR SIR,—With reference to your letter of November 14, the owner of B. C. Lot 10384, Haining and Chapoo Roads, informs us that he considers the value of the buildings on that portion of the lot of which the Council now wishes to take possession to be the sum of Tls. 2,000 at least. In order, however, not to delay this matter, as we understand it is the Council's desire to possess this property at the earliest possible moment, we would suggest a compromise between the two figures, i.e., compensation for the buildings in the sum of Tls. 1,750.

Should the Council be willing to agree to this figure we feel sure that our client will accept this sum.

We note your observation with regard to the payment of interest on the sum eventually agreed upon as compensation for the land itself.

Yours faithfully,
TEESDALE, NEWMAN & MCDONALD.

E. S. B. ROWE, Esq.
Acting Secretary,
Municipal Council.

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, November 25, 1924.

GENTLEMEN,—I am directed to acknowledge receipt of your letter of November 17, relative to the Northern portion of Cadastral Lot 916, measuring Mow 0.214, required for the scheduled widening of Haining and Chapoo Roads, and, in reply, to accept your claim to compensation for the buildings standing thereon in the sum of Tls. 1,750, on condition that the old materials, after demolition, will remain the property of the Council.

In this connection, I have to request that you will be so good as to obtain the owner's consent to demolition of the buildings being commenced on December 1 next, and inform me accordingly.

I am, Gentlemen,
Your obedient Servant,
E. S. B. ROWE,
Acting Secretary.

MESSRS. TEESDALE, NEWMAN & MCDONALD.

Shanghai, November 29, 1924.

DEAR SIR,—With reference to your letter of November 25, we are instructed to accept the Council's offer of Tls. 1,750—as compensation for the buildings on the northern portion of Cad. Lot 916—Chapoo Road. The old materials of the building after demolition to remain the property of the Council, and demolition to commence on December 1, next.

We have to request that you will forward us the Council's cheque at your early convenience.

Yours faithfully,
TEESDALE, NEWMAN & MCDONALD.

E. S. B. ROWE, Esq.
Acting Secretary,
Municipal Council.

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, December 12, 1924.

GENTLEMEN,—I am directed to forward herewith cheque for Tls. 1,750, being the agreed amount of compensation payable for the removal of buildings from an area of Mow 0.214, B.C. Lot 10384, Cad. Lot 916, in connection with the widening of Haining and Chapoo Roads.

I shall be obliged if you will acknowledge receipt on the attached voucher, which kindly return to this office.

I am, Gentlemen,
Your obedient Servant,
J. M. MCKEE,
Assistant Secretary.

MESSRS. TEESDALE, NEWMAN & MCDONALD.

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, November 23, 1928.

GENTLEMEN,—I have to acknowledge receipt of your letter of November 5, making a counter offer of Tls. 60,000 per mow plus 15 per cent. for compulsory surrender, making a total of Tls. 20,976, in respect of the area required from Cadastral Lot 916 for the scheduled widening of Haining and Chapoo Roads.

It is implied in the second paragraph of your letter that the compensation granted by the Land Commissioners for an area of Mow 0.214 was fixed with reference to the circumstances obtaining in 1924 and that the value of the land has since considerably increased. The Land Commissioners award of December 13, 1927, however, took into consideration the 1927 assessment of Tls. 30,000 per mow and the arguments adduced by you on page two of your letter in support of your counter offer were all taken into consideration by the Land Commissioners when they awarded compensation at the rate of Tls. 40,000 plus 10 per cent. for compulsory surrender.

The Council therefore considers that its offer of Tls. 40,000 per mow plus 10 per cent for compulsory surrender is fair and reasonable and is unable to consider any increase in the offer and I shall be glad if you will be good enough to inform me whether your clients accept the Council's terms. The buildings which exist on the scheduled area are old and dilapidated and, it is learnt, unoccupied (with the exception of one used as a temporary workshop) and in their present condition uninhabitable. The Council considers the present value of these buildings is estimated at Tls. 600 and is willing to pay this sum as compensation therefor.

I am, Gentlemen,
Your obedient Servant,
J. R. JONES,
Deputy Secretary.

Messrs. TEESDALE, NEWMAN & MCDONALD.

Shanghai, December 6, 1928.

DEAR SIR,—We beg to acknowledge receipt of your letter of the 23rd ultimo, informing us that the Council is not prepared to consider our counter-offer. In view of the Council's attitude, we have no alternative but to request that the matter in dispute be referred to the Land Commissioners. We shall be glad if you will arrange for an early hearing.

With reference to the question of compensation for the existing buildings, we are instructed to submit that the est'mate made by you regarding their present value is unreasonable, in view of the fact that in December, 1924, a sum of Tls. 1,750 was paid by the Council as compensation for two houses of similar kind. Further, our client does not agree with you that the buildings in their present condition are unfit for occupation.

Yours faithfully,
TEESDALE, NEWMAN & MCDONALD.

J. R. JONES, Esq.
Deputy Secretary,
Municipal Council.

Plans of the property will be prepared for the information of the Land Commissioners and a copy will be forwarded to you in due course for your approval.

EXTRAORDINARY EXPENDITURE.

BUILDINGS.

Ellis Kadoorie Public School for Chinese—An appropriation of Tls. 3,000 is inserted to provide a boundary wall. As this provision is regarded as very necessary, the appropriation is marked "A."

An appropriation of Tls. 6,000 to provide additional class rooms is included. The Headmaster informs members that every available room in the building is now in use, in some cases for purposes for which they were not designed. To provide additional accommodation it is proposed to enclose part of the flat roof. This provision is regarded as urgent and the appropriation is marked "A."

An appropriation of Tls. 15,000 to provide the installation of a central heating system is considered. This provision is not regarded as urgent and is marked "C."

ORDINARY EXPENDITURE.

Draft estimates of expenditure for the four schools prepared on the basis of last year's estimates are submitted. The Chief Accountant states that these have been carefully examined by the Finance Department, and with the exception of minor adjustments which will be undertaken as usual by the Finance Department in conjunction with the Heads of the several schools, no item calls for special comment. The individual items included under the heading "Stock and Stores" are scrutinized and the estimates as submitted are formally endorsed.

Polytechnic Public School for Chinese.—Following upon the Council's recent decision that technical subjects should have a more prominent place in the curriculum of this school, the Headmaster has submitted a supplementary estimate amounting to £66.18.4. to provide additional tools for the manual training classes. The Chief Accountant points out that the services of a qualified Manual Training Instructor will also be required. He states that at present the services of a Manual Training Instructor are divided between this school, the Public School for Boys and the Thomas Hanbury School for Boys. With the extension of technical subjects at the Polytechnic School it is doubtful whether one instructor will be able to undertake this duty at the three schools. Members note that an Instructor is arriving in February next and it is considered that with temporary assistance the engagement of two full time Manual Instructors might be avoided. The Headmaster undertakes to obtain the views of the other Headmasters on this proposal and will submit a report. Pending receipt of such a report, recommendation as to the engagement of an additional Manual Training Instructor is deferred. The estimate submitted for the supply of implements for the manual training classes is approved.

Public Health Report for December.

The Foreign death-rate rose last month, but the Chinese death-rate was below normal. The increase in the Foreign death-rate however, could not be said to cause anxiety, as it was chiefly due to deaths from certain non-communicable diseases, and with the exception of Tuberculosis and Smallpox, the acute communicable diseases did not figure in the returns to any extent.

Deaths from Tuberculosis are to be expected in the winter months, so that increased mortality from this cause cannot be regarded as abnormal.

Smallpox accounted for a reasonably low figure. A total of 12 cases were notified among the Foreign community, and of these five had never been vaccinated, two had been unsuccessfully vaccinated, and the other five had been vaccinated at some period, though in most cases a long time had elapsed since revaccination. There were four deaths, one of which occurred in a vaccinated person who had, however, unduly delayed revaccination.

33 Chinese deaths from Smallpox were discovered, mainly in the Eastern District.

3,391 Chinese and 209 indigent Foreigners were vaccinated at the Branch Health Offices free of charge. 56 per cent. of those vaccinated were infants or children.

Tuberculosis.—Ten deaths among the Foreign population and 58 Chinese deaths were attributable to this disease.

Typhoid, Paratyphoid and the Dysenteries showed a comparatively low incidence.

Two cases of Malaria were notified amongst the British troops. The possibility of the spread of this infection has already been noted in previous reports. Surveys having to some extent permitted the charting of mosquito-breeding places in the infected areas, suitable steps may now be taken in the early Spring to minimise this possibility. As a matter of general interest in this connection, it may be noted that the acclimatization of Gambusia is giving a good deal of trouble. This, and the floods which occurred in September, (which washed away a certain number of the fish from the Nurseries), has seriously reduced the breeding stocks. In the early Spring, however, it may be possible to procure fresh supplies from Manila and, in addition, to lay in a stock of the Henli minnow.

Four cases of Influenza of an unusual type were at first suspected of being Plague, and as a result certain investigations were made. Eventually however, the correct diagnosis was established.

Anthrax.—The Chinese Isolation Hospital admitted four hide workers suffering from this disease, which appears sporadically in Shanghai. The origin is often difficult to trace since, by the time the disease has developed, the hide responsible for the disease has passed out of our jurisdiction. All possible enquiries and precautions however, are being taken, and it is unlikely that the disease will spread to any extent, since it rarely assumes an epidemic character.

Food Division. — Considerable activity was noted during the month amongst dairies. A new dairy was opened in the place of one which formerly stood on an unsatisfactory site; another dairy has completed the renovation of its old premises, and the new buildings of yet another dairy, which at present is poorly sited, are well advanced.

Markets.—The new Pingliang Road Market remains reasonably full, though a number of stallholders have, as anticipated, given up their stalls after the first month. During the Christmas period, crowding was noticeable in the Hongkew Market, and it would seem that expansion of this Market will soon become desirable.

The Slaughterhouse is still overcrowded. Inspection of pork slaughtered for Chinese consumption continued throughout the month. This inspection is in its initial stages and certain improvements are gradually being effected.

Sanitation Division.—Little of interest occurred in this Division, though the investigation of communicable diseases called for a great deal of work.

The disposal of the entire bulk of house refuse within the Settlement creates a new problem.

Whilst the filling up of low lying areas represents a convenient method of disposal for a portion of this refuse, (which thus fulfils a Public Health need), the difficulties of control of the vast quantities which are removed daily presents a health problem of the first magnitude, especially when the mass of material has to be disposed of within the Settlement.

The control of the fly nuisance in a limited area, more especially when that area is carefully selected far from houses, is within the bounds of practicability. Control of a wide area presents a difficult problem which may be attacked from different aspects, but it would seem that the simplest and ideal solution lies in some form of incineration.

To prevent misconception it should be understood that careful observation has traced such fly nuisances as have affected the more populated portions of the Settlement to areas not within our control. The anti-fly measures found necessary within the Settlement, in relation to refuse disposal, refer to areas which are scantily populated.

Here follow Tables of Vital Statistics, Communicable Diseases and of the work of the Food, Dairies and Markets Division, Sanitation Division, Tuberculosis and Venereal Diseases Clinics and Municipal Laboratories, Hospitals and Slaughterhouse.

J. H. JORDAN,
Acting Commissioner of Public Health.

Institution of the Holy Family.—Statement of Accounts for 1928.

Shanghai, January 12, 1929.

Sir,—I beg to enclose the Financial Statement of our Institution for the year 1928.

May I avail myself of this opportunity to thank the Shanghai Municipal Council most sincerely for the great help given again to our work. The special grant allowed us in addition to the ordinary grant of Tls. 1,800, was extremely precious this year, when we had to start anew in our work of education and assistance for both Foreign and Chinese Shanghai residents, on the premises secured for us by the "Mission du Kiangnan."

In view of the fact that the Institution is now inside the Settlement and that the cost of converting the new premises to school requirements is very heavy, I beg to request that the Council will favourably consider increasing our grant to Taels 2,000 per annum.

With the renewed assurance of our sincere gratitude,

Believe me, Sir, yours faithfully,

M. de St. CLEMENS,
Superior.

S. M. EDWARDS, Esq.
Secretary, Municipal Council.

St. Joseph's Institution. Statement of Accounts for 1928.

Shanghai, November 27, 1928.

DEAR SIR,—Enclosed please find the accounts of the Providence Orphanage, attached to St. Joseph's Institute for the year 1928.

Your letter of November 22nd requests us to state in writing if we intend to apply to the Council for financial support during the coming year.

Certainly, dear Sir, this is our intention nor could we do otherwise under the circumstances, which you will allow me to explain to you briefly.

The closing of St. Joseph's Institute, our paying school has left the Orphanage dependent solely on charity; at a time when even ordinary charitable donations are greatly diminished owing to one thing or the other.

For sixty years we have kept 120 European, American, and Eurasian children whose parents' death left them no protection or means of education. These children are accepted irrespective of nationality and creed; they are given a good education; found a good position and stay with us in a Young Girls' Home until they are well settled in life. Instead of being stranded and lost, all these children have become useful, self-respecting members of the foreign Community.

As Consuls of Japan, Tientsin, Bangkok, etc., as well as of Shanghai give us the children of their nationals it would seem as if there were no other establishment in the Far East which accepts the total responsibility of these children, gratis.

Till now we have used the utmost discretion in asking aid, as the surplus of the Institution went naturally to the Orphanage, but now we are obliged to have recourse to all those who are still able and willing to help us.

We are only too pleased to continue this good work to which we have put heart and soul for so many years, and we count on the timely aid that the Council gives us as the best source of income that we possess.

Needless to say that we are very, very grateful for the help given and which we really could not do without.

I remain, dear Sir,
M. de St. BERTHILDE,
Superior.

CRIME.

Murder and Attempted Murder.—During the month six murders were committed, five in the Settlement and one outside of limits. Brief details of these crimes are as follow:—

On December 6, a Chinese doctor while riding in his private ricsha in the Yangtszepoo district was set upon by armed men. In the ensuing struggle the doctor was shot dead and the ricsha coolie wounded. It is suspected that the original intention was to kidnap deceased. On December 15, a male Chinese was shot dead by loafers in the Pootoo Road district. This murder is attributed to revenge on the part of a Chinese who was previously arrested for being in possession of explosives for an unlawful purpose, on information given by deceased to the Police. On December 17, a Chinese employed as foreman at the New Engineering Works, Yangtszepoo Road, was shot dead in the Wayside district. The motive for the shooting is at present unknown although it is suspected that it was due to a dispute. On December 22, a Chinese female, formerly employed as a mill forewoman, was fatally wounded in the Pootoo Road district. Two persons, one of whom was in possession of a pistol that fired the shots, were arrested. On December 29, a Chinese female was found in an unconscious condition lying in an alleyway in the Sinza district suffering from knife wounds on the head and neck from which she expired shortly after. On December 31, a gang of armed robbers entered the offices of a brick factory at 100 Brenan Road, O.O.L., immediately drew their pistols and fatally wounded the accountant, one, A. Bieves, a Belgian, who was paying the employees' wages and decamped with money amounting to $1,242.85.

Two attempted murders were also recorded, armed robbers being the miscreants in one case. In the second, a servant, who it is supposed became insane, cut and wounded his master, an ex-Magistrate, and four members of his family with a knife.

Six persons arrested during the month on charges of murder were dealt with. One was sentenced to imprisonment, two dismissed for lack of evidence and the remainder are on remand. These persons were arrested in connection with the following cases:—One with the murder of a male Chinese who was struck down with an iron bar on October 17 in the Wayside district, another occurred in a shooting affray in the Yangtszepoo district on November 24 in which a Chinese Police Constable was killed and a Chinese Police Constable wounded by armed men whom they attempted to stop and search. The murder of an ex-mill foreman on December 22 in the Pootoo Road district and the murder of a ship's coolie who was shot dead on September 30 in a native bath house in the Hongkew district.

Of twenty-six persons on remand at the end of November, 1928, four were sentenced (three of these for the murder of Miss Thompson), five were sentenced to imprisonment, one handed over to the Chinese authorities and the charges against ten others withdrawn. Six are still on remand.

Manslaughter.—One case was recorded under this heading wherein a Foreign Constable was charged with causing the death of a Chinese by shooting him with a pistol. On December 12, P. C. Chaplin while on patrol duty, entered a Shanghai Defence Force Post at 314 Wanzi Road. In attempting to unload his pistol, he accidently discharged a bullet which fatally wounded a Chinese who was employed as cook in the canteen. Accused is still under remand.

Suicides.—Six cases of suicide occurred in the Settlement during the month.

Armed Abduction.—Five reports under this heading were received during the month. In one case the two year old daughter of a Chinese dairy proprietor was taken away by armed robbers from premises situated on Singapore Road, O.O.L. An alarm raised by the inmates attracted the attention of the Police who gave chase and succeeded in capturing three of the culprits. Some days later another member of the gang, when negotiating with a representative of the complainant, was shot and fatally wounded by the Police while resisting arrest. In this instance the Police acted in accordance with a prearranged plan, thus illustrating the value of complainants or their relatives reporting to the Police all communications received from the abductors. The second case occurred in the Bubbling Well district; the victim, a Chinese employed at the Chung Hwa Book Company, was seized while riding in his private ricsha and forced into a waiting motor car. In another case, armed men held up the car of a Chinese, secretary to the Manager of a Steamship Company, removed the chauffeur and, taking control of the car with its occupants, drove to the French Concession. The car was later found abandoned on Rue de Siccawei. The fourth case was not reported to the Police, the person kidnapped, a Chinese silk merchant, residing in the West Hongkew district, was rescued by Municipal Police after being in captivity five days. The other person abducted was a retired gold broker, who when leaving his residence on Sinza Road was held up by armed men, his chauffeur being ordered from the car while the abductors drove off with their victim. The car, together with a quantity of ammunition, was found abandoned on Markham Road.

One attempted armed abduction was reported. The intended victim, a Chinese youth, had entered his motor car in the Louza district when four men approached and ordered the two chauffeurs from the car; both of whom promptly ran away. Complainant, however, managed to elude the kidnappers and escape before the car could be started.

Two persons abducted in November regained their liberty. One of these was a Chinese who was kidnapped outside his residence on Point Road and the other a shop keeper who was taken away from premises situated in the King Loong Ka, Central district. In both cases it is believed that ransom was paid to the abductors. In addition to the above, a child kidnapped from Chapei was rescued by the Police.

Of eighty-two persons arrested in connection with armed abduction one died of wounds, thirteen were handed over to the French Police, three to the Chinese Authorities, the charges against three others withdrawn and sixty-two were awaiting trial. In addition, an armed kidnapper was shot dead while resisting arrest.

Of fifteen persons on remand at the end of November, three were acquitted and the remainder are still on remand.

Eight persons—seven of whom are suspected of slave traffic—were arrested in connection with cases of abduction in which no arms were used.

Nine persons on remand at the end of last month were dealt with thus:—Four were sentenced to imprisonment and five acquitted. As the result of an appeal by the Police against the judgment rendered at the rehearing of a case, ordered by the Nanking Authorities, wherein the former sentence against three persons arrested in November, 1927, for armed kidnapping and sentenced on February, 1928, one to life imprisonment and two to death, was commuted respectively, one to ten years and two to four years and ten months each, the original judgment was confirmed, viz. one to life imprisonment and two sentenced to death.

Armed Robbery. — Eighty-two cases of armed robbery were received during the month; sixty-seven from premises and fifteen on the highway, an increase of ten over the preceding month and a decrease of eighty-one over the reports recorded during the corresponding period of last year. Seven cases of attempted robbery were also recorded. Shots were fired by the robbers in four cases as a result of which a C.P.C. was wounded.

In regard to the foregoing and reports of armed robberies occurring prior to December 1, thirty-two persons, eight of whom were in possession of firearms, were arrested. Nine were sentenced to imprisonment, four handed over to the Chinese Authorities, three acquitted and sixteen are on remand. In addition to the above a robber in possession of a loaded pistol was shot dead while resisting arrest. A Chinese included in these arrests was sentenced to death in 1924 for armed robberies committed in the Settlement and handed over to the Chinese authorities for execution. When rearrested he stated that while awaiting execution he was released and conscripted for the army.

Forty-five persons, five of whom were in possession of firearms, were arrested for being members of armed robber gangs. Three were sentenced to imprisonment, three handed to the Chinese authorities, the charge against another withdrawn and the remainder are on remand.

Of one hundred and twenty-one persons on remand at the end of November 1928, charged with armed robbery and being members of armed robber gangs, fifty-seven were dealt with as follows:—Two were sentenced to death, thirty-three to imprisonment, fifteen were dismissed and the charges against seven others withdrawn.

A Chinese wanted for an armed robbery committed in the French Concession was arrested in the Settlement and handed over.

Five cases of unarmed robbery were reported in connection with which four persons were arrested, three were sentenced to imprisonment and one dismissed.

Threatening Letter Cases.—Seven persons were apprehended for offences committed under this heading while a Chinese previously charged with demanding money by means of threatening letters was rearrested after escape from Bubbling Well Cells and further charged with gaol-breaking. Of these persons one was sentenced to imprisonment and the remainder are on remand.

Four persons on remand at the end of last month were sentenced to imprisonment.

Executions.—Five persons arrested for serious crimes committed in the Settlement were handed over and executed during the month by the Chinese Authorities.

Property Stolen.—During the month 411 reports of property stolen were received, representing an estimated loss of $292,764.69. These are comprised as follows:—29 cases of burglary, 9 of housebreaking, 6 of garage and godownbreaking, 27 of shop and office breaking, 6 of fraud, 12 of embezzlement, 2 of extortion, 5 of shoplifting and 315 of larceny. In comparison with the corresponding month of 1927, this shows a decrease of 153 cases. Successful investigations were made in 203 cases, resulting in the recovery of property valued at $18,797.81. Included in these figures are 53 arrests for pocketpicking and snatching, 37 being persons identified as old offenders. In addition to the foregoing, recoveries to the extent of $671 were made in regard to cases committed prior to December 1. Seven cases reported as having occurred outside Settlement limits and one in which property was lost, were also successfully dealt with.

Trafficking in Firearms.—Two persons were arrested for trafficking in firearms and were sentenced to imprisonment. Of ten persons arrested for being in possession of firearms for an unlawful purpose, three were convicted, one acquitted and six are still under remand. Five persons on remand at the end of November were sentenced to imprisonment, two of these being further convicted on a count of attempted armed robbery.

Crime Reported Beyond Settlement Limits.—According to the Chinese Press, twenty-three cases of armed robbery and piracy, five cases of murder and five of armed abduction occurred in Chinese controlled territory.

Finger Print Bureau.—During the month a jewel robbery occurred in a foreign hotel and a jewel case was submitted to the Bureau for examination. One finger print was obtained and photographed. A Russian was later apprehended in connection with the affair and when his finger prints were taken it was found that the right middle finger was identical with the impression secured.

On December 12 an office breaking took place in the premises of a large foreign firm in the Central district, finger prints were secured on glass broken to gain entry. Three days later a Chinese was arrested and his finger prints sent to the Bureau. On examination they were found to be identical with those found at the scene of the crime. He denied any knowledge of the affair and on his appearance before the Provisional Court entered a plea of not guilty. Finger print evidence was produced and accepted by the Court and the accused found guilty and sentenced to two years imprisonment with eight months remission of sentence.

On December 15 an unknown Chinese was murdered by armed men in Footoo Road district and on his finger prints being taken at the Mortuary he was identified as one Zung Ah-sai an expelled man, well-known to the Police and with three previous convictions.

POLITICAL.

Anti-Japanese Boycott.—The anti-Japanese campaign was maintained without interruption during the month of December. Seizures of Japanese goods were made almost daily in Chinese controlled territory outside the Settlement, and hostile propaganda was disseminated through the medium of the Chinese press and otherwise at irregular intervals. The boycott gang with a view to increasing the effectiveness of their efforts also endeavoured to arrange to intercept parcels containing Japanese goods being sent through the Chinese Post Office, and appealed to their colleagues throughout the country to co-operate in making this measure successful. They also supplemented the propaganda in the press and leaflets by decorating tram cars in Chinese territory with the following slogans on December 14, 15 and 16:—

"Oppose Japan's aggressive policy in Manchuria!"

"Oppose Japan's trespass on China's railway rights!"

"Overthrow Japanese Imperialism!"

"Enforce the anti-Japanese Boycott strenuously!"

In the latter part of December, the boycotters were also busy endeavouring to secure the release of a representative of the Student's Union who was locked up at Nanking for being concerned in an attempt to wreck the house of the Minister for Foreign Affairs. This attack occurred on December 15, 1928, while a prominent Japanese political leader was on a visit to Nanking, and was apparently intended as a demonstration against a conciliatory policy which the official in question was alleged to have adopted towards the Japanese question. Further acts of intimidation are said to have occurred in furtherance of the anti-Japanese movement in other parts of the country. According to one report, a Chinese merchant was murdered at Foochow on December 1, and a boatman had his ears cut off later in this city. Both the victims were attacked because they had handled Japanese goods.

Communism.—Although the Communists made no attempt to give effect to plans to start an uprising on December 11, ample evidence came to light during the month to show that they have in no wise abated their activities. Handbills disseminated by them on various occasions and in various parts of the town advocated an armed uprising by the peasants, labourers and proletariat for the overthrow of the Kuomintang and the elimination of the National Government and Imperialism. In endeavouring to trace the parties responsible for this criminal propaganda, the Municipal Police raided a number of addresses. At several houses visited, they seized Communist literature and at the address in Peking Road succeeded in arresting no less than twenty-eight men who had come there from various parts of the country in the vicinity of Shanghai, apparently for the purpose of arranging a conspiracy. The prisoners taken in this raid were brought before the Provisional Court which made an order to have them transferred to the Authorities in Chinese controlled territory for trial. Similar measures taken by the French and Chinese Authorities resulted in the arrest of about one hundred and forty-three persons most of whom were subsequently released on security.

Anti-Christian Movement. — At several meetings held during the month under Kuomintang auspices, anti-Christian resolutions in the following sense were adopted:

1. That all members of the Kuomintang participate in anti-Christian propaganda and assist in the distribution of handbills in churches.

2. That the "Republican Daily News," 202 Shantung Road, be requested to issue on December 25 a supplement dealing with the anti-Christian movement.

3. That the Post Office be requested to chop mail during the Xmas with the inscription "Oppose Christianity."

4. That schools and organizations be requested to hold meetings on December 25 to further anti-Christian movement.

5. That groups be organised to deliver anti-Christian lectures and distribute handbills on December 25.

6. That the St. John's University be sealed up.

7. That all Christian schools be sealed up.

8. That all Kuomintang members give up Christianity.

9. That anti-Christian notices be posted.

Apart from the publication of the supplement by the Republican Daily News of December 25, no serious attempt has so far been made to give effect to these resolutions.

At the same time that these attacks were being made on Christianity, officials opposed to idolatry raided several temples in Chinese controlled territory and destroyed the idols. The maintenance of the anti-religious movement hostile to Christianity and its extension to Chinese religions would seem to indicate that persons with Communistic ideas on religion are still in a position to wield influence in the councils of the Kuomintang.

Strike and Labour Matters.—There were in December eight strikes, of which four affected the Settlement area. The latter included disputes in the following concerns:—

China Metal Products Co., 514a Connaught Road 203 hands.

Great Eastern Tobacco Co., 150 Kungping Road 300 hands.

Wu Shing Tobacco Factory, 200 Tungchow Road 440 hands and employees in foreign dressmaking shops.

Statistics for the month are as follows:—

Area	No. of strikes	No of hands affected	No. of working days lost
Settlement	3	943	3,940
Fr. Concession	1	1,300	31,200
Ch. Cont. Territory	3	770	7,670
All three areas	1	3,000	6,000
Total	8	6,013	48,810
Total for the corresponding month of 1927	12	16,686	334,514

Of the strikes which occurred in French Concession and Chinese territory, the most important were those affecting the French Tramway Company and the B. A. T. Factory in Pootung. In the former instance, 1,300 employees walked out on December 3 to enforce a demand for an increase in wages and improvement in working conditions. This was not unexpected, because prior to the strike, it was known that considerable unrest existed among the employees. Following the declaration of the strike, meetings were held almost daily in Chinese territory. These gatherings were devoted to discussions on ways and means to compel the employers to concede the demands, the granting of which in some instances would involve concessions to Communist principles. The parties assisting in these meetings included representatives of the local Kuomintang Headquarters. A strike committee formed by the Tramway employees arrested a worker on the pretext that he was acting as a "running-dog." The release of this victim was, however, effected by the Chinese Police. A decision reached on December 10 to call off the strike was abandoned the same day as a result of a disturbance which followed an attempt of the French Police to prevent an authorised procession which the strikers were holding. In the course of this disturbance, two Chinese members of the French Police were assaulted by the strikers. The employees resumed work on December 13 in the hope that the French Tramway Company would sign a document agreeing to the proposed terms of settlement. They, however, walked out again on December 16 on learning that the Company would not do so. The dispute finally terminated and the employees went back on December 30. It is reported that the employers granted some small economic concessions.

During this strike, unrest was noticed among certain employees of the Shanghai Electric Construction Company who held several secret meetings and discussed the advisability of following the example of their colleagues in the French Tramway Company. They even went to the extent of formulating seven demands and endeavoured to transmit them to their employers through the local Kuomintang. This agitation had not completely subsided at the end of the month.

On December 12, twenty-four employees of Woo Chong Tailors Shop, 9 North Szechuen Road, struck work as a protest against the dismissal of three of their colleagues. Efforts by the Municipal Police to settle the dispute proved fruitless, owing chiefly to the unbending attitude of the strikers who were supported by agitators from the Union of Foreign Dressmaking Shop Employees. On December 30, the tailors to the number of 3,000 approximately employed in their trade in Shanghai declared a sympathetic strike and were still out at the end of the month.

On December 28, 300 employees of the Engineering Room of the B.A.T. New Factory, Pootung, struck work demanding the reinstatement of one of their comrades recently dismissed owing to unsatisfactory work. Shortage of material resulting from this stoppage led to 3,300 employees approximately in other branches of the factory being rendered idle. This dispute was settled on December 31.

Miscellaneous.—On December 23, on the occasion of the Shanghai Recreation Club and Loh Hwa Football match, a disturbance occurred outside the entrance to the Stadium where the match was played. When all available accommodation in the ground had been occupied, the Management of the Stadium decided to close the gates. The crowd outside, however, persisted in endeavouring to gain admission to the ground and unruly elements at the back pushed forward those in front. While the Police were endeavouring to put matters right, etc., a few Chinese members of the crowd were slightly injured and several officers carrying out their duty suffered cuts and bruises.

Eighteen slaughter houses in Chinese territory suspended business between 10-12-28 and 24-12-28 as a protest against an order that these establishments should not be used as dwellings. About 270 butchers' shops also suspended business from 13-12-28 to 24-12-28 as a protest against a slaughter tax of $0.20 per pig and a veterinary inspection fee of $0.10 per pig. These disputes were settled by the butchers undertaking to use only the rear portions of their slaughter houses as dwellings, and to pay a lump sum of $46,000 per month in lieu of the proposed tax.

Twelve mutton shops in Chinese territory also suspended business between 20-11-28 and 22-12-28 as a protest against the collection of the veterinary inspection fee and the dispute was settled by this fee being reduced from $0.10 to $0.05 per beast.

Rice.—The average price of Chinese rice for the month of December 1928 was $13 per picul as compared with $11.40 per picul in the corresponding month of 1927.

Traffic.—Court proceedings were instituted in 327 case, (22 Foreigners and 305 Chinese), of 1590 reports of traffic offences received during the month against the owners and/or drivers of vehicles. The remainder were dealt with by letter of warning or entry of caution in their records. Congestion at Wayside Wharf

Shanghai, January 8, 1929.

DEAR SIR,—We would bring to your notice the inconvenience which is so frequently experienced by our craft using the Wayside Jetty for the embarkation and disembarkation of our Foreign Staff ex our launches, on account of the number of barges, lighters, etc. which are allowed to remain alongside the jetty whilst no loading or discharging is going on. It is now generally necessary to discharge the passengers on to the barges and lighters in consequence of the launches not being able to get alongside the jetty.

It frequently happens that the barges and lighters are then found to be moored just sufficient distance from the jetty to prevent anyone getting ashore.

We would submit for your consideration that some control of the traffic using this jetty should be instituted, as is the case with the pontoons at the Bund.

We are, dear Sir,
Yours faithfully,
THE ASIATIC PETROLEUM CO., (North China), Ltd.

S. FESSENDEN, Esq.,
Chairman,
Municipal Council.

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, January 18, 1929.

GENTLEMEN,—I am directed to acknowledge receipt of your letter of January 8, complaining of the congestion at Wayside Public Wharf and the resultant inconvenience to the launches engaged in the transportation of your staff.

In reply, I am directed to inform you that the conditions of which your letter complains have been investigated and that it has been decided to appoint a watchman to assist in the control of traffic at this wharf and to reserve a portion of the wharf for the use of passengers only. I have to express the hope that these measures will assist in the alleviation of the difficulties which you are at present experiencing.

I am, Gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
S. M. EDWARDS,
Secretary.
THE ASIATIC PETROLEUM CO., (North China), Ltd.

Shanghai, January 21, 1929.

BUDGET 1929.

ORDINARY EXPENDITURE.

The preliminary and supplementary estimates of Ordinary Expenditure as submitted show an increase over the 1928 total figures of approximately Tls. 222,000, this increase being largely attributable to the augmented requirements under "House Refuse Collection and Disposal," necessitated by the difficult circumstances attending the functioning of this service.

The Chairman states that pending consideration by the Council, of the Report of the Economy Committee, he feels somewhat reluctant to endorse the Departmental Estimates. In order, however, not to delay preparation of the preliminary Budget, members endorse his proposal that the approval given at to-day's meeting should be regarded as subject to any modifications found to be necessary following the adoption by the Council of any proposals concerning the Public Works Department put forward by the Economy Committee.

The Treasurer and Comptroller remarks that the estimates for Ordinary Expenditure follow closely on those of the preceding year and since they have been framed on a conservative basis call for little comment. It will be noted that following the abolition of the Parks Committee the pay and allowances of employees under "Parks and Open Spaces" have been charged to "General" which has the effect of including under this heading the total pay and allowances of the various services operated by the Public Works Department.

House Refuse Collection and Disposal.—With regard to the appropriations under this heading, the Commissioner of Public Works refers to the increasing difficulty encountered in the satisfactory disposal of house refuse. He regards the method at present adopted, i.e., that of filling up low lying land, within the Settlement as one which, at the best, can only be regarded as a temporary expedient. For this reason he has included a sum of Tls. 50,000 for the provision of a small incinerator which will enable him by experiment to ascertain its efficacy as a means of disposing of wet and dry garbage, the cost of its maintenance and the use or otherwise for road purposes of the clinker obtained.

Stock and Stores.—Items under this heading aggregating Tls. 60,800 are examined in detail and endorsed.

EXTRA-DEPARTMENTAL EXPENDITURE.

CHIEF SANITATION CHEMIST.

The Estimates of Ordinary Expenditure, which are framed on normal lines and approximately the same as the expenditure for 1928, are approved subject to adjustment if necessary by the Treasurer and Comptroller.

EXTRAORDINARY EXPENDITURE.

The Estimates of Extraordinary Expenditure are submitted, and in accordance with the usual practice the various items are classified as follows:—

(A). Those to which the Council has already agreed or which are considered urgent.

(B). Those considered desirable to be carried out if funds permit.

(C). Those for which having regard to financial and other considerations no appropriation should be made this year.

The preliminary and supplementary estimates as submitted amount to Tls. 3,152,227 as compared with a total appropriation of Tls. 1,845,100 for 1928. The items mainly responsible for this increase are Roads, Land and Buildings. With regard to the increased appropriation for road land, the Commissioner of Public Works states that there are several definite liabilities under this heading, one of which is the compensation for the land taken for the Nanking Road widening which will be settled early this year. The appropriations under Land and Buildings are chiefly absorbed by the Police and Health Departments and have yet to be considered by the Watch and Health Committees.

ROADS.

In view of the commitments already entered into and the anticipated re-development of other areas during the current year, an appropriation of Tls. 1,100,000 for the acquisition of land for new roads, extensions of existing roads, widening, etc., is inserted. Subject to the following exception and the undernoted modifications, the appropriations for road construction totalling Tls. 326,250 are marked "A."

Kiaochow Road.

Connaught Road to Robison Road.

	Tls.
Ballasting and metalling (remaining width)	10,900

It is decided that this work should be undertaken only on the section between Connaught and Penang Roads and the appropriation is therefore reduced to Tls. 7,500.

Ferry Road.

Haiphong Road to Robison Road.

Ballasting and metalling (full width)	18,480

It is considered that this work should only be undertaken during the current year on the section between Penang and Robison Roads and the appropriation is reduced to Tls. 12,000.

Wayside Road.

Dairy Road to Thorburn Road.

Ballasting and metalling (full width)	17,380

In view of the urgent necessity for the making up of other roads included in this year's Estimates, this appropriation is marked "C."

DRAINAGE.

With the exception of the item "Wayside Road (Dalny Road to Thorburn Road) Tls. 7,420," which is marked "B," the various appropriations for construction of drains aggregating Tls. 75,577 are marked "A."

LANDING STAGES.

An appropriation of Tls. 7,000 to provide a wharf fronting the Soochow Road Depôt, was included in the 1928 Budget but the work not carried out. At the request of the Commissioner of Public Works, this item is increased to Tls. 10,000 and is marked "A." A supplementary item of Tls. 5,000 under this heading is also marked "A."

BUILDINGS.

A total appropriation of Tls. 77,600 is included. The items in respect of an office and store block (Tls. 15,000) at the Wuchow Road Depôt to replace the present wooden sheds, Tls. 45,000 for the provision of park and public latrines, and Tls. 12,600 for the erection of Kiosks at Park entrances are marked "A." The Commissioner of Public Works suggests that the extension of the Green House in Jessfield Park, for which an appropriation of Tls. 5,000 is inserted, can be deferred since he proposes to submit a scheme whereunder the Reserve Garden on the Bund, which is of little practical use, will be abolished. This appropriation is marked "B."

LAND.

An appropriation of Tls. 1,500 being the balance of cost for the land required for the Eastern District Wharf and Depôt is marked "A."

SEWERAGE.

A total appropriation of Tls. 168,200 to provide for the extension of sewers to properties where the flush system has been installed is marked "A." An item of Tls. 10,000 is included in the above appropriation for the construction of an ordure loading station, but in view of the fact that this building cannot with certainty be regarded as of a permanent nature, the Commissioner of Public Works states that he will discuss with the Treasurer and Comptroller whether this item should properly be charged to Extraordinary Expenditure.

BUNDINGS.

An appropriation of Tls. 4,000 for a bunding along the front of the West Soochow Road opposite to an important house refuse loading depôt is marked "A."

Subject to the above observations and to adjustment by the Treasurer and Comptroller as usual the Estimates of Ordinary and Extraordinary Expenditure are approved for submission to the Finance Committee.

At the meeting of the Staff Committee held on Wednesday, January 16, 1929, at 4.30 p.m., there are present: Messrs. V .G. Lyman, Chairman, B. C. M. Johnston, Li Ming and J. J. Paterson. The Minutes of the last meeting are confirmed and signed.

Land Commission.

CASE No. 184.

Taku Road.—Cadastral Lot No. 1425, Western District, heard in the Council Chamber on Friday, December 14, 1928, at 5 p.m.

PROCEEDINGS.

Mr. G. A. Johnson appears for the registered Owners, Messrs. Lester, Johnson & Morriss, Mr. J. R. Jones, Deputy Secretary represents the Shanghai Municipal Council, Mr. H. F. Lewis of the Public Works Department being in attendance.

Mr. Johnson states that his firm is claiming the amount of Tls. 43,-195.00 which is computed on the basis of a development scheme, plan of which is handed to the Commissioners, of Chinese Hongs, in all 15 in number and for which $45.00 per Chinese moon can be obtained. Further he considers the rentals conservative, seeing that similar Hongs nearer Thibet Road are commanding $50.00 per month (Chinese calendar).

He considers assessed values as put forward by the Council to be no criterion of market values and quotes recent dealings in land by the Council where the buildings thereon were of but little value excepting for demolition purposes:—

Town Hall sold at the rate of Tls. 200,000 per Mow assessed at Tls. 130,000.

New Market site bought at the rate of Tls. 75,350 per Mow assessed at Tls. 56,000.

Further he points out that the excision of the land from this property required for the widening of Taku Road leaves a small triangular plot, difficult of development, and that the proposal that the Council in conformity with its past practice should also acquire this area has been refused.

For the Council, Mr. Jones quotes from the Traffic Commission report of 1926, which recommended that Taku Road be made a 70 feet thoroughfare.

He alludes to the portion hatched red pertaining to Mow 0.279 which according to the Agreement of 1902, is to be paid for at the rate of Tls. 1,000 per Mow.

It is further pointed out that the Council is claiming no deduction for betterment, and that this may be taken as being an "Offset" in regard to the small triangular plot referred to.

Although Mr. Johnson has placed a sketch of a proposed scheme of development before the Land Commission, this has not been submitted yet for the approval of the Council, and totally apart from this, he submits that a claim of Tls. 35,000 for land on Taku Road is, in the Council's opinion, excessive. In support he quotes Lots 1409 and 1410 where the assessed value made only last year was Tls. 12,500 and Tls. 11,000 per Mow, this may have bearing on the case in question, seeing that the Council is prepared to offer compensation at Tls. 24,000 per Mow, plus 10 per cent. for compulsory surrender for an area of Mow 1.114, not forgetting the special reasons as set forth in its letter dated April 4, 1928.

Mr. Johnson points out that Lots 1409 and 1410 do not command the same frontage as Lot 1425, and are therefore of less actual or potential value. Mr. Jones draws the Commissioners' attention to the fact that the widening of Taku Road to 70 feet is of an arterial nature, as are also Avenue Edward VII and Thibet Roads. Both parties retire and the Commissioners decide as follows:—

AWARD

That the Owners of the property be compensated in the amount of Shanghai Taels 30,914.00 as being the fair market value, viz:—

Mow 0.279 at Tls. 1,000.00	Tls.	279.00
and Mow 1.114 at Tls. 27,500		30,635.00
	Tls.	30,914.00

In arriving at this total, the Commissioners have taken what they deem to be a fair average monthly rental for the type of Hong to be erected in this locality, deducting a requisite amount for outgoings and capitalised.

Further, they do not consider that the Owners suffer any special hardship by the excision of part of their land for the widening of Taku Road, therefore the question of a percentage for compulsory surrender is not taken into account.

Excerpts from Minutes.

At the meeting of the Orchestra a Band Committee held on Wednesday, January 16, 1929, at 4 p.m., there are present: Messrs. L. de Luca, Chairman, H. E. Arnhold, and J. McNeill.

The Minutes of the last meeting are confirmed and signed.

BUDGET 1929.

The Estimates for the current year, based on the expenditure of 1928, are submitted. Replying to the Chairman, the Chief Accountant states that the figures call for very little comment, except that, in the event of the Orchestra being discontinued, payments for supper will cease immediately. Under "Printing, Stationery, etc." an increase from Tls. 700 to Tls. 1,000 is noted. The Conductor explains that this is due to the fact that concert programmes are no longer provided free, and the Council has to pay the cost of printing, the receipts from advertisements. It is hopes, however, to keep this item down to Tls. 1,300 by printing analytical concert notes in a separate booklet, which would sell for $1. With this course members agree. Regarding the engagement of two musicians from Europe, the Conductor states that no definite arrangement has been concluded, and he will leave the matter in abeyance until the Council's policy is determined. The question of payment for musicians' outside services is receiving the Treasurer's attention. Under Stock and Music an item of Tls. 1,900 for new instruments is approved.

Subject to adjustment by the Treasurer and Comptroller as usual, the Estimates of Ordinary Expenditure are endorsed for submission to the Finance Committee.

Children's Concerts.—A report is submitted from the Assistant Conductor, stating that the Headmistresses of the Thomas Hanbury School for Girls and the Cathedral School for Girls have requested that the Children's Concerts be held on the last Tuesday of the month instead of the last Friday, on account of certain school activities on the latter day. It is accordingly recommended that the desired change be made as soon as the Town Hall is clear of other engagements, i.e., from February next.

Symphony Concerts.—Members report that complaints have been received that Monday is not a convenient day for the weekly concerts and the Conductor agrees that the attendances on January 7 and 14 were lower than they have been on Sundays. After short discussion it is recommended that, unless the attendances show an immediate improvement, the Symphony Concerts be changed back to Sundays in February, as soon as the Town Hall is free of Sunday engagements already made.

At the meeting of the Library Committee held on Wednesday, January 23, 1929, at 4.30 p.m., there are present: Dr. H. Chatley, Chairman, and Mr. C. M. Bain.

The Minutes of the last meeting are confirmed and signed.

ESTIMATES FOR 1929.

Draft Estimates, prepared on the lines of last year's expenditure, are submitted as a basis for discussion of the probable requirements for 1929.

Replying to the Chairman, the Chief Accountant states that the slight increase in salaries represents scale increases of the Chinese staff, while the reduction in the estimate for books from Tls. 2,000 to Tls. 1,700 is due to the fact that the Council has obtained more favourable terms for their purchase. In response to an enquiry, he states that the Library building will not be demolished during the present year.

Subject to adjustment by the Treasurer and Comptroller as usual the draft Estimates for 1929 are endorsed.

Journals.—It is ascertained that the list of papers and magazines taken in by the Library has not been revised for some time, and members accordingly direct that the titles be submitted to them a sufficient time before the order for 1930 is placed.

Reading Room Attendance.—The Librarian reports that large numbers of loafers, mostly poor Russians and Chinese, frequent the Reading Room, sometimes for no better purpose than to steal magazines and papers. After discussion, it is recommended that, as a matter of public policy, the Council should consider the advisability of imposing restrictions similar to those in force in the public parks.

Disposal of Old Books.—Members are informed that, in accordance with the Committee's directions, 100 old novels are being marked for discard every month. The Librarian explains that most of these books are duplicates, and that about 300 await disposal by auction or otherwise. When books are withdrawn from circulation the titles are erased from the catalogue. Members are of the opinion that, owing to the damaged condition of the discarded books, it would be impossible to get any appreciable return for them at auction, and the Secretary is directed, if possible, to obtain and submit offers from a certain advertiser before other steps are taken.

TERMS OF REFERENCE.

The terms of reference which should be construed in the widest possible sense so that the investigation of the Commission may be extended to cover any point or points that may have a bearing on the economic administration of the Foreign Settlement, cover the following points:

k. Various supporting statements and reports.

As will be seen from the Council's terms of reference to the Committee, the Committee were empowered to construe the definition of their duties in the widest possible sense, and, in accordance with this, and the amplification made by the Chairman of the Municipal Council at a meeting of the Committee on October 27, 1927, it was decided to extend the scope of the enquiry to include the Police and Electricity Departments. It should be noted, however, that the Committee were asked to act in a purely advisory capacity and that they were not, under the terms of reference, given any executive powers whatsoever.

At the outset of their investigations weighty oppcsition was offered to the Committee calling subordinate officials before them for the purpose of giving evidence, on the ground that such a procedure would be prejudicial to the discipline and harmonious working of the departments under their control.

In the circumstances, therefore, the Committee decided for the present not to go any further than to investigate, under the limitation above referred to, the various activities of the Council's organization by means of conferences with the heads of the various departments and the examination of these latter and such other members of their staffs as they were prepared to call before the Committee together with such other detailed investigation into the operation of the departments as, in the circumstances, seemed proper.

The Committee, however, did issue a general invitation to the staff to submit to them any suggestions employees might consider were calculated to assist the Committee in the achievement of their purpose and in response to this invitation a considerable number of recommendations of various kinds were forwarded for which the Committee desire to express their thanks.

In view of the foregoing circumstances the Committee's investigations have, of necessity, been confined in the main to the broader aspects of administration in the various departments and it has not been possible to enquire closely into the details of the inner workings of the departments and the duties of the various grades of employees.

For these reasons the Committee regard it as desirable that a thorough investigation be made:—

(1) of the functions and duties of each individual employee, to ascertain whether the services expected of, or performed, by such employees are in equitable ratio to the remuneration paid by the Municipal Council:

(2) as to the existence of overlapping of work within or between the various departments and the best means of obviating such overlapping, if found to exist:

(3) of the possibility of eliminating any excess of staff and/or expenditure which may be found, on such investigation, to exist; and

(4) of the charges made and taxes and fees levied by the Council with a view to revision and establishment on a more equitable basis, should such be found necessary, in order to ensure the receipt by the Council of the largest possible income commensurate with the services it renders.

Such a complete examination of the administrative machinery can only be undertaken by special paid investigators, employed at the expense of the Council to work under the directions of this Committee. Further and complete study of Municipal economy is considered advisable in the public interest, and paid professional assistance is necessary in the form which will be later recommended.

It is this Committee's general opinion that by thorough investigation of the work of the various departments, it may be possible gradually and to a limited extent to reduce the foreign staff.

In order thoroughly to investigate the activities of each department within the limits above referred to, the Committee, after a personal conference with each individual head of department, created a number of sub-committees specially to investigate each department.

These Sub-Committees consisted of at least one member of the General Committee, and of others with technical and/or accounting knowledge appropriate to the work of the department under consideration. The following committees were formed:—

Secretariat, Revenue and Finance Sub-Committee:

Messrs. V. Meyer, Chairman,
B. D. F. Beith,
K. Fukushima,
A. McLure.

On the resignation of Mr. Beith, Mr. F. R. Davey joined the Committee, and on the resignation of Mr. McLure, Mr. S. A. Seth was invited to take his place.

P. W. D. Sub-Committee:

Messrs. N. L. Sparke, Chairman,
C. L. Seitz,
G. L. Wilson,
E. F. Hardman.

On the resignation of Mr. Hardman, Mr. L. D. Watts was appointed to take his place.

Police and Volunteer Sub-Committee:

Brig. Gen. E. B. Macnaghten, Chairman,
Messrs. B. D. F. Beith,
H. C. Cleland.

On the departure of Gen. Macnaghten, Mr. Beith took the chair, and Mr. Sparke was co-opted. On the departure of Messrs. Beith and Sparke, Mr. Davey was co-opted.

Health Sub-Committee:

Messrs. C. L. Seitz, Chairman,
V. Meyer,
Dr. H. R. Friedlander,
Dr. J. C. McCracken.

Electricity Sub-Committee:

Messrs. Ranald G. McDonald, Chairman,
C. L. Seitz,
L. Junginger,
F. N. Matthews.

Education and Band Sub-Committee:

Messrs. R. Calder-Marshall, Chairman,
Ranald G. McDonald,
H. Tiefenbacher,
W. S. King,
Dr. J. Darroch.

Fire Brigade Sub-Committee:

Messrs. H. Tiefenbacher, Chairman,
R. Calder-Marshall.
G. E. O. Mayne.

Mr. S. A. Seth assisted the Committee before being appointed on the Finance Sub-Committee, with general accounting investigations and Mr. P. V. Simpson was appointed Secretary to the Committee on its formation. The Committee desire to express their thanks to the management of the British-American Tobacco Co. (China) Ltd. for detaching Mr. Simpson during the sitting of the Committee to act as Secretary to the Committee.

As a result of the investigation into and the consideration of the whole of the Council's organisation the Committee are definitely of opinion that in order to effect real economy it is necessary to make a number of changes to enable the organization to be more effectively adapted to the great increase in the scope of the Council's manifold activities and of the problems with which it has to deal.

In this connection the Committee would refer to the necessity of appointing an officer or establishing a department to control and consolidate the municipal service's many activities and to control and consolidate within certain limits, which could be definitely established, the functions of the various municipal departments.

That the Council have appreciated this fact is evidenced by the appointment, some years ago, of a Commissioner-General, whose duties, as originally conceived, were to embrace the exercise of such control and co-ordination. Conditions, however, as they have developed during the past few years and over which the Council had no control, forced the Commissioner-General to occupy himself almost entirely with political matters; and the object which the Council had in view when the appointment was created, viz. that he should be the chief executive business officer of the Council for the purpose of consolidating its various activities, has not been achieved.

The Committee would point out that the ratepayers are given the services of twelve prominent business men who have their own affairs to look after and who do the Council's work as a voluntary service to the community. It is, therefore, an absolute essential that these men should not be troubled with a large quantity of unimportant detail work which could and should be dealt with by a permanent chief executive.

A very large amount of the business of the Council is transacted by circulars which go from heads of departments to the Secretary, from him to the Treasurer, then to the various Committees, back to the Secretary, and then through him are returned to the heads of departments or otherwise disposed of. They are sent out to Councillors at all times of the day, not infrequently demanding their immediate attention and interfering with their own work.

Officially each department has attached to it a committee acting in a mixed advisory and executive capacity which is supposed to deal with the department's business, and to make recommendations in connection therewith to the Council. While committees consisting of members of the Council only, such as the Works Committee, Finance Committee and Staff Committee, are undoubtedly effective, certain other committees, which consist of one Councillor and a number of ratepayers invited by the Council to assist, are for the main part ineffective.

The reason for this is in the main due to the fact that beyond a definite reference and standing order connected with the Staff Committee and their duties, this Committee have found no evidence that the Council has ever made a clear ruling as to the functions of these various committees, their duties, or the matters which should come before them, etc., etc.

The result has been, especially so far as the mixed committees are concerned, that only such matters have been placed before them as in the discretion of the various heads of departments or the Secretary to the Council have required their decision.

The only exceptions which this Committee find are those rare occasions when the Council has asked for a definite expression of such committee's opinion. Obviously this system is not only ineffective as far as control is concerned, but it causes a large amount of unnecessary routine work which could and should be obviated, and which, if obviated, would automatically tend to reduce the present staff in the Secretariat and to some degree in the Treasurer's and other departments.

Another important matter to which this Committee have given considerable attention is the manner in which the municipal accounts are kept.

The system is one in which all expenditure is entered on one side of the account and all income on the other, separated as to each department. The only exception to this general statement is the Electricity Department, where the accounts are kept on a commercial basis shewing the expenditure and income in proper relation to the various activities of the department.

While it is true that the functions of certain of the Council's departments involve expenditure only, there are others in which a considerable income is being obtained from the various duties they have to perform, as, for example, the Health Department, which operates the markets, food inspection, slaughterhouses, laboratories and other functions which produce revenue.

Under the accounting system at present in force it is not possible readily to ascertain the cost of operating any of the earning departments of the Council, nor to ascertain the income derived therefrom; consequently it is impossible definitely to discover whether the Council operate these various activities on bases giving them an adequate return on the money which has been invested in them after the payment of ordinary operation expenses.

It is the Committee's opinion that the necessary changes should be effected in the Council's accounting system so that the executives of the departments concerned may know the financial results of their activities and possibly derive a much larger income therefrom. As the Treasurer's department already has these figures at its disposal the change which this Committee suggests should not involve much extra work or expense.

In the various specific reports dealing separately with each department more detailed recommendations on this subject will be found.

In order to strengthen the general working of the Council's service, this Committee make the following recommendations:—

1. That if it be possible to obtain the services of a suitable man, a chief executive be appointed with some appropriate title and sufficient authority to deal with the greater part of daily routine matters and with adequate authority to co-ordinate and control the activities of the various departments.

   Necessary provision should at the same time be made for carrying out the increasing amount of political work and other duties which previously fell to the department of the Commissioner-General.
2. That the heads of all departments should meet regularly under the presidency of the chief executive, or such other official as may be appointed by the Council, to discuss all matters pertaining to inter-departmental activities and the service as a whole, thereby obviating to a very great extent the cumbersome method of circularising departments on matters in which some or all of them are concerned.
3. That the scope and functions of the various committees appointed by the Council should be definitely laid down by terms of reference and/or rules and regulations; and that these committees should meet regularly at definitely stated intervals for the purpose of discussing and deciding matters which are not of immediate urgency, thereby avoiding the necessity of extensive circularising which at the present time involves great expense, waste of time and no small amount of inconvenience to the members concerned. Such committees should present summarised reports for consideration and approval by the Council as a whole.

The more specific recommendations which the Committee make in connection with the Council's service and which it is believed, if carried into effect, will secure a considerable saving in expenditure, are as follows:

COOPERATION BETWEEN DEPARTMENTS.

In order to remedy the lack of co-ordination between the various departments it is recommended that regular weekly meetings of the heads of departments should be held under the presidency of the chief executive or such other official as may be appointed by the Council.

At such meetings all matters concerning the various departments should be discussed and decided upon subject to the Council's approval, where such approval is required. Further, to secure complete cooperation between the various heads of departments this Committee recommend as essential that the standing orders of 1910 which are now completely out of date and hardly ever acted upon should be revised and duly enforced. In this connection the Committee would point out that in the absence of definite rulings as to the standing and responsibility of the head of each major department in the Council's service, co-ordination will be difficult if not impossible to achieve.

ENGAGEMENT OF STAFF.

Under the present system, with a few exceptions, the Council's foreign staff is engaged through its Agents in London. This Committee have not been able to find any definite regulations as to the qualifications if any which candidates who wish to enter the Council's service should possess; and no definite rules at present exist as to the marriage or non-marriage of such candidates, and the Committee would point out that in their opinion the minimum age of candidates where such limit is established is rather too high. This seems to be due to the fact that the minimum age limit was established immediately after the war when it was impossible to obtain the services of younger men for certain special positions with the result that married men have been engaged in cases where it would have been preferable for the employee to have been unmarried on first appointment.

With the exception of the Police Force and the Fire Brigade no rules have been laid down governing the marriage of employees after joining the Council's service.

In this connection it should be pointed out that while candidates for municipal employ, prior to engagement at home, have to submit to medical examination, no such requirement is enforced in connection with the candidate's wife and of children. Failure to insist upon this may result in the bringing out of families some of whose members may not possess that state of health conformable to the standard required for residence in Shanghai, thereby possibly involving the Council and the employee in expense and inconvenience which would be obviated by requiring a candidate and his family to undergo medical examination at home.

The absence of definite rules concerning marriage opens the way for the appointment of candidates with families to fill positions more suitable for unmarried men, thereby throwing an unnecessary burden upon the ratepayers.

The Committee therefore recommend:

(a) That definite regulations be drawn up by the several departments showing the qualifications required of candidates for employment in the department concerned.

(b) That in some of the departments the minimum age limit of candidates for employment be lowered to enable younger men than hitherto engaged to become available for the Council's service.

(c) That definite rules should be laid down for the instruction of the Council's Agents as to the desirability of a candidate's marriage or otherwise, and that all junior positions should be filled by unmarried men.

(d) That the medical examination of prospective Council employees be extended to their wives and children, and that the result of such examination be considered before engaging any married employees.

(e) That efforts be made to engage local employees for positions throughout the Council, and that such employees be not put on home contracts until after five years' satisfactory service with the Council.

(f) That employees engaged as unmarried be not allowed to marry at any rate during the first five years except with the permission of the Council, based on the recommendation of the head of the department concerned.

(g) That in the assessment of the salary to be paid for any particular position the prime factors should be the incumbent's qualifications for the duties which he has to perform.

(h) That minimum salaries for first agreements be definitely laid down and that increases, which should be dependent upon and in accordance with merit, should be only granted at the discretion of the Council on the recommendation of the heads of departments concerned, and that they be subject to the terms or conditions of any grading system which may be adopted.

The present method by which the remuneration of employees is automatically increased on the renewal of agreements, even though they may remain without promotion from the position they originally held, should be discontinued.

A similar recommendation by the Salary Commission in 1921, although approved at the time by the Council, has not been put into execution.

(i) That all positions in the Council's service be definitely graded, and that maximum and minimum salaries for such grades be fixed.

If an employee after years of service is not considered, through lack of sufficent merit, to be entitled to promotion, his pay should not, as at present, be automatically increased, but should remain definitely within the limits of the grade in which his particular position is established.

The present system under which length of service is apparently the sole factor governing the automatic increase of salaries, even though the employee has failed to qualify for promotion, should be definitely abolished; and the principle adopted that the remuneration attached to a particular position should be based on the value of the services rendered to the Council and not upon the length of time the employee has been in the Council's service.

(j) That arrangements should be made by which clerical employees in the Council's service will be interchangeable between all departments, and the various heads of departments will be kept informed as to men available in other departments before new employees are engaged.

(k) That in order to ensure increased efficiency and an equitable system of promotion, each department should create a "Departmental Staff Committee" under the head of such department, similar to that now in existence in the Electricity Department, where the question of appointments and promotions may be discussed and adjudicated upon before such recommendations are finally placed before the Council Staff Committee.

It is realised that the above recommendations may not be fully applicable to the Police Force.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF VACANCIES.

Their investigations have led this Committee to the conclusion that no definite practice has been established with regard to the advertisements appearing in home newspapers announcing vacancies in the Council's staff and the remuneration attendant upon appointment. The Committee is of opinion that before making any appointment advertisements of vacancies should appear in the Municipal Gazette and the local press prior to the same appearing in home papers. Such advertisements should in all cases be as uniform as circumstances permit, not only detailing the qualifications required of a candidate, but setting forth in full particulars as to remuneration, allowances, privileges etc. receivable for the period of the contract. There should, however, be an express proviso in both the advertisement and the contract subsequently entered into that such allowances, privileges etc. may be altered or discontinued upon the renewal of any such contract. The Committee are strongly of the opinion that every effort should be made locally and in the Far East to fill vacancies with suitable men, and that only in the event of such efforts proving fruitless should advertisement at home be resorted to.

CHINESE STAFF.

The Committee consider that the employment of Chinese in the Council's service is at present inadequate and capable of extension within the limits outlined in these recommendations.

As a preliminary step to the effecting of this end, the whole question of the basis on which Chinese should be so employed needs to be very carefully studied and a definite scheme prepared. Such a scheme should include the grading of Chinese employees, the determination of the qualifications necessary for the various positions they should hold, scales of pay and benefits along lines analogous to those applicable in the case of foreign employees.

While the Committee realise that an increase in the Chinese Staff can only be effected gradually, they are of the opinion that by a careful study of the capabilities of Chinese employees and an extended use of their services a considerable saving could be effected throughout the service through the replacement where suitable of foreign clerical and accounting assistants by Chinese. At the present time no definite scheme appears to have been established for the engagement of Chinese.

The Committee are of the opinion that a properly established employment bureau for the purpose of supplying the needs of the various departments would be of assistance in securing for the Council the services of Chinese fully capable of filling a number of posts now occupied by foreigners.

The building up of an adequate and efficient Chinese staff should be commenced by careful selection and promotion from among Chinese at present in the Council's employ and by the establishment of scales of remuneration on such a basis as to attract first class Chinese assistants to the Council's service.

The rate of pay at present in force is not sufficient to secure this class of employee, though the question of increased salaries is not, however, more important than the question of permanent employment under definite rules with benefits to accrue to the Chinese employee on the basis of length of service and ability. If such a system be adopted the Committee are of the belief that in the course of a comparatively few years the Council should be able to create a Chinese staff suitable for promotion in the service thereby automatically bringing about a reduction in the present high cost of the Council's staff.

It is recommended that immediate steps be taken to promote or engage Chinese employees for work in connection with the statistical services, accounting, keeping of records, etc., etc., while the employment of Chinese in some of the technical positions might be aimed at where practicable through the engagement of qualified Chinese who in due course might be able to fill such posts satisfactorily.

The Committee have had the advice in this matter of a number of foreigners controlling large organisations who have been successful in creating staffs largely composed of Chinese assistants and the Committee consider that the adoption of this recommendation is essential for securing any serious reduction in the present heavy cost of the performance of clerical work.

SALARIES.

Elsewhere in this report a recommendation will be found that the remuneration paid to Municipal employees should, throughout the whole service, be on a gross salary basis with most, if not all, of the present allowances abolished. The Committee are of the opinion that where remuneration consists of a monthly rate of pay to which is added various allowances and extra amounts paid for special services the employees and the ratepayers are very apt to overlook the latter in considering the actual rate of remuneration, while the system is open to the very criticism that the full amount of which the employee is in receipt is not readily apparent to the general public.

It is recommended that, in addition to dealing with these allowances in the manner suggested, an effort should be made to abolish those various cases given as extra pay for special services and qualifications and that a gross sum should be paid to each employee commensurate with the value of his services to the municipality.

In order to bring this about the Committee consider it essential that all positions in the Council's service should be graded with definite scales of remuneration including minimum and maximum salaries for each particular grade. This has already been done with regard to the foreign employees in the Electricity Department and to a certain extent in other departments and the Committee are very definitely of the opinion that the system should be generally applied throughout the whole of the Council's service.

It will be seen from this that there is a number of positions throughout the Council's service for which no definite scale of remuneration has been established and this Committee recommend that the head of each department should be instructed to investigate this matter and to place before the Council complete scales of salaries for the Council's consideration and approval.

In the event of the Council adopting this Committee's recommendation for its own continuance it is suggested that this is one of the most important and urgent matters which should be taken up.

With regard to existing scales of pay, the Committee consider that so far as the lower paid employees of the Council are concerned their salaries are generally in line with the recommendations of the Salaries Commission in 1921 and that in certain cases an increase may be justified.

On the other hand the salaries paid to some of the incumbents of senior positions in the Council's service, not only as far as the maximum salaries are concerned but also the minimum, are in certain cases higher than appear to be either necessary or equitable. This Committee do not here propose to refer to specific cases, but they wish to draw particular attention to the schedules of pay for the higher and highest posts in the service, as they consider that not only are the minimum salaries in some cases too high, but that the substantial increases automatically accorded at the end of each three years' contract are not justified.

The Salaries Commission in 1921 made the following statement in their report:

"The Commission would not "recommend as a definite principle "uniformity of pay for all heads "of departments with differences "based only on seniority of ser"vice. Being of the opinion that "full consideration should be given "to the relative importance and "responsibility of the work as "also to the relative qualifications "and competence of the individual "it is considered advisable to "decide on a minimum rate of "pay for such senior positions, "but to leave a wide latitude in "arriving at a maximum in "accordance with the above con"siderations. The Commission "records its opinion that "generally speaking the present "remuneration of heads of Depart"ments does not compare un"favourably with positions of "similar responsibility in other "concerns. In this connection the "Commission emphasises the im"portance of promotion by merit "and that not only in the case of "the most senior posts but particularly in the case of all positions "of responsibility in direct line for "promotion to the most senior "posts. If the Council should be "unable to find within the Muni"cipal service an individual really "competent to fill a senior post "which has become vacant, the "Council should certainly make "a competent appointment from "outside the service, but in the "interests of the service such in"stances should be as few as pos"sible since they could not fail to "have a discouraging effect on the "service generally."

The following statement shews the starting salaries recommended by that Commission for each head of the respective departments of the Council's service, together with the salary which was actually paid at that time and the amounts which are now being paid:

FIRE BRIGADE. Minimum Salary. Tls. 759; Salary in 1921. Tls. 900; Salary now paid. Tls. 950; Remarks. (New appointment).

POLICE. Minimum Salary. Tls. 1125. Salary in 1921. Tls. 1195. Salary now paid. Tls. 1500; Remarks. (New appointment 1926).

P. W. D. Minimum Salary. Tls. 1125; Salary in 1921. Tls. 1245; Salary now paid. Tls. 2,000.

HEALTH. Minimum Salary. Tls. 1125; Salary in 1921, Tls. 1450; Salary now paid. Tls. 2,000.

FINANCE. Minimum Salary. Tls. 1125; Salary in 1921, Tls. 1245; Salary now paid, Tls. 2,000.

SECRETARIAT. Minimum Salary. Tls. 1181; Salary in 1921, Tls. 1295; Salary now paid. Tls. 1500. Remarks. (New appointment 1926).

HEADMASTER. Minimum Salary. Tls. 618.75; Salary in 1921, Bet. Tls. 475-845; Salary now paid, Tls. 700-900;

REVENUE. Minimum Salary. Tls. 759.37; Salary in 1921, Tls. 800; Salary now paid, Tls. 1,000.

ELECTRICITY CHIEF ENGINEER. Minimum Salary. Tls. 1125; Salary in 1921. Tls. 1895; Salary now paid. Tls. 2500.

Increase in more or less the same proportion have been granted during this period for other employees in the higher posts of the service, while it would appear that no similar increases have been granted in the lower paid divisions of the Council's employ. The Committee are unable to appreciate the validity of the reasons suggested for these large increases.

In the circumstances, however, the Committee do not feel prepared to recommend a reduction in the salaries of present employees, but they do recommend that a most careful revision of these higher salaries should be made before new appointments are made or considered.

The Committee are further of the opinion that the practice of automatically increasing salaries on the conclusion of each three years' agreement is not only undesirable but unjustifiable, and they recommend that the salary of an employee who continues to serve in the same position should be based entirely on merit and that any proposed increase should be subjected to the closest scrutiny of the Council when new contracts are being considered.

In connection with the whole question of employment and renewal of contracts the Committee consider that the present system by which each contract is dealt with individually is not a practical one and does not afford the Staff Committee any real opportunity of obtaining a proper view of the situation as a whole.

SUPERANNUATION.

The original rules governing the Superannuation Scheme were changed in June 1916. The change gave the Council employees the privilege of retiring their Superannuation Fund after 15 years' service. This rule was cancelled in September 1921, and the original Superannuation Scheme continued.

In December 1927, a change was again made, giving the employees the right to retire their Superannuation Fund after 15 years' service, and invest the Fund at their own discretion, but subject to the Council's approval—the investments made in this manner to remain in possession of the Council and the income derived from the investments to be retained by the employees.

As the Superannuation Scheme is closely connected with the Pension Fund, this change involves the necessity of carrying on a pro-forma schedule of Superannuation in order to arrive at the final figures on which the Pension would be based when the employee left the Council's service.

It is the view of the Committee that this change in the rules of the Superannuation Scheme defeats the object of the Fund, which is to ensure the Superannuation Fund being available when an employee leaves the Council's service. The condition that the employees could invest their Superannuation Fund after 15 years' service as they chose, but subject to the approval of the Council, involves the Council in a responsibility which is not warranted, and may cause unnecessary complications in the course of time.

The Committee recommend that the original scheme for Superannuation be adhered to, and that all money, including accrued interest, accumulated in the Superannuation Fund remain in this Fund until the employee leaves the Council's service.

It is further recommended that an Investment Committee be appointed by the Council, consisting of two members of the Council and one member of the staff, and that this Committee be given the duties of investing the Superannuation Fund in appropriate silver securities. Moreover, the securities which cover the Superannuation Fund should be definitely held in trust by the Council for the benefit of the Superannuation Fund and the interest paid on this Fund should be the average interest earned by the investments of the Fund, computed on the preceding year's income.

Closely connected with the Superannuation Fund is the Pension Fund. The obligations of the Council towards employees so far as pension is concerned have not in the past appeared in any shape or form in the Council's Balance Sheet. They constitute a very definite financial obligation on the Council.

At the present time payment of pensions, special and regular, is covered through provision in the ordinary expenditure of each year's Budget, while the pensions paid yearly come out of the year's revenue. As, however, they have been earned through many years' service and represent a definite obligation on the part of the Council towards its old employees, arrangements should be made to remove this particular expenditure from each year's ordinary expenditure.

It is the Committee's recommendation that this matter be dealt with on the following lines:—

Provision should be made in the Council's annual Extraordinary Budget for a portion of the capital cost of pensions, computed on an actuarial basis, to be set aside for the purpose of building up a Pension Fund, which should be completed within a period of not less than five years.

The capital sums thus raised should be invested in securities hypothecated to the Pension Fund, and should be placed in the hands of Trustees.

The income derived from these investments should be credited to the Council's Ordinary Budget and should be utilised for the payment of pensions.

By these means a portion of the Municipal assets will have been definitely earmarked as security for the Fund, and all pension payments will ultimately be made from this source.

In the event of pensions being granted to retiring employees, this Committee are of the opinion that the granting of such pensions should be subject to ratification by the Ratepayers at the next adjacent meeting after the pension has been provisionally granted, and that in order to obtain such ratification a special resolution regarding the pension it is desired to grant should be placed before the meeting by the Council, instead of the same being included as an ordinary item in the Budget as has been the practice in the past.

LOCOMOTION.

Under the present system of locomotion as adopted by the Council, there is a large number of motor cars, belonging to the Council, in service.

Besides this, an allowance for locomotion amounting to Tls. 50 per month is paid to employees who use their own cars in the Council's service, while the Council receives $40 from employees for the privilege of using the Council's cars outside hours of duty.

This system is obviously unsatisfactory and liable to abuse.

It is the Committee's recommendation that all Municipal Council cars should be marked in a similar manner to those of the Electricity Department and that they should only be used on Municipal business.

They further recommend that this question should be dealt with as follows:—

(a) The Police Department: If Regulation No. 7 "Use of Departmental Cars" is to be strictly enforced and the number of departmental cars thereby reduced, the Committee are of the opinion that some revision in the amount of the monthly allowance made to officers using their own vehicles is necessary. They do not recommend the abolition of the Locomotion allowance in this particular department in view of the desirability of police officers having their own vehicles at hand in times of emergency.

(b) The Electricity Department: The present garage system should be continued, but all allowances paid to any employee for using his own car should be cancelled; the garage should provide whatever locomotion is necessary for the Department's needs for employees on departmental business.

(c) The Fire Brigade: Such cars as are necessary should be kept at the Stations. All repair work on Fire Brigade cars should be dealt with in the general workshop recommended to be established under supervision of the Public Works Department.

(d) Departmental cars should be used for the purpose of taking employees from their homes, only where such employees have to proceed direct from or to their homes to or from their work, provided that such work is at a place away from their regular work or location.

(e) A Municipal Garage should be established to serve all other departments of the Council.

This garage should be under the control of the Public Works Department and should be either one central garage or placed in various locations as found practicable and advisable after investigation, by the Public Works Department.

A certain definite number of cars should be on service in the Municipal compound, available for employees when needed. Except possibly in the case of the Police, all allowances at present paid to employees for use of their own cars, and all allowances received from employees for use of the Council's cars for private purposes, should be abolished.

Except in the case of the Electricity Department, all repairs, painting etc. in connection with Municipal cars should be dealt with by the Public Works Department shop and should be under their control.

Arrangements should be made by which each department is charged a certain rate per hour for cars which are used by members of its staff.

An efficient system should be established so that the use of cars can be completely controlled. A monthly statement should be sent to each head of department to shew the use of cars by his staff during the month, and the head of the department should be responsible for the economical working of this service. Each individual department should be debited with the proportionate cost of cars used by it.

All cars used in all departments of the Municipal Council's organization, including the Police and Electricity Departments, should be purchased by one central purchasing agent.

All old cars should be disposed of through the same agency.

NON-PAYMENT OF VEHICLE LICENCE FEES BY MUNICIPAL EMPLOYEES.

Under present conditions, employees of the Council do not pay licence fees for motor cars, motor cycles, rickshas, bicycles, etc. privately owned by them.

The estimated value of such exemption for the year 1926, was as follows:

Licence fees for Motor Cars	Tls. 13,920
Licence fees for Motor Cycles	1,240
Licence fees for Private Rickshas ..	7,710
Licence fees for Bicycles	1,560
	Tls. 23,430

The Committee see no reason why this exemption should be continued, and consequently recommend that it be abolished, and that employees in the Council's service pay the ordinary licence fees paid by the general public for privately owned motor-cars, motor cycles, rickshas and bicycles, etc.

BALANCE SHEET OF THE COUNCIL.

This Committee have already commented upon the absence of certain information in the Balance Sheet and accounts as published annually by the Council, particularly in regard to the failure to set out the complete operation of all the various departments, especially those which are of a revenue producing nature, and following the recommendation there made that the accounts themselves should give such information, this Committee desire to recommend that adequately summarized figures should appear in the statements of working account and Balance Sheet.

It has also been recommended that in the same document the position of the Pension Fund should be set forth, but in addition to this the Committee is strongly of opinion that under the heading of "Assets" the Balance Sheet should shew the value of all roads, sewers, wharves, bridges, docks, etc. constructed and owned by the Council.

The money expended in this manner and the present estimated value of these assets are set forth in Appendix A. While it may be argued that these assets have no individual sales value, they do, as representing investments in public utilities as a whole, represent a very important and valuable asset to the municipality, and in order to give the completest view possible of the financial position of the Settle ment should certainly appear in the Balance Sheet. In this connection it is also recommended that in all future financial reports there should be incorporated clear trading statements shewing the results of the various activities of the Council's departments, as recommended elsewhere in this Report.

So also should there be shewn in the report of the Educational Department statements shewing the exact cost of running the various schools, interest and depreciation on capital investments in connection therewith, and the income derived from the fees charged to scholars. Proposed statements of this nature will be found in the special report of the Educational Department.

A similar recommendation is also made with regard to the different activities of the Health Department in connection with the markets, slaughter houses etc., all of which produce certain revenues; which in principle it should be definitely laid down that where any sub-division of a department is in the receipt of a certain revenue, that revenue should be clearly shewn as against expenditure, in order that the Council may at any time have at its disposal full and complete information as to the results of its operation.

STATIONERY AND GENERAL STORES.

A special study should be made of the needs of the Council for the various kinds of stationery etc. now used, and a definite standard in forms, as well as in qualities, should be established throughout the Council's service.

The Committee are of the opinion that at the present time a large amount of unnecessary forms, expensive stationery, etc. is being used and that a considerable saving might be effected in this direction.

A central office should be established, which should have full control of all stationery and general stores used throughout the Council.

All requisitions for stationery and general stores should be placed with this office.

By the centralization of such purchases and stock-keeping in one office of all stationery and general stores, a much smaller stock than is at present ordered can be maintained.

The present printing bureau in the Gaol should be used to a far greater extent than at present to supply the needs of the Council's offices for printed forms, stationery headings, etc., etc.

Similar control should be established on all other stores used throughout the various departments of the Council. The purchase and distribution of such stores should also be controlled by this office.

The present arrangements for telephone service in the Municipal Building are extravagant. They consist of seven boards connected with the Central Exchange by fifty-one lines. In addition there are forty-six separate lines and a further sixty-six private lines, a great many of this last class being for the use of the Fire Brigade. It is the opinion of this Committee that the whole service can be carried on one three-hundred line board with forty exchange lines tended by Chinese operators and a foreign employee to act as supervisor and to take urgent messages and despatch them.

This arrangement it is considered would render services equal to the present system, with much more convenient for the Council's officials and the public and should effect a saving of at least Tls. 4,000 per annum.

It is therefore recommended that the existing system be abolished and that a central exchange in the Municipal Building be established, the cost of effecting such a change being estimated at about Tls. 1,000.

PRIVATE TELEPHONES IN EMPLOYEES' HOUSES PAID FOR BY COUNCIL.

The present cost of this service amounts to Tls. 5,973.60 per annum. Beyond the provision of private telephones in the houses of Police Officers, the Chief of the Fire Brigade and a few other officials whom it may be necessary to reach after office hours on Council business or in the event of trouble, it is recommended that the practice whereby the Council pays for telephones for its officials be discontinued.

ALLOWANCES APPERTAINING TO CONTRACTS OF SERVICE IN THE MUNICIPAL EMPLOY.

Under the present system of remunerating Council employees the emoluments consist, in addition to the established rate of pay, of substantial allowances of various kinds.

A large number of these allowances was introduced either during or immediately after the war for the purpose of taking care of exceptional circumstances which have for the most part since disappeared.

As a general principle the Committee are of the opinion that as many as possible of these allowances should be discontinued and that the remuneration paid to an employee should be a gross salary based on the position occupied and the work connected therewith. Such a change would not only minimise the possibilities of abuse attendant upon a general scheme of allowances in a big service, but would also render unnecessary a large amount of clerical work connected with handling it.

The following allowances are now in force:—

ACTING PAY.—The average cost of this allowance for the last five years was Tls. 10,027 per annum.

The Committee recommend that this allowance be abolished, as in their opinion it is the ordinary duty of the Deputy in the Department to take charge when his senior is away.

CHILDREN'S BONUS.—The cost of this Bonus for 1926 was for employees receiving a salary of Tls. 400 per month or under, Tls. 50,501.

For those receiving a salary of over Tls. 400 a month the cost was Tls. 29,573 for the same period.

The Committee recommend that this allowance be discontinued in all future contracts of service to be entered into by the Council.

LANGUAGE BONUS.—At present the study of the Chinese language is only obligatory among the members of the Police Force, but this Committee are of the opinion that one of the qualifications for engagement and promotion in certain grades in other departments of the Council should be a knowledge of the Chinese language, and that its study in these cases should be compulsory. In this connection the Committee would specifically refer to Tax Collectors, Health Inspectors, Market Inspectors and all other outdoor employees of the Council whose business brings them into constant touch with the Chinese public. The same terms as are recommended in connection with the Police should be adopted in connection with such other branches of the Municipal service as may be considered to come within the general recommendation set out above.

DEFERRED LEAVE BONUS.—This was instituted to meet certain contingencies arising during the War and since has been used very rarely. It should in this Committee's opinion, be abolished.

LONG LEAVE.—Under existing rules an employee is allowed long leave on full pay for eight months after five years' service. Previous to the War the allowance was seven months only, but owing to slow and difficult transportation during the period of hostilities, long leave was increased to eight months, which is still continued, notwithstanding the reinstitution of regular transportation by sea and the re-establishment of connection with Europe via the Trans-Siberian Railway.

The Committee are of the opinion that general health conditions and comfort of residence in Shanghai warrant reduction in the length of long leave and recommend that six months only be granted after five years' service, and that after the conclusion of a second period of five years a similar amount of leave be granted—the first six months leave to be included within the ten years service.

The only exception for which provision should be made is in the case of technical employees attached to the various departments. On the recommendation of the head of such department technical employees might be allowed eight months long leave providing they have effected satisfactory arrangements whereby they will be enabled to spend at least two months in the study elsewhere of the technical branch of the service which they belong. The Committee are of the opinion that the adoption of such a scheme would result in a considerable reduction of the number of employees at present engaged.

SHORT LEAVE.—The present practice with regard to the above is to allow one month's holiday to be spent outside Shanghai.

It is recommended that this leave be reduced to three weeks per annum, with a maximum extension to four weeks in any second year providing that not more than a fortnight has been taken in the preceding twelve months. Restrictions governing the locality in which such short leave is to be spent should be removed.

The Committee is further of the opinion that except upon medical recommendation short leave should not be taken in instalments.

MEDICAL AID.—Prior to 1919 it was the practice of the Municipal Council to provide free second-class accommodation in Hospitals only for employees receiving less than Tls. 250 a month, and no provision was made for the cost of operations on such employees or their families. In that year, however, the principle was extended with the introduction of free medical aid for employees, their wives and two children per family, including hospital operations, maternity fees, free medicines, etc.

This involved the Council in the following expenditure during the year 1926:—

	Tls.
Doctors' fees for Employees	23,398
Doctors' fees for Families	24,485
Cost of Operations on Employees	66,713
Cost of Operations on Members of Employees' families	19,565
Cost of Medicines	17,631
	Tls. 151,792

With the exception of the Police Force, which is dealt with later, the Committee desire to recommend that allowances for medical aid, operations, attendance etc. be dealt with as follows:—

(a) That the practice of granting medical attention and hospital expenses to employees and their families be discontinued and that the only recipients of such attentions gratis be limited to those actually in the employ of the Council.

(b) All allowances for families and for free medicines etc. should also be abolished, though employees should be given the benefit of the Council's arrangements as to doctor's fees, if they so desire to avail themselves, repaying to the Council such fees as the latter may then dispense in connection with the employee's wife and family. The supply of free medicines should be abolished as and when present contracts expire, while in the interim all such medicines should be dispensed only by the pharmacy attached to the Health Department.

In connection with the above the Committee desire to place their opinion on record that where an employee desires to be invalided out of the service, the benefits attendant upon retirement should not be granted to him unless such application is endorsed by the Council's medical advisors.

PASSAGES.—The present provisions of the Council cover the granting of passages to employees, their wives and two children in each family under 16 years of age, and for the purpose of computation the passage money is based upon the rates of the Peninsular & Oriental Steam Navigation Company between Shanghai and England. This allowance for passage is paid to the employee in cash and it is left to him to make whatever disposition of the money he chooses. In 1926 the cost of such passages was Tls. 326,075.

The Committee wish to point out that they have discovered no hard and fast rule as to who are entitled to first and who to second class passages, nor does there appear to be any definite ruling as to whether an employee who is paid the cost of a first class passage is entitled to travel second class or in any other way he may choose. It is this Committee's general opinion that owing to the absence of hard and fast rules the present lax system governing allowances for passages needs revision.

Despite the fact that the passenger rates of the P. & O. S. N. Company are higher than the rates of certain other steamship lines, no arrangement seems to have been made whereby in view of the very heavy cost of passages booked by Council servants on this line any special rebates have been granted. The Committee recommend:

(a) That definite rules be laid down as to the granting of first and/or second class passages to Council employees when travelling under the terms of their agreements.

(b) That passages be provided for employees only. That the present privileges with regard to the wives and children of employees in the Council's service be discontinued.

(c) That the passage money paid to an employee should be based on the return fare charged by the steamship line affording the lowest terms compatible with decent accommodation and reasonably rapid transport to the employee's native country or such other place specified in his agreement.

COMMISSION FOR ADJUSTMENT OF SALARIES.

The Committee realise that these allowances cannot be abolished under existing contracts, but they are of opinion that all allowances should be eliminated from future contracts entered into between the Council and its employees and recommend that a special Commission be appointed to make a thorough investigation of the salaries at present paid and, having in view the abolition of all allowances, fix definite and inclusive scales of pay for all grades of employees in the council's service on bases comparable with those ruling for similar positions in Shanghai and other ports on the China coast. Pending the report of such Commission as may be appointed, renewal agreements should be on the old basis with allowances, these agreements to be provisional for such time until the Salary Commission has laid down definitely the new scales of salary.

During their work the Economy Committee have collected a great deal of information regarding conditions of service obtaining in more than fifty of the most important services and business houses in Shanghai, as well as statistics relative to the cost of living from June 1921, the time the last Salary Commission was appointed, up to date. As a great deal of this information was placed at the Committee's disposal confidentially, it is not published in this report but can be made available for the above suggested commission.

Appended to this report and making a part thereof are attached specific recommendations referring to each separate department, which go to make up the complete unit of the Shanghai Municipal Council. There is also forwarded to the Council a number of statements and reports which although not making a definite part of the report, should be of use to the members of the Council in considering the recommendations made by the Committee.

CONTINUANCE OF THE PRESENT ECONOMY COMMITTEE.

From the foregoing it will be seen that many questions have only been dealt with along the lines of general principles because, as has already been pointed out, it was impossible for a temporary advisory Committee to go into great detail in a large number of matters which require careful and lengthy investigation before recommendations testifying towards improvement can be made.

This Committee are of the opinion, and so recommend to the Council, that it or another body should continue to function for an indefinite period as a body consisting of say five members, not more than one of whom should be a member of the Council. They should have attached to them two or more professional men engaged by the Council but entirely free from the control of any one of the Council's departments. These employees should be available for the purpose of making such investigations as may be necessary into the various matters which have not been dealt with by this Committee, and the Committee also recommend that a special office and staff for the work of this body and its professional assistants should be placed at their disposal by the Council in the Administration Building.

The Committee desire to place on record their deep appreciation of the work done by Mr. V. Meyer in the compilation of this Report and of the very efficient way in which he carried out the duties of Chairman of this Committee throughout all its labours.

GENERAL REPORT

APPENDIX "A"

March 27, 1928.

Sir,

In further reference to my letter dated February 18, I enclose herein a copy of a certified statement prepared by the Commissioner of Public Works showing the expenditure incurred on the existing bridges, buildings, sewers, etc. and the acquisition of land for road purposes.

It has been found impracticable to estimate the value of these unrealizable assets on a depreciated basis, and it is anticipated that the statement in its present form will meet the requirements of your Committee when it is understood that the public services which these assets represent are regularly maintained out of Revenue.

Yours faithfully,

J. T. Ford,
Deputy Treasurer and Comptroller.

The Secretary,
Municipal Economy Committee.

Deputy Commissioner of Public Works.

PUBLIC HEALTH DEPARTMENT.

The investigations of the Committee have covered the broader aspects of the Municipal system of public health administration and the division of the functions of the Department under its various sections of city health control. It has not been possible, in the absence of paid assistance, directly to examine details of inner departmental working, nor could the Committee cover the routine duties of minor officials or subordinate employees.

ADMINISTRATION

The Health Department is controlled solely by medical men, headed by Dr. C. Noel Davis as Commissioner, Dr. J. H. Jordan as Deputy Commissioner, and a number of Assistant Commissioners. The administration of their duties in safeguarding the public health is not open to criticism.

In the course of their investigations the Committee was impressed by the fact that in continuance of a condition that existed many years ago when the Health Department was practically a purely spending institution, the accounts of the department are kept and controlled by the Treasurer and Comptroller. The Committee found that the administration seemed chiefly to be concerned as a medical advisory department and did not seem sufficiently concerned about economic limitations and business routine in handling the business side of the Department's work, namely markets, slaughter houses, etc.

Modern developments in city administration have, however, resulted in placing under the Health Department large revenue producing undertakings, such as:—

	Gross Income 1927 Tls.
Public Markets	132,907.45
Laboratories	80,082.20
Slaughter House	35,069.63
Cemeteries, Crematorium and Public Mortuary	16,664.50
Swimming Baths	6,635.94
Ambulance Service	2,966.34
Tls.	274,326.06

besides the supervision of Licence Fees on Food Shops, Eating Houses, Food Hawkers, etc., all controlled by the Health Department, and bringing in an income of approximately Tls. 110,000.—per year. This income, totalling about Tls. 384,000.—now mostly disappears in Municipal accounting under various headings, such as Rent on Municipal Properties, Licence Fees, etc.

Book-keeping entries in the Finance Department are, under the existing antiquated system, merely taken from records furnished by the Clerical staff of the Health Department.

The Committee were unable to find that there exists any de facto business executive in the Finance Department or in the Health Department whose personal and direct concern it is to be responsible for the efficiency of administration of the income from the sources referred to. These revenues are believed to be capable of expansion under good business management, but no incentive exists under the present methods of Municipal accounting for the Health Department to endeavour to make a shewing of efficiency in improved earnings. It cannot be expected of the Commissioner of Public Health, with the wide responsibilities attaching to that position, that he, as a medical man, should be responsible for the business and/or income producing features of departmental working, when same are naturally usurped by the Finance Department to so large a degree that the real business responsibility supposedly rests with the Treasurer. Nevertheless, it has been noted by the Committee that Dr. Noel Davis, in justice to his departmental organization, submitted a request for reorganization of Municipal accounting as far back as the 29th of January, 1922, when he wrote to the Council asking for revision of the accounting system, but received no support.

It is the recommendation of the Committee that the Council appoint as an Assistant Commissioner in the Health Department an efficient business executive, said appointee to work under, and in co-operation with, the Commissioner of Public Health and the Finance Department for the purpose of conducting the purely business and income bearing features of the Department, so that expenses be curtailed and income increased under good business management, in place of the stultifying red tape limitations under which the Department now labours.

HOSPITALS (RADIOLOGY).

A Special report dealing will Hospitals only has already been submitted by the Committee to the Council for consideration.

A feature of the hospital working which has not been dealt with in said preliminary report was brought out in the Committee's investigations of the Radiology Section. The Council employs and pays the Radiologist. It is intended to furnish him with additional specialized foreign assistance. The expenses of the Radiology Department, it is estimated, will then cost the Council about Tls. 25,000.—to Tls. 30,000.—per year. The Radiology work is performed at the General Hospital and the Country Hospital, where equipment and supplies are provided at hospital expense.

The fees derived from such X-Ray work are collected and kept entirely by the hospitals, no part thereof being turned over to the Health Department in consideration of payment by the Council of expenses in salaries, etc., for the Radiology Department. The X-Ray income of the General Hospital for 1927 amounted to a total of Tls. 26,537.01, and free treatment was given representing a cost of about Tls. 4,200.—

The fees collected by the Country Hospital totalled Tls. 15,270.— for X-Ray work, and Tls. 7,614.46 for Hydrotherapy service. Free treatment amounted to about Tls. 1,000.—

After deducting liberally estimated expenses and charges at the hospitals, the nett profit derived by the General Hospital was Tls. 17,084.98, and by the Country Hospital Tls. 11,845.45. The total nett profit, therefore, derived from the two hospitals for the work of the Radiology Department is Tls. 28,930.43.

It is recommended by the Committee that at least 50 per cent. of the nett income derived by the hospitals from the service rendered by the Radiology Department should be paid to the Municipal Health Department towards expenses incurred by the Council in providing competent Radiologists for service at the hospitals at Municipal expense.

LABORATORIES

The work done under the Pathological, Chemical and Dispensary sections of this branch of Health Department activity is valuable to the community. The loss as shewn in the investigations of the Committee in the working of this section is about Tls. 60,000.— It is believed that said loss can in due course be reduced, if not eliminated, by readjustment of fees, without impairing the service of the department in the public interest. The scale of fees for services rendered by the Laboratories is regarded as too low by comparison with charges for similar work in England, Europe and the U. S. A.

As shewn in the preliminary report on Hospitals, a more equitable arrangement should be come to with the French Municipality for adequate contribution to these services.

MARKETS, DAIRIES AND FOOD INSPECTION

The Committee found that the Council derives a substantial income from its Public Markets system, as shewn in statements given in Appendix C.

The Committee does not consider itself qualified to pass on the question as to whether the market fees can be increased, but it was observed that certain of the markets are not fully occupied, whilst others are overcrowded, and the Hongkew Market is tremendously congested. Certain stalls are much more valuable than others, and it would seem that a fixed rate per stall is not the best plan to get the fullest value for rentals that the traffic can bear. It is suggested that in the congested markets, especially the Hongkew Market, Municipal income can be increased if a system of auctioning stalls be introduced, the lowest bid acceptable being the minimum fee fixed by the Council, and the highest bidder over-and-above said minimum fee to be awarded the stall, purchased at such value as he may offer for quarterly rental periods. Such a system of rentals for stalls will, it is believed, tend to relieve congestion in overcrowded markets, inducing food vendors to move to other neighbouring markets where there is ample space available and stall fees are comparatively low.

It is recommended by the Committee that the Council make reasonable provision for improved public market service to keep pace with the growing needs of the community, foreign and Chinese, thereby forestalling and discouraging the installation of private markets.

It is proved by the study and analysis of operation of Municipal Markets that they are profitable to the Council and a boon to the public. On the other hand, the difficulty of adequate supervision of food in private markets is of serious import from the city health aspect. The cost of efficient health inspection in comparison to the income in taxes derived from private market licences involves the community in loss thereon. The licence fee for a private market is $25 to $100 per quarter. The time of inspectors to supervise the food sold in private markets will far exceed such a tax, if the duty is adequately performed.

Concerning Dairies, Food Shops and control of the infinite details and functions coming under this division, the Committee has formulated no recommendations.

CATTLE SHEDS AND ABATTOIRS.

The Council has since some time foreseen the necessity for transfer of the Cattle Sheds and Abattoirs to a new site, owing to congestion in the present plant. An area of land of 23.050 mow is owned by the Council in Sawgin Road, and plans were submitted to the Committee for a proposed new lay-out of Cattle Sheds and Abattoirs on this land providing for cattle lairage of 400 oxen, 100 calves, 400 sheep and 50 pigs, whilst in the slaughter section provision was made for slaughter at one time of 17 oxen, 5 calves, 20 sheep and 6 pigs. The total cost of the new buildings was estimated to be Tls. 352,853, excluding value of the land.

The Committee decided that the plans, shewing one and two storey buildings scattered over the whole of the site, were not economical under conditions of high cost of land such as exist in the Dixwell Road section in Shanghai. Furthermore, after study of the ratio of increase in demand for meat in Shanghai, it was found that the requirements for cattle sheds and Abattoirs would, within ten years, possibly exceed the capacity of the new plant designed, necessitating reconstruction thereof. The plans as prepared by the Public Works Department had been drawn to the instructions of the officials of the Health Department.

At the request of the Committee, the Public Works Department prepared new plans, which have been approved by the Committee, and endorsed in a general way by the Health Department officials. These plans provide for a compact two storey building, so constructed that it can be increased to four storeys when the demand for increased cattle lairage and abattoir service in Shanghai calls for same. The two storey building as designed provides lairage for 440 oxen, 100 calves, 300 sheep and 150 pigs, and slaughter house service at one time for 15 oxen, 4 calves, 20 sheep and 6 pigs. The total cost of the new buildings and general lay-out is estimated at about Tls. 400,000. The design as prepared by the Public Works Department is modern in every respect, with good ventilation and light, whilst provision is made for every service connected with this department of Health Administration.

An important feature in the new project, apart from more economical administration due to better design, is that it occupies only 15.737 mow of land of the Sawgin Road site, instead of 23.050 mow as shewn on the plans which the Committee condemned. Further, by the addition of two storeys on the building the capacity of the plant can in future years be doubled without any further purchase of land being necessary. The saving in land, of a value of about Tls. 160,000, effected by the re-arrangement of the plans, will enable the Council to defray a large part of the cost of the new plant by sale of this excess ground.

The Committee recommends that the Council proceed with the construction of the new slaughter House and Cattle Lairage, same being financed as follows:—

	Say Tls.
Cost of new structures estimated at Tls. 398,278	400,000
Less: Excess land on Sawgin Road to be sold:	160,000
leaving a nett Municipal cash outlay of	Tls. 240,000

against which must be set-off the value of land now occupied by Cattle Sheds on the Isolation Hospital site which will be returned to the Council for other disposition and which is assessed at Tls. 142,750 together with the property on Fearon Road on which the present Slaughter House is located, assessed at Tls. 93,340, and which can be disposed of, it is believed, for a value of about Tls. 140,000 to Tls. 150,000. The Committee observes from the records of investigation of the Electricity Department that this land is required for their purposes, and it can therefore be transferred to them at market value.

A scale of fees for Municipal Cattle Lairage has been laid down by the Council some time ago, but has not been collected by the Health Department. It is recommended that these fees be strictly enforced in order to reduce the existing congestion in the Cattle Sheds, in which cattle is stored for unduly prolonged periods, because the cattle dealers are now able to avail themselves of Municipal privileges without charge.

The fees from the Municipal Abattoirs, amounting to about $53,000 a year, should be materially increased in consideration of the extra facilities which will be available in the new Slaughter House.

SANITATION.

This section covers a variety of functions which can in many respects be just as well handled by the Public Works Department with probably greater economy. The collection of house refuse, with the organization pertaining thereto, has already been transferred by order of the Council from the Health Department to the Public Works Department. This staff has in the past been, under Health Department administration, allocated to many other duties under Sanitation besides Garbage or House Refuse collection and disposal. Therefore, in order to enable the Public Works Department economically to function in carrying on the garbage collection service, it will be a matter of economy for the Council also to transfer to the Public Works Department such duties as have formerly been carried on in the Health Department by the employees concerned.

The Committee sought the viewpoints of the Commissioner of Public Health and the Commissioner of Public Works, concerning the details of various functions referred to. Whilst on minor points they are not quite in agreement, they do confirm each other's views in certain main phases of sanitation working, concerning transfer of the work from the Health Department to the Public Works Department. It is suggested that in these inter-departmental adjustments, the heads of the two departments concerned confer as to co-operation and division of the various duties for future economical working.

MUNICIPAL HEALTH COMMITTEE.

The Committee recommends that meetings of the Municipal Health Committee be held regularly, at which the problems concerning Health Department affairs be submitted for consideration. It has been found that very few meetings are now held, and most questions are dealt with by circular. The system is somewhat cumbersome, in that the Commissioner of Public Health submits reports on projects or problems to the Secretary of the Council. These are then circulated by him to the Health Committee. They may also be circulated to other Municipal committees. The Commissioner of Public Health is not, as a rule, informed of reasons leading to approval or disapproval, thus discouraging initiative.

The existing method of obtaining opinions by circular on debatable questions is not considered efficient.

It is believed that meetings of the Health Committee will result in projects of the Commissioner of Public Health being given full discussion and considered scrutiny, both from medical and financial viewpoints, before being submitted. A rule should be made that the Commissioner must have the support of his Municipal Committee on such projects before submission to the Secretary, so that they will then carry due weight on reference to the Council.

EXTRACT

of Minutes of 15th Meeting of Health Sub-Committee held on Thursday, February 2nd, 1928, at 4 p.m.

In reference to questions arising out of said minutes concerning income derived by the General Hospital and the Country Hospital from radiology services in consequence of work done by Dr. Bowen and his staff, the Chairman submitted a report received from Dr. Davis, embodying figures given by Dr. Bowen, as follows:

SHANGHAI GENERAL HOSPITAL.

X-Ray Department.

Statement for year ending December 31, 1927.

To materials used (3) Tls. 3,903.87 Electricity and Sundries Tls. 475.00; Salaries and wages (4) Tls. 2,782.16; Board and Lodging (X-ray Sister) Tls. 720.00 Charity patients (1) Tls. 95.00; Bad debts, allowance for (2) Tls. 650.00; Depreciation on plant Tls. 826,00; Total Tls. 9,452.03. By Total Fees. Tls. 26,537.01.

Balance, estimated nett profit for year. Tls. 17,084.98.

(1) During the year there were in addition 206 patients treated free: these at usual rates would represent a sum of Tls. 4,200. These figures are not included above.

(2) This appears excessive as last year (1926) bad debts were proportionately much less. J. E. Bowen.

(3) Comparing figures with Country Hospital X-Ray Dept. this may seem excessive. The difference is due to the fact that work in General Hospital is chiefly diagnostic and consequently proportionately more films are used. J. E. B.

(4) The Japanese technician who has worked in the General Hospital for over 25 years, died last year. I have had the Chinese boy trained to take his place, so this item will in the future be reduced. J. E. B.

THE COUNTRY HOSPITAL.

X-Ray Department.

Statement for year ending December 31, 1927.

INCOME. — Fees charged to patients	Tls.	Tls. 15,270.00
EXPENDITURE. — X-Ray Materials	1,708.21
Salaries and Wages (1)	1,414.80
Other expenses (2)	1,094.40	4,217.41
Nett Profit		Tls. 11,052.59

(1) This figure will be increased in future. The X-Ray Sister had her salary increased from Tls. 100. to Tls. 150, per mensem in October last. The Department has recently got a Chinese boy to do development, etc.

(2) This figure is made up from the monthly figures:

Board	Tls. 43.20
Light	18.00
Water	6.00
Electric Power	14.00
Laundry	10.00
Total	Tls. 91.20

THE COUNTRY HOSPITAL

Statement for year ending December 31, 1927.

INCOME. — Fees charged to patients	Tls. 7,719.45	Tls.
Less: Free patients	104.99	7,614.46
EXPENDITURE. — Salaries and wages	1,884.80
Other charges (x)	4,936.80	6,821.60
Nett Profit		Tls. 792.86

(x) This figure is made up from monthly figures:

Board (2) @ 43.20	Tls. 86.40
Light	25.00
Water	20.00
Electric Power	27.00
(1) Fuel	230.00
Pharmacy	5.00
Laundry	18.00

(1) This figure seems excessive. J. E. B.

The total nett profit derived by the Hospitals is, therefore, Tls. 28,-930.43.

The Chairman submitted to the Committee the fact that this sum approximates the outlay by the Council for Dr. Bowen's salary, transportation, etc., and the services of an assistant as recommended by Dr. Davis.

APPENDIX "C."

REPORT ON MUNICIPAL MARKETS OPERATED UNDER THE SUPERVISION OF PUBLIC HEALTH DEPARTMENT.

GENERAL.

In reference to this report on Municipal Public Markets, the studies of this Committee cover only the main aspects of Finance, i.e. Capital value as compared with Income Derived from Markets, and a general review of the probable course of supply and demand in the International Settlement in regard to marketing centres for food distribution.

It has not been possible for the members of the Committee to directly satisfy themselves that the organization and terms of employment of staff for market inspection are economical or efficient. This can only be passed upon after the daily routine of inspection work of the individual members are covered in detail by close and personal study of their varied duties. Such work this Committee feel themselves unable to undertake, as it can only be properly conducted by special auditing investigators, employed under the directions of the Economy Committee.

In a general sense, the Committee has gained the impression that the inspection work as now conducted by Health Department employees is apparently faithfully and conscientiously performed.

In the matter of fees charged for space in public markets, a very small increase in individual rates will make a large difference in increased income. This Committee cannot pass on the question as to whether the rates can be increased, or whether the charges are already sufficiently high. This also would be a matter to be dealt with after close study and scrutiny by paid auditing investigators.

Certain of the markets are not fully occupied, whilst others are overcrowded, and the Hongkew market is tremendously congested. Certain stalls are much more valuable than others, and it would seem that a fixed rate per stall is not the best plan to get fullest value for rentals that the traffic can bear. It is suggested that in the congested markets a system of auctions might be introduced. Each stall has a number, and a minimum rate being fixed, the stalls could be auctioned each month or at quarterly intervals, and the highest bidder would buy the stall he wants at such value as he might consider same to be worth, over and above the minimum Municipal rate fixed. Under such a system, Municipal income would be greatly increased, and there would be no difficulty with stall-keepers such as might arise if a general increase in rents were arbitrarily imposed.

As the report will show, the revenue derived by the Council from public markets is satisfactory, and the probability is that it can be further increased by detailed study of market fees etc. Therefore, the Committee recommends:—

That the Council make reasonable provision for improved market service to keep pace with the growing needs of the community, foreign and Chinese, thereby forestalling and discouraging the installation of private markets.

The difficulty of adequate supervision of food in private markets is an important consideration from the city health aspect.

The cost of such inspection in comparison to the income deriveable in taxes from private market licences would possibly involve the community in loss thereon. In contrast stand the profitable results of Municipal public markets shewn in this report, where-from it will be noted that after depreciation on buildings and inspection costs are allowed for, there is still left a satisfactory nett income from the Public Market Service in relation to the capital expenditure involved.

shows a gross return of 10.3 per cent on the investment value.

The allocation of any definite amount for overhead charges etc., covering market inspection service costs, is most difficult, due to the failure of accounts of the Health Department (as kept by the Finance Department) to show what proportion of expenses is chargeable to market division of Health Department operations.

A rough estimate of such expense indicates the sum of Tls. 26,000.00 to be about correctly applicable, deducting said sum from gross revenue, subject only to deduction for depreciation on buildings, which, on the other hand, may be regarded as ordinarily covered by appreciation of market value of land on which the markets are located. If it is to be assumed that land values may remain unaltered, the financial aspect would be:

(1) Depreciation at 5 per cent. p.a. on value of bldgs., Tls. 357,919.57	17,895.98 or 6.94 per cent.

There are 13 Municipal markets in the Settlement, of which 6 are situated in the Eastern District, 4 in the Northern, 1 in the Central, and 2 in the Western. The Hongkew market is the principal centre for food distribution, nearly as much business being done there as at all the others combined. Special attention should be given to the provision of a good market in the Western District, with a foreign supply section. It is greatly needed, and would tend to reduce costs of food in that area, providing easy facilities for the sale of country produce. It is a striking fact that food costs for foreign needs in Hongkew are very much lower than in the Western District private markets operated by Chinese storekeepers, thereby inflicting a hardship in living costs on the residents in that area.

TYPES OF MARKET BUILDINGS: The old one-storey market covered by wooden sheds has proved unsatisfactory. The P.W.D. have in recent years evolved a very cheap type of reinforced concrete market structure which is exceedingly durable and satisfactory for local needs. These structures are capable of being converted to two-storey buildings, and in crowded localities can be designed to eventually contain three-stories, as has already been done in connection with the Hongkew Market. In the following report, therefore, when reinforced concrete structures are referred to, as compared with existing wooden structures, the above notes should be kept in mind.

Box Shops owned and provided by occupiers take out 4 to 5 stall licences, according to the area occupied.

Hawkers Licence Fee. Outside hawkers pay a licence fee of $2. per month. The hawker type of food seller is always difficult to control, and co-operation of Police should be given in rounding up unlicensed hawkers. Hawkers should be encouraged to use the markets to sell their wares. It is reported by food inspectors that the Police are usually very reluctant to co-operate with the Health Department in dealing with the hawker problem.

LOCATION AND DESCRIPTION OF MUNICIPAL MARKETS

EASTERN DISTRICT: The 6 Municipal Markets in this district are given below: three more will in course of time be required: one in lower Yangtszepoo, one near Thorburn Road and Pingliang Road (for which sites have already been acquired) and one in Yuen Fong Road and Market Street, where there has existed for many years an open street market, which is difficult to control for food inspection, and can only be dealt with by installing a Municipal market.

Sungpan Road Market in Lower Yangtszepoo is a wooden structure with about two-thirds of the space occupied. An effort should be made by the Municipal Police to deal with hawkers who squat on vacant land and on the sides of the road.

Tsitsihar Road Market. A concrete structure of one floor, erected to carry another floor when necessary. This market has proved a difficult one to popularize, on account of the large number of hawkers in the neighbourhood, who naturally deprive market stall holders of a certain amount of business. A large amount of space is unused, but as the district expands, this will doubtless be taken up. Attention to outside hawkers is necessary, and a screen on the weather side of the market is needed.

Yangtszepoo Market is an old wooden structure, small and overcrowded. The congestion may be relieved when the proposed market on Pingliang Road is provided.

Wayside Market, at the corner of Wayside and Chusan Roads, is a wooden structure on a good site. It is fully occupied, and more space is required. This market should be reconstructed of cement concrete, with two floors.

East Hongkew Market, at the corner of East Yuhang and Tungchow Roads. A wooden structure on a good site. Very congested. All available space occupied, and more required. Should be rebuilt as soon as possible in concrete, with two floors.

Wuchow Road Market. A concrete structure of one floor, but so built as to carry another floor. Nearly all the space on the ground floor is in use. The first floor should be constructed when opportunity offers.

MARKET FEES: These fees are as follows:

All markets, with the exception of Hongkew:

Stall space, 6′ x 4′ = $3.—per month

Basket space, 4′ x 2′ = $1.—per month

Maloo Market shops are $15.—per month

Hongkew Market:

Ground Floor: Stall space, 6′ x 4′ = $5.—per month

Other Floors: Stall space, 6′ x 4′ = $3.—per month

1 Shop (old office) = $100.—per month

Roof Space (occupied by Japanese florist) $90.—per month.

NORTHERN DISTRICT: This district is well supplied with markets, having four, including Hongkew—the largest and most popular of all.

Hongkew Market: A concrete structure. A portion of this market is of one storey, and the other of three storeys. With the exception of a small portion at the extreme north end, all the space on the ground floor is occupied. The first floor is crowded with vegetable dealers, all space being used and more required. A portion of the roof of the old building is used by a Japanese florist. The second floor is only half occupied by cooked food dealers. Space on the ground floor of the market, near the sides, is eagerly sought after. The one storey portion of the market should be reconstructed, and built of three storeys, to harmonise with the newest portion. The completion of this work would give increased accommodation, and relieve the present congestion. A portion of the second storey (top floor) could be rented out as a restaurant or for other purposes, if not taken up by market people. This site is much too valuable for a one-storey building.

Purdon Road Market: A small building of two floors, erected in concrete. There is still a little space available on the ground floor, and only half the space on the first floor is occupied.

Elgin Road Market: A wooden structure in an unsatisfactory condition. A little space is still available at the rear, but this will doubtless be taken up in the near future.

North Fokien Road Market: This is a cement concrete structure of two floors. There is a good deal of space still not used. About one-quarter on the ground floor, and one-half on the upper floor. A greater effort should be made to get the hawkers in the neighbourhood, who squat alongside the roads and at the mouths of alleyways, into the market.

CENTRAL DISTRICT. — Maloo Market, situated at the rear of the Town Hall, is the only one in Central District. It is constructed differently to all other Municipal markets—there is an iron railing around it, with gates, that can be closed at night. The Chinese section, which is of two floors, is well used, and practically all of the space has been taken up. The foreign section, however, is very disappointing. There is much waste space, and in certain places the lighting is insufficient. Of the 32 shops, only 14 are occupied as food shops. Five are occupied by the Sanitation Division of the Public Health Department for Offices and stores, five by the Municipal Orchestra and Town Hall, one by the Revenue Office, and eight are unoccupied. More revenue could be obtained from this market by demolishing the row of shops adjoining the Chinese section, and throwing that portion into the Chinese section. The cost of this change would be practically nil. Each shop pays $15. per month rental. Seven stalls could be placed on one shop site. At $3. each, is $21. per month—an increase of $6. per month from each shop site.

There is no Municipal market between Nanking Road and the Soochow Creek, although there is a small street market in Woo Foo Loong. In the event of sale of the Town Hall and Maloo Market site, it would be advisable to consider provision of two fairly large markets in the Central District, one north and the other south of Nanking Road.

WESTERN DISTRICT: There are only two Municipal markets in this fast growing district. At least four more are required, and one of them should be situated at a site convenient to foreigners.

Sinza Market, in Avenue Road, is the third largest as far as revenue is concerned. It is an old, low, wooden structure and much too small. All available space occupied and more required—it is very congested. The present buildings should be demolished as early as possible, and a modern structure of two floors erected.

Mohawk Market, situated in Taku Road, has become more popular, following its re-construction in cement concrete, completed early in 1927. The additional accommodation provided resulted in an increase of over $2,000 during 1927. There is a little space unused on the ground floor, and about a third on the other floor.

PRIVATE MARKETS.

There are two licensed private markets in the Settlement, both situated in the Western District, and a third one is nearing completion.

Hardoon Market, in Annam Road, is a small dirty, wooden structure—most unsatisfactory.

Ezra Market, situated in Tatung Road, is also small and unsatisfactory.

Shing Ping Market, Seymour Road, is a concrete structure of three floors, not yet put into use.

The licence fee for a private market is $25. per quarter. The Council now propose to charge $0.01 per square foot floor area. On this scale the new market in Seymour Road would still only pay a fee of $350. per month. The time of inspectors to supervise the food sold in such a private market would probably cost more than $350. monthly, if the duty is adequately performed.

SLAUGHTER HOUSE AND CATTLE SHEDS—NEW

The following information is supplied by the Public Health Department concerning the original cost and maintenance, etc., of the present slaughter house and Cattle Sheds.

Slaughter House

Land (1891)	Tls. 7,500
Buildings (1892-1896)	14,100
Estimated annual cost of maintenance	800
Present value of land	130,676

Cattle Sheds

Land (1893)	Tls. 4,100
Buildings (1894-1896)	10,682
Estimated annual cost of maintenance	1,000
Present value of land	188,430

From these figures it would seem that the Slaughter House and Cattle Sheds have been a source of considerable revenue to the Council and this should be borne in mind when considering the proposal for new premises now urgently necessary in order to meet the growing needs of the Settlement.

Taking the total original cost of land and buildings at Tls. 36,382 (as shown above) and adding thereto annual maintenance charges of Tls. 1,800 from, say, 1895 to the present time Tls. 59,400) we have a grand total of Tls. 95,782.

Chinese staff wages for the year 1928 are estimated at Tls. 2,691 and this figure is, of course, higher than in the years following the construction of the present buildings. Taking Tls. 3,000 as an average, the total cost under this heading from 1895 to date is Tls. 99,000 which, added to capital cost, etc. gives the sum of Tls. 194,782.

Against this may be placed the revenue from Slaughter House Fees. The amounts collected between the date of opening and the end of 1910 are not available in full, but I would estimate this period at an average of $12,000 a year, or $96,000. To this must be added the receipts from 1911 to the present time, totalling in round figures $575,000 or, say, a grand total of $670,000 or Tls. 489,000.

Ignoring carrying charges on the original loan, which theoretically must have been redeemed within a very short time after construction, these figures shew that the Slaughter House and Cattle Sheds have made a profit to date for the Community of practically Tls. 300,000.

So far as can be seen at the present time there is no reason to anticipate a decrease in the kill at the Slaughter House. On the contrary, it increases year by year until now it is no longer possible to handle meat in a cleanly manner, more especially as the existing slaughter House is not suitably adapted for the present needs.

The revenue from Slaughter House Fees for the year 1927 will be the largest in the history of Shanghai. The demand for beef seems to increase steadily, including the demand by Chinese, and if adequate facilities for handling and storage are not provided by the Council the present unsatisfactory methods must be further aggravated as time goes on.

The cattle sheds are now quite often so congested as to make it impossible to keep the place in a clean condition. Animals have to be tethered in the open in all kinds of weather; they even break their lines at night and wander about loose. If additional accommodation is not provided and the number of cattle continues to increase the situation will soon become impossible as, indeed, it is already considered a matter for grave concern.

Taking Revenue for the year 1927 at $50,000 (Tls. 36,500), and assuming no further increases in the kill in future years (although an increase may reasonably be expected) it would seem that the present revenue would still cover maintenance charges, Chinese staff wages and carrying charges for a very considerable capital sum.

Should present revenue prove inadequate there are, however, other possible sources of revenue such as Lairage fees for animals kept in the Cattle Sheds over a certain period, Storage charges for carcases kept in Cold Storage at the Slaughter House, rent from individual cold storage chambers, and, finally, an increase in the present Slaughter House fees. The following is a provisional estimate of total revenue possibilities under all these various headings:

Lairage Charges:

50 oxen present in the Sheds per day in excess of the free lairage period, at $0.25 per head per day for 365 days $4,562.00

30 sheep under similar conditions at $0.10 1,095.00

20 calves under similar conditions at $0.15 1,095.00

Cold Storage charges:

100 oxen present in Cold Storage at $1.00 per carcase per day for 365 days 36,500.00

Rental for small individual chambers let to butchers, game and poultry dealers, fishmongers, etc. say 100 chambers at $30 per month. 36,500.00

Slaughter House Fees:

Oxen at $1.00 instead of $0.90—Calves at $0.40 instead of $0.30.

Sheep at $0.30 instead of $0.15—Pigs at $0.40 instead of $0.30.

Taking the kill for 1926 as an average the fees would be, per annum, $53,000.

Total estimated annual revenue from all sources $132,252.00, say Tls. 96,000.00.

Receipts for the month of November 1927 amounted to over $5,000 and with anything like the same figure for December, as is anticipated, will make the total revenue for 1927 well over $50,000.

Note.—Other appendices are attached to this Report, containing various details, but as these are very voluminous it is not considered necessary to publish them. Ratepayers desiring to peruse them will be afforded an opportunity to do so on application to the Secretary of Council.

ORCHESTRA AND BAND.

The Committee investigating the possibilities of economies being effected in the working of the Orchestra are convinced that no economy can be effected without seriously impairing the efficiency of the Orchestra.

The personnel of the Orchestra being already at its lowest point cannot be reduced, and salaries being already extremely small, smaller than those paid in Cinemas and Dance Halls, no reduction in this direction can be contemplated.

In their opinion there are only two courses open, either to carry on as at present and maintain an orchestra which is a credit to Shanghai, or else disband the Orchestra altogether.

The views expressed by the Chairman of the Orchestra Committee and Senor Paci coincide with the foregoing opinion.

It must be remembered in connection with the Orchestra, that at the present time practically all of the expenses in connection with the Military Band required for the Volunteers, and which should be charged to the Volunteers, are charged to the Orchestra.

SECRETARIAT, REVENUE OFFICE AND FINANCE DEPARTMENT.

SECRETARIAT.

According to the official record of the Council's organization, the Secretary is supposed to fill the function of the Chief Executive Officer of the Council. This position was, however, superseded officially by the establishment of the post of Commissioner General. The Committee finds that the Commissioner General, during his term of office, has not been, on account of conditions such as they existed, exercising any executive duties in connection with the Council's organization. His activities have been almost entirely confined to acting as political adviser to the Council, and acting for the Council in the various political issues which have arisen in the last few years.

The Commissioner General having resigned, it is the Committee's understanding that his particular political duties will be dealt with by the Chairman personally.

The Secretary, beyond having the authority to approve minor expenditures up to an amount of a maximum of Tls. 2,000, does not exercise any executive functions in the organization, but his time is completely occupied with secretarial duties, legal and political matters, staff, routine and current business besides a large amount of general routine matters.

It is the Committee's opinion that by following the various recommendations made in this report, these duties can be very largely reduced, and a consequent considerable reduction in the personnel of the foreign staff in the Secretariat effected.

The Committee is of the opinion that the organization of the Secretariat as now constituted is not practical from a business point of view, and by concentrating the work under different headings, a further saving of foreign employees now attached to the Secretariat, would be possible.

The Committee feels that sufficient care has not been exercised in selecting the staff in the Secretariat, and that by a more careful consideration of necessary qualifications for such service a higher degree of efficiency can be achieved.

The situation which has arisen in the Secretariat, due to the Secretary going on leave, and which has necessitated engaging from the outside a senior official in this department, appears to indicate that the organization of personnel in the department is not satisfactory.

REVENUE OFFICE

This department is officially a branch of the Secretariat, although for all practical purposes it works as a separate department. Its functions are about equally divided between matters which are definitely connected with the Secretariat and matters which are under the Finance Department.

It has been discussed over a period of years whether this Department should be made independent or whether it should be transferred to the control of the Finance Department.

While in principle the latter position would be the natural one, in view of the satisfactory functioning of the department as it is organized to-day, this Committee can see no reason to make any change in its standing.

Under the organization there are employed a large number of foreigners, under the heading of collectors. The Committee has come to the conclusion that this heading is to a great extent misleading, as the duties performed by the collectors is to a much larger extent a duty of inspection and control rather than actually collecting.

It is the Committee's opinion that so far as the Accounting Staff is concerned this can gradually to a large extent be replaced by competent Chinese.

With regard to the various functions, especially in connection with collection of taxes and licences, performed by this department, it is the Committee's opinion that these functions can be considerably simplified by adopting the following recommendations:

(1) Land Tax.—Efforts should be made to bring about an arrangement by which the big land owners pay their taxes to the department instead of their being collected. While it may not be possible to receive the total amount of land taxes in this manner, a very large proportion could undoubtedly be received by the department under an arrangement with land owners, and a saving in the staff employed on collection be made.

(2) Foreign Rates.—Similar efforts should be made to get foreign ratepayers to pay in their taxes to the department instead of as at present having them collected. A large proportion of the foreign taxes could undoubtedly be received by the department if a definite effort was made to this effect, with a consequent saving in staff.

(3) Chinese Taxes.—It is appreciated that for the time being at least most of these taxes must be collected, although also in this department an effort to get Chinese tax-payers to send in their taxes would probably be successful and relieve the department of a certain amount of work in connection with collection.

(4) Licences.—Besides the licence fees now being paid, it is this Committee's recommendation that amusement tax should be introduced, payable on the basis of 10 per cent. of the amount received by places of entertainment, such as theatres, cinematographs, general entertainments, Race courses, etc. There would be no difficulty in collecting this tax through the owners or lessees of places of entertainment. The Committee also recommend that a betting tax should be collected from places within the Settlement where public betting is being indulged in.

With regard to the issuing of licences generally, the amount paid for a number of licences is so small that they do not even pay the expense of the licence. While the Committee realize the difficulty of making changes in the present licence fees, it recommends that any licence fees collected by the Council should at least be sufficient to pay for the expense of issuing such licences.

Furthermore, it is the Committee's opinion that a number of licences which are now issued monthly and quarterly might equally well be issued for longer periods, thereby saving a great deal of work which is now being performed by the department.

The Committee specifically recommends that motor car licences be issued on a yearly basis under an arrangement by which a repayment can be made to motor car owners for any unexpired period of the year at such time as they may desire to cancel a licence. This change would not only save the department from the heavy work they have to do each quarter but obviate the necessity for the issue of different coloured plates each quarter, and therefore save the Police the trouble they have now in reporting each quarter the delinquents who have not taken out their quarterly licences. It would also be a great convenience to ratepayers.

It is the Committee's opinion that similar arrangements could be made for other licences, and it is recommended that this matter be given the full consideration of the Revenue Department.

FINANCE DEPARTMENT

In various parts of this report definite recommendations have been made with regard to a different procedure in making up accounts than is being followed at present.

While this Committee is satisfied that all the necessary figures in connection with the Council's activities are available in the Finance Department, they feel that in the present form in which the accounts are kept these figures are not available for the various parties interested, to make them useful to the departments or give them the necessary information to follow up and control that expenditure.

To follow the various recommendations made by this Committee in order to give each department head sufficient financial data properly to conduct his department, will not mean any increased work for the Finance Department—merely a rearrangement of the figures, and a system.

Besides being in charge of the Council's accounts, the Finance Department is supposed to fulfil the very important function of controlling the expenditure throughout the Council.

While the Committee are satisfied that the Finance Department is doing everything in its power to fulfil this function, they do not feel that they are sufficiently backed up by the Council in these efforts and are too often overruled by Committee decisions on the direct recommendations of heads of departments.

It is this Committee's recommendation that as far as general expenditure is concerned, outside of budget figures, the Finance Department's veto of any expenditure should be accepted to a greater extent than appears to be the case at present.

SUPERANNUATION AND PENSION FUND

These matters come under control of the Finance Department and have been made the subject of a special recommendation in the General Report.

GENERAL FINANCING OF THE REQUIREMENTS OF THE COUNCIL

While the Committee realizes that the present method of financing through long term debentures is the only method by which the Council can bond its indebtedness, the Committee feels that the frequent issue of debentures in relatively small amounts irrespective of the state of the financial market, and dependent entirely on the Council's requirements, is not an economical measure. The Committee believe that so far as practicable the issue of debentures should only take place at such times as the money market will allow these debentures to be issued at a reasonably low rate of interest.

In order that the Council may finance any requirements between issues of long term debentures on an economical basis, this Committee recommends that a system of Treasury Bills should be adopted by the Council, based on tenders being called for at such times as the Council needs money.

As conditions exist in Shanghai to-day, and as they are likely to develop in years to come, it is the Committee's opinion that there are large amounts available which would be placed at the Council's disposal at a low rate of interest, against the issue of short term Treasury Bills.

As and when conditions permit the outstanding amount of such Treasury Bills can be converted into long term debentures.

Personnel.—The Committee is of the opinion that the Finance Department is too expensive through being overstaffed in its present organization.

It is of the opinion that the foreign organization should consist of a Treasurer and Comptroller, one Assistant Treasurer and one Chief Accountant, these three members forming the executive part of the Treasurer's Department.

As far as the rest of the foreign personnel is concerned, while it is realised that a certain number of foreign accountants have to be maintained, it is the Committee's opinion that the larger part of the foreign staff can be gradually replaced by competent Chinese assistants and accountants. While the Committee fully realise that this change can only be made gradually it is the Committee's recommendation that this object be kept in view, and that as and when present contracts of foreign employees in this department terminate, efforts should be made to replace them by suitably trained and qualified Chinese personnel.

ELECTRICITY DEPARTMENT.

The Committee desire to emphasise at the outset that they have only been able to conduct a superficial investigation into the working of this Department, and that it was not possible to examine the details of the organisation as a whole, or of the Staff working in a manner or to an extent which would justify them in stating definitely that there are no real or substantial economies or improvements which can be effected.

They have had Mr. Taylor's views in extenso; and he gave his evidence in a lucid and comprehensive manner.

From the point of view of the interests of the general body of ratepayers one feature not entirely intelligible was the pronounced anxiety of Mr. Taylor that the Department should retain its identity intact and remain in a position of isolation as regards the rest of the Council Services.

In view of the financially satisfactory manner in which apparently the Department is being and has been conducted in the past, of the scrutiny of its administration by the Electricity Advisory Committee and the Council, and of the statement by Mr. Taylor that in his and the Electricity Committee's opinion the calling of subordinate members of the Staff, other than Mr. Woodford, independently as witnesses and without his presence would have a prejudicial effect upon the discipline and harmonious working of the Department, the Committee, although disturbed by the large number of recent resignations and by the inability of the Department to find among the existing staff any employees qualified for one or two of the higher posts, decided with reluctance to refrain for the present from calling such witnesses.

There was a consensus of opinion among all the independent witnesses and that opinion, subject as herein stated, is shared by this Committee that the Department is on an efficient and commercial basis: and no possibilities of effecting any substantial economies, or improvements in organization became apparent in the course of their investigations.

From the point of view, however, of consumers of electricity it is to be observed that on the actual loans from general funds the Department made a profit of 18 per cent in 1926 and 18½ per cent. in 1927 out of which profit interest charges were duly met.

With regard to the policy of the Council as to the future expansion generally of this Department and the scheme or schemes for further development in the immediate or near future, this Committee did not consider that, even if these questions came within the ambit of their terms of reference, they were sufficiently acquainted with all the material factors to justify them in expressing any views relative thereto, further than to record their opinion, that in view of existing political conditions and the uncertainty as to the future, they are matters which deserve and require the closest and most exhaustive consideration from every point of view before definite commitments on an extensive scale are made.

RECOMMENDATIONS Re PARTICULAR ITEMS.

1. Salaries.

   (a) The Committee consider that for positions of equal or similar responsibility demanding equal or similar qualifications there should be no differentiation in salaries between members of the Electricity Department and any other Department in the Municipal Service.

   (b) The Committee does not recommend any reduction in the salaries paid to the Technical Staff.

   (c) As regards the salaries of the non-technical staff of the Electricity Department, the Committee consider that these should be brought into conformity with those of other Departments of the Council as and when the present holders of these positions are replaced.

2. Staff, efficiency and numbers, etc. Hours of work:

   (a) The period for tiffin should be reduced to one hour except in the case of Seniors: and arrangements should be made, where possible, whereby tiffin can be obtained for a small or nominal charge.

Employment of Chinese and Japanese:

(b) A more serious and sustained attempt might be made to increase the number of Chinese and Japanese employees than has apparently been made in the past. The desirability from the point of view of economy of the engagement of suitable employees locally should also be constantly borne in mind.

Advertisements for Employees:

(c) Advertisements for employees should, as far as practicable, be uniform and should set out the full benefits in the shape of allowances, etc. receivable for the period of the contract.
Advertisements for employees should in all cases be inserted in the Municipal Gazette and in the local press.
All vacancies should be advertised.

3. Locomotion:
The Committee are opposed to placing this Department's cars under the control of a Central Garage.

4. Organization, etc.
Collection of Accounts:
(a) The present system of collecting accounts should be continued.
Purchases:
(b) The policy of purchasing as much as possible locally whenever this can be done without any sacrifice, should be followed in the interests of local ratepayers.
Purchases abroad, etc:
(c) The question of purchasing abroad, the employment of Inspection Engineers, and the commission paid, etc. require further careful investigation.

5. Insurance:
The Committee approve of the present system.

OBSERVATIONS ON RECOMMENDATIONS Re PARTICULAR ITEMS.

1. Salaries:
(a) In this recommendation the Committee agree with the views of the Salaries Commission of 1921.
(b) The Committee consider that the salaries paid in this Department on the technical side are on the whole reasonable, and, that if any attempt were made to obtain employees at salaries lower than those now prevailing, it might impair the efficiency of the Department. There is undoubtedly at the present time a serious demand in many parts of the world for electricity experts, and if employees were dissatisfied with the conditions in Shanghai, they would have little difficulty in obtaining employment elsewhere.
The Committee understand that, as regards requests for increases in salary which have been made in the past, one of the reasons put forward has been the profits earned by this Department. In this connection it must be remembered that practically all electricity undertakings are profitable concerns and particularly in expanding communities where they hold a monopoly. The Committee are of the opinion that this consideration should not influence the decision of the Council in the future, where increases of salary are being requested.
There have been some 20 resignations from the Department during the last year, which, as Mr. Taylor says, is an extraordinary number; but whether these were due to dissatisfaction with their remuneration, uncertainty as to the future or other reasons, the Committee are not in a position to state.
With regard to the increase of technical salaries in 1926, the Committee are not satisfied that these were necessary, at any rate to the extent to which they were made; and as regards the increase in clerical salaries in 1927, they consider that these were in direct conflict with the policy enunciated by the Salaries Commission in 1921 and approved of by the Council in the same year.
The grading system which was put into operation in 1926 has apparently proved satisfactory in practice, and has undoubtedly simplified the work of the administration; and this Committee suggest that the adoption of a similar system throughout the Council Service, wherever it is feasible, is worthy of serious and immediate consideration. In this connection the system in force in the Electricity Department for handling its staff whereby an Executive Committee, which meets frequently and regularly and considers (inter alia) recommendations as regards increase of pay before they are placed before the Electricity Advisory Committee, might also be adopted in other branches of the Council's Service.

(c) This recommendation is designed to carry into effect the policy of the Salaries Commission in 1921. There is no doubt whatever, in the opinion of the Committee, that if this policy is not strictly adhered to, dissatisfaction among other branches of the Municipal Service will arise and requests for corresponding increases of salary will be made by them.

2. Staff Numbers and Efficiency, etc:
Generally:
Without a much more thorough and detailed investigation than the Committee were able to give to the question, they are unable to express an opinion of any value as to whether the Department is overstaffed or not. In this and other connections they consider that it would be desirable if the Municipal Economy Committee were empowered to employ paid investigators to conduct a protracted and exhaustive examination of the organization of the Department as a whole.
(a) Hours of Work:
By providing messing arrangements so far as the Riverside staff is concerned an additional half hour's work is obtained from these employees. How far it is practicable to extend this system to other branches of the Council Services, the Committee are not in a position to say, but it seems to be worth consideration.
Employment of Chinese and Japanese:
(b) Mr. Taylor stated that the Department had steadily increased, in certain directions, the number of Chinese employed, and that it had more highly paid Chinese today than it had ever had before. There was, in his opinion, every reason to suppose that the increase would be progressive, but the quality of the material available necessitated slow progress in this direction. The employment of more Japanese, though apparently never suggested before, is now engaging the attention of this Department and there will be an immediate increase as an experiment.
(c) Advertisements for Employees:
Unless the full benefits in the shape of allowances, etc. are set out in advertisements it must obviously be difficult, if not impossible, for potential candidates to estimate accurately the actual remuneration offered.
All advertisements for employees should be inserted in the Municipal Gazette and in the local press so that no opportunity may be missed of obtaining suitable employees in China.
If all vacancies are not advertised, a not unnatural apprehension may be aroused in the minds of a considerable section of the community that equal opportunities are not afforded to all, and that unnecessarily attractive terms are offered to a favoured few.

(d) Promotions:

The Committee are unable to appreciate fully the causes which have recently rendered it necessary in the opinion of the Department to seek for employees for certain of the higher positions outside.

It is obviously not only in the interests of economy, but of the general welfare of the Service, that a course such as this, which must inevitably create dissatisfaction and disappointment, and incidentally also act as a possible deterrent to future potential employees, should be avoided, wherever this can be done without impairing the efficiency of the Department.

3. Locomotion:

The Committee are opposed to placing this Department's cars under control of a Central Garage, because they consider that this Department has an efficiently conducted and self-contained unit in this respect, and that such a course might weaken the personal touch and supervision which at present prevails.

4. Organization:

(a) Collection of Accounts:

The system adopted by the Electricity Department of having their bills paid by remittance has effected a considerable economy, and the Committee suggest that it is worth consideration by other Departments of the Council.

(b) Purchases:

The policy of purchasing as much as possible locally, wherever this can be done without any sacrifice, deserves serious consideration. The Committee have reason to believe that this policy has recently been carried into effect.

(c) Purchases Abroad, etc.

The question of the method of purchasing abroad, the employment of Inspection Engineers, and the commission paid etc. deserve much more careful and exhaustive consideration than this Committee were able to devote to it.

(d) Stock:

The amount of stock held appears to be very large: but without much more detailed examination than the Committee were able to give to the question, they do not feel justified in stating that it is excessive. This matter, however, is one which demands constant and close supervision. By decreasing stock not only interest, but the cost of staff and Godown space would be saved.

5. Insurance.

It is difficult to understand why the Fire Insurance on Riverside was not stopped until 3 years ago, because its discontinuance had been suggested by the Department over 10 years ago, and the amount involved by way of premium was over Tls. 60,000 a year.

FIRE BRIGADE

1. Inspection Work.—The Committee recommend that all inspections of buildings, hydrants, etc. shall be carried out by the Public Works Department, and that such of the personnel be transferred to that Department as they may require to do this work efficiently.

In making this recommendation the Committee feel that such inspection work can be efficiently done by the Public Works Department and that the following employees, unless required by the Public Works Department, can be dispensed with:—

1—Inspection Officer
1—Assistant Inspection Officer
1—Engineer's Assistant
2—Chinese Clerks (in Inspection Office)
1—Chinese coolie
1—Chinese draughtsman
2—Chinese tracers

The Committee further assume that 10 per cent. of the Chinese Firemen are employed on Inspection Work, and based on the following figures this would mean a reduction of 32 Firemen.

Chinese Firemen at Central Station	80
Hongkew Station	70
Sinza Station	54
Yangtszepoo Station	65
Bubbling Well Station	49
	319

This excludes firemen at Sub-Stations who are not employed on Inspection Work.

2. Department Cars.—It is recommended that Departmental Cars be reduced to one per Station (excluding Sub-Stations), making a total of five; this to exclude the cars of the Chief, 2nd, 3rd and 4th Officers.

This recommendation involves the reduction of one car at Sinza Station, one used by the Engineering Assistant, and one used by the Workshop, making a total saving of three cars.

The Committee feel that without the Inspection work one car at each station is ample to maintain efficiency.

3. Fire Floats.—It is recommended that the Council approach the French Municipal Council, the Chinese Maritime Customs and the Chinese Authorities (Nantao and Pootung) with a view to pooling the capital and working expenses of the floats, each party to bear a proportionate share, and receive a proportionate share of the receipts, charges as heretofore.

In the event of failure to reach an agreement on this point, it is recommended that the charge for the services of the floats be increased so as to cover the estimated capital and annual expenditure, interest, depreciation, etc. and further that only two floats be maintained, one to be stationed at Lay Road Jetty and the other at the P. & O. Jetty.

At present the only contributions the Council receive towards the upkeep of the floats are from the Chinese Maritime Customs, who pay for the services of one officer and twelve men for attendance at fires, and from Shipowners on the Pootung side, and ships in the river who pay a fee in cases of fire.

The Committee consider it is decidedly not an obligation on the part of this Settlement to provide fire fighting facilities beyond its own waterfront, unless the interested authorities are prepared to contribute, as recommended above.

4. Watchtower Men.—The Committee recommend that Chinese be employed as Watchtower Men, the number to be reduced to three men to each tower.

At present no Chinese are employed in the Watchtower, on the grounds of unreliability. The Committee feel, however, in view of the very close supervision kept on such men, that the question of unreliability is not sufficiently strong, and that if their recommendation is carried out, it will mean not only a considerable saving in the salaries of such men, but also a saving on passages and long leave which is granted to present employees.

5. Fire Alarms.—It is recommended that estimates and particulars of Fire Alarms be immediately obtained by the Council, with a view to their eventual introduction and abolition of watchtowers.

While no definite figures are available as to the cost of installing automatic alarms, the capital cost has been estimated at from Tls. 300,000 to Tls. 360,000, and the Committee feel that this question should be closely enquired into by the Council, and that by ultimately abolishing watchtower men, efficiency will be increased and economy effected.

6. Workshops.—It is recommended that in the event of a central garage being established, all repair work to the fire machines, lorries and motor cars, etc. shall be done there, and that a special section of such a garage shall be devoted exclusively to the Fire Brigade.

It is further recommended that a Special Emergency Squad be employed in such a Garage, to do urgent repairs.

The Committee consider it unnecessary for the Fire Brigade to have their own separate Workshop, providing that proper facilities are provided under a Central Garage Scheme; they do, however, recognise that occasions may arise when it is essential that certain repairs be done immediately and as expeditiously as possible and they have, therefore, recommended the maintenance of an emergency squad in a Central Garage.

The Committee consider that in the event of the Workshop being transferred, the Foochow Road Sub-Station could be transferred to Hongkew Station, and that this would result in economy in staff, besides making the site available for other Council purposes.

7. Personnel.—The Committee recommend that the personnel be recruited to a greater extent from qualified Chinese, who are capable of acquiring a knowledge of fire fighting, and to have such Chinese for more responsible positions in the Brigade.

At present all responsible positions in the Fire Brigade are held by foreigners, and in making their recommendations the Committee refer to the appointment of Chinese as Inspectors in the Police Force, and give it as their considered opinion that the same course should be followed in the Fire Brigade, with the ultimate idea that there should be Chinese Assistant Station Officers.

If this is carried out, not only will these positions be filled at a saving in wages, passages etc. but it is also felt that the efficiency of the Brigade will also benefit, as orders given in English by foreign officers will be understood and translated into Chinese by responsible parties.

8. Paint.—It is recommended that all Fire Brigade gear be painted red—including Departmental and Station cars.

At present some cars belonging to the Brigade are painted either white or white and black, and it is considered that all Fire Cars should be a standard colour, viz. red, and, further, that this will result in economy, as red paint is cheaper and lasts longer than white.

Estimated Cost of operating Brigade at present strength, with Foreign Administration Officers, and remainder of Brigade Chinese.

1. Inspection Work:

Saving in Foreign Staff, 1 Inspection Officer 2,880.00; 1 Assistant Officer 2,400.00; 1 Engineering Assistant 3,600.00; Estimated allowance at 23½ per cent. on Tls. 8,880, 2,087.00; Assessed Value of Quarters, Fuel Light; 2 at Tls. 55. per month and 1 at Tls. 35. per month 1,740.00. (a) Saving in salary of Workshop Officer at Tls. 230. 2,760.00. Allowance = 23½ per cent. 648.00 =3,408.00. No estimate is made of any possible saving on Chinese Workshop Staff.

(b) Saving in maintenance of Foochow Road Substation, if transferred to present workshops. Approximately Tls. 400.00. No estimate is made for any possible saving in Chinese Staff of Foochow Road Sub-Station.

7. Personnel: No estimate.

8. Paint: No estimate.

Nett estimated saving = Tls. 40,517.00.

POLICE FORCE AND VOLUNTEER CORPS.

In presenting this Report, it is desired to point out that the position with regard to the Police Force and the Volunteers has been regarded by the Committee as differing from that of other departments of the Council, insomuch as the respective Services have been working during recent years under circumstances of exceptional difficulty, and also because their organization is necessarily of a highly technical nature.

Originally it was not intended that the work of the Economy Committee, as a whole, should include the Police and Volunteer Forces, but subsequently this was considered to be impracticable, as the scope of the work which the Committee had undertaken covered questions which affected all branches of the Municipal Council Services, and, therefore, certain branches could not be omitted. As the terms of reference were to be considered in the widest possible sense, it naturally followed that an investigation into the organization of a disciplined force would become largely technical. It is extremely satisfactory that the recommendations the Committee have been able to make, which are incorporated in the memoranda contained in the appendices of this Report, have already been adopted, in all material particulars, by the Commissioner of Police, who has closely cooperated with the Committee at all stages throughout their investigation. While in some instances the suggestions and recommendations which have been adopted may mean an increase of expenditure, it is considered that these changes are necessary in the interests of efficiency, and in the end will lead to economy.

SALARIES:

No actual reduction in individual salaries is recommended, but ultimately saving may be effected by:—

(a) Reduction in staff.

(b) Substitution of higher-paid members of the Force by lower-salaried ones of different nationality.

As regards (a) it is not considered that the present strength of the Force is excessive, but it is anticipated that the changes in internal reorganization referred to in the appendices (which have been already adopted) will lead to increasing efficiency, and in Police administration efficiency spells economy in the long run. In this connection attention is invited to the remarks in Appendix 1.

Reorganization of the Criminal Investigation Department is recommended, and recommendations contained in Appendix 2 dealing with the Department have already been adopted by the Police Commissioner.

Reorganization of Police Headquarters has also been recommended (Appendix 3) and the recommendations contained therein, after discussions with the Commissioner and Deputy Commissioners, have been concurred in by the Committee.

Summarized, the recommendations, so far as the personnel is concerned, mean a reduction of one Assistant Commissioner of Police and three Superintendents, and the substitution of two foreign Assistant Commissioners by one Chinese and one Japanese.

INCREASE IN THE JAPANESE BRANCH OF THE FORCE:

In view of the Council's decision to increase the Japanese branch of the Force by 77 men, the Committee recommend that some reduction in the Sikh Branch should be made to counter-balance this increase in Japanese personnel. This matter was discussed with the Commissioner at one of the meetings of the Committee and as a result of these deliberations it is now recommended that a gradual reduction in the Sikh Branch should be made, until the establishment of this Branch stands at a total of 609 instead of 704, which is the present sanctioned strength.

The Committee recommend that the Council should have constantly in view the desirability of making still further reductions in the Sikh Branch, as circumstances permit, this Branch being very expensive, both to recruit and maintain. In this connection attention is invited to the remarks in the attached memorandum (Appendix 4) on the establishment of the Foreign, Japanese and Sikh Branches and the strength and composition of the Force as a whole.

LANGUAGE BONUS:

The Committee recommend that the present bonuses of Tls. 5 and Tls. 12 per month for passing the Preliminary Examinations be discontinued. It is recommended that free tuition in the Chinese Language be allowed for three years, this to form part of the normal training of members. It is considered that no Constable should be qualified for promotion to the rank of Sergeant until he has passed the Preliminary Examination, that for promotion above the rank of Sergeant there should be a higher standard of examination, and that to compensate candidates for preparing for this examination, they should receive a fixed bonus on passing. A further bonus of half the amount of the original one should be granted on candidates passing the examination the second time after a fixed period.

Three memoranda are submitted (Appendices 5, 6 and 7) upon this subject.

A substantial economy can eventually be effected by doing away with the bonuses, which cost the Council about Tls. 26,000 per annum. It is not suggested that the recommendations should become operative in the case of those now benefitting by the bonuses.

QUARTERS:

At present a considerable number of officers and men are accommodated in leased premises. The Committee recommend that ranks below Assistant Commissioner should be accommodated, when it is possible to make arrangements, in suitable quarters belonging to the Council. This would lead to eventual economy, better discipline and greater facilities for concentration. The Committee note in this connection that only a small proportion of Chinese ranks are housed at the expense of the Council.

In the case of the Commissioner, Deputy Commissioner and Assistant Commissioners, the Committee are of the opinion that houses should be built or acquired in suitable locations by the Council, and that rent should be charged on a basis of not more than 10 per cent. of the salaries of the occupants. In this connection the Committee are of the opinion that some relief is desirable, especially in the case of Assistant Commissioners who experience considerable difficulty under present conditions in obtaining suitable houses at reasonable rates.

LOCOMOTION:

The expenditure under this heading of the Police Force is, roughly, Tls. 60,000.

In the Council's general terms of reference under "Use of Departmental Cars" Regulation 7 reads:

"Except as provided for under Reg. 2, officers in receipt of locomotion allowances are expected to use their own cars in the Municipal Services and not departmental cars."

In the case of the Police Service this regulation is not strictly adhered to. The total allowance to Officers does not amount to a very large sum, but the Committee is of opinion that the Regulation should be more strictly observed, in which case it may be possible to reduce the number of general departmental cars. It is realized by the Committee that Tls. 50 per month does not cover the cost of running a car and if the regulation referred to above is to be strictly enforced and the number of departmental cars is consequently reduced, some revision of the rate of locomotion allowances granted to police officers would appear to be necessary. In view of the desirability of Police Officers having their own cars ready at hand for use in times of emergency, the Committee does not recommend doing away with the Locomotion allowance, this system being of special value in the case of the Police Department. The Committee recommend that all repairs and overhauls of departmental cars should be carried out at one and the same place.

SHORT AND LONG LEAVE AND PASSAGES:

The Committee recommend in connection with Long Leave, that all members of the Force below the rank of Superintendent, together with their families, should travel Second Class. At present Chief Inspectors and Inspectors are entitled to First Class mail passages. The Committee consider that "deferred leave pay" should be abolished, and that though in the interests of the health and efficiency of Police employees, long leave should normally be granted without delay, as it falls due—the grant of such leave on a particular date should be regarded more in the nature of a privilege than as an absolute right; any temporary postponement of leave earned —owing to the exigencies of the service—not entitling the employee concerned to any pecuniary compensation.

MEDICAL ATTENDANCE AND CHILDREN'S BONUS:

The 1926 figures relating to Medical Attendance are as follows:—

	Tls.	Tls.
Employees	45,000
Families	9,500
		54,500

Divided as follows:—

Employees Hospital Fees	36,000
Doctors' Fees	9,000
		45,000
Families' Hospital Fees	4,000
Doctors' Fees	5,500
		Tls. 54,500

The proportion expended over families is not large, and as it has been the usual custom in Shanghai to meet such medical expenses, the Committee does not recommend that this privilege be discontinued. The abolition of this privilege would indeed appear to be in the nature of a retrograde measure. In this connection consideration must be given to the special climatic and living conditions prevailing in Shanghai and to the fact that in Hongkong and the Straits Settlements the families of Government employees would presumably be admitted to Government Hospitals for a nominal fee.

With regard to the Children's bonus of Tls. 15 per month per child, with limitations of the number to two, and in age Boys 16 and Girls 17, it is considered that this privilege should not apply to members of the Force receiving salaries of Tls. 600 per month or over. In order to simplify the maintenance of accounts, it is recommended that these allowances should be abolished, also in the case of members of the Force in receipt of salaries of less than Tls. 600 per month, such employees should be compensated for the loss of these bonuses by some slight readjustment of their rates of pay.

GAOL:

The Committee do not consider the staff of the Gaol to be excessive. The increase in expense which has taken place in recent years has been due chiefly to the large increase in the number of prisoners and the better food which has been supplied. The Committee recommend the complete separation of the personnel of the Gaol force from that of the Police, but that an Assistant Commissioner should be seconded from the Police Force to be in charge of the Gaol personnel—this officer remaining individually under the Commissioner of Police, who will continue to be responsible to the Council for the efficient administration of the gaol department.

It is recommended that the present system of budgeting for the two Services as a whole should be discontinued and that they should be in future budgeted for separately. In this connection attention is invited to the remarks in Paragraph 4-b of Appendix 3.

STOCKS AND STORES:

This subject is referred to briefly in Para. 4A of the Memorandum published as Appendix 3, in which it is recommended that an experienced Assistant Commissioner should be placed in charge of a special administrative branch under which the Quartermaster's Department should be placed. Having regard to the special nature of the organization of the Police Service, the Committee have purposely avoided any detail in this Report other than is contained in the Memoranda referred to in the Appendices, as it is considered that employment in such a service differs from ordinary civil employment, and is therefore only partially within the scope of the Economy Committee's enquiries.

THE MOUNTED BRANCH:

The strength of the mounted branch is 1—Foreign Inspector, 3 Foreign Sergeants, 4 Sikh Daffadars (mounted sergeants), 1 Naik, 24 Sikh mounted constables and 24 mafoos. The number of ponies maintained for the work of this section is 43. The cost of maintenance according to the 1927 budget figures was as follows:—

Pay of Mafoos	Tls. 3,840
Fodder, shoeing, clipping, etc.	6,100
Repairs to saddling	400
	Tls. 10,340

The question of whether this branch might not be safely abolished without causing any serious loss of efficiency in police-working, was carefully considered by the Committee in consultation with the Commissioner of Police, but in view of Capt. Barrett's representations that the mounted force was not only a very popular institution, especially with the Chinese community, but also provides a cheap and efficient means of patrolling the outside roads and environments of the Settlement and of controlling processions and assemblies, it was decided to recommend the retention of the mounted force as at present organized.

GENERAL:

The Committee desire to record their appreciation of the cooperation of the Commissioner, Capt. E.L.M. Barrett, and the Deputy Commissioner, Capt. R.M.J. Martin. The prompt consideration these officers have given to the various recommendations has been especially noteworthy, and should lead to a progressive increase in the already high degree of efficiency of this Service. In this connection it should be pointed out that such recommendations as have been accepted by the Commissioner are such as do not involve any change of policy or commitments which come within the ordinary scope of the Commissioner's powers and duties. Other recommendations outside such scope have been concurred in in all material respects by the Commissioner but remain for consideration by the Municipal Council.

VOLUNTEER FORCE.

The Committee have not conducted any exhaustive enquiries into the organization or administration of this Force, beyond devoting one meeting to a discussion with Colonel Gordon, the former Commandant.

Though the Committee feel that in the S.V.C. the Council have a most efficient and economical military unit, they would recommend that the new Commandant should be asked to submit any proposals which he may have to make for still further increasing the military efficiency of the Corps, whether by way of reorganization, mechanisation, or the provision of better armament, especially in view of the role which the S.V.C. may be called upon to play in the future defence of Shanghai, when the armed military forces of the Foreign Powers are further reduced—a contingency which must inevitably be faced. As an exhaustive inspection of the S.V.C. has recently been made by the G.O.C. North China Command, the Council will doubtless consider the advisability of seeking his expert advice, as he may have valuable suggestions to offer regarding the future of the Volunteer Corps.

MEMORANDUM ON THE STRENGTH OF PERSONNEL OF SHANGHAI MUNICIPAL POLICE

(1). The total cost of the London Metropolitan Police is approximately seven and a half millions per annum paid for by a population of seven and a half millions, which means that the Force costs the London ratepayers £1. per head per annum. In Shanghai, according to the 1925 census, the total number of foreigners is approximately 30,000. Assuming for the purposes of a rough calculation that the foreign element in Shanghai pays approximately half the cost of the Shanghai Municipal Police (₹2,862,390 in 1927), the burden borne by the foreign Shanghai ratepayer would work out at £6. per head, that is the Shanghai foreign citizen pays six times as much as the Londoner for a much cheaper force, i.e a force the cost of which per capita of personnel is 87 in Shanghai compared with 375 in London.

(2). It will now be interesting to examine figures relating to the strength of the Police Forces maintained in London, India and Shanghai, as compared with the number of inhabitants which they are required to protect in these different places. The Committee realise, of course, that the strength of a police force required for the protection of a particular town or area cannot be based entirely on figures of population as many other considerations have to be taken into account.

It is obvious, for example, that the peculiar situation of the International Settlement of Shanghai, surrounded as it is by the densely populated environs of Greater Shanghai (the inhabitants of which include a high proportion of active and potential criminals) over which the Settlement authorities have no control, the disturbed military and political situation in the country, and the fact that the Settlement authorities have no judicial authority over Chinese and foreign offenders, are factors which necessitate a stronger police force in ratio to the population than is required in a law-abiding country, with a stable and effective government.

(3). In spite, however, of these considerations, an examination of these figures is not without some value in giving a rough basis on which to work. In the Metropolitan area of London, with a population of seven and a half millions and a police force of 20,000, it will be seen that there is approximately one policeman to 375 citizens. In India, it is laid down in Police regulations that in forming a police establishment for large towns and cities, it may be taken as a rough guide that there should be one constable for every 300 to 500 inhabitants, local political criminal and other considerations being of course taken into account.

In Shanghai there is at present a force of approximately 4,000 for a mixed population, the total of which it is difficult to assess, but which may be taken as at least a million for the purposes of these rough calculations.

On this basis, there is in Shanghai one policeman to 250 inhabitants, but here again it must be remembered that the police personnel employed on gaol duties are included in these figures.

(4). It will be seen therefore, that owing to abnormal political conditions the Shanghai ratepayer is called upon to pay for a somewhat larger force in proportion to population than is required in London or towns in India. Moreover, it must also be remembered that the Shanghai Police are dealing with a large floating population in excess of the actual number of residents of the Settlement, that the Police in England and India have the forces of the Crown at their back, and that the executive authority in England and in British and most foreign possessions is supported by a strong judiciary armed with special powers in times of emergency: conditions which do not obtain in the International Settlement, although the Chinese themselves have found it necessary to introduce martial law from time to time in the neighbouring areas under their own administration. Were stable conditions of this nature in existence in this country, the strength of the Shanghai Police Force would normally work out at about one policeman to 400 head of population, or a total force of 2,500, as compared with the present strength of 4,113. It will therefore be seen that but for the abnormal conditions referred to above, the strength of the force required would approximate to the force actually maintained in 1922 (2,831).

(5). It is further desirable to comment on the fact that political and criminal organizations working in the environs of the International Settlement can seriously endanger and undermine the whole security of the Settlement, in spite of the increasing expenditure on defence borne by the ratepayers and the maintenance of armed forces by the Foreign Powers. Until a satisfactory solution is found to the problems and difficulties referred to above, no real reduction in the present strength of the Police Force can, in the Committee's opinion, be contemplated, though it may be possible by internal reorganization to effect certain economies. This aspect of the question is being examined and will be dealt with in a subsequent note. The Committee, however, consider that a serious effort should now be made, in the light of the experience gained during the disturbed conditions of the past few years, to fix the establishment of the Police Force on a sound and permanent basis. They also consider that, future conditions render any further increase in personnel essential over and above this fixed establishment, the demand for such an increase should be referred to the Shanghai Municipal Council as a special case for consideration and sanction before it is included in the Annual Police Budget. In other words, no future increase in establishment should be obtained through the medium of the Budget.

MEMORANDUM ON THE REORGANIZATION OF THE CRIMINAL INVESTIGATION DEPARTMENT.

(1). This department should be divided into two branches—the Crime Branch and the Political or Special Branch, both branches working in close cooperation under the supervision of the D.C.I. Each branch should have at its head an experienced officer of the rank of Assistant Commissioner (or Deputy Assistant Commissioner, if this rank is introduced into the S. M. Police).

(2). The Special or Political Branch with its own staff of political detectives and agents of various nationalities should be concerned with the collection of political intelligence, that is, intelligence regarding political movements and the activities of individuals and associations of a subversive nature which are likely to lead to unrest, disorder and crime of a revolutionary character unless controlled and checked. This naturally includes the collection of all information required to ensure the internal security of the Settlement.

(3). The Crime Branch with its own special staff, should be responsible for the detection and investigation of crime. It is essential that the head of this branch should be a practical police officer of proved experience. This officer should be assisted by a sufficient and expert staff of detective superintendents, detective chief inspectors, detective inspectors, detective sub-inspectors, detective sergeants and detective constables of the necessary nationalities.

(4). The lower ranks of the detective staff should be distributed between the various police stations according to requirements—the staff attached to each station being under the control of a detective officer not below the rank of sub-inspector, and, where possible, of the rank of inspector or chief inspector. This officer should be responsible for the prompt and efficient investigation of all crime committed within his police station jurisdiction.

(5). For the purposes of co-ordination and supervision of the work of the station detective staffs (matters of the greatest importance), stations should be grouped together in divisions, each division being under the control of a detective superintendent. These divisional detective superintendents should work direct under the control and supervision of the Assistant or Deputy Assistant Commissioner in charge of the Crime Branch mentioned above. It is impossible for the Committee to say at this stage how many divisions are required. This and other points arising out of these notes require detailed examination in consultation with the Commissioner of Police and his D.C.I.

(6). Each divisional detective superintendent will require a small staff of assistants to assist him in controlling and supervising the work of the detective staffs of the police stations within his divisional area. His chief assistant should be of the rank of Chief Detective Inspector or Inspector.

(7). Similarly the Assistant or Deputy Assistant Commissioner in charge of the Crime Branch will require an adequate staff of assistants, at least one of whom should be of the rank of detective superintendent.

(8). It is not clear from the information before the Committee that the Criminal Investigation Department has yet been organised on the above lines, although four detective superintendents and a number of detective officers of various ranks and nationalities are shewn in the tables supplied. It may be noted here that the system outlined above is that in force in the Metropolitan Police, where it has proved both efficient and economical.

(9). A special point for consideration is whether the detective superintendents in charge of divisions should be at Criminal Investigation Department headquarters or at separate divisional detective headquarters within their areas. In London, the five divisional detective superintendents have been located centrally at New Scotland Yard. It is found that this system brings them into closer touch, not only with each other but also with the Deputy Assistant Commissioner in charge of the Crime Branch and accordingly leads to more effective co-ordination,—a matter of great importance in the work of criminal investigation.

(10). Another point on which the Committee require definite information is whether the detective staff attached to each police station is solely responsible under the supervision of the higher officers of the C.I.D. for the investigation of all crime committed within their station jurisdiction, or whether this responsibility is shared by the uniform police. Nor is it clear to the Committee whether the station detective staffs are under the control of the uniform officer in charge of the police station, and, if so, to what extent. The relations between the officer in charge of the police station and the senior detective officer in charge of the station detective staff require to be clearly defined, otherwise friction between the uniform and detective branches is inevitable, with a consequent loss of efficiency.

In this connection it may be mentioned in passing that the role of the uniform police is the protection of life and property, the prevention of crime and the maintenance of law and order. But when crime has once been committed its investigation should be entrusted to the specially trained and expert staff of the C.I.D.

(11). The important principle is that the investigation of crime should only be entrusted to those who have been specially selected and trained for this class of work, which requires a special flair and aptitude. This is such an important question that the Committee would like to have detailed information as to the system in force in the S. M. Police for recruiting and training the various ranks of the C.I.D.

The only sound system is one under which the lower ranks of the C.I.D. are recruited by the selection of men from the uniform branch who, in the course of the performance of their beat and point duties, have utilised to the full the many opportunities which occur to them of shewing special intelligence, zeal and powers of observation. Selection on these lines having been made from the uniform ranks, the probationary C.I.D. constable should receive special training and be thoroughly tested before he is confirmed in the department.

It is also essential that the lower ranks of the C.I.D. should have good prospects of promotion to the higher ranks in the department and that the supervision of their work should not be entrusted to men who have not proved themselves to be successful investigating officers by service in the lower grades. In this connection the Committee would be glad to know whether the present detective superintendents, detective inspectors, sub-inspectors, etc. of the C.I.D. are tried and experienced officers, or whether any of them have been transferred from the uniform branch without the necessary experience and training in the lower ranks of the C.I.D. It is obvious, for example, that the transfer to the C.I.D. of a police officer who has spent most of his service on traffic and street duties is not likely to result in the efficient supervision of the special work of criminal investigation, apart from the fact that such transfers have a discouraging effect on the subordinate detective personnel.

In this connection the Committee are interested to note that though there are 17 foreign detective sergeants, there are no foreign detective constables, and the source from which these sergeants were recruited and promoted is not therefore clear. On the other hand, the Chinese section of the C.I.D. appears to have a strength of 122 detective constables, which is sufficient to allow for promotion to the higher ranks of detective sergeant, etc. by a process of selection.

(12). The Committee would also be glad to know what reports are submitted by the detective officer in charge of a particular investigation, to whom these reports are sent for purposes of scrutiny, and by whom the regulation diaries of detective officers are checked.

(13). In view of the political conditions which have prevailed during the last years and which have been specially disturbed during the current year, it is obvious that the work of the C.I.D. has been performed under the stress and strain of increasing difficulties and the Committee have nothing but admiration for the courageous and efficient manner in which these difficulties have been met. The fact remains, however, that the figures supplied shew an almost alarming increase in serious crime within the Settlement and the Committee feel that this striking rise in crime calls for an immediate and prompt investigation into the organization of the C.I.D. on the lines indicated above. If a reduction in crime can be effected by a more efficient organization of the C.I.D. it may be possible to effect some reduction in the strength and the cost of the uniform police.

MEMORANDUM ON THE SUGGESTED RE-ORGANIZATION OF THE HEADQUARTERS, SHANGHAI MUNICIPAL POLICE.

(1). The Criminal Investigation Department requires thorough reorganization on the lines laid down in the separate memorandum already submitted. This is now being done by D.C.I. who will shortly submit his proposals. This may lead to an increase in expenditure, both in regard of additional personnel and the institution of special training classes for C.I.D. subordinates. Reorganization is, however, essential in the interests of efficiency and it must be remembered that the efficiency of a police force depends largely on the successful working of the C.I.D. and in the long run is highly efficient police force is the most economical. There is at present no system of giving special training in C.I.D. work to constables selected for this department from the uniform ranks.

(2). The only Department with a chief at present is the C.I.D. The remainder of the A. C. Ps., fifteen in number, are mainly concerned with administrative duties until some of them go to their mobilization stations in times of emergency when they are detailed to take charge of specific areas.

There is no continuous and systematic control of Police working in the Police Station districts by A.C.P.s. In other words, the work of the Chief Inspectors and Inspectors in charge of stations is not subject to the constant supervision and coordination by superior officers, which is essential in the interests of efficiency. The absence of control may be partly due to the lack of Police experience on the part of some of the A.C.P.s who know less of actual Police working than the Inspectors whom they would be called upon to supervise under the normal system of organization obtaining in other police forces.

There are only two classes of officers who can effectively supervise the work of an experienced Chief Inspector or Inspector, viz., (a) selected inspectors, specially promoted to the rank of superintendent on account of their superior qualifications and experience, (b) directly appointed officers of superior education and status who have been specially trained in all the details of practical police work and who have accumulated experience in the early years of their service, by being brought into close contact with the actual working of the Police Station which is the unit of police administration. In Shanghai the few men who have risen to the rank of superintendent do not appear to have been given any special responsibility or control over groups of police stations, and the promotion to this rank seems to be chiefly a matter of long service, and not of special selection for higher responsibility. As stated above, the A.C.P.s are mainly concerned with administrative duties and are not brought sufficiently into practical contact with police work in the station districts by being placed in charge of areas for which they should be definitely responsible to the Commissioner—all details of Police working in these areas being subject to their constant supervision and control.

The A.C.P.s appear to receive no systematic training on appointment nor do there appear to be any efficiency tests during their period of probation on the passing of which the confirmation of their appointment should depend. Also being continuously employed at Headquarters on administrative duties they get insufficient experience of the details of practical Police work in the districts and little opportunity of developing their powers of command. The Committee would like to see at least two A.C.P.s placed in control of definite areas of the Settlement, in which capacity they would be directly responsible to the Commissioner for the efficiency of Police working in their commands. The Committee have provided for this in the reorganization scheme by the sub-division of the Settlement into Northern and Southern districts, each under the control of an A.C.P. (or Deputy A.C.P., if this rank is introduced). There should be given to each of these officers a Superintendent as his Assistant and this has been provided for in the reorganization scheme, vide Chart A (attached).

3: Traffic: The safety of the public in a large town like Shanghai depends to a large extent on the efficient regulation of traffic in the public thoroughfares and the control of traffic is, therefore, an important police responsibility. In Shanghai this problem is obviously one of increasing difficulty and importance and should, therefore, be in the hands of a specially qualified A.C.P. with an adequate staff of expert assistants. The A.C.P. in charge of this important department should remain directly responsible to the Commissioner of Police.

Important as this problem is, it is not in the Committee's opinion necessary to have three A.C.P.s working in this department, as at present. The Committee have suggested one A.C.P. as head of this department with two Superintendents to assist him. It may be mentioned here that there is only one Assistant Commissioner in charge of Traffic in the London Metropolitan Police. If this suggestion is accepted two A.C.P.s are at once provided for the control of the Northern and Southern districts referred to in para. 2 above.

According to the present organization the Traffic Staff is also in charge of the suppression of gambling and opium traffic. In the Committee's view District Assistant Commissioners should be responsible for the former and the C.I.D. for the latter.

4. Administration: (a) For the efficient handling of police problems an administrative branch is in the Committee's opinion necessary, and they would place this under the control of an experienced A.C.P. directly responsible to the Commissioner, as shewn in Chart "A" (attached). They would bring the present Quartermaster's department under this officer and also the branches of administration detailed under this head. (Shewn on Chart "B" attached).

OUTLINE OF DUTIES OF PROPOSED POLICE ORGANIZATION

C. I. D.	TRAFFIC	ADMINISTRATION	UNIFORM BRANCH
Duties as laid down in Print, 1927. In addition Licensing and suppression of traffic in opium should be transferred to this Branch. C.I.D. School of Instruction.	As laid down less Blue opium traffic, transferred to C.I.D. August, and gambling suppression which should be dealt by District Deputy Assistant to Commissioners.	Police Stores. Uniform, arms and equipment. Central Registry. Medical. Transport. Provisional Court. Certain administrative duties and records will be kept at the Training Depot and dealt with by the Depot Staff. Gaol. Coroner's Court.	Recruiting. Training. Musketry. Education. Discipline. (See Note "a") Individual records. H. Q. Reserve Unit.

NOTE "A".—It is suggested that the Deputy Assistant Commissioners should be given certain limited disciplinary powers, but that discipline as a whole and all cases not coming within the powers of the Deputy Assistant Commissioner of Districts should be dealt with by a Disciplinary Board constituted at the Training Depot, consisting of officers i/c of the Foreign, Sikh, Chinese, or Japanese branch as the case may be and the Assistant Commissioner i/c of the Training Depot, by whom serious cases will be referred to the Commissioner of Police for decision and final order.

These branches include the central registry and the provisional court, both of which are at present under A.C.P.s It seems unnecessary and undesirable to have an officer of the standing of A.C.P. in charge of the central registry and this appointment has possibly been created merely to reward an individual who may have performed valuable and meritorious service. It is this system of rewarding individuals by promotion to higher ranks and appointments in excess of the establishment actually required in the interests of efficiency which appears to have resulted in the creation of certain unnecessary senior appointments.

This tendency would be avoided by the introduction of a fixed establishment of ranks and grades of the force—the number of officers and men in each rank and grade being determined by actual requirements. The Committee have already recommended in a separate memorandum that the time has now come definitely to fix the establishment and composition of the force and they would here again emphasize the necessity of this, both in the interests of efficiency and economy.

The Committee know of no other organized force which has not a fixed establishment and in which the practice is observed of presenting demands for annual increases in establishment through the medium of the Budget. It is realized that the rapid growth of Shanghai has led to a continuous increase in the work and the responsibility of the Police of the International Settlement and that this has resulted in continuous additions to the police establishment. Although these annual increases may have been necessary in the past in order to keep pace with rapidly changing conditions, the time would now seem to have come to review the situation carefully in the light of past experience and the possible requirements of the future. In a separate memorandum on the "Strength of Personnel" (Appendix 1) the Committee recommends that a serious effort should now be made to fix the establishment and composition of the force.

The introduction of such an establishment does not of course mean that future conditions may not necessitate further increases. Having decided, however, on the actual strength and composition of the force required to meet the conditions prevalent during the last few years, every effort should be made to carry on with this establishment for some years to come, the force being made as efficient as possible in every branch of its working by a high standard of organization and training. The annual grafting on to the force of additional personnel of different classes and ranks has a tendency to produce an unbalanced and unsymmetrical body and in view of this practice is opposed to the interests of both efficiency and economy. Should future conditions render an increase of personnel in any direction absolutely necessary, the demand for such an increase, however small, should be presented as a special case and carefully scrutinised by the Council, and should not be included in the Budget until it has been sanctioned.

(b) Gaol: The increase in Police expenditure as shewn in the Budget for 1927 is largely due to the increase in gaol expenses and is, therefore, misleading.

A large proportion of Chinese offenders arrested in the Settlement are residents of outlying areas, but on conviction are held in custody in the Ward Road Gaol at the expense of the International Settlement ratepayer. The more efficiently the Settlement Police work in apprehending these outside criminals the more the cost of the Police rises under present Budget arrangements.

Owing to disturbed conditions in outlying areas and territories and the lack of effective control by the Chinese authorities, crime in the Settlement has been increasing rapidly, with a consequent increase in the inmates of the gaol. The Committee have inspected the Ward Road Gaol and have gone into this question with the Superintendent. As a result they find that the chief items of additional expenditure are due to the following:—

(1) General increase in the number of prisoners.

(2) Increase in the number of life and long sentence convicts, owing to delay in executions and the grant of life sentence where formerly the extreme penalty would have been awarded.

(3) Increase in the number of prisoners held on remand pending trial, owing to judicial delays, some prisoners having been in gaol on remand as long as eleven months. The Committee would like to draw special attention to the increase in the number of prisoners awarded a life sentence who in November total 35 as against 2 in January 1927.

The increase in life and long sentence convicts is a serious matter to the Council from the point of view of expense.

(4) The increases referred to above naturally result in an increase in feeding, clothing, accommodation and gaol personnel expenses. The gaol is already overcrowded and the Committee understand that plans for increased accommodation are already under consideration. As regards the present strength of the Gaol staff, this question was examined in some detail and the Committee are of the opinion that the present staff and the additions asked for in 1928 are not excessive.

(5) It has already been recommended on grounds of policy that the control of this Gaol should be separated from the Police. If local conditions make this inconvenient or impracticable the Committee would at least suggest that all gaol personnel and expenses should be shewn separately, especially as the Gaol is not only a spending department but also a source of income.

The Committee can, therefore, make no recommendations as regards a reduction of personnel, but are of opinion that the Indian staff should be removed from the control of the A.C.P. in charge of the Sikh Branch and brought under the control of the Superintendent of the Gaol by the appointment from India of a foreign assistant gaoler experienced in handling Indian personnel, both Muhammadan and Sikh. With the assistance of such an official (who should be of the type employed as an Inspector in the Indian Police Service and on the staff of the Penal Settlement of the Andamans) the Superintendent would be in a position to recruit, train and discipline his Indian staff without constant reference to the Police Department—these references making for increased correspondence and clerical work generally. In concluding these remarks on the administration of the Gaol it appears to the Committee that at Ward Road the Council have a most efficient institution run at a very moderate cost, especially in the nature of staff.

(c) Provisional Court:

As regards the Provisional Court, certain Police personnel including an A.C.P. are employed on Court duties but are included in the Police estimates and Budget. The Committee understand that the pay of this personnel is provided monthly by the Chinese authorities, but that the Council have certain responsibilities as regards superannuation charges etc. As this staff is not performing Police duties, it is recommended that both the staff and the Court expenses should be eliminated from the Police Budget, the personnel employed on these duties being shewn as seconded.

Any cost to the Council in connection with this Court should be shewn under a separate head.

To sum up the above remarks, it seems that the cost of the Gaol is bound to be unduly high until such time as the Chinese authorities establish effective control over the criminal classes in their jurisdiction, institute an efficient judicial system for the trial of Chinese offenders, work in close and amicable co-operation in these matters with the Settlement authorities and themselves accept the responsibility for the safe custody of Chinese offenders resident outside the Settlement who have been apprehended for the commission of offences within its borders. The Committee's recommendations under Administration allow for the reduction of the A.C.P. at present in charge of the Central Registry and also the A.C.P. at present employed as Assistant to the Deputy Commissioner. As the proposed reorganization will lead to some decentralization of work and responsibility, the burden of routine work now borne by the Commissioner and his Deputy should be lightened and the employment of an A.C.P. as Assistant to the Deputy Commissioner should be unnecessary. One of these two A.C.P.s will, however, be required in the C.I.D. in charge of the Crime Branch.

5. Uniform Branch.

The personnel of the Police Force are at present divided into three branches—Foreign (including Russian and Japanese) Sikh and Chinese, each under an A.C.P. with a second A.C.P. to assist him, making a total of six A.C.P.s. At present they are responsible for the training and discipline of their own branches and are directly responsible to the Commissioner. It has been pointed out that this system was introduced to get over the difficulty of dealing with the different nationalities who, in the case of Sikhs and Chinese, can only be controlled satisfactorily by the officers who know them and can speak their language. Whilst appreciating these difficulties the Committee have come to the conclusion that better results could be obtained if a branch as shewn in Chart A (attached) was introduced under one A.C.P. who alone would be responsible to the Commissioner for this Department. It is proposed that this Branch should be responsible for the man from the time he is recruited until he completes his service, and should deal with recruiting, training, education, individual records, promotions, transfers between branches and discipline, other than minor cases—which should be dealt with by the D.A.C.P.s in charge of districts. In suggesting this reorganization the Committee have adhered to the existing arrangements as far as possible and it is hoped that the language difficulty can be overcome.

(a) Recruiting: The Committee suggest that recruiting should be brought under the A.C.P. Uniform Branch, who will submit his requirements in time to fill vacancies of time expired men or to meet approved increases in establishment.

There appears to be no difficulty in recruiting Chinese, nor would there appear to be any difficulty in obtaining recruits for the Japanese branch if it is increased. The Sikh branch is apparently short of recruits, who are sometimes not of sufficiently good physical standard: the Committee refer especially to the gaol personnel and they are informed that difficulty is experienced in obtaining the right sort of European constable with a sufficient standard of education. With good pay and prospects of rising to the rank of A.C.P. the Committee consider that it should be possible to obtain the right stamp of men.

(b) Training: As mentioned above, the training of the Force is in the hands of the A.C.Ps in charge of each branch. In the Committee's view it is essential that the training of the various nationalities in the Force should be closely co-ordinated and supervised under the direction of an experienced officer who would be directly responsible to the Commissioner for the training of the whole Force, but who would have as his assistants, Assistant Commissioners (N.D.A.-C.s) with special knowledge of the various nationalities under their control. The efficiency of a Police Force largely depends on the standard of training imparted to its recruits, and men selected for promotion to non-commissioned rank: periodical refresher courses are also essential.

It appears to the Committee that the present training is inadequate, recruits' courses being too short and insufficient attention being given to a thorough grounding in Police working before the recruits are posted to Police Station districts for the performance of responsible duties which bring them into continuous contact with the public.

The Committee would like to see recruits in all branches given at least six months' continuous training at the Depot before being posted to Districts.

There should also be periodical refresher classes, especially for backward men and a special course of training for constables selected for promotion to Sergeant. In addition to actual Police working in which instruction appears to the Committee to be too superficial and rudimentary, they also consider that more attention should be paid to Physical Training, the modern system as introduced into the army since the War being followed. This system is designed not only to improve the physical standard of the recruit and trained man, but also to improve his intelligence and powers of observation. This system should only be taught by trained and certificated instructors and should not be dropped when the recruit has completed his course, but should also form an integral part of the training of all constables who are not incapable by reason of age of undergoing the prescribed course.

Physical training on these lines is of as much importance as periodical drills, especially for the policeman. The present apparatus in the Gymnasium at Gordon Road is out of date according to modern requirements.

If the Committee's recommendations are accepted, the A.C.P. in charge of the Uniform Branch will be in a position to give special attention to these matters in consultation with the D.A.C.P.s in charge of the different branches, who will be responsible under his general supervision and direction for the training of their own men. The Committee feel that this organization will result in improved supervision and co-ordination of this work which is not at present controlled and supervised under one head.

The Committee realize that these proposals may lead to increased expenditure in the matter of accommodation, but consider the question of training is of such importance that it would be false economy to apply the axe to this branch of the tree.

(c) Discipline: According to the Committee's reorganization scheme the A.C.P. in charge of the Uniform Branch will also be responsible to the Commissioner for the discipline of the Force, the more serious cases which do not come within the powers (to be defined) of District D.A.C.P.s will be referred by the District to the D.A.C.P. in charge of the nationality concerned, who will himself either dispose of the case or refer it to the A.C.P. in charge of the Uniform Branch for disposal in consultation with him. In other words, the D.A.C.P. will be more or less in the position of the Commander of a "class" company in the Indian Army. Really serious cases, the Committee suggest, might be dealt with by a board of not less than three officers of whom at least one should be the D.A.C.P. of the "class" concerned.

(d) Education: It appears that the standard of Education of the European recruited constable varies considerably. It is suggested that a standard be laid down and adhered to, as it is impossible to give time to education in subjects other than Police work and the Chinese language whilst the man is at the Depot. The same principle, as far as possible, should apply to all other branches.

(e) Individual records — Promotion and Transfers.

Individual records are at present kept by the branches concerned, and reorganization will not interfere with this system, which is obviously a sound one. From these records the A.C.P. in charge of the Uniform Branch will be in a position to deal effectively with the whole question of promotions and transfers throughout the Force and to make considered recommendations to the Commissioner in cases requiring the latter's final decision.

It will be seen that the Committee have given the Uniform Branch a superior staff of one A.C.P. and five D.A.C.P.s, one of whom is a Chinese and one a Japanese: in other words, this branch has a staff of six officers in place of the six Assistant Commissioners at present employed in charge of the existing foreign, Sikh and Chinese branches. The Chief Inspector of Training is not an additional appointment, as there is already an officer of this rank at the Depot. In view of the number of Chinese employed in the Force, the time has come, in the Committee's opinion, to open the rank of D.A.C.P. to the Chinese — similarly they propose to suggest an increase in the Japanese branch and consider that a Japanese D.A.C.P. should be appointed. By placing these officers in the Uniform Branch where they will work under the control of an experienced foreign A.C.P. they will gain valuable experience before the time comes to place officers of these nationalities in executive control of police working, which would bring them into contact with the public. From the point of view of economy the result of the reorganization scheme will be to effect a reduction of one A.C.P. and three Superintendents, and to substitute for two Foreign A.C.P.s one Chinese and one Japanese D.A.C.P. In addition, therefore, to reorganizing the superior staff of the headquarters of the Force on what appears to the Committee to be a sound basis (capable of future expansion if necessary) their proposals allow for an actual reduction of four superior appointments.

Further proposals regarding the strength and composition of the Force in personnel below the rank of Superintendent are being submitted separately.

(f) Headquarters Reserve Unit: The Headquarters Reserve Unit is at present located at the Gordon Road Depot. This reserve appears to be a most efficient, valuable and economical unit and it should remain at the Depot under the command of the A.C.P. in charge of the Uniform Branch, the headquarters of which will be at the Depot. Indeed, one of the main advantages of the proposed reorganization is that at the Depot there will be an experienced Assistant Commissioner and five D.A.C.P.s (with staff) available in times of emergency to turn out and support the District Police in any area without in any way disturbing the work of the C. I. D., Traffic, Administration, and Executive Branches. These officers will have not only the men of the Reserve unit, but also all men undergoing training at the Depot at their disposal. Reserves of men at the Police Stations will of course be under the command and at the disposal of D.A.C.P.s in charge of districts. The "Specials" would form an additional reserve.

FINAL MEMORANDUM ON THE ORGANIZATION AND WORKING OF THE SHANGHAI MUNICIPAL POLICE AND VOLUNTEER CORPS.

A. The recruitment of officers for the S. M. Police and the provision of suitable quarters for "Commissioned ranks."

1. As regards the future recruitment of officers for the Force, there appear to be the following three sources:—

(a) The promotion of specially selected Inspectors, Chief Inspectors or Superintendents.

(b) The appointment of suitable officers of experience from the army or other police forces.

(c) The selection of suitable candidates as probationary officers or cadets (presumably between the ages of 19 and 21) who would be specially trained during the first few years of their service for the duties and responsibilities of an Assistant Commissioner in the Shanghai Municipal Police Service.

2. With a view to encouraging the lower ranks and utilising the experience gained by subordinate employees in the details of police working, vacancies in the rank of Assistant Commissioner will doubtless continue to be filled by the promotion of selected "Upper Subordinates" where thoroughly suitable candidates are available.

The Committee agree, however, with the views of the Commissioner as expressed in the enclosure to his letter No. 7791, dated 10th of February 1928 that it will hardly be possible in future to fill all vacancies from the ranks and the Committee, therefore, concur in his proposal to recruit two cadets during the present year who would be sent to India in the Autumn for a year's training in the Indian Police, Punjab. The Committee believe that this method of recruiting and training officers is likely to prove the most satisfactory and to be particularly suitable for the special needs of the Shanghai Municipal Police Service.

3. At the Committee meeting on the 30th of November 1927, Captain Martin stated that:—

"For commissioned officers here quarters are not available and the pay is inadequate for junior officers."

In the Committee's view suitable quarters should be built or acquired by the Council for all Commissioned Police Officers, the occupants being charged a maximum of ten per cent of their salaries as rent.

4. The initial pay of Tls. 450 for an Assistant Commissioner on first appointment appears to be sufficient in the case of officers appointed under the cadet system; and in the case of officers selected from the lower ranks or appointed from the army or other police forces special arrangements will doubtless continue to be made to give such officers a higher rate of pay on appointment commensurate in each case with their previous position, age, experience and special qualifications — the guiding rule being as at present that an officer should not lose by promotion or by transfer to the Shanghai Police Force from another Police service.

B. The strength and composition of the S. M. Police in its various branches.

5. Owing to the conditions of peculiar difficulty under which the Shanghai Municipal Police have been working for some years — conditions which are outlined in Appendix No. 1 on the present strength of the Force — the committee came to the conclusion at an early stage in its investigations that no reduction in the total strength of the Force was possible without endangering the internal security of the Settlement. In this memorandum the Committee have also attempted to shew how the increase in the strength of the Force during the last six years was largely due to the abnormal conditions which have prevailed during this period and that but for these disturbed conditions the strength of the Force now required would approximate to that actually maintained in 1922 (2,831 as against the 1927 strength of 4,113).

6. Having decided that no real reduction could safely be effected in the total strength of the Force, the Committee were faced with the question of whether any economies could be found by internal reorganization or by the increase of the Chinese branch at the expense of the more highly paid personnel in the foreign, Japanese and Sikh branches.

7. As regards the reorganization of the Criminal Investigation Department and Police Headquarters, the Committee have submitted separate memoranda (vide Appendices Nos. 2 and 3), the recommendations contained in which have been accepted and carried into effect in all important details by the Commissioner of Police. The Committee do not pretend that these changes will result in immediate economies, but feel that they will lead to greater efficiency and security and in such matters efficiency spells economy in the long run.

8. As regards the possibility of replacing a proportion of the more highly paid and expensive personnel by Chinese ranks, the Committee have given careful consideration to every aspect of this question and are definitely of opinion that it would be unwise to attempt much in this direction until there is a substantial improvement in the general political situation in China, though the Council will doubtlessly keep constantly in view this very obvious road to substantial economies in Police expenditure. With a view to the future expansion and development of the Chinese Branch as circumstances may permit, the Committee would suggest that special attention should now be paid to the selection and training of Chinese personnel for positions of greater responsibility and it is for this reason that it is recommended that a beginning should be made in this direction by the appointment of a Chinese Assistant Commissioner, (vide Paragraph 5 (e) of Appendix No. 3). The training and development of Chinese personnel in the Criminal Investigation Department is obviously a matter of particular importance from the point of view of both efficiency and economy, as the successful working of this special Branch of the Force must chiefly depend on the employment of a loyal and competent staff of Chinese detective officers.

9. Though the Committee do not consider that it would be wise under present conditions to make any great reductions in the present strength of the foreign and Sikh branches, they feel that a real effort should now be made to fix the establishment of these sections (if only for the next few years), any necessary increase in the total strength of the Force being effected in future as far as possible by additions to the Chinese branch. In this connection attention is invited to the remarks on this subject made in Paragraph 4 of the Committee's memorandum (Appendix 3) on the suggested reorganization of Police headquarters. After some discussion the Commissioner of Police has agreed that a fixed establishment for all ranks and grades is possible in the foreign, Sikh and Japanese branches but that the Chinese branch must remain more elastic. With his letter No. A 7791, dated the 10th of February, 1928, the Commissioner of Police submitted a memorandum in which details of the fixed establishment proposed for the foreign, Japanese, Sikh and C.I.D. branches were given. The totals suggested by the Commissioner for these establishments are as follows:—

(a) Foreign Branch (including C.I.D., Gaol, Provisional Court and Clerical	500
(b) Japanese Branch (including C.I.D.)	163
(c) Sikh Branch	609
(d) C.I.D. Foreign	113
Japanese	17 130

10. It will be seen that these figures show an increase of 65 in the Foreign Branch, (500 as against 435), 77 in the Japanese Branch (163 as against 86), and a reduction of 95 in the Sikh Branch (609 as against 704) over and above the figures shewn in the 1927 Budget. It may be noted here that the 1927 figures shewed an increase of 82% in the case of the Foreign Branch, 100% in the case of the Japanese Branch and 27% in the case of the Sikh Branch over the figures for 1921.

11.—The increase of 77 in the Japanese Branch is the result of the deliberate decision of the Council to give a greater measure of employment in the force to Japanese. This is not, of course, an economy measure, as Japanese personnel are more expensive than either Chinese or Sikh.

12.—As a set off against this increase in the Japanese Branch it was decided to recommend a reduction of 95 in the Sikh Branch. The further reduction of the Sikh Branch or its complete abolition was carefully considered as this branch is expensive both to recruit and to maintain. After lengthy discussion in Committee a memorandum on this subject was submitted by Captain Barrett in which the pros and cons of this question were set forth; and the Committee agree with his recommendations that the reduction of this branch should not exceed for the present the figures given above. It is therefore proposed to fix the establishment of this branch at 500 constables for the present plus 109 higher ranks. The proportion of N.C.O.s (1/7) is high, but as pointed out by the Commissioner, Sikh police sergeants are also called upon to control the working of Sikh watchmen under police supervision which is an important consideration.

13.—The increase of 65 in the Foreign branch is accounted for by an increase of Foreign constables, 49 of whom are shewn as for employment in the C.I.D.—the total number of foreign constables suggested by the Commissioner being 158 as compared with 85 in 1927. This is a serious increase and will lead to considerable expenditure. In submitting these figures no reasons have been advanced for nearly doubling the number of foreign constables, the initial pay of which grade is Tls. 150 per mensem. This sudden increase can in no way be attributed to the Committee's reorganization proposals and in addition to the heavy expenditure involved it raises the whole question of what the future basic rank of the Foreign branch is to be. At present the basic rank of this branch is that of sergeant, which means strictly that constables should only be recruited in sufficient numbers to fill probable vacancies in the rank of sergeant after about three years' training and experience. If, however, foreign constables are actually recruited in any numbers to perform the duties of constables (in addition to a large number of Chinese and Sikh personnel of this rank) and not merely as foreign N.C.O.s for the supervision of Chinese and Sikh subordinates and the performance of special duties, it follows that the basic rank of the Foreign branch should be brought down to that of Constable and that there should be a fixed establishment of both constables and sergeants. In this case promotion from the rank of constable to that of sergeant would depend on there being a vacancy in the higher rank and could not be guaranteed after a fixed number of years as at present. It is also clear, however, that if the basic rank of the foreign branch is to remain that of sergeant and a large number of constables are to be employed in excess of the number required to fill likely vacancies in the higher rank after three years' service, the number of foreign sergeants will be automatically increased in a few years to come in excess of actual requirements—a prospect which can hardly be regarded as satisfactory from the point of view of economy. On the other hand, if the basic rank of the foreign branch is to be lowered to that of constable, some alteration may be required in the future terms of employment of the lower rank, as it will be impossible to ensure promotion to sergeant after three years, even in the case of qualified men. The question is a complicated one and requires careful consideration, the first point for decision being whether foreign constables are really required, and if so in what numbers. If they are only required as probationary N.C.O.s it is suggested that they should definitely be recruited as probationary sergeants as is done in India and Hongkong. After about three years' training they would then be confirmed as sergeants (provided of course that they qualified in the various tests and proved themselves satisfactory in every way), the number recruited not being in excess of probable vacancies in the higher rank. If, on the other hand, an establishment of foreign constables is really necessary in the interests of efficiency, the terms of service may require some alteration as suggested above and the relative strengths of the cadres of constables and sergeants will need careful working out in order to avoid a block in promotion, the basic rank being that of constable. It is not possible for the Committee to make definite recommendations on these points with the data in their possession and the result of enquiries has convinced them that the whole question of the strength of the Force and the composition and grading of its various branches should form the subject of a separate and thorough investigation by officers versed in the framing and grading of police establishments.

This is a very technical matter and the Committee regret that they have not the time to give it the necessary attention. The object of such an enquiry would be to determine the actual strength and composition of the force required for the maintenance of law and order under the peculiar conditions prevailing in Shanghai and to decide on the numbers and nationalities of the personnel to be employed in the various branches and grades. As already stated in the Committee's previous memoranda, the rapid growth of Shanghai and the abnormal conditions prevailing during recent years have led to a continuous increase in the work and responsibility of the Police of the International Settlement and this has resulted in regular annual additions to the police establishment. What seems to be required now is a detailed examination of the force as a whole with a view to fixing as far as possible the strength and composition of the various branches and grades—the requirements of each station and section being overhauled on the spot by a small committee of experienced officers who can devote some time to this work. In this connection the following table which shews the increase in police establishment and pay for 1928 over the figures for 1927 (on which the Committee have been working) is illuminating:—

POLICE ESTABLISHMENT.

C.—THE FUTURE DEFENCE OF THE SETTLEMENT.

14.—It is also clear that it is impossible to advise on the strength and composition of the Police Force required to meet all likely contingencies without a knowledge of the role which the Force will be required to fill in the event of the further reduction or complete withdrawal of the armed military forces of the Foreign Powers. This seems to be a contingency that must be faced and the whole question of the strength and composition of the Police Force is therefore closely connected with the important problem of the future defence of the Settlement. If this is again to devolve on the Volunteer Corps and the Police Force backed up by such Naval and Military units as can be landed in an emergency, it is obviously necessary to consider how far these two organizations should be augmented and improved in the light of the experience of the past few years. Both these organizations have proved their efficiency in the past and any defence schemes for the future will therefore presumably lie in the direction of strengthening and improving these forces rather than in the direction of raising a third force of a different character.

15.—To submit detailed proposals on this subject would be entirely outside the Committee's terms of reference but it is hoped that the following remarks will not be out of place in view of the close relation between possible economy in police expenditure and the future security of the Settlement.

16.—If regular military support is withdrawn or seriously reduced it may be necessary to strengthen the hands of the police in dealing with armed gangs, violent crime and internal disorder by raising an armed police force of a definite strength and composition for semi-military duties. The present reserve units could possibly form the nucleus of such an armed reserve the role of which would be something analogous to that of the Military Police of the Burma Government, the Frontier Constabulary of the N.W. Frontier Province of India and the armed police units of the Punjab and United Provinces. Such a force would of course be under the orders and command of the Commissioner of Police and would be in the nature of a formidable armed reserve to his regular police force. The men would be enlisted as police and trained as such, the military side of their training being somewhat intensified. The raising of such an armed police reserve to support the regular police would obviate the necessity of the Commissioner of Police calling for the aid of the Volunteer Corps except in very grave emergencies, as he would have his own armed force for this purpose under his own command. Frequent calls on the Commandant of the Volunteer Corps for military aid at short notice are obviously to be specially avoided if possible in the case of a voluntary military force composed of busy men.

17.—The above scheme would leave the Volunteer Corps to train as the military force of the Council and it would be relieved of what are nothing more than armed police duties. The role of the Volunteer Corps would then be (a) to hold the Settlement against external aggression until such time as regular Naval and Military forces could be landed for its assistance and (b) to assist in the prevention or suppression of very serious internal disorder which it was beyond the power of the Police Force to control without some military aid. In other words the Volunteer Corps would be relieved of ordinary armed police duties and would be set free to train for the performance of its true function as a military force. It is also believed that the relations between the Volunteer Corps and the Police Force would be simplified by this system as it would only be necessary to mobilise the Volunteer Corps or any section of it in time of real emergency.

18.—It is not proposed to discuss here the strength and composition of the armed police units likely to be required if the above scheme is approved. This is a matter of detail which it will not be difficult for the Commissioner and his staff to work out in consultation with the Commandant of the S.V.C. if the general principle is accepted. What the Committee have in mind, however, is an armed police reserve of about 300 to 500 men organized in companies or platoons of convenient size. As the paid Russian Company of the Volunteer Corps is frequently employed on armed police duties, it is suggested for consideration that this unit to any armed police reserve which it may be decided to raise on the lines of the above proposals. The question of the extent to which this reserve could be usefully mechanised will also require careful consideration.

19.—While on the subject of police reserves the Committee must not forget to mention the valuable support given to the regular force by the Shanghai Special Constabulary, which has proved as useful here in times of emergency and stress as the similar organization in London has been during recent years to the Metropolitan Police authorities. Anything that can be done to encourage this important voluntary branch of the local police organization still further to improve its training and efficiency would certainly be well worth the careful consideration of the Commissioner of Police and the Honorary Assistant Commissioner in charge of the "Specials".

20.—Though the Committee feel that in the Shanghai Volunteer Corps the Council have a most efficient and economical military unit, they would venture to suggest that the new Commandant should be asked to submit any proposals which he may have to make for still further improving the military efficiency of the S.V.C. whether by way of reorganization, mechanisation, or the provision of better armament, especially in view of the important role which the Corps may again be called upon to fill in the defence of Shanghai in the event of the further reduction or complete withdrawal of the armed military forces of the Foreign Powers. As an exhaustive inspection of the Corps has recently been made by the G.O.C. North China Command, the Council will also doubtlessly consider the advisability of seeking the expert military advice of Major-General Wardrop, who may have valuable suggestions to offer on this subject.

21.—If the principles outlined above are accepted, the future local defences of the International Settlement would comprise:—

(1) A strong voluntary military unit in the shape of the S.V.C. for mobilisation in times of emergency.

(2) A strong regular police force for semi-military duties and (b) an organised body of "Special Constabulary."

APPENDIX 5

LANGUAGE ALLOWANCE.

It is recommended that the present system of granting monthly allowances be discontinued by the exclusion of this benefit from all new contracts.

In the interest of police efficiency, it seems most important that all foreign ranks should acquire a sound working knowledge of Chinese, and with this end in view it is strongly recommended that the Council should afford facilities for free tuition during the first three years of a foreign employee's services. This tuition should form part of the normal training of the foreign police officer. The knowledge acquired as a result of this free instruction should be tested by an examination of a reasonable standard to be laid down by regulation after expert consideration, such tests being held periodically during the first three years' service as the students arrive at the necessary stage of proficiency, which will be judged by the Instructional Staff. The question of the particular dialects to be taught also requires expert consideration in the light of local needs.

Free tuition should not be given for a longer period than three years, but men who qualify before the completion of this period should continue to receive the benefit of free tuition up to the limit of three years in order to assist them in preparing for the higher standard of examination referred to below.

It should be clearly laid down that no foreign employee will be eligible for promotion to the rank of sergeant until he has qualified by passing the preliminary examination referred to above. If he fails to do this during the period of three years' free tuition, he will be permitted to present himself at subsequent examinations, the preparation for which will be carried out in his own time and at his own expense.

Above this preliminary examination, which should be a compulsory test for departmental efficiency and promotion to the rank of sergeant, there should be a higher standard of examination the passing of which should be a necessary qualification for promotion to ranks above that of sergeant. To compensate candidates for the expense of preparing themselves for this higher test they should receive on passing a fixed bonus of, say, Tls. 300. Men who pass this examination should also be allowed to present themselves for requalification once in their service after a fixed period, and, if successful, should be granted half the amount of the original reward. It is believed that this would be a more satisfactory and economical arrangement than the present system of granting small monthly allowances to all men who pass what are possibly very nominal tests.

As regards rewards for other languages commonly spoken in the Settlement and of which a knowledge is useful or necessary for police purposes, it is recommended that there should be no monthly allowance and no free tuition, but that a voluntary examination should be introduced of a reasonably high standard on the lines of the higher Chinese test referred to above and with similar rates of bonus for qualifying and re-qualifying. It should be laid down, however, that no man is eligible for qualification in his own language. A limited number of special monthly allowances might also be sanctioned for men with special language qualifications who are employed in the C.I.D. on particular intelligence and detective duties for which such qualifications are necessary.

MEMORANDUM ON LANGUAGE ALLOWANCE.

The method of obtaining the best results in the study of Chinese combined with efficiency has exercised the Council for the past thirty years and the present method has been evolved after careful thought by experts in the language and others qualified to judge.

The stumbling block has always been the difficulty of learning the language, and to obtain satisfactory results it has been necessary to offer an inducement in the form of extra pay or bonus. It is in the Council's interest that members of the Force should be able to speak Chinese at any rate sufficiently well to be able to check an interpreter, and owing to the difficulty of the language men will not study in their own time unless the inducement is considerable.

Other things being equal, preference is always given to the man who is in receipt of Chinese Language Bonus and in certain branches of police work it is a sine qua non—but in view of the varied nature of the work of the European members of the Force, which are mainly of a supervisory nature, it is possible for an Inspector or Sub-Inspector to be an excellent police officer and a valuable employee of the Council and still not be able to speak Chinese. For this reason I am averse to asking the passing of the (say) higher standard examination a necessary qualification for promotion above the rank of sergeant.

I am in favour of the proposal to limit free tuition in the Council's time to three years, but am unable to support the suggestion of a lump sum of $300, or even a much higher sum for the higher standard, as, in my opinion, as in that of other officers qualified to judge, decreased rather than increased efficiency would result. Here again the difficulty of the Chinese language comes in, and although a few men might possibly become more efficient than is the case now, the majority would not consider the bonus worth the effort required.

From an economy point of view, pure and simple, the suggestions have everything to recommend them and a considerable saving would undoubtedly follow, but only at a sacrifice of efficiency.

It is, however, possible that the tests might be made more difficult, and an Assistant Commissioner is already cooperating with the Director of Chinese Studies with that end in view.

I am entirely in agreement with the suggestions regarding other foreign languages.

(sgd.) E. I. M. BARRETT,
Commissioner of Police.
Shanghai, October 26, 1927.

APPENDIX 7

LANGUAGE ALLOWANCE.

1. The Committee have carefully considered the memorandum (Appendix No. 6) dated 26th October, 1927, by the Commissioner of Police on their recommendations (Appendix No. 5) for introducing certain changes in the present system under which monthly allowances are paid to Police employees who have passed certain tests in the Chinese language.

2. As regards the opening paragraph of the Commissioner's note, the Committee are not convinced that it is impossible to improve the present system both in the interests of efficiency and economy, and they might mention here that before making their recommendations the Committee gave careful consideration to this important subject in consultation with experts who have themselves a highly proficient knowledge of the language.

3. The Committee are fully aware that Chinese is not an easy language to learn and that it is in the interests of the Council that members of the Force should be able to speak Chinese. In this connection it may be noted that in their recommendations the Committee clearly stated that "in the interests of Police efficiency it seems most important that all foreign ranks should acquire a working knowledge of Chinese". It was for this reason that the Committee recommended that the Council should afford facilities for free tuition during the first three years of a foreign employee's services, and that this tuition should form part of the normal training of the foreign police officer.

4. As regards the Commissioner's remarks that it is possible for an Inspector or Sub-Inspector to be an excellent Police officer and a valuable employee of the Council without a knowledge of Chinese, the Committee cannot agree that the higher European officers of the Force can perform efficiently the important and responsible duties of supervising the work of their subordinates and dealing with the public, without a proficient knowledge of the language spoken by such a large proportion of both the Force and the population.

The Committee are not therefore prepared to depart from their original recommendation that the passing of the higher standard examination in Chinese should be a necessary qualification for promotion above the rank of sergeant. Indeed, the Committee would like here to add an additional recommendation that it should be a condition of confirmation in the rank of Assistant Commissioner (and Deputy Assistant Commissioner, if this rank is introduced) that an officer should qualify himself in Chinese within a reasonable period according to a standard to be determined by the Council and laid down in public regulations.

5. As regards the Commissioner's contention that the majority of men in the Force would not consider a bonus of Tls. 300, or even a larger sum worth the effort required to pass the higher standard test, the Committee would point out that this bonus was suggested by them as a compensation for the expense of preparation and not as an "inducement".

The inducement contained in the Committee's proposals is that promotion to the higher and much sought-after appointments above the rank of sergeant can only be obtained by those who qualify themselves according to the higher standard. The Committee can hardly believe that those men who have the necessary qualities of character and ability to shoulder successfully the responsibilities of higher rank will be deterred by the moderate difficulties of the higher standard test from taking full advantage of the prospects open to them, especially in view of the fact that they have been given a good grounding in the language at the expense of the Council in the first three years of their service.

6. In conclusion, the Committee should perhaps make it clear that it was not intended that their recommendations should take immediate effect, as this would obviously be unfair to many officers now in the Force who were appointed under different conditions.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

TENDERS—GENERAL

It is recommended that, as far as possible, bulk orders be placed in consultation with the Heads of all Departments concerned either through:

(a) A Central Purchasing Agency
(b) or the largest user of any given commodity should purchase the whole quantity required by the Council.

TENDERS—SPECIFIC

It is recommended that when ordering goods from abroad local firms representing manufacturers be invited to tender for goods on indent from the Council.

The Committee fully considered the question of the preparation of Bills of Quantities for new building work, but decided that it is not advisable for contractors to tender on that basis locally at present as no saving is likely to be made.

STAFF.

It is recommended that:—

(a) The age limit of junior technical men engaged be reduced. This would tend to keep down salaries.
(b) The employment of a certain number of Japanese as Building Inspectors in substitution for Europeans and Americans as additional staff becomes necessary.
(c) The employment of Chinese to start with as junior engineer assistants, surveyors and in the Accounts Dept. when increases become necessary, or when vacancies occur.
(d) The staff employed in the Cadastral Office be reduced to 5 foreigners as age limits are reached.

The Commissioner of Public Works stated that since 1921 an entirely new sub-department has been created, namely the Sewerage Sub-Dept., the staff of which is included in the Public Works Dept. This to some extent accounts for the increase in foreign salaries.

The increase in the pay of the staff is proportionately larger than the increase in numbers. This is due to the increase in the age of foreigners after the war, experienced men being unobtainable at the same ages as before 1914. Since 1925 there have been considerable reductions made in the staff, 16 in all, including three under notice, and the Commissioner of Public Works stated two others are probably leaving voluntarily this year.

The actual salaries of the Public Works Department employees appear to be very much the same as paid for similar work elsewhere, and the Committee do not find that generally, allowances excepted, the staff is overpaid.

Bad times affect the volume of work in this department more than any other. When private building development slacks off, the work of this department becomes less, whereas during normal times or when there is a boom in building this department must follow the development. In October last, the Commissioner of Public Works stated that he could probably at that time do without six of his foreigners, but in common with private firms (with employees on agreement) sufficient staff must be carried to cope with normal requirements.

It should be noted also that the expansion of almost every other department means increased work for the Public Works Department.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT AND SECRETARIAT.

It is recommended that:

(a) All letters to the general public concerning public works be sent by the Commissioner of Public Works and not by the Secretary; similarly letters concerning public works be addressed to the Commissioner of Public Works.
(b) Miscellaneous trifling correspondence addressed to the Secretary, but concerning matters usually dealt with by the Public Works Department, be forwarded to the Commissioner of Public Works with directions to take action instead of commenting and returning.
(c) Arrangements be made for more frequent and if possible regular meetings of the Works Committee whereby the writing of a large number of reports could be obviated.

REQUISITIONS.

It is recommended that all requisitions for repairs and/or damage be marked avoidable or non-avoidable and the cost of making good avoidable damage be received through the Head of the Department concerned.

A considerable sum is spent annually making good Council's premises and leased premises, which should be recoverable. At present all damage is made good by the Public Works Department in requisitions from the Department concerned, and no attempt made to recover the cost from the person responsible for the damage.

ARCHITECTURAL SUB-DEPARTMENT.

It is recommended that the cost of designing and supervising new buildings and all construction works be added to the cost of the buildings and construction works respectively, thereby shewing their correct value as assets in the accounts.

ROAD WIDENINGS.

It is recommended that the road widenings listed in Appendix A. be deferred.

The estimated reduction in the total cost of scheduled road improvements effected by this Committee's proposals to defer certain widenings is estimated to be

$3,000,000. It must be recognized that this deferment virtually means abandonment. In certain cases the Council have compulsory rights to free surrender and this must either be acted upon or abandoned. In other cases the Council will have to permit buildings to be erected on the deferred roads and widenings of such a nature that a practical abandonment is the result. In connection with road widening, the Committee also discussed:

(a) Zoning

(b) Covered footpaths (such as exist fronting the Sun Sun Co's store and Messrs. Whiteaway, Laidlaw & Co's premises). They are not prepared to make any recommendations in regard thereto, but suggest these two important subjects receive the careful consideration of the Council. They are deserving of a special Committee to investigate and report.

Maintenance of Municipal Roads.—It is recommended that the Tramway and Omnibus Co's contributions to upkeep of roads be carefully scrutinized on renewal of agreements.

Maintenance of Public Buildings and Leased Premises.—It is recommended that all interior decorations and repairs be done at the sole discretion of the Commissioner of Public Works and not necessarily on a request from the Department concerned.

Extra Departmental.—It is recommended that the appointment of Chief Sanitation Chemist be held directly under the Public Works Department and should not be regarded as extra-departmental. It is anomalous that a sum of some thing like $30,000 per annum consequent on the treatment of sewage should be called "Extra-Departmental" when it does not include the whole of the cost of sewage purification, and we are of the opinion that this miscalled extra-departmental expenditure should be shown in its proper place under "Sewerage."

Building Surveyors Office.—It is recommended that:

(a) The fees for Building Permits, etc., be considerably increased.

(b) When a plan is submitted a deposit should accompany the plan, to be forfeited if the permit is not granted.

(c) A double fee be charged on second submission of plans and so on to cover the extra cost to the Council through incompetent people submitting plans, the initial fee to be Tls. 10.00.

(d) The Public Works Department issue a comprehensive permit for all new buildings, to cover Fire protection requirements which should be generally described in more detail and applied by the Building Surveyor who would obtain the views of the Fire Brigade in cases where the requirements laid down could not be applied.

A great waste of time occurs in this office through the submission of inaccurate and incomplete plans for new buildings prepared by unqualified and inefficient persons, and through lack of supervision of buildings during construction. It is suggested that although previous applications have failed the Council should make another attempt to secure the Registration of Architects, whereby they would fall into line with the local Chinese Authorities who have already started such a system in the territory under their jurisdiction.

Co-Operation Amongst Heads of Departments.—The committee are of the opinion that there is room for much improvement in this connection. It appears that now Heads only meet (generally speaking) when one or other has something specific to discuss. There are not sufficient general conferences. As regular conference in office hours is not suitable for everyone, and in some instances would mean a serious loss of time, it is suggested that the Heads of Departments might arrange to lunch together regularly several times a week and that such lunches could be considered as business meetings.

This Committee is of the opinion that when important new building work is under consideration there should be the closest co-operation between the Heads of all the departments concerned, for example: The head of the Public Works Department should confer freely with the heads of the Health and Finance Departments regarding new Hospitals and Markets etc., and with the Head of the Police Department and Finance Department regarding new Police stations, etc.

It is considered that economies are more likely to be effected at conferences than by the mere circulation of recommendations.

There is a large amount of unavoidable dead work such as the preparation of schemes for improvements and new buildings, etc., which for financial and other reasons are never carried out, but this Committee considers this could be reduced if there is due co-operation between the heads of the departments concerned and the Finance Department, particularly in the early stages.

General.—The Committee wish to place on record the great assistance rendered by Mr. Harpur throughout their investigations and that they were much impressed by the general efficiency of this department.

The Committee found that as regards the technical side of the work of this department, the closest touch is kept with all the latest methods and inventions adopted by other important Municipalities in every part of the world, that the costs of all the various works and services are closely watched and analysed, and the staff has not been unduly expanded considering the increasing volume of work carried out. The result is they are able to suggest very few immediate economies, especially having regard to the fact that the cutting down of expenses in connection with this Department would in many instances not be true economy, inasmuch as greatly increased sums would have to be spent later, particularly where the upkeep of roads, sewers, buildings, etc. is concerned.

EDUCATIONAL MATTERS—MUNICIPAL SCHOOLS.

The Committee are convinced from the investigations they have made, and from evidence they have heard, that a drastic re-organisation of the Municipal School system is required.

1. Centralization of Control.—The Committee recommend the appointment of a Superintendent of Education, whose duties would consist in the reorganizing and general supervising of all Council Schools.

(a) To provide uniformity of curricula,

(b) To provide for interchange of teaching staff in case of absence due to sickness or leave,

(c) To arrange for long leaves to suit the exigencies of the service as a whole,

(d) To arrange classes, with the assistance of the Headmasters, so that the strength of the classes might be maintained at a figure which would make the most efficient use of the time of the teaching staff. (See Appendix "C," Para. 1).

2. Collection of Fees. — The Committee recommend that the preparation of accounts and the collection of fees for the Foreign Schools should be undertaken by Assistants under the Revenue or Finance Department. The Committee understands that this measure would hardly call for any extra expense in the Revenue Department. (See Appendix "C," Para. 2).

3. Discounts.—It is recommended that in future the discounts allowed in the Foreign Schools be on the same basis as that allowed in the Chinese Schools, namely:

For 2 Children .. 20%
More than 2 Children 33-⅓%
(See Appendix "C," Para. 3).

4. Fees. Non-tax Payers.—It is recommended that an increase of 20% on fees at present in force be charged to the parents or guardians who do not pay Municipal Rates, or who do not live in the International Settlement. (See Appendix "C," Para. 4.)

5. Size of Classes.—The Committee recommend that no Form or Class, unless in exceptional circumstances, should consist of less than 25 pupils and that, if possible, this number be increased to 30. (See Appendix "C," after Para 22.)

6. Interchangeability of Teachers.—It is recommended that teachers engaged by the Council should be available for service at any of the Council Schools—Foreign or Chinese—temporarily or permanently, as the exigencies of the Service may require. (See Appendix "C," Para. 6).

7. System of Employment of Teachers.—It is recommended that employees be advanced and their salaries increased according to merit. That after three years service the Staff Committee shall consider the report of the Headmaster or Headmistress, and shall discontinue or renew the services of the employee at such salary as may seem right.
(See Appendix "C," Para. 7).

8. Textbooks and Stationery.—The Committee recommend that the Council discontinue the practice of supplying stationery free of charge, and make arrangements with some Chinese or Foreign stationer who will be willing to carry stock of the required standard and supply pupils at fixed prices approved by the Council, for cash, provided that he is allowed to carry the stock in a room provided for the purpose, at the school. (See Appendix "C," Para. 8).

9. Supply of Teachers.—It is recommended that a list be kept of qualified teachers resident in Shanghai, who would be willing to serve if required and that temporary vacancies which might occur, be filled by them. The Committee also consider that such teachers might be regularly employed under temporary agreements. (See Appendix "C," Para. 9.)

10. Deputy Headmaster.—It is recommended that the position of Deputy Headmaster, in the Public School for Boys, be abolished. (See Appendix "C," Para. 10).

11. Thomas Hanbury School—Staff Quarters, etc.—See Page 78, proper no of Paragraph 36 to be inserted here.

ORGANIZATION OF SCHOOLS.

12. Public School for Boys.—North Szechuen Road.

See Para. 18, which affects the recommended future organization of this school.

This School takes boys from 8 to 17 years old, and has a roll of about 300. It takes boys through the primary grades and prepares them for Hongkong University or in commercial subjects for business. More pupils could be accommodated at this school and though from the preparatory to Form 2 Upper, the average number of pupils is 28.6, from the "Remove" to Form 6-A the average is only 16.5. The two top classes 6-A and 6-C have 7 and 5 respectively. (See Appendix "C," Para. 12).

13. Public School for Boys: Western Junior School.—It is recommended that this school be closed and that present pupils be accommodated at the Public School for Girls, Yu Yuen Road.

Until there is a Boys' School in the Western District capable of looking after the large as well as the smaller boys, it would appear unnecessary to keep on the Western Junior School which at present takes boys of from 7½ to 11 years of age. (See Appendix "C," Para. 13).

14. Public School for Girls.—Yu Yuen Road.

The only recommendations affecting the organization of this School are made in Paragraphs 13 and 17.

Age of Pupils, 6½ to 13½ years; Number of Pupils, 357; Number of Teachers, 13.

This School covers Kindergarten, Primary, Secondary, preparatory for University. (See Appendix "C," Para. 14).

15. Public School for Girls,—Boone Road; See Paragraph No. 17.

Age of Pupils, 6½ to 13½ years; Number of Pupils, 161; Number of Teachers, 7.

This School covers Kindergarten to Form 4. (See Appendix "C," Para. 15).

16. Public School for Girls.—Kungping Road—at present Yulin Road.

The Committee recommend that the present premises at Yulin Road be retained and that the arrangement for Kungping Road School be discontinued.

Age of Pupils, 5½ to 8½ years; Number of Pupils, 78; Number of Teachers, 4.

This covers from the Kindergarten to Form 1.

The average per class is well maintained except in Form 6.

At present accommodation at Yulin Road is in a house costing Tls. 90 as against Kungping Road, Tls. 300.—The Mistress-in-Charge considers the accommodation at Yulin Road suitable. (See Appendix "C," Para. 16).

17. Thomas Hanbury School for Girls.—It is recommended that instruction at this school be limited to elementary instruction up to and including the 3rd Form and that the higher classes be transferred to Boone Road School or Yu Yuen Road.

Age of Pupils, from 6 to 17 years: Number of Pupils, 265, of whom 57 are boarders, and 208 day pupils.

The class average is well maintained at 19 to 27, except in the 4th, 5th and 6th Forms which are 14, 12 and 8 respectively. The Committee feel that if their recommendation is carried out and Class 4 were transferred to the Boone Road School, which now has 16 pupils, the number would be brought up to 30, while as regards Classes 5 and 6, the difficulty of transferring them to Yu Yuen Road should not be insurmountable. (See Appendix "C," Para. 17).

18. Thomas Hanbury School for Boys.—It is recommended that instruction at this School be limited to elementary instruction up to Form 4, or Form 3, and that pupils in the higher classes be transferred to the Public School for Boys.

Age of Pupils, From 9 to 17½ years; Number of Pupils, 179 boys of whom 137 are day boys and 42 boarders.

This School takes boys through the Primary Grade and prepares them for Hongkong University.

Number of pupils in class are as follows:

From 20-25 until Form 5, 6-B and 6-A, which are 19, 16 and 6 respectively.

Both the Thomas Hanbury School for Boys and Girls have large numbers of Portuguese, Japanese and Russians, who come to learn English. The numbers are as follows:

Boys, age 12-18 years, 47; Girls, 12-18 years, 14.

In connection with the Committee's recommendation, the undernoted figures show pupils per class in the two schools:

Public School
for Boys 17 24 18 17 5 7
Thomas Hanbury School
for Boys 19 16 6
(See Appendix "C," Para. 18).

19. Public School for Chinese.—Age of Pupils, from 11½ to 17 years; Number of pupils, 395 Boys; Number of Pupils in Class, 23 to 30, except in Forms 4, 5, and 6, which are 12, 12 and 9 respectively.

This School covers Primary to Hongkong University. (See Appendix "C" Para. 19).

20. Ellis Kadoorie School for Chinese.—Age of Pupils, from 10½ to 18½ years; Number of Pupils per class, 27 to 41, except in Form 3, Form 4, Form 5 and Form 6, which are 16, 10, 8 and 5 respectively.

This school covers Primary to Hongkong University. (See Appendix "C," Para. 20).

21. Nieh Chih Kuei Public School for Chinese.—Age of Pupils, from 8 to 20 years; Number of Pupils, 276; Number of Pupils per class—from Class 3 to Form 2, the average is from 24 to 30, in Form 3, 16, in Form 4, 5, in Form 5, 8, and in Form 6, 1.

This School covers Middle School work and Manual training.

It is recommended that, in the three above-mentioned schools, instruction be limited to elementary work up to and including Form 3, and that the Polytechnic School be required to provide in addition to elementary instruction, all such advanced instruction as may be required in Forms 4, 5 and 6. (See Appendix "C," Para. 21).

22. Polytechnic School for Chinese.—See Paragraphs 20, 21 and 22; Age of Pupils, 10 to 17 years; Number of Pupils, 149 boys; Number of pupils per class—the average per class is low—18⅔.

This School covers Primary to Hongkong University. From Paragraphs 19, 20 and 21, it will be seen that the combined number of pupils in Classes 4, 5 and 6 are 27, 28 and 15 respectively. Therefore, if the recommendation made in Part 2, Paragraphs 19-21 is carried out, it would make three fairsized classes occupying the attention of three masters instead of nine as at present.

This Committee consider the Polytechnic School more suitable for the combination of these higher classes as it is more centrally located. (See Appendix "C" Para. 22.)

LONG LEAVE.

By the present arrangement the employee receives eight months' leave after five years' service. Though this leave includes the two months Summer leave, it must in any event interfere with the work of two terms. In connection with the matter of long leave, the following points have received consideration.

1. The necessity for so arranging leave as to interfere as little as possible with the School work.

2. Inasmuch as the Educational Staff receive compulsory Short leave of two months every Summer, it seems unnecessary from the health standpoint to provide for eight months long leave every five years. Under the present system the Educational Staff have 18 months' leave in 6 years, the remainder of the Council's staff have 13 months in 6 years. Under the proposed system the Educational staff will have 17 months in 6 years and the remainder of the Council's staff 13 months in 6 years.

3. Agreements with Council: It is understood that the Council cannot make agreements for periods in excess of three years, and if this cannot be re-arranged, it would apparently be necessary to make agreements for 3 years and 2 years, thus making the 5 years requisite for and including the 6 months' leave.

4. Economy that should result. At present theoretically of every ten teachers, two are absent on long leave every year for a period of eight months or six months, excluding the Summer leave, thus necessitating the employment of two temporary teachers for six months each, at salaries of, say, Tls. 250 each per month.

If the suggested plan is adopted, two temporary teachers would be needed for four months only.

MEDICAL ATTENDANCE.

The Committee consider that their recommendation as previously given is the generally accepted practice of the Ports.

BENEFITS FOR MARRIED MEN.

On the assumption that the employee should be paid in accordance with the services rendered by him, the Committee are of the opinion that no differentiation should be made between married and single employees; they have, therefore, made various recommendations to this effect.

The Committee feel that if the salaries paid are inadequate and not comparable with the scale pertaining in the Port, they should be increased, but as regards the Schools, we find that they are neither too low nor excessive.

CENTRALIZATION OF CONTROL.

It has been pointed out that the number of pupils per teacher is the factor which largely controls school expenditure. As long as the schools exist as separate entities and control is decentralized, this factor cannot be effectively controlled, and the Committee, therefore, consider that centralization of control is essential.

COLLECTION OF FEES.

By the evidence given by the Headmasters and Headmistresses it is clear that from 7 to 14 days per month is given to the preparation and collection of accounts. If the four foreign schools only are considered it will be seen that this preparation takes at least a month of the time of the Heads, say, Tls. 700 per month, or Tls. 7,000 per annum, to which must be added the time and expenses of the Shroffs, to collect say Tls. 131,000. The present system is not economical nor sound.

In making its recommendation, the Committee consider that the necessary data can be supplied daily or weekly by the various schools, and that the teaching staff should only keep the daily attendance register of pupils.

The Committee feel there should be no insuperable difficulty in devising a system whereby weekly returns could be sent by each school to the Revenue Department, which would then be in possession of all data requisite for the rendering of accounts, and would at small expense be able to prepare the accounts. The additional work would not occupy the whole attention of one clerk, except when accounts were being rendered and payments received.

At present the Headmasters or Headmistresses exercise discretion as to suspension for non-payment, which would automatically have to cease, as were the fees collected by the Revenue or Finance Department, the Headmaster or Mistress would be required to obey instructions sent from the Revenue Department as to suspension.

DISCOUNTS

Under the present system discounts are allowed from the fees for attendance of more than one child at the Council's schools. This at present necessitates enquiries being made at the other schools by the masters, to ascertain whether discount is allowable. Centralization of accounts will simplify this as it should not be so difficult to arrange a system which would shew automatically the discount allowable.

At present discounts in force are as follows:

	Foreign per cent.	Chinese per cent.
For 2 Children	20	20
For 3 Children	33⅓
For 4 Children	40	33⅓
More than 4 Children	45

The maximum discount of 33⅓ received by the Chinese seems entirely adequate, and brings foreign and Chinese Schools on the same level.

FEES (NON-TAXPAYERS).

It appears pupils are enrolled at the schools regardless of the district in which they live, and that no difference is made between fees charged for a pupil residing in the French Concession or outside the Settlement, and the fees charged for a pupil whose parents or guardian pay Municipal taxes. Inasmuch as education is a definite charge on the rates the Committee have recommended, as previously laid down.

SIZE OF CLASSES.

The Committee feel convinced it is essential that if economy is to be effected, their recommendation should be carried out—30 pupils being the number which they consider can be instructed without loss of efficiency.

INTERCHANGEABILITY OF TEACHERS.

The Committee consider that considerable saving could probably be effected were there greater elasticity in the employment of teachers. As long as teachers are properly qualified there seems no reason why they should not be able to teach either foreign or Chinese boys or girls. Greater elasticity in this way would facilitate arrangements regarding leave, and would probably in many cases obviate the necessity of engaging temporary teachers in the case of sickness or leave.

SYSTEM OF EMPLOYMENT OF TEACHERS.

Under the present system Masters and Mistresses engaged by the Council proceed by certain definite and graduated stages from the minimum salary at which they are engaged to the maximum salary at which they remain from the twelfth year of service until a vacancy gives them an opportunity of promotion. The rule is definite, and as long as an employee does his minimum duty his tenure of office and triennial rise is certain—there is no incentive to do more than the minimum required.

TEXTBOOKS AND STATIONERY.

While in all Schools the Cost of text-books is charged to the pupils, there is not the same uniform practice as regards the Supply of Stationery, exercise books, etc.

SUPPLY OF TEACHERS.

In this connection the Committee are advised that there is a supply of competent certificated teachers available in Shanghai, which could be relied upon to fill temporary vacancies, and possibly also for regular employment.

The Committee feel that if this source of supply is explored and a list kept, as recommended, there can, with advantage, economy and safety, be a reduction in the permanent teaching staff, which will not only economise in salaries payable, but will save under the heading of passages and other benefits.

DEPUTY HEADMASTER.

This appointment only exists in the Public School for Boys, and as it does not seem warranted or necessary, should be abolished.

THOMAS HANBURY SCHOOL FOR BOYS.

In referring to Appendix "D," it will be noted that this school, which was specifically established for cheap education, has only 180 pupils. The total loss to the Council for each pupil educated in this school per annum is Tls. 480.66, or, if the direct expenses only are taken into consideration, Tls. 398.00. This loss per pupil, per annum, is by far the largest unit loss in any of the Council's schools.

The premises are entirely adequate to increase the number of pupils to at least 400, but under the present arrangement these premises are, to a very large extent, occupied by the headmaster and other masters of the school. The accommodation for resident staff of the school is as follows:—

The headmaster occupies a furnished flat, consisting of three bedrooms, with bathrooms, dining room, morning room, sitting room, kitchen etc. He has free board for himself, wife and child, besides free light, heat, water, etc., etc, for a total payment for himself, wife and child, of Tls. 145.00 per month.

The Assistant Masters each have a room, with bathroom, full board, light, heat, water, etc., etc., paying Tls. 60.00 per month for all this accommodation.

A billiard room on the main teaching floor is also used by the staff.

This means 11 perfectly good classrooms are used for private residential quarters, not considering the space used for bathrooms, kitchens etc. on these floors. The privilege of residing in the school does not involve other duties, as the various masters take inspection duties in turn every seventh week, and are paid extra for this duty at the rate of Tls. 3.00 per day. A bedroom is also set aside for the use of each of the teachers as are on duty, and who do not live on the premises. It is quite impossible to arrive at any estimate as to what above mentioned privileges cost the Council, as no account books are kept for the staff separate from the pupils, nor is there any division in the accounts as far as heat and light, etc. are concerned, between the school, the boarders and the staff. It is recommended that immediate steps be taken to create accounts which will show exactly what it costs the Council to run the School as separate from what it costs to run the boarding school, and again as separate from what it costs to furnish the teachers with board and lodging, etc.

It is strongly recommended that this whole arrangement be entirely changed on the following basis:

(1) That out of the 12 rooms used for staff accommodation, 10 be immediately converted into useable classrooms.

(2) That the headmaster should be requested to vacate his flat and find his own quarters.

(3) That three out of the four resident masters should vacate their rooms and find their own quarters.

(4) That there should be one resident master, specially selected to reside at the school, and one master on duty, chosen as usual, when his turn for duty comes round.

This arrangement will enable the school to accept up to 400 pupils, and will make the school a business-like institution, run on reasonably economical lines.

It has already been recommended that instruction at this school be limited to elementary education up to Form IV or Form III. The Committee has been informed that a large number of the pupils in this school are merely there to learn English. It is obvious that pupils who do not even know English must retard and make difficult the education in classes mixed up with pupils who do know English, and it is suggested that consideration be given to the possibility of making a number of classes for the purpose of studying English only, at a fee of say $10 per month per pupil. Such classes could be taught by local teachers at a cost which would justify a fee of $10. instead of the $15. per month charged at present.

In conclusion, it should be noted that besides the masters, there are two matrons residing in the school. These matrons each occupy a room, and pay Tls. 60 for their accommodation, including board, fuel, light, etc. However, as these matrons are constantly on duty, there seems to be no adequate reason to raise this fee, although it may seem low.

The special attention of the Council is also drawn to Appendix "C," Para. 4, from which it will be noted that 54 per cent. of the day pupils in this school reside outside of the International Settlement, and 50 per cent. of the boarders reside outside of the International Settlement. Considering that each pupil, as mentioned, costs the Council a loss of Tls. 480. a year, it seems only reasonable that special preference should be given to children residing in and belonging to the International Settlement, as, even if a 20 per cent. increase in school fees were demanded from pupils residing outside of the Settlement, a heavy loss per child will still have to be paid by the Council, and a large number of children residing in the International Settlement will not find available school accommodation.

It is also recommended that a very definite system be followed and careful scrutiny be given to pupils accepted as free boarders and boarders at reduced fees, so as to give preference to children of parents residing in the International Settlement.

ORGANIZATION OF SCHOOLS.

At present the Educational Department consists of eight schools, as follows:—

Public School for Boys.—North Szechuen Road, with which is incorporated Junior Department, Jessfield Road.
Public School for Girls.—Yu Yuen Road, with which is incorporated Boone Road and Kungping Road Schools.
Thomas Hanbury School for Boys:
Thomas Hanbury School for Girls:
Public School for Chinese:
Ellis Kadoorie School (Chinese):
Nieh Chih Kuei School (Chinese):
Polytechnic School (Chinese).—All of these are separate entities absolutely independent the one from the other, and loosely knit together under the two Educational Committees, foreign and Chinese, and reporting to the Secretariat through the Educational Assistant who acts as an intermediary under the Secretary between the schools and the Committees, which are largely composed of busy men unable to give adequate time to the consideration of the problems and for the most part lacking training in school organization.

The result is that there is no cohesion in the Municipal Educational system, no attempt at uniformity of curricula, no standardisation of instruction or of textbooks, and no interchange of teaching staff.

Owing to the absolute independence of the schools no attempt has been made to amalgamate the higher classes in one school with suitable classes in another school, though the number of pupils in any one of these higher classes is insufficient to warrant the service of a special teacher.

Pupils per teacher—Foreign Schools.

After taking into consideration reductions made in Paragraphs 18-22, and making allowance for leave of 17 (20 per cent.) the number of teachers available is 58, which at an average of 25 pupils per teacher is the number required.

Chinese Schools.—

At present there are 24 Foreign Teachers and 43 Chinese Teachers.

In Paragraphs 18-22, a reduction of 5 Foreign and 3 Chinese is allowed for.

After allowing 5, 20 per cent, Foreign Teachers for leave there are 54 teachers (Foreign and Chinese) available.

The total average number of pupils is 1225, which at an average of 25 per teacher require 49 Teachers.

There is, therefore, a saving of 5 teachers, probably all Chinese, in view of the reduction made in Paragraphs 18-22.

AN AGREEMENT made at Shanghai the Fourth day of February one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine BETWEEN THE COUNCIL FOR THE FOREIGN COMMUNITY OF SHANGHAI NORTH OF THE YANGKINGPANG (hereinafter referred to as the Council which expression shall where the context so admits include its successors in office) of the one part and THE CHINA GENERAL OMNIBUS COMPANY, LIMITED being a Company incorporated and registered under the Hongkong Companies Ordinances and the China Order in Council 1925 and having its Registered Office at Sassoon House Shanghai (hereinafter referred to as the Company) of the other part WHEREAS the Company has with the permission of the Council for some time past been operating a service of motor omnibuses at Shanghai AND WHEREAS it now appears to the Council and the Company that it is expedient to enter into a formal agreement with regard to the future operation of such service of motor omnibuses NOW IT IS HEREBY AGREED between the parties hereto as follows:—

1. Upon and subject to the terms and conditions hereinafter contained the Council will permit the Company to operate at Shanghai a service of motor omnibuses upon the following routes, namely:—

(a) Upon the routes published in the Council's Municipal Gazette of the 5th day of January, 1923.

(b) Upon the routes over which the Company is at present with the permission of the Council operating a service of motor omnibuses which routes are specified in the Schedule hereto.

(c) Upon such other routes as may from time to time be approved by the Council.

PROVIDED ALWAYS that the Council shall have the right at any time or times to withdraw or suspend its permission to the Company to operate its said service over any of the routes above mentioned if for any reason the Council deems it expedient in the public interest to withdraw or suspend the same either temporarily or otherwise and the Council may at any time or times require the Company to deviate from any of the said routes on to others or otherwise to alter or change the routes over which the Company with such permission is for the time being operating.

2. The Company will during the continuance of this Agreement maintain and operate to the satisfaction of the Council an efficient and sufficient modern motor omnibus service over the routes provided for in Clause 1 hereof or over such of them as the Council may permit the Company to operate over and will at any time or times upon the request of the Council give to the Council all such information and particulars as it shall require as to the number of motor omnibuses for the time being in operation, the routes upon which the same are operating, the number of motor omnibuses on each route, and such other information in regard to the operation thereof as the Council shall ask for.

3. The Company will at all times conform to the Council's requirements in respect to the type or types of motor omnibus to be operated by the Company, but the Council will, subject to the terms and conditions of this agreement, permit the Company to continue to operate the motor omnibuses of the Company at present in use so long as the Council is satisfied that they are maintained in good running order and in a condition fit for public service Provided Nevertheless that the Council may at any time require the Company to discontinue the operation of any motor omnibus or omnibuses now in use or hereafter authorised to be used by the Company if in the opinion of the Council the same is or are unsafe or not in good running order and in a condition fit for public service. Save for the 49 motor omnibuses which are now actually in use and not equipped with pneumatic tyres, all motor omnibuses to be operated by the Company shall be equipped with pneumatic tyres.

4. The Company shall observe and comply with all such regulations with regard to the operation of its motor omnibus service as may from time to time be made by the Council with respect to the same and in particular the Company shall observe and comply with all traffic regulations and bye-laws for the time being in force and shall be subject to the same penalties in respect of breach or non-observance thereof to which the owner or driver of any private motor car or motor vehicle is for the time being subject. Each motor omnibus operated by the Company shall bear a distinctive number or number plate approved by the Council and the Council shall have the right to inspect all motor omnibuses operated by the Company at any time or times. Save in so far as may herein be otherwise expressly provided the Company shall in all respects be subject to the same regulations and bye-laws as those to which the owners or drivers of private motor cars or motor vehicles are for the time being subject.

5. Every driver of a motor omnibus employed by the Company shall pass such driving tests as the Council may from time to time lay down before he is permitted to operate any of the motor omnibuses of the Company and the Council may at any time revoke or suspend the licence or permit of any driver employed by the Company.

6. The fares chargeable by the Company to the public shall not exceed Mex. $0.10 per mile for first class accommodation nor Mex. $0.05 per mile for second class accommodation. The Company may from time to time, with the permission of the Council (which permission may at any time be withdrawn) charge a fare at a flat rate over any route provided that such rate shall not exceed the maximum fare hereinbefore provided.

7. The Company shall pay to the Council in respect of its said motor omnibuses a flat rate fee of one and a half Tael cents (Tls. 0.015) for every mile traversed by each motor omnibus of the Company equipped with pneumatic tyres and a flat rate fee of one and three quarter Tael cents (Taels 0.0175) for every mile traversed by each motor omnibus of the Company not so equipped. The said fees shall be payable monthly and shall be accompanied by a statement showing the mileage traversed by each motor omnibus during the month in respect of which such fees are paid and the Council may at any time require a revision of the said fees if in the opinion of the Council the wear of the roads traversed by the Company's omnibuses justifies any such revision. In accordance with the provisions of Bye-law XXXIV of the Bye-laws attached to the Land Regulations such fees shall in each year be included in the Budget submitted to the Ratepayers for their approval at their Annual General Meeting.

8. So long as the Company observes and performs the terms and conditions of this Agreement and so long as its said Motor Omnibus service is operated in all respects to the satisfaction of the Council and provided the Company shall if and whenever required by the Council so to do increase or extend its Motor Omnibus service and the number of motor omnibuses operated or to be operated by it to such extent over such routes and in such manner as the Council may from time to time require the Council will not licence any other person firm or Company to operate a general motor omnibus service plying for public hire similar to that operated by the Company on the routes over which the Company is for the time being operating hereunder or is ready and willing to operate in all respects as aforesaid and in accordance with all the terms and conditions hereof. Provided Always that nothing in this clause contained shall prevent or be deemed to prevent the Council from licensing or permitting any other person firm or company to operate over all or any of the said routes or any part or parts thereof a Motor Omnibus or other like service in connection with or for the purposes of the business or for the benefit of the customers patrons or employees of any such person firm or company and not being a general Motor Omnibus service plying for public hire en route except on such special occasions or for such special purposes or objects as the Council may in its discretion from time to time think fit to license or permit, neither shall it prevent or be deemed to prevent the Council from entering into any arrangement or continuing or extending any existing arrangement with the French Municipal Council or any other Public Body or Authority or any of the departments or licencees thereof respectively whereby the said French Municipal Council or any such Public Body or Authority or any of the departments or licencees thereof respectively is or shall be permitted to operate a Motor Omnibus service over any specified roads or routes controlled by the Council or jointly or partly controlled by the Council and the said French Municipal Council or any such Public Body or authority notwithstanding that any such roads or routes are at the time of any such arrangement or subsequent thereto operated over by the Company under this Agreement Provided that if in making any such arrangement the Council obtains from the other party thereto corresponding rights of operating a Motor Omnibus Service over specified roads or routes controlled by such other party or jointly or partly controlled by the Council and such other party as aforesaid and if at the time of making any such arrangement any roads or routes then operated over by the Company hereunder are affected thereby the Council will in the first place offer to the Company for such period and on such terms as the Council may think fit to impose the privilege obtained by any such arrangement of operating a Motor Omnibus service over the roads or routes controlled or jointly or partly controlled by the other party thereto and affected thereby and if the Company shall not accept any such offer within the time limited thereby then the Council shall be at liberty to make such other arrangements for exercising any such privilege as it may deem expedient. If in any arrangement as aforesaid made between the Council and the French Municipal Council or any other Public Body or Authority or any of the departments or licencees thereof no or no equal or corresponding rights are obtained by the Council and the Company thereby suffers pecuniary loss or damage in respect of its then existing routes such loss or damage shall be assessed and ascertained having regard to any decrease in value to the Company of the operation of the then existing routes and to all the terms and conditions hereof, and any difference or dispute arising out of or in respect of such assessment shall be referred to arbitration as hereinafter set forth.

9. The Books and financial records of the Company shall be open at all reasonable times to the inspection of the Council and the Company shall at all times give such information and particulars to the Council as to the operation of its said motor omnibus service as the Council shall require.

10. The Company will at all times indemnify and keep indemnified the Council from and against all claims and demands of whatever nature or kind which may at any time be made against the Council arising out of or connected with or in consequence of the operation by the Company of its said motor omnibus service.

11. In the event of the Company committing a breach of any of the terms and conditions of this Agreement the Council may give notice to the Company to remedy the same and if the Company shall fail forthwith or as soon as is practicable to remedy such breach or default the Council shall be at liberty immediately to determine this Agreement but without prejudice to any claim the Council may have against the Company by reason of any such breach or otherwise.

12. Subject to the provisions of clause 11 hereof the Council will not terminate this Agreement except upon giving to the Company five years' previous notice in writing of its intention to determine the same.

13. If from any cause independent of any act or default of the Council, or if in consequence of riot strike civil commotion, civil war revolution military or usurped power or any similar cause or any change of status of or loss of rights or control by the Council over any of the roads traversed by the Company, the Council is prevented from performing any of its covenants herein contained, the Council shall not be liable in respect of any breach of any such covenants.

14. Any difference dispute doubt or question which may arise between the parties hereto touching the construction meaning or effect of these presents or any clause or thing herein contained or the rights or liabilities of the parties hereto shall be referred to the arbitration in Shanghai of two arbitrators one to be appointed by each party, and, in the event of the arbitrators failing to agree of an umpire who shall have been appointed in writing by the arbitrators before entering on the reference and such arbitrators or umpire shall have all the power conferred on arbitrators by the English Arbitration Act 1889 or any statutory modification thereof.

BUDGET 1929.

VOLUNTEER CORPS.

EXTRAORDINARY EXPENDITURE.

Following the usual procedure the several items included in the Estimates of Extraordinary Expenditure are considered with the explanatory notes of the Commissioner of Public Works and are classified as follows:—

(A). Those to which the Council has already agreed or are considered urgent.

(B). Those considered desirable to be carried out if funds permit.

(C). Those for which no appropriation should be made this year.

BUILDINGS.

Drill Hall—Additional Floor.—A nominal appropriation of Tls. 100 is inserted to provide for an additional floor in the Drill Hall. The Commissioner of Public Works states that this is necessitated by the present shortage of space for the housing of the Armoured Cars, Lorries, Stores, etc. The additional floor would be utilized for drill purposes and the ground floor of the building would be available to meet the ever increasing needs of the Corps for the accommodation of its mechanized equipment. He adds that the estimated cost of this work is Tls. 30,000. Members agree as to the desirability of this provision and the appropriation is marked "B."

Magazine—Eastern Police Depôt.—An appropriation of Tls. 3,000 for this purpose, plans of which have been prepared, is endorsed and marked "A."

ORDINARY EXPENDITURE.

The Treasurer and Comptroller states that the total figures after making certain amendments show a reduction of nearly 1 per cent. on last year's expenditure. Subject to members' consideration of certain items referred to in his report, the estimates, as drawn, call for little comment. With regard to an appropriation of Tls. 42,800 for the provision of uniform which is Tls. 15,000 in excess of the Budget appropriation for last year, he points out that this figure includes an amount of Tls. 13,000 to provide boots for the Corps. The Commandant states that this proposal is put forward owing to the complaints of the men that their own boots suffer considerably during wet weather on the Range and on other parades and also to ensure uniformity of dress for parade purposes. Members agree that the provision of boots would remove a reasonable grievance on the part of some members of the Corps, but in order that too heavy an expenditure should not be thrown on the current year's Budget, the recommendation of the Treasurer is endorsed that half the number of boots required should be purchased and issued during the latter two months of the year and the balance obtained at the beginning of 1930. The appropriation in the current Budget is therefore reduced to Tls. 6,500.

Locomotion.—In lieu of the allowance at present issued to the Adjutant, members endorse the Commandant's recommendation that a departmental car be purchased.

Maintenance of Range.—An increase of Tls. 2,000 on last year's figures is shown under this heading. The Treasurer states that he will confer with the Commandant as to the possibility of reducing the existing appropriation.

Stock and Stores.—The various items under this heading are examined in detail and endorsed. Regarding the purchase of two motor cycles with side cars for the officers of the two Field Batteries and a light Ford truck to complete the motor transport of the Corps, it is recommended that the necessary orders be placed for these.

FIRE BRIGADE.
EXTRAORDINARY EXPENDITURE.
LAND.

With regard to the various items included in the Estimates of Extraordinary Expenditure, the Treasurer and Comptroller states that he has conferred with the Chief Officer and the Commissioner of Public Works, and that the various appropriations have been tentatively classified for the Committee's approval.

Northern District—Headquarters and Depôt Station.—A nominal appropriation of Tls. 100 for this purpose is inserted. Since, however, no site is available, it is marked "C."

Wayside District Station Site (Tls. 27,000).—Owing to the rapid development of this District and the necessity of a Station in the locality, members favour acquisition, during the current year, of the land required. The appropriation is marked "A."

Point District Station Site.—As it may be possible to erect this Station on a portion of Cadastral Lot 6095 which is owned by the Council, the nominal appropriation of Tls. 100 for the purchase of land is excised.

BUILDINGS.

Bubbling Well Station.—An appropriation of Tls. 25,000 representing portion of cost of the erection of Married Quarters at this Station is reduced to Tls. 10,000 and marked "A." The nominal appropriation of Tls. 100 for the Chief Officer's residence is marked "C."

New Central Station—Tls. 100 (Nominal).—Pending decision in the matter of the general building programme for the Brigade, this appropriation is marked "C." In this connection the Commissioner of Public Works draws attention to the dilapidated state of the existing building. He will submit a report during the current year as to the advisability of its demolition and the provision of temporary quarters for the personnel.

Northern Headquarters and Depôt.—Since the possibility of acquiring a site for this building during the current year is remote, the nominal appropriation of Tls. 100 is marked "C."

Wayside Station—Tls. 100 (Nominal.)—As the preparation of plans for this building will not be feasible until the necessary site is acquired, this building appropriation is marked "C."

West Soochow Road (Portion of Cost)—Tls. 15,000.—This item was provided for in the Budgets for 1926 and 1927, but for financial reasons the work was deferred. The appropriation inserted in this year's estimates is for the purpose of providing temporary accommodation pending erection of a permanent building. In view of the large number of mills in this locality, members regard the provision of a Station as urgently necessary and the appropriation is marked "A."

Yangtszepoo Station — Married Quarters (Portion of Cost).—Tls. 25,000.—As an appropriation has been endorsed for the provision of married quarters at the Bubbling Well Station, the appropriation for the same purpose at Yangtszepoo Station is marked "C."

Point Station.—As no site has been decided on for this Station, the nominal building appropriation of Tls. 100 is marked "C."

ORDINARY EXPENDITURE.

The total Estimates as presented, including Stock and Stores, represent an increase of 9.4 per cent. over last year's expenditure. Provision is made to cover probable increases on renewal of certain agreements, but since the terms of such have not yet been settled, members endorse the Treasurer's view that Budget provision be made, on the basis of the existing rates of pay. The Committee is informed that the Chief Officer's proposal regarding the increase in personnel in order to introduce a system of regular leave for the Chinese staff will involve additional expenditure under "Pay" to the extent of approximately Tls. 5,780. Upon the Chief Officer explaining that the health of the Chinese personnel suffers owing to their being unable to have more than twelve hours off duty per week, members record the view that the increased staff as recommended is justified, and the Chief Officer's proposal is unanimously endorsed.

Stock and Stores.—The Treasurer and Comptroller states that the total appropriation shown under this heading, aggregating Tls. 33,200, represents an increase over last year's expenditure in the neighbourhood of 100 per cent.

The various items are carefully examined and subject to the following reductions, are endorsed.

Appliances and Tools.—The total appropriation of Tls. 7,500 under this heading is reduced to Tls. 5,000, it being left to the discretion of the Chief Officer as to which of the various items should be excised.

Leyland Motor Chassis with pump drive, Tls. 3,000.—The Chief Officer states that this is required to replace the "Merryweather" No. 40 which has been in commission since 1909. In reply to an enquiry, however, he states that it would be possible for the engine and chassis to run for another year. This appropriation is excised.

Furniture and Sundries.—The total appropriation of Tls. 5,500 under this heading is reduced to Tls. 4,000.

The above reductions have the effect of decreasing the total appropriation for Stock and Stores by Tls. 12,000.

Subject to the above observations and to adjustment as usual by the Treasurer and Comptroller, the Estimates of Ordinary and Extraordinary Expenditure for the Volunteer Corps and the Fire Brigade are then formally endorsed for submission to the Finance Committee.

BUDGET 1929.

EXTRAORDINARY EXPENDITURE.

POLICE FORCE.

LAND.

Following the usual procedure, the various items included in the Estimates of Extraordinary Expenditure are considered with the explanatory notes of the Commissioner of Public Works and are classified as follows:—

"A" Those to which the Council has already agreed or which are considered urgent.

"B" Those considered desirable to be carried out if funds permit.

"C" Those for which no appropriation should be made this year.

The Treasurer and Comptroller states that the Commissioner of Public Works and himself have conferred with the Commissioner of Police and that the various items of Extraordinary Expenditure have been tentatively classified for the guidance of the Committee.

Gordon Road Police Station—Extension.—Two appropriations aggregating Tls. 71,000 are included for the purchase of additional land at this Station which is necessitated by the increased personnel at the Gordon Road Depôt. The Commissioner of Public Works states that at present premises are being leased for this purpose on the opposite side of the road, but as this property may be sold the provision of additional accommodation becomes a matter of urgency. This appropriation is marked "A."

Police Station Site—Mandalay and Chengtu Roads.—A nominal appropriation of Tls. 100 is inserted to provide a Police Station site at this point. Members are informed that the erection of an additional station in this locality has already been approved in principle and that it is now proposed to utilise a portion of Cad. Lot 1995.

BUILDINGS.

New Central Station.—As decision has not yet been reached regarding the programme for the development of the Administration Building and the Fire Brigade, and since the location of the Central Police Station is contingent on this, the nominal appropriation of Tls. 100 is marked "C."

South Station—Mandalay and Chengtu Roads.—As it is anticipated that the site for this building can be acquired during the current year, the nominal appropriation of Tls. 100 is increased to Tls. 5,000 (portion of cost) to allow of the commencement of the building in 1929, and marked "A."

Point Station (Portion of cost) Tls. 50,000.—It is considered that this work should not be commenced until the latter part of the year, and the appropriation is accordingly reduced to Tls. 25,000 and is marked "A."

Yengtzepoo Station (Portion of cost) Tls. 50,000.—Owing to the rapid industrial development of this district, members regard this provision as essential, it being noted that it is proposed to divide this area into two Police districts. To enable the new building to be commenced later in the year, the appropriation is reduced to Tls. 25,000 and is marked "A."

Western Depôt (Nominal) Tls. 100.—As this scheme cannot be proceeded with until the extension of the site of the Gordon Road Station has been acquired, this appropriation is marked "C." The Commissioner of Public Works states that additional accommodation for the inspection of vehicles is urgently required and his proposal that an appropriation of Tls. 5,000 be included in the Ordinary Estimates for the erection of huts at the Gordon Road Riding School for this purpose is approved.

Hongkew Station — Japanese Quarters—Tls. 75,000.—The Commissioner of Public Works states that this scheme, which will permit various leased quarters now occupied by the Japanese Branch to be given up and the old quarters at the junction of Woosung and Boone Road to be demolished, has already been approved by the Council. The appropriation is accordingly marked "A."

West Hongkew Station (Nominal) Tls. 100.—The Commissioner of Public Works reports that the sites and buildings of the Hongkew and West Hongkew Stations are inadequate. The existing congestion could be eased by the erection of additional quarters in the vicinity and for this purpose he suggests utilization of the North Honan Road Depôt which could be given up by the Public Works Department.

In connection with the provision of quarters generally, the Commissioner of Public Works states that the annual cost to the Council for Police leased quarters exceeds Tls. 100,000. He therefore suggests that the site of the old Police Station in Carter Road which is occupied by a two storied building and houses some three or four married officers should be utilized for the erection of a modern seven storied building of twenty-five flats for married employes. If this proposal were adopted it would be possible to give up 23 houses which are now leased at an annual rental of over Tls. 20,000 in Sinza and Tsongchow Roads and Wongkashaw Gardens. The cost of the proposed building would be approximately Tls. 125,000. The Treasurer and Comptroller supports this proposal, and suggests that, if this scheme is approved, it should take precedence over the development of the North Honan Road Depôt Site.

After discussion members endorse this proposal and recommend that an appropriation of Tls. 40,000 representing portion of cost be included in this year's estimates and marked "A," the balance of such expenditure to be provided for in next year's Budget. The nominal appropriation of Tls. 100 for the provision of additional quarters for the West Hongkew Station is marked "C," whilst a like appropriation to provide quarters on the North Honan Road Depôt site is marked "A."

Sinza Station—Chinese Quarters.—As it is unlikely that this work can be proceeded with during the current year, the nominal appropriation of Tls. 100 is marked "C."

Bubbling Well Station.—In view of the improbability of the Council being able to acquire additional land at this Station and the inadvisability of intensively developing this leased site, this matter will be further considered before expenditure on alterations and extensions to the existing building is incurred. In order, however, that this provision should not be excised from the Budget, the nominal appropriation of Tls. 100 is marked "A."

Gordon Road Station—Extensions.—An appropriation of Tls. 13,000, representing the balance of cost for these extensions, is marked "A."

Louza Station—Alterations (Tls. 7,000).—It is considered that the provision of new office accommodation at this Station should be deferred and the appropriation is marked "C."

Pootoo Road Station—Alterations.—A nominal appropriation of Tls. 100 for the extension of this Station is considered. Since, however, the site of the Station is leased, it is considered that any further expenditure should be deferred until some definite arrangement with the owners has been reached. Pending settlement of this question with the Naigai Wata Kaisha, this appropriation is marked "C."

Eastern Police Depôt.—An appropriation of Tls. 15,500, representing balance of cost, is marked "A."

Hospital (Portion of cost) Tls. 50,000.—This appropriation is reduced to Tls. 30,000 and is marked "A." It is noted that, with the erection of the Police Hospital and the Nurses Home, the site of the Victoria Nursing Home, exclusive of that portion occupied by the Mental Ward, can be disposed of forthwith.

Goal.—Two appropriations of Tls. 7,500 and Tls. 143,000 representing balance of cost of wall and gates and two cell blocks, respectively, are marked "A." Five appropriations, representing portion of cost for other works are also marked "A," subject to the appropriation of Tls. 50,000 for Hospital being reduced to Tls. 40,000 and that of Tls. 50,000 for Quarters being reduced to Tls. 30,000.

ORDINARY EXPENDITURE.

The Treasurer and Comptroller states that upon examination of the preliminary estimates it was found that provision has been made in the Foreign, Japanese and Sikh Branches for fixed establishments covering a period of three years, and that funds were applied for to recruit up to the new establishments during the current year. As a result of this, the total appropriations are over Tls. 1,000,000 in excess of those provided in last year's Budget. Accordingly, he conferred with the Commissioner of Police with a view to restricting the expenditure to the minimum requirements for the current year as a result of which modified figures have been submitted, which, in the aggregate, now represent an increase of 20.5 per cent. over those of last year. The Commissioner of Police states that he is still engaged in further revising the establishment of the several Branches with a view to effecting a further reduction and having regard to the financial situation he will, in consultation with the Treasurer and Comptroller, cut down requirements to an absolute minimum. At the same time he states that, if effective action is to be taken for the suppression of serious crime so prevalent at this time in the Settlement, he does not consider the present personnel of certain branches originally budgetted for excessive. In his view, the only means by which the activities of armed robbers, kidnappers, etc., can be checked is by maintaining a much larger number of police constantly on the streets for patrol purposes.

In this connection he states that as an experimental measure squads of Chinese and Sikh Police under the charge of foreign officers are now regularly patrolling sectional areas of the Settlement. This system if extended will naturally require a much larger number of foreign police than the present establishment. It is too early yet to judge whether this system will prove an effective deterrent against serious crime. If this should prove not to be the case the increase in the various branches now budgetted for will be subject to modification.

In view of the modifications which may be effected in the strength of certain branches, and as these have a bearing on the remaining items included in the Police Budget, the Treasurer suggests that, until some finality has been reached in this matter, the Committee should defer detailed consideration of the Estimates until the revised figures are available. This proposal is approved.

Stock and Stores.—The various items under this heading are then examined in detail. With regard to an appropriation of Tls. 41,731 for furniture and sundries, it is noted that a reduction of this sum will automatically follow the proposed modifications in the strength of the personnel. Endorsement thereof is accordingly deferred. A reduction of the appropriation of Tls. 23,750 for the purchase of nineteen motor cars will be made in accordance with the Committee's recommendation at its last meeting that only seven cars be purchased during the current year. A supplementary item of Tls. 8,000 representing the cost of a new steam disinfection plant at Ward Road Gaol is approved, and the remaining items are endorsed.

Subject to the above observations and to confirmation of the final figures to be prepared by the Treasurer and Comptroller the estimates of Ordinary and Extraordinary Expenditure of the Police Department are approved.

At the meeting of the Staff Committee held on Tuesday, January 29, 1929, at 4.30 p.m., there are present: Messrs. V. G. Lyman, Chairman, B. C. M. Johnston, Li Ming, J. J. Paterson and Tsuyee Pei.

Public Health Report for January.

The beginning of the New Year was marked by a comparatively high death-rate among both Foreigners and Chinese.

This was due mainly to Pneumonia, in many cases a complication of Influenza, which at the present time is prevalent throughout the world in a comparatively mild form. The last serious pandemic of Influenza was in 1918 and 1919. It was estimated to have caused about 200 million cases and 10 million deaths in less than a year, and was by far the worst visitation of disease upon mankind since the Black Death of the Middle Ages.

The primary cause of Influenza is not yet known with certainty, but there are substantial grounds for believing that Influenza will be grouped among the so-called "virus diseases," like Distemper among animals which, as the result of recent brilliant investigation is now preventable by a specific "virus vaccine."

That stage has not yet been reached with regard to Influenza, but the serious secondary complications as Pneumonia, for which the Influenza virus apparently paves the way, may to some extent be prevented by "bacterial vaccines." One of the commonest modes of infection is directly from person to person, by the finely sprayed secretions of the respiratory passages in coughing, sneezing and even loud talking. The greater the distance these infected particles are carried the greater the dilution of infection and the less the danger. Infection takes place in the nose and throat, and sometimes even in the eyes. The period of incubation is very short, usually less than 48 hours, and the infection is most communicable during the early stages.

Preventive measures are chiefly those which reduce the opportunities of exposure to infection. They are briefly, the early separation of the sick, good ventilation, avoidance of crowds, especially enclosed crowds, as in public vehicles and halls, attention to personal hygiene, and careful nursing.

Measures of personal protection include good nourishing food, with avoidance of alcohol except in the strictest moderation, regular exercise in the open air and ample sleep. An agreeable warmth of the skin, especially warmth of the feet, is one of the great secrets of health, and precaution should be taken against the devitalising effect of chill.

Gargling is especially useful after unavoidable exposure to infection. An efficient and palatable one, is a tablespoonful of compound glycerin of thymol in a tumblerful of warm water. Cheaper, and equally valuable but less agreeable, is one part of permanganate of potash in five thousand parts of warm water.

If, in spite of all precautions, infection occurs, on the first symptoms of illness, with fever, go to bed, keep warm and seek medical advice and treatment. Relapses and complications are much less likely to occur in this way, and other people are saved from infection.

Smallpox increased in prevalence among both Foreigners and Chinese. There were 18 cases among Foreigners, four of which were fatal. Vaccination had never been done in three of the fatal cases, and in the fourth case, that of a patient aged 54, vaccination had not been repeated since childhood.

Of the other cases, the history of vaccination was as follows:

Never vaccinated	4*
Vaccinated in infancy	3
Vaccinated within 3 years	3
Vaccinated within 6 years	2
Vaccinated within 12 years	2

*(2 during incubation period).

Among the Chinese 64 deaths were reported, three from the Central, three from the Northern, 20 from the Western and 38 from the Eastern District. Of the Chinese admitted to the Chinese Isolation Hospital, about half the number were unvaccinated children, while only a small proportion of the adults had been recently vaccinated.

Publicity was given to the free vaccination service of the Public Health Department at the Branch Health Offices, by advertisements in English, Russian, Chinese and Japanese. Altogether 3,617 Chinese and 1,374 Foreigners underwent vaccination. More than half the Chinese were infants and children.

Because of the persistent presence and virulence of Smallpox in China, it is of vital importance for everyone to be efficiently protected by vaccination.

All people coming out to the East for the first time, should be efficiently vaccinated on or before arrival and afterwards every three years in order to maintain a high immunity.

The inspection of pork in Chinese slaughterhouses in the Settlement, which was begun last November, in addition to that in the Municipal Slaughterhouse, proceeded smoothly, over 38,000 pigs being killed and inspected during the month. A large quantity of rejected pork found exposed for sale in shops in the Settlement, was confiscated and the licensees prosecuted in the Provisional Court, where fines of $10 to $30 were inflicted.

There were twenty-two requests for Municipal Nurses for private cases, but owing to shortage of the Municipal Nursing Staff, it was regretfully necessary to refuse twenty of these requests.

Here follow Tables of Vital Statistics, Communicable Diseases and of the work of the Food, Dairies and Markets Division, Sanitation Division, Tuberculosis and Venereal Diseases Clinics and Municipal Laboratories, Hospitals and Slaughterhouse.

Commissioner of Public Health.

*Hardness determinations are by acid and alkali. Not by soap method. The chlorine in chlorides figure showed normal variations during the greater part of the month but some infiltration of sea water was evident between the 14th and the 19th. The maximum figure noted during this period was 15.5 parts per 100,000. Free chlorine varied between 0.13 and 0.30 parts per million in samples taken in the laboratory. In samples taken at other points the free chlorine varied between 0.06 and 0.30 parts per million. Nitrites have been absent and saline ammonia figures have been abnormally high.

Bacteriological Examination.—24 samples of Shanghai Waterworks water were examined for bacterial contamination. In one of these 10 coliforms per litre, of the B. coli group, were found. In each of the other 23 samples, which included six taken from the mains, no coliform organisms were present in the 120 cc examined. These results show the water to be of a satisfactory standard.

Report on Analysis.—Results of analysis show satisfactory purification.

Electricity Department.

At a meeting of the Council held on Wednesday, February 20, 1929, the Chairman informed Members that he had been approached by certain financial groups who contemplate making an offer to purchase the Electricity Department as a going concern, and who wish to ascertain the terms on which the Council will be prepared to grant a franchise. He informed Members that he was not himself in a position to give the desired information, and suggests that the Council should consider the matter in its broadest aspect.

In his own view the prospective purchasers should in the first instance meet the Engineer-in-Chief and Manager of the Electricity Department and the Treasurer and Comptroller, and afterwards the relative proposals should be examined by a small committee, the members of which would act as business advisers to the Council on this most important subject.

He further suggests that the Committee should consist of one Japanese, two American, and two British residents, and that the Engineer-in-Chief and Manager and the Treasurer and Comptroller should be appointed to assist the Committee in their deliberations.

These proposals are endorsed by the Council.

The Special Committee referred to is constituted as follows:—

Mr. A. W. BURKILL,
Mr. F. N. MATTHEWS,
Major ARTHUR BASSETT,
Mr. O. G. STEEN,
Mr. T. SAITO.

Sale of Refreshments.

As heretofore the privilege is granted with the usual conditions for the convenience and protection of the public imposed. With the exception of light beer, no alcoholic beverages are supplied.

Excerpts from Minutes.

At the meeting of the Watch Committee held on Wednesday, January 30, 1929, at 4.30 p.m., there are present: Messrs. S. Fessenden, V. G. Lyman, D. C. Ch'en, K. Fukushima, S. L. Hsu and J. J. Paterson.

At the meeting of the Foreign Education Committee held on Monday, February 4, 1929, at 4.30 p.m., there are present: Mrs. N. Leslie, Mrs. H. Martin Little, Mr. V. G. Lyman and Mr. H. Lipson Ward.

Election of Chairman.—On the proposal of Mr. Lyman, Mr. H. Lipson Ward is elected Chairman of Committee.

The Minutes of the last meeting are confirmed and signed.

Junior School for Boys—Additional Accommodation.—In view of the fact that there was no land then available on which to erect a proposed additional hut for the Junior School for Boys, and that there remained in the Extraordinary Budget an item for a permanent Junior School for Boys, the Commissioner of Public Works has excised Tls. 3,000 from the Extraordinary Estimates as submitted by the Headmaster. It is recommended that the item be provisionally restored to the Budget as a supplementary vote, and that enquiries be made as to whether or not space for the additional accommodation is now available in the adjoining camp, whereupon a further recommendation will be made as to the desirability of further accommodation, which members consider of urgent necessity.

At the meeting of the Health Committee held on Monday, February 4, 1929, at 4.30 p.m. there are present: Messrs. J. J. Paterson, Chairman, L. C. Chien, S. L. Hsu and Dr. F. M. Neild.

The Minutes of the last meeting are confirmed and signed.

BUDGET 1929.

EXTRAORDINARY EXPENDITURE.

Following the usual procedure the appropriations included in the estimates of extraordinary expenditure are considered with the explanatory notes of the Commissioner of Public Works and are classified as follows:—

"A" Those which the Council has already approved or are considered urgent.

"B" Those considered desirable to be carried out if funds permit.

"C" Those for which no appropriation should be made this year.

The Treasurer and Comptroller states that he has conferred with the Commissioners of Public Health and Public Works and that the various items included in the estimates of extraordinary expenditure have been tentatively classified for members' approval.

LAND.

Owing to the improbability of being able to acquire the necessary land during the current year nominal appropriations in respect of the following sites are marked "C."

Robison and Ferry Roads.

Markham and Haiphong Roads.

Yuenfong Road and Market Street.

Lincheng and Hochien Roads.

Latrine Sites.—An appropriation of Tls. 10,000 for the provision of latrine sites is marked "A" to permit acquisition as and when opportunity affords.

BUILDINGS.

Abattoir (portion of cost) Tls. 50,000.—Approval having already been given for this building an appropriation of Tls. 50,000, representing portion of cost thereof, is marked "A" to enable the work to be commenced as soon as the site is cleared.

Pig Slaughterhouse.—An appropriation of Tls. 3,500 representing the balance of cost of this work is marked "A" as is also an appropriation of Tls. 3,000 for extensions thereto which are regarded as very necessary by the Commissioner of Public Health.

Tuberculosis Hospital.—To complete the hospital scheme so as to enable it to be independent of outside labour an appropriation of Tls. 4,000 for watchmen's house and laundry is inserted. In connection with a supplementary estimate submitted, the Commissioner of Public Works states that certain work for which provision was made in last year's Budget has not been completed. The appropriation now inserted should therefore be increased to Tls. 29,000. The amended appropriation is marked "A."

Isolation Hospital.—A nominal appropriation of Tls. 100 for the erection of a boundary wall which will be required in the event of the sale of the South portion of this site is marked "C."

Eastern District Office.—An appropriation of Tls. 2,500 for a district office to be erected in the new Pingliang Road market is marked "A."

Northern District Branch Health Office and Ambulance Garages.—An appropriation of Tls. 30,000 for a building to replace the present ambulance garage which is inadequate and which will be demolished in the event of the sale of the site, and for the erection of a branch health office, provision for which was included in the preliminary estimates for last year, is marked "C."

Hungjao Cemetery. — Two nominal appropriations of Tls. 100 for the provision of Gatehouse and Chapel respectively are marked "C" since it is unlikely that this work will be proceeded with during the current year.

Markets—Floochow Road.—The site for this market, which will partially replace the existing Maloo market, having been acquired, the building appropriation is increased to Tls. 170,000 and is marked "A."

Brenan Piece.—The construction of an open market on this site has already been approved by the Council and an appropriation of Tls.

6,000 to enable this land to be covered with concrete and drained is marked "A."

Wuchow Road.—To meet the increasing demand for space an appropriation of Tls. 10,000 for the erection of an additional floor to this market is marked "A."

As no sites are at present available, nominal building appropriations in respect of the following markets are marked "C."

Robison and Ferry Roads.

Yuenfong Road and Market Street.

Tientsin Road—Woofooloong.

East Hongkew.

ORDINARY EXPENDITURE.

The Treasurer and Comptroller states that apart from the matters referred to in his report which has been furnished to members the estimates as drawn call for little comment. It will be noted that whilst expenditure under Office is approximately 8 per cent. in excess of last year's expenditure, the appropriation for Hospitals remains practically the same. With regard to certain staff proposals these will be the subject of consideration by the Staff Committee in due course whereafter any necessary modifications will be made. The nursing staff requirements are framed on a basis decided upon following examination of the recommendations put forward by the Municipal Economy Committee.

Stock and Stores.—A total appropriation of Tls. 20,800 is shown under this heading and the various items are examined in detail and approved. With regard to the appropriation for the purchase of four Ford cars, it is noted that the purchase of one of these is contingent upon the appointment of a veterinary surgeon, which has not yet been approved by the Council. An appropriation of Tls. 4,500 for the provision of a motor ambulance is included and in a report submitted the Commissioner of Public Health recommends that as the shortage of ambulances is causing difficulty in meeting calls for their services one be purchased as soon as the necessary estimate can be obtained. A member alludes to the delay which on occasion he has experienced in obtaining an ambulance and strongly supports the proposal that the one budgetted for should be obtained as soon as possible. The Commissioner's recommendation is accordingly endorsed. In this connection the Commissioner of Public Health states that he has received a request from the authorities of the Country Hospital that to enable them to obtain the services of an ambulance more quickly than at present, one or two should be garaged at the Hospital. He is in favour of this proposal and will shortly submit a report thereon.

In a supplementary report, the Commissioner of Public Health recommends the purchase of a mechanical refrigerating plant for the foreign and Chinese Isolation Hospitals at a cost of Tls. 2,400. This is required primarily for the purpose of keeping sera, etc., at a uniform temperature. Members endorse the Commissioner's views as to the necessity of this and the appropriation is accordingly endorsed.

Subject to the above observations and to adjustment as usual by the Treasurer and Comptroller, the departmental estimates of extraordinary and ordinary expenditure for 1929 are approved for submission to the Finance Committee.

At the meeting of the Works Committee held on Tuesday, February 5, 1929, at 4 p.m., there are present: Messrs. A. D. Bell, Chairman, H. E. Arnhold, W. P. Lambe and L. T. Yuan.

The Minutes of the last meeting are confirmed and signed.

Budget 1929 — Extraordinary Expenditure—Land and Buildings.—The various appropriations recommended by the Watch, Health and Education Committees for inclusion in the current year's estimates are examined in detail and endorsed for submission to the Finance Committee.

At the meeting of the Council held on Wednesday, February 6, 1929, at 4.30 p.m., there are present: Messrs. S. Fessenden, Chairman, A. D. Bell, Vice-chairman, H. E. Arnhold, K. Fukushima, T. Funatsu, B. C. M. Johnston, W. P. Lambe, V. G. Lyman, J. J. Paterson, Tsuyee Pei and S. Z. Zau.

The Minutes of the last meeting are read and confirmed, and signed by the Chairman.

The Minutes of the meeting of the Electricity Committee of January 25 are submitted, and, subject to certain observations, are confirmed.

The Minutes of the meeting of the Watch Committee of January 18 and 25 are submitted, and, subject to reference to the Finance Committee, are confirmed.

The Minutes of the meeting of the Library Committee of January 23 are submitted, and, subject to reference to the Finance Committee of the section relating to the Annual Estimates and to the following observations, are confirmed.

Reading Room.—The Committee's recommendation that to prevent the theft of magazines and papers from the Reading Room by loafers, restrictions should be imposed similar to those in force in Public Parks, is considered. Members are averse to the proposal that a fee should be charged for admission to the Reading Room and consider that the cooperation of the Police stationed in the vicinity of the Library should be solicited in order to prevent the theft of magazines and papers.

Supply of Chinese Books.—A member's suggestion that some Chinese books should be acquired for the Library and funds provided therefor in the current year's Budget, the selection of such books to be left to the Chinese Education Committee, will be referred to the Library Committee for its views.

The Minutes of the meeting of the Staff Committee of January 29 and February 1, are submitted and confirmed.

Boy Scouts Association—Assistance from Municipal Funds.—An application on behalf of the Boy Scouts Association for a financial grant from the Council in aid of their movement is approved, and it is decided that a grant of Tls. 2,000 be included in the Annual Estimates. It will, however, be made clear that a grant of similar amount will not necessarily be made in succeeding years.

Publication of Report of Municipal Economy Committee. — Members approve publication of the Municipal Economy Committee's Report in the form of a special Gazette to be issued on Saturday, February 9.

The Municipal Gazette for Friday, February 8, is submitted in proof and authorized for publication.

At the meeting of the Watch Committee held on Friday, February 8, 1929, at 4.30 p.m., there are present: Messrs. S. Fessenden, V. G. Lyman, D. C. Ch'en, S. L. Hsu and J. J. Paterson.

Crime.—China New Year usually brings an increase in crime and this year has been no exception to the rule although there has been considerably less crime than in the corresponding month of last year. The large number of habitual criminals now at large is a great source of danger to the Settlement, particularly in regard to armed robbery, and unless some steps are taken to reintroduce the order of "expulsion" an increase in crimes of violence can only be expected. The total number of habitual offenders arrested during the month was 138 and when it is considered that all these criminals have four or more convictions already recorded against them, the necessity of the reintroduction of the sentence of "expulsion" can readily be understood.

Reports continue to be received of armed robbers holding up crowds of inmates of houses who are robbed without any resistance, and, it would not be out of place to again remind residents that a police whistle will often save the loss of valuable property and assist the Police in their endeavours to arrest criminals. These whistles are cheap and can be purchased in most hardware shops in the Settlement.

Murder and Attempted Murder.—During the month three murders were committed, two in the Settlement and one outside of limits. Brief details of these crimes are as follow:—

On January 1 an unknown male Chinese was found lying on Jernigan Road, O.O.L., suffering from bullet wounds which resulted in his death. It is suspected that deceased was shot and thrown from a motor car which was observed driving away from the scene. On January 6 a Chinese of the loafer class was fatally shot in the Yangtszepoo district. Deceased who had recently arrived in Shanghai was suspected of being wanted by the Kompo Authorities for armed robbery. On January 7 a Chinese shopmaster was fatally wounded on Manila Road when resisting armed robbers.

Seventeen persons arrested during the month on charges of murder and attempted murder were dealt with. Three were handed over to the Chinese Authorities, the charges against two others withdrawn and the remainder are on remand. With the exception of the persons handed over to the Chinese Police, the above arrests were made in regard to the following six cases of murder:—

1. The murder of a Belgian subject, A Bievez, by armed robbers on December 31, 1928, at a brick factory on Brenan Road, O.O.L. (Five persons are now charged with this crime).

2. The murder of Miss Thompson on Keswick Road on October 3, 1928. The arrest of the suspected leader and actual murderer has now been effected.

3. The murder of a Chinese shop master in the Sinza district on January 7.

4. The murder of a Chinese foreman at the New Engineering Works in the Yangtszepoo district on December 17, 1928.

5. The murder of a hawker in the Hongkew district on May 10, 1928, following a gambling dispute.

6. The murder of a mill foreman in the mill district on September 27, 1927, and the attempted murder of a ship's stoker off Point Road on October 28, 1928.

Of nine persons on remand at the end of December 1928, one was sentenced to death, four to imprisonment, two acquitted and the charges against two others withdrawn. One of the latter was sentenced to imprisonment for a case of attempted armed robbery.

On October 26 a Chinese Police Sergeant, accompanied by a Chinese Constable, attempted to arrest a suspect in Brenan Village, O.O.L. The man took refuge in a house followed by the Police Sergeant firing his pistol, the bullets hit and killed a Chinese woman and seriously wounded a young boy. The suspect, who was unarmed, was also wounded but managed to escape and was later found in a private hospital and arrested. As no evidence could be found against him he was eventually released. The C. P. Sergeant and Constable were sent by the Jessfield Police to the City for enquiry and later released on security. They were subsequently sent over to give evidence and were detained by the City Police and on December 6 were charged at the Shanghai District Court with unjustifiable shooting and sentenced to four years and two years and six months imprisonment respectively. An appeal was filed by the Municipal Police Prosecutor, which, after consultation with the Constables and their relatives, was withdrawn.

Manslaughter.—One case was recorded under this heading wherein a Chinese on January 29 surrendered himself for being concerned with others in causing the death of a hawker in the Pootoo Road district by striking him with an iron bar on November 12, 1927. The assault was the outcome of a case of extortion in which deceased was the victim.

Constable Chaplin who was charged at H. B. M's Supreme Court with manslaughter of a male Chinese in the Shanghai Defence Force Canteen, 314 Ward Road, on December 12, was acquitted.

Suicides.—Five cases of suicide occurred in the Settlement during the month.

Armed Abduction.—Six reports under this heading were received during the month. On January 4, a gold shop manager when leaving his business on Nanking Road accompanied by a friend was suddenly attacked by five armed men who forced complainant and friend into his motor car and ordered the chauffeur to proceed to the Western district. On arrival at Great Western Road the chauffeur, his assistant and complainant's friend were ordered to alight and the kidnappers made off with their victim. Two days later complainant returned to his shop and when interviewed by the Police stated that he had escaped while his guards were asleep. It is suspected, however, that ransom was paid to the kidnappers. On January 7, a school boy when walking on Shanhaikwan Road, was seized by armed men and taken away in a waiting motor car. The occurrence was witnessed by a Russian bodyguard who raised an alarm and gave chase, firing two shots one of which unfortunately killed a barber's assistant. The Police finally arrested one of the kidnappers in a shop where he had taken refuge. Meanwhile the car with the school boy and other members of the gang crashed into a ricsha on Sinza Road, was abandoned, the boy escaped and returned to school. The third case occurred on January 10, when three men at the point of the pistol abducted the No. 2 Compradore of a steamship from Chungking. A week later complainant escaped and reported the matter to the French Police who were successful in arresting two of the kidnappers. On January 14 the accountant of a Cotton Mill, while proceeding along Taku Road in his private ricsha, was held up by two armed men and carried off in a waiting motor car which had been hired from a garage and stolen from the chauffeur. On January 26, as a gold-broker with his chauffeur was about to leave the compound of his residence in the Bubbling Well district, three armed men appeared, intimidated the chauffeur and drove off with complainant. On January 29 armed men carried off the son, aged 4 years, of a lawyer's clerk from a dwelling house in the West Hongkew district.

Two persons abducted in December have since gained their liberty. One, an employee of the Chung Hwa Book Company, who was kidnapped on Hardoon Road, wrote to his son stating that he had escaped his guards and was in Hangchow but a Chinese now in custody states that complainant was released after paying ransom. The second was the gold-broker who was kidnapped on Sinza Road who also stated that he had escaped by bribing one of his captors, but here again it is believed that ransom was paid to the kidnappers. In addition, the Municipal Police when raiding kidnapping dens rescued two persons, one the two years old son of a rice merchant who was kidnapped in the Gordon Road district on November 29, 1928, while in the care of his amah and the other a Chinese who had been kidnapped from Ninghai on November 21, 1928.

Of seventy-one persons arrested in connection with armed kidnapping, one was sentenced to death, two handed over to the Chinese Authorities, eight dismissed for lack of evidence and sixty are still on remand.

Two persons who were arrested for making a false report to the effect that a case of armed kidnapping had occurred on Seward Road on January 20, were sentenced to six and eight months imprisonment respectively.

Of seventy-four persons on remand at the end of December, 1928, eleven were sentenced to death; fifteen to imprisonment, four handed over to the Chinese Authorities, the charge against eight withdrawn, twelve acquitted and twenty-four are still on remand.

Two cases were ordered by the Provincial Government of Kiangsu to be reheard. The first case was that of a Chinese sentenced in August, 1928, to nineteen years imprisonment for armed robbery, the decision was altered and the death penalty inflicted. In the second case four armed kidnappers were sentenced in August, 1928, three to life imprisonment and one to ten years imprisonment. At the rehearing two were sentenced to death and two to life imprisonment.

A Chinese sentenced in September, 1928, to life imprisonment for armed kidnapping also appealed, the former judgment was quashed and the accused sentenced to death.

One case of kidnapping occurred in which no arms were used. Complainant, assistant manager of a cotton mill in the Pootoo Road district, stated that on January 19, he was accosted by three men on Mokanshan Road, who, after rendering him unconscious by means of chloroform, took him to a boat on a creek—whereabouts unknown—from which he succeeded in escaping three days after while momentarily left unguarded.

Two persons were arrested in connection with cases of abduction in which no arms were used; one was handed over to the Chinese Authorities and the other was cautioned and discharged.

Seven persons on remand at the end of last month charged with offences under this heading and further with intent to cause children to be brought into a state of slavery, were dealt with. Five (against one of whom thirteen charges were preferred) were sentenced to imprisonment, one fined and one died in hospital.

Armed Robbery.—Eighty cases of armed robbery were recorded during the month; sixty-five from premises and fifteen on the highway, a decrease of fifty-nine over the reports recorded during the corresponding period of last year. Shots were fired by robbers in five cases in one of which a Chinese was fatally wounded.

In regard to the foregoing and reports of armed robberies occurring prior to January 1, fifty persons, ten of whom were in possession of firearms, were arrested. Seventeen were sentenced to imprisonment, one acquitted and thirty-two are on remand. In addition, a robber armed with a loaded pistol was shot dead while resisting arrest.

Fifty-eight persons, eighteen of whom were in possession of firearms, were arrested for being members of armed robber gangs. One was sentenced to imprisonment; the charges against five others withdrawn and the remainder are awaiting trial.

Of one hundred and eighteen persons on remand at the end of December, 1928, charged with armed robbery and being members of armed robbers gangs, eighty-eight were dealt with as follows:—Sixty-three were sentenced to imprisonment; seven handed over to the Chinese Authorities; the charges against two withdrawn; sixteen acquitted and thirty are still on remand.

Four persons on remand at the end of 1928, charged with possession of firearms for an unlawful purpose were found guilty on various counts of armed robbery and sentenced accordingly.

At the rehearing of a case ordered by the Provincial Government of Kiangsu in which two Chinese had been sentenced to death in December, 1927, for armed robbery, the sentence against one was commuted to fifteen years imprisonment.

Seven persons, four of whom were wanted in connection with armed robberies in the French Concession and three in connection with a case of piracy committed in Chinese controlled territory, were arrested in the Settlement and handed over to the Authorities concerned.

Eleven cases of unarmed robbery were recorded in connection with which seventeen persons were arrested, four were sentenced to imprisonment, five dismissed for lack of evidence and the remainder are on remand.

Threatening Letter Cases.—Thirteen persons were arrested for offences committed under this heading; one was sentenced to imprisonment, two handed over to the French Police, one dismissed and the remainder are on remand.

Ten persons on remand on December 31, 1928, were dealt with: Eight, one of whom was further charged with armed kidnapping, were sentenced to imprisonment and two acquitted.

In a case wherein a Chinese appealed against a sentence of thirteen years imprisonment imposed in November 1928 for demanding money by means of threatening letters, the former judgment was altered to life imprisonment.

Executions.—Nine persons arrested in connection with armed kidnapping committed in the Settlement were handed over to and executed by the Chinese Authorities during the month.

Property Stolen.—During the month 512 reports of property stolen were received, representing an estimated loss of $405,259.30. These were composed as follows: 277 cases of burglary, 9 of house-breaking, 12 of garage and godownbreaking, 20 of shop and office breaking, 11 of fraud, 19 of embezzlement, 1 of extortion, 5 of shoplifting and 298 of larceny. In comparison with the corresponding month of 1928, this shows a decrease of 65 cases. Successful investigations were made in 231 cases, resulting in the recovery of property valued at $42,089,33. Included in these figures are 63 arrests for pocket-picking and snatching, 49 being persons identified as old offenders. In addition to the foregoing, recoveries to the extent of $5,137.50 were made in regard to cases committed prior to January 1. Ten cases reported as having occurred outside Settlement limits and two in which property was lost, were also successfully dealt with.

In connection with the circulation of description of property stolen, the Press Section printed 39,040 circulars which were distributed among pawnshops, goldsmith's shops, secondhand shops, etc. 2,100 wanted notices were also printed by this section.

Trafficking in Firearms.—Five persons were arrested for trafficking in firearms, of whom one was sentenced to imprisonment, one fined and three remanded. Of sixteen persons arrested for being in possession of firearms for an unlawful purpose, four were sentenced to imprisonment, one fined, two dismissed and nine are on remand. Of seven Chinese on remand at the end of December, four were sentenced to imprisonment, two fined and one dismissed.

Crime Reported Beyond Settlement Limits.—According to the Chinese Press sixteen cases of armed robbery and piracy, one of armed abduction and one attempted armed abduction occurred in Chinese controlled territory. Two persons were executed for armed kidnapping beyond Settlement limits.

Political. — The outstanding feature during the month was the convention of the Military Reorganization and Disbandment Conference at Nanking. This conference was formally inaugurated on January 1, in the presence of the leading Generals with the exception of Li Chi-sen, who arrived too late, and Pei Chung-hsi who did not attend. At the inaugural meeting General Chiang Kai-shek representing the Disbandment Committee declared that military leaders would carry out the decisions reached at the Conference and would organize a first class Army, Navy, and Air Force within the next fifteen years. The conference opened on January 7, and lasted until January 25, when it was declared closed and its decisions handed over to a special disbandment committee for execution. The gist of the programme submitted and reported to have been accepted by the conference is as follows:—

1. The entire fighting force to be reduced to half, or 65 divisions totalling 800,000 men.

2. The Government to have direct control of all Armies of the country; all posts of group commanders-in-chief and other high military commanders to be abolished.

3. All arsenals in the country to be under the control of the Central Government.

4. Disbandment programme to be carried out in six geographical regions, the first four corresponding to the first four group Armies, the fifth in Manchuria and the sixth in Szechuen, Yunnan and Kweichow.

5. A Disbandment Committee, composed of the representatives of the original group Army Commanders, and those of the party headquarters and the National Government, to be in charge of the disbandment arrangements.

6. No troop movement to be permitted without the express authorization of the disbandment committee.

7. The annual expenditure for soldiers to be limited to $192,000,000. (41 per cent. of Government revenue), to be paid by the Ministry of Finance to the Commanders concerned.

8. No unauthorized requisition of military expenses from the local authorities to be allowed.

9. The disbandment of soldiers and officers to be carried out in the following manner:—

(a) All officers and soldiers who are too old and who desire to return home to be retired on pension according to their rank.

(b) All officers above the rank of major desiring to pursue further study to be granted facilities for same.

(c) Minor officers to be trained as supervisors in the Government's various construction schemes.

Communism.—There are indications that the Chinese Communist Party and its masters in Moscow, in addition to spreading their doctrine among the masses, are giving special attention to the question of utilizing disbanded soldiery as a striking force in their campaign to create disorder in China.

A recent uprising in southern Honan where bands of disbanded soldiers laid waste many villages is attributed to communistic leadership, and reports of similar outbreaks in other provinces are numerous. Due to the chaotic conditions at present prevailing in many parts of the interior, it is difficult, if not impossible, to distinguish between pure banditry and pillage engineered by the "reds" with the aid of such soldiery.

One case is recorded where on the night of January 21/22 a band of about one hundred salt smugglers and tufeis under the guise of communists attacked Chuang Ka Hung Village near Fengsien in Pootung hinterland, setting fire to a number of houses and killing thirty persons. The affair was eventually suppressed by water and land police and volunteers in the area and twenty members of the band were shot down. Immediately order had been restored it was found that communistic literature had been scattered about the village and slogans of a like nature written on the walls of houses.

Handbills supplied by the Communist Party and disseminated during the month contained the usual stereotype exhortations to overthrow law and order. Raids by the Municipal Police on suspected communistic bases resulted in the arrest of eight persons, five of whom were ordered by the Provisional Court to be hand over to the Chinese Authorities while the case against the remaining three has not yet concluded.

On January 7, a "Christian" meeting under the auspices of the Shanghai Human Mutual Relief Association, was in progress in the hall of the Chinese Y.M.C.A. when proceedings were cut short by the Y.M.C.A. Secretary, as a result of his receiving information that the promotors of the meeting were known to be communistic. The audience dispersed leaving behind a quantity of literature of an inflammatory nature. Later on the same day the Municipal Police raided a base of the S.H.M.R.A. at 1642 Haining Road and seized a large quantity of communistic literature and a small printing press, confiscation of which was subsequently ordered by the Provisional Court.

Anti-Japanese Boycott. — This movement continues unabated and the daily seizures of Japanese goods in Chinese territory are on the increase. On January 13, a Chinese carrying on business in the Settlement was arrested in Chinese territory on a charge of dealing with Japanese goods and subsequently paraded through the streets of Nantao as a traitorous merchant. After two weeks detention he secured his release by paying a fine of $10,000.

Local agitation has received a strong impetus through the death of a coolie in Hankow after he had been knocked down by a Japanese artillery carriage and $1,000 was remitted by the Shanghai anti-Japanese Association to Hankow in support of a movement there to declare a general strike. A plan to send a further $5,000 from the proceeds of the sale of Japanese goods seized by pickets did not materialize. Measures to extend the boycott to the Settlement have been receiving the attention of the anti-Japanese Society but so far no attempt has been made to put these into execution.

Until a settlement is reached on the Tsinan incident and other Sino-Japanese matters, there is little likelihood of the boycott being relaxed.

Russian Affairs.—In consequence of the demise on January 6 of Grand Duke Nikolai Nikolaevich at Nice, France, the local white Russian Colony postponed all celebrations in connection with the Russian New Year (old calendar). Memorial services were held in all Russian churches on January 9 and all Russian Political organizations have declared a mourning period of 45 days during which their members will wear black arm bands.

On January 26, a group of 45 Russian ex-soldiers of Marshal Chang Chung-chang's army, who were captured and eventually pardoned by Marshal Feng Yu-hsiang, arrived here under escort and were taken to the Military Headquarters at Lunghwa where they were the same day released. These men, the majority of whom are sick through long confinement and lack of nourishment, are now being provided with food and lodging on premises attached to the Russian Church, Chapei, at the expense of the local Russian community.

Labour.—There were in January twelve strikes of which the following six affected the Settlement area:—

Wei Lung Woollen Weaving Factory, 125 East Yuhang Road (36 hands).

Sun Sun Company, 145 Nanking Road (945 hands).

South China Printing Company, 7/7a Thorburn Road (40 hands).

Universal Leaf Tobacco Company, 52 Yulin Road (126 hands).

N.W.K. No. 9 Mill, 60 Markham Road (18 hands).

N.W.K. No. 7 Mill, 14 West Soochow Road (1,300 hands).

Of the total number of strikes, five resulted from demands for increased wages and better working conditions and the remainder from dismissal of workers, cutting down of wages and sympathy towards fellow-workers.

Statistics for the month are as follows:

Area	No. of strikes	No of hands	No. of working days
Settlement	6	2,465	28,538
French Concession	1	40	720
Chinese controlled territory	4	2,600	2,160
All three areas	1	3,000	39,000
Total	12	8,105	70,418
Total for the corresponding month of 1928	9	21,681	200,034

The foregoing statistics do not include 3,000 workers of the Nanyang Bros. Tobacco Factory at Pootung, which closed down on January 1, owing to trade depression. On that date an offer by the Management of a gratuity of two months' wages was rejected by the workers who took possession of the factory and demanded six months' wages. On January 4, some 70 of these workers intruded into the main factory's office at No. 142 East Seward Road and demanded the reopening of the branch at Pootung or failing that the payment of six months' wages. The intruders behaved in a very recalcitrant manner but were ultimately persuaded to leave and to appoint delegates to negotiate with the management. They, however, remained in the factory compound all night and had to be ejected by the Police the following morning. The workers remained in the Pootung Factory until February 1, when they took their departure after receiving an assurance that the matter of gratuities would receive the sympathetic consideration of the management.

On January 5, 575 employees of the Sun Sun Company, 145 Nanking Road, struck work to enforce a set of demands for increased wages and better working conditions. They resumed on February 1, after several concessions had been made to them. In the case of the Nanyang Bros. Tobacco Factory, Pootung, and the Sun Sun Co., agitators conducted considerable anti-capitalist propaganda at meetings and in the Chinese press.

The strike of the 3,000 employees in foreign tailoring establishments who struck work on December 30, as a protest against the dismissal of three of their colleagues by the Woo Chong Tailor Shop, 8 North Szechuen Road, was protracted until January 21, when they resumed after the employers had agreed to give the dismissed men gratuities of from 6 to 12 months' wages and half wages to the others for the period of the strike. There is ample evidence that this strike was engineered by agitators. The action of the Social Bureau in detaining for several hours two delegates of the Tailor Shop Proprietors' Federation who refused to be coerced into signing an agreement unfavourable to them is significant, especially as these two men are residents of the Settlement.

On January 27, 1,000 female workers of the Pootung Factory of the British Cigarette Company struck work as a protest against the dismissal of a shroff but resumed unconditionally on January 28.

Rice.—The average price of Chinese rice for the month of January, 1929, was $12.96 per picul as compared with $11.78 per picul in the corresponding month of 1928.

Traffic.—Court proceedings were instituted in 435 (38 Foreigners and 397 Chinese) of 1,477 cases of traffic offences received during the month against the owners and/or drivers of vehicles. The remainder were dealt with by letter of warning or entry of caution on their records. The following is a summary of work performed by the Police during January in connection with the issue of motor vehicle driving licenses:—

Traffic Signal Lights, installed at Yu Yuen and Jessfield Roads crossing, were taken into use on the 25th of the month and two further lights were added to those already installed at the Bund and Nanking Road junction on the 26th of the month.

Identification Office.—During the month 1,172 prisoners' records passed through this office for identification prior to the prisoners going to Court by trial out of which number 339 were identified as having a previous conviction or convictions. Racecourse Ditch.

Shanghai, February 2, 1929.

SIR,—At a meeting of our House Committee held yesterday afternoon, I was instructed to address you on the subject of the open ditch which runs along the south side of Bubbling Well Road immediately opposite this building. Attention was called to the fact that one of our residents had fallen in to this ditch late one evening while attending to his car, and had experienced considerable difficulty in getting out owing to the steepness of the concrete side. One of the members of the Committee had also witnessed a Chinese who had fallen in, vainly endeavouring to get out. It was remarked that the presence of this uncovered ditch was a serious menace to the safety of the public and also that one striking his head in falling might very easily drown before rescue could reach him.

We would request, therefore, that steps be taken to safeguard the public against the danger which this open ditch constitutes at present.

Faithfully yours,
G. A FITCH,
General Secretary,
Foreign Young Men's Christian Association.

S. M. EDWARDS, Esq.,
Secretary,
Municipal Council.

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, February 22, 1929.

SIR,—I am directed to acknowledge receipt of your letter of February 2, representing the danger to the public attendant upon the open ditch bounding the Racecourse along the south side of Bubbling Well Road.

In reply, I am directed to inform you that, as a result of consideration of this matter, it has been decided to erect a single rail fence as a means of protection to the public.

I am, Sir,
Your obedient servant,
S. M. EDWARDS,
Secretary.

G. A. FITCH, Esq.,
General Secretary,
Foreign Young Men's Christian Association.

Land Commission.

CASE No. 185.

Chapoo Road.—Cadastral Lot No. 877, Northern District, heard in the Council Chamber on Friday, December 14, 1928, at 4 p.m.

PROCEEDINGS.

Messrs. Davies and Brooke are the registered Owners, and as Mr. J. T. W. Brooke is one of the Land Commissioners, Mr. H. G. Robinson informs the Meeting that this gentleman will not attend and that Mr. M. B. Brown of Messrs. White-Cooper & Co., will present their Case. Mr. J. R. Jones, Deputy Secretary, appears for the Council, Mr. H. F. Lewis of the Public Works Department being in attendance.

For the registered Owners, Mr. Brown requests that the beneficial Owner, Mr. Cheng Zung Yea be permitted to attend the proceedings also a representative of Messrs. Davies & Brooke, in case questions be raised during the hearing, relating to data placed before the Commissioners.

In outlining his case, Mr. Brown reads the letter from his clients, under date August 6, 1928, to the Council and points out that, whereas his clients has calculated Tls. 54,356 per mow to be the value of the land and agrees to deduction of 1/3rd for betterment in respect of a strip to bring the width of Chapoo Road up to 30 feet, plus the customary 10 per cent. for compulsory surrender, the Council is only prepared to offer at the rate of Tls. 38,000 per mow less 1/3rd. for betterment as to mow 0.048 plus 10 per cent. for compulsory surrender.

He also submits that a point of importance is the reduction of road frontage area which is used entirely for the erection of shops; for whereas prior to the widening of Chapoo Road, the property consisted of a rectangular corner measuring 86 feet, by the rounding off of the corner the area is reduced to 62 feet so that his clients suffer a worsement, as it also decreases the back area of the property.

Further he draws the attention of the Commissioners to Cad. Lot No. 878, which was purchased early this year—and at that time unregistered land—on the basis of Tls. 40,000 per mow. Therefore registered land on the corner of Chapoo and Woochang roads was worth far more.

For the Council Mr. Jones withdraws the offer made to Messrs. Davies & Brooke in their letter dated August 23, 1928, in the sum of Tls. 2,968.00 and states that this offer of compensation is now reduced to Tls. 2,484.00.

The point that the Commissioners must take into consideration is the increase or decrease in value of the remainder of the property after the excision has been made.

He points out that the area required for the road widening only amounts to 1/9th of the lots taken as a whole and calculating on the assessed value of the three lots forming the property, Tls. 31,800 per mow is the average assessed value.

He mentions that Mr. Brown's claim is wrong in principle and argues that calculating anticipated rentals less percentage for outgoings the value of the land to be surrendered could only be worth at the rate of Tls. 33,000 per mow over the whole three lots, for the betterment extends over the interior portion of the property.

Mr. Brown reiterates that he does not think it fair for the Council to consider the three lots in basing their argument, and for his clients withdraws their amended claim of Tls. 3,592.60 made on August 31, 1928, and reverts to their original figure of Tls. 4,239.25 under date August 6, 1928.

The representative of Messrs. Davies & Brooke is called to corroborate the actual monthly rentals of the new shops on the corner of Chapoo/Woochang Roads, whereupon both parties having withdrawn, the Commissioners decide as follows:—

AWARD

That the Owners be compensated in the amount of the Council's original offer of Tls. 2,968.00 made in their letter to Messrs. Davies & Brooke under date August 23, 1928.

SHOOTING IN STREETS.

The Council decided to have the following proclamation, issued in Chinese, posted throughout the Foreign Settlement on March 11, 1929:—

Translation.

Owing to the activities of armed robbers, kidnappers and other bad characters, it frequently happens that rifle and/or pistol firing takes place in the streets of the Settlement. This may occur when the police are engaged in the pursuit of criminals who have committed these crimes or when police search parties come into contact with bad characters who draw pistols and fire at the police.

While the police carry out their duties with great care, it sometimes happens that passers-by receive injuries at the hands of the bad characters or from weapons of the police.

All citizens should understand that in such cases the Council is unable to assume any responsibility for casualties of this nature; when shooting occurs all pedestrians should at once take cover or stand still as close as possible to walls or buildings. Idle sightseers run grave danger of being injured.

Land Commission.

CASE No. 186.

Haining and Chapoo Roads.—Cadastral Lot No. 916, Northern District, heard in the Council Chamber on Thursday, January 31, 1929, at 4 p.m.

PROCEEDINGS.

Mr. Ranald G. McDonald of Messrs. Teesdale, Newman and McDonald, supported by Mr. Char appears for the beneficial Owner, Mr. H. C. Woo is also present, Mr. J. R. Jones, Deputy Secretary representing the Council, Mr. J. E. Needham, Deputy Commissioner of Public Works being in attendance.

For the beneficial Owner, Mr. McDonald states that the Council is seeking to acquire the portion of B. C. Lot No. 10384, Cad. Lot No. 916 which faces on Haining Road and Chapoo Road. The area of the portion which the Council seeks to acquire is Mow 0.304, which leaves a small portion amounting to 4 li 1 hao.

On the lot which the Council is seeking to acquire there are 5½ Chinese houses.

The Council is offering a sum of Tls. 13,376.00 plus Tls. 600 in respect of the houses. This sum of Tls. 13,376.00 represents a rate of Tls. 40,000.00 per mow plus 10 per cent. for compulsory surrender. His client is claiming the sum of Tls. 20,976.00 in respect of the acquisition of the land, representing a rate of Tls. 60,000.00 per mow plus 15 per cent. for compulsory surrender, Tls. 5,500.00 in respect of the 5½ houses and Tls. 2,000.00 in respect of the loss of 10 months' rent on these houses.

At the end of 1927 another portion of this Cad. Lot No. 916 amounting to 2 fun 1 li 4 hao was acquired by the Council and the matter had been submitted to the Land Commissioners and the proceedings are reported in Case No. 177. Briefly, the result of the award in that case was that the Land Commissioners awarded a sum equivalent to a rate of Tls. 40,000.00 per mow plus 10 per cent. for compulsory surrender and plus simple interest at the rate of 7 per cent.

He reads extracts from relevant correspondence which has passed between his firm and the Council and suggests that the same arguments which have been put forward in Case No. 177, apply in the present case, that where the whole lot was scheduled for acquisition, full market price must be paid.

In the former proceedings, the Council offered the assessed value plus 10 per cent. The Land Commissioners awarded a sum at least 33 per cent. over the assessed value plus 10 per cent.

He reminds the Commissioners that the Council has in many cases purchased land at a rate equivalent to over 100 per cent. over the assessed value, and draws their attention to the fact that in the report of Case No. 177, it is stated that the Secretary said:—

"While a large portion of this lot is scheduled for acquisition, all that has been acquired at present is an area of Mow 0.214, and the balance is unlikely to be required for some considerable time, so that the owner will remain in possession of an area of Mow 0.345 of good shape."

and with reference to this Mr. Lewis in his reply expressed his surprise at the Secretary then saying for the first time that the Council had no immediate intention of going ahead with the acquisition of the rest of the lot.

In the present case he invites the Commissioners' most serious consideration to the following factors.

Since the Award of December 13, 1927, new foreign houses have been erected in this district and opposite to his client's land a new theatre has been erected and an old theatre has been rebuilt. The shops have opened and the trams and buses go along Haining Road and just opposite to his clients' lot is the terminus for the trams and stopping station for the buses.

These factors coupled with the former road widening have enormously increased the value of the portion of his client's land in respect of the acquisition of which he is now seeking compensation. It is moreover common knowledge or at any rate well within the cognizance of the Commissioners that the market value of the land in this vicinity is now well over Tls. 60,000.00 per mow, and as regards the land itself there can be no question that the compensation should be based on at least Tls. 60,000.00 per mow plus 10 per cent. or 15 per cent. as the Commissioners may decide, in respect of compulsory surrender.

With regard to the houses, the Council in December 1924 paid a sum of Tls. 1,750.00 for two houses similar to those now being taken over but smaller. The houses which were taken over in December 1924 had, he is given to understand, no back kitchen room and no yard, whereas the present 5½ houses have a kitchen room and yard and moreover each of the present houses is twice as large as those which were taken over in 1924. The present houses, if a sum of about Tls. 500.00 were spent on repairs, could be let out at , at least Tls. 40 or Tls. 50 per month. At this rate 5½ houses would bring in an income of say Tls. 250.00 a month or Tls. 3,000.00 a year. If this sum is capitalized at 10 per cent. there would be a value of Tls. 30,000.00.

If the Council had not refused to allow repairs and erection of foreign shops, etc., a considerably larger income could be obtained.

He submits that the Commissioners should take these factors into consideration as was done in the case known as the Shepherd Case, i.e. Case No. 169.

These houses have remained unoccupied because the Council has not only refused permit to rebuild but also refused permission to repair and his client has in this connection lost some 10 months' rent which he puts at a sum of Tls. 2,000.00, which allows for a reduction of Tls. 500 for the purpose of repairs, i.e. the rent received would have been say Tls. 2,500.00.

In reply, Mr. Jones states that the Council is asking for the surrender of an area of Mow 0.304 from a property of Mow 0.345. The owner's claim is for Tls. 60,000.00 per mow plus 15 per cent. for compulsory surrender and plus Tls. 4,812.50 for demolition of 5½ houses. The Council offers Tls. 40,000.00 per mow plus 10 per cent. for compulsory surrender and Tls. 600.00 for the demolition of 5½ houses.

The assessed value of the lot is Tls. 30,000.00 per mow. The lot in question is the Southern portion of a bigger lot, the Northern part of which was the subject of a Land Commission award in December 1927. The award took into consideration the 1927 assessment of Tls. 30,000.00 per mow and awarded compensation at the rate of Tls. 40,000.00 per mow plus 10 per cent. for compulsory surrender. The Council is now offering similar terms for the rest of the property in view of the fact that practically the whole of the lot concerned is involved.

In 1924 the assessed value of the land was Tls. 28,000.00 per mow and the higher assessment of 1927 was largely, if not entirely, due to the expenditure of money by the Council in improving and adding to the traffic facilities in the neighbouring locality since 1924. Moreover, the lot now involved would have been taken over by the Council long before the assessment of 1927, at the same time as the Northern portion, had it not been for the owner's request contained in Messrs. Teesdale, Newman and McDonald's letter of December 2, 1925, wherein the Council was asked to consider the question of suspending proceedings with the entire widening as affecting the owner's houses for a period of 4 to 5 years owing to the difficulty in finding and the expense in building another dwelling house.

As stated in Messrs. Teesdale, Newman and McDonald's letter of September 27, 1928, the buildings were old and necessitated substantial repairs but now the owner had already moved from the premises and had found another residence mainly, as he himself admitted in evidence, because the old premises were too small. There was, therefore, no reason whatsoever for the claim put forward by Mr. McDonald that the owner should be given compensation 100 per cent. above the assessed value of the property in 1927. In view also of the fact that the property could have been taken over before the 1927 assessment, the offer of compensation on the basis of the 1927 assessment was perfectly reasonable.

The owner is claiming the sum of Tls. 4,812.50 in respect of the demolition of 5½ houses and bases this claim to a certain extent on a comparison with the sum of Tls. 1,750.00 paid in 1924 in respect of the demolition of smaller buildings. The payment in 1924, however, was entirely different; the Council urgently required demolition within about a fortnight and to effect a compromise paid the sum of Tls. 1,750.00 in order to obtain the immediate demolition on the understanding that the materials should remain the property of the Council. In this case, however, similar circumstances do not obtain and as the Assistant Building Surveyor will testify the sum of Tls. 600.00 will be ample. The buildings in fact consist of about two houses and portion of another house originally used as part of the owner's residence and now abandoned by him in favour of other premises, together with three other similar buildings. They were admitted by Messrs. Teesdale, Newman and McDonald to be old and in fact they are exceedingly dilapidated and with the exception of one or two used as carpenter shops unoccupied and in their present condition uninhabitable. The owner's claim for the sum of Tls. 4,812.50 is an extravagant claim for the demolition of buildings that chiefly consist of dilapidated hovels for the substantial repair or rebuilding of which the Council had to refuse permission.

Mr. McDonald had at the last moment put forward a claim for loss of rent. Apart from the fact that it was partly at least at the owner's request that the Council refrained from taking over the lot in question in 1926, the buildings themselves were in such a dilapidated state that by the admission of the owner himself they could not have been let during the last year. It is true that a small sum has been obtained from letting one or two of the buildings for temporary workshops in conjunction with the work proceeding on a neighbouring theatre. The Council should not be called upon to pay compensation for loss of rent where no rent could have been earned.

Reference has been made to a paragraph in the report of the proceedings of the Land Commission, dated December 13, 1927, in Case No. 177. The paragraph suggests that the Council represented to the Commissioners at the hearing of the case concerning the Northern portion that the balance would be unlikely to be required for some considerable time as the owner would remain in possession of an area of Mow 0.345 of good shape. Evidence is called to explain the paragraph in question and to show that the balance might not have been required so soon had it not been for the fact that the Council could not grant a permit for the substantial repair of the dilapidated buildings now on the land and had therefore no alternative except to offer compensation for its acquisition. Evidence was also called to deny that any promise had ever been given for such a permit to be granted.

Mr. A. A. G. Toone, Assistant Building Surveyor in the Public Works Department, stated that he had long experience of the buildings in question and had often examined them and that they were at present in a dilapidated condition.

In answer to the Commissioners, the owner admitted that the adjoining lot on the South belonged to his brother.

There is no ground for the owner's contention that the very reasonable offer of Tls. 40,000.00 per mow should be exceeded, it had been definitely proved that the value of the buildings could not have been more than Tls. 600.00 and it has been clearly shown that there could be no possible ground for loss of rent. An offer on the same terms as in the case of the Northern portion is, therefore, in the circumstances, entirely fair and equitable.

In reply, Mr. McDonald emphasizes the fact that the market value alone must be considered, the reasons for its increase being immaterial.

After questions put to each side concerning rents obtained during the past 10 months, also for what period had the owner been in occupancy during that time, had been answered, both parties retire, and the Commissioners decide as follows:—

AWARD.

The Council to pay for the area acquired at the rate of:—

	Tls.
Tls. 40,000.00 per mow on Mow 0.304	12,160.00
plus 10 per cent. for compulsory surrender	1,216.00

plus simple interest on Tls. 13,376.00 for 10 months—say 305 days at 8 per cent.	894.00
	Tls. 14,270.00
plus value of the buildings	600.00
	Tls. 14,870.00

ESTIMATES FOR 1929.

Ordinary Expenditure—District Primary Schools.—Draft estimates of expenditure for the two existing schools, the School Office, and the proposed Western District School are submitted as a basis for discussion of the probable requirements for 1929.

In reply to the Chairman, the Chinese Educational Officer states that the draft estimates, with supplements, are based on a full complement of pupils in the Eastern and Northern District Schools, i.e., 400 and 300 respectively. Applications for enrolment in the two schools at present number 413 and 365, and it is presumed that the excess will have to be declined. The corresponding figures in the last short term were 87 and 78. Regarding the Western District School, it has not yet been possible to rent a building in a suitable locality.

Accordingly, in view of the probability that the Western School will not be opened until after the summer holidays, a proportionate reduction in the estimates is approved.

The Chief Accountant refers to the Treasurer's report, in which the latter points out that the provision for increases in pay will require amendment, as it is not the Council's general practice to grant increases before the completion of a full year's service; since, however, annual increases in the pay of the Chinese staff are customary, it would be in order to budget such increases from October 1, 1929, and with this members agree.

Questioned regarding the higher ratio of teachers to pupils in the Northern School as compared with the Eastern School, the Chinese Educational Officer explains that the number of small rooms in the former school is accountable for this, making it necessary to have smaller classes, and in this respect the Eastern School shows more economical working.

Replying to questions by a member, the Chinese Educational Officer states that approximately equal numbers of men and women assistant teachers are employed in the schools, and with few exceptions their salaries are on the same scale. Men are preferred for the upper grades and women take the kindergarten. They are all at least graduates of normal schools, but differ in experience.

Stock and Stores.—Members are agreed that, since the aim of these schools is to impart a sound elementary education, with special attention to reading, writing and arithmetic, it will be possible to dispense with a considerable amount of the proposed equipment. Various items are accordingly removed from the estimates. Provision for desks and chairs for the lower grades of the three schools, and a piano at Tls. 300 for each school, is endorsed. The estimate of Tls. 400 for playground equipment in the Eastern and Northern Schools is regarded as excessive, and reduced to Tls. 100, to be expended on the former School only. For the Western School, besides the original estimates and the above-mentioned supplementary items, an appropriation of Tls. 200 for playground equipment is approved. The supplementary estimates for the Eastern and Northern Schools, amounting to Tls. 760, are also approved. After some discussion it is agreed that reference books for teachers (these being apart from the library grant) should not be a charge on the Council, and the combined estimate of Tls. 600 for the three schools is accordingly excised.

Structural Alterations.—With reference to the proposed assembly hall in the Eastern School, a member refers to the fact that the present leases have only 18 months to run. It is agreed accordingly to limit the total estimates for structural alterations to Tls. 750 for the Eastern School, Tls. 300 for the Northern School and Tls. 1,500 for the Western School. These figures apply to the items first submitted in December (totalling Tls. 2,783) the supplementary items for the Eastern and Northern Schools (totalling Tls. 500 and the garden improvements Tls. 683). With regard to the last item, a member is of opinion that if this is sanctioned as it stands it will remove from the children those very inducements to nature study which school gardens are intended to promote. It is agreed, however, that grass, sand, etc., will be required at the Eastern School, but that the cost should be covered by the above-mentioned sum of Tls. 750.

The other supplementary items, viz., salaries of additional teachers and servants, and sundry equipment and materials, necessitated by the recent large enrolments of pupils, are included in the first-named estimates without amendment.

Subject to the above reductions, and to adjustment by the Treasurer and Comptroller as usual, the estimates for 1929 for the three schools and the School Office are formally endorsed.

At the meeting of the Staff Committee held on Thursday, February 28, 1929, at 4.30 p.m., there are present Messrs. V. G. Lyman, Chairman, B. C. M. Johnston, Li Ming and J. J. Peterson.

The Minutes of the last meeting are confirmed and signed.

CASE No. 187.

Kiukiang Road.—Cadastral Lots 89C and 89D, Central District, heard in the Council Chamber on Thursday, February 7, 1929, at 4 p.m.

PROCEEDINGS.

The China Realty Company is represented by Mr. A. Loonis, Mr. L. Straetmans appearing for the Registered Owners, the Banque Belge pour l'Etranger. Mr. J. R. Jones represents the Council, Mr. J. E. Needham, Deputy Commissioner of Public Works, being in attendance.

Mr. Loonis refers the Commissioners to the lengthy correspondence exchanged between the Council and the China Realty Company arising out of which are points which he wishes to emphasize.

The first of these is that the widening of Kiukiang Road could not have been made effective for years to come unless the Bank of East Asia agreed to the widening before the Council could enforce same in the ordinary way, because the widening had not been scheduled in the beginning of 1925. The Traffic Commission sitting during 1925 recommended this Municipal improvement, but the Council was powerless to enforce same until after the Ratepayers Meeting in the beginning of 1926. In the meantime, the Bank of East Asia could have refused to surrender and erect their seven storey building on the old Kiukiang Roadline.

One of the conditions which they insisted upon before agreeing, was that the adjoining owner, the Banque Belge pour l'Etranger, would also agree to surrender and raise no objection to the projected widening. It does not seem logical to assume that this latter party would agree beforehand to this unless there was some consideration, which under the circumstances should be equal to that granted to the Bank of East Asia.

It was due to the efforts of the China Realty Company that the Council's scheme of widening Kiukiang Road was made possible.

The second is that the building standing on the lot affected, is identical with the one that existed on lot 89B where the Bank of East Asia building stands now. As a matter of fact, originally the two properties were one and the same lot, with only one building on it, which was later on sub-divided, and to carry this sub-division out, a double sub-division wall had to be erected in this building. For the widening of the same road, from one and the same building, it is natural to assume that the same treatment should be given. He maintains that were it not for the Kiukiang Road widening, the owners would certainly not think of pulling the building down, but instead execute the necessary repairs required by the adjoining building operations and/or convert the present godown into desirable office accommodation. These two alternatives are now not possible and consequently compensation for re-instatement should be allowed. It will be noticed that 1/6th of the present building is scheduled in the Kiukiang Road widening.

The third point is that when a road widening is planned the Council quite rightly provides as far as possible for surrender of equal width from both sides of the road.

It is consequently quite natural to assume that when a question of betterment is to be defined, same should be based on the centre line of the original road and not on the centre line of the scheduled widening.

To give an illustration—In the case of a road of a width of 35 feet being scheduled for widening to 60 feet a strip 20 feet wide might be taken from one side of the road and 5 feet from the other. If deduction for betterment is made let us say up to 50 feet the owner of the one lot according to the Council's suggestion might have to surrender 15 feet for which deduction for betterment might be made and the balance of 5 feet without betterment. The owner of the other lot would receive compensation for betterment for the full strip of 5 feet to be surrendered. Such an arrangement would not be right.

He refers to Cadastral Lot 86 as illustrating his argument.

In reply, Mr. Jones states the Council had in 1926 scheduled the widening of Kiukiang Road to a width of 60 feet and it now asks for the surrender from Cadastral Lots 89C and 89D of an area of Mow 0.254, out of a total area of Mow 2.397, that is a little less than one ninth of the total area.

The owner claims a total sum of Tls. 48,593 which works out at the rate of Tls. 191,313 per mow whereas the assessed value of the lot is Tls. 125,000 per Mow. This gross claim is based by the owner on the analogy of the compensation paid for the surrender of an area from an adjoining Lot 89B. The two cases, however, are very different and do not bear any analogy. Compensation paid in respect of Cadastral Lot 89B amounted to Tls. 121,294 apportioned as follows:—

	Tls.
Assessed value of the lot, less one sixth for betterment, plus 10 per cent. for compulsory sale ...	76,294
Allowances for the cost of setting back the wall to new road line	15,000
Compensation for the loss of the buildings to be removed	25,000
Temporary loss of rent during reinstatement ...	5,000

It is obvious, however, that this basis of compensation cannot apply in the present case since the buildings affected by the widening are in a dilapidated condition and are at the end of their economic life. There is not the same justification for an allowance for the cost of setting back the wall or for compensation for the buildings or for temporary loss of rent. Moreover in the case of Cadastral Lot 89B the land was surrendered before the widening had actually been scheduled and the transaction was the subject of special consideration.

The China Realty Company, who acted on behalf of the owners of Cad. Lot 89B in 1925, are now acting on behalf of the owner of Cad. Lots 89C and 89D. They say that when the Council approached them in 1925 with a request to set back the new building on Lot 89B the owners of that lot would only consent to do so if the adjoining owners of Cad. Lots 89C and 89D would also ultimately set back their buildings to the same line. They say further that in order to induce them to do so they made some sort of arrangement with the owners of the adjoining Lots promising them, on behalf of the Council, terms similar to the terms given in the case of Lot 89B.

Although in this case it is submitted that the Land Commission is in no way concerned with any arrangement alleged to have been made by the China Realty Company in 1925 and is only concerned with assessing the amount of compensation to be given for the scheduled area under present conditions, the Council is desirous of placing before the Commission the facts with regard to the matter.

The China Realty Company were never asked by the Council to make any arrangement with the owner of the adjoining lots, and the arrangement, if made, was effected without the authority or knowledge of the Council. The China Realty Company, however, were anxious on behalf of the owners of Lot 89B that provision should be made for the adjoining owner to conform to the new alignment in future and the Council ensured such an alignment and informed the China Realty Company in a letter of September 29, 1925, that the scheduled widening of Kiukiang Road up to 60 feet would be shown on the official plans for 1926 and the various areas required in connection therewith would be acquired as and when opportunity offered. The scheduling of the road for 1926 would have the result of compelling the surrender of the areas required from lots 89C and 89D at compensation to be awarded by the Land Commission. The owners of Cad. Lot 89B. accepted the Council's undertaking as to effecting the widening of Kiukiang Road as and when opportunity offered and on October 2, 1925, the China Realty Company returned the surrender deeds in regard to Lot 89B duly signed by the registered owners.

The China Realty Company asked on October 2, that when the time arrived for dealing with the surrender from Cad. Lots 89C and 89D, the Council would consider itself bound by the terms which, unknown to the Council, were said to have been agreed between the China Realty Company and the Banque Belge pour l'Etranger, the owner of Lots 89C and 89D—terms which it is stated were given to the owners of the lot as an arrangement completed with the Council.

The Council had already agreed to schedule Kiukiang Road to 60 feet in 1926 and to acquire the road land as and when opportunity offered, and on October 22, the China Realty Company were informed that the Council did not then desire to negotiate for the area required from Cadastral Lots 89C and 89D, and that the settlement of terms of surrender would be considered "when the land is acquired for public use"—in order words that the Council was not prepared to accept as binding the terms already agreed without its concurrence by the China Realty Company.

There the matter rested for nearly three years. But during this period the Council, in accordance with its undertaking to effect the widening of Kiukiang Road as and when opportunity offered, agreed terms in December, 1926, for the surrender of Mow 0.571 from the Kalee Hotel (Cadastral Lot 88).

These surrender deeds have already been completed and the widening would doubtless already have been effected, had not the Kalee Hotel been required early in 1927 as the Headquarters of the British Defence Force, for which purpose it is still used.

On August 27, 1928, the Council found it necessary to issue a "dangerous" notice in respect of the buildings on Cadastral Lots 89C and 89D, and, on September 11, the China Realty Company asked the Council to take the surrender on the terms agreed by them with the Banque Belge pour l'Etranger in 1925.

This the Council has refused to do. The buildings affected by the widening are in a dilapidated condition and are considered to be at the end of their economic life. It is the view of the Public Works Department that the conversion of the present building into office accommodation is not a reasonable or feasible proposition, and that since the owner must of necessity rebuild, there is no reason why the Council should be called upon to pay reinstatement costs or loss of rent.

The Council informed the China Realty Company on October 22, 1925, that the settlement of the terms of surrender would be considered when the land is acquired for public use, and the compensation now offered must therefore have regard to existing conditions which are set out above.

The conversion of the present building into office accommodation is not considered to be a reasonable or feasible proposition; but the Council has given an assurance that, should a conversion scheme be actually carried out, additional compensation will be paid to represent the cost of setting back the wall to the scheduled line. Should such an eventuality occur, the cost of such reinstatement work will be a subject for further negotiation and if necessary, further reference to the Land Commission.

Mr. A. A. G. Toone, Assistant Building Surveyor, Public Works Department, in evidence, stated that the Eastern portion of the buildings was considered to be in a dilapidated and dangerous condition and liable to collapse without warning and that the buildings were at the end of their economic life; that they could not be repaired without endangering the remander of the godowns. Apart from the deleterious effect upon the present buildings of the erection of the new Bank of East Asia adjoining, a considerable amount of dampness and water had for a long time been gradually doing considerable harm. The buildings were old having been built about 1901.

With regard to the owner's exception to the Council's demand for one third betterment on the area required for a 50 feet road measured from the middle of the present scheduled roadline, it must be remembered that it is extremely difficult to assess equitably the betterment accruing to the two lots on account of road improvement. In this case however there would be obvious betterment. The present godown buildings could not have been utilised to the full potentialities of such an important road as Kiukiang Road.

Shortly after the issue of the "dangerous" notice in August 1928, a notice board was placed on the buildings announcing "For Sale—this desirable building site suitable for bank or office building."

The widening of the road will enable a taller building to be erected with greater earning possibilities and in any case the conversion of the buildings into bank or office premises would require provisions with regard to windows and other alterations which would be incompatible with the present buildings and the present width of the road.

The statement that in the case of Lots 86A, 87 and 87A on the opposite side of the road the deduction for betterment affected a depth of 5 feet only is not quite correct as the depth varied from 5 feet 3 inches to 7 feet 3 inches.

Comparison might be made with other lots in respect of betterment. In the case of Cadastral Lot 89D adjoining, the area of Mow 0.574 originally surrendered involved an average depth of approximately 19 feet. The terms agreed with the China Realty Company allowed for a deduction for betterment of one sixth on the total area; this was a little less than a deduction of one third on the area required on a 50 feet road calculated from the middle of the scheduled roadline. In that case, however, the owner was called upon to surrender some 19 feet from a total depth of 75 feet whereas the owner of Cadastral Lots 89C and 89D is required to surrender only 17 feet from a total of 150 feet.

In the case of Cadastral Lot 95 which was the subject of negotiations also with the China Realty Company, a deduction for betterment was made of one third in respect to the area required to widen Szechuen Road to 50 feet, calculated from the middle of the scheduled roadline.

In the case of Cadastral Lot 103 the claimants, also the China Realty Company, made a voluntary deduction of one sixth for betterment in respect of the whole area required to widen Szechuen Road to 50 feet, and this was only a little less than an allowance of one third betterment up to a width of 50 feet from the centre of the existing road which also practically coincided with the middle of the scheduled roadline.

With regard to the amount of compensation to be offered for the surrender of the area required from Lots 89C and 89D now under consideration it might be pertinent to compare the compensation granted in the case of the area required from Lots 87, 87A and 86A on the opposite side of Kiukiang Road. In that case the owners of their own free will set back the new buildings to the line shown on the plan even though this portion of the property was not then affected by any road scheduling and it seems evident that they realized the advantages to be gained from a wider road and footpath. The Council's offer in that case was accepted by the owners and payment was made made on the basis of the assessed value of the lots, less one third for betterment in respect of an area of Mow 0.244, required to widen the road to 50 feet, plus 10 per cent. for compulsory surrender.

The Council in the present case offers the assessed value of the lot, i.e., Tls. 125,000 per mow, less one third betterment on the area required for a 50 feet road measuring from the middle of the present scheduled roadline, plus 10 per cent. for compulsory surrender, a total amount of Tls. 26,721. Details are as follows:—

	Tls.
Mow 0.254 at Tls. 125,000 per mow	31,750
Less betterment one third on the area of Mow 0.179 required for a 50 ft. road measured from the middle of the present scheduled line—
One third of Mow 0.179 at Tls. 125,000 per mow	7,458
	Tls. 24,292
Plus 10 per cent.	2,429
	Tls. 26,721

The several points arising out of the evidence before the Commissioners having been discussed, both parties retire and the Commissioners Award as follows:—

Crime.—Thefts of bicycles have increased considerably during the past few months, particularly in the business part of the Settlement and as a considerable number of these have been stolen as the result of carelessness on the part of owners and chit coolies in leaving them unattended in doorways and outside buildings the public would be well advised to take extra precautions in this respect. In a recent case twenty-two bicycles were recovered, mostly in Chapei, and although proved to be stolen property could not be identified owing to the fact that most of the parts had been changed.

The police are continually requesting the public to assist them by promptly reporting cases to the nearest policeman or police station. An illustration of the value of alacrity in these matters is shown by the arrest of thirteen armed robbers in possession of three loaded pistols and a toy water pistol, due to the action of a shop assistant in promptly notifying Louza Station of the whereabouts of a person whom he identified as having robbed his master's shop. It is significant to note that a female who was arrested carried the pistols for the gang. Another instance occurred on February 22, when a gang of armed robbers entered a Japanese dwelling house in the Yangtszepoo district and during the progress of the robbery an inmate of the house succeeded in notifying the occupants of the adjoining premises who immediately sounded a "robber alarm" connected with Yangtszepoo Police Station. A posse of Police immediately proceeded to the scene and on their arrival found two of the robbers still on the premises. An attempt to effect their arrest resulted in both men being shot dead. Subsequent investigations proved successful in establishing the identity of one of the dead robbers and this led to the apprehension of two other members of the gang.

Recent reports show that pocket picking is again prevalent at Cinemas, Theatres, etc., and as this class of crime is perpetrated by expert foreign criminals care should be taken by the public when visiting these and other public places where they are compelled to mingle with crowds. The vicinity of booking offices and cloak rooms in Theatres are the favourite haunts of these criminals both male and female. Several reports have recently been received of a sharp instrument having been used to slit the clothing of intended victims in order to reach the contents of pockets.

Cases have recently come to notice of Chinese masquerading as workmen in overalls and foreign hat or cap who enter foreign houses for the alleged purpose of repairing the woodwork or electric light wiring and then hold up the inmates (usually female) with a pistol and demand money or jewellery. Due to prompt action and courage on the part of the persons concerned the results have been of little benefit but in one case a Japanese lady was shot in the shoulder while she was giving the alarm and in another case the victim, also a Japanese lady, was shot in the abdomen.

Murder and Attempted Murder.—During the month three murders were committed in the Settlement. Brief details of these crimes are as follows:—

On February 9, the dead body of a Chinese male child, about two years of age, was found lying on Wayside Road. Death was due to chopper wounds on the head and face. All efforts to ascertain identity have failed. On February 16, a male Chinese was shot dead in a dwelling house in the Gordon Road district. This murder is attributed to revenge on the part of a gang of criminals certain members of whom are now in custody on serious charges. On February 28, at a dwelling house on Muirhead Road a slave girl, aged 15 years, was killed with a chopper by some person or persons unknown during the absence of her employers. Boxes and drawers in various rooms of the house were ransacked and property stolen.

On March 4, a foreign Probationary Sergeant was shot and killed by armed ruffians while he was proceeding to the scene of a shooting affray in the Louza district. It is interesting to note that no comments were made by any of the Chinese newspapers in connection with this officer being killed in the execution of his duty while attempting to protect the lives and interests of the Chinese community. There is, however, nothing unusual in this attitude of the Chinese press. Since the beginning of 1927 no less than eight foreign police officers have been killed in the execution of their duty in the defence almost entirely of the lives and property of Chinese residents of the International Settlement. In no single case has the Chinese press offered either sympathy for their loss or commendation for the bravery of these gallant young police officers cut down in the pride of life. Comment on this attitude is superfluous.

Five attempted murders were reported; armed robbers being responsible for each case.

Three persons were arrested during the month on charges of murder and are now under remand. The above arrests were made in regard to the following three cases of murder:—

1. The shooting of two Chinese loafers, one of whom was fatally wounded, in the Zeu Khaung Lee, off East Kashing Road, on September 13, 1928.

2. The murder of a Chapei Volunteer in September, 1928.

3. The murder of a male Chinese who was shot dead on East Seward Road on September 19, 1927.

Of twelve persons on remand at the end of January, 1929, two were sentenced to imprisonment and the remainder are still on remand.

Manslaughter.—Two cases were recorded under this heading during the month. During an altercation between a servant girl and a shop assistant the former received a kick in the abdomen to which she succumbed shortly after. The second case was due to a domestic dispute during which a Chinese woman was attacked by two other women and died shortly after. In connection with these cases three persons were arrested. One was sentenced to imprisonment and two are under remand.

Suicides.—Eight cases of suicide occurred in the Settlement during the month.

Cutting and Wounding.—One case under this heading occurred in the Yangtszepoo district as the result of a gambling dispute between two Chinese, one of whom severed the finger of the other with a knife. This man was arrested and is now under remand.

Armed Abduction.—No reports under this heading were received during the month.

Three persons abducted in January have since regained their liberty. One, an accountant who was kidnapped on January 14, when proceeding along Taku Road, escaped on February 5, while his guards were asleep. The second was that of the four year old son of a lawyer's clerk who was taken away on January 29, by armed men from a dwelling house in the West Hongkew district and returned to his home on February 7. The third person, a Chinese gold-broker who was abducted on January 26, when leaving the compound of his residence in the Bubbling Well district, was rescued by the Municipal Police after a desperate affray. The rescue was effected on the early morning of February 8, when detectives attached to Louza Station raided a Chinese dwelling house situated off Warren Road, O.O.L. Before entry to the premises could be gained a large number of shots were exchanged between the Police and kidnappers, two of the latter being shot dead and a third mortally wounded.

Of seventeen persons arrested in connection with armed kidnapping cases, one died of wounds, the charge against seven withdrawn and nine are still awaiting trial. In addition to the above two armed kidnappers were shot dead by the Police while resisting arrest.

Of eighty-four persons on remand at the end of January, one was sentenced to death, four to imprisonment, one acquitted, the charges against four others were withdrawn and seventy-four are still on remand.

Nine persons were arrested in connection with abduction cases in which no arms were used. Seven were sentenced to imprisonment and the remaining two handed over to the Chinese Authorities.

Armed Robbery.—Ninety-two reports of armed robbery were received during the month eighty-three from premises and nine on the highway, an increase of twelve on the preceding month and an increase of one over the reports recorded during the corresponding period of last year. Three attempted armed robberies were also reported. Shots were fired by the robbers in seven cases resulting in the wounding of a Chinese shop assistant.

In regard to the foregoing and reports of armed robberies occurring prior to February 1, forty-three persons, seven of whom were in possession of firearms, were arrested. Nine were sentenced to imprisonment, one acquitted, the charges against two withdrawn and thirty-one are on remand. In addition, five armed robbers were shot dead while resisting arrest.

Twenty-five persons, nine of whom were in possession of firearms, were arrested for being members of armed robber gangs. All are on remand.

Of one hundred and fourteen persons on remand at the end of January, charged with armed robbery and with being members of armed robber gangs, one died of wounds, eighteen were sentenced to imprisonment, one was handed over to the Chinese Authorities, three acquitted and ninety-one are still on remand.

Two persons on remand at the end of January, charged with being in possession of firearms for an unlawful purpose, were further charged on various counts of armed robbery and sentenced to terms of imprisonment.

At the rehearing of a case ordered by the Kiangsu Provincial Government a Chinese sentenced to death in December, 1927, on seven charges of armed robbery, the judgment was altered to seven years imprisonment.

A Greek subject who was sentenced in June, 1928, to fifteen years imprisonment for armed highway robbery, appealed against this judgment and as a result the previous decision was commuted to one of four years imprisonment.

Six persons, four of whom were wanted in connection with armed robberies in the French Concession and two for robberies in Chinese controlled territory, were arrested in the Settlement and handed over to the Authorities concerned.

Seven cases of unarmed robbery were recorded in connection with which nine persons were arrested; two were sentenced to imprisonment, four fined, one dismissed for lack of evidence and two are on remand.

The charges against three persons who were on remand at the end of last month were withdrawn.

Threatening Letter Cases.—Two persons were arrested for offences committed under this heading; one was sentenced to imprisonment and the other is on remand.

One person on remand at the end of January was sentenced to imprisonment.

Executions.—A Chinese arrested in connection with a case of armed kidnapping committed in the Settlement was handed over to and executed by the Chinese Authorities during the month.

Property Stolen.—During the month 457 reports of property stolen were received, representing an estimated loss of $217,181.33. These comprised 50 cases of burglary, 10 of housebreaking, 7 of godownbreaking, 10 of shop and office breaking, 6 of fraud, 10 of embezzlement, 1 of extortion, 4 of shoplifting and 359 of larceny. Compared with the corresponding month of 1928 there is a decrease of 85 cases. Successful investigations were made in 219 cases, resulting in the recovery of property valued at $23,280.51, and in addition, recoveries to the extent of $2,965.04 were made in regard to cases committed prior to February 1. Included in these figures are 66 arrests for pocket-picking and snatching, 43 of whom were identified as old offenders. Five cases reported as having occurred outside Settlement limits were also successfully dealt with.

Trafficking in Firearms.—Six persons were arrested for trafficking in firearms; four were sentenced to imprisonment and two remanded. Of eight persons arrested for being in possession of firearms for an unlawful purpose; four were sentenced to imprisonment and the remainder are on remand. Of twelve persons on remand at the end of January, four were sentenced to imprisonment, four acquitted and four are still on remand.

Crime reported beyond Settlement limits.—According to the Chinese Press eight cases of murder, one of armed abduction and nineteen of armed robbery and piracy occurred in Chinese controlled territory. In a case which occurred in Pootung, 40 men robbed a number of shops and carried off money and goods to the value of $10,000.00, when the Chinese Police were overpowered and lost two rifles and a quantity of ammunition. Thirteen persons were executed for armed kidnapping.

POLITICAL.

Military Affairs.—For the past few weeks North East Shantung has been in a disturbed state owing to revolt by 3,000 troops under General Liu Kai-tai against Liu Chen-nien, an ex-Chihli-Shantung General who, together with his command numbering 7,000 men, espoused the Nationalist cause in October last, since when he has held sway as a power unto himself and practically independent of Nanking as Commander of the Garrison in Chefoo area.

After looting the towns of Lungkow and Tengchowfu some ten miles west of Chefoo, the insurgents retreated south to the Tsingtao-Tsinan Railway area where they were reorganized and reinforced by irregulars and bandits in preparation for an attack on Chefoo. This advance, however, was checked near Pushan on February 21 by General Liu's numerically smaller force which inflicted a defeat on the rebels and compelled them to retreat northwards. Despite this initial success, it is considered that Liu with his present forces will be unable to continue to maintain a stand against his opponents who outnumber him by at least four to one.

Coincident with the foregoing events is the dramatic emergence from retirement at Dairen of Marshal Chang Chung-chang, ex-Tupan of Shantung, who landed at Lungkow on February 19. It is estimated that some 40,000 men have flocked to his standard but the fighting qualities of the majority of these are extremely doubtful. With a view to consolidating his position, Chang sent emissaries to Chefoo to negotiate for Liu's surrender without fighting, but up to the end of the month these advances have come to naught.

Nanking outwardly views events in Shantung in the light of a local disturbance, the suppression of which will present little difficulty once General Liu has been reinforced, nevertheless the presence of Chang Chung-chang may prove a serious menace to Nationalist control in the North.

Marshal Feng Yu-hsiang, Minister of War of the Nationalist Government, who returned to his headquarters at Kaifeng from Nanking about February 14, is reported to have concentrated some 30,000 of his best troops in western Shantung with a view to curtailing the activities of bandit gangs and of anti-Shantung troops in case the Japanese troops are withdrawn. Marshal Feng's action has been responsible for the circulation in Shanghai of rumours that serious differences have developed between him and General Chiang Kai-shek who is said to have been opposed to the advance into Shantung. However, on February 14 the National Government officially denied these rumours stating that Marshal Feng's move into Shantung was in full accordance with a decision made several weeks previously by the Nationalist State Council.

Beyond the transfer of several big consignments of armaments and munitions from Kiangnan Arsenal to Hangchow and Nanking, no Military activity was noticeable locally during the month. Unconfirmed rumours were current at the beginning of February that these removals from Kiangnan Arsenal were made as a safeguard against possible seizure of the arsenal by the Navy where strong resentment reigned owing to Feng Yu-hsiang's attempt to bring the Admiralty under the control of the Minister of War, which post is held by Feng himself.

No effect has as yet been given to the decisions passed by the Disbandment and Reorganization Conference and until such time as Nanking is in a position financially to undertake a task of such magnitude, and only then, will there be any hope of a disbandment and prospects of peace and tranquility instead of the usual Chinese postwar brigandage.

Several instances occurred during the month where troops of the local garrison assisting in the suppression of crime in Chinese controlled territory held up foreign motorists at railway crossings on extra-Settlement roads, and in one case they fired on a motor car, the foreign driver of which ignored their challenge. The bullet passed through the door of the vehicle but fortunately did no further damage. Strong representations made by the Municipal Police to the Chinese Authorities resulted in the withdrawal of these troops, who, in functioning as they did, were exceeding the instructions of their superiors.

Political Situation.—Recent political events, complicated by the Military situation in Shantung, and the widespread famine in Honan, Shensi and Kansu, tend in no small measure to create a feeling of apprehension and uncertainty among foreign and Chinese observers as to what the future holds in store for China. Among the many reasons for pessimism is the swinging to the left of the political pendulum in the Kiangsu Province and the recent coup d'etat in Hunan, which though generally regarded as local and inconsequential may have far reaching results. The tendency to the left was manifested at the tenth session of the Provincial Party Convention at Chinkiang on February 15, when, among others, a resolution was adopted for the return of Wang Ching-wei, the leader of the left wing of Kuomintang who according to latest reports is still in France and has no immediate intention of returning from his voluntary exile. Other resolutions which the Convention adopted attracted attention by the fact that they severely criticize many high provincial officials, all of whom hold their appointments from the Nationalist Government. A tendency to the left was also noticeable though in a much lesser degree in the Nationalist Government itself in the election of Yu Yu-jen, the former President of the Shanghai University, as President of the Executive Yuan to succeed General Tan Yen-kai. Apprehension is also felt in no small degree as to the outcome of the 3rd Kuomintang Congress at Nanking on March 15. In preparation for the holding of this congress, considerable manœuvering is taking place throughout the country between Kuomintang factions, to the outcome of which the greatest importance is attached in both Chinese and foreign circles.

Communism.—During February, local communists indulged in the distribution of the usual pamphlets advocating the downfall of everything in the shape of law and order. Another feature of their activities was the dissemination through the post of a magazine printed in English and entitled "The Chinese Record" the contents of which are violently "red" and deal with the so-called "White Terror" in China. These magazines which purport to emanate from an organization styled "The China Aid Society," were contained in wrappers bearing the printed names of certain prominent booksellers in the Settlement as the senders, evidently with a view to evading the postal censors.

A few days prior to Chinese New Year rumours were current of impending uprisings in Chinese controlled territory at Shanghai but nothing eventuated. These rumours may be attributed to nerve tension of Chinese officialdom during a period which is always looked upon as one of uncertainty from the point of view of peace and good order. Isolated outbreaks, however, occurred in the interior, the most serious being at Pei Hsin Ka Village in the Sungkiang district on February 6 when about a hundred self-styled communists burned 37 houses and wounded five inhabitants.

The Municipal Police, in addition to pursuing enquiries regarding communistic activities, visited several establishments suspected of being used as meeting places for Communists. These visits resulted in the seizure of a quantity of inflammatory literature and the arrest of two Chinese, one of whom was subsequently ordered by the Provisional Court to be handed over to the Chinese Authorities while the case against the other has not yet concluded. Of the twenty-eight prisoners who were arrested in the course of a police raid on a Communist base in December, one was sentenced to four year's imprisonment while the others were released on February 7. Two Chinese who were arrested in January in possession of communistic literature and subsequently remanded, were on February 18 sentenced to six and four months' imprisonment respectively. With a view to curbing the activities of communists and bandits, the Chinese Military and Civil Authorities held a series of meetings at which there were passed resolutions for the better protection of the area within their jurisdiction.

Anti-Japanese Boycott. — The rupture of the Sino-Japanese negotiations has resulted in the boycott being applied with vigour and seizures of Japanese goods in considerable quantities are of daily occurrence in Chinese controlled territory where so-called inspectors of the local Anti-Japanese Association operate under the official guidance of the Kuomintang. In one instance, these pickets armed with mauser pistols arrived by launch at the Kiukiang Road Jetty, boarded a Harbour registered lighter containing a cargo of Japanese piece goods valued at Tls. 30,000.00 shipped in the care of Messrs. Jardine, Matheson & Co., and after intimidating the crew, seized the vessel and towed it to the Nantao Bund from whence the cargo was transported to the Chinese Chamber of Commerce in the Chinese City, where it is still detained. In the interior and other treaty ports, a stricter enforcement of the Anti-Japanese boycott is also in vogue and the campaign is supplemented by hostile propaganda disseminated at intervals in the Chinese press wherein Mr. Yohsizawa, the Japanese Minister to China, is accused of having planned a "trick" on China and suggests that the severance of economic relations with Japan be continued for twenty years in order to "starve Japan to Death."

The movement is being directed by the quasi-official National Anti-Japanese Association at Nanking, which recently issued instructions to its branches in all parts of the country that the Anti-Japanese activities be redoubled, that the policy of severing economic relations with Japan be strictly enforced and that delegates be despatched to Nanking for the organization of a National Publicity Bureau.

Representatives from various provinces of this association will hold a meeting at the Chinese General Chamber of Commerce on March 1, when further measures for the extension of the boycott will be discussed.

Anti-foreign Agitation. — This movement is being upheld almost exclusively by local official Kuomintang organizations the youthful and immature members of which hold the usual absurd view that the foreigner alone is responsible for all China's ills. One of these organizations continues to advocate the discontinuance of the right of navigation enjoyed by foreigners in the inland waters when new treaties are concluded between China and the foreign powers. It is pointed out that the operation of foreign ships in the inland waters of the country not only constitutes an infringement of the navigation rights of China, but also has an important bearing on the National defence and the economic development of the country. Another similar organization has commenced a movement for the removal of the control of the Shanghai-Nanking Railway from foreigners.

The introduction by the French Government of a regulation whereby Chinese proceeding to France are required to deposit $500.00 security on receiving the necessary visa, has aroused resentment and the usual cries for retaliation.

Agitation Against Paper Hunting and Greyhound Racing. — Agitation against paper hunting continues in the Chinese press. Writing to the Senior Consul on this matter, the Commissioner of Foreign Affairs offers the opinion that while foreigners define paper hunting as sport it is not allowed by the laws of any country.

The reply of the Senior Consul is published by the papers in extenso. He states that paper hunting is a sport which will foster friendship between foreigners and Chinese and is held in other parts of the world. There is neither gambling nor profit making, and compensation is made for damage caused to cultivated fields. He criticizes the action of the Chinese Police Authorities in their movement against paper hunting as a shortsighted policy as its suppression would mean the loss of $500,000.00 per annum to China's trade.

Apparently the Ninth District Kuomintang are sceptical regarding these points and at a recent meeting of its members a resolution was passed that the Commissioner for Foreign Affairs be requested to stop paper hunting and to make an investigation to ascertain the truth of the statement that compensation is being paid for damage done.

In the matter of greyhound racing a movement is afoot to dismiss and punish members of the Kuomintang and Chinese Ratepayers' Association who are found taking part in this sport.

Labour.—There were in February seven strikes of which the following five affected the Settlement area:—

N.W.K. No. 7, West Soochow Road (1,800 hands).

N.W.K. No. 4, 19 West Soochow Road (700 hands).

China Soap Co. 91 Yangtszepoo Road. (240 hands).

Hongkew Hotel, Restaurant Dept. 27 North Szechuen Road. (9 hands).

Sun Sun Co., 145 Nanking Road. (250 hands).

Of the above disputes three resulted from dismissal of workers and the remainder from an alleged assault by a watchman and sympathy towards fellow workers.

Statistics for the month are as follows:—

Area	No. of strikes	No of hands	No. of working days lost
Settlement	5	2,769	19,143
French Concession	1	7	21
Chinese Controlled territory	1	1,000	12,000
All three areas	nil
Total	7	3,776	31,164
Total for the corresponding month of 1928	9	10,605	71,160

The partial strike in the Sun Sun Company, which commenced on February 17, when 520 employees struck work resulted from a decision of the Board of Directors to remove the general manager and fourteen departmental heads on the score of inefficiency and to replace them with new employees. One faction numbering about 400 remained loyal to the company and business was carried on with these and about a hundred new hands until February 23, when the Management decided to close the store as a safeguard against possible interference and intimidation by strike leaders. On February 20 the Provisional Court, on the application of counsel for certain shareholders, issued an order restraining the Directors of the company from functioning in their capacity as Directors. High feeling exists between the two factions of employees and on the day prior to the closing of the store an open clash was feared but owing to Police measures this was prevented. The end of the month saw no sign of a settlement of the dispute.

Considerable agitation, carried on for the most part in Chapei attended the strikers of the employees of the N.W.K. No. 4 and 7 Mills in the Western district.

High feeling of dissatisfaction with their union existed among the employees of the French Tramway Company over the alleged unequal distribution of strike pay resulting in the employees of the Traffic Department breaking away from the Union and forming one of their own at 8 Kung Chi Li, Route Zikawei.

On February 16, 200 hands of the China Soap Co., Ltd. struck work demanding the dismissal of the Company's private Russian watchman for an alleged assault on one of their number. They resumed work on February 20 after the management had agreed to keep the watchman on night duty permanently and to grant them other minor concessions.

On February 17, 1,000 operatives of the Hwa Foong Cotton Mill, a Japanese concern at Chung Hwa Pang, Woosung, struck work demanding the reinstatement of 200 of their comrades and other concessions and were still out at the end of the month.

The Social Bureau of the Greater Shanghai Municipality continues to interfere in labour disputes in the Settlement. Another attempt by the Bureau to usurp the judicial functions of the Provisional Court and to turn them to political ends were made in connection with the recent move to enforce all labour unions in the Settlement to register with the Bureau. The Federation of the proprietors of foreign tailoring establishments in the International Settlement rightly ignored this order with the result that the Provisional Court, at the instance of the Bureau, issued sealing orders against the Federation's Headquarters. This move, however, was checked by the Municipal Police.

The Municipal Gazette

BEING THE OFFICIAL ORGAN OF
THE COUNCIL FOR THE FOREIGN SETTLEMENT OF SHANGHAI.

Vol. XXII. SHANGHAI, THURSDAY, MARCH 28, 1929. No. 1180

REPORT
THE PROPOSED SALE OF THE ELECTRICITY DEPARTMENT.

[It should be pointed out that whilst the following memorandum on the question of a Franchise has been issued by the Electricity Special Committee (1929) with the authority of the Council, the terms and conditions referred to therein are subject to amendment and/or addition at the discretion of the Council, the memorandum being intended to cover in a broad and general manner the main points of a Franchise and form a basis upon which prospective purchasers could tender.]

Memorandum covering the principal features of a proposed Franchise, issued by the Electricity Special Committee (1929) for guidance only it being understood that a legal instrument would be drafted in the event of a sale.

1. Monopoly. — The Franchise would comprise a monopoly for the generation, distribution and sale of electricity, together with the ancillary business associated with an electricity public utility undertaking—such as hiring and/or hire purchase to consumers of electricity consuming appliances — including motors, meters, cookers, etc., etc.— to a company operating within the International Settlement area of Shanghai North of the Yangkingpang, to be granted by the Shanghai Municipal Council (which latter expression shall be held to include its successors and assigns); and also on such supplies to outside areas at present served by the said Council's existing municipal roads, subject to the proviso that the said monopoly on Council's extra-Settlement areas and/or roads will be granted on the same general terms as those under which the other public utility companies in Shanghai at present operate, and such monopoly will be dependent upon the Council's tenure of such extra-Settlement roads. In this latter connection the Council can give no guarantee of extra-Settlement monopoly should the ownership of these particular roads be changed to any other governing authority.

2. Period of Franchise; Option to Repurchase, and Valuation.—The Franchise referred to in Clause (1) would be granted to the operating company in perpetuity, subject to the provisos hereinafter referred to, which are as follows:—

(a) the Council reserves the option to repurchase the Electricity Undertaking at a valuation upon the expiry of 40 (forty) years from the date of purchase subject to giving two years' previous notice in writing to the Company of its intention to exercise such option.

(b) In the event of the Council not exercising its option to repurchase at the end of the said period of 40 (forty) years referred to in Clause 2 (a) it would further reserve the option to repurchase the said Undertaking at each and every 10 (ten) yearly period after the aforementioned 40 (forty) years, subject to two years' previous notice in writing being given to the Company.

(c) In the event of the Council at any time exercising the options provided for under subsections (a) and (b) hereof, the valuation for the purpose of repurchase shall be made on the basis of the tender's purchase offer and in gold currency.

3. Sale of Fittings, etc.—The operating Company would require to agree that the sale of electric fittings and/or other electrical apparatus, electric wiring and/or any work of such a nature would not be undertaken directly or indirectly by them except wiring for power motors, cooking and water heating. The effect of this proviso entails that the Company would require to adhere to the same lines of procedure in this connection as at present followed and recognised by the Electricity Department.

4. Royalty to Council, etc.—In consideration of the monopoly which it is proposed to grant to an operating Company, the Council stipulates and makes it a condition of granting such a monopoly, that the operating Company guarantees to its satisfaction that the Council and the Shanghai community in general shall not be worse off in any way in regard to the supply of electricity than under the present system of management. In addition the Council would require and makes it a condition in regard to granting the said monopoly, that the Company guarantees to pay to the Council in Shanghai Taels by way of Royalty, and without reservations of any nature, an annual sum equal to 5 per cent. of the money value of the total gross sales of electricity debited to consumers during each and every year the said proposed Franchise may be in operation.

5. Depreciation Reserve.—It is not proposed to bind the Company to adhere to fixed rates of Depreciation on the plant, etc., but at the same time it is considered that the Company should provide what in its opinion would be "adequate" depreciation reserve; in addition it would be understood that the Company would at all times maintain the plant and properties in an efficient operating condition.

6. General Reserve.—It is considered that the Company would require to create (and subsequently maintain) a general Reserve Account not exceeding a maximum of 5 per cent calculated on the average total capital expenditure account of the three preceding years, subject to the proviso that not more than a sum equivalent to one half of one per cent. be credited to such general Reserve Account in respect of any one year's working. The "total capital expenditure" for this purpose shall be considered to include all payments made up to the end of any financial year on capital account irrespective of whether any items of plant upon which payment or payments may have been made up to the close of such financial year have been placed into working commission or not.

7. Dividend Equalisation Reserve and Definition of "Total Capital".—It is proposed that the Company create and maintain a Dividend Equalisation Reserve Account over a period of years, to be computed at a rate not exceeding 1 per cent per annum of the total capital of the Company. The total of this reserve shall not exceed 5 per cent of the capital invested in the business. For the purpose of this Clause and for all such other general purposes the "total capital" shall be defined as including "Share and/or loan capital."

8. Proportion of Nett Profits for Reduction of Charges.—If and/or after the nett profit of the Company in any one year shall exceed a nett return of 10 per cent calculated on the total capital invested in the business of the Company at the end of any financial year, then the Company will be required to allocate one half of any such surplus in excess of the said 10 per cent to a "Consumers Reserve Account" for the specific purpose of reducing rates of charge for electricity to consumers. Subject to this proviso it is not the intention to insert any other clause restricting profits.

9. Bad Debts, if any.—It is agreed that any sum which the Company may require to write off during the first year after taking over as irrecoverable in respect of accounts outstanding for any year or years prior to the date of purchasing the Electricity Undertaking, shall be for the Council's account.

10. Consumers' Deposits:

(a) Cash Deposits.—It is necessary to point out that cash deposits held from consumers in respect of electricity supplies amount to approximately Tls. 1,705,000 at December 31, 1928.

(b) Guarantees. — Bulk Supplies, etc.—The nominal value of Shanghai Municipal Debentures at present held by the Electricity Department in connection with large power supplies is Tls. 1,037,800. It is not considered any difficulty would be experienced in transferring these guarantees to the Company.

11. Wayleaves, etc.—The Company will be granted all the privileges at present enjoyed by the Electricity Department including:—

(a) The right to break up roads and/or to construct such works as are necessary in connection with the supply of electricity, both underground and above ground, in and on the streets and in all public places within the areas as defined in Clause (1).

(b) The right to enter into any house and/or premises supplied or to be supplied with electricity by the Company for the purpose of inspection, measurement, and for such repairs as are necessary or customary.

(c) In such cases as the Company requires to move poles, overhead or underground cables, buildings, or any other apparatus being the property of the Company, for its own purpose, the cost of such work would be carried out at the expense and entire risk of the Company. In the event of any such works being carried out to the request or instruction and to suit the convenience of the Council or any other party than the Company then the Council or such other party would require to bear the cost of executing such works.

12. Tariffs; Maximum Rates.—Subject to the provisions contained in Clause (13) the present printed schedule detailing the current rates of charge for all ordinary electricity supply purposes shall be defined as the maximum rates of charge, and similarly all present agreements covering bulk supplies of electricity to consumers shall remain operative during the currency of such agreements subject to the proviso that the all-in rate per kilowatt hour for the combined Capital Charge and basic Running Charge in respect of such bulk supplies shall on renewal of agreement in no case exceed the existing contract rates, except in cases where bulk supply consumers may have already been notified by the Electricity Department of other renewal terms, or, where previous agreements are being carried on subject to termination at the discretion of the Department, otherwise the present all-in rate per kilowatt hour for the combined Capital Charge and basic Running Charge shall be considered as the maximum charges, subject further to the provision that the basic figures upon which the Running Charge is made up may subsequently be reduced if improved methods in the generation and distribution of electrical energy introduce factors which may involve amendment of the basic principle upon which the said Running Charge is at present framed and adjusted, and always subject to the provisions contained in Clause (13).

13. Tariffs: Provisions for Amendment.—It would be a condition that all consumers of electricity should not have to pay more for electricity for any of the uses to which it is generally or commonly applied, e.g., light, heat, power (industrial and/or traction), with the exceptions that in the event of any and/or all of the following factors being influenced in higher costs to such an extent as to adversely affect the Company's total production costs.—("Production Costs" are to be taken as those charges at present included under this head by the Electricity Dept.)—as follows:—

Cost of plant, buildings, cables or any other materials, fuel, oil, stores, labour, rates and taxes, insurance, depreciated local currency, and additional and/or unavoidable expenses caused by the legislative or administrative acts of a Government and/or Public Authority, or any direct and/or unavoidable influence—other than over-capitalisation by the Company:

then the Company under any or all of such circumstances shall be entitled to increase the tariffs, but only to such an extent as would restore the Company's profit to the predetermined figure, and always subject to the proviso that any or all of such changes in tariffs shall at all times be subject to the previous written consent of the Council, it being provided that consideration with a view to such consent shall at all times be given by the Council without unreasonable delay.

14. Staff.—The Company would be required to take over in full all the Council's obligations in regard to the staff of the Electricity Department, both foreign and Chinese, and including superannuation, pension, and all other benefits and privileges. Furthermore the Company would be obliged to enter into an undertaking to retain the members of the existing staff, and not dismiss any except for such reasons as would now apply, viz:—inefficiency, neglect of duties or other causes as defined in the Council's present form of Agreement. In this connection it is necessary that the staff should have the assurance that their prospects in regard to remuneration, promotion and length of service will not be jeopardised or adversely affected in the event of them transferring their service to the Company.

15. Rates and Taxes.—It is agreed that the present basis upon which the Electricity Department is assessed and pays municipal taxation on its properties shall be retained, that is, no assessment for such purposes shall be made on electric lines, poles, plant, etc., now or in the future—and further that no discrimination shall be made against the Company in respect of the valuation for rating purposes of land and buildings. It is further agreed that in consideration of the Royalty which the Company will require to pay to the Council under the terms of Clause (4) no direct or indirect taxation in any form shall be imposed on the Company now or in the future by reason of the Company being a public utility operating concern.

16. Capitalised Interest.—The Company will be permitted to debit capital account with interest on expenditure on plant, until the date same is placed into commission, at a rate not exceeding 6 per cent per annum.

17. Rules and Regulations.—The Company shall at all times be entitled to make and enforce such rules and regulations covering the terms and conditions of the supply of electricity as may be reasonably considered necessary by the Company, in the same manner as now applies in the case of the Electricity Department.

18. Council's Electricity Supplies, and re Private Concerns Crossing Roads, etc.—It is agreed that the Council will purchase from the Company at ordinary tariff rates the whole of its requirements for electricity supply, with the proviso that in the case of bulk supplies the terms will be subject to clause (12).

The Council will continue the present arrangement whereby any company and/or private party is not permitted to cross roads, etc., with electricity supply mains for the purpose of giving or conveying a supply of electricity.

19. Technical Matters.—The Council takes the view that a Company operating an electricity public utility business would conduct its affairs—both as regards provision of adequate plant, etc., to meet the growing needs of the community, and in its consumer relationship, on lines similar to those which have enabled the Electricity Department to build up its business. In this connection it is desired to specify the more salient features in order to avoid misunderstandings in the future.

20. Plant Extensions.—There shall be no undue delay by the Company in providing for the extension of the power station or stations, substations and distribution system generally.

21. Generating Plant Reserve.—The Company shall at all times maintain an adequate reserve or standby capacity of plant in the installed capacity of the power station or stations.

22. Meter Rentals.—The Company shall not introduce meter rents except for special metering for the consumer's own purposes, as at present.

23. Service Charges.—The Company shall not increase the service charges at present in force except in very special cases.

24. Bulk Supplies.—No alteration to the current agreements for bulk supplies of electricity shall be made unless such is to the benefit and advantage of the consumer.

25. Hired Apparatus.—The existing hire service of motors and/or other electrical apparatus to consumers shall be retained upon present lines; increases in the present hire charges to be permissible only if the cost of such apparatus is materially advanced. This provision does not however prevent the Company introducing a hire purchase system which might be worked in addition to the aforementioned hire service.

26. Pressure and Frequency.—The pressure of supply to consumers, and frequency of system, with limit of pressure variation, to remain as at present with the exception of bulk supply which is always open to special arrangement as between the supply authority and the consumer. In the unlikely event however of the Company wishing to change the pressure of supply such change to be entirely at the cost of the Company and to be executed without loss or inconvenience to the consumer.

27. Overhead Mains.—Owing to the congested condition of the streets through which the electricity supply overhead mains are carried it should not be allowed to construct overhead mains for pressures exceeding 6600 volts, and this pressure should be permitted only in such thoroughfares as are physically suitable, that is, the system and uses as at present in force should not be exceeded. These provisions shall not however be held to prevent the Company erecting E.H.T. overhead transmission lines from Riverside to various primary substations or from such substations, or for the erection of an E.H.T. line around the area of supply, provided there shall be obtained clear wayleaves and that such lines do not constitute a danger to the public or the safe working of other utilities such as telephones, telegraphs, tramways, or other form of transport using overhead conductors, provided always that the consent of the Council or other duly authorised body be first obtained, such consent not to be unreasonably withheld.

28. Protection as a Public Utility.—The Council will afford the Company protection as a public utility undertaking on the same lines as at present applies to the Electricity Department.

29. Arbitration.—A clause will be inserted in the Franchise providing for any dispute or difference of opinion between the Council and the Company to be dealt with under the English Arbitration Act 1889.

30. Definition of Shanghai Tls.—As a safeguard against the possibility of depreciated currency in all cases where the expression "Shanghai Taels" may be mentioned or inferred in the Franchise the following definition will apply, and the basis taken shall be that of the Foreign Bankers' Association in regard to the valuation of the "Shanghai Tael":—

"SHANGHAI TAELS: If the "Shanghai currency tael was a "coin it would (like the Rupee "or English pound) be 0.91666, "i.e. 11/12 fine. Its weight is "one Chauping ounce which "means 565.65 grains troy or "36.64 grammes. Therefore the "Shanghai Sycee tael is re-"presented by a lump of pure "silver (1,000 fine) weighing "518.512 grains or 33.599 "grammes.

"At a meeting of the Foreign "Bankers' Association, Shang-"hai, held on August 23, 1927, "it was decided that it would be "advisable to make a basis of "518.512 grains troy (or 33.599 "grammes) of pure silver (1,000 "fine) to be used by all the "members of the Association "and that all Promissory Notes, "loans, agreements and such like "should contain a clause that "payment must be made in "Silver on the above mentioned "basis."

31. Interest Payable by Tenderer.—For the purpose of calculating the amount of interest payable by any successful tenderer from the date of taking over the Electricity Undertaking—that is, from January 1, 1929, to the date payment or payments may be effected, the rate shall be taken at 7 per cent. (seven per cent.) per annum.

32. Date for Tenders and Currency.—Tenders for the purchase of the Electricity Supply Undertaking of the Shanghai Municipal Council must be addressed and delivered in person by the duly authorised representative of the tenderer, to the Electricity Special Committee, at the offices of the Electricity Department, No. 17 Foochow Road, Shanghai, at 5 p.m. on Tuesday, March 19, 1929, and such tenders shall be stated in terms of Shanghai Taels.

33. Guarantee.—The Electricity Special Committee require and make it a condition that any offer or offers submitted in accordance with Clause (31) must be accompanied by cash or a satisfactory bank guarantee—at the discretion of the Committee—represented by the sum of £1,000,000 (One million pounds sterling).

34. Date for taking over.—In the event of the sale of the said Electricity Department being effected to private interests the Committee propose that the purchaser should take over the Department as a running concern with effect from January 1, 1929.

35. Council's Representation on Board of Company, etc.—The question of the extent to which the Council may require to be represented on the Board of any Company, and arrangements in regard to the right of the Council to appoint duly authorised accountants to examine the accounts, books, and/or records, etc. of the Company, will be defined at a later date.

36. General Notes.—The Riverside Power Station has an installed plant capacity of 161,000 K.W. Of this total Riverside "A" contains 121,000 K.W. of plant, some of which is not modern in the present day interpretation of the term. It operates at 200-lbs. per square inch steam pressure, and a total steam temperature of 572°F. The remaining 40,000 K.W. of plant in Riverside "B" will be in operation this year. It consists of two 20,000 K.W. turbines designed to operate at 350° steam pressure and final steam temperature of 700° Fah. The boiler plant is also new and laid out on up-to-date lines. Pulverised coal firing has been adopted.

Riverside "A".—This section of the plant will in the near future operate at an increased efficiency due to the installation of air preheaters in the boiler house, but this improvement cannot be very marked.

Riverside "B".—This new section should show a very marked improvement in efficiency over Station "A" and this influence opens an encouraging and almost certain prospect of lowering the overall production costs on the total output from Riverside.

Estimates recently compiled indicate that Riverside No. 2 Power Station ought to be in commission towards the Autumn of 1932, and that progressive extensions may be expected to bring the installed plant capacity of that station up to 120,000 —150,000 K.W. by the end of 1940.

By the introduction of ultra-modern plant in this No. 2 station very much higher efficiencies with consequent lower operating costs should be attained than in Riverside "B."

The Council considers that unless unforeseen circumstances arise, such as an abnormal rise in the cost of plant, import tariff, excessive rates and taxes, much higher cost of coal and other requisites (wages and salaries do not influence largely the cost per K.W. hour generated) there would seem to be no justification for increasing the price of electricity to the consumer. On the contrary, the indications are that a progressive reduction should become possible.

A progressive management would be alive to the possibilities outlined, and would, in order to increase its business and maintain the essential "consumer relationship," pass on some of the economies—lower operating costs—to its consumers.

37. Authority for issue of Memorandum.—This memorandum has been authorised for issue to the duly accredited representatives of parties interested in the proposed sale of the Electricity Undertaking, by the Committee appointed by the Shanghai Municipal Council, i.e., the "Electricity Special Committee (1929)."

ELECTRICITY SPECIAL COMMITTEE (1929.)

Shanghai, March 22, 1929.

To the CHAIRMAN & MEMBERS of The Shanghai Municipal Council.

Report of the Electricity Special Committee (1929) appointed by the Council to consider the matter of the disposal or otherwise of the Shanghai Municipal Electricity Department.

The Electricity Special Committee (1929) begs to submit the following comments and unanimous recommendations in regard to the Electricity Undertaking of The Shanghai Municipal Council:—

(1) The Committee is in favour of the Undertaking being sold, but not leased, to a private party.

(2) The Committee has considered the tenders and proposals submitted on March 19, 1929, by three groups, which are as follows:—

(a) To lease the Undertaking.—presented by The Hon. R. D. Denman, on behalf of Lord Meston's Group.

(b) To purchase the Undertaking outright as from January 1, 1929.—presented by Mr. A. Brooke-Smith, on behalf of British Trusts Association, Ltd., together with two alternative offers.

(c) To purchase the Undertaking outright as from January 1, 1929.—presented by Mr. F. W. Murphy, on behalf of the American & Foreign Power Co. Inc. and British Associates, hereinafter referred to as "International Group."

(3) The Committee recommends the offer of International Group be accepted in the sum of Shanghai Tls. 81,000,000 (Eighty-one Millions.)

(4) In the event of the recommendation to sell not being adopted, the Committee further recommends that the Undertaking should not be leased to any party, but should under such circumstances remain a municipal utility undertaking.

Shanghai, March 19, 1929.

To the ELECTRICITY SPECIAL COMMITTEE (1929),

In accordance with the "Memorandum covering the principal features of a proposed Franchise issued by the Electricity Special Committee (1929) etc." enclosed in your letter to S. W. Murphy dated March 16, 1929, the American & Foreign Power Company, Inc., on behalf of itself and its British Associates, all hereinafter called International Group, makes the following tender:—

1.—International Group will pay Eighty-one Million (81,000,000) Shanghai Taels in cash against good title to all of the assets now used or held for use by the Electricity Undertaking of the Shanghai Municipal Council. International Group will make payment of such cash at one time or at such times and in such manner as may suit the Council's requirements. International Group is alternatively willing to assume as part of the above purchase price, responsibility for repayment of all or part of the outstanding Municipal Debentures and the service thereof in such manner as may be agreed upon.

2.—The said sum of Eighty-one Million (81,000,000) Shanghai Taels is in payment of the plant and other assets used in the Electricity Undertaking—all as shown on the Balance Sheet of December 31, 1928, together with all the goodwill, franchise rights, etc., belonging or necessary for the conduct of the business. In addition, it is assumed that the current assets and liabilities, such as commitments for new plant, Sundry Debtors and Payments in Advance, Consumers' Deposits Account, Sundry Creditors, Staff Pension Funds, etc., will be adjusted as on the date of the take-over.

3.—It is the intention of International Group to give bona fide residents of Shanghai and firms domiciled in Shanghai the opportunity to invest in the enterprise.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN POWER COMPANY, Inc.
SAMUEL W. MURPHY,
Attorney in Fact.

And on behalf of British Associates in accordance with the following telegram despatched to the Chairman of the Shanghai Municipal Council.

"This is to advise you that the action of Electric Bond and Share Company through its subsidiary American and Foreign Power Company in presenting tender for Electric Property is on behalf of a syndicate in which we are English participants.

Palace Hotel,
Shanghai, March 6, 1929.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit to your Council a scheme for transferring the Council's Electrical Undertaking to Company Control for a defined period on profit-sharing terms, and for providing additional capital as required.

The assumption on which it rests is that the Council would be glad to free an Undertaking of which it is justly proud, and for whose continued welfare it is rightly solicitous, from association with political problems that are inherent in the Council's work, and that in no way promote the economical generation and distribution of electricity; but only on condition that this can be done without material sacrifice of the interests of future ratepayers and consumers,—only if, in short, the premium to be paid for dissociation from politics is small enough to be worth paying.

The scheme, though adapted in detail to the special circumstances of the case is not in principle unusual. The conduct of public utilities by an independent company on terms of profit-sharing with a Public Authority is exemplified in various Indian railways and most recently by the British Government's lease of its Beam Wireless system. It is a normal device for combining the advantages of Company Control with a continued public share in profits and it effects these objects with the minimum of change in the conduct of the undertaking, and with the economy that goes with the application of the sound principle "new money for new work only." Moreover it provides in a high degree a feature of special importance to the public in this case, community of interest between the Authority and the Company.

THE SCHEME.

In brief the scheme is that a S.M.E. Company lease the undertaking on terms of paying for the interest and Sinking Fund Instalments on all the Council's Electricity Loans plus a fixed rent of Tls. 2,000,000 per annum. After the payment of a 9 per cent. dividend on the Company's ordinary shares, three-quarters of the surplus profits go to the Council and one-quarter to the Company. A sliding scale of benefits to consumers is included, which operates after 10 per cent is paid, not on the whole capital of the Company, but on the ordinary shares only.

DEBENTURE HOLDERS.

The position of the Council's debenture holders required, and has received, special consideration. The proposed method seems precisely to fit their needs. Examination of the maturity dates shews that what is not required is an immediate large sum of money. Excluding electricity loans (and short dated debentures amounting to Tls. 5,291,500) no substantial liability for repayment begins until December 1951. Up to that time maturities amount to Tls. 1,250,000. From 1951 to 1956 they amount to Tls. 21,944,400. Obviously therefore what is needed apart from short dated requirements is a method of giving security to sinking funds to mature in the fifties. No public sign has been given of any eagerness for earlier repayment. No doubt holders of debentures now worth £84 and £88 would rejoice to be at once paid £100. But of course the Council would not lend itself to such a waste of Public money. Apart from these, so far from debenture holders wanting their money back, the success of the Council's recent issue and the current market prices give the clearest proof that the Public desire to hold the debentures, provided no diminution of security is to be feared.

It is submitted that this lease gives to debenture holders just that added security to which they are fairly entitled, but not more.

They are relieved from the uncertainties of a changed Municipal Administration, and the income from this lease alone is calculated more than to satisfy the requirements of their debentures both as to capital and interest. Further the Electrical Undertaking remains the property of the Council. The security for the Council's fixed rent will be steadily increased by the revenue from the additional Capital expended by the Company. Its share in profits should be a growing sum.

In the agreement the service of the Electricity Loans is directly dealt with. In regard to other loans the Council provided for them in 1927:—

	Tls.
Interest.	1,764,822
Sinking Fund Instalments.	386,373
Total	Tls. 2,151,195

As will be seen in the notes to Clause 1, the Council's rent after provision for the Electricity Loans amounts in case A to Tls. 2,420,000, and in case B (a forecast the Electricity Department will not regard as remote) to Tls. 3,035,000.

Satisfactory as is this picture of the present and near future still more attractive is the picture 25 years hence. Even if large deductions are made from the forecasts of the Electricity Department, on any probable assumption including substantial benefits to consumers, the returns under this lease will have more than met all the Council's obligations to its present debenture holders. And the closing years of the lease will see the Council enjoying as large free income with the choice before it of continuing the lease, resuming control, or selling the Undertaking then if it wants to.

RATEPAYERS AND CONSUMERS.

Debenture holders have been dealt with first merely because the merits of lease are less obvious in their case. To the ratepayer and consumer the advantage of lease over sale is too manifest to need elaboration, if the Council shares the faith which foreign purchasers appear to have in the reasonable expectations of the Department; and likes to shew it.

The rough estimates for 1929, however, raise the question of the interests of the consumer in an acute form. I am clearly of the opinion that the position there disclosed is one in which no Council nor Company ought to take all the profits, but that the consumer should enjoy a share in them. Should the estimate be realized, and the outlook for the future be favourable, the Company would agree to the allocation of Tls. 250,000 to the Consumers Benefit fund referred to in Clause 4 of the agreement. This sum is equal to about 5 per cent of the charges for private lighting and fans; though that fact is of course no indication of the precise use to which the Council and Company might put the sum in question.

After this concession to the consumer the Council is still left with more than what is necessary to cover the service of debentures on the 1927 figures.

It will further be noted that apart from the special allocation for 1929, the suggested scale of consumers' benefits is likely to function in respect of 1930 and not to begin in the distant future.

FINANCE.

Subject to more detailed information on future expenditure than it has been fair at this stage to ask of the Department it is proposed that the Company should make an initial issue of:—

£250,000 Cumulative Pref. Shares at not exceeding 7 per cent.

£750,000 Ordinary Shares.

The former are mainly required to repay the Tls. 1,793,300—7 per cent Municipal Debentures falling due this year.

The cost to the undertaking of forming the Company is of importance. In this case it is proposed to pay all of it other than stamp duty out of the premium at which the shares would be issued. It is not proposed to issue any shares except for cash payment.

The additional annual cost of running a Company is estimated at under £20,000 per annum.

On its financial side the scheme is designed for economy; for preserving the undertaking from unnecessary tolls to mere finance, and for rapidly building up a position to command cheap money for the growing requirements of the future. For this purpose it is desirable that:—

1.—The original ordinary shares should soon settle down in the London market at a substantial premium. As that premium grows it becomes increasingly easy not only to issue ordinary shares on better terms, but also a fair proportion of debentures and preference shares at lower rates. It is of interest to remember—though the example is not to be taken as precisely applicable to Shanghai—that when in 1926 the Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation was paying 12 per cent after a sustained record of 11 per cent., it issued 20/- shares at 33/-. For a growing concern like this to have a small proportion of its total capital earning a good rate of interest is sound economy.

2.—The Company should have an inducement to raise money whenever possible by cheaper methods than ordinary shares.

The influence of the scheme on this point is of interest. It will be observed that surplus profits are not, as might naturally be expected, divided in proportion to the Capital supplied by the Council on the one hand and the Company in ordinary shares on the other, but in fixed ratios of three-quarters and one-quarter respectively. At the outset and for the first few years the Company receives rather above its proportion. This helps the Company at the beginning, especially in the building up of reserves. But as soon as the Ordinary shares of the Company exceed £900,000 the proportion is in favour of the Council; and of course throughout the lease as a whole very much in favour of the Council. It is to the interest of the Company to spread its one-quarter surplus over as few ordinary shares as may reasonably be, and it has consequently a strong inducement not to be lavish in their issue when cheaper methods are available.

Had this been a static business, a plan drawn on somewhat different lines would have been recommended to the Council. With an Undertaking so busy growing, the consumer is entitled to a scheme that gives him reasonable assurance of economical finance in the future. The cost of additions required by 1940 we are told may well exceed £4,000,000.

While in the allocation of the surplus the Council does not at once score, it is worth noting what much better terms it gets throughout in the initial return on capital expended. On its Tls. 21,051,307 invested, it receives Electricity Loan Interest and Fixed Rent of Tls. 3,600,000; or over 17 per cent:—17 per cent for the Senior retiring partner, as compared with the Junior active partner's deferred 9 per cent. It should further be pointed out that the Council has brought into the business no capital in return for which the Fixed Rent of Tls. 2,000,000 will be paid. That sum may be regarded purely as interest on capitalised goodwill, say 6.2/3 per cent on Tls. 30,000,000.

Independence of Company.

The Company will have no obligation, financial or other, to any set of Manufacturers. Its prospective Chairman, Lord Meston, is a Director of the English Electric Company. That, however, will not affect the Company's policy which will be to continue the Department's practice of buying in varied markets as from time to time seems in the best interest of the Undertaking.

Retail Trade.

In view of the relationship between the Council and the Company it would be improper for the Company to engage in retail trade, etc. in disregard of Council practice. The Company will therefore follow existing practice unless the Council authorises change.

Exchange.

This scheme, requiring relatively small annual remittances from Shanghai, minimises exchange problems. There is no apparent need for special provisions about it in the agreement. Any reserve created by the Company other than a reserve out of Company's surplus, will operate on behalf of both parties. The Council is scarcely affected except in so far as the amount of divisible surplus varies with the rate at which interest on Debentures and Preference Shares and the 9 per cent on Ordinary Shares is remitted.

International Money.

There are advantages in having diverse nationals interested in this Company. The Company would be glad to arrange that a portion not exceeding 2/5 of the share issue should be placed in Shanghai if there were a demand for it. Chinese, Americans and Japanese in especial, as well as British, might like to be Shareholders, and if selection were necessary, large local consumers of electricity would have the preference.

Alternative Schemes.

In deference to views publicly and privately expressed, I have sought to devise some form of sale to a British Company controlled in London giving approximately as favourable terms both to the Council and to the consumer, but without success. Any such sale is a far more costly process and burdens the undertaking with an unnecessary charge. The cost of floating a £9,000,000 to £10,000,000 Company in London could hardly be less than Tls. 2,500,000 and there seems no good reason for asking the Shanghai consumer to bear it. A scheme based on the principle of "new money for new work only" is always more economical than one requiring a lot of money for more transfer of capital from one set of persons to another.

Under the lease scheme, except for sums that may prove to be required for the adjustment of the 1928 Balance Sheet, the only new money required for such transfer is less than £230,000; the approximate amount of the Council Electricity Loan due this year.

Moreover, regarding the transaction in terms of permanent income, it is hard to arrive at a figure of sale which gives so good a return to the Council without unduly milking the Consumer. On money it receives the Council can hardly expect a return higher than 6 to 7 per cent. On a sale figure of Tls. 70,000,000 this means Tls. 4,200,000 to Tls. 4,900,000 per annum. In the notes to Clause 1 it will be seen that the total rent, disregarding sinking funds, in Case A is Tls. 4,320,000 and in Case B Tls. 4,935,000; with good prospects of growth. These figures, of course, assume that the Council and the Company enjoy the benefit of profits, of which it has been submitted that part should go to the consumer.

Nor does any scheme of part payment in shares work out so well. True, it would secure some permanent share in profits and in some measure reduce cost of floatation. On the other hand it is still relatively costly and involves the undertaking in heavy Income Tax charges. Suppose the Council held shares yielding, say, Tls. 2,000,000 dividend, instead of receiving rent of that amount, the Undertaking would then be burdened with an extra Tls. 400,000 per annum at the present rate of Income Tax.

Sale indeed appears to involve either depriving future ratepayers of profits and adding difficulties in the way of future concessions to consumers, or at best preserving for ratepayers some measure of future profits at a very unnecessary expense.

Further, the Franchise requires terms of repurchase. Now sale and repurchase, like any form of pawning, is always extravagant.

Under the lease scheme the Council never parts with its present property and at the close of the term has only to pay for the values added to the Undertaking in the period of Company Management.

Conclusion.

A profit sharing scheme of this kind is capable of a good deal of variation and elaboration in detail, and any criticisms or suggestions the Council may wish to make will be most sympathetically considered. In principle, however, the scheme is submitted for its acceptance as by far the best method of securing Company Control without disturbing existing policy, on terms which, so far as may be, ensure efficient and economical conduct of the undertaking and a ready supply of fresh capital as required; with a much smaller added burden on the business than any alternative method involves. And finally the Council obtains not only a continuing reward for its fine achievement in the past, but also a large and perhaps even a major share in profits to be built up on that foundation with the Company's capital.

These proposals are put forward on the understanding that between now and the completion of negotiations no public events take place that materially injure the credit of Shanghai.

I take the opportunity of recording my debt, and conveying my thanks to Major Ford, Mr. Aldridge and Mr. Gordon Wright for facts so freely and helpfully placed at my disposal.

Memo. "A."

On the basis of the Department's forecasts of the possible position in 1940, it is of interest to compare what happens to the disposable profits under the Special Committee's scheme of sale plus royalty, and the profit sharing Lease scheme. Let it be assumed that:—

Capital expenditure between now and 1940 is Tls. 32,000,000.

Revenue in 1940 subject to royalty is Tls. 25,000,000, and that on these figures there is a net disposable profit after provision for depreciation, reserves, etc., of 10,000,000 or 9,500,000 or 9,000,000.

Distribution under Sale Scheme.

	Tls. 10,000,000	Tls. 9,500,000	Tls. 9,000,000
Royalty.	1,250,000	1,250,000	1,250,000
Company's profit	8,750,000	8,250,000	7,750,000
Unless it chooses to keep its share and loan capital below	87,500,000	82,500,000	77,500,000

Total retained in Shanghai	7,625,000	7,200,000	6,731,250

It will be remembered that the capital expenditures that have produced these profits are, during Council control Tls. 40,000,000, and during Company control Tls. 32,000,000. In real life, if progress had been steady and undisturbed, rates would no doubt have been lowered and profits lessened.

R. D. DENMAN.

Draft of the proposed provisional agreement between the Shanghai Municipal Council and the Hon. R. D. Denman.

A Company shall be formed by Lord Meston, Mr. Denman and their associates in London to rent the Shanghai Council Electrical undertaking as a going concern from January 1, 1929, with all its assets and liabilities to maintain, conduct and develop it with all proper efficiency, and to supply such additional capital as the service requires, on the following terms:—

1.—The Company shall pay to the Council the following annual rental:—

(1) Taels 2,000,000 payable in sums of Taels 500,000 at the end of each quarter.
(2) Interest on all the Council's Electricity Loans.
(3) Three quarters of the surplus as defined in Clause 5 payable within six months of the close of the year.

2.—On the representation of the Trustees for the Council's Debenture holders that the Council has defaulted in payment of either capital or interest or in the provision of sinking funds of their debentures, the Company shall pay rent to the Trustees until they inform the Company that the default has ceased.

3.—The Company shall take over from the Council its Electricity Department Staff with all its liabilities under existing agreements, together with assets and liabilities of the Provident Funds relating thereto.

4.—In agreement with the Council the Company may set aside, out of the surplus, sums to form a Consumers' Benefit Fund to be used solely for the improvement or cheapening of the service in such ways as may be jointly determined. Minimum allocations shall be made in accordance with an appended scale.

5.—The surplus, of which ¾ shall go to the Council and ¼ to the ordinary shareholders, shall mean the net balance of revenue Account for each year after the deduction of:—

(a) All such expenses, including analogous expenses in London, as are shown in the Electricity Department's Revenue and Net Revenue Accounts, together with reasonable balance carried forward.
(b) Staff pension and superanuation fund allocations.
(c) Sums allocated to general reserve.
(d) The fixed rent of Tls. 2,000,000.
(e) A cumulative dividend not to exceed 7½ per cent per annum, unless in arrear, on the Pref. shares of the Company.
(f) A non-cumulative dividend of 9 per cent per annum only on the ordinary shares of the Company.

6.—The Company shall maintain a Depreciation Fund and in respect of existing Electricity Loans, charge Sinking Fund instalments against it on the principles of the Electricity Department's 1927 accounts. The Company shall set aside and invest in securities approved by the Trustees such sums as with compound interest at 5 per cent will provide for the redemption of Electricity Loans at Maturity, when it shall hand the Council or Trustees the required cash.

7.—After receiving from the Company proper notice and the necessary sums of money, the Council on the Company's request shall redeem Council debentures on due dates prior to maturity.

8.—The Council shall afford the Company all reasonable assistance in the conduct of the undertaking, and shall not sell it during the continuance of the lease without the consent of the Company.

9.—The Board of the Company shall appoint in Shanghai a local Committee of not exceeding seven members of whom two may be nominated by the Council. The Committee shall be paid such remuneration as the Board may determine, and shall be responsible for the day to day management of the undertaking subject to the control of the Board. In especial the Board shall retain in its own hands control of finance, of rates for the supply of current and services subject to the terms of the franchise, the placing of large contracts, the appointments of the higher staff and all matters of general policy. Each member of the Committee shall be appointed for a year and be eligible for re-appointment.

10.—By giving one year's previous notice and on paying the Company compensation as below, the Council may determine the lease and resume control of the undertaking with all assets and liabilities (other than those to share and Company debenture holders which shall be satisfied by the Company out of the compensation money) on January 1, 1960, or subsequently at 10-yearly intervals. Should the Council not give notice, the Company shall be entitled to require for the succeeding 10 year period a revised division of the surplus, so that the parties shall respectively receive the proportion which the capital each has in the undertaking bears to the whole capital, and for this purpose the Council's capital shall be taken as Tls. 21,000,000 and the Company's the par value of its outstanding share and loan capital. Compensation shall be such a sum, not less than the par value of the Company's outstanding share and loan Capital, as may be agreed upon or in default of agreement, fixed by arbitrators who shall have regard among other things to the earning capacity of the Company's capital in the undertaking.

11.—Any dispute or question arising out of this agreement shall be referred to the arbitration in Shanghai of two disinterested persons, being British subjects, one to be appointed by each party; and if they fail to agree, to H.B.M.'s Consul General in Shanghai or his nominee. whose decision shall be final.

NOTES ON CLAUSES.

1.—To show the practical operation of the proposed allocation of profits, after full provision for interest and sinking fund instalments on the Electricity Loans, two examples are given. The first pictures a year based on the Department's rough estimate of the profits for 1929, the second pictures the position when Company Capital to the amount of £1,000,000 in ordinary shares yields Tls. 1,000,000 of added profits.

9 per cent Interest on shares	720,000
Surplus ⅔ to Council	1,035,000
Surplus ⅓ to Company	345,000
	Tls. 4,500,000
Total distribution to Council	Tls. 3,035,000
Total distribution to Ordinary shares of the Company	Tls. 1,065,000

These figures are of course, an incomplete measure of the Council's total receipts from the undertaking. The service of the Electricity Loans requires approximately:—

Interest	Tls. 1,600,000
Sinking Fund Instalments	460,000
	Tls. 2,060,000
Add:— Council's share under Case A.	2,420,000
Share allocation to General Reserve	300,000
	Tls. 4,780,000

The operation of the sinking fund, however, and the gradual decrease in the charge for interest, tends to obscure the position. The continuing burden on the undertaking, and the return to the Council, may roughly be pictured by assuming that the loans were perpetual and no Sinking Fund had to be provided; or in other words that the Company paid full interest throughout the period of the lease and left the Council to provide its own Sinking Fund. On that hypothesis the true return to the Council would be:—

Interest on Electricity Loans	Case A. Tls. 1,600,00	Case B. Tls. 1,600,000
Share of Allocation to General Reserve	300,000	300,000
Distribution	2,420,000	3,035,000
	Tls. 4,320,000	Tls. 4,935,000

For simplicity in these examples factors have been deliberately omitted which on balance should make the result better than is shown. The added cost of a London Company and of British Income Tax should be more than met in Case A. by the immediate yield from the new shares, and in Case B. by the yield from existing capital not yet productive.

In both cases repayment of early maturing debentures would have been financed out of a preference share issue, and the annual charge not materially affected. In these figures concessions to consumers are not taken into account.

Clause 2. It will be noted that this clause applies to future as well as existing debentures if the Council so desires.

Clause 3. It is understood that there is a liability under the pensions scheme which does not at present figure in the Council's accounts and which so far as concerns the Electricity Staff is estimated not to exceed a capitalised value of Tls. 120,000.

Clause 4. This clause is intended to assist in that sort of case in which a concession to consumers produces an immediate loss of profits, only gradually made good; or when the outlook is too uncertain to make it sure that a concession can be lasting.

The following is the minimum scale suggested:—

When the Company's share of the Surplus exceeds the amount of a 1 per cent. dividend on ordinary shares, 10 per cent. of that excess shall go to the Consumers' Benefit Fund.

When it exceeds a 2 per cent. dividend, 15 per cent. of the excess beyond 1 per cent dividend to C.B.F.

When it exceeds a 3 per cent. dividend, 20 per cent. of the excess beyond 1 per cent. dividend to C.B.F.

When it exceeds a 4 per cent dividend, 25 per cent. of the excess beyond 1 per cent. dividend to C.B.F.

When it exceeds a 5 per cent. dividend, 30 per cent. of the excess beyond 1 per cent. dividend to C.B.F.

When it exceeds a 6 per cent. dividend, 35 per cent. of the excess beyond 1 per cent. dividend to C.B.F.

When it exceeds a 7 per cent. dividend, 40 per cent. of the excess beyond 1 per cent. dividend to C.B.F. and so on.

In any case a higher percentage is not to operate if it reduces the dividend below its appropriate level, (e.g.), if a 20 per cent. deduction reduced the surplus below the 3 per cent. level, not more than a 15 per cent. deduction should be made.

Three times the amount of any such deduction from the Company's share of the surplus shall be deducted from the Council's share and go to the Consumers' Benefit Fund. If the division of the surplus be revised under Clause 10, the proportion taken from the Council's share shall be varied accordingly.

For example in Case B. the deduction would be 20 per cent. of the Tls. 265,000 or Tls. 53,000 from the Company's surplus; and Tls. 159,000 from the Council's Total to the Consumers' Benefit Fund, Tls. 212,000.

Such scales are never really satisfactory. They apply too rigidly to circumstances that cannot be foreseen. The perfect safeguard to the consumer is a Company managed by persons accustomed to the obligations of a public service and possessing the business capacity to know the value of cheapness, in friendly partnership with a live Council. As that happy conjunction cannot be guaranteed for 30 years, no doubt a scale is desirable. The Parties, so long as friendly partnership continues, can always agree to be wiser than their agreement.

Clause 5. It has been suggested that the sums the Company should allocate to the "carry forward," general reserve, etc. should be subject to some limitation. I am quite willing to insert limits if it is thought desirable though I prefer not. It is impossible to provide for all eventualities and here the Council has a real safeguard in the broad unity of financial interest between the Council and the Shareholders in these matters. There is the further control given by arbitration in the case of dispute. But, broadly speaking it is a mistake to try to get the benefits of company control and at the same time to fetter too closely the discretion of those responsible for the conduct of affairs.

Clause 10. The terms on which the Council can resume control present the rather futile task of attempting to visualize conditions thirty years hence. An earlier draft proposed compensation for ordinary shareholders at the rate of 18 years purchase of their dividend; a common Indian Railway figure by its way, is 25 years.

Under such a scheme as this, in the Council's interest even more than in the shareholders, it is important to have terms of resumption which will not depress artificially the market value of the Company's shares. The ability to issue shares at a premium and so obtain fresh money economically, especially in the latter half of the period of the lease, would be seriously lessened if shareholders were faced with a falling value to their shares as repayment draws nearer. Perhaps the wisest plan is that adopted by the Shanghai Waterworks, the Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation and many other examples, to avoid prejudging details, Clause 10 is accordingly put forward on that principle, but is readily open to amendment if the Council has other views.

In this connection three points are worth noting. First, the problem of resumption is in essence identical under both lease and sale scheme except that sale involves a far larger financial transaction at the future date. Second, if it is found expedient in the latter years of the lease to give precision to the terms of resumption, fresh terms can be made by agreement. Third, the Council is free to sell the Undertaking at the end of the lease if it wants neither to resume not to continue the lease.

In point of fact, the parties would no doubt enter into fresh negotiations in the late fifties as to the future.

Shanghai, March 19, 1929.

To The ELECRICITY SPECIAL COMMITTEE (1929), Shanghai.

DEAR SIRS,—I have the honour to hand you with this letter the undermentioned documents, viz:—

An offer marked "A".
An alternative offer marked "B".
Bankers' guarantee for £1,000,-000.
A proposal for leasing in the event of a sale not being considered desirable.

I have been authorized by my Principals to lay before you the following for your consideration:—

1.—Provided that the Electricity Undertaking is acquired by my Principals they undertake to incorporate a sterling Limited liability Company under the British Companies Act to operate the Undertaking as a separate entity:—

(a) With its Head Office and its controlling Board of Directors in Shanghai together with a local Board or Committee in London.

(b) In addition to the British members of the Board of Directors in Shanghai, it is hoped that it may be possible to arrange, within the limits permitted by law, for representative American, Japanese and Chinese to be associated with them.

(c) The Company will welcome representation by the Council upon the Shanghai Board of Directors.

(d) If desired, the first Directors of the Shanghai Board will be subject to the approval of the Chairman of the Shanghai Municipal Council, such approval not being unreasonably withheld.

(e) A firm of experience in the management of Electricity Undertakings in many parts of the world will be appointed Secretaries of the Company in London.

(f) The Company propose to retain Messrs. Preece, Cardew & Rider as at present employed by the Council.

(g) It is intended that Shareholders Meetings of the Company will be held in Shanghai.

2.—My Principals are free of any obligations to any manufacturing interests.

3.—In addition to the British financial interests associated with my Principals, I am in a position to declare that a 25 per cent. interest in the Company on flotation is reserved for participation by a first class American financial corporation not connected with manufacturing interests.

4.—It is proposed to offer Japanese interests, not associated with manufacturers of Electrical machinery, an option to take a 10 per cent. interest in the Company on flotation, while a further 10 per cent. will be reserved for applications from residents of Shanghai, irrespective of nationality, which will give Consumers an opportunity of directly investing in the Undertaking, on the successful management of which they depend for lower costs of Electricity.

5.—Participation by the Council as a shareholder in the Company will be welcomed and is a subject which is open for discussion.

6.—Private enterprise in Electricity supply is known generally to result in lower costs to Consumers than a public owned utility through continuity of policy being conductive to economies.

I am, Dear Sirs,
Yours faithfully,
A. BROOKE SMITH,
As Attorney for British Trusts Association Limited.

Public Health Report for February.

The state of the public health was satisfactory during the month, the death rate among both Foreigners and Chinese being about normal.

There was an appreciable decline in the number of cases of Smallpox. Among resident Foreigners nine occurred, with two deaths. In one of these fatal cases vaccination had not been done for twenty-six years, and in the other not at all till three days before the onset, and too late in the incubation period to have any influence on the disease.

Few of the acute communicable diseases are so independent of conditions such as race, climate, age, occupation and sanitary surroundings as Smallpox. It flourishes wherever the infection is present among susceptible people.

Sanitation has diminished the prevalence of Plague, Typhoid and Cholera and has almost banished Typhus and Relapsing Fever, but the only prevention of Smallpox is vaccination and revaccination which carried out systematically and generally, will confer almost complete protection on the individual and the community.

The advent of the Chinese New Year holidays led to a decrease in the number of vaccinations, nevertheless 2,621 persons, more than half of whom were infants and children, attended for free vaccination at the Branch Health Offices.

The number of deaths from Pneumonia among Foreigners was again unusually high, and associated with the prevalence of influenza.

The new Municipal Pig Slaughterhouse in Whashing Road was formally opened in the middle of the month. There was some opposition and reluctance to use the premises at first among the butchers, but they were gradually brought to realize the advantages of the facilities provided, and all was working smoothly by the end of the month.

Altogether 33,797 pigs were killed at the Pig Slaughterhouses, and of these 240 carcases, and 1,784 portions of carcases, were condemned as unfit for human consumption.

A large number of requests (43 in all) were made for the services of private nurses, but it was impossible to spare nurses for this purpose from the Municipal Nursing Staff.

The Bi-annual Conference of the China Medical Association was held in Shanghai during the Chinese New Year holidays. A large number of the delegates visited the various divisions of the Public Health Department, and a special demonstration of cinematographic films prepared by the Department, on subjects of Public Health, was given at the Branch Health Office in Hankow Road.

Here follow Tables of Vital Statistics, Communicable Diseases and of the work of the Food, Dairies and Markets Division, Sanitation Division, Tuberculosis and Venereal Diseases Clinics and Municipal laboratories, Hospitals and Slaughterhouse.

Commissioner of Public Health.

LABORATORY REPORT ON WATER

Sample of Shanghai Waterworks Water
Sample received February 26, 1929
Report sent out March 5, 1929
Physical Characters.—Faint yellowish green colour with very slight opacity. Faintly alkaline reaction to litmus.

Chemical Examination.	Parts per 100,000
Solid matter in Solution	49.0
Appearance on ignition:
	Very slight charring
*Total Hardness:	12.5
(a) Carbonated (Temporary)	8.0
(b) Non-Carbonated (Permanent)	4.5
Chlorine in Chlorides	19.2
Nitrogen as Nitrates	0.0453
Saline Ammonia	0.0114
Albuminoid Ammonia	0.0062
Poisonous Metals	Nil
Nitrites	Nil
Phosphates	Minute traces
Sulphates	Traces
Oxygen absorbed in 1 hour at 37° C.	0.0350

*Hardness determinations are by acid and alkali. Not by soap method. The water shows a slight admixture of sea water. This became evident on the 24th inst. and continued until the end of the month. This is reflected in the figures for total dissolved solids and in a lesser degree in the hardness figures. The maximum chlorine in chlorides figure noted was 20.5 parts per 100,000 on the afternoon of the 26th. Free chlorine has varied between 0.20 and 0.30 parts per million in samples taken in the laboratory and between 0.08 and 0.30 parts per million in samples taken at other points. Nitrites have been absent. Saline ammonia figures have been higher than normal.

Bacteriological Examination.—7 samples of Shanghai Waterworks water were examined for bacterial contamination. Coliforms and organisms of the B. coli group were found to the amount of 10 per litre in one sample, in which there was evidence of bacterial contamination of local causation. In each of the other 16 samples, which included three taken from the mains, no coliform organisms were present in the 120 cc examined.

These results show the water to be of a satisfactory standard.

Report on Analysis.—Results of analyses show satisfactory purification.

REPORT
ON
THE PROPOSED SALE OF THE ELECTRICITY DEPARTMENT.

The following statement regarding the proposed sale of the Electricity Department is issued by the Council for public information :—

Shanghai, April 3, 1929.

The circumstances which led up to the making of certain proposals for the purchase of the Electricity undertaking are very simple and easy of explanation. There is nothing in any way connected with the subject which the Council desires to withhold from the public. On the contrary, it desires that the ratepayers in making their decision shall be in full possession not only of the facts but of all available information it is possible to give them.

In the first place it should be fairly obvious to anyone that our Electricity undertaking could not have attained the magnitude which it has without something being known about it in the great business and financial centres of the world such as London and New York.

The first intimation which the Council received that anyone was interested in the purchase of the Undertaking came in October 1928 when a representative of a group of New York business men called upon the Chairman of Council and asked whether in his opinion the Council would consider a proposal to purchase the Undertaking.

The Chairman pointed out to the representative that the Electricity undertaking had been built up by British initiative, that the major portion of municipal debentures are held by British subjects, and that as the ratepayers are predominantly British there was little likelihood that a sale to a purely American group would receive favourable consideration.

The representative expressed the opinion that as American and British business interests under present day conditions are closely affiliated in many ways, there would be no difficulty in securing combined American and British interests in the project.

The proposal upon the basis of a combined American and British interest with a certain amount of participation by other nationals, or a British interest with similar participation, was discussed more or less informally at first between members of Council, and later formally, and the consensus of opinion appeared to be that in view of the trend of political events generally in China it would be wise to consider and submit to the ratepayers any attractive or satisfactory proposal of purchase which might be received.

At no time did the Council invite bids or take any initiative in the matter. It contented itself by informing anyone who expressed the desire to make an offer that if any offers were made they would be considered and in the Council's discretion submitted to the ratepayers.

The Council also felt that considering the magnitude and importance of the issues involved in the possible sale of the Electricity undertaking it would be of great assistance to the Council to have the advice and opinion of prominent business men of the community outside the Council itself. With a view to obtaining this independent advice and opinion the Council appointed a Special Electricity Committee to consider the whole matter and report to the Council.

It is now a matter of public knowledge that three offers, which have been published in detail, were made and submitted to the Special Electricity Committee appointed by the Council whose further report follows:—

ELECTRICITY SPECIAL COMMITTEE (1929).

Shanghai, April 3, 1929.

SIR,—I have to refer to the Report and Recommendations of the Electricity Special Committee (1929) in regard to the question of the disposal of the Electricity Undertaking of the Shanghai Municipal Council, submitted to the Council on March 22, 1929, and in this connection now beg to forward a further Report of to-day's date giving the Committee's reasons for recommending the sale of the Electricity Undertaking.

I beg to remain, Sir,
Your obedient servant,
H. GORDON WRIGHT,
Secretary.

STIRLING FESSENDEN, Esq.,
Chairman,
Shanghai Municipal Council.

ELECTRICITY SPECIAL COMMITTEE (1929).

Shanghai, April 3, 1929.

To the CHAIRMAN AND MEMBERS of the Shanghai Municipal Council.

As requested, we now submit our report and reasons for recommending the sale of the Electricity Department.

At the commencement of its deliberations, the Committee considered the question as to whether in the interests of the community and consumers it was desirable to sell, lease or leave the undertaking on its present basis. In this connection, the Committee were impressed by the fact that the relationship of the Department to the community of Shanghai could not be gauged solely by the amount of money invested or the profits made. In the Committee's opinion, the prosperity of Shanghai is closely bound up in the efficient administration of the Electricity Department: the rapidity of its development in the past and the favourable rates at which it has been able to supply electricity is to a large extent responsible for the enormous development of local industries. The Committee realized how important it was that continuity of efficient running of the Department should be maintained, a continuity which can only be possible if the undertaking is regarded purely as an industrial concern and beyond the scope of political influence, and in view of possible future changes in the status of the Settlement, was strongly of the opinion that it should be safeguarded from all possibility of interference. The Committee therefore desires the Council to realise that its underlying motive in recommending the sale outright was that it considered it to be in the best interests of the Council and the community that the Department should be placed in such a position as to enable it to function independently of political and other influences which might impair its efficiency. In the Committee's view, the best means to achieve this end is to place its control in the hands of an International group, a group sufficiently strong and well-acquainted with the operation of electricity undertakings. At the same time, the Committee wish to emphasise that they were not prepared to recommend a sale unless the consumer was safeguarded and the price offered attractive, and, in their opinion, the offer made by the International Group is a very advantageous one, and they have no hesitation in recommending its acceptance, as they feel that with the experience this group has in operating Electricity Undertakings in various parts of the World, the present efficiency of the Municipal Electricity Department will be maintained and possibly improved upon.

The question of the leasing of the Electricity Department was gone into very thoroughly and the Hon. Mr. R. D. Denman was given a special hearing at the meeting of the Electricity Special Committee (1929) on March 21, in addition to the interview he had on March 4, when the draft of the proposed Franchise memorandum was discussed with him.

The proposal to lease the Electricity Department put forward by the Hon. R. D. Denman was carefully considered, but in the opinion of the Committee was not one they could recommend, in fact they do not recommend any lease of the Electricity Department. The future financial requirements of the Electricity Department, in the opinion of the Committee, are not so excessive as to constitute a burden on the Municipality, and at no time was this question of finance a sufficient cause to recommend a change in the status of the Department, although it is a factor to be considered in view of the large sums required for extensions in the next few years. Briefly, a leasing proposition means handing over the management of the Electricity Department to a third party who raise the necessary funds for future extensions, but as they have to make a profit themselves, this is an expensive way of financing and if it is decided not to sell the Department, the Committee is of the opinion that it should continue on the present basis. The view of the Committee is that there are no advantages in a lease as the Department would not be safeguarded against political influences in the future, as the Municipality would retain the Assets and have a considerable sum of money invested, whereas in a sale the entire Assets would be transferred to an International Group and the Municipality not only relieved of its investments, but also receive a considerable sum of money in addition.

Dated this third day of April One thousand nine hundred and twenty nine, and signed by the Chairman and Members of the Electricity Special Committee (1929).

Gift to Public Library.

The following correspondence is published for the information of the public:—

Shanghai, April 3, 1929.

SIR,—My late father, Mr. Vyvyan Dent, was a large user of the Shanghai Public Library, and I think it would please him to have four of his historically interesting oil-paintings given to the Library as souvenirs of him. Therefore I have pleasure in offering to you a set of four very old paintings, dating from about 1825/1830 of:—Shanghai Bund, Whampoa (Foochow), Hongkong, and Macao.

I am not absolutely positive about the former, it may be the Factories at Shameen, Canton. Anyway, they are unique and would be of historical interest to Shanghai.

They are fairly large, about four feet wide by three feet high, with frames.

If you wish to accept this gift, they are at your disposal at any time. I happen to know that all four came originally from the old Dent Hong here in Shanghai.

With my regards,
Yours faithfully,
R. V. DENT.

If you will kindly communicate with the Commissioner of Public Works, he will arrange for the transportation of the pictures to the Library.

Charity Organization Committee.

Report and Statement of Accounts for 1928:—

Shanghai, April 3, 1929.

SIR,—I beg to enclose herewith the Annual Report of the Charity Organization Committee together with the Treasurer's Statement.

The Committee regret very much the lateness in sending these along.

I am, etc.,
Your obedient servant,
ADA WHEEN,
Secretary.

S. M. EDWARDS, Esq.,
Secretary,
Shanghai Municipal Council.

The Charity Organization Committee are thankful that in drawing up the Report for 1928 they have no such disturbances to chronicle as occurred in the previous year. It has been a year of steady and increasing work.

It may give some idea of the extent to which the work has grown if we recall that up to 1925 it was possible to arrange that the Secretary and Assistant Secretary should each take a month's holiday during the summer, as the work could be carried on during the slack months of July and August by one of them alone. During 1926 the then Assistant Secretary was in poor health and could not be left in charge, and also did not wish to leave Shanghai for a holiday, so the custom was broken.

The Secretary went on furlough in 1927 and the Acting Secretary and the new Assistant Secretary both found their time fully taken up during the summer months. And again this year both Secretaries were too busy for it to be possible to leave the Office in the charge of one person, except for a day or two at a time. This means that the problem of vacations is one to be faced in the coming year, as there are no indications of a decrease in the work of the Office. There has been a steady increase in the co-ordination of charitable efforts and accordingly more Filing and Correspondence. To a much greater extent than in the past, benevolent Societies use the office for the distribution of relief and the Secretary practically acts as Almoner, as the Organization has no funds of its own for charitable distribution. Needless to say, the duties of the Hon. Treasurer do not grow less as the work increases.

The Committee will be forced with the task of securing satisfactory accommodation during the current year. They feel that premises as suitable as the present and as moderate in rent will be difficult to find.

Two Meetings of Associated Charities have been held, May 14 and October 9. Dean Trivett took the Chair on both occasions. Representatives from various Charities and Organizations doing work among the poor in Shanghai were present. Owing to the disturbances and troubles, it was nearly two years since the last Meeting of the kind had been held. At the Meeting on May 14, after pointing out that still more use should be made of the Central Bureau of Registration the question of an Industrial Farm Shelter and/or Shop, to give employment to many who now live on Charity was discussed. A Committee was appointed and a small shop was started, but it was really found to be too large an undertaking for this Committee to handle and at a Charity Organization Committee Meeting held on November 17, 1928, it was decided to hand it over to the Joint Women's Association of Shanghai.

Later, however, after further investigation it was discovered that most of the workers had a market elsewhere for their articles and it was decided to give it up altogether. Unless carried on, on a larger scale and with a paid staff it was felt the benefits hoped for could not be accomplished.

The principal item of discussion at the Meeting held on October 9, was the opening of the Foreign Women's Sanitarium and the small prospect of keeping it full until the Committee had the power of detention. After much discussion it was moved by Father Jacquinot and seconded by Mr. Briner that a letter be sent to the Senior Consul for transmission to the Consular Body setting forth:—

1.—That Shanghai affords no possibility of permanently taking care of mentally deficient women over whom there exists no power of detention, that therefore it is of the greatest importance that all such women be repatriated after a second or third conviction.

2.—That a home has been established to take care temporarily of such cases, but that it cannot attain its object unless the stay of the inmates is enforced by judicial authority.

3.—That the authorities of this home are willing to perform the same services for foreign women as the Door of Hope is rendering to Chinese women and requesting the Consular Body officially to recommend to the Provisional Court that women in moral danger be confined to this Home for a period.

This was done and the following letter was received from the Senior Consul:—

"I desire to acknowledge with thanks the receipt of your letter of December 11,1928, acquainting me with certain resolutions passed at a Meeting of Associated Charities which you invoke the co-operation of the Consular Body in giving effect to. The proposals embodied in these resolutions, which relate to the protection of foreign women and children who are feeble minded or mentally defective, have been considered by members of the Consular Body, and I am desired to make the following reply.

"My Colleagues are well aware of the admirable work performed by the Foreign Women's Home and would naturally be in sympathy with any measures designed to further these labours or to make them more effective. To this end I am bringing your communication to the notice of my deputies in the Shanghai Provisional Court so that the attention of the judges may be directed to your recommendations when non-extraterritorial foreign cases of the character described are brought before that tribunal. With regard to such cases involving nationals of Powers enjoying Extraterritorial Rights, I would point out that these are governed by the laws of the nation concerned and the care or detention of such persons is therefore entirely a matter within the competency of the particular Consul interested."

It is hoped that drawing the attention of the Judges of the Provisional Court will help matters a little if the Provisional Court will give the order for detention in the Home for a certain time.

This Meeting also discussed the question of promiscuous giving and the soliciting for alms in the street after office hours. The Secretary endeavoured to point out that these were not really the cases who needed help as there was always the Casual Ward open to them. In proof of this a recent case might be mentioned of two men calling on a lady for help after 5 p.m. She gave them $1 and a chit to the Charity Organization Committee's office asking that they be given help and saying that she would be sending a cheque the following day for $10. The man called the following day, decidedly under the influence of drink—on the strength of $1 received the previous evening—demanding the sum of $10, having apparently opened the chit and read or had it read to him. Mr. Grosse was appealed to and knowing the man's failing suggested that any help given be through his office. Clothes and a week's meal tickets were sent and the man was told to go there for them. The last heard was that they were still waiting to be called for!

In order to obtain concerted action on a case which presented many difficulties the Charity Organization Committee called together representatives of different Charities and several private individuals known to be interested.

A decision was made at this Meeting to grant passage money to Europe to the individual concerned if the necessary passports were in order. The would-be recipient, however, was unable to procure these essential papers and is still in China, though repeated efforts have been received demanding the modest sum of $500 and accusing the Committee of breaking its word. Numerous detrimental reports of the Committee have been sent to the C. I. D. to the Foreign Office in London and to the Secretary of State, Washington.

During the Secretary's furlough she took the opportunity of visiting the Headquarters of the Charity Organization Society in London and met their Secretary, who has been of very great assistance in many cases sent home, even to assisting in collecting repayments of loans made for passage money, the latest being that of a man who is repaying the money to them at the rate of 6/- a week.

We are also glad to say that we have been of assistance to Benevolent Societies in other parts of China and Japan, the latter in the case of the three young Russian girls, who ran away from home to try the glories of cabaret life in Shanghai. The youngest of only 13 years of age was specially difficult to handle and very strongly resented being placed in the Foreign Women's Home until word could be received from her friends.

Once again the Committee have been called upon to act in loco parentis. A Refugee from one of the River Ports came to Shanghai with her three children. A position was made for her at The King's Daughters' Convalescent Home and her children were placed in the Council's Schools either free or at reduced fees. On her death in the Hospital towards the end of the year, the Society were prepared to undertake the expenses of the children until such time that they could support themselves, when it was found that the Mother had managed to save a goodly sum, sufficient to pay for their education, and to start them in life. As the children were infants in the eyes of the law, one member of the Committee volunteered to act as Guardian, with the lawyer in whose hands the Estate had been placed, until the youngest came of age.

It is very gratifying to be able to report that several repayments of loans have been made through the Committee during the year, although ,alas, there are still some thousands outstanding.

New cases have been dealt with during the year, and the Daily Journal records visitors to the Rooms as follows:—

The Committee wishes to acknowledge the kindly co-operation of the various societies to whom it has applied for assistance and without whose aid work could not be carried on, and also to many private individuals.

Excerpts from Minutes.

At the meeting of the Council held on Wednesday, March 20, 1929, at 4.30 p.m., there are present: Messrs. S. Fessenden, Chairman, A. D. Bell, vice-Chairman, H. E. Arnhold, K. Fukushima, T. Funatsu, B. C. M. Johnston, W. P. Lambe, V. G. Lyman, J. J. Paterson, Tsuyee Pei, L. T. Yuan and S. U. Zau.

The Minutes of the last meeting are read, confirmed, and signed by the Chairman.

The Minutes of the meeting of the Works Committee of March 5, are submitted and confirmed.

The Minutes of the meeting of the Watch Committee of March 8, are submitted, and, subject to reference to the Finance Committee of the section relating to the annual estimates of the Russian Detachment of the Volunteer Corps, are confirmed. With regard to: Gaol Staff.—In view of the contemplated extension of the Gaol and the rapid and consistent increase in the number of prisoners, certain members favour the proposal recently put forward by the Commissioner of Police that the administration of the Gaol should be divorced from the Police Force. A member further suggests that the Reformatory should be administered quite independently of the Gaol. In agreeing that adoption of the above proposals would conform to the procedure in force in other large cities, members express the view that they merit further consideration at a later date.

Nanking Road—House Numeration.—A recommendation by the Commissioner of Revenue that advantage be taken of the extensive rebuilding in Nanking Road, in the section between Szechuen and Kiangse Roads, to revise the house numeration of the whole of the road from the Bund to Thibet Road is submitted. Under the Commissioner's proposal, odd and even numbers would be allocated to the left and right sides of Nanking Road respectively as from July 1, next, and the cost of the enamel plates necessary for this improvement would approximate Tls. 80. This proposal is unanimously endorsed and the necessary notification is authorised for publication in the next issue of the Gazette.

The Municipal Gazette for Friday, March 22, is submitted in proof and authorised for publication. With regard to Municipal Notification No. 3822 requiring that no procession be held in the Settlement without permission first obtained from the Commissioner of Police, the Chinese members consider that this formality should not be insisted upon so far as small processions, notably those connected with weddings and funerals, are concerned. The Chairman states there is no desire to impose a restriction which would bear hardly on law abiding citizens, but that in traffic and other interests, it is essential that the Police Department should be advised of such processions in advance. He considers that a number of small unauthorized processions in close proximity would prove far more detrimental to other road users than one of a larger size officially authorised by the Police, and further that although a procession might be small at the outset, there is nothing to prevent its numbers being added to during its progress. He will, however, prior to the next meeting of the Council, discuss this question with the Commissioner of Police with a view to obtaining an assurance from him that the proposed regulation will not inflict undue hardship on residents desiring to form small processions for the purposes referred to by the Chinese members.

At the meeting of the Staff Committee held on Thursday, March 21, 1929, at 4.30 p.m., there are present: Messrs. V. G. Lyman, Chairman, B. C. M. Johnston, Li Ming and J. J. Paterson.

The Minutes of the last meeting are confirmed and signed.

At the meeting of the Watch Committee held on Friday, March 22, 1929, at 4 p.m., there are present: Messrs. V. G. Lyman, Chairman, and Mr. J. J. Paterson.

The Minutes of the last meeting are confirmed and signed.

ANNUAL LICENSING SESSION.

The Chairman states that this meeting has been convened for the purpose of examining the question of the licensing of Hotels, Taverns, and Restaurants serving liquor with meals. By published notification opportunity has been afforded the public to protest against or uphold the issue of new licences and the confirmation of provisional licences, as also the renewal of existing full licences. Whilst no written protests have been received from the public, the following ladies and gentlemen attend, viz: Mrs. H. M. King, Mrs. E. L. Macdonald, Mrs. E. L. Main, Mrs. F. J. Raven, Rev. J. Darroch and Rev. E. F. Borst-Smith. In welcoming their attendance on behalf of the Committee, the Chairman invites an expression of any views which they may have to offer.

In responding, Mrs. F. J. Raven states that her concern is with the licensing of establishments generally in its relation to public morality, and not with any specific establishment. In her view, the efforts of the Police in the preservation of public morality, as in the maintenance of law and order, meet with a widespread though perhaps inarticulate appreciation on the part of the public. The purpose of her attendance is, in the main, to convey an assurance that the weight of a considerable body of public sympathy will be lent to all measures designed by the Police and the Council for the preservation of the Settlement's good name. Insofar as relates to establishments selling liquor, her hope is that the curtailment of any extension of the existing facilities for obtaining drink may be taken under serious consideration. The Rev. J. Darroch states that he also is concerned with the general principles at stake in a too easy grant of such facilities on the part of the Settlement authorities. It is his opinion that the all too frequent cases of persons found in the streets under the influence of liquor, demonstrate the need for restrictive measures, and that the Broadway district, particularly, is already over supplied with premises serving liquor. Provisional licences should not, in his opinion, be granted without giving the public an opportunity to protest at the time of issue. Public drunkenness, he states, is unduly prevalent, with damaging result to the prestige enjoyed by the Council. Finally, it is his opinion that any increase beyond the number of the existing establishments is uncalled for.

Before their withdrawal, the Chairman expresses the Committee's thanks for the public-spirited action taken by these ladies and gentlemen in attending, and he assures them that during the ensuing deliberations the views they have advanced will be given careful consideration.

Detailed examination is then given to the licence applications which have been submitted, as a consequence of which it is recommended that the following licences be issued, subject to compliance with the requirements of Municipal Departments and to Consular countersignature of the licence where requisite:—

It is noted that provisional licences have already been issued in respect of all the above licences, with the exception of applications Nos. 1, 17 and 18.

Nos. 37/41 Seward Road.—Application is submitted by B. Kazanjoglou for a hotel licence in respect of the existing restaurant at Nos. 37/41 Seward Road. Having regard to the adverse Police report, the application is not recommended for approval.

Renewal of existing full licences.—In the absence of specific protest from the public or of Police report of disorderly conduct of the premises during the past year, renewal of the full licences held by existing establishments is recommended, except in respect of the Strand Hotel, No. 109 Szechuen Road. Having regard to a report by the Chief Officer of the Fire Brigade as to the danger to the occupants of this hotel in the event of an outbreak of fire, it is recommended that a provisional licence only be granted, confirmation thereof to be subject to prior compliance with the requirements of the Fire Brigade in the matter of the provision of adequate means of egress.

Future Policy Relating to Establishments Serving Liquor.—The Commissioner of Police states that he is in favour of the introduction of restrictions upon any further extensive licensing of establishments serving liquor and that the Force would welcome the adoption of means to that end. It is observed that the keeping of such establishments is a legitimate occupation under the Settlement Bye-laws and that, accordingly, it would be incumbent upon the Council to show good reason for the refusal of any application for the conduct thereof. Nevertheless, members affirm that discretion lies with the Council, as the licensing authority, to refuse any particular application should it be considered that the circumstances so warrant. The opinion prevails that it is desirable to restrict establishments which are in excess of reasonable public demand and that the Council's licensing policy should envisage a measure of finality in the number of establishments permitted in a given locality. The Commissioner of Police expresses the view that careful examination into the question of legitimate demand may reveal that the existing supply in certain localities is adequate for the present. Should such prove to be the case he is strongly in favour, and members endorse his opinion, that only in very exceptional cases should any further licences be granted in respect of these localities. While it is appreciated that licences have, in fact, been refused on the grounds of an adequate supply in the district concerned, this criterion has not in the past been made paramount in giving consideration to applications generally. Accordingly, it is decided to recommend that all future applications for licences in respect of establishments serving liquor should be considered in relation, primarily, to the question of supply and demand in the locality affected; and that, should Police investigation reveal that the reasonable demand has been met, no further applications in respect of the area involved should be favourably entertained. Members further express the view that it is desirable that the Council's attitude in the matter of its future licensing policy should be published in order that the public and prospective licencees may be duly advised.

Public Health Report for March.

The outstanding feature of the public health during the month was the prevalence of Cerebrospinal Fever. The disease has been known to be present in Shanghai for the last 11 years, the first case being reported in 1918. During that year there was a considerable epidemic in Hongkong. In 1920 the disease was prevalent in Shanghai, the maximum incidence being in March and gradually declining till July, after which month no further case was reported that year. Since 1918, sporadic cases have occurred every year and at all seasons of the year.

A few sporadic cases were notified in the International Settlement during the first two months of the present year, and the disease was reported to be prevalent in the surrounding Chinese districts and in Korea. It became prevalent in Shanghai in March when 32 cases and 8 deaths were reported among Foreigners, including Japanese; 26 of these cases were among residents in the International Settlement, and 6 among non-residents.

Among the Chinese, 137 cases and 68 deaths were reported; 72 of the cases were among residents and 65 among non-residents.

Cerebrospinal Fever has been recognised as a definite disease since the beginning of the XIXth century, but glimpses of it are given in the literature of the Middle Ages.

The first epidemic occurred in Geneva in 1805 and was described by Vieusseux. The following year a "singular and very mortal disease" made its appearance in America. Since then outbreaks have occurred periodically in Europe, America and the Tropics.

On account of the eruption sometimes present, the disease was known as "Spotted Fever." It belongs to the respiratory group of acute, specific communicable diseases, and is caused by the meningococcus which was discovered by Weichselbaum in 1887.

The infection lies in the nose and throat, and is usually transmitted directly from person to person in expulsive acts as coughing and sneezing. The range of infection is limited, probably not more than 1 or 2 yards. It may also be transmitted indirectly through fingers, food utensils, toys, handkerchiefs, and other things contaminated with fresh infected secretions. The infection however, is extremely susceptible to drying and does not exist long outside the human being. The disease is not readily communicable, and is spread mainly by "healthy carriers," that is to say, people who carry the infection without suffering from the disease, and by mild and abortive cases of the disease. The number of "carriers" is highest in the cold months, and diminishes rapidly with the approach of Summer.

Only susceptible people develop the disease, and the most susceptible are children and young adults. An epidemic almost always occurs under conditions of overcrowding, as in the case of other infections of the respiratory group. No over-crowding—No epidemic of Cerebrospinal Fever.

The incubation period varies considerably, but is usually from 2 to 10 days. A history of sore throat or "common cold" is obtained in a large proportion of cases. Later the infection may spread to the membranes of the brain and spinal cord, the lungs, the joints, the glands and the heart.

The mortality ranges from 20 to 75 per cent. but has been reduced by the use of specific anti-meningococcus serum to about 25 per cent.

Methods of prevention resolve themselves into the avoidance of overcrowding, especially within closed spaces, and in general hygiene.

Personal measures are as follows:—

1. Avoid proximity to persons suffering from colds and coughs.

2. Use soft tissue paper handkerchiefs when sneezing, coughing or spitting, and burn after use.

3. Avoid the stagnant, moist and germ-laden air of crowded meeting places.

4. Protect children and young adults from risk of infection as far as possible, since they are most susceptible to the disease.

5. Observe the hygiene of the throat and nose by using gargles, douches or sprays of mild antiseptic solutions.

The following are efficacious:—

Half a teaspoonful of salt or a tablespoonful of compound glycerine of thymol, in a tumblerful of warm water.

6. Cleanse thoroughly all food utensils in boiling water.

7. Live in the sun and open-air as much as possible, and in well-ventilated rooms.

8. Adopt all measures which improve health, and thereby assist in the general prevention of the disease.

9. If suffering from catarrh, sore-throat, headache or vomiting, go to bed and seek medical advice.

With the approach of the warm weather, prevention of mosquitoes becomes an important problem from the point of view both of health and comfort.

A Malaria-bearing Mosquito—the Anopheles hyrcanus—is found in and around Shanghai, and Malaria of the benign tertian type may be contracted here.

The problem is a peculiarly difficult one in the Settlement of Shanghai which merges into open, low-lying country, beset with stagnant pools and ponds, sluggish creeks and kongs of all descriptions.

Myriads of mosquitoes breed on the borders of the Settlement, and though they do not usually go far from their breeding haunts, yet the normal range of Anopheles is about half a mile, and there are authentic records of flights of more than a mile. Mosquitoes may also be transported a considerable distance by a steady breeze, so that it is obviously impossible, under present conditions, for the Settlement to be entirely free, although much more can be done to reduce the numbers.

Within the Settlement itself, mosquito-breeding is not an indictable and punishable offence. The magnificient achievements of Panama and Egypt were made possible because the authorities were armed with compulsory powers. It is a regrettable fact that only a small proportion of residents in Shanghai, apparently take sufficient interest in the matter to make a weekly survey of their houses and premises in order to get rid of all breeding places.

The smallest collections of water are sufficient, but mosquitoes do not breed in damp grass, weeds, bushes or the foliage of trees as is popularly supposed.

Not only is there much apparent apathy, but instances have occurred of definite refusal to take, or allow to be taken, any preventive measures whatsoever, so that the whole immediate neighbourhood has been infested with mosquitoes, and all other measures taken there have been in vain.

Ornamental ponds are frequently great breeding places, even when stocked with fish. Many of these are among the natural enemies of the mosquito, especially gold-fish, minnows, and the small Cyprinodonts known as "millions."

Fish are not completely efficacious if the margins of ponds are choked with reeds or water-plants.

Observation has shown that ornamental ponds in Shanghai usually breed mosquitoes, and in such cases the advisability of oiling or of filling should be considered.

The life history of the mosquito is roughly as follows, though it varies with different species and under different climatic conditions, especially those of temperature.

The eggs are laid in the water; in a day or two they hatch out into larvae or "wrigglers"; about a week later these develop into pupae or "nymphs" and in two or three more days the winged insect—the imago—emerges.

The whole process may take place in nine or ten days and the length of life of the adult may be extended to several months; in sheltered cellars and dark nooks some species may survive the winter.

The importance of the practical co-operation of residents with the staff of the Public Health Department cannot be too strongly emphasised. The mosquito extermination notice gives essential information, and the Health Inspectors are always available for advice and assistance, but individual effort is necessary, and all are urgently requested to play their part in the campaign.

Free vaccination against Smallpox was carried on vigorously throughout the month.

March 22 was the "Festival of the Birthday of the Flowers," a day of good luck and happy augury, and especially favourable, according to Chinese legend, for protection against Smallpox, so that all day long Chinese babies were brought in great numbers for vaccination.

On that day 9,122, and during the month 20,746 persons, ninety per cent. of whom were infants and young children, were vaccinated at the Branch Health Offices. This constitutes a record.

Free distribution of 3,900 doses of vaccine was also made on request to charitable institutions in the French Concession, and 2,400 doses to similar institutions in Chinese Territory.

Here follow Tables of Vital Statistics, Communicable Diseases and of the work of the Food, Dairies and Markets Division, Sanitation Division, Tuberculosis and Venereal Diseases Clinics and Municipal Laboratories, Hospitals and Slaughterhouse.

The slight sea water admixture evident at the end of February had disappeared by March 4, was evident again in lesser degree on March 11 and 12 and again on March 27 continuing until the end of the month. The maximum chlorine in chloides figure noted was 12.2 parts per 100,000 on March 30. Free chlorine has varied be tween 0.16 and 0.30 parts per million (one day reaching 0.5 parts per million) in samples taken from the laboratory and between 0.00 and 0.20 in samples taken at other points. Nitrites have been absent. Saline ammonia figures are again approaching normality.

Bacteriological Examination.—20 samples of Shanghai Waterworks water were examined during the month. Of these, 4 were taken from the main and 16 from service taps in various parts in the settlement. No coliform bacilli were found in 120 cc of each sample examined. These results show a high standard of bacterial purity of the supply.

Report on Analysis.—Results of analyses show satisfactory purification.

The Municipal Gazette

BEING THE OFFICIAL ORGAN OF
THE COUNCIL FOR THE FOREIGN SETTLEMENT OF SHANGHAI.

Vol. XXII. SHANGHAI, MONDAY, APRIL 15, 1929. No. 1186

REPORT
ON
THE PROPOSED SALE OF THE ELECTRICITY DEPARTMENT.

The following particulars relative to the proposed sale of the Municipal Electricity Undertaking are published by the Council for general information :—

It is proposed that payment of the purchase price of Tls. 81,000,000 shall be spread over a period of 5 years dating from January 1, 1929, and for this purpose the following allocations of the purchase price have been tentatively agreed upon between the Purchasing Company and the Council:—

(1) Tls. 36,348,200 to be earmarked for the redemption of such loans as can be redeemed under the terms of issue thereof on or before December 31, 1933. On this sum the Company will provide all amounts requisite for Interest and Amortization. The effect of this arrangement is that the interest payable by the Purchasing Company on the abovementioned sum will average over 6¼ per cent.

(2) The balance of the purchase price, i.e., Tls. 44,651,800, will be paid by instalments during the years 1929/33 and will be utilized in substitution of public borrowings and for such other purposes as the Council may from time to time determine. On any balance of this sum remaining unpaid, interest will be receivable from the Company at the rate of 5 per cent. per annum. The effect of this arrangement is that the average rate of interest payable by the Company on the whole of the purchase price will be approximately 5⅔ per cent.

Until such time as the purchase price is finally satisfied, the Council shall hold a lien on the entire assets of the Company.

Having regard to local conditions it is not possible to forecast with any degree of accuracy what sums will be required for Extraordinary Expenditure during the period ending December 31, 1933, but a conservative estimate places the figure at approximately Tls. 15,000,000. It is proposed that the difference between this figure and that of Tls. 44,651,800 referred to above shall be invested until such time as further funds are required for capital developments, etc.

It will be noted that under Paragraph (1) above, only such loans redeemable on or before December 31, 1933, have been provided for in the arrangement entered into with the Purchasing Company. The balance of the Council's loan indebtedness amounting to Tls. 17,587,500 can be redeemed by December 31, 1937, and it is proposed to hypothecate an appropriate part of the Council's investments to secure repayment of such loans until full redemption has been effected.

The estimated effect of the sale of the Department upon the Council's Financial Statement during the years 1929 and 1930 may be summarized as follows:—

Saving on Loan Service	Tls.	434,900
Interest receivable from Company on purchase price and balance thereof	Tls.	3,378,300
Royalty on sales of electricity	Tls.	690,000
A total of	Tls.	4,503,200
As compared with the contribution now allocated from the Department's profits for 1928 of	Tls.	1,200,000

1930

Saving on Loan Service	Tls.	1,298,900
Interest receivable in respect of balance on purchase price, etc.	Tls.	2,085,550
Royalty on sales of electricity	Tls.	750,000
A total of	Tls.	4,134,450
As compared with a contribution from the Electricity Department of	Tls.	1,200,000

From 1931 onwards it is not possible to visualize the effect on the Council's finances having regard to the intricate nature of the problems involved, but the following conclusions will give some idea as to the general position:—

(1) By the end of 1933 under the arrangement arrived at with the Purchasing Company all Municipal Loans which can be redeemed up to that date will have been liquidated.

(2) The Capital Expenditure of the Settlement up to the end of 1933 will have been met without recourse to public borrowings and there will thereafter remain a balance of approximately Tls. 30,000,000 to provide for redemption of the remaining loan indebtedness and to meet other necessary requirements.

(3) By the end of 1937 it is anticipated that the whole of the Municipal indebtedness will be extinguished.

(4) Immediate steps will be taken for the appointment of Trustees for Debenture holders to protect their interests from every point of view.

(5) The relief to Ordinary Expenditure from 1929 onwards will enable the Council to undertake various measures in connection with the maintenance of the Settlement at present precluded owing to restricted funds.

To the extent that such measures may not absorb the surplus revenue resulting from the sale of the Department it is anticipated that a reduction in taxation can be effected.

Mr. A. D. BELL.—Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen, I beg to second that resolution.

The CHAIRMAN—It is proposed that the Rules of procedure annexed to this Resolution be adopted for the use of this meeting, and remain in force until the next Annual Meeting. Those in favour will signify in the usual manner? Those against? Carried unanimously. I will now call upon Mr. Fessenden to propose Resolution No. IV, that the Report and Accounts for the year 1928 be passed.

ACCOUNTS 1928.

MR. FESSENDEN.—Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen: The Financial Statement has been in your hands for some days and, whilst attention is drawn in the Treasurer and Comptroller's report to the various matters which have affected the Council's finances during the past year, it is desirable that I make some reference to the more important thereof.

There is a surplus on the Ordinary Budget of Tls. 501,604 as compared with an estimated surplus of Tls. 29,860. When you remember that there was an adverse balance of Tls. 569,517 in 1927 I think you will agree with me that the 1928 results are very satisfactory. This comparatively large surplus of Tls. 501,604 has been realized by diminshed expenditure on the part of nearly all the Municipal departments. The programme of work in particular of the Public Works Department was curtailed to the utmost degree consistent with efficiency and has resulted in a reduction in the cost of that Department as compared with the Budget provision of Tls. 308,244.

A considerable economy was also effected in an under-expenditure of Tls. 89,350 on Interest Charges. This saving was caused by the most remunerative use possible consistent with safety being made of the funds available during the year.

The heavy over-expenditure on General Charges of Tls. 159,356 is mainly attributable to Emergency Measures. The cost of Defence Works in general amounted to more than was anticipated and the strength of the Russian Unit has been doubled.

You will notice that there is a deficit on the Extraordinary Budget of Tls. 1,379,639. This deficit, which is fully explained in the Treasurer's report, is due to the fact that the Loan of Tls. 1,600,000 authorized at the last Ratepayers' Meeting was not issued till early in 1929.

The sale of the Town Hall, the proceeds of which will be received early in 1930, has entailed the provision of other market accommodation in the Central District. It is proposed to establish two markets, one north and the other south of Nanking Road. The site for the latter has been purchased at a cost of Tls. 323,463, for which there was no Budget provision. Apart from this factor the capital expenditure incurred during the year showed a reasonable approximation to that provided for in the Estimates.

On the day following the Ratepayers Meeting of 1928 the three Chinese members of the Council took their seats and in doing so undertook a complicated and arduous task, the difficulties of which are probably not fully realized by the general public.

It is only natural under existing conditions that there is in Shanghai a great mass of Chinese people whose idea of the duties of the Chinese Councillors and the problems with which they have to deal is of the most vague and nebulous character.

This great mass of people is by no means inarticulate, but on the contrary always finds ways and means of putting forward all sorts of demands, no matter how unreasonable or impossible, and of making its resentment felt in various ways if these demands are rejected, as of necessity they often must be.

In fact it requires a high degree of courage and sense of public duty to accept the office of a Chinese Councillor in the present day conditions.

Nothing is to be gained by attempting to conceal the fact that the conflicting points of view of the Chinese and foreign communities upon many problems of vital importance to the community do not tend to ease the burdens of either the Chinese or foreign members of the Council. Nevertheless, I can say with all frankness that our discussions in Council during the past year have been most amicable and that, although our points of view have sometimes differed greatly, we have approached our problems in the spirit of toleration and mutual respect, with undeniably good results.

Our Chinese colleagues have shown themselves to be men of character, ability, breadth of view and energy, who have sincerely endeavoured to promote harmony and goodwill in the solution of many difficult and perplexing problems regarding which the Chinese and foreign communities do not always see eye to eye.

A most excellent illustration of some of our difficulties is the fact that the Chinese members entirely disassociate themselves with much which I am compelled to say to-day.

Political Situation.

Judged by outward appearances the local political situation during the past year has been relatively peaceful and quiet.

Beneath the surface, however, the fires of communism, labour unrest, anti-foreign agitation and other disturbing factors still smoulder, ready to burst into flames upon the happening of some unforeseen and possibly trivial incident. The situation has not been made any easier by the more or less general feeling upon the part of the public, both Chinese and foreign, which prevailed up to the end of March, that peace in China hung upon a thread at Nanking. Recent developments have more than justified this feeling. Civil war is again in progress and the future trend of events obscure and uncertain.

Due in a large measure to the peculiar international character of the Settlement, with which you are more or less familiar, it is often neither judicious nor expedient to discuss our local political problems upon the public platform.

Among the many local political problems, regarding which the Council is compelled by circumstances beyond its control to observe a certain degree of reticence, are two matters of great importance in which the residents of the Settlement, both Chinese and foreign, are deeply interested, namely, "extra-Settlement roads" and the Provisional Court.

The question of "outside roads" is of the most vital importance to the foreign community and, from the Chinese point of view, equally important to them, and one which we had hoped would have been settled long ago in a reasonably satisfactory manner.

The negotiations regarding this matter have always been and are at present in the hands of the representatives of the Foreign Powers and the Nationalist Government, but the Council, in so far as it lies in its power, is exerting itself to the utmost to assist in securing a just and equitable settlement of this vexatious question.

No appreciable progress in the solution of this problem has been made during the past year or more, and at the moment there appears to be little or no prospect of a satisfactory settlement of this question in the near future.

The points of view in Chinese and foreign circles are apparently so diametrically and irreconcilably opposed that I think we can assume that no modus vivendi acceptable to both sides has as yet been found.

There is likewise little of an encouraging nature that can be said regarding the Provisional Court.

The Provisional Court was brought into existence by an agreement concluded between the representatives of the Foreign Powers and the authorities of the Kiangsu Provincial Government shortly prior to the time when Kiangsu Province passed into the control of the Nationalist Government, which subsequently ratified the agreement in its own behalf. This agreement, which came into effect on January 1, 1927, by its terms may be subject to revision after December 31, 1929.

The Council is not a party to this agreement, and was not consulted regarding it except in a casual and perfunctory manner. In fact the Provisional Court is a subject which the Foreign Powers and the Chinese Authorities consider to be more or less exclusively within their particular jurisdiction and not within the sphere of municipal administration, although admittedly of the greatest importance to it.

When the representatives of the Foreign Powers agreed to the rendition of the Mixed Court it was understood generally to be the intention of the Chinese Government to set up in its place a model court administering law and justice in conformity with juridical principles as recognized by western nations, which would inspire foreigners in China with confidence that their rights of person and property would not suffer by the abolition of consular jurisdiction in China.

Unfortunately, the manner in which the Provisional Court has functioned since its inception has not only failed to inspire confidence but has created wide-spread distrust and dismay in foreign circles.

Judged by foreign opinion, the Provisional Court presents one of the most forcible arguments imaginable against the premature abolition of consular jurisdiction in China. It is a most dubious and disappointing witness to the inability of the Nationalist Government to institute juridical reform of any kind in China.

Despite the glaring examples of futility, immaturity, submission to outside influences and other infractions of judicial propriety and conduct almost daily exhibited in the Provisional Court, the Chinese Authorities are making strenuous efforts to eliminate the foreign deputies who exert a certain amount of restraining influence, and thereby gain complete and unlimited control of the one institution in Shanghai upon which, above all others, the peace and security of the Settlement depend.

While the future status of the Provisional Court or of any tribunal which may be created to replace it of necessity lies in the hands of the representatives of the Foreign Powers and the Chinese Government, nevertheless the Council is exerting every effort and availing itself of every possible influence and expediency to secure the future functioning of this Court upon a proper and satisfactory basis.

Report of Economy Committee.

In July, 1927, the Council, upon its own initiative, appointed a Special Committee for the purpose of thoroughly investigating in a most comprehensive manner the whole question of economic administration of the Settlement.

The terms of reference defining the scope of the investigation were drafted by the Council with the most definite intention of giving the widest possible latitude to the activities of the Committee.

Lest some of our critics forget, I would take this opportunity to remind them that the Council, in setting up this Special Committee, was not reacting to pressure or influence from without, but because of its keen appreciation of the magnitude and complexity of the problems involved and in the practical solution of which it felt the need of independent advice and opinion.

The wide scope of the Committee's investigations, unavoidable changes from time to time in its personnel, certain complications in the local political situation, and the fact that the report in its complete and final form did not reach the Council until some time in January, are in a great measure responsible for what otherwise might appear to be needless delay in making public the final report of the Committee.

The report, which you now have had full opportunity to read and consider, reflects the public spirit and sacrifice of personal interest which, in the service of the community, the members of the Committee have devoted to an onerous and difficult task, and for which we are deeply indebted to them and publicly express our thanks. (Applause).

It was a foregone conclusion fully appreciated by the Council that any report of a Special Committee on municipal economy would naturally subject the Council to criticism both constructive and destructive.

Judging by the length of time required by the Committee in which to complete its investigations, and its recommendation that it or another similar body continue to function for an indefinite period with the assistance of two or more paid professional men, it must be obvious even to the most biased of critics that the difficulties which confront the Council in matters of municipal economy are much greater than the casual observer may possibly conceive.

Shanghai is essentially a commercial city and there appears to be an ever increasing element of the community which holds the fixed opinion that the success or failure of municipal administration is solely a matter of dollars and cents and columns of figures.

Those who hold this view are inclined to attempt to draw a close analogy between the routine of municipal administration and that of an ordinary business corporation. There is a fundamental difference between a municipal and a business corporation.

The aim of organized business is to secure a profit. The purpose of municipal administration is to promote the collective interests of the citizens without reference to monetary gain.

A stockholder in a private corporation measures the value of the investment by the dividends he receives. The citizens of a community, who some argue are the stockholders of a municipal corporation, get their dividends in service which does not bear any relation to the amount each is compelled annually to invest in the form of taxes. A city cannot do its planning entirely in terms of dollars and cents, profit and loss, unit costs, and outlay per capita. It must reckon with the prejudices, traditions and caprice of the electorate.

It is true that a great part of the city's work is of a business character, as, for instance, the purchase of supplies, employment of labour, construction of buildings, paving of streets, collection and payment of money and numerous other activities of a similar nature.

But not all of the work of a city can be managed strictly in accordance with business principles, as, for example, public education, relief of the poor, hospitals, public health and education, police and fire protection and other departments of municipal activity.

Mere cheapness is no criterion whatever of efficient administration of the matters included in the latter category. Success or failure in the administration of these branches of a city's work cannot be demonstrated by pointing to columns of figures or by applying objective tests of all sorts.

In other countries, where a high degree of intelligent investigation and scientific research have been brought to bear upon the problems of municipal administration, these matters are perhaps more thoroughly understood and appreciated than in the essentially commercial atmosphere of Shanghai.

It should be fairly obvious to anyone who has carefully read the report of the Economy Committee that the Committee has pursued the partial analogy which exists between a business corporation and a municipal government to considerable lengths, and possibly somewhat beyond the point where the analogy ceases.

An eminent authority and textwriter on municipal government says:-

"Nowhere but in America has the analogy between municipal and business corporations been permitted to exert any considerable influence in determining the mechanism and methods of city administration. In European communities it is taken for granted that city government is government. The administrative systems holds close to the traditional lines of government organization, particularly in keeping the heads of departments under the control of the city council.

In England, for example, the plan of administration by council committees is far removed from the orthodox method of corporate business management. The English city has no official corresponding to the president, managing director or general manager of a company."

Our own system or plan of municipal administration, for obvious reasons, is naturally modelled upon the English system. In fact both the theoretical and practical aspects of our system are, to all intents and purposes, identical with the English system.

Some students of municipal administration at times have been inclined to regard the English system of administration by council committees as tending to a diffusion and disclaimer of responsibility between the Council itself and the committees and heads of departments. Whether or not the point is well taken I am unable to say.

It is claimed by some efficiency experts and authorities on municipal administration that the centralizing power in the hands of a senior executive removes this alleged defect in the system of municipal administration by council committees.

The Economy Committee, in recommending the appointment of a Chief Executive with broad powers, evidently had some such idea in mind and has recommended the adoption, in a somewhat modified form, of a feature of the modern American system of municipal administration which has proved satisfactory in many cities.

Upon the approach of the annual election of the Council there is often considerable glib discussion and comment about municipal economy by persons who do not appear to have made any extended investigation of the subject or to have any very clear ideas about it.

Some people often fail to realize that the question as to what is or is not real economy cannot be confined entirely to demonstrable facts, but extends into the field of opinion. For example, the recent widening of Nanking Road at its junction with the Bund cost approximately four hundred thousand taels. The Council is constructing a sewage system the total cost of which, spread over a period of years, is in the neighbourhood of four millions of taels, and this capital expenditure will continue to increase as the city expands.

There are doubtless members of the community to whom such improvements make no appeal from the point of view of efficiency and service, but are regarded as extravagance.

They would prefer the old insanitary methods of disposing of sewage, and narrow and crooked streets, to the expenditure of public funds in the large sums which such improvements entail.

These examples might be multiplied more or less indefinitely but those cited are sufficient to illustrate the point that opinion plays a great part in many questions of municipal economy.

There is another class of persons in the community which cherishes the delusion that, by deferring expenditure which in the end inevitably must be made, economy is achieved. A greater fallacy can hardly be conceived.

A concrete case in point is the purchase of the land upon which the Administration Building now stands.

When the proposal to acquire a site for a municipal building was first mooted, the present site could have been purchased for two hundred thousand taels. Its purchase was deferred upon grounds of economy and ultimately the price paid by the Council for only a portion of the site as originally contemplated was six hundred thousand taels. Many similar examples could be cited.

A candidate for municipal honours at the recent election in a public utterance laments the fact that municipal expenditure has greatly increased in recent years.

Could the gentleman reasonably expect that the expenditure of a city, which is expanding with almost incredible rapidity and has practically doubled in size in twenty years, would naturally decrease even if assisted by a most parsimonious policy of economy?

As a matter of fact the short-sightedness of Councils of former years, countenanced by certain sections of ratepayers of narrow vision, is in no small degree responsible for many of the problems of economic administration which now confront the community.

It is easy to be wise after the event, and it is quite likely that those who are now disposed to criticize our predecessors would have done no better in their shoes.

These or corresponding conditions are not peculiar to Shanghai. Practically every other large city in the world is faced with similar problems, but, despite our difficulties, Shanghai is to-day one of the lowest taxed among the large cities of the world.

There is another aspect of municipal expenditure to which the application of general principles is not quite so obvious. I refer to what might be termed "operating expenses," which include salaries, wages, allowances, superannuation, pensions and other matters.

The concern of the Council regarding the heavy expenditure incurred in maintaining and operating its various departments was its chief reason for the appointment of the Economy Committee.

It is not my intention upon this occasion to indulge in any detailed comment or discussion of the recommendations embodied in the report of the Committee which are undoubtedly of great value and interest.

The Council having appointed the Economy Committee upon its own initiative, as I have already said, and members of the Council having served upon both the main and Sub-Committees, would seem to me sufficient assurance to the ratepayers as to the intention of the incoming Council to carry into effect the recommendations of the Committee, but in order to make assurance doubly sure I am authorized by the incoming Council to state that it is both its policy and intention to put into effective operation the recommendations of the Committee to the fullest possible practical extent. (Applause). With these remarke I beg to propose Resolution IV:—

Resolution IV.—That the Report and Accounts for the year ending December 31, 1928, be passed.

Mr. A. D. BELL.—Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen, I beg to second that resolution.

The CHAIRMAN—Before I put the Resolution to the Meeting, I should like to ask if any ratepayer has any comment to make or any question to ask.

Mr. O. M. GREEN.—Mr. Chairman ladies and gentlemen, It is not usual for any comment to be made on the Chairman's speech on the Report and Accounts. But after what Mr. Fessenden has been telling us about the Council's policy in respect of the Provisional Court, I feel sure you will agree that some expression of the ratepayers' feeling is required. For this question of the future of the Provisional Court is beyond all doubt by far the most serious with which Shanghai is faced. In comparison, even the sale of the Electricity Department is a little thing. We know what Nanking means to do, if it can, at the end of this year, when the Rendition Agreement expires. We have been told quite plainly by the Nanking official news agency more than once. It means to abolish the Provisional Court altogether, to get rid of the foreign Deputies and the small check they are able to exercise in the interests of justice, and to substitute a purely Chinese court. Gentlemen, if that is allowed to happen, the Municipal Council may as well shut up shop at once. No government or administrative body can function unless supported by an impartial and efficient court. Law and order, security of life and property in Shanghai will simply cease to exist. We have seen the Provisional Court going steadily from bad to worse. You will remember the disgraceful chicanery by which the Kiangsu Provincial Government hunted Judge Loo Hsing-yuan out of the Presidency of the Court about nine months ago. His sole offence was that he tried to run the Court fairly, and that he refused to allow the politicians to make a tool of it. So they trumped up a list of charges against him that were either palpably false or blatantly absurd. Then finding that these were not sufficient under their existing laws to ensure his dismissal, they invented new rules to catch him. And finally they appointed a Commission of Inquiry to sit upon him in which the principal person was Judge Loo's most deadly enemy and his most vindictive accuser. When Judge Loo gave up the struggle and retired in disgust, you will further remember how his successor, the present President, swore at his installation to be a faithful servant to the Kuomintang and to obey them implicitly in all things. Not a week passes but you have an illustration of how faithfully that oath is kept. You have seen the case of two murderers sentenced to death, in one instance on, I think, eighteen counts, and this was confirmed by the Appeal Court; but the case was ordered by the Kiangsu Provincial Government to be retried, and, without one scrap of new evidence, the sentences were commuted to terms of four years and ten months' imprisonment respectively. You have seen how another criminal was claimed by the Chêkiang Provincial Government as a military detective; and although there was the clearest evidence that he was a common kidnapper and armed robber, the judges of the Provisional Court refused to convict him because they dared not.

All this applies with even greater force to the Chinese community of Shanghai than it does to foreigners. We can only guess what goes on, in civil cases, but the attempt to make use of the machinery of the Court in order to get hold of the Sheng Kung-pao charity funds is perhaps a clue to what is happening.

Gentlemen these things cannot go on. It is no wonder that crime in Shanghai has reached its present frightful dimensions with the Provisional Court as it is, and something must be done to drive the poison out of its system, to nerve its languid muscles and put strength into its puny arm. What the Council exactly means to do, we do not know, but as the organization most deeply interested in the working of the Court it cannot afford to leave a stone unturned. May I venture to make one suggestion which I trust will meet the approval of ratepayers? That suggestion is that the Council should send a delegation of its own to interview the Governments of the Treaty Powers and put before them the facts of the present intolerable situation. There is good reason to believe that Provisional Court Judges are to be sent to lay their story before the Western Governments and we may well imagine how cleverly and unscrupulously that will be done. The only way to beat these men is to send our own delegates to meet them on the spot and to stifle propaganda with the truth. There is no reason why we should not do so. If Shanghai were a national concession it could not very well go behind the back of its Minister. But we are an international body, not bound to any Government in particular, and therefore surely entitled to apply directly to all in our own interests in a matter of such hideous importance. I would not appear, or be thought, to underrate what the Diplomatic Body will try to do for us. But their despatches will never be made public. They will arrive at their respective destinations with dozens of other similar despatches from all over the world and since China occupies but a tiny segment in the vast circle of interests over which every Foreign Office has to watch, we cannot reckon on their appearing as important at headquarters as they are absolutely vital to us. Meanwhile the Chinese propaganda will be open, ceaseless and of deadly insidiousness. Against it direct action on our own account is the only potent weapon. This is not a Resolution Ladies and Gentlemen, but only a suggestion I have ventured to lay before you and the Council, yet with the deepest earnestness,—the suggestion that a delegation of our own may be sent to the Treaty Power Governments to lay directly before them the true facts of the scandalous state of the Provisional Court. Any surrender on the Rendition Agreement at the end of this year would be the deathblow of all law and order in Shanghai. (Loud and prolonged applause).

The CHAIRMAN—If there are no more comments I will put the Resolution to the Meeting. Will those in favour signify in the usual way?—Against?—Carried unanimously.

I will now call on Mr. Fessenden to move Resolution No. V.

BUDGET.

Mr. FESSENDEN.—Mr. Chairmaa, ladies and gentlemen: In introducing the Budget Resolution I propose to deal briefly with a few of the principal matters affecting our income and expenditure during 1929.

You will notice that there is an estimated surplus on the Ordinary Budget of Tls. 508,960. This means that we have endeavoured to make our estimated income and expenditure for the current year balance without encroaching on the surplus of Tls. 501,600 carried forward from 1928 which may be regarded as a reasonable margin against unforeseen contingencies.

The explanatory remarks accompanying the Budget give full comparisons of the 1929 Estimates as compared with those for 1928. There is a substantial increase of Tls. 460,000 in the income expected from General Municipal Rate due to the general development of the Settlement. Higher trade returns due to the more settled condition of the country are reflected in the increase of Tls. 150,000 anticipated in the income from Wharfage Dues. It may not be generally known that Wharfage Dues are not based on the actual Custom's duties but on the value of goods passed through the Customs House. We do not, therefore, under existing conditions derive any benefit from the recent increase in import duties.

The principal increases in expenditure relate to the Police Force and the Public Works Department. The cost of the former has gone up by Tls. 551,350 as compared with 1928. This is entailed by an augmentation in strength and by the adoption of a Scheme of Reorganization based on certain of the recommendations of the Economy Committee. This increase of Tls. 550,000 is a very large one, but I think you will all agree with me that the conditions which obtain at present in Shanghai are such that an efficient and adequate Police Force is one of the primary necessities of our existence here. There is, I am afraid, every probability of a continued expansion in the Police Force being necessary with a consequent increase in the price paid by the Community for the maintenance of law and order.

The increased expenditure of the Public Works Department of Tls. 125,300 is mainly due to House Refuse Collection and Disposal. It is proposed to explore more modern means of dealing with the disposal of house refuse, and it is hoped that the ultimate adoption of new methods will prove more satisfactory than those used in the past and will put an end to the considerable difficulties encountered during the last few years.

I come now to the Extraordinary Budget. The estimated expenditure, whilst it has been kept as low as possible, shows a considerable increase over that for last year. You will understand that the financial conditions of the last few years have been such that a maintenance of normal expenditure on public works necessary to keep pace with the growth of the Settlement has been impracticable. The appropriations under Land, Buildings and Roads exceed last year's figures by approximately 13 Lakhs. Provision is also made for the repayment of the Short Term Loan of 1919 amounting to Tls. 1,793,300. As I explained at this meeting last year, the conditions under which these Short Term Loans are issued do not provide for redemption under the operation of the Sinking Fund. Excluding this Loan and the deficit brought forward from 1928 of Tls. 1,379,640, the net capital expenditure which it is proposed to incur this year amounts to Tls. 3,161,030. We have accordingly to ask your authority for the raising of a loan of not exceeding Tls. 4,400,000 and you may rest assured that no more of this amount will be issued than is necessary and that the capital requirements of the Council will be financed as economically as possible. In this connection you will, of course, understand that the Budget now before you will be considerably affected in the event of your passing Resolution VI dealing with the sale of the Electricity Department.

In conclusion I may say that after due consideration it was not thought advisable in framing the Budget to make any attempt to show the effect which the adoption in whole or in part of the recommendations of the Economy Committee would have on our estimated income and expenditure for 1929. As I have already said, this matter will be dealt with by the incoming Council, and the result of their deliberations will be reflected in the Financial Statement for the current year.

With Mr. Chairman's permission I will now ask Mr. W. P. Lambe, the Chairman of the Electricity Committee, to address the meeting.

Mr. W. P. LAMBE.—Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen: The Report and Accounts of the Electricity Department for 1928 contain full information relating to the Department's activities during the year, and also with regard to the financial position at the close of the year. New records have been established in several notable directions, namely, the nett profit of Tls. 3,165,300, the kilowatt hours sold, 458,360,215; and the maximum sustained load on the station of 98,500 kilowatts. Dealing first with the nett profit this shows an increase of Tls. 872,746 above 1927, and Tls. 738,000 in excess of the estimate for 1928. This is after providing Tls. 1,713,612 for depreciation and Tls. 1,675,759 for interest on loans. The total balance available, including Tls. 25,525 brought forward from 1927, is Tls. 3,190,825, out of which we are contributing the sum of Tls. 1,200,000 to General Municipal Funds for the benefit of the Rates, which will bring the total so furnished since 1916 to Tls. 9,760,000, and you will no doubt agree that this is a very fine contribution.

The increase in kilowatt hours sold of 58,016,830 is very satisfactory and it may be of interest to note that this increase alone is more than the total sales in 1915. During the last ten years the kilowatt hours sold have increased from 102 to 458 millions, that is by 349 per cent. This affords concrete evidence of the remarkable expansion of our activities and of the confidence placed by consumers in the public service rendered by the Department in affording an efficient and cheap supply of electricity for every purpose. The heating and cooking demand is increasing rapidly, and the outlook in regard to water heating by means of electricity is considered to be very promising, opening as it does a comparatively new field of activity.

The highest maximum sustained load was 98,500 kilowatts as compared with 89,600 in 1927, but in this connection it is of interest to point out that during January of this year the peak load exceeded 100,000 kilowatts on 15 occasions, the highest being 104,500.

In regard to the present year, it is estimated that the kilowatt hours sold will reach 517,043,000, with a nett profit, after providing for all working and nett revenue expenditure, of Tls. 3,517,550, which indicates that a healthy expansion is anticipated. Given a continuance of comparative peace in local industrial activities, we feel sure that these estimates will be reached.

The results achieved reflect great credit upon the manner in which the staff have devoted their energies towards the efficient working of the Department, and it is a pleasure to acknowledge their excellent work, both foreign and Chinese, under the control and guidance of the Engineer-in-Chief and Manager and his Deputy, to whom our thanks are particularly due for the very valuable services they have given to the Department.

Mr. FESSENDEN.—Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen, I now beg to propose Resolution V:—

Resolution V.—That the estimated expenditure for the year 1929 contained in the Budget proposed by the retiring Council, together with the recommendations attached thereto, be approved and adopted and that the Council be and it is hereby authorized to impose, collect and recover the rates, taxes, dues and fees recommended therein, and to raise, should it be considered expedient to do so, upon such terms and in such manner as the Council may in its discretion think fit, a sum not exceeding Tls. 4,400,000 or the equivalent of this sum, for the purposes defined in the estimate of Extraordinary Expenditure.

Mr. A. D. BELL.—Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen, I beg to second that Resolution.

The CHAIRMAN—If no ratepayer has any comment to make, I will put Resolution V. to the meeting.

Those in favour kindly signify in the usual way.—Those against?—Carried unanimously.

The CHAIRMAN—I now call upon Mr. Fessenden to move resolution No. VI.

Mr. FESSENDEN.—Mr. Chairman, before proceeding to move Resolution VI, I would ask the permission of the Ratepayers to deal with Resolution IX. Resolution IX provides for necessary extensions of the Electricity Department up to 1936 and I propose that this Resolution be dealt with before Resolution VI because in the event of the sale of the Electricity Department being approved by this Meeting but the negotiations for the completion of the sale being for any reason protracted or failing to come to fruition it is necessary to provide for the continuity of the Electricity Department. On the other hand in the event of the sale of the Electricity Department not being approved by this Meeting it would also be necessary to provide for this expansion of the Department. For these reasons I beg to move that Resolution IX be now taken.

The CHAIRMAN—It has been proposed that Resolution IX be now moved. If no ratepayer has any objection I will call upon Mr. Lambe to propose Resolution No. IX.

Mr. W. P. LAMBE.—Before proposing Resolution IX I take this opportunity of explaining that in the event of your passing Resolution VI authorizing the Council to sell the Electricity Department and in the event of a sale being accordingly effected it may not be necessary for the Council to carry out the proposed extensions or to avail itself of the authority given by this Resolution. As the continuity of the development of the Department must not in the meantime be prejudiced it is necessary at this meeting to ask for authority to proceed with the programme of extensions in the event of the sale not being authorized or in case a sale is not ultimately effected.

With the completion of the present 1926/27 extensions at Riverside the installed plant capacity will be 161,000 Kilowatts, and it is anticipated that the margin of safety in the present station will be reached in 1932. The indication, therefore, is that a new station—Riverside No. 2—should be in commission by the late Autumn of 1932. This matter has been carefully considered following a report by the Engineer-in-Chief and Manager in which he recommended that a new station be designed to contain four units each of 40,000 Kilowatts rating, of which only one would be ordered at first. The first section of the new station would be designed to house two 40,000 Kilowatt sets with the requisite boilers, etc., together with additional transmission, distribution and transformation plant. It is estimated that the capital expenditure up to 1936 on the first section of this proposed extension will amount to Tls. 7,680,000, of which Tls. 4,160,000 will be in connection with the first 40,000 Kilowatt set and Tls. 3,520,000 for the second set. This is exclusive of the expenditure required from year to year for ordinary development of the generation and distribution systems, etc. It may be explained that no capital payments in connection with this proposed extension programme will be necessary until 1931.

As emphasizing the necessity of providing for the future developments of the Department and ensuring an adequate supply of electricity being available, it may be of interest to point out that steps were taken in 1927 to purchase a site adjoining the present station for the specific purpose of building a No. 2 Power Station in the near future.

As previously mentioned this matter has received the most careful consideration, both of the Electricity Committee and the Council, and it is the unanimous opinion that the extension is necessary. I therefore have no hesitation in recommending the proposed extensions be proceeded with at the requisite time.

I now beg to propose:—

Resolution IX.—That the necessary extensions of the Electricity Department in connection with the erection of a new station involving an estimated expenditure of Tls. 7,680,000 up to 1936 be hereby approved and that the Council be authorized in its discretion to enter into such contracts and to do such acts as may be necessary in connection therewith.

Mr. V. G. LYMAN.—Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen, I beg to second the resolution.

The CHAIRMAN—If no ratepayer has any comment to make, I will put Resolution IX to the meeting. Those in favour kindly signify in the usual way?—Those against?—Carried unanimously.

I will now call upon Mr. Fessenden to propose Resolution No. VI.

Mr. FESSENDEN.—Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen: During recent months the proposals of various financial groups to purchase the Electricity Undertaking have been extensively discussed apparently from every possible angle both in the public press and private circles.

The Council has made public with celerity all available information in its possession regarding the project. There is therefore little or no new ground for me to cover to-day.

The Council adopts and indorses without reservation the report of the Special Electricity Committee and recommends the acceptance by the ratepayers of the offer of Tls. 81,000,000 made by the International Group.

The report of the Special Committee presents a problem which the Council has realized for a long time must sooner or later be squarely faced by the ratepayers, namely, an inevitable change in the political status of the Settlement and its effect generally upon municipal interests.

This problem might have arisen at any time in one form or another. Owing to circumstances which could not have been foreseen it now presents itself in connection with a municipal interest of paramount importance and magnitude.

It is probably true that a majority of ratepayers reluctantly admit that sooner or later a change in the political status of the Settlement is inevitable, but there is undoubtedly great divergence of opinion as to the period of time which may elapse before any change becomes an accomplished fact.

He would be a rash man indeed who would attempt to make an accurate prediction as to the exact trend of future political events in China, but in squarely facing the issue which is now before you there are certain factors in the general situation which are more or less obvious.

The business man, both Chinese and foreign, realizing the dislocating and disturbing effect which a premature change in the political status of the Settlement would have upon business, visualizes such a change as hovering upon the horizon of the still somewhat distant future.

The Chinese politician and student classes agitate and clamour for immediate rendition of the Settlement and abolition of extraterritorial rights, which they undoubtedly regard as imminent.

The foreign Ministers appear to take the attitude, as far as Shanghai is concerned, that being in a position to view our situation from a distance, and being entirely removed from the selfish influences of modern business, their perspective is better than ours and that they are therefore in a better position to decide what should be done regarding some of the most vital problems affecting the welfare of the Settlement.

Under such circumstances the future status of the Settlement cannot be other than doubtful and uncertain.

The more intelligent Chinese, and especially those who have something at stake in the Settlement, are fully aware that their countrymen have not as yet acquired the requisite training, experience and knowledge to efficiently manage a great public utility in accordance with the standards of western countries and that their interests are better served by keeping the electricity undertaking under foreign control and management.

They are equally well aware of the dangerous consequences which would follow if the undertaking were to pass into the control of any particular Chinese political group or faction who might be able to make use of it as a powerful political weapon.

The realization of this aspect of the situation undoubtedly accounts in a great measure for the lack of any real opposition on the part of responsible Chinese to the proposed sale of the undertaking to foreign interests.

Most of you, I think, are sufficiently in touch with local conditions to be fully capable of visualizing for yourselves, without any assistance from me, what might happen to the undertaking if a premature change in the political status of the Settlement should take place.

The problem cannot be ignored indefinitely and I trust you will agree with me that now is the psychological moment to face the issue and face it squarely, as another such favourable opportunity may never again present itself.

In some quarters there has been some indication of a disposition to criticize the Council for not having called for public tenders for the purchase of the undertaking.

A little reflection will, I think, demonstrate that such a course would have been impracticable. The Council could not very well have invited public tenders without having first secured the authority of the ratepayers. As far as it is humanly possible to judge it would have been impossible to have obtained such authority unless the Council could have presented to the ratepayers something in the nature of a more or less concrete proposal, which it could not possibly do without first being in a position to know in a general way what terms a prospective buyer might be prepared to offer.

The people who are in a position to advance the huge sum of money necessary to effect a purchase of such magnitude are very few indeed, and I do not believe there is even the remotest possibility that a higher offer could have been obtained had the public been invited to bid.

To state the situation with perfect frankness, two things are essential to the successful operation of the electricity undertaking during the troublesome times which must be ahead of us so long as China remains in a state of political upheaval, namely, protection and efficient management.

Quite apart from any other factors, efficient management cannot be maintained without protection. At present we have both, but so long as the undertaking remains in its present status there is no assurance that the protection which it now enjoys will continue indefinitely.

If the proposed sale is consummated the undertaking will have all possible protection, and I believe be managed as efficiently as at present, if not more so, and that the cost of current to consumers under company management will be as cheap as under municipal management.

Turning now to the financial side of the proposed sale, there are a number of outstanding points to which I will refer as briefly as possible, having in mind that the Council's official statement upon this aspect of the project was made public on Monday.

The Special Electricity Committee is doubtless correct in its opinion that the future financial requirements of the Electricity Department are not so excessive as to constitute an undue burden on the Municipality, although a factor to be considered in view of the large sums required for extensions in the next few years.

If the undertaking is retained, approximately 36 millions of taels will be required to provide for the total capital expenditure for the expansion of the Department up to 1940. If this very large sum is raised either wholly or in part from earnings of the Department, it must be obvious to anyone that profits which might otherwise be available for the benefit of ratepayers and consumers are absorbed in plant extensions.

On the other hand, if such a large sum is raised either wholly or in part by recourse to public borrowing, it must of necessity react to a greater or lesser extent upon the Council's capacity to provide funds for the necessary programme of development of the Settlement which has been more or less suspended during the last few years because of the financial stringency resulting from political upheaval.

No matter by what method future extensions are financed, so long as the undertaking is retained the financing of future expansions is bound to react in one way or another upon other municipal interests, the importance of which can by no means be ignored.

On the other hand, if the undertaking is sold the ratepayers are definitely and finally relieved of the otherwise inescapable obligation of raising huge sums in the future for extensions.

Contributors to the correspondence columns of our local press have greatly stressed the importance of the contribution from the profits of the Department in relief of taxation.

Without in any way intending to depreciate the value of our Electricity Department, I might observe that the contribution in relief of taxation during the current year amounts to only about 9 per cent. of the total Municipal revenue.

Moreover as a general principle a contribution from the profits of a municipal public utility in relief of taxation after all mounts to little if anything more than the municipality taking money from the consumers and ratepayers in the form of higher cost for the commodity with one hand and returning it to them in the form of profits with the other. I have no desire to over-emphasize this aspect of the question, but merely to point out that, although the undertaking were to be retained and managed in the most efficient manner possible, financial and otherwise, still it is extremely doubtful if any reduction in taxation which could be effected by such retention would be of any real material benefit to the Settlement.

Passing now to another aspect of the question, it is, of course, obvious that in event of a sale of the undertaking vexatious and difficult problems will arise in connection with the methods to be adopted by the Council in dealing with so large a sum as eighty-one million taels.

It is not practical, nor does time permit of a detailed discussion today of these problems.

In the first place, to summarize in a very broad and general way the effects of a sale, I am authorized to state that the incoming Council will give its immediate consideration to the question of a reduction of the rates. Whatever portion of the purchase price may be necessary for the purpose will doubtless be applied to the amortization of outstanding loans and interest charges, when necessary.

The surplus remaining beyond the capital sum applied to amortization of loans could be invested as a separate fund to be drawn upon to meet the financial problems with which future Councils will inevitably be faced.

In my remarks on the Budget for 1929 I have referred to the increasing cost of the Police Force. In fact, in order to cope adequately with armed robbery and kidnapping, we have pressing need of a Force far in excess numerically of anything for which the Budget provides, or can reasonably be provided from ordinary income.

The Chinese Authorities now refuse to permit us to dispose of house garbage in Chinese territory, with the result that we are faced with the necessity of devising other methods of garbage disposal, which probably means the erection of an incinerating plant, the cost of which may run as high as two million taels.

Without burdening you with details, I may say that capital expenditure of, roughly, fifteen million taels, will be required within the next five years for police and fire stations, hospitals, schools, markets, gaols, jetties, road widenings, drainage and sewage and kindred matters.

There is a large number of people in Shanghai having no special knowledge or experience of public utility management and who have never given the subject any study who accept it as a self-evident fact that municipal public utilities are operated more economically and profitably than those under the management of private companies.

A study of the development of public utilities does not establish this contention as entirely sound by any means. It is a much mooted question. The determination of whether a municipal public utility is yielding a real profit or incurring a concealed loss can only be made by an unbiased, expert analysis of the accounts, and very rarely is anything of this sort undertaken.

It is true that the financial reports of many European cities will indicate that, ostensibly, at any rate, a profit from the municipal operation of public utilities is being made.

When, however, such reports are carefully analyzed the profitable character of the undertaking does not always appear to be so fully established.

The capital accounts are sometimes inadequately debited with outlays made by the city in connection with its public utility enterprises; insufficient allowances for depreciation are frequently made; and rarely is any sum charged to the utilities in lieu of taxes. There are many twists and turns in accounting by means of which the financial showing made by a municipal utility can be improved.

It is a very complicated subject and the truth, of course, is that municipal ownership may be economical and profitable in one place and fail in another. It may succeed when applied to one utility and fail when applied to another. I would therefore urge you not to be unduly influenced by the idea that municipal ownership and management are necessarily more advantageous to the community than by a private company.

In concluding my remarks upon this important subject, there are one or two matters upon which I would like to lay particular emphasis, namely, that the Ordinary Budget of Income and Expenditure will benefit immediately by the sale of the undertaking. Loan service, at present very costly, will be almost entirely eliminated and the necessary funds will be in the Council's hands for dealing with many problems of large capital expenditure to which I have referred.

I would also remind you that the continued participation of the community in the prosperity of the Electricity undertaking is assured by means of the 5 per cent. royalty on the gross sales of electricity, as provided by the Memorandum Franchise, which it is estimated in the course of the next few years will increase to an amount approximating the contribution from the profits of the undertaking allowed for in the Budget of 1928, and lastly, that the interests of the staff of the Electricity Department will not be in any way adversely affected in event the undertaking is transferred to the purchasing company.

I now beg to propose Resolution VI:—

Resolution VI.—That the Council is hereby authorized to sell and deliver the whole of the undertaking property and assets of the Shanghai Municipal Electricity Department to the American & Foreign Power Company, Inc., on behalf of itself and of its British Associates together known as the International Group or to an association or company formed by the said Group in consideration for the payment to the Council of Shanghai Taels Eighty One million (Tls. 81,000,000) subject to the terms and conditions of a Memorandum covering the principal features of a proposed franchise issued by the Electricity Special Committee (1929) and published in the Municipal Gazette of March 28, 1929 and of a letter dated March 19, 1929 to the Electricity Special Committee (1929) from Samuel W. Murphy as Attorney in Fact of the American & Foreign Power Company, Inc., and as agent for and on behalf of the British Associates therein mentioned and subject to such additions to or amendments of the said Memorandum and of the said letter as may be mutually agreed upon by the Council and the said International Group and subject to the completion of a formal contract or contracts embodying the said terms, and conditions as aforesaid.

Mr. W. P. LAMBE.—Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen, I beg to second that resolution.

The CHAIRMAN—Before I put the Resolution to the Meeting, I should like to ask if any ratepayer has any comment to make or any question to ask.

The CHAIRMAN—As there are no questions, I will put the Resolution to the Meeting. Will those in favour signify in the usual manner? —Those against?—Carried by a very large majority. (Applause).

The CHAIRMAN—The next resolution is

Resolution VII.—That Mr. J. T. W. Brooke be elected a Land Commissioner for the ensuing year.

Mr. O. M. GREEN—I have pleasure in proposing the Resolution.

Mr. F. J. RAVEN—I have pleasure in seconding the Resolution.

The CHAIRMAN—Those in favour please signify?—Those against?—Carried unanimously.

The CHAIRMAN—The next resolution is

Resolution VIII.—That Drs. T. B. Dunn and F. M. Neild and Messrs. C. H. French and G. W. Sheppard be elected to serve on the Board of Governors of the Shanghai General Hospital.

Proposed by Mr. Fessenden and seconded by Mr. Bell. Those in favour? Those against?—Carried unanimously.

Mr. C. M. BAIN.—Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen, I would like to say just a word before we go, and I am very sorry that so many have gone away already. I want you to allow me, in your name, as fellow ratepayers, to put on record our feelings towards our friend, Mr. Fessenden, who has been Chairman of the Council for the last five years. Shanghai, like many other places, is apt to forget what has been done in the public weal, but nobody to-day stands out more in our estimation for what he has done for Shanghai than Mr. Fessenden. At this juncture I could keep you for a very long time if I went into minute details of his services to us, but I will not do so. Take only 1925, and I am sure you will agree with me that what he did for us in that year alone was sufficient to make us feel very grateful towards him. I want you to allow me to say this much: we cannot put it down on record now, but some day there will be written a history of Shanghai and what has been done for it, and then you will see what Mr. Fessenden has done in critical situations. I do not put this as a Resolution, but I will ask that it be recorded in the minutes of this Annual Meeting of Ratepayers. (Loud applause).

Mr. FESSENDEN. — Ladies and gentlemen, I appreciate very much what Mr. Bain has said, for I am taking farewell of the ratepayers in one way. However, I could not have done much if I had not had your support for so many years, so I have to thank you for something. I will ask you to allow me to voice your thanks to Mr. Gregson, our Chairman to-day. —(Hear, hear).

The CHAIRMAN—The meeting is now closed.

Municipal Economy Committee.

The following letter of appreciation which has been addressed to the Acting Chairman of the Municipal Economy Committee, is published for public information:—

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, April 18, 1929.

SIR,—I have the honour to allude to the Report and Recommendations of the Municipal Economy Committee, the two sections of which were received by the Council, and duly acknowledged, in January and September, 1928.

With the accession to office of the new Council it now becomes possible to give detailed consideration to the later and more general Recommendations, and I take this opportunity of conveying to you and your colleagues on the Committee the most sincere thanks of the Council and the Ratepayers for your long and arduous labours, and for the most important and valuable conclusions to which they have led.

The questions to which your Committee has devoted its attention are, in many instances, of a far reaching nature, and it is confidently anticipated that their examination in the light of your Report will result in substantial economies and increased efficiency in the Municipal administration.

I have the honour to be,
Sir,
Your obedient servant,
S. M. EDWARDS,
Secretary.

V. MEYER, Esq.,
Acting Chairman,
Municipal Economy Committee.

Fire Risks in Factories.

Consequent upon a report by the Chief Officer of the Fire Brigade on the dangerous panic which occurred at the silk filature at 25 Miller Road on March 25, the Council has approved measures for the institution of regular fire drills in all factories where any considerable number of persons are employed, and for effecting certain structural alterations for the reduction of the fire hazard.

The Council has not the same powers in regard to existing factories as in the case of new buildings, which have to conform to the Building Rules, and licensed businesses, which are subject to strict control under the licence conditions. It is, nevertheless, believed that the owners of the majority of factories situated in the Settlement, or enjoying Municipal protection and services, will give the necessary facilities to the Council's inspection staff and comply with such reasonable requirements as are laid down for the preservation of life and property.

Waterworks Tariff Charges.

The appended correspondence from the Council to the Shanghai Waterworks Company, is published for general information:—

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, March 21, 1929.

SIR,—The matters submitted in your letter of January 30, 1929, for the consideration of the Council were discussed by the Public Utilities Committee on Monday last and their recommendations as confirmed by the Council will be conveyed to you after the next meeting of Council.

In the meantime the question of the reduction of rates for the supply of larger quantities of water by meter and the retrospective application of such reduced rates as from January 1, 1929, was considered by the Council yesterday and your proposal as to the reduction as well as to the retrospective application was approved.

I am, Sir,
Your obedient servant,
J. R. JONES,
Deputy Secretary.

W. R. WALTER, Esq.,
Secretary,
Shanghai Waterworks Co., Ltd.

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, April 12, 1929.

SIR,—Further to the Council's letter of March 21, I am directed to inform you that the Council has now confirmed the recommendations on the matter of the various issues raised in your letter of January 30, last.

The Council has approved the suggested amendments to the tariff of charges proposed in your letter for the period of two years from July 1, 1929, with the exception of the alteration proposed by the Company to the second proviso of Clause 2 (a). The Council is of opinion that the word "Company" in the Clause as redrafted by you should read "Council." The Clause would then read:—

"Provided further that in the event of the actual rent or the rent as assessed by the Council being on account of special circumstances lower than the rent would have been but for such special circumstances the said rate may be charged on what in the opinion of the Council the rent would have been but for such special circumstances."

The Company's proposal that the tariff period be altered from five years to two years is also agreed to by the Council. The proposal that the reduced rates for the supply of large quantities of water by meter be put into force as from January 1, last, was approved as stated in the Council's letter to you of March 21. The further recommendations as to the deferment of the construction of the new 40-in. main until 1931 and as to the fixing of the tariff exchange at 2/5½d. were also endorsed.

With regard to the Company's request for an expression of opinion from the Council in favour of the supply of water to consumers for both domestic and non-domestic purposes by meter so soon as may be practicable in the next ensuing tariff period, the Council, although inclined in favour of the general principle of the supply of water by meter to all consumers, deems it desirable having regard to the many difficulties attendant upon the application of this system to defer any formal endorsement of the introduction of general metering until such time as the Company is in a position to submit its detailed recommendations thereon.

I am, Sir,
Your obedient servant,
J. R. JONES,
Deputy Secretary.

W. R. WALTER, Esq.,
Secretary,

Land Commission.

CASE No. 189.

Gaol Extension. — Unregistered land, Kwenming Road, Eastern District. Heard in the Council Chamber on Thursday, March 7, 1929, at 5.30 p.m. and adjourned to Tuesday, March 12, 1929, at 4.00 p.m.

PROCEEDINGS.

Mr. E. L. Hartopp of Messrs. Tessdale, Newman & McDonald appears for the beneficial Owners, Messrs. Hing Pah Chai and Hing Zung Chai. There are also present the lessee Mr. Loh Tsong Zien, and Mr. W. S. Read who was called by Mr. Hartopp as witness.

The Council is represented by Mr. J. R. Jones, Deputy Secretary, Mr. C. Harpur, Commissioner of Public Works, being in attendance.

For the Owners Hing Pah Chai and Hing Zung Chai, Mr. Hartopp states that in this case the Council are seeking to acquire the piece of land coloured red on the plans. The property is within the Foreign Settlement, abuts on Kwenming Road, near Alcock Road and measures Mow 1,855 according to Fangtan areas.

The said area was leased by his clients in the year 1921 to one Loh Tsong Zien for a term of 15 years at an annual rental of $500 and a special form of building containing seven apartments was to be specially built on the site for the purpose of an ironworks at a cost of Tls. 3,500. It was provided in the lease that in the event of the landlord desiring to take back the premises prior to the expiration of 15 years the landlord should compensate the tenant with 15 years rental.

After the grant of the lease, seven factory houses were duly erected on the area now sought to be acquired at a cost of Tls. 3,500.

On February 12, 1926, the Council addressed a letter to the owners offering to purchase the land at Tls. 5,000 per mow, plus Tls. 2,600 for the building. The owners being countrymen who do not know English and who were unable to read or write even in Chinese, did not understand the position and took no action on receipt of this and subsequent letters from the Council.

On September 23, 1926, the Land Commissioners awarded certain compensation. This award was made ex parte, without the presence or even the knowledge of the owners. In the circumstances, the Council has very properly agreed to re-open the case.

The Council has offered to pay Tls. 10,990 representing Tls. 5,000 per mow on an area of Mow 1.678 (the Fangtan area as already stated is Mow 1.855), plus Tls. 2,600 for the buildings. His clients would have been prepared to accept Tls. 22,524 representing Tls. 8,000 per mow on an area of Mow 1.855, plus 10 per cent. for compulsory surrender, plus Tls. 2,700 for the buildings, plus $3,500 for compensation to the tenant.

He reads extracts from correspondence which has passed between the Council and his clients and also between the Council and their legal advisers and his firm since the date of the ex parte award above referred to.

Proceeding, Mr. Hartopp states that in the year 1909 his clients voluntarily surrendered to the Council over a mow of land together with a dwelling house, a portion of their property, for road making purposes, at a purely nominal price. They did not complain about this. Everything that remains to them is now scheduled for acquisition and it is an established rule that in such cases the full market price must be paid. The Council has offered a sum actually less than the assessed value. Even in ordinary road land cases the assessed value is not invariably adopted by the Land Commission, assessed value having no relation to market price. In the present case instances of recent sales in the immediate neighbourhood show that the true market value of property abutting on Kwenming Road cannot be less than Tls. 11,000 per mow.

The Commissioners ascertain that the Owners and lessee are present, and they appear, namely:—

(1).—Hing Zung Chai is called to produce the original lease. He also refers to the following instances of recent sales in the neighbourhood:

(a) In March 1928 Woo Quan Yong sold to Loh Zung Shing, Tin Can Makers Factory, a piece of land together with houses thereon situated at Kwenming Road and Paoting Road (Cad. Lot 1688) and measuring in area Mow 1.040 for Tls. 19,000.

(b) In May 1927 Feng Tsung Foh sold to Wayside Dairy a piece of vacant land situated at Alcock and East Tongshan Roads (Cad. Lot 1569) and measuring in area Mow 0.330 for Tls. 3,300 nett.

(c) About the end of 1928 Jui Chang Kwei sold to one Tsang a piece of vacant land situated at Wayside and Macgregor Roads (Cad. Lot 2035) and measuring in area Mow 0.970 for Tls. 10,700.

(2).—Loh Tsong Zien is called to prove that he had agreed to accept 7½ years rent by way of compensation.

(3).—Mr. W. S. Read of 21 Jinkee Road, is called and gives evidence as follows:—

That he is a practising Architect and Land Surveyor, a member of the Architects' Association, London and a member of the Shanghai Land Valuers Association and that he has had 11 years experience of land valuing in Shanghai, is well acquainted with the locality in which the claimants' property is situated and had inspected the claimants' property. In his experience the market values of land in the Settlement are rarely if ever less than from 30 to 50 per cent. above the assessed values, and at the present time market values are in almost all cases double the assessed value.

The claimants are asked to surrender the whole of their property, and in his opinion there is no chance whatever of the claimants acquiring other property in the locality at any price; and even if there were, the sellers would undoubtedly ask over Tls. 10,000 per mow.

The buildings on the property are valued at Tls. 2,667 and are not in very good repair.

Mr. Hartopp reminds the Commissioners that his clients expect to receive the customary 10 per cent. for compulsory surrender.

In presenting the Council's case, Mr. Jones states that the question of the appropriation of this property was previously before the Land Commission in September 1926, and an award was then made to the owner on the understanding that he would deal independently with any claims from the lessee. It is therefore necessary at this hearing to make an award in such a way as to discharge the Council from all obligations to the lessor and to the lessee and to make an award to each according to the interest each has in the property. It also transpires that the property in question consists of two pieces of unregistered land, one owned by Hing Pah Chai and the other by Hing Zung Chai, and although they may claim jointly they are in fact separate owners and each is entitled to alienate his property at will.

On reading the award made in 1926 certain facts become apparent which should be borne in mind at the present hearing. In the first place the Commissioners found that the two owners had accepted the Council's letter notifying them that their case would come before the Land Commission, but would not chop the chit-book and had not appeared, and that the case had proceeded in their default. The Commissioners had evidence of the actual surveyed area of Mow 1.678 as against the Fangtan area of Mow 1.855 the difference being accounted for by an area already included in Kwenming Road. They also had before them information that a building costing Tls. 3,500 had been erected on the site in 1921, and that the property was the subject of a lease expiring at the end of 15 years and that there was a penalty of $7,500 in case of termination of the lease during its currency.

It it also clear that previous to the case coming before the Land Commission in 1926 there must have been discussions between the owners and the Council, and it is significant that in the case of the neighbouring property, which was the subject matter of an award of the same date, one member of the Hing family appeared in person.

The owners, it is clear from the evidence, were well acquainted with land matters and had knowledge of the compulsory acquisition of land, and, although perhaps illiterate, had the assistance of the son of one of them who evidently had knowledge of English. Nevertheless, they persistently refused to accept the Council's letters until they were informed of the Council's intention to enforce its award through the Provisional Court. He submits that the Commissioners in making the award should take into consideration the fact that had the owners come before the Land Commission and produced the lease and accepted the Council's letters, the Council would have been in possession of the land, which has been urgently required since 1926; and the Council should not, through the default of the owners, be penalised by having to pay compensation at a higher rate than obtained in 1926.

With regard to the lease, he submits that no provision is made for any notice to be given to the landlord and that the owners have been well aware for a long time that the Council requires the property. It is also obvious that only one of the owners' property is subject to the lease. The provision in the lease for the payment of 15 years rent in case of the termination of the lease by the landlord is unreasonable and unrecoverable in law, as it is in the nature of a penalty and not liquidated damages. The Council, however, is prepared to compensate the lessee for having to remove his business before the end of the lease, with the payment of compensation of approximately $3,500, representing the annual rent for the unexpired portion of the lease. The lessee has stated in evidence that he is prepared to accept this sum, and it is understood that Counsel for the owners also agrees.

It is also submitted, and Chinese law is quoted in support of the submission, that as the Council is asking for the compulsory surrender of the land, the lessee's claim for the termination of his lease before the end of 15 years is against the Council and not against the lessor, and that the payment of compensation to the lessee by the Council extinguishes his claim in all respects.

The Council is also prepared to offer the sum of Tls. 2,600 for the buildings on the property. The valuer who gave evidence on behalf of the owners estimated the value at Tls. 2,667. The Council's valuation of Tls. 2,600 was made in 1926, when the land should have been surrendered, and the premises have not since then been kept in good repair.

The only question now in issue is the value of the land. The owners say that the land is now worth Tls. 11,000 per mow. It is submitted however that the owners have been in default since 1926 and that the present value is not the correct basis for compensation; but even as an estimate of the present value, the sum of Tls. 11,000 per mow is excessive. The land required is an interior lot the larger piece having a length of 300 feet and a frontage of only 45 feet on the road. The smaller piece has no frontage at all on any road. The property would be very difficult to develop economically. The width of the combined pieces which is only 45 feet in the widest portion and 34 feet in the narrowest portion would preclude the economic development, particularly if the building rules which require any access to the property to be 10 feet wide were applied. The present assessed value of the surrounding land having a frontage on Ward Road, Alcock Road and Kwenming Road is only Tls. 5,500.

Four lots in the immediate vicinity with wider frontage and fewer disadvantages may be mentioned:—Cadastral Lot 1949 is estimated at Tls. 4,800 per mow; Cadastral Lot 1926 with more than double the frontage on Kwenming Road is assessed at Tls. 3,800 per mow and the valuable corner lot at the angle of the road—Paoting and Kwenming Roads—is valued at Tls. 4,300 per mow. The contrast between the assessed value of Cadastral Lot 1926 and the estimated value of the land in question in this case is of too marked a contrast to admit of the consideration of the owners' claim.

The three cases of land quoted by Mr. Hartopp are not helpful. They are not in the immediate vicinity and are not governed by similar conditions. The lot quoted near Cadastral Lot 1569 was a piece of unregistered land with road frontage on Tongshan Road and it was evidently bought for a special purpose owing to its commanding a road frontage necessary to the adjoining lot. Cadastral Lot 1688 contained six houses and the facts as to this sale are uncertain. Cadastral Lot 2117 has a frontage on two roads and is not in the market as the owner does not want to sell.

The owner's interest in the leased portion is a reversionary one and in ordinary circumstances the land would not come into his possession until January 1936. The Council is, therefore, willing to pay him the present value at 8 per cent.

The question of the award of 10 per cent. for compulsory surrender should not be considered in connection with the award to the lessee or the compensation for the buildings. If it is awarded at all it should only be on the reversionary interest of the lessor. It should, however, be borne in mind that this compensation has been awarded in the past on the analogy of the Land Clauses Acts in England. These Acts however provide for the compulsory acquisition of land by bodies of persons such as an ordinary Railway Company which traded for property. The Acquisition of Land (Compensation) Act of 1919 had, however, provided rules which were considered equitable for the acquisition of land by the Government and by public and local authorities which require the land for public purposes as distinct from commercial purposes and under that Act no allowance is made on account of the acquisition being compulsory.

The sitting was adjourned at 7.30 p.m.

At the adjourned session, the Council submits a translation of the lease which had been tendered as evidence by Mr. Hartopp at the first hearing, and the two English versions are materially in agreement.

The owners and the lessee are questioned as to the existence of sub-leases or any subsidiary tenures of the property, and Mr. Hartopp, on behalf of his clients and the lessee, assures their statements that no subsidiary claims will arise and states that in any event an indemnity would be given to the Council in respect thereof. The lessee asks the Council to grant him three months' tenure of his premises, owing to the necessity of finding new premises and possible difficulty in connection therewith. The Commissioners, however, intimate that the matter of notice is one for the Council.

Mr. Hartopp informs the Commissioners that the owners have given an undertaking to abide by the Award.

The proceedings terminated at 7.00 p.m., and, after both parties had withdrawn, the Commissioners decide as follows:—

CRIME.

Prisoners Aid Society.—The welfare of criminals released from gaol either on completion or remission of sentence is one which might receive the attention of the general public in regard to the suppression of crime in the Settlement. Many of these ex-convicts have no means of subsistence or any method of obtaining a livelihood on their release from prison and naturally resort to crime to live. This is especially true with regard to prisoners who are committed to gaol during the summer months and who are released during the winter season insufficiently clad to withstand the rigours of the weather. In many cases these ex-convicts are so released on account of their good conduct in gaol which entitles them to the remission of a portion of their original sentence.

It is suggested that one of the many charitable institutions in the Settlement should take up the case of these unfortunates and establish what is known is European countries as a "Prisoners Aid Society," supported by subscriptions from the wealthy classes residing in the Settlement, with the object of assisting prisoners on their release by gifts of food, clothing or monetary assistance to enable them to exist until they obtain employment or to return to their homes. The establishment of an institution wherein these men could be taught trades to enable them to become respectable members of the community seems to offer scope for charitably inclined persons, particularly Chinese.

Pending the formation of such a Society, the Commissioner of Police is already making use of a very small sum of money now in his possession for this purpose and will accept donations forwarded to him by interested persons. Such monies will be sent to the Officer in charge of the Gaol for distribution as considered necessary. The public of Shanghai and especially the wealthy Chinese classes are requested to co-operate in this matter which will undoubtedly confer a boon on these unfortunates and assist in ridding the community of undesirable elements and potential habitual criminals.

Lack of Precautions in Transporting Money.— Instances frequently come to the notice of the Police of the absolute lack of precautions taken by Chinese in conveying money from one place to another, and frequent warnings in police reports seem to have no effect on those responsible. In a recent case a feeble Chinese watchman, aged 63 years, was held up in the Sinza district by an armed gang whilst transporting $1,500 in silver and notes in a ricsha. The criminals escaped in a motor car which was waiting for the purpose. From enquiries made it was ascertained that this watchman was in the habit of conveying money in the above manner five or six times a month. In another case reported in the same district the victim, proceeding on foot, was held up and robbed of $1,600 in notes which he had collected a short time previously.

Attacks on Foreign Ladies.— Reports of two cases of attacks on Foreign ladies, attended by unusual circumstances were received during the month, the first happening on Bubbling Well Road near the Country Club at about 3.30 p. m., on March 23, and the second on Edinburgh Road near Great Western Road at about 10,30 p. m., on March 27. In both instances it is alleged that hypodermic syringes were used to inject some narcotic and that the victims were rendered unconscious to find themselves lying on vacant ground, the former in the French Concession and the latter adjacent to the scene of assault. Both cases show points of similarity in the methods employed and in neither instance is it sure that the victims were robbed. In the absence of marks of assault it is difficult to conceive the motive for the crime. In one case Chinese were alleged to be the perpetrators but in the other considerable doubt exists on the point.

It is gratifying to note that police whistles have been used in several cases by persons attacked or by witnesses of armed crimes and thus valuable property and possibly life has been saved and arrests made. Too much stress cannot be laid on the value of these simple methods of defence by members of the community and all would be well advised to purchase one and to use it freely when occasion demands.

Bank customers are again warned to be cautious when paying in or counting money in banks. Particular attention should be given to suspicious foreigners loitering near the desks of the bank cashier.

Murders.— During the month, investigations were made into five cases of murder, one of which occurred outside Settlement Limits. Brief details of each are as follows:—

At about 12.45 a.m., March 4, as the result of shots fired by a number of loafers in the vicinity of the Sun Sun Building, Probationary Sergeant Hales, who was patrolling Nanking Road, was attracted to the scene and coming in contact with the miscreants, was shot and fatally wounded. In addition to the foreign policeman, a private ricsha coolie was also shot dead. Three arrests have been effected and from enquiries it has been ascertained that the shooting was an organized effort on the part of known gamblers and loafers to establish prestige over the watchmen of the Sun Sun Dancing Hall and was caused by a trifling squabble between the leader and a watchman a few days previously.

On March 7, the decapitated body of an Indian was found in a field off Keswick Road, the head being later discovered about 70 yards from the body. Examination showed that deceased was killed as the result of bullet wounds, the head being afterwards severed from the body with a chopper. Four Indians have since been taken into custody and charged with being concerned in the crime.

On March 16, an exchange shop proprietor was shot dead in his shop on Gordon Road in an attempt to frustrate armed robbers. As the robbers were leaving the shop, deceased's son pluckily grappled with the murderer and succeeded in effecting his capture.

On March 20, the body of a male Chinese with the throat cut and face disfigured by acid, was found in an empty house situated in the Gordon Road district. Death had apparently taken place some five or six days prior to the discovery of the body and up to the present all efforts to ascertain the identity of deceased have failed.

On March 24, a Chinese detective of the Kiangsu Provincial River Police was shot dead in an alleyway off Broadway. Deceased who had been employed in the aforementioned capacity for about six days, was a well known loafer. The motive for his killing has not yet been discovered.

Eight attempted murders were reported. Of this number five were committed by armed robbers, two by armed kidnappers and the other was the result of a dispute over a debt.

In regard to the above and cases of murder and attempted murder occurring prior to March 1, thirteen persons were taken into custody. Two were handed over to the Chinese Authorities and the remainder are under remand. These arrests were made in connection with the following cases:—

The shooting of Probationary Sergeant Hales and a private ricsha coolie on March 4.

Murder of an Indian on March 6.

Murder of an exchange shop master on March 16.

Murder of a coolie who was shot in a teashop in the Harbin Road district on August 8, 1928, following a gambling dispute.

Murder of a Chinese Police Sergeant during a shooting affray on January 30, between members of the Chapei Police and armed desperadoes.

Attempted murder on March 29 in the Yangtszepoo district of a male Chinese by striking him on the head with an axe.

In addition to the above arrests, a Chinese who escaped from Bubbling Well Station cells on November 26, 1928, whilst awaiting trial on six counts of murder and attempted murder, was re-arrested.

Of the thirteen persons on remand at the end of last month, three were sentenced to imprisonment, two dismissed and eight are still under remand.

At the Court of Appeal on March 15, the judgment rendered in July 1928, against five persons two of whom were sentenced to life imprisonment and three to 12 years in connection with one case of murder, one attempted murder and one armed robbery) was altered as follows:— two sentenced to death, one to 12 years' imprisonment and two dismissed.

Manslaughter.—One case occurred under this heading. This arose over a fight between two employees of the Telephone Company in which one of the combatants was knocked to the ground and killed. Deceased's assailant was arrested and sentenced to imprisonment.

Three persons on remand at the end of February were dealt with, one being sentenced to imprisonment and two were acquitted.

Suicides.—One British male, three Chinese females and two Chinese males committed suicide during the month.

Assault.—A serious case of assault and torture was reported in the Yangtszepoo district. The victim (a slave girl) was discovered by the police suffering from burns and severe bruises. The girl stated that she had been assaulted on numerous occasions during the past four years by her mistress, who had also tortured her by means of heated fire tongs applied to her face and body. Up to the present this woman has not been arrested.

Armed Abduction.—Four cases occurred in the Settlement during the month. One on March 4, at the corner of Hart and Bubbling Well Roads when a Chinese tobacco merchant in possession of a licensed pistol, which he failed to use, and his assistant were seized when about to enter the residence of the former and carried off in their own motor car. The car together with the afore-mentioned pistol was found abandoned on Markham Road. Five days later both complainants reported their release to the police and stated that their kidnapping was a case of mistaken identity, a doubtful story.

On March 14, a Chinese employed as a compradore at the B.A.T. Company was kidnapped by armed men on Avenue Road and taken away in a motor car.

On March 19, a male Chinese was set upon by two men on Yates Road; complainant resisted but was subsequently subdued and forced into a waiting motor car. The kidnappers with their victim were later observed by members of the Chapei Police to board a junk on the Soochow Creek at Jessfield. Shots were exchanged between both parties without effect, the kidnappers escaped after maliciously shooting complainant in the arm.

On March 20, a Chinese employed as a general agent, while proceeding along Weihaiwei Road in a public ricsha was seized and carried off in a motor car.

One report of attempted armed kidnapping was received. This occurred on March 18, when a Chinese, employed in a local bank was held up outside his residence on Kweichow Road by two armed men who attempted to force him into a waiting motor car. Complainant resisted and in the ensuring struggle was shot in the arm, whereupon the kidnappers immediately decamped. The wounded man has since died as a result of the injury.

In addition to the above, a case of armed kidnapping which occurred at Kiangwan, O.O.L., was also investigated. The complainant (a compradore employed at a foreign store) was seized while riding in his private motor car on the Kiangwan Road. A few hours after the occurrence, a boat was observed aground in a creek near Hsiang Yin and Woosung Roads. This proved to contain the kidnappers who decamped on an alarm being raised by onlookers, leaving their victim behind.

In regard to cases of armed abduction which occurred prior to March 1, a child, age 2 years, who was carried off on December 2, 1928, by armed robbers from a Chinese dairy situated on Singapore Road, O.O.L., was on March 15, found abandoned in the French Concession.

Twenty persons were arrested in connection with armed kidnapping cases. Two were handed over to the Chinese Authorities, one to the French Police and seventeen are on remand.

Of the eighty-three persons on remand at the end of February, nine were sentenced to death, twelve to imprisonment, the charges against seven were withdrawn, ten were acquitted and forty-five are still on remand.

Five persons were arrested in connection with cases of abduction in which no arms were used. All are on remand.

Armed Robbery. — Reports of armed robbery received during the month totalled ninety, a decrease of two on the preceding month and a decrease of thirty-six on the number recorded during the corresponding month of 1928. Eighty-two cases occurred in shops, dwelling houses, etc., and eight on the highway. Twelve attempted armed robberies were also reported. Shots were fired by the robbers in nine instances with the result that a shop keeper was shot dead (particulars of this case are included under murders), and six persons wounded. Sixty-seven of the robberies occurred between the hours of 6 p.m., and 10 p.m., thirty cases taking place between the hours of 7 p.m., and 8 p.m.

In connection with the above reports and reports of armed robbery received prior to March 1, thirty-nine persons, five of whom were in possession of firearms, were arrested. Twenty were sentenced to imprisonment, one was handed over to the Chinese Authorities, the charge against another was withdrawn, two were acquitted and fifteen are on remand.

Forty persons, nine of whom were in possession of fire-arms, were arrested for being members of armed robber gangs. Three were sentenced to imprisonment and the remainder remanded. In addition to the above, two armed Chinese were shot dead while resisting arrest.

Of the one hundred and forty-seven persons on remand at the end of February, charged with armed robbery and being members of armed gangs, two were sentenced to death, thirty-three to imprisonment, the charges against three were withdrawn, two were released on bond, seven were acquitted and one hundred are still on remand.

A Chinese sentenced in January to fourteen years imprisonment for armed robbery, appealed, as a result the former judgment was quashed and accused acquitted.

Seven persons wanted for armed robberies committed in the French Concession and one for a similar case in Chinese controlled territory, were arrested in the Settlement and handed over to the authorities concerned.

Ten reports of unarmed robbery were received, two of these cases occurring at Chinese dwelling houses and the remainder on the highway. In connection with these cases and cases committed prior to March 1, eleven persons were arrested of whom six were sentenced to imprisonment, one acquitted and four are still under remand.

Four persons on remand at the end of February were dealt with, two were sentenced to imprisonment and the others released on bond.

Threatening Letter Cases.—One person was arrested in the Settlement and handed over to the Chinese Authorities for an offence of this nature committed in territory under their jurisdiction.

Nine persons on remand at the end of last month were disposed of, seven were sentenced to imprisonment and two dismissed for lack of evidence.

Executions.—Three persons arrested for armed kidnapping in the Settlement, were handed over to the Chinese Authorities and executed during the month.

Total Number of Reports of Property Stolen in the Settlement. 469 reports of property stolen were received during the month, representing an estimated loss of $169,-368.96. These comprise, 33 cases of burglary, 19 of house-breaking, 4 of godown-breaking, 26 of shop and office breaking, 5 of fraud, 3 of embezzlement, 3 of shop-lifting and 376 of larceny. Compared with the corresponding month of 1928, there is a decrease of 57 cases.

Investigations were made with successful results into 269 cases, included in which were 97 arrests for picking pockets and snatching, 66 of these being identified as old offenders. Property was recovered to the value of $39,633.34, and in addition, recoveries to the extent of $6,575.40 were made in regard to cases committed prior to March 1. Five cases reported as having occurred outside Settlement limits and one in which property was lost, were also successfully dealt with.

In connection with the circulation of the description of property stolen, the Press Section printed 38,350 circulars which were distributed among pawnshops, goldshops, second-hand shops, etc., 5,600 wanted notices were also printed by this section.

Trafficking in Firearms.—Fourteen Chinese were taken into custody for being in possession of firearms for an unlawful purpose—nine were sentenced to imprisonment and the remainder are on remand.

Of the ten persons on remand at the end of February, seven were sentenced to imprisonment, two fined and one is still under remand.

Crime Reported Beyond Settlement Limits.—There are no official records, but according to the Chinese Press, six cases of murder, three of armed abduction and twenty-eight cases of armed robbery and piracy occurred in Chinese controlled territory. In one case 60 armed robbers attacked a village West of Shanghai and defeating the Peace Maintenance Corps, seized several rifles, Mauser pistols and a quantity of ammunition. Four persons were executed for crimes committed outside Settlement limits.

Finger Print Bureau.—During the month of March 1929, the total number of records received by this office for identification was 1,451.

This shows an increase of 343 compared with last month and a decrease of 279 from the corresponding month of last year.

The total number of Chinese prisoners, records received from Stations was 966 from which number 297 identifications were made. Of the prisoners thus identified 33 per cent. had been previously released under the mark system of remission of sentence.

Investigations were made into 23 reported cases as follows:—4 Burglary, 2 Housebreaking, 1 Kidnapping, 2 Larceny, 2 Murder, 5 Office-breaking and 7 Shopbreaking.

A case of shopbreaking occurred in Hongkew district on March 16 in which the thief smashed the plate glass window and removed part of the contents. On examination the impressions of the right thumb, fore, middle, ring and little fingers were secured from the broken glass. The offender was identified as a man having one previous conviction for burglary and one for shopbreaking in connection with crimes committed in the same district. In a similar case which took place in the same district, on March 26, finger prints found on a small piece of broken glass proved to be identical with the right fore-finger of the same man.

In three cases finger prints secured proved to be those of complainants or their servants. In five other cases finger prints were obtained, photographed and filed for comparison with daily arrests.

With the object of establishing their identity 5 bodies of Chinese who had met their deaths under various circumstances were photographed and finger-printed at the Public Mortuary. No identifications were made.

The C. I. D. Studio took 199 photographs and printed 627 copies during the month.

POLITICAL.

Military Affairs.—All hopes of a peaceful settlement of the controversy between Wuhan and Nanking on the question of the right of provincial authorities to administer their own civil and military affairs without reference to Nanking, which resulted from the explusion from Hunan by the Wuhan Provincial Council of General Lu Ti-ping, an appointee of Nanking, were shattered towards the end of the month when civil war once more broke out in the Yangtze Valley. Following the ousting of General Lu on February 21, the issue became so acute that both Wuhan and Nanking commenced to mass troops on the Hunan-Kiangsi and Hupeh-Anhui borders, and it is estimated that by the end of March General Chiang Kai-shek had dispatched 180,000 men to Kiangsi and Anhui while the strength of the Wuhan forces in the Wuhan-Changsha area and on the Hupeh-Kiangsi border was approximately 120,000. These preparations, although at first secret, were carried on in the face of open negotiations for a peaceful settlement and were reflected locally in considerable troop movements, commandeering of Chinese owned coastal and river boats, abnormal transportation of armaments and munitions from Kiangnan Arsenal to Nanking and a temporary suspension of ordinary freight traffic on the Shanghai-Nanking Railway. With war in the air, there was a feeling of apprehension in business circles in Shanghai as a result of which there was a run on the Central Bank of China, which, however, was easily met and only short-lived.

The efforts of the principal Kuomintang leaders concentrated on patching up a truce or, failing that, localizing the dispute to Hunan and Hupeh provinces. Extensive propaganda advocating a peaceful settlement, disseminated by both parties, had the effect of creating, for a time, a bright outlook for peace, but all hope in this direction was abandoned following the receipt of reports of actual fighting at Changteh and Taoyuan between General Yeh Chi's troops (Kuangsi) and Nanking forces under General Tan Tao-yuan.

The Wuhan leaders on March 16 dispatched a telegram to General Chiang Kai-shek through Mr. Hu Han-ming demanding an explanation of the movement of Nanking troops from Anhui to Hupeh, and pointing out that as they (Wuhan) had complied with the decision of the Central Political Council by abolishing the Wuhan Provincial Council and dismissing several of its members, the Hunan incident had already closed. General Chiang's reply was more or less an ultimatum and ordered General Yeh Chi to stop any further military movement and return immediately with his troops to his original garrison post, failing which, the communication stated, there was no hope of maintaining peace.

On March 21 General Chiang issued to the party a manifesto on the Hunan dispute in which he stressed the necessity for obedience of the Central Government's orders by provincial and military leaders. On the same date, he saw fit to order the arrest and detention of Marshal Li Chi-sen, Chairman of the Kuangtung Provincial Council and Commander of the 5th Army Group (Kuangsi) who had been sent to Nanking from Canton to attend the Third National Congress and to assist in solving the Nanking-Kuangsi differences. Wild rumours current locally that Marshal Li had been executed on General Chiang's instructions subsequently proved baseless. The arrest of Marshal Li resulted in military activity at Canton where hurried conferences decided upon the dispatch of an ultimatum to General Chiang Kai-shek requesting an immediate and satisfactory explanation of his action and intimating that failure on his part to comply would necessitate the dispatch of Canton forces against Nanking.

It was recognized in Chinese Military circles that without Marshal Li's influence, harmony among the Canton Generals was practically impossible, and a split in their ranks towards the end of the month evoked no surprise. On March 30 at a conference convened at Canton by Generals Chen Ming-chu and Chen Chi-tang, both of whom are adherents of Nanking, it was decided to issue orders to the Kuangsi troops to leave Kuangtung within twenty-four hours, which decision the Kuangsi leaders observed without any show of resistance. This move cannot have had other than a depressing effect on Kuangsi as it meant the end of financial support from Kuangtung Province.

On March 23 the Third National Congress authorized General Chiang Kai-shek to take such punitive measures as he considered necessary in the event of Wuhan continuing to disregard the orders of Nanking. Following this resolution, Nanking in a mandate issued on March 26, declared war on Wuhan and ordered the dismissal and arrest, in addition to Marshal Li Chi-seng, of Generals Li Chung-jen and Pai Chung-hsi. General Pai had control of four Hunan Divisions of the 4th Group Army, formerly under General Tang Seng-chi, at Peking, Tongshan and Kaiping until March 19 when they revolted against him and renewed their allegiance to their old Commander who in the present dispute is with Nanking. General Pai was forced to flee and is reported to be on his way to Kuangtung by way of Japan. General Li Chung-jen, Chairman of the Hupeh Provincial Council and Commander of the 5th Army Group, whose subordinates are held responsible for the present strife, was in Shanghai when the Hunan coup d'etat took place. He disclaimed all responsibility for the incident and resigned suddenly on March 9 but remained in Shanghai until the arrest of Marshal Li when he left secretly for Canton.

General Chiang Kai-shek, who has been placed in supreme command of the Nanking forces, established his headquarters at Kiukiang on March 29, and, on the following day, ordered a general offensive against Wuhan.

Marshal Feng Yu-hsiang is said to be on the side of Nanking in return for the complete control of Shantung and other concessions, but his intentions are likely to remain obscure.

The situation in Eastern Shantung has been over-shadowed by the issue in the South. Following the refusal of General Liu Chen-nien, Commander of the Garrison of Chefoo District, to throw in his lot with Chang Chung-chang, hostilities recommenced on March 25, as a result of which the numerically smaller forces of General Liu suffered a severe defeat, and were on March 27 forced to evacuate Chefoo and retreat to Mouping. It is expected that General Liu will not be able to make a stand at the latter place and that he will be compelled to retire towards Weihaiwei. Chang Chung-chang's semi-bandit armies to the number of 35,000 including those belonging to his supporter Chu Yu-pu, are now in possession of the greater part of Shantung North of the Kiao-Tsi Railway as a result of which conditions in that area are more or less chaotic owing to excesses committed on the inhabitants by the invaders.

Summing up events under this heading there is nothing to indicate a break in the present peace of Shanghai. As a precautionary measure against possible local unrest arising from the civil war in the interior, General Hsiung Shih-hui, Defence Commissioner of Woosung and Shanghai, on March 24 issued a proclamation strictly prohibiting strikes, parades or public meetings without the previous sanction of the Authorities. While this proclamation will have a sobering effect, it is regrettable that the Authority responsible for its issue should have seen fit to let loose locally, within the past month, some six hundred disbanded soldiers, many of whom will go to swell the ranks of the already too numerous robber bands operating in and around the Settlement.

Political Situation.—The leaders of the Central Party now in power in Nanking gave evidence of a departure from the leftist tendency of the past few months. Ingenious tactics were employed to ensure the presence of a sufficient number of their own adherents at the third National Congress in order to lessen the Kuangsi grip on the Kuomintang.

The machinery for electing delegates was such that the Central Party Headquarters in Nanking has been able to appoint or control the appointment of about 80 per cent. of the delegates. Nanking methods are typified by the appointment of General Liu Wen-to, former Mayor of Nanking and a native of Hunan, as representative of Kirin; General Ho Chung-chun, adjutant to Chiang Kai-shek, as representative of Mukden; while Marshal Chang Hsueh-liang's name was absent. General Kuo Chen-lien, Garrison Commander of Nanking, represented Harbin, and C. T. Wang and H. H. Kung represented Peiping. These methods have aroused the resentment of the factions opposing the Chiang Kai-shek regime. The Party Headquarters of Honan, Hopei (Chihli), Hupeh and the Left Wing refused to attend, and issued lengthy manifestoes against the Congress, which was in session from March 15 to March 28. 238 members, practically all of whom represented the Right Wing, attended, but Feng Yu-hsiang and Yen Hsi-shan were absentees. On the occasion of the opening of the Congress on March 15, General Chiang Kai-shek made a lengthy address in which he pointed out the many blunders committed by the Party, which he attributed to dissension among the party leaders and their inability to think collectively. The fundamental weakness of the Government, according to Chiang Kai-shek, lay in the existence of "Spheres of influence," the "Feudalistic regimes" of the regional governments and the fact that they never respected the authority of the Central Government. On March 16 and 17 informal meetings were held for the purpose of examining credentials, forming an agenda and performing other essential duties prior to the first formal meeting which took place on March 18. After that date the Congress met regularly until March 28, when it was declared closed. In addition to hearing and acting upon reports of various Executive Yuans, much of the time of the Congress was taken up with the Hunan Incident, in connection with which the Congress adopted, in principle, a proposal motioned by General Liu Wen-to that the National Government should have full power to deal with the Wuhan Authorities as it saw fit in the event of the Hankow leaders continuing to disobey Nanking. Among the other resolutions was one dismissing Chen Kung-po and Kai Nai-kwang from the party, suspending Ku Meng-yu for three years and administering a warning to Wang Ching-wei, all of whom were accused of participation in Communist activities. A second resolution, which was adopted with an over whelming majority, was to the effect that the Central Kuomintang Party be made the highest political organ in the country and that the National Government be given power to govern. On March 26 and 27 the Congress appointed a new Central Executive Committee, from which the names of the Kuangsi leaders were omitted. Before closing the Congress on March 28, General Chiang Kai-shek delivered a stirring address in which he bitterly denounced the three Kuangsi leaders, Li Chi-sen, Li Chung-jen and Pai Chung-hsi, as traitors to the Party and the Government. At the conclusion of his speech many of the delegates rose and cheered General Chiang, shouting "Down with the Kuangsi clique." In a final act the Congress passed a motion that all Kuangsi leaders be dismissed from their respective posts and expelled from the Party.

A series of meetings under the auspices of Chinese official and Kuomintang organizations were held in Chinese controlled territory on the fourth anniversary of the death of Dr. Sun Yat-sen, March 12, in celebration of the opening of the Third National Congress of the Kuomintang at Nanking, March 15; in commemoration of the third anniversary of the massacre of students in Peking, March 18; and in commemoration of the eighteenth anniversary of the death of 72 revolutionists who were killed during the uprising at Huang Hwa Kang, near Canton, March 29. These meetings were very orderly but of a mildly anti-foreign nature.

About 350 Koreans and others held a meeting on March 1 in the Baptist Church, French Concession, in celebration of the tenth anniversary of the Declaration of Korean Independence. Bitter anti-Japanese speeches were made by several Korean revolutionary leaders and circulars of a similar nature were distributed during the meeting. The circulars were issued by the Central Committee of Korean Righteous Party, the Korean Young Men's Association in Shanghai, Korean Independence Party, Korean Young Women's Club and the Korean Young Men's Association in Nanking.

Communism.—Local Communists took advantage of the commemoration of the International Woman's Day, March 8, of the anniversary of the arrival of the Nationalist Forces in Shanghai, and the labour uprising on March 21, 1927, to further their propaganda. This consisted of the usual stereotyped leaflets and slogans and did not present any new features. In view of the outbreak of hostilities in the Yangtsze Valley, a revival of their activities may be attempted; but so far as Shanghai area is concerned, the chances of anything in the nature of an outbreak are remote, although the usual dissemination of literature and labour unrest will perhaps have to be dealt with. Widespread Communist activities are reported in parts of South Hunan and South Kiangsi, presumably the work of the 1st Communist Army under Chu Teh and Miao Tse-ting. Troops of this army, which number between four to six thousand, have been burning and looting missions and private property in that part of this country for more than a year, and now are reported to be advancing into Fokien.

A Chinese student who was arrested by the Municipal Police on February 22, for posting inflammatory posters on the wall of the N.W.K. No. 3 Mill, was fined $100 by the Provisional Court on March 2. A Korean revolutionary who was arrested by the Police in conjunction with the Japanese Consular Authorities on March 6 was on March 17 sent to Seoul for trial.

Anti-Japanese Boycott.—Taking advantage of the deadlock in the Sino-Japanese negotiations, the National Anti-Japanese Boycott Association took steps, under the auspices of the Kuomintang, to intensify the severity of the boycott throughout the country. With this object in view it convened the second annual conference of Anti-Japanese Associations which was in session from March 1 to 7. The meetings were held in the Chinese Chamber of Commerce and were attended by about eighty representatives from thirteen provinces. The deliberations of the Conference were marked with fiery speeches and a great number of nonsensical resolutions and demands which are to be submitted to the National Government for execution. One speaker stated, inter alia, that the Chinese people should fully realize that China and Japan cannot exist together in this world, and either China or Japan must be exterminated, that Japan's only policy in China had been one of aggression and encroachment, and that the people should therefore work together for the overthow of Japanese Imperialism. The same speaker contended that a world war between foreign Powers is inevitable over certain of their rights in China, and the Chinese people must therefore conserve their financial strength in preparation for the conflict. He exhorted his hearers to boycott foreign goods and encourage the use of national products.

The resolutions of the Conference include demands that the Nationalist Government make preparations for war against Japan; that military training be enforced in schools; that a strong Army, Navy and Air Force be organized to overthow Japan; that Dr. C. T. Wang be dismissed for his failure in diplomacy; that a triple alliance between England, Japan and Russia be frustrated; and that the Ministry of Foreign Affairs be instructed to negotiate for the rendition of the Legation Quarter at Peking, Dairen and Port Arthur. In addition, a proposition was put forward to establish factories to be known as the "May 3 Factories" in commemoration of the Tsinan Incident and to give work to the unemployed. As a further means of fostering the feeling against Japan the Ministry of Education has been requested to compile school textbooks containing anti-Japanese lessons and a short history of Japan's acts of encroachment upon China. A suggestion was also made that the Government produce national humiliation films. It was further proposed to issue a warning to newspapers publishing reports obstructive to anti-Japanese activities, and that Chinese Consuls abroad should be instructed to give protection to the anti-Japanese movement, whilst Chinese overseas will be asked to conduct anti-Japanese activities. Chinese will be prohibited from entering Japanese schools.

The seizure of Japanese goods in Chinese controlled territory by pickets of the Anti-Japanese Association continues. On March 7 three of these pickets held up on Ningpo Road a handcart loaded with several bales of cotton, the property of a Japanese firm, with the intention of removing the cargo to their headquarters in Chinese territory. Their attempt was, however, frustrated by the timely arrival of a representative of the firm, but they made good their escape. Actions on the part of the people discredit the pretension of the authorities that the boycott is a popular movement. In one instance, following seizures of a quantity of cotton cloth from four shops at Woosung by these pickets, thirty-six piece goods shops suspended business and did not reopen until the goods were returned to them.

Despite the Sino-Japanese Agreement which was signed on March 26, the radical Anti-Japanese Boycott Association continued its activities in Chinese controlled territory and held meetings for the expansion of the movement in defiance of orders issued by the Chinese Authorities and Kuomintang Headquarters.

It will be interesting to watch what steps the Chinese Authorities will adopt to put a stop to this movement, which until March 26 they encouraged in every possible way.

Agitation against Paper Hunting.—Agitation against paper hunting continues in the Chinese press. In a communication the Kuomintang Affairs Directory Committee requested the Commissioner for Foreign Affairs to open strict negotiation to prevent further paper hunts being held in the Western District. It is claimed by the Committee that Chinese farmers in the district where the hunts take place deny all knowledge of the $5,000 which the Paper Hunt Club pays annually as compensation for damaged crops. It is learned from the same source that the Chinese Authorities have held several conferences to discuss the matter, as a result of which it was decided that the victims should demand compensation for damage done from the owners of ponies in accordance with legal process.

Labour.—There were in March six strikes, of which the following four affected the Settlement Area:—Sun Sun Company, 145 Nanking Road (900 hands), Pau King Silk Filature, 5 Winchester Road (450 hands); Chin Yuin Silk Filature, 661/2 Chaoufoong Road (223 hands); Say Lung Cigarette Factory, 56 Dixwell Road (23 engineers).

Of the above-mentioned disputes, two resulted from the introduction of new working rules, one from dismissal of workers and one from a dispute in management.

Statistics for the month are as follows:—

Area	No. of strikes	No. of hands	No. of working days lost
Settlement	4	1,596	28,070
Chinese controlled territory	2	4,000	8,000
Total	6	5,596	36,070
Total for the corresponding month of 1928	8	36,415	146,605

The dispute in the Sun Sun Company, which resulted in the closing down of the departmental store on February 20, had not been settled at the end of the month, although there were signs of an early resumption of business.

On March 6, 450 operatives of the Pau King Silk Filature, No. 5 Winchester Road, struck work demanding the reinstatement of two of their comrades, but resumed unconditionally on the following day.

On March 11, 3,000 workers of the B. A. T. Pootung Old Factory struck work as a protest against the dismissal of one of their comrades who was dismissed for unsatisfactory work, but resumed the following day after the management had granted them minor concessions.

One thousand operatives of the Hwa Foong Cotton Mill, a Japanese concern at Chung Hwa Pang, Woosung, who struck work on February 17, to enforce reinstatement of 200 of their comrades and other concessions, resumed unconditionally on March 6, and worked until March 24, when the management declared a lockout, following a disturbance by some 200 operatives who claimed wages for February 26 and 27, on which days they attended the mill but refused to work. The lockout was still in force at the end of the month.

On March 15, 17 butchers' shops at Woosung suspended business as a protest against the decision of the Health Office of the Municipality of Greater Shanghai to collect a veterinary inspection fee of ten cents for each pig slaughtered, but reopened on March 18, pending the outcome of negotiations between the Woosung Chamber of Commerce on the one side and the Municipality on the other.

On March 20, 223 out of 400 female workers of the Chin Yuin Silk Filature at No. 661/2 Chaoufoong Road struck work as a protest against new working rules introduced by the management, but resumed unconditionally two days later.

On March 21, 200 mechanics of the French Tramway Company struck work for several hours to enforce a demand for a holiday with pay on alternate Sundays and double wages for Sunday work. On March 29 the management agreed to concede the first demand, but limited Sunday work to one and a half days' wages.

Some unrest existed among the employees of the Chinese Telegraph Administration owing to agitation for the transfer of the wireless administration from the Central Reconstruction Committee to the Ministry of Communications.

Rice.—The average price of Chinese rice for the month of March was $13.06 per picul as compared with $12.12 per picul in the corresponding month of 1928.

Traffic.—1,616 reports of traffic offences were received during the month against the owners and/or drivers of all vehicles and were dealt with as under:—

Duty at Places of Amusement amounted to 10,483 hours.

The fires more particularly of note were:—

March 3, 8.32, Jardine's Eastern Wharf, Pootung, S.S. "Mirapore." Sections of Central and Hongkew Divisions.—This was an extremely obstinate fire, and apparently had been smouldering for some considerable time. The No. 3 hold, which contained a very large quantity of cotton, was well alight, and very shortly after arrival the No. 2 hold, which was also full of cotton, was found to be on fire. Every effort was made to locate the seat of the outbreak, with smoke helmets, but owing to the very dense smoke it was impossible, and flooding had to be resorted to. A store between the two holds, in a most inaccessible position, was also on fire, and it was not until a hole had been cut with an oxy-acetylene set that this was finally extinguished.

When these holds were eventually unloaded, a very large number of bales, even to the centre of the bottom layer, were found to be badly affected, thus showing combustion for a considerable time before breaking into flame. The Department was on duty at this fire for over 360 hours.

March 3, 20.00, 125/9 Chaotung Road, Printing Works. Sections of Central Division.—Three top floors were well alight in a very congested area, the roofs collapsing after arrival. Several firemen had very narrow escapes, two being slightly injured.

March 21, 3.33, off Dixwell Road, Chapei. Cotton Waste Factories. Sections of Hongkew Division.—A large cotton waste factory was a mass of flame, another well alight, and three semi-foreign dwellings were just catching when the Division arrived and laid on, confining the fire to where it was found.

March 25, 12.54, Soy Lun Silk Filature, Miller Road. Sections of Hongkew and Central Divisions.—A box of matches carried in the clothing of a female employee exploded and a severe panic ensued, nearly 2,000 employees (mostly females) rushing towards the main staircase (the one by which they usually entered), although there were four staircases leading from the filature down to the ground.

The staircase in question was one of 32 steps, with 6 inch rises and 12 inch treads and 9 feet between the balustrades, and from what eventually happened it is apparent that some of the employees fell approximately half-way down this flight and caused a jam, the pressure breaking the balustrade away on the South-east side, which led to further confusion and injuries by persons falling down into the yard below.

When the Brigade arrived, they had to practically fight their way through the crowds to get to the mass of women and children who were heaped up on the stairs and in the yard below. As soon as possible, first aid was rendered and the more serious cases conveyed on stretchers in Departmental machines to St. Luke's Hospital. This Hospital is intended for men only, but on this, as on a previous occasion, when a panic and fire occurred about a year ago, they did all in their power to give temporary relief until the Departmental machines could convey the injured to other Hospitals in the Settlement intended for females.

Incidents of this nature only emphasize the necessity for proper factory inspections and fire drill, and as an illustration of the benefit of this a few women in one section of the room, who were relatives of firemen in the Hongkew Division, when the panic started shouted to those around to keep still, the result being, the whole of their section escaped injury.

Thirty-one were detained in the various Hospitals, three succumbing to their injuries, whilst many more received minor injuries.

The following inspections were carried out by the Department during the month:—

1. Licences.
   - (a) Premises of Applicants for Licences 18
   - (b) Re-inspection of above 47
2. Licensed Premises.

   - (d) Godowns and Wharves 11
   - (e) Blocks of Chinese Houses and Private Houses 6
5. Public Buildings, Schools, Churches, Hospitals, Municipal Buildings 21
6. Pumping Connections 538
7. Miscellaneous Inspections 37
8. Storage of Hazardous Goods 21

Total 1,758

The above inspections revealed 180 breaches of the Licensing Conditions laid down by the Council and 178 letters were written with regard to Fire Installations.

In addition Hydrant Inspections were as follows:—

(a) Shanghai Waterworks	1,464
(b) Private installations	615
	2,079

147 Permits for the discharge and transport of dangerous and/or hazardous goods within the Settlement were granted.

Land Commission.

CASE No. 188

Wayside Road.—Cadastral Lot 2360—Eastern District—heard in the Council Chamber on Thursday, March 7, 1929, at 4 p.m.

PROCEEDINGS.

Mr. G. A. Johnson of Messrs. Lester, Johnson & Morriss appears for the registered owner, P. Piry (Estate); the Council is represented by Mr. J. R. Jones, Deputy Secretary, and Mr. C. Harpur, Commissioner of Public Works is in attendance.

Mr. Johnson states that this case has dragged on for some considerable time, and in fact goes back for some years owing partly to the Council not pressing for the surrender of the land, and partly through the extreme reluctance of the owner to have her property interfered with in any way. The Council now wishes Wayside Road to be constructed in spite of the owner's protests, and apart from the fact that the traffic passes mainly along the main road East and West, viz:—along Broadway East and Yangtzepoo Road and to a lesser extent along Muirhead Road. Wayside Road, compared with the main road directly East and West, is comparatively little used. Moreover it has been suggested in a former letter to the Council that Wayside Road already possesses a good outlet into Yangtzepoo Road, that a second outlet is unnecessary, and that by doing away with the useless triangular piece of ground to the South at the junction of Broadway East and Yangtzepoo Road which belongs to the Council, there would no longer be any congestion of traffic at the junction of these main roads and the Wayside Road outlet into these Roads.

These facts are emphasized as the owner does not wish to have her property interfered with, and does not require any better road frontages than the property already possesses. It is considered that, in any decision as to compensation, the fact that the owner is an unwilling seller must not be overlooked. It is the established practice in England that an owner who is compelled by Municipal Councils or other Public Bodies to surrender land, must be looked upon as an unwilling seller and additional compensation awarded in consequence of this fact.

With regard to the claim made, it must be pointed out that for several years past syndicates and individuals have cast eyes on this lot and have made enquiries and offers to purchase. Some of these intending purchasers require the lot for a cinema either with or without shops or godowns on the ground floor, for which the lot is eminently suited as it is an "island" site and already possesses road frontages on all sides. For this reason, any surrender of land from the lot is emphatically only for the benefit of the public and does not in any way benefit the property; in fact the Council itself once wished to purchase the lot but was informed that the owner was not a seller. During 1927 there was a particular rush of buyers and the following firm offers were received and refused:—Tls. 100,000 from the Eastern Cinema Company; Tls. 69,000 for the net area viz, after the owner had received compensation for the land to be surrendered, from Messrs. Marden & Co. Mr. Marden is willing to state that he was prepared to go to Tls. 80,000 for the net area and did, in fact, inform the Hongkong Bank that he would probably have to pay this amount for the lot. Thus, taking Messrs. Marden's figure of Tls. 80,000 for the net area after the surrender of land required by the Council, their offer for the land, (the buildings are not taken into account, as the lot was to be bought for re-development) would equal Tls. 96,566, made up as follows:—

Proposed offer for net area	80,000
Plus Council's offer of compensation for north portion to be surrendered	14,058
Plus compensation for south portion—Mow 0.152 at assessed value per mow of Tls. 15,000 plus 10 per cent. for compulsory surrender	2,508
	Tls. 96,566

This makes the value of the lot, with area as at present, equal to Tls. 28,000 per mow as against the Council's offer at the assessed value of Tls. 15,000 per mow less one-sixth for betterment plus 10 per cent.—an offer which the owner refused. Further, the offer of Tls. 100,000 for the present area, that is before the surrender of land required by the Council, works out at more than Tls. 28,000 per mow.

Mr. Johnson mentions that the Eastern Cinema Co., have purchased land on the corner of Muirhead and Ward Roads only some 100 yards away from the lot in question and have almost completed their cinema theatre which is ample proof that they were serious in their offer.

Mr. Johnson places his firm's redevelopment scheme before the Commissioners pointing out that it can be seen from the figures that the value of the land based on the net rentals (after deducting 25 per cent. for outgoings) and capitalized at 7 per cent. amounts to Tls. 48,300 per mow. If such re-development with Chinese shops and hongs is so remunerative, it is apparent that it would be an even more remunerative proposition if the lot were developed with a cinema or godowns. Such buildings could be carried to many stories in height owing to the great open space to the South. He points out that he has assessed the proposed shops at the same rentals as those opposite on Muirhead Road, but the hongs have been assessed at a lower rental than those on Muirhead Road owing to the somewhat awkward shape of some of the rooms.

With regard to the re-instatement of buildings and outhouses which must be removed and rebuilt, he informs the Commissioners that the owner is now getting a rental of Tls. 40 for the buildings which were once stables and are now let out as garages (4 garages at Tls. 10 per month each) and Tls. 10 per month for the small piece of vacant land adjoining which is used for the storage of charcoal. The total of all rentals is therefore Tls. 600 per annum. Naturally if these buildings have to be removed they cannot be re-erected in an exactly similar manner and a re-instatement scheme has been drawn up for erecting garages in place of the former building used for the same purpose, also for re-modelling the kitchen and outhouses of the owner's house, at a total cost of Tls. 5,122. This is the lower of two tenders received for carrying out the work, and the amount is claimed in addition to any amount awarded as compensation for land surrender.

In reply, Mr. Jones states that the Council is asking for the surrender of an area of Mow 1.080 required for Wayside Road scheduled from Cadastral Lot 2360 measuring Mow 3.477 belonging to the estate of the late Mr. P. Piry. The owner claims compensation at the rate of Tls. 30,000 per mow plus 10 per cent. for compulsory surrender and also payment for setting back and re-instatement of the buildings, walls and fences. The Council offers compensation at the rate of Tls. 15,000 per mow less 1/6th for betterment plus 10 per cent. for compulsory surrender plus the cost of re-instatement. The total sum offered by the Council is Tls. 14,058 calculated as follows:—

	Tls.	Tls.
Mow 1.080 at the assessed value of the lot, i.e., Tls. 15,000 per mow	16,200
Less one-sixth betterment	2,700	13,500
Less surplus road area Mow 0.048 at Tls. 15,000 per mow		720
		Tls. 12,780
Plus 10 per cent. for compulsory surrender		1,278
		Tls. 14,058

In order to obtain more direct access to Wayside Road instead of the present circuitous way, a road was scheduled through the Northern part of the property to a width of 50 feet in February 1919.

The Council has carried on intermittent negotiations since 1922, and at various times offers have been made for the acquisition of the scheduled area and also for the purchase of the entire property.

In 1922 the assessed value of the lot was Tls. 5,500 per mow or a total of Tls. 19,124 for the whole property. There were six two-storey dwelling houses with attics, servants' quarters and stables. They were built in 1889 and were valued as long ago as 1922 at about Tls. 14,500. In 1923 the lot was assessed at Tls. 7,000 per mow and in 1925 Tls. 11,000 per mow and the present increase to Tls. 15,000 is due as much to the improvement made by Municipal expenditure in the neighbourhood as to the increase in the value of land generally. In 1928 prominent land owners who desired to develop Cadastral Lots 2016 and 2020 opposite, requested the Council to acquire the area scheduled from Cadastral Lot 2360 in order to accelerate the urgently needed development of Wayside Road. In 1925 the Council acquired a portion of Cadastral Lot 2008 which resulted in making Cadastral Lot 2360 very nearly an island site, a factor which largely increased its assessed value in 1927. It is an equitable principle that persons whose property has clearly been increased in value by a particular improvement such as in this case, by the development of Wayside Road, should be required to pay a special charge assessed on such improved value and that there should be a generous set-off by way of betterment. The corner Lot 2008 was not only set back but developed with shops and the value of the land rose through the expenditure of money by the Council.

The result of the Council's activities has been to transform Cadastral Lot 2360 into a very valuable island site with three sides capable of the utmost development whereas previously only two sides could have been developed to any extent.

Messrs. Lester, Johnson & Morriss have spoken of an offer of Tls. 100,000 for the whole property which works out to about Tls. 30,000 per mow. No proof is produced of such an offer but it is stated to have been for the purpose of building a cinematograph theatre on the site. An offer such as this would not be made for the property if it were not an island site of such shape and size as to be ideal for such a purpose, and the owners of a cinema theatre would no doubt be anxious to surrender the road land and obtain the additional frontages to the new road. It is a fact, without a doubt, that such an offer would not have been made except on the assumption that the road would be constructed.

Messrs. Lester, Johnson & Morriss have produced a redevelopment scheme showing premises with high rentals on all three sides and premises of lower rentals in the interior of the island. It is evident that the higher rentals to be obtained on the prospective new road would be entirely due to the road widening and therefore indicate a clear betterment.

In the case of Cadastral Lot 2008 the owner agreed to a deduction of one-half for betterment in respect of that area which would provide additional road frontage and therefore the Council's claim for betterment in the present case to the extent of 1/6th is considered very reasonable; indeed the re-development scheme clearly shows that the betterment is considerably greater. It is unquestionable that in assessing Cadastral Lot 2360 at Tls. 15,000 per mow in 1927, the land Assessors must have taken into account the improvement resulting from the acquisition of property on the Northern side for the making of the road. It is therefore more difficult to understand the claim put forward by Mr. Johnson who was one of the Assessors in 1927, for an increase of 100 per cent. in the assessed value, particularly in view of the fact that after excision of the small area required, the value of the remainder of the property would be very greatly enhanced. Mr. Johnson is in fact basing his estimate of the value of the lot and has prepared his re-development scheme on the assumption that the road is completed.

With regard to the claim for re-instatement, it may be said that if the lot were to be re-developed, the existing buildings would be removed and no re-instatement costs would fall on the Council.

Mr. Johnson states that he intends to re-develop the property with new shops and hongs and as the old buildings were built in 1889 there does not seem to be any strong claim for re-instatement costs.

Mr. Jones states that the Council is prepared to pay the actual cost of re-instatement if and when the work is completed subject to tenders being first submitted for approval.

Discussions on the various points raised are heard, after which both parties retire and the Commissioners decide as follows:—

AWARD.

It is agreed between the parties that the question of re-instatement costs, and matters pertaining thereto, shall be decided between themselves, and not form part of this Arbitration.

Whereupon, and after due consideration, the Commissioners award that the Owner be compensated in the sum of Sh. Tls. 20,994.00

Municipal Investment Bank—Temporary Closure.—In view of the ratepayers' decision to dispose of the Electricity Department which relieves the Council of the necessity of floating loan issues in the immediate future, the Treasurer and Comptroller recommends that the operation of the Municipal Investment Bank be suspended until further notice, and that a notification to this effect be published forthwith in the public press and the "Municipal Gazette." In explanation he states that the Municipal Investment Bank was inaugurated as a medium for the placing of Municipal loans but since its function in this capacity is no longer required, he considers that no purpose would be served by retaining approximately 1,000 small accounts and paying interest thereon. For the reason that the Bank may be again required in future years, he has suggested that its operation be suspended; under this arrangement it functions could be resumed if required by the Council.

After hearing the Treasurer, members approve the issue of the necessary Municipal notification as drafted by him.

Volunteer Corps.

Field Artillery Battery (Hows.).—Major E. B. Macnaghten, C.M.G., D.S.O., is transferred to Headquarters.

Captain H. B. Lobb to command.

"A" Company.—The commission of Captain G. H. Mann, M.C., is renewed from March 24, 1929.

"B" Company.—2nd Lieut. F. G. Jones is promoted Lieutenant, dated April 28, 1929.

Russian Company.—2nd Lieut. A. L. Orlov resigns his commission.

ANNUAL INSPECTION.—The Report of Brigadier O. C. Borrett, C.B., C.M.G., C.B.E., D.S.O., A.D.C., Commander Shanghai Area, H. B. M. Forces in China, upon his recent inspection of the Corps, is appended, together with the letter of acknowledgment:—

Headquarters, Shanghai Area,
May 2, 1929.

SIR,—I have the honour to forward a report on the inspection of the Shanghai Volunteer Corps for the current year.

I was much struck with the efficiency of the Corps, and am of opinion that the Council may be well satisfied.

Although numbers have not been increased during the year, the addition of the Russian Detachment has added materially to the value of the Corps.

A serious matter for consideration is the range practice of the Artillery. I understand they will not be able to shoot this year or until the Chinese Authorities are prepared again to afford facilities.

I have the honour to be,
Sir,
Your obedient servant,
O. C. BORRETT,
Brigadier,
Commander Shanghai Area.

H. E. ARNHOLD, Esq.,
Chairman, Municipal Council.

REPORT.

General Remarks.—I am of opinion that the Corps is in an efficient condition and capable of carrying out any duties it may be called on to perform.

While a good spirit pervades each unit of the Corps, it is particularly noticeable in certain Troops and Companies in which it is recognized that soldiering need not invariably be treated with the utmost gravity.

2. Strength.—The number of all ranks who turned out for the Ceremonial Parade and for the detailed inspection was most creditable.

3. Ceremonial Parade. — The Corps was well turned out, was steady on parade, handled their arms and marched well. It was an imposing ceremonial which must have been a source of gratification to the Council and the many residents of Shanghai who witnessed it.

4. Equipment.—Generally good but would look better and last longer if Mills' Equipment Cleaner were provided.

5. Clothing.—Good with the exception of the Russian Detachment.

6. Arms.—Guns, automatic and rifles are in good order except that many rifles require minor repairs. These are repairable by a Regimental Armourer and should receive attention.

The Corps possesses no Drill Pattern Lewis Guns or Machine Guns. It is for consideration whether this is not a false economy, as the wear and tear on the service weapons during training is very considerable and may render them prematurely unserviceable.

7. Horses.—Serviceable and in good condition.

8. Automatics, Light Horse and American Troop.—A very useful adjunct.

9. Artillery.—Both Batteries are in very good order. The 4.5-in. Battery has adapted itself well to its new form of locomotion.

The 2.75-in. gun is obsolete and the question of future supplies of ammunition requires attention. It is an unsatisfactory weapon and should be replaced as occasion offers.

10. Armoured Car Company.—Very efficient. All the personnel should be armed with revolvers.

11. Lewis Guns. — A useful weapon which deserves more attention.

12. Musketry.—Satisfactory.

13. The Armoured Car Company has the only Machine Guns in the Corps.

I would suggest the raising of a Company of 16 Machine Guns. The increased fire power would be a great asset and compensate to a certain extent for lack of numbers.

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, May 9, 1929.

SIR,—I have the honour to acknowledge receipt of your letter of May 2, transmitting your Report on the Inspection of the Shanghai Volunteer Corps.

In reply, I have the honour to convey to you an expression of the Council's thanks for your kindness in carrying out the Inspection, and for your Report thereon, which will be of considerable value to the Commandant and the Council in maintaining and furthering the efficiency of the Corps.

I have the honour to be,
Sir,
Your obedient servant,
S. FESSENDEN,
Director General.

Brigadier O. C. BORRETT, C.B., C.M.G., C.B.E., D.S.O., A.D.C.,
Commander, Shanghai Area.

Excerpts from Minutes.

At the meeting of the Council held on Wednesday, May 1, 1929, at 4.30 p.m., there are present: Mr. H. E. Arnhold, Chairman, Brig-General E. B. Macnaghten, Vice-Chairman, Messrs. A. D. Bell, C. H. French, K. Fukushima, V. G. Lyman, P. W. Massey, G. W. Sheppard, Yu Ya Ching, L. T. Yuan, the Director General and the Secretary.

The Minutes of the meeting of April 3, and of the Special Meetings of April 12 and 13, are confirmed and signed.

The Minutes of the meetings of April 18 and 19, are read and confirmed and signed by the Chairman.

The Minutes of the meeting of the Finance Committee of March 27, are submitted and confirmed.

The Minutes of the meeting of the Works Committee of April 2, are submitted and confirmed.

The Minutes of the meetings of the Staff Committee of April 8 and and 11 are submitted and confirmed.

The Minutes of the meeting of the Chinese Education Committee of April 8, are submitted and confirmed.

Chief Executive Officer. — The Chairman reads a letter which he has addressed to the Heads of all Departments notifying the appointment of a senior executive official under the title of Director General, whose general powers and duties are those of Executive Head of the permanent staff and Deputy to the Chairman of Council. The Chairman's action is unanimously approved.

Constitution of Public Recreation Ground Committee.—Members are advised that Messrs. A. W. Burkill, A. M. Diniz and H. W. P. McMeekin have consented to serve on the above Committee for the current Municipal Year. Owing to his imminent departure from Shanghai Colonel Logan is unable to accept a seat on the Committee and it is decided to invite Mr. C. M. Bain to serve in this capacity. Mr. V. G. Lyman is re-elected to the Committee as the Council's representative.

Municipal Economy Committee's Report.—With regard to the undertaking given at the Ratepayers' Meeting that the incoming Council would give effect to the recommendations of the Municipal Economy Committee so far as possible and in order to avoid the misapprehension that no definite action to this end has been taken by the outgoing Council, a memorandum has been furnished to members detailing the recommendations of the Committee to which effect has already been given.

The Chairman considers that the section of the Committee's report dealing with Staff Salaries, allowances, etc. requires immediate attention and in his view the most expeditious means by which the recommendations under this heading can be given effect is the appointment of a Committee of five or six persons who have knowledge of the administration of large business concerns and are thoroughly conversant with local conditions, to study this question and submit definite recommendations to the Council.

A member suggests that it might be desirable to re-establish the Municipal Economy Committee, particularly in view of the fact that certain of its recommendations which conflict with the views of Heads of Departments may have to be referred back to that body. Members, however, generally agree that a small commission as suggested by the Chairman for the purpose of dealing with staff matters is likely to make more rapid progress so far as this particular section of the report is concerned. The Chairman alludes to the difficulties which were experienced by the Council last year in dealing with staff questions on account of the fact that the Municipal Economy Committee's recommendations were not available for comprehensive consideration. He therefore regards it as imperative that a policy should be formulated with regard to the staff question without delay. The Director General states that at the request of the Chairman he has drawn up a list of gentlemen whose services on such a Committee would be most valuable. The following names are subject to the Council's approval and to the willingness of these gentlemen to serve on the Committee.

Messrs. C. M. G. Burnie, A. C. Clear, P. S. Hopkins, W. P. Lambe, P. W. Massey and V. Meyer.

After brief discussion and in agreeing that the appointment of paid experts to deal with this section of the report is unnecessary, members approve of the above gentlemen being invited to serve on this Committee

Upon a member enquiring whether the above Committee will be in the nature of a permanent institution, the Chairman is of the view, and members concur, that when such Committee has completed its investigations and submitted its recomendations to the Council, its functions should cease

In reply to a member's enquiry as to whether an early investigation will be made as to the staffing of the various Departments, the Director General states that this question is closely allied to that of basis of salaries, etc., but will require to be dealt with independently. He will report further as to this at the next meeting.

In reply to a member's enquiry as to the necessity for the continuation of the Maternity Block of the Victoria Nursing Home which is dealing with very few cases, the Director General states that he anticipates that all such future cases can be accommodated in the Country Hospital which will enable closure of the Maternity Block at the Victoria Nursing Home at the end of the current month.

In reply to a members's proposal that consideration should be given and action taken on the section of the Committee's report dealing with the Medical Services, the Chairman states that the Commissioner of Public Health is already taking up with the authorities of the Country Hospital questions relative to the Nursing Staff. At a member's request the scale of fees in force at the Mokanshan Sanatorium which was recently revised will be submitted at the next meeting.

Waterworks Committee—Council's Representative on Board of Directors.—The Chairman states that he has received a request from the Chairman of the Board of Directors of this Company that Mr. Fessenden be re-elected to the Board as the Council's representative. Since continuity of service in this capacity is regarded as highly desirable, the nomination of Mr. Lyman and Mr. Fessenden for re-election to the Board is unanimously approved.

The Municipal Gazette for Friday, May 3, is submitted in proof and authorised for publication.

The meeting terminates at 5.30 p.m.

Public Gambling.

The attached correspondence relative to the suppression of public gambling in Shanghai is published for general information:—

Shanghai, May 2, 1929.

SIR,—I beg to refer to the several conversations we have had concerning the suppression of gambling in Shanghai, in so far as Mexican citizens may have been concerned. As you know, this matter has had my consideration for some time and as I have informed verbally, I have taken this matter up with the Mexican Government.

You will recall that a Mexican citizen was prosecuted and convicted last year on a charge of public gambling. This defendant contended that he was not carrying on public gambling within the meaning of the Mexican law, and to distinguish between what he called private gambling and public gambling he cited Greyhound and Pony Racing, which are advertised constantly and widely. You will doubtless recall that I decided against all of his contentions on the evidence that was set before me at the hearing. This defendant appealed the case on the above grounds, and I do not know yet whether my decision is right or wrong, or will be upheld.

I have just recently returned from Canton and I have several urgent matters which require attention and I cannot deal with this gambling question, which by the way is an old one, immediately. I wish you would, therefore, take this matter up with me after the Races, as I have several other important matters to settle that were delayed by my absence in Canton.

I have already outlined to you one recommendation in connection with the suppression of gambling and I would give my hearty support to any plan that has promise of really suppressing gambling in Shanghai.

Very respectfully yours,
N. F. ALLMAN,
Consul for Mexico.

P. S. Unfortunately I went to the American Court on an urgent matter this morning.

R. C. AIERS, Esq.,
Acting Director of Criminal Investigation,
Shanghai Municipal Police.

Shanghai Municipal Police,
Shanghai, May 4, 1929.

SIR,—I have the honour to acknowledge receipt of your letter of May 2 concerning the gambling at No. 5 Yates Road on premises in possession of a Mexican citizen, and note therefrom that urgent business precludes you from dealing with this gambling question for the present and in reply have to point out that I had complied with your verbal instructions and obtained witnesses who were prepared to swear an affidavit in your presence to the effect that they had visited No. 5 Yates Road and had gambled there also that various forms of gambling, including roulette was taking place daily.

As it is impossible to ask members of the public to continually do this kind of thing, I shall be glad if you will please let me know when you will be at liberty to take affidavits of witnesses to enable me to raid the premises so that Mexican law can be upheld and evidence in flagrante delicto secured.

In regard to your comments concerning the case against J. J. Alvarez, 151 Bubbling Well Road, in which an appeal is pending, I have to inform you that gambling is going on daily at this address and have to request, that in view of the fact that the appeal decision has been unduly delayed, you will grant an injunction restraining the present occupier from public gambling until final decision is received and failing compliance issue such writ to the Police as will enable them to seal the premises or at least stop this flouting of the law as indicated in your decision in the former case.

I have the honour to be,
Sir,
Your obedient servant,
R. C. AIERS,
Acting Director of Criminal Investigation.

N. F. ALLMAN, Esq.,
Consul for Mexico.

Shanghai, May 14, 1929.

SIR,—With reference to your letter of May 4th, 1929, concerning alleged gambling at No. 5 Yates Road, I beg to uniform you that if the police are prepared to undertake the prosecution of any Mexican citizen who is found to be conducting gambling, that this office will endeavour to arrange to have members of the public who frequent these places subpoenaed as witnesses. I do not see that the convenience of the members of the public need be considered, such members of the public are equally guilty with the conductor and if you have the names of the members of the public who frequent gambling places, and this place in particular I see no reason why these should not be summoned to testify if the Police have sufficient evidence to prosecute, and will undertake the prosecution.

I have the honour to be,
Yours obedient servant,
N. F. ALLMAN,
Consul for Mexico.

The Acting Director of Criminal Investigation.
Shanghai Municipal Police.

Shanghai, May 14, 1929.

SIR,—With reference to the suppression of gambling in Shanghai, I beg to refer to our previous conversation concerning the possible solution to this question. I have already made certain suggestions concerning this matter, so far as Mexican citizens are alleged to be concerned, and I desire to make further recommendations to the Mexican Government, so far as Mexican citizens may be concerned, and in order that I may make as complete recommendations as possible, I have the honour to request that you kindly inform me what, if any, steps or measures have been taken to deal with or suppress gambling in connection with Horse and Dog Racing. Possibly the same solution might be applied to the form of gambling which you state is going on at No. 5 Yates Road. Unfortunately the Maximum penalty for gambling under Mexican law is comparatively mild and prosecutions which are necessarily expensive, difficult and require a lot of time, do not seem an adequate deterrent.

I, therefore, wonder if some other plan for the suppression of gambling in general might not be put into effect and will therefore, be glad to know how the Police have dealt with the other forms of gambling named above.

I have the honour to be,
Yours obedient servant,
N. F. ALLMAN,
Consul for Mexico.

The Acting Director of Criminal Investigation,
Shanghai Municipal Police.

Crime.—There is an appreciable improvement in the statistics for crimes of violence for the month in comparison with the figures for March 1929 and April 1928. There is a 25.6 per cent. reduction on the figures for April 1928 and 22.3 per cent. on those for last month. While this improvement is in itself satisfactory the number of crimes committed by armed men is still far too high.

Warning.—With the approach of warmer weather a word of warning to those who favour motoring after dark on roads beyond Settlement limits, and especially the less frequented ones, may not be out of place.

It is known to the police that a number of evil-disposed persons living in these localities have in recent years joined themselves into gangs with the express purpose of holding up foreigners who stop their cars, with lights extinguished, in lonely places on the mud roads in the Western district.

Unfortunately many such cases occur without the police being informed so that preventive measures are thereby rendered the more difficult.

Members of the public who have the misfortune to meet with unpleasant experiences of this nature are urged, in the public interest, to assist the police by reporting the circumstances at the earliest possible moment.

Murder and Attempted Murder.—During the month three murders were committed in the Settlement. Brief details of these crimes are as follows:—

On April 4 a coolie in the employ of the Yoong Yui Bank when returning from the Bank of China with $7,000 was held up by an armed man, robbed of the money and shot dead. The robber was captured with the money in his possession and was wounded by the police while resisting arrest. A Chinese constable was also slightly wounded. On April 26 a Chinese was shot dead on Chekiang Road by unknown assailants. The dead man has not been identified and the motive for the crime is unknown. On April 27 a Chinese pedestrian was shot dead on Seward Road by armed robbers who were being pursued by the police.

Five attempted murders were also recorded and eight persons were arrested for these and similar crimes previously committed.

Armed Abduction.—Five reports under this heading were received during the month. On April 1 a Chinese, an ex-official of the Anhui Ministry, was abducted in the Sinza district and released by the French Police on April 15 in the course of a raid. On April 3 a Chinese merchant was abducted outside his residence and driven off in his own motor car which was recovered the following day. Twelve days later he returned home and reported having escaped while his guards were asleep. It is suspected, however, that he obtained his release on acceding to his abductors' demands. On April 4 a Chinese was abducted on Haining Road. Three weeks later he escaped while his guards were asleep. The premises were searched and three pistols and a quantity of ammunition found. On April 8 a Chinese clerk was abducted from his private ricsha and driven away in a motor car. On April 18 a retired dye merchant was abducted on Tientsin Road.

One attempted abduction was reported during the month. On April 28 four men seized the Vice President of Financial Affairs of Kadoorie as he alighted from a motor bus. He resisted and ran off while his assailants escaped in a waiting motor car after firing two shots at him.

A Chinese who was abducted on March 20 was released on April 14 during a raid by the French Police. A young boy who was abducted from Hangchow on February 1 and brought to Shanghai was rescued as the result of raids made by the Municipal Police.

Of twenty-three persons arrested in connection with armed abduction, three were handed over to the Chinese Authorities and the remainder are awaiting trial.

Of forty-five persons on remand at the end of March charged with armed abduction, three were sentenced to death, three to imprisonment, one fined $160, one handed over to the French Police, fifteen released and twenty-two are on remand.

The case against three men charged with armed abduction and sentenced to life imprisonment was retried by order of the Kiangsu Provincial Government and the Nanking Authorities when the prisoners were sentenced to death.

The sentence of two Chinese charged with extortion and abduction was increased by the Appeal Court Judges from four and a half to thirteen years imprisonment.

The sentence of one year passed on a Chinese charged with abduction was also increased to twelve years after a rehearing by the Appeal Court.

Armed Robbery. — Fifty-seven cases of armed robbery from premises and thirteen on the highway were received during the month, a decrease of twenty for the preceding month and a decrease of twenty on the number recorded in April 1928. Three cases of attempted armed robbery were also reported. Shots were fired by the robbers in five instances with the result that a pedestrian was killed and four sustained injuries. Several instances were noted during the month in which a gang of four men entered dwelling houses and held up the occupants, usually more than ten in number and remained on the premises for over three hours without any attempt being made to raise an alarm.

Seventy-two persons were arrested for being members of armed gangs. Two persons were shot dead when resisting arrest. Among the persons arrested two were found to bear bullet marks on their arms and hands and it was ascertained that they received their wounds in an encounter with the police on February 27 during which one of their accomplices was shot down and severely wounded.

Two ex-employees of a local factory, arrested during the month and at present under remand on three charges of armed robbery, admitted that when their Union at Pootung was dissolved some months ago, certain pistols, formerly the property of the Union, came into the hands of ex-members and are now being used in the commission of armed robberies, etc.

One of the main criticisms of the Provisional Court is that crimes of violence meet with heavier penalties and speedier justice in Chinese territory than in the Settlement. A case in point occurred in connection with the arrest of two men concerned in armed highway robbery on Sinza Road; while these men were in custody it was ascertained that one of them was wanted by the Chinese Authorities, and on application being made to the Provisional Court the man was handed over on February 18. He was found guilty of being concerned in an armed robbery at a silk filature in Chapei, sentenced to death and executed on March 30. His companion convicted on three charges of armed robbery by the Provisional Court was more fortunate in being sentenced to nine and a half years imprisonment.

Piracy.—Thirteen arrests were made in this connection during the month. Three men were stopped and searched on the Garden Bridge and found to be in possession of 100 rounds of ammunition concealed in boxes of raisins. This led to the arrest of ten others who were already on board the s.s. "Lushan Maru." All were subsequently charged with being members of a gang of pirates and the case is still pending.

Trafficking in Firearms.—Five persons were arrested during the month, of whom two Japanese and one British subject were sentenced to imprisonment. Two Chinese are still on remand.

Possession of Firearms and Ammunition. Two persons were arrested for this offence during the month. One, a riesha coolie, when pulling a riesha was found to have two pistols and a quantity of ammunition concealed in his belt.

An idea of the difficulties which confront the Municipal Police in the suppression of armed desperadoes may be gleaned from the fact that in two recent searches of vessel by the Customs Authorities 132 pistols and 16,300 rounds of ammunition were seized. Smuggled munitions which escape the vigilance of the authorities inevitably find their way into the hands of desperate criminals and there is little doubt that such supplies are greater than the demand and a lucrative source of income to unscrupulous foreigners and Chinese.

Executions.—Three persons sentenced to death on charges of murder and one on a charge of kidnapping were handed over to the Chinese Authorities and executed during the month. The convicted murderers were strangled and the kidnapper shot.

Property stolen. — During the month 453 reports of property stolen were received, representing an estimated loss of $198, 291.91. These are comprised as follows:—24 cases of burglary, 26 of house breaking, 7 of garage and godownbreaking, 5 of shop and office breaking, 14 of fraud, 11 of embezzlement, 1 of shoplifting and 365 of larceny. As compared with the corresponding month of 1928 this is an increase of 42 cases. Successful investigations were made in 289 cases resulting in the recovery of property valued at $18,338.89. Included in these figures are 86 arrests for pocket picking and snatching, 68 being persons identified as old offenders.

FINGER PRINT BUREAU.

During the month of April 1929 the total number of records received by this Bureau for identification was 1,726. This shows an increase of 275 compared with last month and an increase of 107 from the corresponding month of last year.

The total number of Chinese prisoners' records from Stations was 1,186 from which number 297 identifications were made. Of the prisoners thus identified 24 per cent. had been previously released under the mark system of remission of sentence.

POLITICAL.

Military Situation.—The civil war in the Yangtze Valley which broke out towards the end of March between the forces of the Central Government and those of the Wuhan faction was brought to a speedy conclusion by the victory of General Chiang Kai-shek's forces over Wuhan and resulted in Nanking extending its control up to the Gorges and well into Hunan.

The disturbed conditions in the Yangtze Valley were reflected locally in the usual commandeering of more ships, the transfer of of several big consignments of guns, arms and munitions from Kiangnan Arsenal to Nanking and the arrival of a small batch of Wuhan prisoners of war.

The wireless broadcasting and receiving sets belonging to the 4th Group Army (General Li Chungjen), taken charge of by the Municipal Police on March 30, to prevent a breach of the Settlement's neutrality, were handed over to the Chinese Military Authorities on April 24 following negotiations through the usual diplomatic channels.

Political Situation.—Following his victory over Wuhan, General Chiang Kai-shek issued a lengthy manifesto in Hankow declaring that as soon as the situation had become stabilized he would return to Nanking, resign his office and go abroad and study and rest. In suecession to the recent Third National Congress, the Third Central Executive Committee which was appointed by that body, took over the guidance of the party and people. With the object of further consolidating the position of the present leaders in Nanking, this committee issued a new order relating to party discipline according to which criticism of fellow members before non-party members, organization of cliques among party members, and disobedience of orders and resolutions from their superior party headquarters are strictly forbidden and punished. On April 11 the new Executive Committee passed a resolution against the leading local newspaper "The North-China Daily News" that it be barred from mail transmission privileges for alleged unfavourable criticism of the Kuomintang and the Central Government, and that the Ministry for Foreign Affairs be instructed to negotiate with the American Minister (in Peiping) to call on Mr. George Sokolsky, a correspondent of this paper, to leave the country.

Meetings and lectures under the auspices of Chinese officials and Kuomintang were held in Chinese controlled territory in commemoration of the 2nd anniversary of the elimination of Communists from the Kuomintang on April 12, and in celebration of the 2nd anniversary of the establishment of the Nationalist Government at Nanking and the recent military successes in Hupeh on April 18. Lectures on the advantages of the People's Three Principles delivered in the offices of the local Kuomintang Headquarters from April 22 to April 27 were but poorly attended. Members of the local Kuomintang conducted an open air lecturing campaign against the Kuangsi faction in Chinese controlled territory from April 5 to April 8.

In compliance with an order from the Central Political Council at Nanking for cessation of the Anti-Japanese movement, the local Kuomintang Headquarters on April 7 converted the Anti-Japanese Association into the National Salvation Society. Since the inception of the anti-Japanese movement this association has had its headquarters in rooms in the Chinese General Chamber of Commerce and for several months past its activities have been looked upon with great disapproval by local Chinese merchants of good standing. The Chamber of Commerce was therefore quick to take advantage of the opportunity afforded by the successful conclusion of the Sino-Japanese negotiations to give it notice to move elsewhere. The request to vacate was ignored with the result that the Chamber on April 24 suspended business and closed its gates against the intruders. On this date, however, about a hundred members of the ousted association appeared before the main gate of the Chamber of Commerce on North Soochow Road, and, on admittance being denied them, several of their number climbed the main gate, pushed aside the two armed watchmen who offered little or no resistance and opened the small side gate whereupon their followers entered and took possession. The intruders broke several window panes and damaged four rifles in addition to which three Chamber employes were assaulted but not to any serious degree. After being on the premises for over an hour, the invaders departed quietly in small groups. During this display of rowdyism posters advocating the overthrow and killing of Mr. Feng Shao-shan, Chairman of the Chamber, and dissolution of the "reactionary" General Chamber of Commerce made their appearance on the wall outside the main gate. Four persons arrested on North Soochow Road by the Municipal Police for inciting people to break down the gate were subsequently released with a caution. The gates of the Chamber had not reopened at the end of the month. Meanwhile the dispute has been referred to Nanking, and, as usual, the local Kuomintang under whose wing the anti-Japanese Society carried out its activities, have seen to it that the Chamber is denied the channels of the Chinese press to air its side of the affair.

Communism.—Local Communists made an attempt to exploit the recent Nanking-Wuhan hostilities to vent their wrath and denunciations against the neo-militarists. Particular attention was paid to Chiang Kai-shek who was described as a running dog of the American imperialists and several handbills and slogans advocated that he and all other Kuomintang members be assassinated. This criminal propaganda surreptitiously disseminated either by hand-bills or slogans chalked on walls appeared frequently throughout the month in the Settlements and in Chinese controlled territory. The Communist army under the notorious Chu Te after invading Fokien was successfully routed by Nationalist marines at Tingchowfu and Shanghang, and forced to flee into the mountains of Kiangsi, from where they continue their depredations.

The Municipal Police carried out a number of searches and raids on premises suspected of being used by Communists as meeting places. These included four Chinese educational institutions, in one of which a number of books on communism were found and subsequently destroyed by order of the Provisional Court.

An unemployed Chinese, who was arrested by the Municipal Police for having in his possession a quantity of communistic pamphlets entitled "The Red Flag," was on April 26 sentenced to three months' imprisonment by the Provisional Court.

Anti-foreign movement.—Agitators endeavoured during the month to arouse anti-foreign feeling by means of a cheap sale of towels bearing the inscription "May 30 Bloodshed" and by the publication of reports of an alleged conspiracy between the Kuangsi clique and British imperialists.

Anti-Japanese Boycott.—Following the settlement of the Tsinan Incident on March 28, the boycott of Japanese goods rapidly decreased and by the end of the month had completely ceased. However, despite the publication by Nanking of orders for the cessation of the movement, some of the diehards in the local Kuomintang carried on with it to such an extent that the Japanese Authorities were compelled to lodge a protest with the Central Government. The so-called inspectors of the anti-Japanese Association continued activities in Chinese controlled territory until April 7, when this association was converted into the People's National Salvation Association. Commenting on the settlement of the Tsinan Incident, the "Minkuopao," a Kuomintang organ, stated that the result of the negotiations was a serious disgrace and humiliation to China and advised the people to carry on the anti-Japanese movement.

Labour.—There were in April ten strikes of which eight affected the Settlement. Of these the most important was that at the Sun Sun Company (900 hands). This dispute which resulted in the closing down of this departmental store on February 17, 1929, is still the subject of litigation in the Provisional Court, but as a result of a provisional agreement reached between the parties to the suit, the store reopened on April 3, since when business has been conducted in a normal way.

Labour statistics for the month are as follows:—

Area	No. of strikes	No. of hands	No. of working days lost
Settlement	8	2,517	12,801
Chinese controlled territory	2	150	210
	10	2,667	13,011

Rice.—The average price of Chinese rice for the month of April was $12.34 per picul as compared with $12.00 per picul in the corresponding month of 1928.

Traffic.—Court proceedings were instituted in 332 (36 foreigners and 296 Chinese) of 1,842 reports of traffic offences received during the month against the owners and/or drivers of vehicles. The remainder were dealt with by letter of warning or entry of caution on their records. Owing to the laying of electrical cables on Ward Road between Chusan Road and Muirhead Road, Omnibuses were diverted along Yangtszepoo, Baikal and Paoting Roads.

Public Health Report for April.

Cerebrospinal Fever which was prevalent in March became epidemic and Shanghai was declared an infected port. Epidemicity is defined conventionally in the Sanitary Regulations for the Port of Shanghai as the occurrence of an average daily number of three new cases for one week. The number of cases rose steadily till the twentieth day of the month, after which it gradually fell.

Among the Foreign resident population, there were altogether 24 new cases; of these 12 were Japanese, 4 Indian, 3 British, 2 Russian, 1 American, 1 Persian and 1 Portuguese. There were 17 deaths including 7 among cases which occurred in March. The average age of the cases was 17 years.

Among the Chinese 235 cases were notified, 190 among residents and 45 among non-residents. The majority of these cases were treated in the Municipal Chinese Isolation Hospital. The total number of deaths recorded among resident Chinese was 154. The average age of cases notified among the Chinese was 19 years.

As far back as April last year there were rumours of a "mysterious infectious disease" in the province of Chekiang, along the estuary of the Chientang River and Hangchow Bay.

The symptoms were said to resemble those of influenza and malaria, and death frequently occurred within a few days.

This disease seems to have continued moderately, in the same neighbourhood, during the summer, and to have become more prevalent again in the autumn, so that in October it was reported that more than 3,000 people were ill and more than 1,000 had died.

Early in March this year it was reported that the same disease had again broken out on the coast, about 25 miles S. E. of Shanghai.

It gradually spread over the eastern corners of Chekiang and Kiangsu, including Shanghai and the surrounding districts, and along the Shanghai-Hangchow and the Shanghai-Nanking Railways. In the middle of April cases were reported in Nanking.

This spread of the disease along lines of travel, the inland waterways and the railways, is in accordance with our knowledge of its mode of transmission, direct from person to person.

A dramatic description of the disease was given by a Chinese in a letter to the Medical Superintendent of the Lester Chinese Hospital, by whose courtesy I am able to quote the following extract. "First a fever like Malaria, then cold for half a day or one day, then the fever returns with much increased intensity. The face becomes green and the lips black. The body is very hot like charcoal burning, with a peculiar kind of perspiration, like beads, which do not run together, so we think it is sticky. After perspiration the fever becomes more serious, and there is vomiting and diarrhoea once or twice. Meanwhile the patient becomes unconscious with locked jaws and open eyes, and after convulsions dies. Sometimes the patient revives again, but still dies after a little while."

No case of Smallpox occurred among resident Foreigners, but two cases among non-residents were admitted to the Municipal Isolation Hospital, one from the French Concession and one from Nanking. Among resident Chinese, 17 deaths were recorded.

An impressive little book has recently been written by Dr. Wanklyn, the Medical Consultant (Smallpox) to the London and other County Councils. It is called "To Whom it may Concern. A Popular Address about Smallpox and Vaccination."

Anyone who is still sceptical about the value of Vaccination as the sole and safe preventive measure against this terrible disease—"this revolting, costly, destructive and easily preventable heritage of barbarism"—would do well to read this book.

Free Vaccination was carried on assiduously at all the Branch Health Offices, and altogether 15,597 Chinese, of whom about 90 per cent. were infants and young children, and 38 Foreigners were vaccinated during the month.

Here follow Tables of Vital Statistics, Communicable Diseases and of the work of the Food, Dairies and Markets Division, Sanitation Division, Tuberculosis and Venereal Diseases Clinics and Municipal Laboratories, Hospitals and Slaughterhouse.

Commissioner of Public Health.

LABORATORY REPORT ON WATER

Sample of Shanghai Waterworks Water

Sample received April 19, 1929

Report sent out May 3, 1929

Physical Characters.—Faint yellowish green colour with very slight opacity. Faintly alkaline reaction to litmus.

Chemical Examination.

	Parts per 100,000
Solid matter in Solution	16.00
Appearance on ignition :	No charring
*Total Hardness :	10.0
(a) Carbonated (Temporary)	8.5
(b) Non-Carbonated (Permanent)	1.5
Chlorine in Chlorides	3.90
Nitrogen as Nitrates	0.0989
Saline Ammonia	0.0050
Albuminoid Ammonia	0.0082
Poisonous Metals	Nil
Nitrites	Nil
Phosphates	Minute traces
Sulphates	Traces
Oxygen absorbed in 1 hour at 37° C.	0.0580

*Hardness determinations are by acid and alkali: not by soap method.

A slight increase in chlorides was noticed between April 12th and April 15th after which date the figures have been normal. Free chlorine has varied between 0.03 and 0.2 parts per million in samples taken from the laboratory and between 0.00 and 0.20 in samples taken from other points. Nitrites have been absent. Saline ammonia figures are again normal.

Bacteriological Examination.—22 samples of Shanghai Waterworks Water were examined during the month. Of these 4 were taken from the mains and 18 from service taps in various parts of the settlement. In one sample of tap water B. coli communis was present to the extent of 10 per litre, whilst another sample of tap water contained 25 coliform organisms per litre; all of which belonged to the B. coli group. In these two samples there was therefore evidence of slight bacterial contamination of local causation.

These results show the water to be on the whole of a satisfactory standard.

Report on Analysis.—Results of analyses show satisfactory purification.

Duty at Places of Amusement amounted to 9,238 hours.

The fires more particularly of note during the month were:—

April 15, 23.17. 3/4 Lloyd Road. General Store, etc.—Sections of Central Division.—This was an exceedingly late call, and unfortunately attended with heavy loss of life, six persons losing their lives. A large glare was sighted en route, and a block of premises immediately behind the shops at the corner of Lloyd and Nanking Roads was a mass of flame, as well as the backs of seven adjacent houses. The fire was attacked from all sides, but the original block was destroyed, and seven shops and houses damaged at the rear.

April 16, 5.45. 187/190 N. Thibet Road. Piece Goods Shop.—Sections of Sinza Division.—This was a Watch Tower call, and almost immediately after leaving the Station it was plainly visible. On arrival it was found to be a large piece goods shop well alight, whilst the shops on either side were already involved. The original premises were badly damaged, and the adjoining shops slightly affected.

It is a peculiar coincidence that these premises were the scene of a fire on March 27, more particularly as there was also an outbreak in the adjoining shops on the 26th, when three were badly affected on the first floor.

April 24, 1.10. Fortune Terrace, Chapei.—Sections of Hongkew Division.—Three semi-foreign houses were well alight about 200 yards in Chapei, and Hongkew Division laid on. During operations the body of a foreigner was found in an attic. Artificial respiration was resorted to, and he was conveyed to the General Hospital and there certified dead.

April 25, 00.24. L.A. 2758 Yangtszepoo Road. Dwelling.—Sections of Yangtszepoo Division.—This was a very small fire, being only bedding, but was attended with casualities. Two females died in Hospital from burns and shock, after being conveyed there by the Brigade Rescue Van, whilst three other persons received minor burns.

I also have to report that two malicious false alarms were received during the month. One of these was to a cinema, and might have resulted in a severe panic, as the place was crowded at the time.

The following inspections were carried out by the Department during the month:—

1. Licences.
   - (a) Premises of Applicants for Licences 55
   - (b) Re-inspection of above 46
2. Licensed Premises.
   - (a) Theatres, Cinemas and Places of Amusement 602
   - (b) Garages and Repair Shops 30
   - (c) Hotels, Lodging Houses, Restaurants, Tea Shops, Food Shops, etc. 29
3. Buildings under construction 241
4. Completed Buildings.—
   - (a) Offices, Banks and Exchanges 6
   - (b) Stores (Foreign and Chinese) —
   - (c) Factories, Mills, Filatures, Cold Storages, Foundries, etc. 34
   - (d) Godowns and Wharves 15
   - (e) Blocks of Chinese Houses and Private Houses 18
5. Public Buildings, Schools, Churches, Hospitals, Municipal Buildings. 39
6. Pumping Connections. 415
7. Miscellaneous Inspections. 13
8. Storage of Hazardous Goods 38

Total 1,581

The above inspections revealed 212 breaches of the Licensing Conditions laid down by the Council and 177 letters were written with regard to Fire Installations.

In addition, Hydrant Inspections were as follows:—

- (a) Shanghai Waterworks 1,672
- (b) Private installations 627

Total 2,299

153 Permits for the discharge and transport of dangerous and/or hazardous goods within the Settlement were granted.

J. GORDON DYSON,
Chief Officer.

THE LESTER TRUST.

Lester Trustees.—Since the date of the last report, Mr. G. Morriss has returned from England and Mr. L. J. Cubitt has gone home on leave; the Trustees remain as last reported.

Assets in United Kingdom, U.S.A. and Canada.—All these assets have been realized and the proceeds, including all Income received, have been invested in British 5 per cent. War Loan as shown in Schedule 5 attached to the accounts. The profit on sale of the original investments has been credited to the Residuary Estate Capital Account. The funds now invested in London will be available for use partly as the nucleus of a superannuation fund for employees of the Lester Institutes and partly to pay for materials for the Institutes, to be purchased in England.

Residuary Estate Capital Account.—The sum now shown (Tls. 15,628.-310.90) represents the final residuary value of the estate after realizing all assets abroad and adding all surplus income received up to the date of the Balance Sheet.

Henry Lester Scholarships.—As the result of an application to H. B. M. Supreme Court a decision was obtained in May, 1928, under which the Trustees were permitted to award a maximum of eight scholarships instead of six, each tenable for four years. The first examination took place on October 16, 17 and 18, 1928, under the management of the Scholarships Committee when the first two scholarships were awarded to:—

Phiroze Tata, Public School for Boys.

Doris von Tanner, Public School for Girls.

The Henry Lester Institute and Lester School.—The Advisory Committees appointed in 1927, having reported fully to the Trustees, ceased to function during the past year.

Medical Research Institute.—Dr. H. G. Earle, General Adviser to the Trustees, proceeded to Europe (viâ Australia by invitation from the Australian National Research Council) for the purpose of investigating and reporting upon similar institutions and their work. Following his report, definite plans are being worked upon with a view to commencing the building and equipment of the institute in the near future. As a result of an application to H. B. M. Supreme Court, permission was obtained to abandon the Chekiang Road site as being unsuitable for the purposes of the Medical Research Institute and to purchase another site in place thereof: the Chekiang Road site is now being developed with a rebuilding scheme as an endowment for the Lester Institutes and a new site has been purchased for the Medical Research Institute. Negotiations are in progress with the Trustees of the Lester Chinese Hospital to found a Clinical Research Unit in the Hospital for the purposes of the Medical Research Institute and if these negotiations prove successful, the permission of H. B. M. Court will be sought to sanction this scheme.

Technical Institute.—In order to explore all modern methods of organizing and conducting an Institute for Technical education including "civil engineering, architecture and other useful and scientific knowledge" (as mentioned in Clause 15 of the Will) the Lester Trustees invited Professor W. Brown of Hongkong University to proceed to Europe, America, etc. to study and report upon methods there employed. As a result of the application to H. B. M. Supreme Court above referred to it had already been decided that the proposed Technical Institute might be built on the same site as the proposed Lester School and as far as possible attached to that School for purposes of economical and efficient management. As a result of Professor Brown's report, the Trustees are of opinion that the greatest difficulty will be to bring modern and efficient methods into line with purely local requirements, and they have therefore invited Professor Brown to visit Shanghai with a view to studying such local requirements, and are deferring further action connected with the proposed Technical Institute until they have received Professor Brown's next report.

Lester School.—The future organization and management of this School being to some extent bound up with the proposed Technical Institute, final plans for its building and organization have been deferred until the more difficult questions connected with the Technical Institute have been disposed of.

We have audited the above Balance Sheet, in which are incorporated the London audited accounts, with the books, accounts and vouchers and have received all the information and explanations we have required.

The accounts have been drawn up on a Cash basis, outstanding interest and rents not having been taken into account. We have inspected the Title Deeds, Securities, etc. or seen certificates from the Hongkong & Shanghai Banking Corporation for them, with the exception of the British War Stock held in London, which has been certified by the Bank of England.

Subject to the foregoing, the above Balance Sheet is in our opinion properly drawn up so as to exhibit a true and correct view of the Lester Trust affairs, according to the best of our information and the explanations given to us and as shown by the books and accounts.

Deductions hold good in respect of children of the same family attending any of the Council's schools for foreign children.

Children of non-resident parents, unless already in attendance at the schools, will not be admitted. Non-residence implies residence in Shanghai of less than six months. Special consideration will, however, be given to applications of new comers who can furnish proof of their intention to reside in Shanghai.

Forms of admission for new pupils may be obtained on written application to the Heads of the respective schools and should be presented by the new pupils when attending at the Schools for examination and classification on Friday, September 6, between 9 a.m. and 12 noon.

Heads of Schools will be pleased to interview parents on Wednesdays between the hours of 2 and 3 p.m. on matters affecting the welfare of their children.

The Cinema at the Public School for Boys will be in operation during the year and the Headmaster takes this opportunity of inviting parents to see for themselves the value of the Cinema as an aid to education.

Payment of Dues.

Attention is directed to the ruling of the Council that all school fees are payable in advance. Parents are accordingly requested to pay their children's fees on the days noted below, when the division of each school for purposes of fees collection will be as follows:—

Public School for Boys:—

1st School day in the month 8.30 a.m. Forms VI, V, IV.
2nd School day in the month 8.30 a.m. Forms III, II.
3rd School day in the month 8.30 a.m. Forms I, Preparatory and new pupils.

Thomas Hanbury School for Girls:—

1st School day in the month 1.30 p.m. Forms VI and V.

3rd School day in the month 1.30 p.m. Forms II and I.
4th School day in the month 9 a.m. Kindergarten, Transition, and new pupils.

Parents are specially requested to ensure prompt payment of fees on the first four days of each month in accordance with the scheme outlined above, as the payment of fees by children at unauthorised times throughout the month seriously embarrasses class work in the Schools. Accordingly, pupils whose fees remain unpaid after the period of fees collection outlined above are liable to be debarred from further attendance.

The attention of parents is drawn to the following:—

(a) In the case of two or more children of one family attending separate Council Schools the fees for each child should be paid to the school at which the child attends.

(b) The Council disapproves the practice of young children personally conveying money for fees to school, and would prefer that fees be paid by cheque, chit book, or registered post. However, it would appear that this matter is one for the parents' own decision and responsibility, and is accordingly beyond the Council's control.

(c) Parents are reminded that on all occasions before a child is withdrawn from a Council School a month's notice must be given in writing to the Headmaster or the Headmistress. Non-compliance with this rule renders parents liable to a charge of a month's fee in default. The withdrawal of a child from school at the end of a term does not negative this Rule.

By order,
S. M. EDWARDS,
Secretary.

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, June 27, 1929.

CRIME.

Relation between gambling and crime.—Several murders have been committed in the Settlement recently in which the victims were well-known loafers or men of considerable influence among the gambling fraternity. It is possible that these murders have resulted from quarrels between rival gangs and that the quarrels have had some relation to the campaign against gambling which the police have been conducting for the last few months. There is little doubt that gambling losses frequently result in fights between gangs of professional gamblers or in more serious crimes wherein persons who have lost heavily look to other methods to recoup their losses. This view is shared by a number of prominent members of the Chinese community, and, while it can only be an opinion, the fact remains that serious crime has been reduced to an appreciable extent although it is still far too prevalent. It is known that the persons interested in gambling both among foreigners and Chinese are well supplied with funds and the police are fully aware that in attempting to deal with this problem long and sustained efforts will be required before it can be said to be eradicated.

During the month raids were made on nine gambling houses and 284 persons were arrested and charged with public gambling. The Judges of the Provisional Court took a serious view of the present state of affairs and fines ranging from $15 to $400 were inflicted while those conducting the gambling were sentenced to terms of imprisonment.

For reasons which are well-known and which can hardly be stated in this report, efforts to deal with the gambling houses frequented by foreigners in the Settlement have for some time been of no avail. With a view to exploring every avenue in its efforts to put a stop to this gambling, the Council decided to take steps against the actual frequenters of these gambling dens and in accordance with this policy barricades were erected on the night of May 25/26 outside the exits from No. 151-C Bubbling Well Road and the names and addresses of 184 foreigners and 55 Chinese who left the premises were taken with a view to prosecution where possible.

The Council's efforts to restrict Greyhound racing and the gambling attendant thereon have already been made public. In connection therewith it is necessary to invite public attention to the practice followed by Greyhound Racing Clubs in the Settlements and Chinese Race Clubs operating outside the Settlement of issuing large numbers of complimentary admission tickets to the public. Small Chinese boys have been found selling these tickets for 20 cents each outside the entrances to one of these clubs. As a recent charity ball prizes given to patrons consisted of complimentary admission tickets to Greyhound Racing Courses in the Settlement. Various garages also issue tickets to their patrons as an inducement to use their cars. Such a practice cannot but be considered an invitation to gamble, as, if sport were alone the object, the issue of complimentary tickets would be superfluous.

Murder and Attempted Murder.—During the month ten murders were committed in the Settlement. Brief details of these crimes are as follow:—

On May 8, a male Chinese was attacked by three men while alighting from his motor car on Yunnan Road. He ran south along this road, pursued and fired at by his assailants, finally being shot dead at the Canton Road corner. On May 19, a male Chinese left a bathhouse on Kiukiang Road and was walking towards his motor car when he was attacked by a number of armed men and shot dead. His chauffeur was also wounded during the affray and died on May 26. It is well known that these two murders were the outcome of a faction fight as both victims were known to have been leaders of rival gambling gangs. On May 18, a male Chinese, employed as a detective at the Garrison Commander's Headquarters, Lunghua, was shot dead on Burkill Road and on May 25 an associate of the murdered man met a similar fate at 906 Pingliang Road. There are indications that these crimes were instigated by political enemies of the victims. On May 19 a watchman in the employ of the Shanghai Cotton Manufacturing Company at No. 2 Mill was attacked by a fellow watchman with an axe and killed during a quarrel. An iron shop apprentice was fatally wounded by armed robbers on May 20. On May 24 a Chinese woman was stabbed to death by a rejected lover. On May 30 an armed robber was fatally wounded by his confederates who fired on him by mistake when an alarm was raised by the inmates during an attempted armed robbery. A Chinese compradore was kidnapped on May 31 as he entered his car on Carter Road. He raised an alarm and attempted to escape whereupon the kidnappers opened fire fatally wounding him. His assailants made good their escape despite the efforts of a foreign pedestrian to capture them. A male Chinese was shot dead by armed robbers in Tsiang Ka Pang Village outside Settlement limits.

Four attempted murders were also recorded in the Settlement and one outside Settlement limits; eight persons were arrested for these and similar crimes previously committed.

Armed Abduction.—Two reports under this heading were received during the month. On May 3 the catering contractor to the American Club was kidnapped as he entered an alleyway on Honan Road and driven off in a waiting motor car. He was rescued on May 7 by Settlement police from a boat on the Shih Hui creek at Lunghua. On May 31 a Chinese school teacher while walking along Seymour Road was forced into a motor car which drew up beside him, and driven off.

Forty-two persons were arrested in connection with armed kidnapping and six persons were sentenced to death.

One attempted abduction was reported during the month. On the evening of May 23 a Chinese accompanied by his bodyguard was proceeding along Chinghai Road in his motor car when the car was compelled to stop owing to another car being parked in the middle of the road from which armed men alighted and approached complainant's car whereupon he and his bodyguard, who were both armed with pistols, opened fire and after an exchange of shots the armed men decamped.

Unarmed Abduction.—On May 11 two children and an amah were abducted while walking on Dixwell Road outside Settlement limits and are still missing.

Eight persons were arrested during the month in connection with crimes of this nature.

Armed Robbery. — Forty-three cases of armed robbery from premises and five on the highway were received during the month, a decrease of seventeen on the preceding month and a decrease of twenty-six on the number recorded in May 1928. Six cases of attempted armed robbery were also reported. Shots were fired by the robbers in six instances with the result that two persons were fatally wounded. At one house visited by armed robbers a birthday party was in progress and over 30 persons were present when the premises were entered. The timely blowing of a police whistle, however, dispersed the robbers. Further instances have been noted during the month in which the use of police whistles effectually routed gangs of armed men.

Eighty-five persons were arrested in connection with the above reports and reports received prior to May 1. Included in this number were 4 men who were arrested for being concerned in the big bank robbery at Kashing on April 28, when a large sum of money in notes and silver was stolen and the local police overpowered.

Executions.—Seven persons sentenced to death on charges of murder, armed kidnapping and armed robbery, were handed over to the Chinese Authorities and executed.

Appeal Court Proceedings.—The case of a male Chinese charged with sending threatening letters and sentenced to 12 years imprisonment was retried by order of the Nanking Authorities, the prisoner being sentenced to death.

A male Chinese sentenced to death on charges of armed robbery appealed successfully and his sentence was reduced to life imprisonment.

The police appealed in the case of a Chinese previously sentenced to 1 year's imprisonment on a charge of possession of arms and ammunition. The Court of Appeal increased the sentence to one of life imprisonment.

Three Chinese previously sentenced to death on charges of murder, attempted murder and armed robbery were retried by order of the Nanking authorities and their sentences commuted to life imprisonment.

The sentences imposed by the Provisional Government on two male Chinese of fifteen years and sixteen years respectively were increased to life imprisonment after a retrial ordered by the Provincial Government.

As the result of an appeal by the police, a male Chinese acquitted on charges of armed robbery, was sentenced to eight years imprisonment.

An appeal by a Chinese sentenced to thirteen years for murder resulted in the original sentence being reduced to eleven years imprisonment.

Property Stolen.—During the month 398 reports of property stolen were received, representing an estimated loss of $122,795.43. These are comprised as follows:—20 cases of burglary, 14 of housebreaking, 7 of garage and godown breaking, 11 of shop and office breaking, 4 of fraud, 9 of embezzlement, 5 of shoplifting, 2 of extortion and 326 of larceny. As compared with the corresponding month of 1928 this is a decrease of 22 cases. Successful investigations were made in 240 cases resulting in the recovery of property valued at $12,735.75. In addition recoveries to the extent of $1,665.00 were made in regard to cases committed prior to May 1. Included in these figures are 107 for picking pockets and snatching, eighty-two being persons identified as old offenders.

Finger Print Bureau.

During the month of May, 1929, the total number of records received by this Bureau for identification was 1,696. This shows a decrease of thirty compared with last month and an increase of seventy-seven over the figures for the corresponding month of last year.

The total number of Chinese Records received from Stations was 1,122 from which number 317 identifications were made. Of the prisoners thus identified 36 per cent. had been previously released under the mark system of remission of sentence.

Political Situation.

May Anniversaries.—Owing to increased anti-Kuomintang and anti-Nationalist Government propaganda emanating from local communistic and radical sources, the "Revolutionary Anniversary Committee of May" a body organized under the auspices of the Kuomintang, considered it advisable to curtail materially its elaborate programme for the celebration of the various anniversaries throughout the month. Concurrently with the amending of the Committee's plans, the Defence Commissioner of Woosung and Shanghai issued a proclamation prohibiting meetings and demonstrations, sanction for the holding of which had not been given by this Committee. It was due in no small measure to the precautions taken and orders issued in Chinese territory that the various anniversaries in May passed off without any serious incident. It has invariably been found that precautions taken in the Settlement are more effective when supported by firm handling of the situation in Chinese territory.

Members of the local Kuomintang and affiliated organizations held the usual meetings in observance of Labour Day (May 1), the anniversaries of the Tsinan Incident (May 3), the assumption of the Presidency of the Canton Government by Dr. Sun Yat-sen (May 5), Humiliation Day (May 9) and the death of Gen Chi-mei, Tutuh of Shanghai (May 18). The series concluded with the 4th anniversary of the Nanking Road incident on May 30 which was commemorated by a service at the tomb of those killed. A meeting held in Kuomintang Headquarters the same day was marked by anti-foreign speeches supplemented by the distribution of literature of a like nature.

Lectures relating to the outbreak of the General Strike in 1919 were delivered by students on May 4 in several schools in Chinese territory. Three students of the Ta Lu University, 139 Gordon Road, were arrested on Carter Road on that date for delivering lectures in connection with the incident but were subsequently released with a caution.

In spite of the prohibition to hold meetings on May 9, Humiliation day, students and agitators planned to congregate on that day on the Public Recreation Ground and march to the Kuomintang Headquarters for the purpose of staging a demonstration against the Central Government and the Kuomintang. To frustrate these plans intensive searching of pedestrians and vehicles was carried out by the police in Chinese controlled territory on the night of May 8/9 while martial law was enforced on May 9 in addition to which the Authorities of the French Concession and International Settlement adopted precautionary measures with the result that the proposed massed gathering did not take place. The attempts were made by students to hold meetings in Chinese territory, but these were easily dealt with. At the request of the Chinese Authorities the Municipal police on the night of May 8 searched the following educational institutions which were suspected of being at the root of anti-Government agitation:—

Ta Lu University, 139 Gordon Road.

Hwa Nan University, 105 Avenue Road.

Kien Hwa Middle School, 98 Sinza Road.

In a room of the first mentioned establishment were found a small hand press together with inflammatory handbills, the ink of which was still wet, and a large quantity of blank paper. The printers had disappeared before the police entered the particular room, but it was evident that preparations for a meeting on May 9, to which reference was made in the literature, were in full swing and the fact that none of the usual anniversary posters appeared during the night points to this institution being responsible to a material extent for the issue of handbills on the occasion of the different anniversaries. Subversive literature was also found at the other two schools. The Provisional Court on May 9 ordered that the three establishments be sealed and that the literature seized be destroyed.

On May 28, a group of students of the Fu Tan University delivered lectures in front of the Commercial Press Employees' Union, Chapei, urging their audience to stop work on May 30 and join in a demonstration to be held that day. These orations were supplemented by handbills advocating the withdrawal of foreign naval and land forces from China, the declaration of a general strike on May 30 and the overthrow of the Nationalist Government on the grounds that it is allied with imperialists and has betrayed the Chinese people. Similar speeches were delivered on the same date by students of the Labour University at Kiangwan.

Further attempts were made in Chapei on May 29 by small groups of students to deliver open air lectures and distribute pamphlets bearing on May 30 and on an alleged fatal assault by British soldiers on one Chang Hsueh-liang, but these were dispersed by the police.

Representatives of students of local schools and labour unions held a meeting on May 28 in the Shanghai Postal Workers' Union, Head Post Office Building, to discuss an incident where several British soldiers are alleged to have caused the death of a Chinese named Chang Hsueh-liang on Singapore Road on May 19. A girl student presided and denounced the Nationalist Government as an ally of the British imperialists and advocated the overthrow of the Kuomintang.

Demonstrations on May 30.—At about 8.15 a.m. a disorderly crowd of about 150 students and others emerged onto the Bund from the French Concession and turned west along Canton Road damaging motor cars and trams as they went. At Kiangse Road corner they were intercepted and dispersed by a squad of Municipal police who effected eight arrests. At about 9.50 a.m. another mob of students smashed several windows of the Shun Pao, Hankow and Shantung Road, and the Min Kuo Pao, 202 Shantung Road, the latter paper being the official organ of the Kuomintang. The activities of the crowd were however brought to a halt with the arrival of the police who apprehended four of the culprits. It is evident from this and other actions of the mob of students that the anniversary of the May 30 Incident was utilized more as a movement against the Kuomintang and as a means of embarrassing the party than a demonstration in observance of the day. Simultaneously sporadic attempts made by agitators to stage a demonstration on Nanking Road, Louza district, were frustrated by the Municipal police between 8.30 and 11.30 a.m. May 30; fourteen persons were arrested in Louza district for distributing pamphlets, etc. All but one of these, however, were released with a caution, the fourteenth man being detained on a charge of wilfully breaking the windows of a trolley-bus on Fokien Road. Police precautionary measures included the closing of the roof gardens of the Sun Sun, Sincere and Wing On Companies all of which are situated in the Nanking-Chekiang Road Area. Pamphlet-distributing and lecturing on Nanking Road was carried out by a few agitators, the major portion of the crowd being but onlookers in search of excitement. The good-humoured way in which the police on duty handled the crowds which collected on Nanking Road had not a little to do with the success of the police measures in this locality. A minor disturbance also took place on North Szechuen Road at about noon when some 200 students and idlers indulged in stone throwing. The glass of the windscreen of a police motor car and several windows of a tram were broken by the mob, three of whom were arrested and charged. Three others were apprehended but subsequently released.

An isolated attack on a tramcar on Sinza Road, near Tatung Road, at about 8.30 p.m. was limited to the breaking of one or two of the windows.

In addition to the foregoing incidents, the distribution of inflammatory literature was carried out in various parts of the Settlement. In this connection the following arrests were made:—

Pootoo Road District	7
Gordon Road District	1
West Hongkew District	1
Dixwell Road District	5

Of these prisoners, six were released with a caution and the remainder were charged with distributing literature of a nature likely to cause a breach of the peace.

The property wholly or partially damaged comprised 9 public transport vehicles, 9 motor cars and the windows of two newspaper offices.

Disorder in the French Concession was confined to an attack on two trams on the Bund by a mob of about 200 students and others, the damage to the vehicles being very slight. No incident of any note took place in Chinese controlled territory.

Communism.—As indicated in the foregoing outline of the political situation, local Communists took advantage of the May Anniversaries to spread their propaganda, which for the most part was directed against the National Government and Kuomintang and was surreptitiously disseminated either by handbills or slogans chalked on walls almost daily throughout the month in the Settlements and in Chinese controlled territory. There is little doubt that the Communists look upon Chinese students as a fertile field for the propagating of their doctrines and as scape-goats for the furtherance of their nefarious machinations. In addition to those mentioned above, searches were carried out by the Municipal police on premises suspected to be the meeting places of communists. These visits resulted in the seizure of a quantity of inflammatory literature. Twenty-five Chinese who were arrested on different dates for distributing or keeping communistic pamphlets were sentenced to terms of imprisonment or fines.

During the month the Chinese Authorities placed a ban on the "North-China Daily News" and denied that journal transmission through the post or by steamer. All Government offices and officials were ordered to cease subscribing to the paper, and anybody found reading it would be regarded as a reactionary. This measure is due to the allegation of the Kuomintang that the "North-China Daily News" had been publishing false reports and malicious rumours about the National Government. The ban was still in force at the end of the month.

Labour.—There were in May ten strikes of which the following five affected the Settlement, the last also extending to Chinese controlled territory and French Concession:—

Shing Ziang Cotton Mill, 203 Wuting Road. 200 operatives struck work on May 11 as a result of a trivial dispute between the foreman and employees over the admittance of friends to the mill quarters, but resumed unconditionally on May 15.

Willow Pattern Press, Ltd. 33-D Nanking Road. 50 employees ceased work on May 14, demanding the reinstatement of a dismissed worker but resumed on May 16 after the management promised to concede to their demand.

Public Health Report for May.

The health of the community was satisfactory on the whole, the death-rate among Foreigners being well below, but among the Chinese, slightly above the normal.

The decline of Cerebrospinal Fever which set in towards the end of April, continued during the month.

It was satisfactory to observe the readiness with which the community carried out measures of prevention and these undoubtedly had an effect in the decline of the epidemic, which was the severest that has ever been known in Shanghai. Among resident Foreigners 7 fresh cases occurred—3 Japanese, 2 Indian, 1 British and 1 Greek: there were 4 deaths. Among resident Chinese 85 cases were notified with 33 deaths, and among non-residents 34 cases with 12 deaths. The majority of these cases were admitted to the Municipal Chinese Isolation Hospital. 92 deaths among resident Chinese were recorded by the Sanitation Division and from other sources.

There were 4 cases of Smallpox with 1 death among resident Foreigners: 1 British, 1 Japanese and 2 Indian; vaccination had never been done in the fatal case. Free vaccination was carried on at all the Branch Health Offices and altogether 3,926 Chinese and 34 Foreigners were vaccinated during the month. More free vaccinations have been done during the first five months of this year than during the whole of 1928. Altogether 2065 free doses of vaccine were issued at the request of Charitable Institutions in Chinese Territory and the French Concession.

Among Foreigners several cases of infective intestinal disease were notified, including 4 cases of Typhoid Fever, 5 of Amoebic and 3 of Bacillary Dysentery.

In view of the exceptional risks of contamination of food and drink in Shanghai, especially during the summer, it is timely to urge the importance of careful attention to the sanitary details of kitchen and serving room, and to the health of the domestic staff.

Observations have shown that a considerable proportion of Chinese servants are carriers of infection, such as that of Dysentery, and in cases of the slightest doubt it is wise to insist on them undergoing a thorough medical examination.

The important thing to remember for the avoidance of intestinal infections such as the Typhoids, the Dysenteries and Cholera, is that they are caused by food or drink infected from the excretions of a previous case, either by the use of such by the Chinese market-gardener, for the fertilisation of market-produce, or by infected fingers or by flies. The essential rule, therefore, to observe is, to eat and drink nothing that has not been recently cooked, boiled or otherwise sterilised.

Do not Consume:—

(1) Fruit, vegetables or salads which have not been cooked or sterilised.
(2) Food infected by flies which often forage and feed on filth and become foully contaminated.
(3) Milk or cream which has not been efficiently pasteurised, or sterilised by bringing to the boiling point.
(4) Ice cream unless made of boiled materials.
(5) Water which has not been boiled or sterilised or passed through a clean and efficient germ-proof filter.

It has been well said that freedom from these infections is an index of the sanitary intelligence of a community.

The services of the Health Inspectors and copies of the Public Health Notice are willingly given on application to any of the Branch Health Offices or to the Public Health Department.

Here follow Tables of Vital Statistics, Communicable Diseases and of the work of the Food, Dairies and Markets Division, Sanitation Division, Tuberculosis and Venereal Diseases Clinics and Municipal Laboratories, Hospitals and Slaughterhouse.

C. NOEL DAVIS,
Commissioner of Public Health.

LABORATORY REPORT ON WATER

Sample of Shanghai Waterworks Water

Sample received May 27, 1929
Report sent out June 3, 1929
Physical Characters.—Faint yellowish green colour with very slight opacity. Faintly alkaline reaction to litmus.

Chemical Examination.	Parts per 100,000
Solid matter in Solution	21.0
Appearance on ignition :	Very slight charring
*Total Hardness :	13.0
(a) Carbonated (Temporary)	10.0
(b) Non-Carbonated (Permanent)	3.0
Chlorine in Chlorides	4.4
Nitrogen as Nitrates	0.0689
Saline Ammonia	0.0040
Albuminoid Ammonia	0.0055
Poisonous Metals	Nil
Nitrites	Nil
Phosphates	Minute traces
Sulphates	Traces
Oxygen absorbed in 1 hour at 37° C.	0.0304

*Hardness determinations are by acid and alkali: not by soap method. A slight increase in chlorides was again noticed between May 9 and May 25 after which date the figures have been normal. Free chlorine has varied between 0.03 and 0.12 parts per million in samples taken from the laboratory and between 0.00 and 0.10 in samples taken from other points. Nitrites have been absent. Saline ammonia figures are again normal.

Bacteriological Examination.—25 samples of Shanghai Waterworks Water were examined during the month. Of these four were taken from the mains and 21 from taps in various parts of the settlement. In one sample from the main, coliforms were present to the extent of 10 per litre. None of these were of the B. coli group, and a further sample taken a week later showed no coliforms. Eight samples of water taken from taps showed the presence of coliform organisms to the extent of 800, 615, 10, 45, 100, 190, 270 and 365 per litre respectively and six of these samples contained either B. Coli Communis or Communior in numbers varying from 11 to 100 per litre.

Report on Analysis.—Results of analyses of water, as it leaves the Waterworks, showed compliance with the requisite standards and satisfactory purification.

Six samples taken from taps gave evidence of local contamination.

Special consideration will, however, be given to applications of new comers who can furnish proof of their intention to reside in Shanghai.

Forms of admission for new pupils may be obtained on written application to the Heads of the respective schools and should be presented by the new pupils when attending at the Schools for examination and classification on Friday, September 6, between 9 a.m. and 12 noon.

4th School day in the month 9 a.m. Kindergarten, Transition, and new pupils.

Parents are specially requested to ensure prompt payment of fees on the first four days of each month in accordance with the scheme outlined above, as the payment of fees by children at unauthorized times throughout the month seriously embarrasses class work in the Schools. Accordingly, pupils whose fees remain unpaid after the period of fees collection outlined above are liable to be debarred from further attendance.

The attention of parents is drawn to the following:—

(a) In the case of two or more children of one family attending separate Council Schools the fees for each child should be paid to the school at which the child attends.

(b) The Council disapproves the practice of young children personally conveying money for fees to school, and would prefer that fees be paid by cheque, chit book, or registered post. However, it would appear that this matter is one for the parents' own decision and responsibility, and is accordingly beyond the Council's control.

(c) Parents are reminded that on all occasions before a child is withdrawn from a Council School a month's notice must be given in writing to the Headmaster or the Headmistress. Non-compliance with this rule renders parents liable to a charge of a month's fee in default. The withdrawal of a child from school at the end of a term does not negative this Rule.

S. M. EDWARDS,
Secretary.

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, June 27, 1929.

Land Commission.

CASE 190.

North Szechuen Road.—Cadastral Lot No. 897A, Northern District, heard in the Council Chamber on Monday, May 27, 1929, at 4 p.m.

PROCEEDINGS.

Mr. N. L. Sparke appears for the registered Owners, The Shanghai Land Investment Co., Ltd.

The Council is represented by Mr. J. R. Jones, Deputy Secretary, Mr. J. E. Needham, Acting Commissioner of Public Works, being in attendance.

In opening his case, Mr. Sparke states that it is the policy of his Company to endeavour as far as possible to meet the Council on all questions of road surrenders and it is very rarely that they have a case referred to the Land Commission.

On March 18 last, he received a letter from the Secretary of the Council intimating that as the Council's offer of Tls. 8,240 as compensation for the area of Mow 0.227 required from Cadastral Lot 897A for the scheduled widening of North Szechuen Road, was unacceptable to them, the matter would be referred for settlement to the Land Commission, as requested.

The Council's offer is at the assessed rate of Tls. 33,000 per Mow plus 10 per cent. for compulsory surrender, and he is quite confident that the Commissioners do not consider that Tls. 33,000 per Mow is the fair market value for this lot.

The original claim was at the rate of Tls. 60,000 per Mow plus the usual 10 per cent. which is considerably below the market value but was put forward with a view to avoid, if possible, a Land Commission case.

He now claims compensation at the rate of Tls. 75,000 per Mow for an area of Mow 0.227, Tls. 17,025 plus 10 per cent. for compulsory surrender, making a total claim of Tls. 18,727.

He states that the assessed value is not always a fair indication of the market value. He refers to the instance of Ewo Terrace, assessed at Tls. 35,000 and sold through public tender for approximately Tls. 85,000, illustrating the fact that the assessed value does not necessarily bear any relation to the market value, although of course, this particular sale has no bearing on Cadastral Lot 897A in any other respect.

The North Szechuen Road is a second Nanking Road, land values thereon have risen enormously in the last few years and to-day the price for this lot is nearer Tls. 100,000 per Mow than Tls. 75,000.

In 1927 at a time of great uncertainty in the local property market, B. C. Paoshan Lots 15 and 160 North Szechuen Road Extension were sold at the rate of Tls. 60,000 per Mow for an area of about 10 Mow; this did however, include Chinese buildings. This property is on the same road as the one now under consideration, but is beyond the Settlement limits. There is a great difference in value between property inside and property outside the Settlement boundary. If, therefore, during 1927 property was sold outside at the rate of Tls. 60,000 per Mow, it is quite obvious that a claim of Tls. 75,000 per Mow during 1929 for land inside the Settlement and on the same road, is very moderate.

During the last year his Company sold Cadastral Lot 914A, an area of 10.335 Mow for Tls. 50,000 per Mow. This lot is assessed at Tls. 25,000 per mow, and is in the neighbourhood of Cadastral Lot 897A but is of vastly less value, having no frontage to the North Szechuen Road.

He states that he has refrained from putting before the Commissioners any building schemes showing a possible return if the land were valued at Tls. 75,000 because he is content to leave the decision with them based on actual selling values. In any case the cost of preparing the necessary plans render this course prohibitive. He points out that a large department store or hotel would be a form of development which would most certainly show an adequate return on the land value claimed.

Mr. Jones states that the facts of this case are simple and their simplicity leaves the general principle free for a clear decision.

The Shanghai Land Investment Company, Ltd. are the registered owners of Cadastral Lot 897A which measures Mow 4.877. From this a small area of Mow 0.227 has been surrendered in accordance with scheduled plans for the widening of North Szechuen Road to 60 feet. The registered owners originally claimed a total sum of Tls. 14,982 for the portion surrendered upon the following computation:—

0.227 mow at Tls. 60,000 per mow	Tls. 13,620
10 per cent. for compulsory surrender	1,362
	Tls. 14,982

He now claims Tls. 18,727, at the rate of Tls. 75,000 per mow plus 10 per cent. for compulsory surrender.

Under the Land Regulations the Council is empowered to acquire land for certain public purposes and three Land Commissioners appointed by the Council, the registered owners of land and the ratepayers respectively are constituted into a tribunal to "determine the compensation (if any) to be paid or given for the land so acquired and for the buildings (if any) thereon and in respect of any tenancy of the said land or buildings respectively taking into account the increase or decrease in value of the remainder of the property."

This case raises three issues which are involved in most Land Commission cases:—

(1) The price on which compensation is based.

(2) The interest acquired in the land by the Council.

(3) The claim for 10 per cent. for compulsory surrender.

Before dealing with these three principles there are a few facts peculiar to this case. The portion of Cadastral Lot 897A affected by the widening was formerly developed with five dwelling houses Nos. 18A to 22A, a plan of which is submitted. No. 22A was demolished in 1925 and a very important store, the Commercial Press, Ltd. was built on the site, the ground floors of the four remaining houses were converted into shops with mezzanine floors and the two upper floors into four six room flats No. 23 to 26 with entrances at the back on a roadway widened at the expense of garden of house No. 22

There has been no loss of frontage on the North Szechuen Road. The value of the frontage has, however, been enhanced by the setting back of the shops to the scheduled line and the widened roadway and improved pavement permit of roadcross for cars and the passing of pedestrians in front of the important shops now lining the road. The only loss has been at the back where owing to the curtailment of the garden space the rent of house No. 22 has been reduced from Tls. 1,080 to Tls. 972 per annum, a loss of Tls. 108 per annum which capitalized at 7 per cent. amounts to Tls. 1,543. The surrender of the narrow strip along Szechuen Road has in fact resulted in setting back, as it were, the whole of the portion developed causing a small portion at the back to be excised but the value of this portion should easily be set off by the improvement caused by the widening of the property as a whole.

The main principles which were mentioned above may now be considered.

(1) Price Basis.—The inherently mutual relationship between the ratepayers and the government of the community organized by the ratepayers for the benefit of the good order and protection of their property has given rise to the payment by the ratepayers of a rate assessed on the land. The land is given an assessed value, and is "assessed upon its merits, full weight to be given to the purposes for which the land could be used in regard to its situation as to waterways, and to the advantage accruing from frontage on public roads and corner sites, consideration to be give to bona fide sales of properties which have occurred since the last assessment." (Council instructions to Assessors 1927).

By its very nature and in the light of the criteria laid down in the Council instructions the assessed value of land in the Settlement should be a guide to the amount of compensation when the Council is called upon to pay for acquiring land. It is inequitable that the Council should receive on one basis, and pay on an entirely different basis in respect of the same piece of land. It may be a moot point whether compensation should equal the assessed value or whether credit should be given for increased value since the last assessment in this case in 1927.

The owners of Cadastral Lot 897A are claiming Tls. 75,000 per mow for land assessed at Tls. 33,000 per mow, that is an increase of 127 per cent. above the assessed value. It is strikingly obvious that either this claim is grossly exorbitant or that the assessed value on which the Council rates are based is excessively low. The award of this tribunal consisting of representatives of the owners of land, of the Council, and of the ratepayers must of necessity give some indication as to which side should be reinforced so as to even the scale.

It may be mentioned here that almost all the land required for widening North Szechuen Road from the Soochow Creek to Haining Road on both sides has been obtained at 10 per cent. above the assessed value and that in one case, that of Cadastral Lot 607 the Chinese Post Office site, there was a deduction of 1/3rd for betterment. The following lots were acquired on that basis:—

In 1915 Cad. Lots 841 and 871 from Messrs. E. D. Sassoon & Co., Ltd.

In 1916 Cad. Lot 655 (now Cad. Lot 625) also from Messrs. E. D. Sassoon & Co., Ltd.

In 1916 Cad. Lots 678 and 682 directly opposite Cad. Lot 897A which is the subject matter of our discussion.

In 1917 Cad. Lots 657 and 680 from the Compagnie de Jesus.

In 1922 Cad. Lot 607 subject to 1/3rd betterment from the Chinese Post Office.

In 1929 Cad. Lot 682 from the Shanghai Land Investment Co., Ltd.

The range of years represented in the process of acquisition serves to emphasize that whatever the assessed value was at the time being the same principle was maintained from 1915 to 1929 whereas the owners in the present case seek to stand as an isolated example with a claim rising to 127 per cent. above that awarded to the owners of land along the remainder of the road.

It is contended that the owners should be given the fair market value of the land This contention assumes (a) that there is a free market of land where all the economic conditions necessary to the equability of price exists; (b) that the Council buys and the owner sells the land and that the compensation authorized by the Land Regulations is to be the price.

There is no market of land in Shanghai which would satisfy economic conditions; land is constantly bought and sold on account of each lot's special adaptability for certain purposes, and under conditions which often compel special prices owing to the restrictions of local land tenure. A fair market value is a criterion which does not exist, as a normal and offers of purchase are very uncertain guides.

The second assumption is entirely wrong and is the source of most of the misunderstanding and erroneous impressions prevailing in Land Commission cases. If this assumption is wrong it also follows that the first assumption as to the fair market value is also wrong. The Council in fact does not buy the land, nor do the Land Regulations authorise a price to be paid; they authorise a compensation to be given. This leads to the next principle.

(2) What interest in the land does the landowner give and the Council acquire?—The Council as a public authority is empowered by the Land Regulations to acquire a certain limited interest in land to be devoted exclusively to specific public purposes, such as new roads, extension and widening of existing roads, public works and sanitation. It is not like a commercial undertaking which in England, as in the case of a railway company, has compulsory powers to acquire land and can use the land when acquired for any purpose and for gain within the scope of the undertaking. The Council is empowered to acquire a limited interest in land for a very restricted use. It does not buy the land, nor is the compensation authorized by the Land Regulations to be considered as a purchase price. This is a vital point to remember, and the failure to realize or to act upon the true nature of the transaction is responsible for the constant confusion and misunderstanding which leads to reference to a fair market value. The Land Commission is not authorized to consider the question of buying, nor to give a purchase price as compensation.

The limitations in the incidents of property acquired by the Council in the land and passing from the owner may be considered:——

(1) The land must be devoted and dedicated to the use of the public (Land Regulation VI) for the purpose of roads and public works. The Council cannot do what it likes with the land and cannot use it for gain or sell it for profit.

(2) The Council holds the land for the public on trust and when the objects of the trust are discharged the land reverts to the owner or the assignee of his rights. The area surrendered still remains included in the title deed of the original lot and in case of deviation or abandonment of a road the land surrendered reverts to the owner on the same terms as those of the surrender.

(3) The land surrendered for roads serves as a carrier for drains and cables which serve the abutting properties.

(4) The foundations of a building abutting on the road are allowed to project under the road, whereas without this concession the building would have to be set back and space would be sacrificed.

(5) The owners of buildings on the road have the benefit of the road for the provision of the air space required by the building rules.

(6) The road area is used not only to provide accommodation for through traffic but also to give benefits of access, foot pavements and lighting for the abutting houses.

(7) The Council in making a road gives the owners of abutting property the benefits referred to in 3, 4, 5, and 6, whereas otherwise private land would have to be used.

The Council therefore under Land Regulation VI acquires land which is held upon trust for a limited purpose, subject to reversion, with very restricted incidents of property, and subject to considerable easements and derogations in favour of the owners of the land. It is for such limited incidents of property that compensation is to be awarded.

(3) 10 per cent. for compulsory surrender.—The owners in this case claim an additional 10 per cent. for compulsory surrender. In many cases in the past this has been granted, and from references to arguments on which the claim has been made according to past records of the Commission it is perfectly clear that it is specifically based on the analogy of the provisions of the Lands Clauses Acts of 1845 and subsequent years. These Acts were passed to enable undertakings like railways, waterworks and gas works to buy land for undertakings which were carried on for gain and which obtained absolute ownership of the land for their purpose.

The Acquisition of Land (Assessment of Compensation) Act 1919, however, has brought the English practice into line with that of America, and provides that "no allowance shall be made on account of the acquisition being compulsory."

The following comment is quoted from Cripps on Compensation (6th Ed.) P. 320.

> "The intention of the legislature is to draw a distinction between a body of persons, such as an ordinary railway company, which trades for profit and a body of persons who are unlike a railway company, inasmuch as they do not trade for the purpose of making a profit which would be available for the purpose of division in the form of dividend. The true meaning of the section is to include within the term "public authority" any body of persons authorized by statute to carry on a public undertaking which does not trade with the object of making profits for themselves or distributing profit as dividend."

The old analogy used to justify this allowance is now definitely shown to be erroneous, and in the case of a public authority like the Council such allowance is nowhere given. Moreover it is ultra vires. This tribunal is nowhere authorized by the Land Regulations to make this gift, however gratifying it may be to the recipient. The award is to be confined to compensation for what the Council gets and the owner gives having regard to any increase or decrease in the value of the remainder of the land. The Council and the ratepayers cannot by their elected representatives give, and the landowners by their representative can hardly claim money that is not authorized to be given under the Land Regulations.

From the above premises it is to be concluded that the Council is not buying the land and that a market value is not contemplated by the Land Regulations, neither is an allowance for compulsory surrender within their ambit. It remains to consider what compensation is to be given for such limited rights in the property taken from the owners for public uses. The land taken is not to be identified with the land on the frontage of Szechuen Road, as a frontage has been retained. The consequence of the alteration is the setting back of the property causing the loss of a small area at the back and the capitalized value of this piece has been shown to be Tls. 1,543, and against this may be set off the accrued benefits improved frontage of the property and the additional air space and height of buildings.

The owners' argument that because they have discussed a possible offer of a certain sum for the whole property they should be compensated for the small strip surrendered on the basis of the proposed offer is fallacious. In the first place the actual area lost is at the back and cannot be of the average value of the whole. In the second place the offer is based on the value of the whole property including the accrued enhancement of value by reason of the general development of North Szechuen Road and its widening to 60 feet, the scheduling of this particular piece of land since 1917 and the actual improvement made by the windening. North Szechuen Road is now, as the owners have remarked, a second Nanking Road, but it has been so made at the expense of the ratepayers' money. The fact that a good offer may be made now is in itself proof of the benefit derived from the expenditure of ratepayers' money by the Council, and as that benefit enures to the benefit of the owner, the Council should not pay the ratepayers' money twice over if it were possible to estimate the offer that would be made for this same property without the scheduled widening and without the expensive improvement and widening of North Szechuen Road in this vicinity, the betterment accruing from the Council's work would be evident. Applying the test laid down by Land Regulation VIA "having regard to the increase or decrease in value of the remainder of the property," it is evident from the offer quoted by the owner that the remainder of the land has been enhanced in value, and the logical deduction is that the land should be surrendered free.

In reply Mr. Sparke refers to Mr. Jones' statement that the area to be surrendered is less than one-twentieth of the whole and that this would have no material effect on the total value, and says that he fails to understand this argument. Why because the area is small should his Company receive less than the fair value? It makes no difference to the proportionate loss sustained by his Company whether the area is small or large.

Mr. Jones says that it does not decrease the value of the remainder of the property, but the Shanghai Land Investment Company has not made any claim on account of decrease of value of remainder.

Mr. Sparke further refers to the statement that some landlords surrendered North Szechuen frontage at the assessed value in 1915 and 1916, and points out that there is absolutely no comparison between the values in 1915 and 1916 and those existing to-day.

In answer to Mr. Jones' argument that the Council's interest in the land surrendered is to hold it for the benefit of the general public, as it cannot be built upon and can be used only for the purpose of making roads, he submits that what the Council intends to do with the land is no concern of his Company, for there was a road frontage before and it is no partcular benefit to them that this road should be made slightly wider.

Mr. Jones, adds Mr. Sparke, attacks the principle involved in the 10 per cent. for compulsory surrender. This, however, is the Council's principle and is included in the Council's original offer and is not an invention of his, hence Mr. Jones' remarks in this connection are presumably directed against the Council and not against the land owners.

In conclusion, he submits that he can sell this property at the rate of Tls. 85,000 per Mow at least and that if a portion is surrendered to the Council, his Company receives so much less on the sale, calculated at this rate per Mow. It makes no difference whatsoever to the purchaser whether it is surrendered to the Council or anybody else, he is receiving a smaller area and the Land Investment Company as sellers receive a proportionately smaller amount of money, and the difference clearly represents the loss sustained by his Company from this surrender.

An argument has been put forward that his Company is not suffering the loss of the North Szechuen Road frontage. Naturally the Council is causing no such loss. Were this the case, he should have to claim for the value of practically the whole lot, as the site would be rendered almost valueless, whereas he is only claiming for the small piece to be surrendered.

After further discussion, both parties having retired, the Commissioners decide as follows:—

AWARD.

The Commissioners consider that undoubted betterment has accrued to the property over a period of years through the Council's efforts in making the North Szechuen Road a 60 feet main artery, and are of opinion that this lot obtains its high market value owing to the importance of the North Szechuen Road as now developed, and ought, therefore, to pay its share towards cost of such improvement and award as follows:—

That the Registered Owners be compensated for the area to be surrendered as under:—

Mow 0.227 at Tls.
70,000 per Mow	Tls. 15,890.00
less 1/3rd for betterment	5,296.00
	Tls. 10,594.00

Duty at Places of Amusement amounted to 9,585 hours.

There was only one fire of particular note during the month:—

May 5, 2.50. J.a. 1235 Singkeipang Road. Hardware Shop and Oil Store. Sections of Hongkew Division.—I regret to have to report that this fire was attended with extremely heavy loss of life, no less than 10 persons being burnt to death. On arrival the premises were found to be a mass of flames, the intensity of the fire being greatly enhanced by the stocks of oil. A report was received that three or four persons were missing, and as soon as an entry could be effected a search was made. Four bodies were found near the staircase, but as the fire apparently started in a loft underneath, their escape was cut off. Five bodies were found in a suspended loft above the first floor, and one in a back room.

This call was received from Hongkew Station Watch Tower, and en route it appeared as if a large fire was in progress, and undoubtedly long before arrival all hope for the inmates had passed.

The following inspections were carried out by the Department during the month:—

1. Licences.—
   (a) Premises of Applicants for Licences 43
   (b) Re-inspection 42
2. Licensed Premises.—

5. Public Buildings, Schools, Churches, Hospitals, Municipal Buildings. 40
6. Pumping Connections 462
7. Miscellaneous Inspections. 28
8. Storage of Hazardous Goods 35

Total 1,784

The above inspections revealed 185 breaches of the Licensing Conditions laid down by the Council and 189 letters were written with regard to Fire Installations.

In addition Hydrant Inspections were as follows:—

(a) Shanghai Waterworks 1,812
(b) Private installations 670

CRIME.

Public Gambling.—Seven raids were made on public gambling houses during the month and 486 persons were arrested and fined or imprisoned. In addition, fifteen raids were made on houses used for the purpose of Hua Hui lotteries and 133 persons were awarded sentences of imprisonment or were fined. Suppression of Hua Hui lotteries where the drawings take place at different places daily presents considerable difficulty.

The premises known as the "Wheel" situated at No. 151-C Bubbling Well Road were searched and after removal of gambling paraphernalia were still in the hands of the police at the end of the month.

A public gambling house at No. 5 Yates Road was raided at 12.15 a.m. on June 22 and 183 Chinese and foreigners, including 2 Mexicans, 9 Spaniards, 1 Japanese, 1 Portuguese and 2 Russians were arrested and charged. Fines to the amount of $37,820.00 were inflicted and terms of imprisonment imposed in many cases.

In connection with the above two houses, four Mexican citizens were arrested and charged before the Mexican Consul and remanded on bail. Successful application by the police resulted in the Mexican Consul declaring that he was not entitled to exercise judicial control over Mexican citizens and jurisdiction was taken by the Provisional Court, the four accused being held in custody on remand pending trial.

The following table shows the results of police action in regard to public gambling (including Hua Hui gambling) since April 1929.

Raids	29
Persons arrested	1,246
Persons fined	1,111
Persons fined and imprisoned	110
Persons imprisoned	9

Twenty-one British subjects were summoned for frequenting a public gaming house and were finally bound over in the sum of $200 each not to haunt or resort to gaming houses in future. A number of summonses against other foreigners in connection with the above matter are still pending.

General. — Armed crime has steadily decreased and 139 fewer reports have been received for the half year ended June 30, than in the corresponding period of 1928.

As a warning to banks and other commercial enterprises employing messengers, etc., to convey large sums of money about the Settlement, the following circular was issued:—

"The police earnestly seek the co-operation of the managers of banks and heads of other commercial enterprises in efforts which are being made to ensure that messengers employed to transport specie, money, banknotes and valuables documents through the streets are able to do so in safety. The police hope that the employers of these messengers will make arrangements whereby the danger of such property being robbed, stolen or lost will be reduced to a minimum, and that instructions will be given to all persons engaged in the work regarding the most effective way of carrying out these arrangements, with special reference to the action to be taken in case of attack.

"Several of the leading local banks when transporting notes and valuables use strong iron boxes with efficient locks. These boxes are carried in motor vehicles or on two wheeled trucks, to which they are securely chained. As an extra precaution the parties escorting the valuables include, in addition to the shroff and truck coolies, a Chinese watchman who carries firearms and a police whistle. In this way the banks in question not only take precautions to ensure that the valuables will reach their destination in safety, but provide, in case of attack, means whereby the property can to some extent be defended and an alarm raised.

"The police are at all times willing to furnish, by arrangement, and on payment, escorts for money and valuables in transit through the streets. The officers in charge of police districts will furnish escorts at any time that an application is made to them either personally, or by letter, or by telephone.

"It is hoped that the members of the community to whom this notice is addressed will follow the example of the concerns whose precautionary measures are above described, and that they will not hesitate to call upon the police to assist in the measures they are taking for the safety of their property. All such applications for assistance or advice addressed to the Police will receive prompt attention."

A notorious Chinese burglar, who had committed many burglaries in the western district extending over a period of several months, was arrested during the month. When arrested he was wearing part of the clothing and jewellery stolen from No. 149 Weihaiwei Road on May 15, last. He was convicted on fourteen charges of burglary and sentenced to 9 years imprisonment.

Murder and Attempted Murder.—On June 8 a male Chinese during a quarrel sustained wounds to which he later succumbed. On June 14, during a running battle between police and armed robbers one Chinese constable and a pedestrian were shot dead and four pedestrians wounded. On June 17, two male Chinese were attacked while walking along an alleyway off Gordon Road, one was shot dead and the other severely wounded. It is suspected that the motive for this crime is of a political nature as the deceased was at one time an official of the Kuomintang.

Four attempted murders were also recorded. On June 1 a male Chinese was attacked by three men while walking along Fearon Road. One of his assailants produced a pistol and fired wounding him in the thigh. The wounded man refused to give the police any information. On June 13 a Chinese woman was stabbed by her husband who accused her of infidelity. On June 21 armed robbers entered a general goods store on Broadway. As they were leaving the premises one of the inmates raised an alarm and the robbers fired wounding him in the leg. On June 22 a male Chinese, employed as a detective by the Chekiang River Police, was attacked by armed men as he entered an alleyway on Medhurst Road and sustained multiple wounds. He was engaged in making investigations into the robbery from the Kashing branch of the Bank of China.

Armed Abduction.—On June 19, two Chinese school boys were abducted from outside No. 1981 Avenue Road. They were rescued from a house in the Chinese City on June 20 as a result of a series of raids carried out by Municipal Police during which a gang numbering 28 persons were arrested in possession of arms and ammunition.

Abduction outside Settlement Limits.—On June 15 a cotton mill manager was abducted in his own car which broke down after proceeding a short distance and the abductors held up a Ford Hire Service car and after forcing their victim to enter, drove away. Complainant returned home on June 19, but refused to give the police any information as to his release. It is suspected that ransom was paid.

Release of Kidnapped persons.—A Chinese boy, Hsu Ah Soo, who was abducted in his father's motor car from outside the Woo Pung School, Wong Kya Chao Road, on May 15, was released on June 6. His abductors had placed the boy on a boat and taken him to Sungkiang where he was detained until the date of his release. It is suspected that ransom was paid. A male teacher who was kidnapped on Seymour Road on May 31, returned home on June 22. Particulars regarding his release could not be obtained as he left Shanghai immediately. It is suspected that ransom was paid.

Forty-eight persons were arrested in connection with armed kidnapping and in addition two were shot dead by Police while resisting arrest. Twenty-one persons were also arrested during the month on charges of unarmed abduction.

Armed Robbery. — Forty-eight cases of armed robbery from premises and six on the highway were received during the month, an increase of one on the preceding month, and a decrease of thirteen on the corresponding period of last year. Four cases of attempted armed robbery were also reported. Shots were fired by the robbers in three instances with the result that a Chinese police constable and a pedestrian were shot dead and five persons wounded.

Eighty persons were arrested in connection with the above reports and reports received prior to June 1. In addition, one of two men who fired at a police search party on June 4 was shot dead while resisting arrest.

Threatening Letter Cases.—Ten persons were arrested for offences of this nature during the month.

The case against a male Chinese previously sentenced to 17 years imprisonment on a charge of sending threatening letters was retried by order of the Kiangsu Provincial Government, the prisoner being finally sentenced to death and the sentence of 12 years formerly passed on another prisoner charged with the same offence increased to 18 years.

Executions.—Two persons sentenced to death on charges of armed kidnapping and two on charges of armed kidnapping and armed robbery were handed over to the Chinese authorities and executed.

Property Stolen.—During the month 372 reports of property stolen were received, representing an estimated loss of $302,863.79. These comprised the following: 24 cases of burglary, 7 of housebreaking, 6 of misappropriation, 7 of godown-breaking, 11 of shop and office breaking, 4 of forgery and false pretences, 11 of embezzlement, 6 of shoplifting, 3 of extortion and 293 of larceny. This return shows a decrease of four on the corresponding period of last year. Successful results were obtained in 286 cases included in which were 99 arrests for picking pockets and snatching. Property was recovered to the value of $20,290.60 and in addition, recoveries to the extent of $4,519.00 were made in regard to cases committed prior to June 1.

Finger Print Bureau.—With the object of establishing their identity ten bodies of Chinese were photographed and finger printed at the public mortuary. On June 13 an armed kidnapper was shot dead by the police and later identified from finger prints.

POLITICAL.

Military Situation.—On June 22, the Provisional Court at the instance of Nanking ordered the sealing of the North Western Bank, 508 Tientsin Road, alleged to be owned by Feng Yu-hsiang, and the seizure of its properties. It was found however that all documents and moneys had been removed from the premises by the Bank management some two months previously and that only a few articles of furniture had been left behind.

Nanking has placed an order locally for the supply of five hundred army mechanical transport vehicles. The chassis and engines of these trucks have been imported from America while the bodywork and canvas tops are being supplied locally.

POLITICAL SITUATION.

Observance of the State Burial of the late Dr. Sun Yat-sen.—The observance of the State Burial of the late Dr. Sun Yat-sen on June 1, local members of Kuomintang and representatives of societies held memorial services in the Hospice of St. Joseph, Nantao and at Pootung and the local foreign and Chinese communities suspended business on that day.

June Anniversaries.—Members of the local Kuomintang and affiliated organizations commemorated the 90th anniversary (June 3) of the burning at Canton of a large quantity of opium seized from British merchants by order of Ling Tseh-hsu, the then Viceroy of Kwangtung and Kuangsi and the 7th anniversary of the sufferings endured by Dr. Sun Yat-sen following the defeat of his army by General Chen Chiun-ming in 1922 (June 16). As was to be expected the meeting held in observance of the former occasion was used for propagating of the demands for the abrogation of the so-called unequal treaties, the abolition of the Consular jurisdiction and for the restoration of all foreign settlements to China. In observance of the 4th anniversary of the Shameen Incident (June 23) a gathering of about 200 persons mostly students congregated at the corner of Kiaochow and Singapore Roads for the purpose of holding a meeting, but the majority of these dispersed on the approach of the Municipal Police who arrested 17 of the participants including one Korean. A quantity of literature found strewn about and in possession of several of the persons apprehended dwelt on the Shameen and other similar incidents, and advocated amongst other things the overthrow of the present Nanking Government which was described as an ally of foreign imperialism. Of the arrested persons, 16 Chinese were sentenced to ten days' imprisonment while the case against the Korean had not concluded at the end of the month. On June 23 coincidentally with the attempted meeting in observance of the Shameen Incident groups of students of the former Hua Nan, Kien Hua and Ta Lu Universities congregated outside the premises occupied by these educational institutions prior to their sealing on May 9 at 105 Avenue Road, 79 Sinza Road and 139 Gordon Road respectively, and, as a protest against their suppression, staged a demonstration by forcibly removing the seals and entering the premises and smashing several window panes. Six of the demonstrators were arrested and sentenced to imprisonment by the Provisional Court.

Anti-Feng Yu-hsiang Campaign.—With a view to expressing its allegiance to the National Government in the prevailing conflict with Feng Yu-hsiang the local Kuomintang held a campaign against this leader from June 21 to 27 in the form of meetings, street lecturing and distribution of pamphlets in various parts of Chinese controlled territory. In the speeches made, Feng Yu-hsiang was denounced as an ally of Soviet Russia, an arch-enemy of the Kuomintang and as a master intriguer.

Communism.—In connection with their activities, raids by the Municipal Police on June 25 on Chinese dwelling houses Nos. 1446 and 1225 Hart Road and 258 and 581 Seymour Road resulted in the seizure of a large quantity of communistic literature and the arrest of eight persons, the case against whom had not concluded at the end of the month. The literature seized shows that 581 Seymour Road had been used as offices of the "Shanghai Youth Federation," "Support Committee of the Shanghai Three Sealed-up Schools" and "Propaganda Department of the Shanghai Youth Anti-Imperialist League."

In addition, the Municipal Police arrested three persons, one on a charge of disturbing the peace and order within the jurisdiction of the Municipality of Greater Shanghai and two for being in possession of inflammatory literature with intent to distribute. These were ordered by the Provisional Court to be handed over to the Chinese authorities, together with another who was arrested in May for being responsible for the distribution of the "Shanghai Pao" a communistic newspaper which conducted an insidious propaganda against anything constituting law and order and aims at undermining the loyalty of the Chinese and Sikh members of the Shanghai Municipal Police. On May 31 it published a manifesto issued by the May 30 Incident Commemoration Preparatory Committee addressed to the Chinese policemen of the Shanghai Municipal Police reminding them that they had come to Shanghai to earn a living and not to act as the "teeth" and "claws" of the Imperialists nor to assist the foreigners in their oppression of the Chinese people.

Two vendors of the "Shanghai Pao" were sentenced to two months' imprisonment and five others to fines ranging from $10 to $20. Labour.—There were in Shanghai during the month 27 strikes of which the following 16 affected the Settlement: — Nanyang Printing Co., No. 435 Kiukiang Road.—40 Employees struck work on June 6 demanding reinstatement of two of their colleagues who were dismissed for gambling on May 31, but resumed four days later after the management had acceded to their request. British Cigarette Co., No. 17 Thorburn Road.—About 700 night-shift operatives stopped work at 8.30 p.m. June 14 as a protest against the reduction in wages in proportion to working hours but resumed unconditionally two hours later after 16 agitators had been paid off. Tuck Tai Iron Works, No. 734 Point Road.—120 employees ceased work on June 27 demanding reinstatement of three dismissed workers and were still out at the end of the month. *W. For a reason of a similar nature 40 of them struck again on June 20. Hongkew Park Coolies.—100 coolies employed in Hongkew Park ceased work on June 23 as a protest against the decrease of $0.10 per day from their wages, but resumed unconditionally on the following day. Experimental Garden on Cresent Avenue Yu Yuen Road.—Ten gardeners went on strike on June 24 in sympathy with the No. 1 gardener who was dismissed for unsatisfactory work and were replaced by new hands on the following day. Shanghai Tramway Co., Whasiang Road Depôt.—As a result of the company's refusal to entertain a claim for proportionate New Year bonus made by ten temporary workers, who had been notified that their services would terminate at the end of the month, 380 employees in the Depôt ceased work on June 25, but resumed on the following day when the manager dispensed with the services of the temporary hands and gave each of them a gratuity of two weeks' wages. A. B. C. Press, No. 45 Kukiang Road.—80 workers who struck on May 22 resumed on June 12 after the management had promised to pay them one fourth of their wages for the period of the strike. Feng Shun-jen Drug Shop, No. 28 Hankow Road.—40 employees ceased work on June 12 demanding increase of their bonus from $2,800 to $4,300 which sum is divided among them at the Dragon Boat Festival every three years but resumed on June 16 after the management had agreed to their demand. Cantonese Drug Shop Employees.—About 120 employees of 15 Cantonese drug shops went on strike on June 9 demanding increase in wages and better treatment but resumed on June 27 after the management gave favourable consideration to their demands. In connection with this strike the Municipal Police arrested 10 shop assistants for compelling the employees of drug shops to go on strike and four for a similar offence at drug shop No. 939 Woochang Road. Six of the defendants were each fined $100 and the remainder $50 by the Provisional Court. Second-hand Clothing Shop Employees.—About 1,000 employees of the local second hand clothing shops, the majority of which are located on Fokien Road, who struck on May 1 had not resumed at the end of June. However, in the latter part of the month, these shops re-opened for business and carried on with the assistance of apprentices. On June 2, the strikers visited a shop at 332 Boulevard des deux Republiques, French Concession, and destroyed some 30 articles of clothing. On June 8, seven strikers assaulted the manager of a second-hand clothing shop 707/8 Fokien Road on Canton Road near Yunnan Road. On June 12 they attempted to prevent three shops on Fokien Road from resuming business but withdrew on the approach of the Police. On June 18 some 30 strikers and 70 apprentices assembled outside a second hand clothing shop at 811 Fokien Road with a view to forcing it to close down, but their object was frustrated by the arrival of the police. On June 19, the Municipal Police arrested at 20 Fokien Road a shop assistant for distributing inflammatory handbills and he was subsequently released by the Provisional Court with a caution. Local Chinese Medicine Shop Employees.—About 3,000 employees of local Chinese medicine shops struck work for one day on June 28 for the purpose of making an appeal to the local Kuomintang Headquarters and the Social Bureau to consider a set of demands which included reinstatement of unemployed workers, introduction of a checking-system of prescriptions, and suppression of a new employees' Union of this trade which was recently established at the Hsueh Waung Miao Temple. On the following day the employees in the trade did not resume and remained out at the end of the month, despite the promise given by the Chinese Authorities that their demands would be considered. On June 29 the local Kuomintang Headquarters and the Social Bureau jointly issued a proclamation urging all workers in this trade to resume work before July 2.

The following eleven labour disputes and one suspension of business occurred in Chinese controlled territory:—

Wharf Coolies.—About 3,170 wharf coolies employed at wharfs in Pootung and Chapei (Soochow Creek) ceased work on June 3 demanding increase of 20 cents per month to offset a levy of that amount imposed upon them by the Reorganization Committee of the Wharf Coolies' Labour Union at Shih Pa Kan, Pootung, but resumed unconditionally on the following day. Chinese Gramophone Shops.—About 200 employees of 17 Chinese gramophone shops in Chapei went on strike on June 24 demanding increase in wages and had not resumed at the end of the month. B. A. T. Pootung Factory.—40 female workers of the Packing Department suspended work on June 3 demanding increase in wages but resumed unconditionally on the following day. 4,000 operatives of this concern struck again on June 4 demanding reinstatement of two of their comrades but resumed on June 8 and 10 respectively after the management had agreed to reinstate the dismissed worker in a week's time and to defray the medical expenses which were incurred by one worker who was injured in a fight on June 4 with Company's watchmen. Shanghai Portland Cement Works, Lunghwa.—500 workers struck work on June 6 demanding that a compensation be paid to the family of one of their number who was assassinated on June 4, but they resumed on June 13 after the management had promised to reconsider their demand. Japan-China Silk Spinning and Weaving Mill, 60 Singapore Road, O. O. L.—200 workers ceased work on June 25 demanding reinstatement of two of their comrades, but resumed unconditionally on June 29 following the arrest by the Chinese police of the Jessfield Station of the three of their number for forcibly preventing workers from resuming. Yung Chong Match Factory, Pootung.—1,200 operatives struck work on June 2 to enforce a demand for double wages for May 9, May 30 and June 1 on which days they did not take a holiday, but resumed on the following day after the management had promised to grant $1.20 to each male and $0.70 to each female worker in lieu of their demand.

Twenty workers employed in the match-stick cutting room of this concern struck again on June 27 demanding that the number of workers in this department be increased during the hot season, but resumed on the following day after the committee of their union had promised to take the matter up with the management. San Sing Cotton and Iron Works, No. 2 Branch, 783 Ward Road.—30 employees of the Iron Department struck work on June 28 as a protest against the alleged ill-treatment by the foremen of the department of one of their comrades but resumed unconditionally on June 30. Longshoremen at the Hwa Tun Wharf.—20 longshoremen employed on this wharf went on strike at 7 a.m. on June 2 demanding that the number of longshoremen be doubled but resumed at 6 p.m. the same day after the management had agreed to increase the number of longshoremen by 50 per cent. This stoppage affected 2,500 wharf coolies. San Yu Industrial Factory, Ward Road, O. O. L.—San Yu Industrial Factory's operatives—60 in number—in the Spinning Department struck work on June 19 demanding employment of four new hands for the purpose of transporting yarn from their department to the Weaving department and resumed on June 21 after the management had agreed that four of them be selected to undertake this work. Silkworm Refuse (Chrysalis) Dealers in Chapei.—300 silkworm refuse (chrysalis) dealers in Chapei suspended business on June 12 to oppose the levy of a 2 per cent. monopoly fee by a new hand named Ho Hsing at Tan Tse Kow, Chapei, but resumed on June 16 after the Chapei Police arrested the proprietor of the hong holding the monopoly obtained from the Magistrate of Paoshanhsien. This monopoly is valid for Paoshansien only and does not extend to the Shanghai area in which the foregoing dealers carry on business. Statistics for the month are as follows:—

Public Health Report for June.

The health of the community was satisfactory during the month, and the death rates among both Foreigners and Chinese, about normal.

Cerebrospinal Fever still continued to decline and only one fresh case occurred among resident Foreigners. The patient was an Indian and the case was fatal. Among non-resident Americans one case occurred.

Among Chinese residents, 20 cases were notified with 10 deaths, and among non-residents 25 cases and 12 deaths. In addition to these, 28 deaths were recorded among resident Chinese by the Sanitation Division.

There was very little Smallpox, only one case occurring among Foreigners, the patient being Japanese. Among the Chinese 3 deaths were recorded.

No case of Cholera was reported in Shanghai but cases were reported from Amoy, Swatow, Canton and Saigon.

During the month 93 persons attended the Public Health Department for advice or Pasteur Treatment for dog-bites.

A pamphlet, in English and Chinese, on the "Prevention of Rabies" is issued gratis by the Public Health Department, and all dog-owners are urged to obtain a copy from 16 Hankow Road or from any of the Branch Health Offices.

The pamphlet gives all necessary particulars about the disease, instructions what to do with suspected animals, and how to act when bitten.

The saliva of animals infected with Rabies may be infective as long as one or even two weeks before outward and visible signs or symptoms of the disease appear, so that even in cases of bites from apparently healthy dogs, it is advisable to treat wounds on the assumption that they are infected, by having them efficiently cauterized, and if wounds are severe, or multiple, or on head, face or neck, hands or wrists, to commence Pasteur treatment pending investigation of the condition of the dog during a fortnight's observation.

Extreme difficulties were experienced by the Public Works Department in the disposal of refuse, by the refusal of the Chinese Public Health Authorities to allow dumping of refuse from the International Settlement on an outlying site where refuse from Chinese territory and from the French Concession was already being dumped. This was a deplorable instance of sacrificing the public health and welfare to the attainment of political ends.

It became necessary to dump the refuse within the settlement, and only the adoption of intensive measures of fly-prevention by the Public Health Department prevented serious detriment to the public health and welfare.

The coming of the summer makes it desirable to revise and readjust our habits concerning food, drink, clothing, exercise and rest.

Hot and humid climates, like that of Shanghai in the summer, are enervating, and make the special senses and the whole nervous system hypersensitive to normal stimuli, thus producing irritability, depression and other forms of malaise. These ill-effects are increased by excess in food and drink, by over-clothing, by too much exercise and by lack of rest and sleep.

Meat should be reduced in quantity and replaced by dairy-produce as milk, eggs and cheese. Abundance of fresh fruit and vegetables is desirable, but bearing in mind the dangers inherent in local conditions, care should be taken that all fruit is cleansed and sterilized by boiling water. If alcohol is taken at all, it should be well-diluted and after sundown.

Severe strictures have recently been made in medical circles on the cocktail habit.

Cocktails contain aromatic and irritant essential oils as well as about 15—30 per cent. of alcohol, and the chief danger lies in the effect these essential oils have in causing rapid absorption of the alcohol from the empty stomach, and its consequent rapid and powerful effect on the central nervous system.

The continuous use of cocktails injures the mucous membrane of the stomach and leads to disorders of digestion, irritability of the heart, sleeplessness, nervous exhaustion and other evils.

Clothing should be loose and light. Loosely woven cotton or linen underclothing is the best. The fibres are smooth and unirritating; they absorb moisture quickly and part with it quickly, thus promoting efficient and constant action and ventilation of the skin. Silk is less absorbent, wool still less so; the fibres of wool, imbricated like tiles upon a roof, cause irritation and increase the tendency to prickly heat.

Exercise is best taken in the early morning or the late afternoon. It should be pleasurable and stimulating, and moderate enough not to cause fatigue; it should be followed by a warm bath, and a rub down with cold sponge or a tepid shower. Early hours and ample sleep are great safeguards of the nervous system. The way of enlightened moderation is the way of health.

Here follow Tables of Vital Statistics, Communicable Diseases and of the work of the Food, Dairies and Markets Division, Sanitation Division, Tuberculosis and Venereal Diseases Clinics and Municipal Laboratories, Hospitals and Slaughterhouse.

C. NOEL DAVIS,
Commissioner of Public Health.

LABORATORY REPORT ON WATER.

Sample of Shanghai Waterworks Water.

Sample received June 26, 1929

Report sent out July 4, 1929

Physical Characters.—Faint yellowish green colour with very slight opacity. Faintly alkaline reaction to litmus.

Chemical Examination.

	Parts per 100,000
Solid matter in Solution	25.0
Appearance on ignition :	No change
*Total Hardness :	13.5
(a) Carbonated (Temporary)	10.5
(b) Non-Carbonated (Permanent)	3.0
Chlorine in Chlorides	4.8
Nitrogen as Nitrates	0.1593
Saline Ammonia	0.0046
Albuminoid Ammonia	0.0070
Poisonous Metals	Nil
Nitrites	Nil
Phosphates	Minute traces
Sulphates	Traces
Oxygen absorbed in 1 hour at 37° C.	0.0541

*Hardness determinations are by acid and alkali; not by soap method.

The amount of chlorides has remained normal. Free chlorine has varied between 0.02 and 0.15 parts per million in samples taken from the laboratory and between 0.00 and 0.08 in samples taken from other points. Nitrites have been absent and saline ammonia figures normal.

Bacteriological Examination.—21 samples of Shanghai Waterworks Water were examined during the month. Of these 4 were taken from the main and 17 from taps in various parts of the settlement. From all the former, coliform organisms were absent in 120 cc quantities; and of the latter, five showed the presence of coliform organisms to the extent of 10, 25, 120, 615 and 365 per cc respectively. None of these were of the B. coli group. These results show the water supplied to be of a high bacteriological standard of purity but there are evidences of local contamination, in these cases probably not of faecal origin.

Report on Analysis.—Results of analyses of water, as it leaves the Waterworks, showed compliance with the requisite standards, and satisfactory purification. Five samples taken from taps gave evidence of local contamination.

Preparation for Summer Planting Season.—Work during the month included the preparation of all ground intended for the reception of plants for decoration purposes in Parks, Gardens and Municipal properties during the summer season.

Roadside trees, particularly in exposed areas, were inspected and, where necessary, work of a re-forcing nature was carried out as a precautionary measure prior to the typhoon season. Pruning to a considerable extent, mainly in lighted thoroughfares, was executed in conjunction with the above, together with the removal of blight, insects, etc., of a destructive nature.

Continued drought necessitated a considerable amount of extra labour for watering purposes in Parks and also for roadside trees situated on paved areas.

Works of a noteworthy nature in the several areas are as follows:—

Jessfield Park.—Design and construction of a formal garden on a site near the north gate.

Extension of the eastern lake together with the provision of a new outfall has been completed.

Water lilies have been inserted and a new landscape aspect effected by the addition of Japanese juniper trees.

Summer houses, shelters, etc., have been rebuilt.

Hungjao and Columbia Nurseries.—An area on the east of Columbia Road near Hungjao Road has been fenced in. This will be utilized for Chrysanthemum rearing and general use as an adjunct to Jessfield Park reserve area.

Works constituting general rearrangement of nursery areas, including provision for eventual grouping of trees and shrubs, together with planning of reservation areas for rearing purposes have been inaugurated.

Tuberculosis Sanatorium.—Work connected with the development of this site approaches completion.

Areas for Sporting Facilities.—All available space in the Hongkew Park and the Public Recreation Ground has been assigned for the summer season for purposes of tennis, baseball, cricket and lawn bowls, constituting accommodation for one hundred and twelve clubs, utilizing one hundred and sixty tennis courts, seven lawn bowling greens, two baseball pitches and several areas for cricket.

Public Garage Licences.

The subjoined correspondence serves to illustrate the Council's intention to refuse the issue of public garage licences in respect of premises so located as to render the operation of a hire service therefrom detrimental to general traffic interests:—

Shanghai, July 4, 1929.

SIR,—Before applying for the permit for reverting the two houses in Siking Road on Cadastral Lot No. 178, Central, into garage, I hereby beg to enquire whether there is any objection to any of your Departments concerning the issue of the licence for this garage.

Attached I beg to send you herewith the block plan showing the proposed site marked to which I shall be glad to hear from you as early as possible.

Yours faithfully,
THE CENTRAL REALTY CO.

S. M. EDWARDS, Esq.,
Secretary,
Municipal Council.

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, July 9, 1929.

GENTLEMEN,—I am directed to acknowledge receipt of your letter of July 4, enquiring whether the Council will be prepared to issue a licence for a public garage in respect of premises situated upon Cadastral Lot 178, Siking Road.

In reply, I am directed to inform you that the Council is unwilling to issue a public garage licence in respect of these premises, since it is satisfied that the public interest would not be served thereby.

Having regard to the narrow width of Siking Road and to the fact that this road already carries a heavy volume of traffic it is considered that the operation of a garage in the location proposed would result in an aggravation of the existing traffic congestion with the attendant risk of accidents.

I am, Gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
S. M. EDWARDS,
Secretary.

THE CENTRAL REALTY CO.

Shanghai, July 13, 1929.

SIR,—I am in receipt of your letter of 9th instant, in connection with my enquiry whether the Council will be prepared to issue a licence for a public garage in the above premises, for which I am obliged.

I note all you write regarding the congestion of traffic in this vicinity and from this cause the Council is therefore not prepared to issue such a licence.

Under the circumstances, I beg to submit you herewith new plans for the proposed garage to be constructed on this proper'y facing Canton Road, and as this road is much wider than Siking Road and the congestion of traffic will no doubt be greatly relieved, I trust you will be agreeable to issue a licence in this connection.

Thanking you in anticipation,
Yours faithfully,
THE CENTRAL REALTY CO.

S. M. EDWARDS, Esq.,
Secretary,
Municipal Council.

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, July 24, 1929.

GENTLEMEN,—I am directed to acknowledge receipt of your letter of July 13, relative to your application for a public garage licence, wherein you request that, as an alternative to the site which you formerly suggested and which the Council disapproved, approval may be accorded to a site in Canton Road, Cadastral Lot 178, indicated on the plan accompanying your letter.

In reply, I am directed to inform you that traffic considerations, which determined the Council's first refusal, pertain also to the present case, and that on the grounds of the aggravation of traffic congestion which would ensue, the Council is unwilling to entertain any application for licences for garages located in the block bounded by Honan, Canton, Kiangse and Siking Roads.

I am, Gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
J. R. JONES,
Deputy Secretary.

THE CENTRAL REALTY CO.

Electricity Department.

The appended letter of appreciation has been addressed by the Chairman of Council to the Engineer-in-Chief and Manager of the Electricity Department upon the sale and transfer of the undertaking:—

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, August 6, 1929.

DEAR MR. ALDRIDGE,—Upon the sale and transfer of the Council's electricity undertaking the Electricity Department will be severing its direct connection with the Council after a long and meritorious record of thirty-six years of public service. From its small and unpretentious beginning when the Council bought and assumed ownership of the undertaking on August 31, 1893, it has kept equal pace with the advance of science and with the rapid development of Shanghai until to-day on its transfer it is one of the most efficient and prosperous concerns of its kind.

The Council is sensible and desires to convey its keen appreciation of the ability and foresight with which the undertaking has been directed and of the loyalty and co-operation of the whole staff which have combined towards making the undertaking what it is to-day.

Upon their transfer to the employ of the Shanghai Power Company the Council assures the staff that their prospects in regard to remuneration promotion and service have been safeguarded to the fullest possible extent, and in conveying to them its best wishes in the new service the Council is confident that their interests will be fully and adequately protected by their new employers.

I am,
Yours sincerely,
H. E. ARNHOLD,
Chairman.

T. H. U. ALDRIDGE, Esq.,
Engineer-in-Chief and Manager,
Electricity Department.

Shanghai Municipal
Electricity Department.
Shanghai, August 8, 1929.

DEAR MR. ARNHOLD,—I have to acknowledge your letter of the 6th instant in which you very kindly convey, upon the eve of the Electricity Department's severance from municipal ownership, the Council's appreciation of the thirty-six years of public service since the Council assumed ownership, and of its having kept pace with the advance of science and the rapid development of Shanghai.

I am deeply sensitive to the Council's commendation, and the appreciation that the loyalty and co-operation of the whole staff has combined towards making the Undertaking what it is to-day.

May I be permitted, Sir, to say that during the twenty-eight years in which I have had the privilege of directing the development of the Undertaking my task has been made easier by two factors. One is the support of successive Councils when the Department's policy and development programmes have received official sanction, and the very great freedom allowed to me in prosecuting such development—a freedom which I believe to be almost unique in municipal public utility service in any part of the world. The other is the whole-hearted support and help I have received from my staff throughout those years, without which my personal efforts would have been of little avail. I should like to go further and add that it is not loyalty and support alone, but constructive assistance from my staff which has enabled us to raise the Undertaking to the prosperity to which you so generously refer.

Both the staff and myself welcome your assurance that upon the transfer to the Shanghai Power Company the prospects in regard to renumeration, promotion and service have been safeguarded to the fullest possible extent.

In conclusion I respectfully tender, on behalf of the whole of the staff and myself, our deep sense of appreciation and thanks for your letter, a copy of which I am sending to each individual member of the staff.

I am,
Yours sincerely,
T. H. U. ALDRIDGE,
Engineer-in-Chief and Manager.

H. E. ARNHOLD, Esq.,
Chairman,
Municipal Council.

Municipal Properties.

Chengtu Market Site.—Owing to the over-crowded state of Sinza Market it has become necessary to acquire a larger site. The Council has accordingly purchased from Messrs. Atkinson & Dallas, Ltd. for a sum of Tls. 200,000 a portion of Cadastral Lot 1057 Western District measuring Mow 7.550. The new market will be known as the Chengtu Market.

Road Extensions and Widenings.

Tscpoo Road and Tongdongkaloong.—Negotiations have been concluded with Messrs. Spence Robinson & Partners to surrender for the sum of Tls. 10,000 the area of Mow 0.394 required from Cadastral Lot 258 for the scheduled widening of these roads. An area of Mow 0.120 from the same lot required for the widening of Tongdongkaloong has been surrendered free in accordance with Land Regulation VI.

Excerpts from Minutes.

At the meeting of the Public Utilities Committee held on Tuesday, July 30, 1929, at 4 p.m., there are present: Brig.-General E. B. Macnaghten, Chairman, Messrs. H. E. Arnhold, A. D. Bell, C. H. French, K. H. Ling, O. Okamoto, Tsuyee Pei, the Treasurer and Comptroller, and the Deputy Secretary.

The Minutes of the last meeting are confirmed and signed.

At the meeting of the Council held on Wednesday, July 31, 1929, at 4 p.m., there are present: Mr. H. E. Arnhold, Chairman, Brig.-General E. B. Macnaghten, Vice-Chairman, Messrs. A. D. Bell, C. H. French, K. Fukushima, S. L. Hsu, V. G. Lyman, P. W. Massey, G. W. Sheppard, Yu Ya Ching, L. T. Yuan, and the Secretary.

Sale of Electricity Department.—Mr. Sheppard, Chairman of the Special Committee appointed to negotiate the final stages of the agreement for the sale of the Electricity Department, reports that the principal agreement made between the Council and the American & Foreign Power Co., Inc., and the agreements referred to as Exhibits "A", "B", "C", and "D" were finally approved at a meeting held on Monday. Exhibit "E" being the formal conveyance of the physical assets of the Electricity Department has now been agreed upon by all parties and returned to the Council with the signatures of the Legal Advisers of both the Council and the purchasers.

As a matter of interest he alludes to the salient features of the agreements. As a guarantee for payment of the purchase price the American & Foreign Power Co., Inc., have supplied an irrevocable letter of credit for Tls. 30,000,000 on the National City Bank of New York expiring on June 30, 1930. A satisfactory arrangement has been reached regarding the basis of taxation under which the Shanghai Power Company will enjoy the same privileges in this respect as the Municipal Electricity Undertaking and will not be called upon to pay additional taxation solely for the reason that it functions as a Public Utility Company. The purchasers have agreed to inclusion of a stipulation that all plant required for the supply of power to the Settlement shall be situated within Settlement limits. A limitation has been placed on the assignability of the franchise and a clause safeguarding the Council's interests has been inserted in Exhibit "E" being the formal conveyance of the title to the physical assets.

He, therefore, recommends that the Council approves and accepts the terms of the agreements as now agreed.

The Chairman then moves adoption of the following resolution, and this is seconded by Mr. Massey and carried unanimously.

"That the agreements between the Council and the American & Foreign Power Co., Inc., on behalf of itself and its associates referred to as the International Group and the Exhibits "A", "B", "C", "D" and "E" thereto being the agreements between the Council and the Shanghai Power Company entered into by virtue of the resolution passed by the ratepayers at the Annual Meeting held on April 17, 1929, be approved and duly executed on behalf of the Council and published in the Municipal Gazette."

Mr. Sheppard adds that arising out of the above decision the Treasurer and Comptroller has been in consultation with the Council's Legal Adviser on the question of the appointment of Trustees for Debenture Holders and the Superannuation Fund. This matter was mentioned at the Special Committee last Monday, when it was decided to refer the memorandum prepared by the Treasurer to the Chairman of Council. The Chairman states that he has already discussed and will go further into this question with the Treasurer and Comptroller during the recess.

On behalf of the Council the Chairman thanks Messrs. Sheppard and Massey for their services in connection with the negotiations which have resulted in agreement being reached between the two parties. He will also address a letter to Mr. Burkill expressing the Council's appreciation of and thanks for the services rendered by him in this respect.

Special consideration will, however, be given to applications of new comers who can furnish proof of their intention to reside in Shanghai.

Forms of admission for new pupils may be obtained on written application to the Heads of the respective schools and should be presented by the new pupils when attending at the Schools for examination and classification on Friday, September 6, between 9 a.m. and 12 noon.

Heads of Schools will be pleased to interview parents on Wednesdays between the hours of 2 and 3 p.m. on matters affecting the welfare of their children.

The Cinema at the Public School for Boys will be in operation during the year and the Headmaster takes this opportunity of inviting parents to see for themselves the value of the Cinema as an aid to education.

Payment of Dues.

Attention is directed to the ruling of the Council that all school fees are payable in advance. Parents are accordingly requested to pay their children's fees on the days noted below, when the division of each school for purposes of fees collection will be as follows:—

Public School for Boys:—

1st School day in the month 8.30 a.m. Forms VI, V, IV.

2nd School day in the month 8.30 a.m. Forms III, II.

3rd School day in the month 8.30 a.m. Forms I, Preparatory and new pupils.

1st School day in the month 9 a.m. Kindergarten and Transition.

2nd School day in the month 9 a.m. Forms I, II, and new pupils.

Thomas Hanbury School for Boys:—

1st School day in the month 1.30 p.m. Forms VI and V.

2nd School day in the month 1.30 p.m. Forms IV and III.

3rd School day in the month 9 a.m. Forms II, I, and new pupils.

Thomas Hanbury School for Girls:—

1st School day in the month 1.30 p.m. Forms VI and V.

2nd School day in the month 1.30 p.m. Forms IV and III.

3rd School day in the month 1.30 p.m. Forms II and I.

4th School day in the month 9 a.m. Kindergarten, Transition, and new pupils.

Parents are specially requested to ensure prompt payment of fees on the first four days of each month in accordance with the scheme outlined above, as the payment of fees by children at unauthorized times throughout the month seriously embarrasses class work in the Schools. Accordingly, pupils whose fees remain unpaid after the period of fees collection outlined above are liable to be debarred from further attendance.

The attention of parents is drawn to the following:—

(a) In the case of two or more children of one family attending separate Council Schools the fees for each child should be paid to the school at which the child attends.

(b) The Council disapproves the practice of young children personally conveying money for fees to school, and would prefer that fees be paid by cheque, chit book, or registered post. However, it would appear that this matter is one for the parents' own decision and responsibility, and is accordingly beyond the Council's control.

(c) Parents are reminded that on all occasions before a child is withdrawn from a Council School a month's notice must be given in writing to the Headmaster or the Headmistress. Non-compliance with this rule renders parents liable to a charge of a month's fee in default. The withdrawal of a child from school at the end of a term does not negative this Rule.

By order,
S. M. EDWARDS,
Secretary.

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, June 27, 1929.

Shanghai Mutual Telephone Co., Ltd.

In view of the complaints received as to the unsatisfactory service rendered by the Shanghai Mutual Telephone Co., Ltd., the Council has given the most careful consideration to the position which has arisen in the affairs of the Company both as regards present service and future development.

The directors and officials of the Company have placed before the Council their proposals for immediately improving the service. As a matter of immediate urgency it has been decided to recondition all outside lines in the Central district at very great expense and arrangements have been made to obtain foreign and Chinese experts to take this work in hand forthwith and whilst some improvement may be anticipated from September next the whole system is confidently expected to be brought to a fully satisfactory condition by June 1930.

The Council is satisfied with the present proposals of the Telephone Company and that all possible measures are being and will be adopted with a view to obtaining satisfactory service as speedily as is consistent with a work of this magnitude.

The question of the future development of the Company is one that will receive the most careful attention. Financial offers have recently been received by from more than one quarter and are being investigated informally by the officials of the Council and the Company with a view to their being submitted to the Council for consideration at a more mature stage. Having regard to the terms of the franchise no offer will be accepted except on such terms as may be mutually agreed by the Council and the Company to be in the best interests of the subscribers to the service, as ensuring the most economical and efficient administration of the Company.

The proposal for the adoption of a message rate is not before the Council and therefore does not at present arise, but the Council desires to give its assurance that if at any time such a scheme is submitted the interest of the subscribers will be given the fullest consideration. In the meantime, however, it is considered that all efforts should be concentrated upon the establishment of a fully satisfactory service.

The appended correspondence between the British Chamber of Commerce and China Association Committee and the Council on the subject of the Shanghai Mutual Telephone Co., Ltd., is published for general information:—

British Chamber of Commerce and China Association Committee, Shanghai.
Shanghai, June 22, 1929.

SHANGHAI MUTUAL TELEPHONE CO., LTD.

DEAR SIR,—I am requested by my Committee to call your attention to the remarks made by Mr. C. M. Bain, Chairman of the Shanghai Mutual Telephone Co., Ltd., at the Annual General Meeting held on Tuesday last, June 18, 1929.

MR. BAIN said:—

"In the report issued by the directors, mention was made of the necessity of giving serious consideration in the near future to the question of the introduction of 'message rate' as the basis of charging for telephone service instead of the existing 'flat rate.' This question has had the very serious consideration of your directors and it has been decided that the 'message rate' is the only equitable rate of basing charge. Negotiations have been commenced with the Shanghai Municipal Council and the French Municipal Council with a view to carrying out this decision and the principle has been submitted for their approval with as full particulars as can be given at the present stage. Whilst your directors are given to understand that the proposal finds favourable consideration in principle, (the fullest details will be placed before the two Councils before any change is effected) no final decision can be arrived at for the present.

"'Message rate' is not a new factor in telephone service but is the recognized basis of charge upon which almost all telephone administrations in the world calculate their rates. In fact, Shanghai is one of the very few services charging a flat rate.

"The adoption of so important a change will have the effect of equalizing the distribution of the traffic load and, by eliminating unwarranted calls, increase the capacity and quicken the facilities essential for service and will also eventually lead to a reduction in rates to a large number of subscribers."

My Committee is of the firm opinion that the adoption of the "message rate" will not only not have the effect of "increasing the capacity and quickening the facilities essential for service," but on the contrary will probably result in frequent disputes between subscribers and the Company as to the number of calls to be charged, as even in cities as well organized as London, were the absence of language difficulties lessens chances of error, disputes are by no means infrequent. Moreover, my Committee is of opinion that the adoption of this system at the present time would be prejudicial to the interests of commercial and other subscribers.

My Committee is of the opinion that the service is now worse than at any time in the history of the Company, and though the explanation given by the Chairman must be accepted that the bad service is due entirely to the change over from the manual to the automatic service, desire to point out that from time to time the Telephone Company has made excuses for the poor service offered to subscribers, complaints against which were the subject of strongly worded letters addressed to the Shanghai Mutual Telephone Company by the British and French Chambers of Commerce in May, 1919, and to the Shanghai Municipal Council by the American Chamber of Commerce at the same time. During the ten years that have elapsed since those letters were written, no progress towards efficiency has been made: on the contrary, the service appears to have deteriorated.

My Committee, therefore, is strongly of opinion that until a much more satisfactory service is given by the Telephone Company, the Municipal Council should not give its sanction to the imposition of the message rate, but on the contrary, my Committee suggests that the Telephone Company be called upon to give effect to Clause 3 of the agreement between the Shanghai Municipal Council and the Telephone Company of 1925, which reads as follows:—

3. EFFICIENCY OF SERVICE.

"In consideration of the premises the Company shall provide and maintain a first-class Telephone Service including all reasonable modern inventions within the Settlement and shall execute all necessary work with due care and in accordance with the rules of art and with modern practice. Provided that if the Company shall in the opinion of the Council fail at any time to faithfully discharge all or any of the obligations imposed upon the Company by this or any other clause in this Agreement, the Council may at once require the question as to whether or not the Company has faithfully discharged or is faithfully discharging its obligations to be referred to arbitration under Clause 27 hereof. And provided further that if one-third of the Company's subscribers shall at any time make complaint to the Council with regard to the inefficient working of the Company's service the Council shall if they consider the complaint warranted, be entitled to refer the matter of such complaint to arbitration under Clause 27."

Yours faithfully,
P. CAMPBELL,
Secretary.

S. M. EDWARDS, Esq.,
Secretary,
Municipal Council.

The above representations were endorsed by the American, French, German, Italian, Japanese, Netherlands and the Shanghai General Chambers of Commerce.

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, August 21, 1929.

SIR,—Further to the Council's letter to you of July 3, I am now directed to inform you that the Council has given the most careful consideration to the representations of the British Chamber of Commerce and China Association Committee in their letter of June 22, 1929, as endorsed by the various Chambers of Commerce in Shanghai on the subject of the Shanghai Mutual Telephone Co., Ltd.

It is realized that a serious position has arisen in the affairs of the Company both as regards service and the problem of future financing. This condition of affairs is considered to be primarily due to the fact that the extraordinary growth and development of the Foreign Settlement and the French Concession in recent years and the enormous and unexpected growth in the number of Chinese subscribers had not been foreseen and anticipated and that the system and resources of the Company adapted for the needs of a small community are subjected to excessive strain in the endeavour to cope with present and future developments. The limitation of the tariff period to five years is also felt by the Company to some extent to have restricted its financial freedom. Moreover the functioning of the automatic system in conjunction with the existing overhead lines has proved unsatisfactory and the overhead system is in immediate need of being overhauled.

In view of these facts and the urgency of remedial measures your suggestion that the question whether or not the Company has faithfully discharged or is faithfully discharging its obligations should be referred to arbitration in pursuance of Clause 3 of the Telephone Agreement is not considered likely to serve any useful purpose as an arbitration necessitating expert evidence would be likely to delay the immediate adoption of the Company's plans and moreover provides no remedy.

The directors and officials of the Company have placed before the Council their proposals for remedying the service. As a matter of immediate urgency it has been decided to recondition all outside lines in the Central district at very great expense and arrangements have been made to obtain foreign and Chinese experts to take this work in hand forthwith and whilst some improvement may be anticipated from September next the whole system is confidently expected to be brought to a fully satisfactory condition by June 1930.

The Council is satisfied with the present proposals of the Telephone Company and that all possible measures are being and will be adopted with a view to obtaining satisfactory service as speedily as is consistent with a work of this magnitude.

The question of the future development of the Company is one that will receive the most careful attention. Financial offers have recently been received from more than one quarter and are being investigated informally by the officials of the Council and the Company with a view to their being submitted to the Council for consideration at a more mature stage. Having regard to the terms of the franchise no offer will be accepted except on such terms as may be mutually agreed by the Council and the Company to be in the best interests of the subscribers to the service as ensuring the most economical and efficient administration of the Company.

The proposal for the adoption of a message rate is not before the Council and therefore does not at present arise, but I am directed to assure you that if at any time such a scheme is submitted the interest of the subscribers will be given the fullest consideration. In the meantime, however, it is considered that the primary endeavour of the Telephone Company and the first concern of the Council should lie in the establishment of a fully satisfactory service.

I am, Sir,
Your obedient servant,
S. M. EDWARDS,
Secretary.

Crime.

Armed crime continues to decrease. Reports of armed robberies received during the month are the lowest recorded for any single month during the last two years. The return for this particular class of crime shows a decrease of 50 cases on the number of reports received during the month of July 1928, and a decrease of 68 on the number recorded during the corresponding month in 1927.

Murder and Attempted Murder. During the month six murders were committed in the Settlement. Brief details of these crimes are as follows:—

On July 5 the body of an unknown male Chinese bearing a number of bullet wounds about the head and face was found in the Yue Foh Lee, off Avenue Edward VII. The motive for this murder has not yet been discovered. On July 9 a member of the Russian Invalids' Union, Range Road, was stabbed by a fellow member during a quarrel and succumbed on July 13. His assailant is at present on remand on a charge of murder. On July 23 a Chinese was shot dead on Markham Road. Two men arrested later in connection with a case of kidnapping stated that deceased was a member of the same gang and had been murdered by his confederates during a dispute. On July 23 the leader of a small loafer gang was assaulted by members of a rival gang in an alleyway off North Chekiang Road and was fatally wounded. On July 29 the body of an unknown male Chinese was found on a piece of vacant ground off Haiphong Road. The body bore two deep wounds, one on the head and one in the back, probably inflicted with an axe or chopper. The motive for this murder remains undiscovered. On July 30 a Chinese police sergeant, attached to Central Station, was shot and mortally wounded by a Chinese watchman whom he had reported on several occasions for neglect of duty. His assailant is at present on remand awaiting trial.

Three cases of murder outside Settlement limits were also recorded. On July 6 an unknown Chinese female was shot dead in the Nyi Ka Zah alleyway off Jessfield Road. On July 8 a coolie foreman employed by the Oriental Oil Company was shot dead on a small island in the Whangpoo River, off Tinghai Road. On July 26, three men, one armed with a pistol and two with iron bars called upon a farmer residing off Brenan Road and requested him to accompany them. He consented and on reaching the roadway was shot dead. The murder was the outcome of a debt transaction.

One case of attempted murder was reported in the Settlement, when an Indian was attacked by unknown assailants while sleeping in the compound of his place of employment and sustained severe injuries to the head. No motive for the attack has so far been established.

Nineteen persons arrested during the month on charges of murder and attempted murder were dealt with. Seven were handed over to the Chinese authorities for offences committed in territory under Chinese jurisdiction and during their trial they admitted complicity in no less than nine murders of political significance committed in the Settlement during the last 18 months. Five were sentenced to death and executed and two were sentenced to long terms of imprisonment while the remaining 12 are still on remand.

Armed Abduction.—On July 3 a Chinese mill manager proceeding along Temple Lane in his motor car was held up by armed men who took possession of the car and after forcing the Chauffeur and his assistant to alight drove off with their victim. The abducted man returned to his home four days later and stated that he had escaped from a boat on the Soochow Creek. On July 17 a Chinese sugar merchant was abducted in his own car outside the Great Eastern Hotel by five men, three of whom were armed. He returned home on July 27 and stated that he had made his escape when his guards were drunk but was unable to give any idea as to where he had been detained. The statements made by both are considered doubtful and it is suspected that ransom was paid in each case. A Chinese boy, aged 11 years, who was abducted from his home in Yu Yang near Hangchow on July 4, was rescued by police on July 26 from a house in Markham Road. On July 18 a gang of 50 bandits raided a group of houses in Sungkiang and abducted 10 persons whom they placed under guard in a boat on the Whangpoo River and later took to the eastern part of the Settlement. The rescue of the party was effected by the police on July 28.

Fifty-eight persons were arrested in connection with armed abduction during the month. One report of armed abduction was received and five persons arrested in connection therewith.

Armed Robbery. — Twenty-one cases of armed robbery were recorded during the month; 19 were from premises and two on the highway, a decrease of 50 compared with the corresponding period of last year. An attempted armed robbery was also reported which was frustrated by an alarm being raised and one of the robbers arrested.

In regard to the foregoing and reports of armed robberies occurring prior to July 1, 41 persons were arrested. In addition one robber was shot dead by the police while resisting arrest. One suspected robber was also wounded by the police but made good his escape.

Two cases of unarmed robbery on the highway were also reported.

Possession of Firearms.—Seven persons, including two foreigners, were arrested for this offence during the month; two were fined, three sentenced to imprisonment, one released and the other is still on remand.

Threatening Letters.—Three persons were arrested for offences of this nature during the month.

Counterfeiting.—On July 22 a raid was made on a counterfeiters' den in Hardoon Road. Fifteen persons were arrested and a large quantity of paraphernalia for the manufacture of counterfeit notes was seized. Among the articles found were printing machines, coloured inks, cameras and photographic accessories, copper plates and a quantity of unfinished counterfeit notes. In addition, ten persons were arrested in possession of and attempting to utter counterfeit money.

Hua Hui Lottery.—Seventy-four persons were arrested for taking part in Hua Hui Lotteries during the month.

Executions.—Eleven persons were executed by the Chinese authorities for murder and armed kidnapping after being sentenced in the Provisional Court.

Miscellaneous.—A case bearing unusual features claimed the attention of the public during the month. On July 28 the police learned that shooting had taken place in a certain house the previous evening. On investigation it was ascertained that a Chinese had discharged an automatic pistol, resulting in the death of his wife, and that the deceased woman's body had been coffined and taken to a Guild in Connaught Road. The coffin was removed from the Guild to the Mortuary but permission to open it was refused by the Coroner until August 6 when it was opened and an inquest held. A charge of negligently causing death has been preferred against the husband.

Suicides.—Nine persons, including two foreigners, committed suicide during the month. In addition three persons attempted suicide, two were foreigners and the third a Chinese constable.

Property stolen.—During the month 364 reports of property stolen were received, representing an estimated loss of $102,235.01. These are comprised as follows: 14 cases of burglary, 5 of house-breaking, 5 of shop and office breaking, 3 of garage and factory breaking, 6 of fraud, 1 of embezzlement, 1 of misappropriation, 4 of extortion and 322 of larceny. In comparison with the corresponding month of 1928, this shows a decrease of 54 cases. Successful investigations were made in 258 cases, resulting in the recovery of property valued at $24,011.76. Included in these figures are 83 arrests for pocket picking and snatching, 62 being persons identified as old offenders.

Finger Print Bureau.—During the month of July 1929 the total number of records received by the Bureau for identification was 2,102. This shows an increase of 299 compared with last month and an increase of 599 on the corresponding month of last year. This is the largest number of records received by the Bureau during any single month since the inauguration of the finger print system here.

POLITICAL.

Anti-Soviet (Communist) Agitation.—The main political feature during the month was an intensive anti-Soviet (Communist) campaign conducted under the auspices of the Kuomintang which developed by degrees as the relations between the two countries became more disrupted and culminated in an anti-Soviet mass meeting on July 29, when about 10,000 persons consisting of Kuomintang members, shop assistants and labourers, congregated at the Public Recreation Ground to demonstrate their anti-Soviet sentiments. Speakers at this meeting denounced the Soviet and Communism in unmistakable terms and urged the audience to abide by the Three Peoples Principles. It is significant that at a simple order of the Kuomintang about 90,000 workers suspended work, they being promised that regular pay would be issued to them for that day. Meetings were held from the date of rupture of diplomatic relations and at several of them resolutions were passed urging the National Government to declare war on Soviet Russia, that an apology be demanded from Soviet Russia and the Chinese merchants held in custody by the Soviets be released, that the export of food to the Soviet be prohibited and that drastic measures be adopted against Communists. The Federation of Street Unions urged that 100,000 bags of flour and a fund amounting to $10,000,000 be raised for the creation of a "National Army" and that a special merchants' army be organized. One of the many resolutions urged that the Soviet aggression upon China be brought to the notice of the League of Nations. These resolutions were passed during meetings in the Chinese General Chamber of Commerce, North Honan Road, the Young Men's Lecturing Group Society, Nantao, Keng Sing Theatre, Chapei, at Pootung and Kiangwan during the anti-Soviet campaign from July 24 to 26 inclusive. The meetings were supplemented by open air lectures and the posting of posters and the hoisting of white cloth flags and banners, denouncing vehemently the Russian Red Imperialists. On July 25 some 30 students from Hangchow, male and female, made an anti-Soviet (Communist) demonstration at the corner of Nanking and Chekiang Roads by shouting the slogan "Overthrow the Communists" and scattering small handbills advocating punitive measures against the Soviets. Eleven of the demonstrators who persisted in carrying on their campaign to the detriment of traffic at this crossing were arrested but later released with a caution.

Communism. — Simultaneously with the firm stand of the Kuomintang against the U.S.S.R. and Communism in general the Chinese Communist Party and its dupes—the misguided students—continued to disseminate their criminal propaganda against anything constituting law and order, although fortunately, it must be stated at the outset, with no success whatever. Communistic slogans in the form of handbills and writings chalked on the walls in the various areas were the order of the day. These activities were supplemented by anti-imperialistic and anti-Kuomintang meetings and minor demonstrations in the International Settlement.

July Anniversaries. — Members of the local Kuomintang and affiliated organizations held services in commemoration of the 4th anniversary of the establishment of the Nationalist Government at Canton (July 1), the 2nd anniversary of the inauguration of the Municipality of Greater Shanghai (July 7) and the 3rd anniversary of the commencement of the anti-Northern Expedition (July 9).

Anti-British Movement. — The announcement of the sentence of one year's imprisonment passed by a British Court-Martial on Private Price in connection with the so-called Chang Hsueh-liang's case caused widespread agitation by the Chinese, both civil and official, and at meetings which were called to discuss this matter, resolutions were passed urging that protests be lodged against the alleged inadequacy of the sentence and that capital punishment be demanded.

Anti-Japanese Movement.—Kuomintang members attempted to revive the movement against this country in connection with the Sino-Soviet issue because of the action of Japan in sending additional troops to Manchuria to safeguard her interests. At meetings resolutions were passed demanding strict neutrality on the part of Japan and urging the National Government to lodge protests against the infringement of China's air sovereignty by Japanese aeroplanes in Manchuria and Mongolia and against the damaging by the Japanese Police of a certain portion of the North Peak Branch Line of the Chinese Railway in Fengtien. The 3rd District Kuomintang Branch urged the Ministry for Foreign Affairs in connection with the sinking of the s.s. Hsinkong by the Japanese steamer Ryuno Maru off the Shantung Promontory to demand from Japan that the victims' families be compensated, an apology to the National Government and restoration of China's inland navigation rights.

Anti-French Protest.—The Kuomintang lodged a protest against the erection of three wireless stations in the French Concession which they regard as a trespass on the national rights of China.

Anti-Italian Agitation. — The Kuomintang raised objection to the police of this country in forbidding the hoisting of the national flags by Chinese emigrants in Italy. Further protest was lodged with the Consular Body against the alleged interference with the Judges by the Italian Deputy.

Anti-American Agitation. — The Kuomintang urges a revision of the agreement regarding air mail in order to maintain China's air sovereignty. A resolution was also passed urging that means be devised to prohibit marines landing at Pootung.

Agitation for the Restoration of the International Settlement and for the Abolition of Consular Jurisdiction. — Kuomintang propagandists devoted much energy and attention in tuning up the Chinese community to an anti-foreign enthusiasm which existed in 1926 and no doubt would have succeeded in a far greater measure had the Sino-Soviet dispute not arisen. In furtherance of this movement they arranged a special campaign between July 11 and 18. Meetings and lectures were arranged both in the International Settlement and Chinese controlled territory. In the Settlement the meetings were held in the Bubbling Well Temple, the Fei Hung Primary School, 1215-A. Boone Road and in the Ningpo Fellow-Countrymens' Association and in the Chinese controlled territory, the Chinese General Chamber of Commerce, North Honan Road, the Great China University, 30, Kiaochow Road, and the Orpheus Theatre, 136 Jessfield Road, and were attended by persons almost exclusively Kuomintang members, numbering from 60 to 600. The meetings were characteristic of the stereotyped anti-foreign tenour which attributes all sufferings and unhappiness in China to the existence of the Foreign Settlements. Hsu Hsin-ch'u, a propagandist of the 3rd Kuomintang district, stated on one of these occasions that as a result of the economic invasion by imperialists for over 100 years the control of railways, Customs and the Postal Service are still in the hands of foreigners, and out of this aggression grew the incidents of May 30, 1925, and the death of Chang Hsueh-liang. Among the literature distributed during the meetings was a broadsheet entitled "The Special Issue for the Restoration of the Settlement" containing 15 accusations, principal amongst which are gambling and prostitution.

In furtherance of the agitation for abolition of Consular jurisdiction the Kuomintang held a meeting on July 27 in the Young Men's Lecturing Group Society, Small West Gate, favouring its abolition and an intimation has been made that Kuomintang Headquarters will resume this propaganda on September 1. At another meeting Kuomintang members urged that the Ministry of Foreign Affairs be instructed to devise measures to prevent the Consular Body from usurping the power of the Provisional Court and forcing the judges to listen indiscriminately to its orders.

May 30 Incident.—At a meeting held on July 7 in the offices of the May 30 Victims Support Committee it was announced that Mr. Yu Yeh-ching had promised to take up negotiations for the issuance of the compassionate grant originally offered in 1925 by the S.M.C. to the relations of the victims. Amongst other resolutions it was decided to ask financial assistance from the National Government, that the Ministry for Foreign Affairs be urged to resume negotiations with the British Authorities on the lines of the 13 demands, that a manifesto be published and that the case be brought before the League of Nations.

Chinese Ratepayers' Association.—At a meeting held on July 25 in the association's offices Wong Hsiao-lan, Chairman of the Chapei Chamber of Commerce, was appointed chairman of this association, vice Feng Shao-shan.

Kuomintang Ban on the "North-China Daily News."—Although members at meetings passed resolutions urging the National Government to grant the people freedom of speech and press, to hold meetings and abrogate all miscellaneous taxes in order to lessen the burden of the people, the ban on the "North-China Daily News" remained in force throughout the month.

Labour.—There were in Shanghai during the month twenty-four strikes, of which the following 16 affected the Settlement:—

The Shanghai Waterworks Company.—410 workers of the Yangtsze-poo Pumping Station struck work on July 25 following the posting by the management of a notice intimating that despite the granting of an increase of wages in accordance with the rise in the cost of living, certain persons in the workshops persisted in causing trouble and that the Company was determined to put a stop to their activities even to closing down the shops. Three days later 200 Chinese employees at the Kiaochow Road reservoir joined the strike. The water service is being maintained by the Company's foreign staff assisted by other foreign auxiliaries.

China Soap Works (British), 92-E Yangtszepoo Road.—Seventy-two female and 436 male employees struck work on July 2 demanding improved working conditions, but resumed unconditionally on July 18.

Wah Cheng Canvas Co., 216 Yochow Road.—140 workers of this concern who went on strike on June 30 to enforce a demand for the purpose of forming a union, but resumed on July 7 after the management had agreed to pay them half wages for the period of the strike. They again struck on July 24 following a refusal of the management to grant them time off for the purpose of enabling them to attend to the affairs of their union, but turned up for work on the following day when the management declared a lockout which was still in force at the end of the month. On July 1, about 100 of the strikers appeared outside the factory premises ostensibly to resume work, but before obtaining permission, they seized a cart loaded with canvas valued at Tls. 330 and forced the coolies in charge to take it to their union at Zoong Wyih Li, Hung Tsung village, off Ying Hsiang Kang. At 3.20 p.m. the same day when attempting to seize another handcart loaded with canvas outside the factory premises, the strikers overpowered a foreign sergeant and two Sikhs from Wayside Station on duty there. The foreign sergeant was thrown into a small creek and the two Sikhs were taken by the workers to the Chinese Sub-Station in Chapei but were subsequently handed over to the Municipal Police by the Sub-Station concerned, with an apology.

P. W. D. Tatung Road Depôt.—Some 170 coolies struck work at 8.50 a.m. July 16, as a protest against the dismissal of 12 comrades owing to lack of work but resumed unconditionally at 8 a.m. July 17.

The following two labour disputes occurred in the French Concession:—

Ordure Coolies in French Concession.—About 800 coolies struck work on the morning of July 21, but resumed on the following day after their contractor had promised to cancel the charge of $1 collected by him for cart repairs and to refund moneys paid to him in respect therefor of the past six months.

The following two labour disputes and one suspension of business occurred in Chinese controlled territory:—

Duty at Places of Amusement amounted to 9,336 hours.

The fires more particularly of note during the month were:—

June 2, 18.07 hrs.—off Robison Road, Beggar Village, Sections of Bubbling Well and Jessfield Sub-Station.—A beggar village between Robison and Singapore Roads was in flames, and had already slightly involved the rear portions of some dwellings. These were quickly attended to, and the fire extinguished. About 254 straw huts were destroyed.

June 6, 9.48 hrs.—s.s. "Shantung" Whatung Wharf, Pootung, Sections of Central and Hongkew Divisions.—Notification was sent to this Department the afternoon before stating that the boat was approximately 100 miles from Shanghai with a fire in No. 2 hold. The crew undoubtedly did excellent work by resorting to steam and other measures and were able to control the fire until their arrival in port. The Customs and Departmental floats were summoned and got to work soon after the vessel berthed at the wharf side. No. 2 hold was found to contain cotton, tobacco leaf and general cargo, which was well alight. After opening the hold and removing a portion of the cargo the fire, which was deep-seated, was reached, although a partial flooding had to be resorted to. The damage to the ship was slight, but to the cargo considerable through fire, smoke and water.

June 16, 1.53 hrs.—Shanghai Mercantile Bank, Ningpo Road, Sections of Central Division.—On arrival it was found that five small fires were burning in various portions of the main office. The damage was small.

June 17, 5.37 hrs.—General Outfitters P. 304 Nanking Road, Sections of Central and Sinza Divisions. This fire started on a small landing about six feet above the ground floor through a Chinese charcoal stove. The fire travelled up the stairs to the first floor, missing the front section, and carried on to the attic and the roof, in which 30 or 40 persons were sleeping. Fortunately they had an alternative means of egress and were able to escape, and when the Brigade arrived at the fire the attic was far past a habitable state, and was a raging furnace. After a short fight the fire was confined and extinguished. A great deal of water damage was avoided on the first and ground floors by the use of Departmental salvage sheets.

June 19, 17.40 hrs.—Rear of 17a, Nanking Road, Godown, Sections of Central Division.—A section of the top floor was well alight, and was menacing this entire block. It was quickly held and extinguished, the damage being comparatively slight. Good work was done in covering up the stock on the ground floor with sheets, thus minimizing the water damage. Difficulty was first experienced, as the top floor was divided into small cubicles.

June 26, 11.40 hrs.—Customs Cruiser s.s. "Hai Shing" Whangpoo River, Sections of Central Division. A transverse coal bunkers was alight. The Customs float responded manned by a section of Central Division. Lines of hose were laid and the coal removed, being damped down when necessary. There was no damage done to the vessel. This fire was discovered at sea and the crew had done good work in keeping it under control until their arrival in port.

There was one Special Call during the month as follows:—

June 2, 00.41 hrs.—32, Yangtszepoo Road, Tien Chang Paper Mill Co., Sections of Yangtszepoo and Hongkew Divisions.—A digesting machine had exploded with terrific force, causing havoc to the surrounding buildings. There was no very great danger of fire, although the utmost care had to be exercised owing to the remaining buildings being in a dangerous condition. Three people were reported missing, and with the assistance of additional acetylene and kerosene flare lamps from Hongkew and Central Divisions a careful search of the debris and ruins was made. One body, that of a woman, was found on the roof of an adjoining building and the bodies of two men were eventually recovered from under a pile of brick work and heavy masonry.

The following inspections were carried out by the Department during the month:—

1. Licences.—

(a) Premises of Applicants for Licences	27
(b) Re-inspection of above	55

2. Licensed Premises.—

(a) Theatres, Cinemas and Places of Amusement	621

5. Public Buildings, Schools, Churches, Hospitals, Municipal Builings	37
6. Pumping Connections	428

In addition, Hydrant Inspections were as follows:—

(b) Private installations	532

160 permits for the discharge and transport of dangerous and/or hazardous goods within the Settlement were granted.

The old store building situated on Hungjao Road frontage, east of Macleod Road, was demolished and provision for storing effected by the erection of a matshed in a masked section of the nursery.

Works in the nature of development for nursery purposes were continued on the site east of Hungjao Cemetery and a large proportion of chrysanthemum stock installed.

Deductions hold good in respect of children of the same family attending any of the Council's schools for foreign children.

Children of non-resident parents, unless already in attendance at the schools, will not be admitted. Non-residence implies residence in Shanghai of less than six month. Special consideration will, however, be given to applications of new comers who can furnish proof of their intention to reside in Shanghai

Forms of admission for new pupils may be obtained on written application to the Heads of the respective chools and should be presented by the new pupils when attending at the Schools for examination and classification on Friday, September 6, between 9 a.m. and 12 ncon.

Heads of Schools will be pleased to interview parents on Wednesdays between the hours of 2 and 3 p.m. on matters affecting the welfare of their children.

The Cinema at the Public School for Boys will be in operation during the year and the Headmaster takes this opportunity of inviting parents to see for themselves the value of the Cinema as an aid to education.

Payment of Dues.

Attention is directed to the ruling of the Council that all school fees are payable in advance. Parents are accordingly requested to pay their children's fees on the days noted below, when the division of each school for purposes of fees collection will be as follows:—

3rd School day in the month 1.30 p.m. Forms II and I.

4th School day in the month 9 a.m. Kindergarten, Transition, and new pupils.

Parents are specially requested to ensure prompt payment of fees on the first four days of each month in accordance with the scheme outlined above, as the payment of fees by children at unauthorized times throughout the month seriously embarrasses class work in the Schools. Accordingly, pupils whose fees remain unpaid after the period of fees collection outlined above are liable to be debarred from further attendance.

The attention of parents is drawn to the following:—

(a) In the case of two or more children of one family attending separate Council Schools the fees for each child should be paid to the school at which the child attends.

(b) The Council disapproves the practice of young children personally conveying money for fees to school, and would prefer that fees be paid by cheque, chit book, or registered post. However, it would appear that this matter is one for the parents' own decision and responsibility, and is accordingly beyond the Council's control.

(c) Parents are reminded that on all occasions before a child is withdrawn from a Council School a month's notice must be given in writing to the Headmaster or the Headmistress. Non-compliance with this rule renders parents liable to a charge of a month's fee in default. The withdrawal of a child from school at the end of a term does not negative this Rule.

S. M. EDWARDS,
Secretary.

Public Health Report for July.

Cholera, which was reported to be present in several coastal towns during June, appeared in the International Settlement during the month for the first time this year.

The first case was notified among the Chinese on the 12th inst. and further notifications were received during the month in gradually increasing numbers.

Confirmation of the diagnosis was made in the Municipal Laboratory on the 17th inst., and the information was sent to the Far Eastern Bureau of the League of Nations at Singapore, the Shanghai Harbour Authorities, the Public Health Authorities of the French Concession and of Greater Shanghai and of the U.S. Public Health Service, the Medical Authorities of the British Navy and Army and of the Japanese Navy.

Among the Chinese altogether 91 cases were notified from Hospitals within the International Settlement, and of these 35 cases came from the International Settlement, three from the French Concession and 53 from the surrounding Chinese districts. One case occurred among resident foreigners, the patient being an Indian.

Public measures for the prevention of Cholera are the following, and in places like Shanghai which are under the control of more than one authority, complete practical co-operation is necessary between the various authorities, to make these measures efficient. They are:—

(1) Education and publicity.
(2) Provision and maintenance of pure water supplies.
(3) Safe and efficient systems of sewage and refuse disposal.
(4) Prevention of breeding and the destruction of flies.
(5) Control of traffic by land and water.
(6) Effective maritime quarantine.
(7) Diagnosis, notification, isolation and treatment of cases.
(8) Control of contacts and carriers.
(9) Disinfection of infected material.
(10) Satisfactory disposal of the dead.
(11) Provision, when necessary, of free prophylactic inoculation.

Personal measures are based upon the fact that every fresh case arises, directly or indirectly, from the infected excretions of a previous case. This is obviously, to a great extent, a matter of the hygiene of the person and of the kitchen, and the safest and surest way to avoid infection is to eat or drink nothing that has not been recently cooked or boiled or otherwise sterilized.

The Public Health Notice, which gives full instructions concerning food and drink, is obtainable on request, from all the Branch Health Offices and from the Public Health Department.

For persons living in, or travelling through, infected regions, and who cannot control and safeguard their food and drink supplies, a prophylactic Cholera vaccine is of special value and will give considerable protection for about a year. Cholera vaccine is procurable from the Municipal Laboratory.

A few fresh cases of Cerebrospinal Fever were notified during the month among residents, three were foreigners, and 10 Chinese. The foreign cases were one British, one Indian and one Filipino.

A fatal case of Bubonic Plague occurred among the foreign crew of the s.s. City of Tokio on the way from Singapore to Shanghai, and the diagnosis was confirmed in the Municipal Laboratory. Preventive measures were immediately put into operation and no further case occurred.

Twenty three cases of primary Benign Tertian Malaria were notified, chiefly from among the British troops stationed in the Western District. For the last thirty years it has been pointed out, year by year in the Annual Reports of the Municipal Public Health Department, that Malaria of the benign tertian type may be contracted in and around Shanghai.

Here follow Tables of Vital Statistics, Communicable Diseases and of the work of the Food, Dairies and Markets Division, Sanitation Division, Tuberculosis and Venereal Diseases Clinics and Municipal Laboratories, Hospitals and Slaughterhouse.

Of the samples from the main supply two contained coliform organisms (80 and 25 per litre). None of these organisms belonged to the B. coli group. One tap sample contained no coliform organisms in 120 c.c.; the other 15 contained 10, 120, 25, 63, 25, 80, 120, 100, 365, 2900, 800, 5800, 10, 120, and 190 per litre; of these, 10 contained organisms of the B. coli group, ranging from 10 to 800 per litre. Four samples contained B. coli communis organisms to the extent of 25, 63, 21 and 80 per litre; two others contained 70 and 800 B. coli communis per litre. Other organisms of coliform group present were either B. aerogenes or were unidentifiable.

Report on Analysis.—Results of analyses of samples of water as it leaves the waterworks, showed compliance with the requisite standards, and satisfactory purification.

Fourteen samples taken from taps gave evidence of local contamination.

Public Works Report for July.

Building development continues very active, a noticeable feature being the demolition of foreign houses situated in large gardens and the erection on the same site of large numbers of Chinese houses or small foreign houses.

In one building scheme a group of five foreign houses, standing in spacious gardens, has been demolished and no less than 183 small houses of the foreign type will be built on the same piece of land.

This type of redevelopment has a direct effect upon the traffic question as it increases the density of population and therefore increases the number of persons per unit of area of road space.

Municipal Properties.—At No. 3 and No. 4 Cell Blocks of the Gaol Extension, the erection of the iron grilles to the cells and to windows is in progress and the internal plastering and finishings are in hand. The whole of the concrete work of the north boundary wall has been completed, and the main entrance gateway is now in course of construction.

At Gordon Road Police Station, the interior finishing of the Cell Block is in hand. The boundary wall on the west side is in course of construction.

Deductions hold good in respect of children of the same family attending any of the Council's schools for foreign children.

Children of non-resident parents, unless already in attendance at the schools, will not be admitted. Non-residence implies residence in Shanghai of less than six month. Special consideration will, however, be given to applications of new comers who can furnish proof of their intention to reside in Shanghai.

Forms of admission for new pupils may be obtained on written application to the Heads of the respective chools and should be presented by the new pupils when attending at the Schools for examination and classification on Friday, September 6, between 9 a.m. and 12 noon.

Heads of Schools will be pleased to interview parents on Wednesdays between the hours of 2 and 3 p.m. on matters affecting the welfare of their children.

The Cinema at the Public School for Boys will be in operation during the year and the Headmaster takes this opportunity of inviting parents to see for themselves the value of the Cinema as an aid to education.

Payment of Dues.

Attention is directed to the ruling of the Council that all school fees are payable in advance. Parents are accordingly requested to pay their children's fees on the days noted below, when the division of each school for purposes of fees collection will be as follows:—

Public School for Boys:—

1st School day in the month 8.30 a.m. Forms VI, V, IV.

2nd School day in the month 8.30 a.m. Forms III, II.

3rd School day in the month 8.30 a.m. Forms I, Preparatory and new pupils.

3rd School day in the month 1.30 p.m. Forms II and I.

4th School day in the month 9 a.m. Kindergarten, Transition, and new pupils.

Parents are specially requested to ensure prompt payment of fees on the first four days of each month in accordance with the scheme outlined above, as the payment of fees by children at unauthorized times throughout the month seriously embarrasses class work in the Schools. Accordingly, pupils whose fees remain unpaid after the period of fees collection outlined above are liable to be debarred from further attendance.

The attention of parents is drawn to the following:—

(a) In the case of two or more children of one family attending separate Council Schools the fees for each child should be paid to the school at which the child attends.

(b) The Council disapproves the practice of young children personally conveying money for fees to school, and would prefer that fees be paid by cheque, chit book, or registered post. However, it would appear that this matter is one for the parents' own decision and responsibility, and is accordingly beyond the Council's control.

(c) Parents are reminded that on all occasions before a child is withdrawn from a Council School a month's notice must be given in writing to the Headmaster or the Headmistress. Non-compliance with this rule renders parents liable to a charge of a month's fee in default. The withdrawal of a child from school at the end of a term does not negative this Rule.

By order,
S. M. EDWARDS,
Secretary.

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, June 27, 1929.

Excerpts from Minutes.

At the meeting of the Library Committee held on Monday, August 26, 1929, at 5 p.m., there are present: Dr. H. Chatley, Chairman, Messrs. C. M. Bain, A. M. Cannan, E. Gordon Lowder, the Librarian, and Mr. A. G. Nugent (for Secretary).

The Minutes of the last meeting are confirmed and signed by the Chairman.

Criticism of the Library in the Public Press.—This meeting has been called to enable members to consider a number of anonymous complaints published in the correspondence columns of the local press.

Card Index System and Catalogue.—These are described by a correspondent as antiquated and complicated. The Librarian informs members that the Dewey System is employed and expresses her opinion that it is a satisfactory system. In response to a member's enquiry, she states that subscribers experience little difficulty in following this system: it is accordingly recommended that it be adhered to.

Working Hours.—The Librarian states that the Library is open from 9 a.m. to 1 o'clock p.m. and from 2.30 to 7 o'clock p.m. except during the month of August when it is closed from 1 o'clock to 4 o'clock p.m. In response to the Chairman's enquiry, the Librarian states that the evening is the most popular time for changing books, the rush hour being about 5 o'clock and that there are few callers during the tiffin interval. After discussion, it is recommended that no alteration be made in the working hours at present.

Insufficient newspapers and newspaper space.—The list of local and home newspapers and magazines furnished by the Librarian is regarded as satisfactory: it is, however, recommended that the "Peking and Tientsin Times" and the "Central China Post" be added to the list. The addition of such further reading boards as may be required is also recommended, these to be installed by the Public Works Department in collaboration with the Librarian.

A number of other minor complaints receive the Committee's attention but are not regarded as calling for specific action.

Municipal Staff.

The fires more particularly of note during the month were:—*July 2, 02.20 hrs. 87 Baikal Road. July 28, 21.16 hrs. 105 Warren Road. Cotton Mill, Special Rated Area; Section of Bubbling Well and Sinza Divisions.—A two storied godown was found to be well alight, and owing to dense smoke entry was difficult. The 1,000 Gallon Merryweather Hatfield Pump was used with good effect in addition to three other pumps. The fire was confined to this godown, although the damage to the building and contents was heavy.

The following inspections were carried out by the Department during the month:—

L. Hsu, V. G. Lyman, P. W. Massey, G. W. Sheppard, L. T. Yuan, Yu Ya Ching, and, J. R. Jones, Deputy Secretary.

At the meeting of the Library Committee held on Monday, September 9, 1929, at 4.30 p.m., there are present: Dr. H. Chatley, Chairman, Messrs. C. M. Bain, A. M. Cannan, E. Gordon Lowder and Mr. A. G. Nugent (for Secretary).

The Minutes of the last meeting are confirmed and signed by the Chairman.

Criticism of the Library in the Public Press.—The Chairman and all members of the Committee have paid individual and unannounced visits to the Library during the past fortnight.

The Chairman states that he was generally satisfied with the conduct and condition of the Library, that he particularly noticed the cleanliness of the various rooms and that his enquiries met with courtesy and prompt attention; Members endorse these views.

Card Index System.—The Chairman states that he has examined the Dewey System in use at the Library. With a view to familiarizing subscribers with the various headings he suggests that a list of the ninety-nine used in the system be printed, that a number of these be posted in prominent positions throughout the Library and that a copy be forwarded to each subscriber with the next monthly list of books. Members endorse this recommendation.

Lighting.—The Chairman comments adversely on the lighting of the book shelves and members recommend that this be improved forthwith.

Opening of the Subscribers' Reading Room and Library on Sundays.—The request of certain subscribers that these be available on Sundays is then considered. After discussion, members direct that enquiries be made from the Librarian as to whether there is a member of the Chinese staff capable of superintending the issue of books between 5 and 7 o'clock p.m. on Sundays. Should this be the case, it is recommended that the Subscribers' Reading Room be available during these hours on Sundays and also that the Library be open for the exchange of books. Subscribers will, however, be notified that this innovation will be of an experimental nature and that its continuance will be dependent on the use made of the facilities provided.

New Books.—Members note that in the case of a special demand for any book, two copies are purchased. It is further recommended that in the case of a particularly strong demand for any new book, a third copy be ordered.

CRIME.

With the approach of shorter evenings householders are warned to take special precautions in the matter of fastenings on doors and windows. Ladders should be kept under lock and key, fences should be overhauled and walls adjoining windows and verandahs made secure against sneak thieves and burglars.

The practice of leaving jewellery and valuables on dressing tables in bedrooms is much to be deprecated especially where verandahs are low and access easy from gardens and adjoining walls.

A considerable number of burglaries and larcenies took place last winter owing to carelessness of householders in leaving open bedroom windows to which easy access was obtainable from verandahs.

Valuable jewellery, whether insured or not, should always be kept in a secure place and the public is particularly requested to assist the Police in this matter.

Reports continue to be received by the Police concerning a Chinese of the student type, dressed in foreign clothes, speaking the local dialect and a little English, who has visited several foreign dwelling houses in the Settlement and stated to the servants that he has been sent by their masters to remove various articles and then has absconded with the property. Householders are requested to warn their servants of this man and if possible detain him and notify the nearest police station.

Murder and Attempted Murder.—During the month one murder was committed in the Settlement. On August 29, two Chinese walking along Tiendong Road were suddenly attacked from behind by a man armed with a knife, both received injuries to which one succumbed on August 30. The assailant, who made good his escape, is believed to be a member of a Workers' Union which the deceased had refused to join.

Two cases of attempted murder were reported in the Settlement. On August 10 a watchman employed at Sassoon House, found a Chinese female suffering from a number of stab wounds lying in a small side room. The coolie employed in the building was arrested and charged with attempted murder. On August 16 a Chinese was attacked in a teashop on Yunnanfang Road by a gang of loafers, four of whom were armed with iron bars and one with a pistol, the latter fired five shots all of which took effect but were not fatal. The attack is suspected to be the outcome of a gang quarrel.

Twenty-seven persons were arrested during the month on charges of murder and attempted murder; of these five were arrested in connection with a murder committed in Pootung.

Manslaughter.—One case was recorder under this heading during the month: On August 1 a quarrel occurred between two male Chinese when one attacked the other with a pair of scissors. During the struggle the man with the scissors received a stab wound which proved fatal.

A male Chinese previously sentenced to death on a charge of murder appealed against his sentence which was reduced to 12 years imprisonment.

Armed Abduction.—Four reports under this heading were received during the month. In one case the wife of a Director of the "Sin Wan Pao" was kidnapped when proceeding along Avenue Dubail in her motor car. The victim returned home on August 23 and stated that she was unable to tell where she had been detained as when being released she was blindfolded, driven some distance in a motor car and then placed in a ricsha. When she removed the bandages from her eyes she found herself on Avenue Dubail. The second case was that of a Chinese boy who when playing outside his home on Ningwu Road was taken away in a motor car by four men. A few days later he was found wandering on Yangtszepoo Road and taken to his home. The third case was that of a Soochow merchant who, on pretext of arranging a business deal, was decoyed to Shanghai by a gang of kidnappers. Upon arrival in Shanghai he was conducted to a place outside Settlement limits where he was detained, finally being released on August 19 after paying a ransom of $1,000. The fourth case occurred outside Settlement limits and was that of a Chinese Customs employee who was proceeding along Great Western Road in a public ricsha when he was held up by four men, three of whom were armed with pistols, forced into a waiting motor car and driven away. No news of the kidnapped man has so far been obtained.

Two convicts sentenced to 16 years imprisonment each on charges of armed abduction were retried by order of the Kiangsu Provincial Government and the original sentence was increased to life imprisonment in each case.

Twenty-seven persons were arrested in connection with armed abduction during the month. In addition to this number two were shot dead while resisting arrest.

Abducted persons released.—The son, nephew and the Secretary of a Chinese ex-official who were kidnapped in May last returned home on August 12. They reported that they had been released from a house in the French Concession as the result of a raid by the French Police. This story proved to be false and it is suspected that ransom was paid. On August 25 Municipal police in co-operation with French police raided a house situated in an alleyway off Route Joseph Frelupt. Sergeant Moir mounted the stairs leading to the room in which the kidnapped man was confined and was immediately met by pistol fire from the guards inside. Although exposed to fire from above this officer continued to advance firing as he went. As a result several persons were wounded, one killed and another died of wounds on the back drying stage while attempting to escape. Sergeant Moir was slightly wounded on the shoulder while mounting the stairs. In all two persons were killed, three badly wounded, two arrested and the kidnapped man released. In this connection eighteen other arrests were effected thus breaking up a very formidable gang of armed kidnappers. Co-operation between the two Forces was excellent.

Armed Robbery.—Twenty-four reports of armed robbery from premises and seven on the highway were received during the month, showing an increase of ten on the preceding month and a decrease of thirty-one on the corresponding period of last year. Three cases of attempted armed robbery was also recorded. In one of these two Indian Watchmen gallantly grappled with one of the armed robbers and, although fired upon and wounded by the man's confederates, kept him in custody until Police assistance arrived. In another instance a man armed with a loaded stick assaulted and attempted to rob a shroff who, however, raised an alarm which resulted in the arrest of his assailant.

In regard to the foregoing and reports of armed robberies occurring prior to August 1, thirty-seven persons were arrested. In addition one man was shot dead in a running gun battle with the police on Thibet Road.

One report of robbery in which no arms were used was received in connection with which one person was arrested.

Armed Hold-up.—Three cases of armed hold-up which occurred outside the Settlement limits were investigated by Settlement police during the month. In each case a public hire motor car was stolen but later recovered. Seven persons were arrested by the Chinese authorities in connection therewith.

Shooting affray.—A faction fight between two Cantonese gangs occurred on August 28 on Range Road. A number of shots were fired and three of the participants were injured and are now in custody.

Property Stolen.— During the month 362 reports of property stolen were received, representing an estimated loss of $223,743.43. As compared with the corresponding period of 1928 there is an increase of seven cases. Successful investigations were made in 197 cases, resulting in the recovery of property valued at $14,942.39. Included in these figures are 73 arrests for snatching and picking pockets, 59 being old offenders. In addition to the foregoing, recoveries to the extent of $7,719.00 were made in connection with cases prior to August 1.

Finger Print Bureau.—During the month of August 1929 the total number of records received by the Bureau for identification was 1,830.

Political.

Communism.—The Chinese Communist Party and their student followers showed considerable activity during the month and in the propagation of their doctrines they aimed at reaching the widest strata of the community. With this object in view they disseminated, in addition to the usual literature, hand-bills in English and Japanese in which they appealed to British, American and Japanese soldiers and sailors in China to prepare to overthrow the war-making capitalist governments and fight for a revolutionary workers' government. Special attention was given to the Chinese Police constables who were called upon to overthrow the Kuomintang and to refuse to be the tools of the Imperialists. Most of the Chinese literature purports to have emanated from the Kiangsu Executive Committee of the Chinese Communist Youth Group and the Shanghai Youths' Imperialistic League and relates to the so-called International Youth movement day (September 1), the Wanhsien incident (September 5), the Chang Hsueh-liang's case and the anniversary of the signing of the Boxer Treaty (September 7). Other pamphlets incite the workers in the silk filatures to go on strike and to demand increased wages and better treatment while the local postal employees are urged to fight the Kuomintang. Among the literature was a hand-bill containing a telegram alleged to have been sent by Madam Sun Yat-sen to the Anti-Imperialistic League, Berlin, in which she denounces the National Government as an ally of the Imperialists. These activities were supplemented by anti-imperialistic and anti-Kuomintang and Government meetings and minor demonstrations in the International Settlement, a brief resume of each of which follows:—

August 1, International Red Day, for the observance of which local communists had made extensive preparations, passed off without any serious disturbance owing to the precautionary measures adopted by the Authorities. The efforts of the communists and their followers were confined to four lukewarm attempts at demonstrating on Nanking Road, Foochow Road, Tiendong and Chapoo Roads junction and North Szechuen Road, although some of the more fiery elements succeeded in smashing several windows in five tramcars. Twenty of the demonstrators were arrested and sentenced to various terms of imprisonment ranging from two years' imprisonment to a fine of $20.

On August 11 about 10.45 a.m. a crowd of 200 Chinese of the student class, who were holding an anti-Kuomintang demonstration on a piece of vacant ground at the junction of Ferry and Macao Road, was dispersed by the Municipal police. A number of banners and a quantity of communistic pamphlets were seized and ten of the demonstrators were arrested. Six were sentenced to 11 months' imprisonment, three to 50 days and one was dismissed by the Provisional Court. Another disturbance occurred on the same day at 11.45 a.m. when another crowd of Chinese students who had congregated near the junction of Pootoo and Tonquin Roads assaulted a Sikh Havildar. The attack, however, was cut short by the arrival of police reinforcements. Two of the trouble-makers were arrested and subsequently fined by the Provisional Court.

On August 28 three Chinese, after alighting from a tramcar on North Szechuen Road near the Chinese Head Post Office, let off a cracker and scattered communistic pamphlets relating to the International Youth Movement Day (September 1) and others in English addressed to "All foreign soldiers and sailors in China," and decamped.

To counteract communistic activities, the Municipal Police in conjunction with the Chinese Police carried out not less than fifteen raids and searches of dwelling houses suspected of being used as communistic bases. The raids resulted in the seizure of a large quantity of communistic literature and documents relating to their organization, in addition to the arrest of nine persons, all of whom were handed over to the Chinese Authorities by order of the Provisional Court after five of them had been sentenced to eight years' imprisoment each for crimes committed in the Settlement. Of the nine persons so handed over, four were executed by the Chinese Authorities on August 30.

The Municipal police also arrested two Chinese and a Korean in connection with the distribution of communistic literature. The Korean was handed over to the Japanese Consular Authorities for trial. Of the two Chinese, one was sentenced to 10 months' imprisonment, while the case against the other was remanded until September 6 by the Provisional Court. A Chinese arrested in July for distributing communistic pamphlets was on August 4 sentenced to three years' imprisonment by the Provisional Court.

Agitation for the Restoration of the International Settlement and for the Abolition of Consular Jurisdiction.—In furtherance of this movement steps were taken by Chinese agitators to organize a "Committee for the Abolition of the Unequal Treaties." Every little incident is being laid at the door of the so-called unequal treaties. The sinking of a Chinese steamer after a collision with a Japanese vessel is also blamed on the unequal treaties which permit the presence of foreign ships in inland waters, the propagandists conveniently overlooking the factor of Chinese seamanship.

Opposition to Board of Arbitration to deal with Labour Disputes in the International Settlement.—A proposal recently made by the Shanghai General Chamber of Commerce for the appointment of a Joint Chinese and Foreign Board to deal with labour disputes in the Settlement roused in the Chinese press vigorous nonsensical protests alleging encroachment of China's sovereign rights. The Kuomintang asserted that the Board would be an illegal institution, its formation was contrary to the order of the National Government relating to labour dispute, that it would harm the progress of the Chinese revolution, cause disturbances and interfere with the peaceful life of labourers and suggested that Chinese sitting on such a mediation board should be severely punished.

Changes in the Administration and other matters of Interest in the Chinese Municipality.—On August 20 and 21 Kuomintang Headquarters exhibited one Tsao Tso-ling, a member of the former anti-Japanese Boycott Association, in a wooden cage in Chapei and the Chinese city. Tsao was arrested by the Chinese Authorities on a charge of receiving a bribe of $3,000 from a Chinese merchant dealing in Japanese goods during the boycott movement.

The Japanese goods seized during the recent boycott movement were sold by public auction by Kuomintang Headquarters between August 21 and 31.

There were in Shanghai during the month fourteen strikes of which the following seven affected the Settlement:—

Oriental Art Goods Ltd., 11 Yuen Ming Yuen Road.—Fifty tailors who struck work on July 30 as a protest against the vigorous discipline resumed unconditionally on August 2.

Wah Cheng Canvas Co., 216 Yochow Road.—The lockout, which was declared on July 24, was called off on August 10 when all workers resumed after the owner had agreed to pay the workers half wages for the period of strike.

China Canvas Manufacturing Co., 272 Hailar Road.—Fifty-two workers were paid off on August 24. The factory temporarily closed down on the same day.

Dah Yeh Printing Factory, 21-A Ford Lane.—Eighty-seven employees struck work on August 27 demanding payment of compensation of two months' wages to a dismissed coolie and were still out at the end of the month.

Great China Printing Company, 174 Alabaster Road.—Eighty workers ceased work on August 28 demanding an increase of wages, payment of arrears of wages and improvement of general working conditions and were still out at the end of the month.

S.M.C. Concrete-Ware Yard, 11 Mingkuo Road.—About 130 workers employed in the S.M.C. Concrete Ware Yard, 11 Mingkuo Road, Yangtszepoo district, struck work on August 21 as a protest against an order to work overtime.

Shanghai Waterworks Co.—441 employees of this concern (Yangtszepoo Pumping Station and the Kiaochow Road Reservoir) who struck work on July 25, resumed unconditionally in several shifts between August 15 and August 28. The Social Bureau of the Chinese Municipality as usual attempted to secure a say in matters by offering to mediate but was informed that the Company was quite able and determined to settle the dispute without outside interference. During the strike members of the Kuomintang distributed in Chinese territory relief money to the extent of $1,000 to the strikers. An active member of the strike committee who was arrested by the Municipal Police on August 9 on a charge of attempting by threat and assault to prevent workers from returning to work was sentenced to 6 months' imprisonment by the Provisional Court.

The following three disputes occurred in Chinese territory:—

Li Ming Match Factory, 346 Pei Soong Yuen Road, Nantao.—About 170 workers struck work on August 5 following their refusal to sign an employment agreement but resumed unconditionally on August 15.

Boat Building Yards at Pootung.—2,000 employees of some 60 Chinese boat building yards at Chang Ka Pang and Yang Ching, Pootung, struck work on July 31 demanding an increase of 10 per cent. in their wages, but resumed on August 4 after they had been granted a flat increase of 4 cents each per day.

B. A. T. New Factory, Pootung.—200 workers in the Design Printing Room struck work on August 15 as a protest against the dismissal of one of their comrades for assaulting during an altercation a Russian supervisor, but resumed on August 23 after the management had granted them some slight concessions.

The following strikes affected all three areas:—

Second Hand Clothing Shops.—1,000 employees in this trade who struck work on May 3, resumed on August 11 and 12 after their employers had granted them several concessions. In this case an Arbitration Committee, organized by the Chinese Authorities, prepared the terms of settlement.

Silk Filatures.—6,350 workers of 13 silk filatures—three in Chapei and 10 in the Settlement—struck work on August 12 and 13 as a protest against the decision of the managements to reduce the workers' wages by 20 per cent. owing to depression in trade. Of these workers, 5,150 in seven Settlement silk filatures resumed unconditionally on August 17 and 20, and 1,200 in three Chapei silk filatures on August 18. 2,700 workers of seven silk filatures, four in the Settlement and three in Chapei, struck work again on August 27 to enforce a demand for payment of wages from August 12 and 20, when they were on strike, but resumed on August 29 after the owners granted them minor concessions.

As a result of intimidation by some troublemakers, the workers numbering 2,300 of 5 silk filatures—three in the Settlement and two in Chapei—suspended work for half a day on August 29.

Statistics for the month are as follows:—

Public Health Report for August.

The outbreak of Cholera which occured within the International Settlement during July, reached epidemic proportions during the month.

An epidemic may be defined in general terms, as a wave of disease which, spreading widely, affects a large number of people, and is usually associated with mortality. Under the Sanitary Regulations for the Port of Shanghai, a disease is said to be epidemic when an average number of three fresh cases occurs daily for one week. This happened on August 7, and the information was communicated to the Municipal Council and to all the Authorities concerned.

After that date most of the Far Eastern ports instituted quarantine restrictions against Shanghai. The number of cases rose steadily until the week ending August 17, during which week altogether 803 notifications were received from all sources. After that date, the epidemic began to abate, and continued to do so to the end of the month.

Among resident Foreigners 31 cases were notified and admitted to the Municipal Isolation Hospital: they were, 3 Indian, 16 Japanese and 12 Russian.

Among Chinese residents, 844, and among non-residents 1,887 cases, were notified during the month.

The new Municipal Sanatorium for Tuberculosis was opened for patients on August 20. It is pleasantly situated near the Municipal Nursery Gardens at the corner of Hungjao and Macleod Roads, and will be a boon for early cases in which the great needs are rest, nutrition, sunlight and pure air. Twenty convalescent patients were transferred there from the Tuberculosis Wards of the Municipal Isolation Hospital.

Several cases of traffic in milk from unlicensed dairies were detected during the month, the most flagrant being that of an unlicensed dealer delivering milk to Indians in Haining Road. The milk was contained in a dirty tin, concealed in a dirty gunney bag, and was adulterated with 23 per cent. of added water.

The offender was sentenced to 3 days imprisonment, in addition to a fine of $5, by the Provisional Court.

Here follow Tables of Vital Statistics, Communicable Diseases and of the work of the Food, Dairies and Markets Division, Sanitation Division, Tuberculosis and Venereal Diseases Clinics and Municipal Laboratories, Hospitals and Slaughterhouse.

Commissioner of Public Health.

The Council has received a request from Captain E. I. M. Barrett, C.I.E. that he may be permitted to resign from the position of Commissioner of the Police Force.

In accepting Captain Barrett's resignation the Council wishes to express its appreciation of his long and faithful service covering a period of 22 years.

It will be recalled that Major F. W. Gerrard, C.I.E. was seconded from India by the British Government in May this year, for the purpose of investigating the organisation of the Police Force and to advise the Council in regard thereto.

Major Gerrard has duly carried out the investigation and has submitted a report thereon which the Council has approved in principle and with a view to giving the best possible effect to his recommendations has decided to appoint him Commissioner of Police from October 7, 1929, for the period of his stay in Shanghai to enable him to carry out his scheme of re-organisation of the Force.

The fires more particularly of note during the month were:—

August 19, 10.6 a.m. L645 Canton Road, Stove Shop.

Sections of Central Division.—Three lives were lost at this fire. The original premises and the upper portion of the shop on either side were well alight and the flames had spread across a narrow alleyway to structures on property at the rear. This proved a serious menace to a very congested block of shops and dwellings; fortunately, however, the fire was quickly checked and extinguished.

Six persons (three children and three adults), suffering from burns, were conveyed to Hospital, where three subsequently succumbed.

No. L645 and the upper portions of the adjoining premises were badly damaged and those in the rear suffered slightly.

August 30, 6.38 p.m. 120 Point Road. Cigarette Factory.

Sections of Hongkew Division.—Two large packing-rooms on the upper floor were in flames. Difficulty was experienced in tackling the outbreak on account of a narrow alleyway on the East side being badly obstructed and partially covered in with glass and wire-netting; the fire, however, was confined to these two rooms, the damage to which was severe. Water damage to the machinery, etc. on the ground floor was minimized by the early use of waterproof sheets from the Salvage Tender.

The private fire installation and pumping connection were used to advantage in extinguishing the outbreak, the employees having got to work before the arrival of the Division. An artery of one of the employees was severed by falling glass; first-aid was rendered and he was conveyed to Hospital in a Brigade machine.

The following inspections were carried out by the Department during the month:—

1. Licences.—
   - (a) Premises of Applicants for Licences 37
   - (b) Re-inspections 27
2. Licensed Premises.—
   - (a) Theatres, Cinemas and Places of Amusement 473
   - (b) Garages and Repair Shops 24
   - (c) Hotels, Lodging Houses, Restaurants, Tea Shops, Food Shops, etc. 65
3. Buildings under construction 240
4. Completed Buildings.—
   - (a) Offices, Banks and Exchanges 12
   - (b) Stores (Foreign and Chinese) 6
   - (c) Factories, Mills, Filatures, Cold Storages, Foundries, etc. 31
   - (d) Godowns and Wharves 14
   - (e) Blocks of Chinese Houses and Private Houses 34
5. Public Buildings, Schools, Churches, Hospitals, Municipal Buildings 35
6. Pumping Connections 225
7. Miscellaneous Inspections 15
8. Storage of Hazardous Goods 37

1,275

The above inspections revealed 105 breaches of the Licensing Conditions laid down by the Council and 202 letters were written with regard to Fire Installations.

In addition Hydrant Inspections were as follows:—

- (a) Shanghai Waterworks 1,335
- (b) Private Installations 517

2,852

142 permits for the discharge and transport of dangerous and/or hazardous goods within the Settlement were granted.

CRIME.

With the advent of the colder weather reports of armed robberies from dwelling houses are becoming more frequent and Chinese householders are advised to have their windows and doors overhauled, and to see that the locks and fastenings are in working order.

A number of robberies have been perpetrated in the Western district recently, where entrance to houses has been obtained by armed men, on the pretext that they wished to rent rooms on the premises. The tenants of Chinese houses especially should warn their servants not to open doors indiscriminately to strangers, but should first ascertain the identity of any such persons seeking admittance.

All householders are again advised to keep a Police whistle in a convenient place for any emergency that may arise, and not to hesitate to raise an alarm when necessary.

In all cases where shooting occurs between the Police and armed men, in gang fights or any other incidents where shooting has taken place on public thoroughfares, the public is requested to assist the Police by not touching weapons, bullets or cartridge cases found in the vicinity. Much valuable information and important clues may be lost to the Police by the removal of such exhibits by unauthorized persons.

Several cases have been reported during the month of bag snatching from foreign ladies on Nanking, Bubbling Well and Yu Yuen Roads, and two cases which occurred on Yu Yuen Road were accompanied by violence.

Ladies are again warned not to carry their handbags in a loose or careless manner, thus inviting the attentions of this class of criminal who frequents busy shopping centres and unfrequented roads solely for this purpose.

An instance has recently occurred whereby unnecessary delay has been caused in the hearing of a criminal case by the Provisional Court. A Chinese sentenced to fifteen years imprisonment on June 25, 1928, and in accordance with the terms of the Rendition Agreement the case was referred to Nanking for verification of the sentence imposed, nothing further was heard of the matter until September 27, 1929, when the Provisional Court issued a hearing notice to the Police stating that the case would be reheard on October 2, 1929. The order for rehearing issued by the Kiangsu Provincial Government is dated November 27, 1928; thus a delay of over ten months occurred between the issuance of this order and the assignment of a date for the rehearing; a distinct injustice to the prisoner.

Murder and Attempted Murder.—On September 5 a male Chinese was shot dead in an alleyway off Canton Road. On September 7 a male Chinese whose wife had left him several years previously, discovered that she was living with her sister in a house in Yunnan Road. A quarrel ensued and the man attacked both women with a knife inflicting fatal injuries to his sister-in-law and severely wounding his wife. He was arrested and has since been sentenced to sixteen years imprisonment. On September 11 a Russian Watchman, employed by the China General Omnibus Company, was shot dead by another Russian Watchman in the same employ with whom he had quarrelled the previous evening. The murderer was arrested. On September 16 a male Chinese was found on Connaught Road suffering from wounds on the head and body to which he succumbed later on the same day. It has since been ascertained that deceased was a member of an armed gang responsible for the abduction of the Chief of the Chinese Merchats Volunteer Corps in the French Concession on July 24, 1929, and that the murder was the result of a quarrel between members of the gang, one of whom was arrested by the Settlement police and handed over to the French police later the same day, which resulted in a raid being carried out and the kidnapped man released. Five other members of the gang were arrested and handed over to the French police. On September 23 the unidentified body of an unknown Chinese boy, aged about six years, was found in the Garden of the Shanghai Municipal Council Conservatory.

One case of attempted murder was reported in the Settlement On September 22 a male Chinese was attacked on Yochow Road by two men, one of whom was armed with a pistol; the armed men fired three shots at the intended victim, none of which took effect. It is suspected that the attack was the outcome of a gang quarrel.

Armed Abduction.—Two reports under this heading were received during the month. One case was that of the manager of a Chinese gold shop who was kidnapped outside his residence on Mandalay Road by several armed men on September 10. He was kept in captivity for four days and released upon ransom being paid. This case was not reported to the police until certain enquiries led to the arrest of complainant's ricsha coolie who was charged with complicity in the abduction. The second case was that of a Chinese compradore who was held up outside his residence in Chapei on September 30 by armed men and driven away in his own motor car. The chauffeur raised an alarm and assisted by members of the Settlement police in another motor car, pursued the kidnappers into the Settlement where they were lost sight of. The kidnapped man was rescued the following day by Chinese police from a boat near Woosung. Six persons concerned in the abduction were arrested.

Fourteen persons were arrested for being concerned in unarmed abduction. Included in this number is a male Chinese who was a member of a gang responsible for the abduction of fourteen children whom they had sold to slave runners in Canton and Swatow. He was sentenced to eighteen years imprisonment on September 13. Six other members of the same gang have already been sentenced to varying terms of imprisonment.

Armed Robbery.—Forty-one reports of armed robbery from premises and seven on the highway were received during the month, showing an increase of fifteen on the preceding month and a decrease of three on the corresponding period of last year. In two of the armed highway robberies the victims received wounds at the hands of robbers when attempting to resist, one man being shot in the back and the other stabbed in the thigh.

In regard to the foregoing and reports of armed robberies occurring prior to September 1, seventy-eight persons were arrested. In addition one robber was shot dead in an alleyway off Peking Road after a running battle with the police.

Property Stolen.—During the month 362 reports of property stolen were received, representing an estimated loss of $133,617.49. As compared with the corresponding period of 1928 there is an increase of six cases. Successful investigations were made in 255 cases, resulting in the recovery of property valued at $21,860.59. Included in these figures are 100 arrests for snatching and picking pockets, sixty-four being old offenders. In addition to the foregoing, recoveries to the extent of Tls. 3,126, were made in connection with cases prior to September 1.

Finger Print Bureau.—The total number of Chinese records from Stations was 1,319 from which number 344 identifications were made. Of the prisoners thus identified 33% had been previously released under the mark system of remission of sentence.

Rice.—The average price of Chinese rice for September was $15.79 per picul as compared with $10.70 per picul for the corresponding month of 1928. During the month the price soared up as high as $18.00 per picul. Despite the fact that a portion of the new crop has already been put on the market, the price increased daily. Towards the end of the month the quantities of rice arriving daily in Shanghai from rice producing areas were considerably less than in normal times. The local Chinese Authorities and rice merchants have on several occasions deliberated together with the object of limiting the price and as a result of their discussions a Rice Price Estimate Committee was formed and the Social Bureau on September 23 announced in a circular that the price must not exceed $17. The Chinese authorities and local merchants are also contemplating the purchase of 100,000 piculs of rice from Hunan Province in order to relieve the local situation.

Strikes.—There were twelve strikes during the month of which six affected the Settlement.

Statistics for the month are as follows:—

Area	No. of strikes	No. of hands	No. of working days
Settlement	6	1,917	4,527
French Concession	1	7	63

Bicycles.—Bicycles were involved in 133 accidents during the month and in 67 cases the cyclists were known to have been at fault.

During the month the professional Story-Teller visited various districts and gave 72 addresses in Teashops and Mills on "Safety First" themes. His audience roughly totalled 3,800 persons.

Traffic Regulation No. 44 (d) governing the "no passing" of motor vehicles in the Western District was amended to include Bubbling Well Road, East of Yates Road, as from September 1.

Traffic Signal Lights installed at Kiangse Road junction with Avenue Edward VII, were put into operation on September 4.

At one of the Traffic Sessions at the Provisional Court, the police registered a protest against the inadequacy of the fines imposed on traffic offenders, which protest was endorsed by the Deputy, Mr. Stevens, as follows:—

"These one and two dollar fines which are now being imposed for two or more consecutive violations of the Traffic Regulations are inadequate and many times out of proportion to the fines generally imposed by this Court for offences of the same category. There are no mitigating circumstances connected with these cases to warrant such an unreasonably low fine. If this sort of thing is permitted to continue, it is feared that the sentences of this Court will have little or no deterrent effect upon persons who violate the Traffic Regulations without particular regard for the safety of human life."

It is obvious that if the Court continues to take so lenient a view of traffic infringements, especially those of a more dangerous nature, the police control over drivers will become negligible, a state of affairs that may force the Council to be more drastic in suspending or cancelling drivers' licences.

Identification Office.—During the month 1,356 prisoners' records passed through this office for identification prior to the prisoners going to Court for trial, out of which number 363 were identified as having a previous conviction or convictions. In addition to the above 232 records were received from the French Police out of which number 96 were identified in the records of this office, making the total for the month:—

In terms of the appended correspondence, it has been decided to refer the under-mentioned cases to the Land Commission for decision:—

Race Course Road.—Cad. Lots 1420 and 1425:—

Shanghai, July 31, 1929.

DEAR SIR,—We submit herewith our claim for compensation in respect to the area to be surrendered from Cadastral Lot 1420, Western, for the new Race Course Road.

Our claim is made on the same basis as that recently submitted to you in connection with the area to be surrendered for this road from Cadastral Lot 1585. It is agreed that this road will not be projected through these two lots until the end of this year.

As we are uncertain at the moment as to how this lot will be developed in the future, we cannot now make any offer for the area taken up by the Taku Road coloured blue on the plan you sent us.

Although the instance of this road gives the lot a new road frontage, we do not admit of any "betterment" in so much as this is not a shopping district, and any future development of this lot will call for residential houses fronting the new road.

Our claim is as follows:—

Mow 4.708 at Tls. 40,000 a Mow	Tls. 188,320
Plus 10 per cent. for Compulsory surrender	18,832
Total Amount of Claim	207,152

Yours faithfully,
LESTER, JOHNSON & MORRISS.

C. HARPUR, Esq.,
Commissioner of Public Works,
Municipal Council.

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, August 15, 1929.

GENTLEMEN,—I am directed to acknowledge receipt of your letter of July 31 addressed to the Commissioner of Public Works submitting a claim for compensation at the rate of Tls. 40,000 per mow plus 10 per cent. for compulsory surrender in respect of the area required from Cadastral Lots 1420 and 1425 for the scheduled extension of Race Course Road.

In reply I am directed to inform you that the Council considers that it should, in this case, adopt the basis of compensation of the award made by the Land Commission in the case of the area recently surrendered from Cadastral Lot 1425 for the widening of Taku Road (now Race Course Road), viz: Tls. 27,500 per mow.

I am therefore directed to offer compensation at the rate of Tls. 27,500 per mow for the area of Mow 4.708 required for Race Course Road and also for an area of Mow 0.104 required from Cadastral Lot 1425 for the scheduled widening of Mohawk Road, making a total sum of Tls. 132,330.

I shall be obliged if you will inform me whether this offer is acceptable.

I am, Gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
J. R. JONES,
Deputy Secretary.

MESSRS. LESTER, JOHNSON & MORRISS.

Shanghai, August 28, 1929.

DEAR SIR,—We are in receipt of your letter dated August 15, in which you offer Tls. 132,330 for the area of Mow 4.708 required for the Race Course Road and also for an area of Mow 0.104 required from Cadastral Lot 1425 for widening the Mohawk Road.

We regret we are unable to accept this offer, as the full figures and details we gave you in connection with a development scheme on Cadastral Lot 1585 clearly show that the property in the neighbourhood is worth the Tls. 40,000 per mow as claimed by us in our letter to you dated July 31, 1929.

We do not see why this case should be governed by any other Land Commission award, but consider that it should be treated on its own merits.

Yours faithfully,
LESTER, JOHNSON & MORRISS.

J. R. JONES, Esq.,
Deputy Secretary,
Municipal Council.

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, September 20, 1929.

GENTLEMEN,—I have to acknowledge receipt of your letter of August 28 intimating that the Council's offer of Tls. 132,330 as compensation for a total area Mow 4.812 required from Cadastral Lots 1420 and 1425 for the scheduled extension of Race Course Road and widening of Mohawk Road is unacceptable.

In the circumstances I have to inform you that this case will be referred for settlement to the Land Commission. Plans of the lots will be prepared and forwarded for signature at an early date and notice of the hearing of the case by the Commission will be communicated to you in due course.

I am, Gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
S. M. EDWARDS,
Secretary.

MESSRS. LESTER, JOHNSON & MORRISS.

Race Course Road.—Cad. Lot 1585.

Shanghai, July 6, 1929.

DEAR SIR,—We write to inform you that we intend to develope the vacant land to the South of Nos. 5 to 12 Weihaiwei Road Cadastral Lot 1585, Western District, through which the proposed Race Course Road will cut diagonally from the corner of the Weihaiwei and Chungking Roads to the Mohawk Road.

We propose to commence building operations to the South of and fronting this new road at the end of this year, and have already given notice to the tenants to vacate Nos. 9, 10, 11 and 12 Weihaiwei Road by then in order to allow the new road to be constructed.

We understand the Council have acquired Cadastral Lot 1587, so that the new road can be put right through to the Mohawk Road directly our buildings are completed.

We also understand that you agree to dispose of the surplus land to us to be incorporated with the triangular shaped property that will remain bounded by the Weihaiwei, Mohawk and Race Course Roads.

While this matter will not be dealt with until the end of this year, we would like to settle the question now of compensation payable, and we therefore hereby submit our claim.

The area to be surrendered by us is Mow 4.517 from which we suggest should be deducted the area of the surplus land from Cadastral Lot 1587 to the North of and fronting the Race Course Road measuring Mow 1.408, and which will be incorporated with our triangular piece. This leaves an area of Mow 3.109 for which we claim compensation at the rate of Tls. 40,000 a mow making Tls. 124,360 or a total sum of Tls. 136,796 with the 10 per cent. added for compulsory surrender.

The rate of Tls. 40,000 a mow, which we consider to be about the market value of the property, is substantiated by capitalising the net rentals that would be obtained in developing the property with Chinese houses on a seven per cent. basis.

We do not consider the property is bettered through the instance of this new road, which will not enable us to obtain any higher rentals than if it were not created and the property developed in the usual manner with private passages running straight from the Mohawk to the Chimking Roads. This is proved by the figures of a development scheme which we have gone into in connection with the property.

On the contrary, as explained to the Council some time ago when we protested against this new road, the fact that it cuts diagonally through our property, converting it from a good rectangular shaped property into two awkward triangular ones, creates if anything a worsement.

Yours faithfully,
LESTER, JOHNSON & MORRISS.

C. HARPUR, Esq.,
The Commissioner of Public Works,
Municipal Council.

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, September 19, 1929.

GENTLEMEN,—I have to refer to your letter of July 6 addressed to the Commissioner of Public Works on the subject of the Council's surplus land ex-Cadastral Lot 1587 and the area required from your property Cadastral Lot 1585 for the scheduled extension of Race Course Road.

With regard to the Council's surplus land ex-Cadastral Lot 1587 I have to state that the Council is unwilling to consider this as part of the present transaction but is prepared to give you the first option to purchase should it decide to sell at a later date.

Of the total area of Mow 5.264 shown coloured red on the attached plan required from Cadastral Lot 1585 for road purposes the Council considers that a 30 foot strip, shown hatched red measuring Mow 1.668, should be surrendered free for the Race Course Road. For the balance area of Mow 3.596 required for the scheduled extension of Race Course Road and the widening of Weihaiwei Road I am directed to offer a lump sum of Tls. 115,000.

I am, Gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
S. M. EDWARDS,
Secretary.

MESSRS. LESTER, JOHNSON & MORRISS.

Shanghai, October 14, 1929.

DEAR SIR,—We are in receipt of your letter dated the 19th ulto., and in reply would suggest that as there is such a wide difference between the Council's offer contained in this letter and that contained in our letter of July 6th, the matter had better be submitted to the Land Commission for settlement.

With regard to the Council's surplus land ex-Cadastral Lot 1587, we suggest that we purchase this at the price put down by the Commission as their opinion of its value.

Yours faithfully,
LESTER, JOHNSON & MORRISS.

S. M. EDWARDS, Esq.,
Secretary,
Municipal Council.

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, October 19, 1929.

GENTLEMEN,—In accordance with the request contained in your letter of October 14 I have to inform you that the question of the amount of compensation payable in respect of the surrender of the area required from Cadastral Lot 1585 for the scheduled extension of Race Course Road will be referred to the Land Commission for decision.

With regard to the Council's surplus land the Council cannot agree to your suggestion that the sale price should be decided by the Land Commissioners as such a matter is entirely for the Council to decide and is not within the jurisdiction of the Land Commission.

I am, Gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
J. R. JONES,
Deputy Secretary.

MESSRS. LESTER, JOHNSON & MORRISS.

Point Road Extension and Liping Road Widening.—Cad. Lot 6068:—

Shanghai, October 18, 1928.

DEAR SIR,—We have received instructions from the beneficial owner of B. C. Lot 2459 to address you on the following matter.

We enclose herewith a tracing of the plan of the lot, which shows the lot together with the portion subject to shengke enclosed in red. It also shows the new road which has been scheduled, which passes over a portion of our client's property on the south and on the north and passes through our client's property in the centre. It also shows in red chalk two jetties which have been erected by the Council across our client's property.

In the first place our client desires us to protest against the erection of these jetties over his property without his consent and to demand either their immediate removal, together with adequate damages for the period during which they have been erected, or if they are to remain that proper compensation should be paid to him therefor.

Our client in the second place desires us to enquire from the Council what the Council's intentions are with regard to the scheduled road, that is to say what compensation the Council are offering. In this connection we have been requested to suggest that with regard to some portions of the road it might be possible to come to some kind of exchange agreement; for instance the road passes trough the property on the south, but on the other hand there is a considerable gap between the east boundary of the road and the west boundary of our client's property, and if the road is to be made our client would naturally like his property to abut upon it.

We shall be glad to hear from you on the above matters at your earliest convenience.

Yours faithfully,
WHITE-COOPER & Co.

C. HARPUR, Esq.,
Commissioner of Public Works,
Municipal Council.

Public Works Department,
Shanghai, October 24, 1928.

DEAR SIRS,—I beg to acknowledge receipt of your letter of the 18th instant with accompanying plan concerning B.C. Lot 2459. You refer to two jetties which have been constructed by the Council crossing your client's property and state that he desires to protest against the erection of these jetties. In connection with this statement, it would appear that your client has apparently overlooked the fact that prior to the construction of these jetties, he gave his verbal consent to this work being undertaken.

With regard to the second point mentioned in your letter concerning the Council's intention in respect to the scheduled road, I beg to draw your attention to my letter of the 14th of May last with accompanying plan requesting you to submit the terms upon which you would be prepared to surrender the area required for Point Road. I have no record of any reply having been received to this letter. Should you, however, at this time desire to negotiate for the surrender of the entire area required for both the Liping and Point Roads, I shall be glad if you will kindly advise me further in this matter and if necessary, the requisite plans will be prepared and forwarded showing the complete road area required from the lot.

As to the further suggestion in your letter concerning the gap between the East boundary of the Liping Road and the west boundary of your client's property, it is quite possible that in the negotiations arrangements can be made for the incorporation of this area in the lot.

Yours faithfully,
C. HARPUR,
Commissioner of Public Works.

MESSRS. WHITE-COOPER & Co.

Shanghai, November 3, 1928.

DEAR SIR,—We have to thank you for your letter of the 24th ult. and note in that letter you refer to a letter addressed by you to us on the 14th May last with an accompanying plan.

We regret that we have no such letter and plan on our file nor can we trace any record of our having received the letter.

In these circumstances we shall be much obliged if you will be good enough to send us a copy of the letter and the plan. We will then reply fully to your letter of the 24th ult.

Yours faithfully,
WHITE-COOPER & Co.

C. HARPUR, Esq.,
Commissioner of Public Works,
Municipal Council.

Public Works Department,
Shanghai, November 6, 1928.

DEAR SIRS,—In accordance with the request contained in your letter of the 3rd instant, I beg to forward herewith a duplicate of the letter and plan supplied you on the 14th May last.

Yours faithfully,
F. G. HELSBY,
For Commissioner of Public Works.

MESSRS. WHITE-COOPER & Co.

Public Works Department,
Shanghai, May 14, 1928.

DEAR SIRS,—I beg to forward you herewith a plan showing in red an area of 1.180 Mow required from Cadastral Lot 6068 for the above road extension and shall be glad if you will inform me upon what terms the registered owners—Messrs. Master and Harris—are prepared to surrender same to the Council.

For your guidance, I also enclose a key plan which more fully indicates the location of the area in question.

Yours faithfully,
C. HARPUR,
Commissioner of Public Works.

MESSRS. WHITE-COOPER & Co.

Shanghai, November 16, 1928.

DEAR SIR,—We have to thank you for your letter of the 6th instant enclosing copy of your letter of the 14th May last together with plan.

We are now in a position to reply to your letter of the 24th ultimo. In this letter you state that our client gave his verbal consent to the erection of the jetties. Our client, on the other hand, informs us that he has had no interview or conversation with any representative of the Council during the past two years and has certainly never given any consent as alleged in your letter.

Our client considers that he is entitled to rent in respect of the jetties in question from the date of their construction up to the time of their removal, and he must also demand that they be removed forthwith and the land restored to its original condition, unless some arrangement can be come to for the surrender of the entire area required for both the Liping and Point Roads.

We are enclosing you herewith a plan which shows in red the area which would require to be surrendered. It also shows in yellow a strip which would then remain the property of the Council but which the Council might be willing to exchange for an equal area of our client's property. If some such arrangement can be come to, our client informs us that he would be willing to surrender the remainder of the portion marked red at a price of Tls. 10,000 per mow.

Yours faithfully,
WHITE-COOPER & Co.

J. R. JONES, Esq.,
Deputy Secretary,
Municipal Council.

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, January 16, 1929.

GENTLEMEN,—I am directed to refer to the recent correspondence between the Commissioner of Public Works and yourselves on the subject of your client's property Cadastral Lot 6068 portions of which are required for the scheduled extension of Point Road and the widening of Liping Road.

With regard to the offer contained in your letter of November 16, 1928 I am directed to point out that considerable betterment will accrue to the property when Point and Liping Roads have been constructed, and therefore the Council considers that the area of Mow 3.895 scheduled from the lot should be surrendered without compensation. Should this proposal meet with your client's approval the Council would be willing to release, without payment, that portion of the old embankment (public) road measuring Mow 0.433 mentioned in your letter of November 16, 1928 on the understanding that while the Council would be prepared to issue a S.M.C. Title-deed therefor, any expense involved in obtaining a consular title-deed must be borne by the transferee.

I shall be obliged if you will inform me whether these terms are acceptable.

With regard to the application which it is understood has been made to shengko the foreshore fronting Cadastral Lot 6068 I would draw your attention to the fact that under Clause VI of the Land Regulations the scheduled area of Mow 2.545 will be subject to compulsory free surrender.

I am, Gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
J. R. JONES,
Deputy Secretary.

MESSRS. WHITE-COOPER & Co.

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, February 20, 1929.

GENTLEMEN,—With reference to the Council's letter of January 16, on the subject of your client's property Cadastral Lot 6068 portions of which are required for the scheduled extension of Point Road and the widening of Liping Road, I have to request you to favour me with a reply thereto at your early convenience.

I am, Gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
J. R. JONES,
Deputy Secretary.

MESSRS. WHITE-COOPER & Co.

Shanghai, March 4, 1929.

DEAR SIR,—In answer to your letter of the 20th February last we have requested our client to deal with the matter, but he tells us he is having serious trouble with family matters and will not be in a position to give the matter his attention for a short time. We shall be replying to you, we hope, in the course of about a week.

Yours faithfully,
WHITE-COOPER & Co.

J. R. JONES, Esq.,
Deputy Secretary,
Municipal Council.

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, April 23, 1929.

GENTLEMEN,—With reference to the Council's letter of January 16 on the subject of your client's property Cadastral Lot 6068 portions of which are required for the scheduled extension of Point Road and the widening of Liping Road I have to enquire whether you are yet in a position to favour me with a reply thereto.

I am, Gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
J. R. JONES,
Deputy Secretary.

MESSRS. WHITE-COOPER & Co.

Shanghai, April 27, 1929.

DEAR SIR,—Referring to your letter of the 23rd instant, we have taken our client's instructions to reply to your letter of the 16th of January last.

Our client cannot agree that considerable betterment, or indeed any betterment, will accrue to this property by the construction of the Point and Liping Roads. He points out that B. C. Lot 2459 has a frontage on Liping Road on the west and there is a good frontage along the Whangpo River on the east.

He further desires to point out that the extension of the Point Road cuts his land into two portions, and the area is therefore decreased.

He further points out that the portion shengkoed by him on the east of B.C. Lot 2459 is not within the International Settlement, and he cannot agree that clause 6 of the Land Regulations is applicable.

With regard to the jetties constructed by the Council on our client's land, he instructs us this was done without his consent, and, as previously requested, he desires that same be removed and a reasonable sum paid to him for the use of his land in this manner.

Whilst being of opinion that the amount claimed by him for compensation in previous correspondence is a perfectly fair and reasonable figure, he is prepared to consider a counter-offer on the part of the Council of some slightly lower figure in order, if possible, to arrive at a settlement. This is, of course, without prejudice.

Yours faithfully,
WHITE-COOPER & Co.

J. R. JONES, Esq.,
Deputy Secretary,
Municipal Council.

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, May 14, 1929.

GENTLEMEN,—In reply to your letter of April 27 on the subject of your client's property Cadastral Lot 6068 portions of which are required for the scheduled extension of Point Road and widening of Liping Road I have to inform you that the Council adheres to the terms communicated to you in its letter of January 16 last, which, in the circumstances, are considered equitable.

With regard to your client's contention that the area subject to shengko east of B.C. Lot 2459 is not within the Foreign Settlement I have to point out that the eastern boundary of the Settlement is laid down in Clause I of the Land Regulations as "The Whangpoo River from the mouth of the Ku-Ka-pang to the mouth of the Yang-king-pang."

With reference to the fifth paragraph of your letter I have to state that the Council is willing to pay reasonable compensation to your client for the use of his land in connexion with the jetties which the Council has constructed thereon.

I am, Gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
J. R. JONES,
Deputy Secretary.

MESSRS. WHITE-COOPER & Co.

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, July 4, 1929.

GENTLEMEN,—I am directed to refer to the Council's letter of May 14 on the subject of your client's property Cadastral Lot 6068 portions of which are required for the scheduled extension of Point Road and the widening of Liping Road. As it is necessary in the public interest that no time should be lost in this matter I shall be glad to have a reply in two weeks from now. Failing a satisfactory settlement by then the Council will have no alternative but to submit the matter at once to the decision of the Land Commission.

I am, Gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
J. R. JONES,
Deputy Secretary.

MESSRS. WHITE-COOPER & Co.

Shanghai, July 12, 1929.

DEAR SIR,—Referring to your letters of the 14th May and 4th instant and to your letter of the 16th January last, our client instructs us that far from any betterment accruing to his property when the Point and Liping Roads are constructed, he will suffer very considerable loss by the construction of the proposed road through his property, which cuts right through it.

He already has a very good road frontage, and the additional frontages which would result from the construction of the road are of no value to him in this locality.

With the property as it is, he can develop it by the erection of godowns and warehouses to its full extent, whereas if it was cut in two his plan of development would be ruined completely.

He does not agree that the foreshore fronting Cad. Lot 6068 which has been shengkoed is liable to free surrender.

The assessed value of Cad. Lot 6068 in 1927 is Tls. 4,000 per mow, and he claims in view of the damage he would suffer by compulsory surrender, that compensation should be paid at the rate of Tls. 8,000 per mow at the least.

With regard to your proposal that the matter should be referred to the Land Commission, he claims that this is out of time under the terms of Land Regulation 6-A.

With regard to the jetties, he desires same removed forthwith, as he maintains his contention that they were erected without any authority or consent on his part, and he claims Tls. 50 per month rent from the time they were erected to time of removal.

Yours faithfully,
WHITE-COOPER & Co.

J. R. JONES, Esq.,
Deputy Secretary,
Municipal Council.

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, October 18, 1929.

GENTLEMEN,—As nothing has transpired since your letter of July 12 on the subject of your client's property Cadastral Lot 6068 and the adjoining foreshore portions of which are required for the scheduled extension of Point Road and the widening of Liping Road I have now to inform you that after due consideration thereof the Council still adheres to the terms contained in its letter of January 16 last.

With regard to your contention that the area of foreshore measuring Mow 2.545 fronting your client's property is not subject to compulsory free surrender I have to point out that notice that the area was scheduled was given in the Municipal Gazette of February 17, 1928, i.e., prior to your application for shengko. It therefore follows that the area is subject to compulsory free surrender under Land Regulation VI.

In the sixth paragraph of your letter you assert that reference to the Land Commission of the question of compensation in respect of the area of Mow 3.895 is "out of time under Land Regulation VI A." I have to inform you that the Council is unable to agree with this contention in that although this area has been scheduled in previous years the fact that it has been re-scheduled each year and due notice given serves to meet the requirements of Land Regulation VI A. As the area was shown scheduled in the 1926 road plans and due notice given in the Municipal Gazette on April 12 last the Council is within its rights in referring the matter of compensation to the Land Commission. In this connexion I would refer you to a judgment rendered in the Court of Consuls on April 1, 1926 on this point (see Municipal Gazette of May 28, 1926,) Paragraph 2 of the finding reads as follows:—

> "that the re-scheduling of the remaining section of the road in each year from 1922 onwards operated as a new notice given in each such years within the meaning of Land Regulation VI and VIA that the land was required for public purposes."

I have therefore to inform you that the question of compensation (if any) to be paid in respect of the area of Mow 3.895 required from Cadastral Lot 6068 will be referred to the Land Commission in accordance with the Land Regulations.

With regard to the jetties mentioned in the last paragraph of your letter I have to inform you that immediate steps will be taken to remove them in accordance with your request. Your claim of Tls. 50 per month as rent in respect of the small area upon which the jetties were erected is considered unreasonable by the Council. I have therefore to offer a sum of Tls. 100 in full settlement thereof.

I am, Gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
J. R. JONES,
Deputy Secretary.

MESSRS. WHITE-COOPER & Co.

At the meeting of the Watch Committee held on Monday, October 14, 1929, at 4.30 p.m., there are present:—Messrs. V. G. Lyman, Chairman, D. S. Chen, K. Fukushima, Brig.-General E. B. Macnagthen, the Commissioner of Police and the Secretary.

The Minutes of the last meeting are confirmed and signed.

Watchmen's Services at Motor Car Parking Places.—A renewed application by the Central Auto Service Company, Ltd. for permission to institute a service of watchmen at motor car parking places in order to prevent petty thefts, etc., is submitted. As the Automobile Club of China is prepared to accept full responsibility for the carrying out of this scheme, members endorse the recommendation of the Deputy Commissioner of Police that the application be approved for a trial period of three months, subject to compliance with the three conditions set out in his report dated September 24.

Japanese Police—Petition from the Japanese Amalgamated Association of Street Unions.—A report by Major Gerrard dealing with the petition of the above Association for an increase in the strength of the Japanese Branch of the Force, is submitted. Briefly Major Gerrard states that in his general report he has recommended a strength in the Japanese Branch of 207 exclusive of one Assistant Commissioner and one Superintendent, representing an increase of twenty-one over the total strength sanctioned in the 1929 estimates. In a statement prepared by Mr. Tajima, A. C. P. (Japanese) the latter estimates the requirements of the Japanese Branch at 216, and this figure, together with twenty men required by the crime branch and the detective staffs at Police Stations, makes a total of 236 Japanese Police as against a total of 207 recommended by Major Gerrard.

Mr. Fukushima states that he understands that the question of the strength of the Japanese Branch is again being considered by the Amalgamated Association of Street Unions and as it is not unlikely that a further communication will be addressed to the Council, he suggests that recommendation in this matter be deferred until the Budget requirements for 1930 are examined. This proposal is adopted.

The meeting terminates at 5.25 p.m.

At the Special Meeting of the Council held on Wednesday, October 16, 1929, at 4.30 p.m., there are present:—Brig.-General E. B. Macnaghten, Vice - Chairman, Messrs. A. D. Bell, K. Fukushima, S. L. Hsu, V. G. Lyman, G. W. Sheppard, L. T. Yuan, the Deputy Commissioner of Police, the Commissioner of Public Health and the Secretary.

Public Health Report for September.

September is usually looked upon as the most trying month of the summer in Shanghai, the month when resistance against infection and vitality generally are at their lowest. To quote the reassuring words of Sir Frederick Bourne, former Judge of H.B.M's Supreme Court for China, "those who survive September, may hope to live another year."

The impression is confirmed by the death rates for the month, which are above the average in the case of both Foreigners and Chinese.

The decline in Cholera continued steadily and the disease ceased to be epidemic within the Settlement during the last week of the month. Among resident Foreigners 12 cases were notified, as follows:—Japanese 4, Indian 3, Russian 34, British 1, Esthonian 1. There were 4 deaths among resident Chinese, 208 cases were notified with 18 deaths, and among non-resident Chinese 433 cases with 36 deaths.

Small-pox was absent during the month, but is likely to re-appear during the winter. The disease is persistently present and virulent in China and it is therefore of vital importance that all residents, newcomers and transient visitors should be efficiently protected against it by vaccination.

All people coming out to the East for the first time, should be efficiently vaccinated on or before arrival, and afterwards at least every three years, in order to maintain a high degree of immunity. The best time, as a rule, is before the winter, in October or early November.

In recovering normal health and vigour after the summer, one of the most important factors within our own control, is nutrition.

The fundamental constituents of food are proteins, carbohydrates, fats and mineral salts, but in addition to these are the elusive substances called 'Vitamins' about which so much has been discovered and published within recent years.

It has been conclusively proved that without them growth and health, and even life itself, cannot be maintained. There may be a large number of Vitamins, and at least 5 or 6 are known to-day.

Vitamin A, plays an essential part in growth and nutrition, and is especially, though not exclusively, associated with certain fats as dairy butter, beef and mutton fat and cod-liver-oil. It is not present in fats of vegetable origin and is therefore absent in ordinary margarine. It is also present in fish, flesh and fowl, especially in liver, kidney, heart, brain and sweetbread.

Vitamin B, called the anti-neuritic vitamin because lack of it leads to Beri-Beri, a disease of the nervous system, is found in the outer layer and germ of cereals, hence the value of whole-meal bread, compared with that made from fine, milled, white flour, in which the vitamin is absent. It is also found in pure milk, egg yolk and yeast.

It is probably a mixture of several vitamins and contains one factor—the P.P. factor, which prevents Pellagra, a disease of the nervous cutaneous and digestive systems.

Vitamin C, the anti-scorbutic, is the one which prevents Scurvy, a disease which used to be so deadly among sailors on long voyages. It is found in fresh fruit and green vegetables, and is particularly abundant in oranges and tomatoes.

Vitamin D, the anti-rachitic vitamin is the one which prevents Rickets, a disorder of nutrition, marked by alterations in the structure and growth of bones, caused by lack of sunshine and by faulty diet. This vitamin is associated specially with oils and fats, particularly the oil of fish. It is most abundant in cod-liver oil.

Rickets is a common and serious disease in crowded cities, and is a serious problem in public health. It is prevented by sunshine and proper diet, as milk, yolk of egg and cod-liver oil.

The sunshine must be direct, or passed through special glass, for ordinary glass filters off the effective ultra-violet radiations of the sun.

Vitamin E, the reproductive vitamin, is present in lettuce, egg yolk, beef liver, whole wheat and rolled oats.

Vitamins are all ultimately of vegetable origin, and are not producible by the animal system. Where they exist in animal foods, they have been absorbed from the vegetable kindgdom hence the value of fresh pasteurage for cows, and the necessity of proper vegetable foods for the maintenance of health.

One fact of great importance is that overheating and prolonged cooking destroy a large proportion of vitamins. Many of the disorders of our artificial civilisation as decayed teeth, unstable nervous systems and stunted growth, are probably largely due to this cause. Nature does not spare those who break her laws. The essence of the whole matter is to use a great variety of fresh foods, judiciously chosen, and not to spoil their value by over-heating and prolonged cooking.

Local conditions make fruit and vegetables so liable to gross contamination with the microbes of disease, that sterilisation in boiling water is essential whenever possible. This protects from infection and does not impair nutritive value if done in accordance with the instructions of the Public Health Notice.

Here follow Tables of Vital Statistics, Communicable Diseases and of the work of the Food, Dairies and Markets Division, Sanitation Division, Tuberculosis and Venereal Diseases Clinics and Municipal Laboratories, Hospitals and Slaughterhouse.

C. NOEL DAVIS,
Commissioner of Public Health.

Duty at Places of Amusement amounted to 10,014 hours.

The fires more particularly of note during the month were:—

September 11, 9.7 p.m., 200 Pingliang Road. Cotton Godown. Sections of Yangtszepoo Division.—Sighting a large glare en-route, the Division found a section of a cotton godown well alight, the mill staff being at work with three jets from the private installation.

Difficulty was experienced in entering the godown on account of the intense heat, the metal doors being white hot, but this was overcome and the fire was confined to the section in which it originated. The roof and a considerable number of bales of cotton were damaged.

The pumping connections and private pump and installation were brought into use.

September 26, 11.29 p.m., Sa. 1103 off Watting Road. Dwellings. Sections of Sinza Division.—This was a late call, for on arrival the upper portion of a block of six dwellings was in flames.

The Division had only just got to work when the walls of three premises collapsed and the falling masonry knocked three men from ladders operating in the alleyway; fortunately, however, their injuries were slight.

Operations were hampered by bamboo fences in the alleyway on the west side, but the fire was confined to where it was found, the top floors being badly damaged.

Three Special Calls were received.

At 8.46 a.m., on the 23rd., a request for assistance was received from the Ewo Press Packing Co., 53a North Soochow Road. Sections of Central and Hongkew Divisions responded and found two Chinese with limbs caught in a press packing machine. They were eventually released and conveyed to Hospital, but their injuries were not of a serious nature.

At 3.43 p.m., on the 24th., a section of Central stood by while the doors of a strong room were being opened with an oxy-acetylene cutter at the Yokohama Specie Bank, 31, The Bund.

A call for assistance was received from the Police at 4.30 p.m., on the 30th., when six houses (Nos. S. 327/332 Ningpo Road) collapsed, burying several people. These were extricated with the help of onlookers and suffered only minor cuts and bruises, it being later reported that one person, believed to have been on the first floor rear of No. S. 332 at the time of collapse, remained unaccounted for. The search was continued and the following morning the body of a youth of eighteen was found beneath the debris on the road about four feet from the front of the building, life being extinct. He had obviously succeeded in reaching the road, but was caught by the facia board and trapped when the front of the house fell.

The following inspections were carried out by the Department during the month:—

1. Licences.—
   (a) Premises of Applicants for Licences 43
   (b) Re-inspections 70
2. Licensed Premises.—

The above inspections revealed 230 breaches of the Licensing Conditions laid down by the Council and 170 letters were written with regard to Fire Installations.

In addition Hydrant Inspections were as follow:—

(a) Shanghai Waterworks 2,297
(b) Private Installations 429

2,726

One hundred and fifty nine permits for the discharge and transport of dangerous and/or hazardous goods within the Settlement were granted.

In terms of the appended correspondence, it has been decided to refer the under-mentioned cases to the Land Commission for decision:—

Chapoo Road Widening.—Cad. Lots 915A and 916A:—

Shanghai, April 4, 1929.

SIR,—Referring to your letter of August 22, 1928, Ref. No. L-79/372, together with tracing No. 17795, showing the Chapoo road widening, I am requested by the beneficial owner to lay before you for your consideration, his claim in regard to certain portions of land measuring in area 1 fun 5 le 8 hao which is required by the Council for road widening. The said land is situated on Chapoo Road near Haining Road in the Northern District.

As this property is a very valuable one, and the beneficial owner will never part with it but for the fact that it was required by the Council for road widening, I have offered, on behalf of the beneficial owner, to purchase the remaining area of 4 le 1 hao belonging to Cad. Lot 916, which adjoins the above property, at the rate of Tls. 60,000.00 per mow, but this offer was flatly refused by the owner of Cad. Lot 916.

Under these circumstances, the beneficial owner has requested me to lay before you his claim for compensation in the sum of Tls. 6,320.00 (i.e., at the rate of Tls. 40,000.00 per mow) plus 10 per cent. for compulscry surrender.

I shall therefore thank you to favour me with an early reply.

Yours faithfully,
GEO. R. GROVE.

J. E. NEEDHAM, Esq.,
Acting Commissioner of Public Works,
Municipal Council.

Public Works Department,
Shanghai, April 16, 1929.

SIR,—In reply to your letter of 4th instant submitting a claim of Tls. 6,320 in respect to the 0.158 Mow scheduled from B. C. Lots 10510 and 10812, Cad. Lots 916A and 915A Northern, for Chapoo Road widening, it would appear advisable that the consideration of your claim remain in abeyance until the plans for the reconstruction of the property have been submitted and approved by the Council.

Yours faithfully,
J. E. NEEDHAM,
Acting Commissioner of Public Works.

G. R. GROVE, Esq.,

Shanghai, August 23, 1929.

SIR,—I beg to refer you to my letter of April 4, 1929, and your reply L-84/477 dated April 16, 1929 in reference to the Chapoo and Haining Roads Widening, B. C. Lots 10510 and 10812, Cad. Lots 915A and 916A.

As I have been informed by Mr. Robert Fan, the architect, that the plans for the reconstruction of the property have been submitted to the Council for approval, furthermore the boundary stones defining this property have already been erected, I shall be very much obliged if you will kindly give my claim for compensation your consideration and let me have your decision at an early date.

Thanking you for your attention in the matter.

Yours faithfully,
GEO. R. GROVE.

J. E. NEEDHAM, Esq.,
Acting Commissioner of Public Works,
Municipal Council.

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, September 19, 1929.

SIR,—With reference to your letters of April 4 and August 23 addressed to the Commissioner of Public Works on the subject of the area required from Cadastral Lots 915A and 916A for the scheduled widening of Chapoo Road, I am directed to offer a lump sum of Tls. 4,800 for the area of Mow 0.158 involved.

I shall be obliged if you will inform me whether this offer is acceptable.

I am, Sir,
Your obedient servant,
S. M. EDWARDS,
Secretary.

G. R. GROVE, Esq.,

Shanghai, September 24, 1929.

SIR,—In reply to your letter No. 3264 of September 19, I have to state that the amount mentioned in your letter viz: Tls. 4,800.00 is too small in comparison with what was paid for the surrender of a portion of land at the corner of Boone and Chapoo Roads as well as for that portion adjoining my property.

I beg to request that a lump sum of Shanghai Taels Six thousand (Shanghai Tls. 6,000.00.) including the 10 per cent. for compulsory surrender be paid me as compensation for the surrender of the area of Mow 0.158 involved.

I take this opportunity of thanking you to give this matter your kind consideration.

Yours faithfully,
GEO. R. GROVE.

S. M. EDWARDS, Esq.,
Secretary,
Municipal Council.

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, October 16, 1929.

SIR,—I have to ackowledge receipt of your letter of September 24 on the subject of the area required from Cadastral Lots 915A and 916A for the scheduled widening of Chapoo Road.

With regard to your contention that the compensation offered by the Council is too small in comparison with what was paid for the area surrendered from the adjoining property Cadastral Lot 916, I have to inform you that Cadastral Lot 916 is assessed at Tls. 30,000 per mow and the compensation awarded by the Land Commissioners was based on the amount of Tls. 40,000 per mow, i.e., 33⅓ per cent. above the assessed value. Cadastral Lots 915A and 916A are assessed at Tls. 27,000 per mow and the present compensation offered to you is on the basis of Tls. 36,000 per mow, i.e., an increase of 33⅓ per cent. A deduction of one-sixth for betterment has been made in view of the fact that the road is being widened from 30 feet to 40 feet. Moreover, I would point out that in the case of Cadastral Lot 916 practically the whole property was required for scheduled road widenings whereas in the present case only portions of the lots are affected. In view of the foregoing the Council considers that the offer of Tls. 4,800 contained in its letter of September 19 is equitable and I am directed to inform you that no increase therein can be made.

I shall be obliged if you will inform me whether upon reconsideration you are prepared to accept this offer.

I am, Sir,
Your obedient servant,
J. R. JONES,
Deputy Secretary.

G. R. GROVE, Esq.,

Shanghai, October 21, 1929.

SIR,—I have for acknowledgment your letter No. 3264 dated October 16, and in reply thereto regret to state that I cannot see my way to accept the offer contained therein.

I wish, therefore, to withdraw my claim for compensation and to inform you that a fresh claim will be submitted to the Land Commissioners in due course.

Yours faithfully,
GEO. R. GROVE.

J. R. JONES, Esq.,
Deputy Secretary,
Municipal Council.

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, October 26, 1929.

SIR,—With reference to your letter of October 21 I have to inform you that the matter of the compensation payable in respect of the area required from Cadastral Lots 915A and 916A for the scheduled widening of Chapoo Road will be referred to the Land Commissioners for decision.

I am, Sir,
Your obedient servant,
J. R. JONES,
Deputy Secretary.

G. R. GROVE, Esq.,

Shanghai, October 28, 1929.

SIR,—On August 16, 1928, I was notified by your department that a strip of land belonging to Cad. Lots 915A and 916A and measuring in area One fun, Five li, Eight hao, (1—5—8) is required by the Council for road widening, I am now filing an amended claim for compensation with your department and shall appreciate if you will kindly place same before the Land Commissioners for consideration.

The amount claimed as compensation is Taels:—Seven Thousand Nine Hundred (Sh. Tls. 7,900.00) (computed on a basis of Tls. 50,000.00 per mow) plus ten per cent. (10 per cent.) for compulsory surrender.

I may point out to you that prior to the receipt of your notification as mentioned above, I received an offer from a theatrical company for this property at the rate of Taels 60,000.00 per mow, but before the negotiations could be finally completed, notice was received that the Council required a strip of this land for road widening and in consequence the sale fell through as the prospective buyers had no use for the remaining portion thereof.

Furthermore, when I wrote on August 16, 1928, and requested compensation for the surrender of this portion of land, I was asked by the Council to wait until the plans for the new building had been approved.

I may further state that the building is now progressing and nearing completion and the Council will be a gainer thereby in the form of revenue from increased taxes. You will no doubt appreciate the fact that the erection of this building has been greatly hindered due to the strip being taken as it leaves very little space for same and greatly reduce the rental of the said building. So while the Council is a gainer I am a loser. I may also add that I offered the owner of Cad. Lot 916 at the rate of Tls. 60,000.00 per mow for the remaining portion of his land but this offer was flatly refused by him. This tends to show the value of land in that locality and that owners are most reluctant to part with their holdings.

Under the above circumstances, I consider my claim a fair one and shall thank you to place same before the Land Commissioners for consideration at the earliest possible date as this matter has been dragging on for over a year and still no satisfactory solution has been arrived at.

Yours faithfully,
GEO. R. GROVE.

J. R. JONES, Esq.,
Deputy Secretary,
Municipal Council.

Sinza Road Widening.—Cad. Lot 655:—

Shanghai, July 23, 1929.

DEAR SIR,—We send you herewith our claim for compensation in connection with the land to be surrendered for road widening purposes from Cadastral Lot 655, Western, on which the owner is shortly going to build new shops.

In forming our claim we have gone into a re-development scheme of the whole lot, particulars of which we enclose. Capitalizing the net rentals at 7 per cent. and deducting the cost of the new buildings makes the land worth Tls. 378,140 or Tls. 49,000 a mow, which is also about the market value of the property.

Our claim is therefore as follows:—

	Tls.
Mow 1.690 at Tls. 49,000 a mow	82,810
Plus 10 per cent. for compulsory surrendtr	8,281
Total Claim	Tls. 91,091

Yours faithfully,
LESTER, JOHNSON & MORRISS.

J. E. NEEDHAM, Esq.,
Acting Commissioner of Public Works,
Municipal Council.

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, August 14, 1929.

GENTLEMEN,—I have to acknowledge receipt of your letter of July 23 addressed to the Commissioner of Public Works submitting your claim for compensation for the area required from Cadastral Lot 655 for the scheduled widening of Sinza Road.

In reply I am directed to offer a sum of Tls. 42,814 for the area of Mow 1.690 involved. This offer is calculated at the rate of Tls. 38,000 per mow less a deduction of 1/3rd for betterment.

I shall be obliged if you will inform me whether this offer is acceptable.

I am, Gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
J. R. JONES,
Deputy Secretary.

MESSRS. LESTER, JOHNSON & MORRISS.

Shanghai, August 28, 1929.

DEAR SIR,—We are in receipt of your letter dated August 14, making an offer of Taels 38,000 per mow for the area to be surrendered from Cadastral Lot 655 for road widening purposes.

In reply we shall be greatly obliged if you will inform us how this rate was arrived at.

Yours faithfully,
LESTER, JOHNSON & MORRISS.

J. R. JONES, Esq.,
Deputy Secretary,
Municipal Council.

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, September 18, 1929.

GENTLEMEN,—In reply to your letter of August 28 I have to inform you that the Council's offer of compensation at the rate of Tls. 38,000 per mow contained in its letter of August 14, for the area of Mow 1.690 required from Cadastral Lot 655 for the scheduled widening of Sinza Road is based on what is considered by the Council to be the value of land in that locality.

I am, Gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
S. M. EDWARDS,
Secretary.

MESSRS. LESTER, JOHNSON & MORRISS.

Shanghai, October 28, 1929.

DEAR SIR,—We regret we cannot accept your offer of Taels 38,000 per mow in connection with the land to be surrendered from Cad. Lot 655, Western District, for road widening purposes, as our figure of Taels 49,000 per mow was based on a 7 per cent. net return on the rentals and is in accordance with the present market value of the property.

We cannot agree that any betterment accrues in connection with this widening. The property is suitable for ordinary Chinese shops which are now being completed, and when the Council pull down the houses opposite throwing the land into the road, the wide open space that will result if anything detrimentally affects this property.

Yours faithfully,
LESTER, JOHNSON & MORRISS.

S. M. EDWARDS, Esq.,
Secretary,
Municipal Council

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, November 11, 1929.

Notice of the hearing of the case by the Commission will be communicated to you in due course.

I am, Gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
J. R. JONES,
Deputy Secretary.

MESSRS. LESTER, JOHNSON & MORRISS.

Light Gun Battery.—Mr. P. Crow to be 2nd Lieutenant.

S.V.C. Special Reserve.

The Council has sanctioned the formation of a new S.V.C. Special Reserve and enrolment for this Reserve will commence on December 1, 1929. In bringing into being the new Reserve the Council has been actuated chiefly by the consideration that, as matters now are, there is a very considerable number of foreign residents in Shanghai at the present time who for one reason or another are unable or unwilling to join an active Unit of the Corps and their possible services are therefore lost to the S.V.C. The new Reserve does not intend to compete for the personnel that is available for the Active Units of the Corps it would be the last force to be mobilized in the event of mobilization becoming necessary.

The following tentative regulations have been drawn up for the organization, etc. of the new Special Reserve:—

(1) It will be organized by districts for the purpose of mobilization as under:—

(a) Residents of the Western District.

(b) Residents of the Northern and Eastern Districts.

(c) Residents of the French Concession.

(2) On mobilization members would, as far as possible, be attached to their S.V.C. National Unit(s).

(3) Age—35 years and over, only in exceptional circumstances will men under 35 years of age be accepted.

(4) Men will not be enrolled for any fixed period i.e., they can resign at any time.

(5) Men enrolling will be under no financial obligation whatsoever.

(6) An annual Musketry Course will be obligatory, drills optional.

Uniform will not be provided but a distinctive badge in the way of an arm-band or coat-badge.

Until some definite information is forthcoming regarding the number of men likely to enrol in the new Special Reserve nothing can be decided regarding the issue of rifles and equipment to men enrolling.

The existing Special Reserves i.e., Power, Tramway and Telephone Companies will be merged in the new Special Reserve.

Members of the public who are desirous of enrolling in the new Special Reserve should forward their names and addresses to Headquarters S.V.C. on or after December 1, 1929, when an enrolment form will be forwarded them for completion and return.

Ex-members of the Chinese Company S.V.C. who wish to enrol should forward their names to the O. C. Chinese Company, S.V.C. c/o Headquarters, S.V.C.

Chinese Government Revenue Stamps.

The following arrangement has been approved by the Chinese Authorities and the Diplomatic and Consular Bodies to govern the sale and use of Chinese Revenue Stamps in the Settlement:—

"An arrangement governing the sale and use of Chinese Revenue Stamps in the International Settlement of Shanghai.

"1. The consular representatives of the Powers concerned recognize that the Provisional Revenue Stamp Tax Law of the National Government, with the exception of Group IV of Article 2 thereof, may, with reference to the Chinese residents, be applied in the International Settlement of Shanghai.

"2. That for the sole purpose of selling revenue stamps to those who voluntarily apply for them, a special office of the Stamp Tax Bureau may be established in the International Settlement of Shanghai.

"3. That, as the various Governments concerned have not recognized the Chinese Stamp Tax Law, they cannot force their nationals to use the revenue stamps.

"4. That Chinese police, or other agents of the Chinese authorities, must not, on any pretext or in any form, be used within the Settlement limits for the enforcement of, or in connection with, the Stamp Tax Law.

"5. That the absence of stamps on any document in the possession of Chinese residents cannot invalidate such document, but can only be a reason for inflicting a fine according to the law.

"6. That there be no inspection of books or records in Chinese premises by the Shanghai Municipal Council in connection with the application of the said Stamp Tax Law in the International Settlement, nor any search made of such premises except upon search warrant issued by the Shanghai Provisional Court."

Plan of Shanghai.

The new Plan of Shanghai including the International and French Settlements, on a scale of 4 inches to 1 mile, is completed, and may be obtained on application at the Revenue Office, Administration Building. The different styles, with corresponding prices, are as follows:—

Coloured and Unmounted	$7.00
Coloured and Mounted	$9.00

1.—Are the complaints regarding the telephone service at Shanghai justified?

From an examination of the Telephone Company's fault records which show that during last summer the faults reached a maximum of 600 in a single day there is no question that complaints were at that time justified. The principal cause of this excessive figure was the action of the humid weather during July and August upon the old and defective outside plant. This matter is further considered in Section 8.

It appears evident that complaints of unsatisfactory service at the present time also are not without foundation. An observation of the traffic passing through the exchanges indicates that the subscribers suffer from an abnormal number of "engaged" and "no reply" cases, also that there is a considerable amount of faint speech transmission.

Engaged reports are in many cases false owing to a number of causes. On many subscribers' lines there is still a connection from the automatic switchboard at Central, to the original manual board and also to a special "trunk" board recently installed. The clearing signals depend in many cases on the receipt of "magneto" ring off signals from manual subscribers and as it is well known that failures to ring off are common the automatic switches are consequently liable to give the engaged condition when the subscriber is actually disengaged. In Section 2 details are given of certain special telephone conditions that are found in Shanghai and the tendency on the part of subscribers to leave their receivers off is one that with the automatic system properly results in engaged signals. It has been found that in some cases the operators report "engaged" without justification.

The "no reply" cases follow from two principal causes. First the leaving off of receivers on the part of subscribers in magneto exchanges and secondly defective ringing arrangements that are at present in use at certain special manual operating positions known as call Indicator positions. (See Section 7).

A further contributory factor in producing unsatisfactory service is the fact that subscribers do not invariably use the five figure system of numbers, but many still use the exchange names. Advertisements and correspondence paper with 3 and 4 figure numbers are common. A considerable amount of wrong dialing follows and although it will disappear in time it is desirable to circularize subscribers asking them where not already done to alter the headings of correspondence paper and other notices as early as convenient.

Faint speech follows from two main causes. First there is an unusual arrangement in Shanghai whereby the speech current is supplied by a single dry cell battery. It is the standard practice throughout the world when local batteries are in use for two cells to be supplied. The provision of one cell means an inadequate current under normal conditions and a very slight fault will render service inefficient as there is not the second cell to rely upon as would be the case with the two cell system. Secondly the main distribution frame in the Central Building provided in 1908 was retained for reasons of economy when the automatic equipment was installed. This frame is most unsatisfactory giving rise to variable contacts of from 10 to 200 ohms resistance and faint speech and noisy circuits are likely to arise.

Owing to the heavy growth in telephone development during recent years these defects have become more noticeable than was previously the case and as this period coincides with the introduction of the automatic equipment it has generally been assumed in the public press and elsewhere that the fault lay with the automatic system.

I have carefully examined this aspect of the case and find that in general calls that are completed wholly within the automatic equipment are satisfactory but that the mixed system (partly automatic and partly manual) is unsatisfactory. As there are 16,400 subscribers working manually and 7,300 subscribers automatically the manual portion of the system has a big effect on the service.

2.—What special telephone conditions, if any, exist in Shanghai?

It is interesting to recount a number of conditions that exist in Shanghai but do not wholly apply in say Great Britain or America.

The operators on the switchboards have to receive calls in Chinese, French, Japanese, Russian and English and when written complaints are made letters in any of these languages may be received by the Telephone Company and they must often be translated before attention can be given to them.

It is necessary to print duplicate directories, one foreign directory and one Chinese twice per annum and the issue annually of these four volumes is a great burden on the Telephone Company.

There are more Chinese subscribers than foreigners in the ratio of 55 to 45.

The calling rate of Shanghai is exceedingly high being 11 calls per subscriber per day. The corresponding calling rate in London is 6.5.

The Chinese operators apparently have difficulty in understanding callers and it is feared that many calls fail for this reason and it also follows that the operators are not able to take satisfactory operating loads. The operator's load in Shanghai is about 50 per cent. of the load taken by an operator in Great Britain.

The subscribers at Shanghai do not invariably co-operate with the Company in providing an efficient service. It has come under notice that a considerable number of subscribers during the afternoon in order not to be disturbed whilst sleeping remove the receiver from the telephone rest and leave it off sometimes even forgetting to replace it later. Some of the older telephones are fitted with special keys to render the bell inaudible when making a call. It has been found that subscribers for the reason mentioned above and also to prevent being disturbed during the night have placed weights upon these keys. Cases have also been brought to light in which subscribers have packed the bell with paper or other material to prevent its ringing at night. These objectionable practices are not confined merely to residential telephones as business houses frequently leave false conditions upon the lines thus making traffic to them impossible and one police station was unobtainable on four occasions within a month through not replacing the receiver.

Another rather unusual circumstance was reported; two subscribers, both ladies, connected to one of the manual exchanges consistently refuse to make calls through the medium of the ordinary operator but insist upon calling up the supervisor by name and requesting her to make the connection personally. This arrangement has apparently been tolerated because the two subscribers are influential but it is one which in my opinion should not be permitted.

Cases have come to light in which operators have been paid "squeeze" by subscribers to give them preferential service. It is not suggested that such cases are numerous but the fact that they have been discovered shows the need for watching that aspect of the case. It has also been noted that certain operators work on private exchanges for business firms during the day time and take up duty for the Telephone Company at night. It is not possible always to identify such cases but where discovered the Company takes steps to make such a practice impossible.

A point worth noting is that the most difficult period for the Telephone Company embraces the hot and humid months of July and August. During this period when most people endeavour to remain quietly indoors the Engineering employees of the Telephone Company must be at their peak efficiency. It has to be admitted that this is an exceedingly trying time for the staff and it is essential that the necessity for external maintenance shall not be so great in future. (see Section 8).

3.—Was the original decision to instal automatic telephone equipment sound?

In 1924 the Telephone Company installed at the East Exchange an experimental automatic equipment manufactured by Messrs. Ericssons. As a result of this experiment it was decided by the Company that automatic working was desirable, would be possible in Shanghai, and tenders for a large exchange at Central were sought. The lowest tender was for the rotary automatic system manufactured by the Western Electric Company. Before the automatic system was adopted the Company consulted the Council and a number of conferences ensued in which the suitability of automatic equipment for installation in Shanghai was fully discussed. I have perused the minutes of these conferences and am in full agreement with the decisions then made. I think that the special language and operating difficulties outlined in Section 2 clearly emphasise the desirability of departing from manual switching quite apart from the greater security of service to be obtained from an automatic system during times of riot or other public disturbance.

4.—Is the Rotary system of automatic telephone a good one?

The answer is in the affirmative. This system is extensively used in Denmark, Holland, Belgium, France and Spain and is giving satisfactory service wherever it is employed. It is being introduced also in the Far East at Canton and Hangchow. Before the Rotary system was introduced into Shanghai the Council obtained direct information as to the suitability of the Rotary System.

The arguments in favour of the Rotary system are mainly that it employs a motor-drive thereby permitting the use of very heavy contacts and of robust mechanism. It is also possible and customary in this system to use a sequence switch which permits of great flexibility in circuit arrangements rendering many facilities possible in this system that are not possible where sequence switches are not employed. The system employs a register which makes it unnecessary to obtain synchronism between the dial and the switching mechanism.

The Shanghai Mutual Telephone Company departed from the manufacturer's normal specification by demanding a 24 volt system and relays impregnated with wax. The normal voltage employed with the rotary system is 48 but the Telephone Company wishing to avoid costly renovation work on the outside plant and desiring to make use of an existing power plant thought that 24 volts would be preferable. That this was wrong as regards the outside plant was proved by the effects of the humid weather last summer and consequently the renovation work must now be done. The power plant has also had to be changed owing to the inadequacy of the old equipment.

Impregnation of the relays with wax was thought to be necessary in view of the very humid climate of Shanghai but the proposed remedy has proved to be as bad as the disease for the wax during the hot weather melted and oozed from the relays causing faults in the equipment. This is not a defect that can in any way be charged against the type of system—It would have been exactly the same in any other system if waxed relays had been specified. The manufacturers, however, feel that their interests are best served by having an efficient system working in Shanghai and whilst not accepting responsibility for the troubles due to the waxing of relays have offered to replace all the line and cut-off relays free of cost to the Telephone Company except for the labour of replacement which must be carried out by the Telephone Company.

5.—Was the method adopted of introducing the automatic system into Shanghai a good one?

When the plans for the introduction of automatic telephony into Shanghai were being prepared it was difficult to obtain money, and conditions were so unsettled that it was not easy to carry out any plan conceived on a big scale. In my opinion, however, the Company did not provide sufficient safeguards for the service in the plan which was evolved. The arrangement was to retain the old power plant, the old main distribution frame and the old intermediate distribution frame; to install new automatic equipment for 5,000 lines in the Central Exchange; to install call indicator positions at all the manual exchanges and then to change the subscribers from manual to automatic working by very easy stages. This desire to change the subscribers by easy stages seems to indicate that the Company had serious doubts as to the reliability of the outside plant. It is evident, however, that it would have been far better if the whole of the outside plant had been re-designed first and then the conversion to automatic working effected. The Company, however, had further objects in view, it was desired to erect automatic equipment in all the existing buildings before they were filled with manual plant so avoiding the necessity for the erection of new buildings. In my opinion these two policies were in conflict because the first policy meant "go slow" and the second policy meant "go fast." It may be and rather appears to be the case that the Company did not anticipate the present heavy development, but an examination of the figures indicates that the development today is not more than might have been anticipated six or seven years ago. Telephone development follows a compound interest law and the rate of growth on this basis has fallen and not increased since 1923. It was 13 per cent. in 1923 and was 9.8 last year. It is now found to be quite impossible to place the automatic equipments in the same buildings as the manual plant and therefore the original scheme has failed. If these conditions had been appreciated at the outset there is little doubt that the Company would have embarked on heavier financing and would have made arrangements for the erection of new buildings and provided for the transfer of subscribers to automatic working, exchange by exchange; a much more satisfactory scheme and one that must now be adopted.

It was soon found that the old power plant would not meet requirements and as already stated new power plant had to be purchased.

The old main frame which has been retained in service is extremely defective (see Section 1) and should in my opinion be replaced by a more efficient main frame at the earliest possible moment e.g. when the manual plant has been recovered from the Central building thus releasing space.

6.—Is it desirable that the Rotary system be abandoned and replaced by the well known Step-by-Step system or systems be mixed?

In Section 4 the claims of the Rotary system have been mentioned. On behalf of the Step-by-Step system it is claimed that its mechanical operation is more direct and more easily understood by the maintenance staff and that the circuits are simple. It has been suggested that the Rotary system be therefore scrapped. It is considered that the technical claims of both systems are justified but that the benefits to be derived from either set of claims are not of such moment as to influence the adoption of either system. Generally the adoption of one system or the other is in the ultimate consideration influenced more by reasons of policy than those of technique. Engineers have usually been quite satisfied with either system.

I have examined the working of the Rotary system in Shanghai and do not find any grounds for its supersession. On all tests that I have made it has worked quite satisfactorily and I have made personally (or had made for me) a large number of tests which indicate that for straight automatic calls the service given is good. It is extremely fortunate that I am able to report in this sense for the alternative would have been extremely serious. If it had been necessary to replace the existing Central exchange by an alternative equipment the plan would have involved the finding of a new site, the erection of a new building, the planning and installing of new automatic equipment and the diversion of the cables from the old building to the new building without the disturbance of service. It would also have involved the maintenance of service between the new exchange and all the other exchanges in the area. At present the manual exchanges are operated from call indicator positions and as these positions could not be worked from Step-by-Step equipment they would have had to be duplicated and in some cases accommodation for them does not exist. The only practical alternative to new call indicator positions would be the erection of new buildings at all the exchanges and the erection of new automatic equipment with a simultaneous change-over throughout the area. This latter procedure would be practicable if accompanied by a complete overhaul of the outside plant but in my opinion the engineering work involved in either scheme would result in a loss of at least three years in the restoration of good service to Shanghai. It may be urged that a new Step-by-Step exchange could be placed in the Central building after the manual equipment has been removed, but it has been ascertained that the building is too weak for the accommodation of further automatic equipment.

It has been suggested that as the Telephone Company introduced 24 volt working at Central in error it will be necessary to convert the system to 48 volt working. This is a misapprehension and apart from its being quite unnecessary it has been confirmed that the Company have not at any time had such a step in contemplation.

The trouble of last summer was mainly due to the effects of humidity on the outside plant with the constant pressure of the central battery on the lines. It should be noted that in all probability the trouble would have been even worse if a Step-by-Step system had been in use because the resultant heavy traffic could be more satisfactorily handled by the Rotary system owing to the fact that it has a facility that permits of the holding back of impulses until the equipment is ready to transmit the call; so that in many cases a patient subscriber would have his call completed in the Rotary system where it would have failed in the other.

It has been suggested that the Step-by-Step system is superior to the Rotary system in times of emergency. This statement is based on the fact that if the power supply fails and the motors of the Rotary system should stop, service would be impossible. It is true that if no precautions were taken such a state of affairs would ensue but there is an automatic emergency switching arrangement in force at Central under which the motors are provided temporarily with power from the battery and the Company has also provided an emergency power plant. With regard to the maintenance of service from a battery either on the Rotary or Step-by-Step system it is necessary to point out that very serious dangers are likely to follow the use of a single battery floated on the charging generator in places like Shanghai. I am of opinion that the double battery system has much in its favour and think that the Company would be well advised to retain this system in their future exchanges.

It has been suggested that there would be an advantage in retaining the Rotary system for existing exchanges but that new exchanges should be step-by-step or some other system. Such an arrangement in my opinion would be very expensive because of the intercommunication apparatus required. It would be cumbersome and most difficult to manage because of the maintenance problems involved. Mixing of systems is certain to produce bad service and cannot be recommended.

7.—Should the conversion of the existing magneto switchboards and telephones to the C.B. system, proposed as a palliative measure, be carried out?

It has been proposed by the Telephone Company to carry out the above mentioned conversion. I am in full agreement with that proposal although it is somewhat expensive. The conversion to central battery working will afford better supervisory signals for the operators thus leading to a considerable reduction in the false engaged signals now in force. It will improve transmission by giving subscribers an adequate battery supply instead of the present objectionable one cell arrangement (see Section 1).

With central battery working it will be possible to introduce improved ringing arrangements on the call indicator positions thus bringing about a reduction in the cases of "no reply" (see Section 1).

It is quite impossible to expect good service from a system that consists of a highly specialised mechanical device like the automatic exchange and obsolete magneto switchboards. Fortunately the magneto switchboards in Shanghai were designed to be suitable for conversion to central battery working and it is therefore probable that the converted equipment will fetch quite good prices if sold.

It is recommended that the conversion of all the existing exchanges to central battery working be carried out as quickly as possible with due regard, however, to the precautions mentioned in Section 8.

It is necessary to criticise the need for making this conversion at this late date. The Central exchange was installed in 1908 and the other exchanges in the area followed. Under the terms of its franchise the Company are by Clause 3 thereof under an obligation to "——provide and maintain a first class telephone service including all reasonable modern inventions——." The Central Battery System was invented in 1898 and had been in common use for some years before the Central Exchange was installed. It is difficult therefore to understand apart from considerations of first cost why large magneto exchanges were ever installed in Shanghai. If the Central Battery System had been installed the line plant could never have fallen to its present deplorably low state for it demands high grade line plant and it is probable therefore that the troubles of last summer would not have occurred.

8.—Should the proposed scheme for reconditioning and rearraging the external plant in the Central area be carried out?

I have stated previously that in my opinion it was wrong to introduce automatic equipment without precedent reconditioning of the external plant. It is well known that a magneto system will work after a style with quite inferior external plant and it is also common knowledge that after a magneto system has been in operation for a number of years the cumulative effect of minor defects in the external plant is such that satisfactory central battery working is not to be expected without precautionary measures being taken.

Some years ago the cable plant in Shanghai was subject to heavy electrolytic damage from stray tramway currents. The trouble has been very much reduced in recent years but the effects of the old damage are still apparent on the lead sheathing of the older cables. Cases have occurred also in which the lead sheathing of cables has been damaged during roadway operations and no report had reached the Company. Such conditions do not necessarily affect the magneto service but as soon as the constant pressure of the central battery is placed on the cable the defects are disclosed. To remedy these defects it is usually necessary to draw out the cables and replace them but in some of the older cables the ducts are now choked and withdrawal is impossible so that defects in such cases lead to the abandonment of the cable.

The cable layout as it exists at present is not the most economical nor the most suitable for serving the new exchanges of Fokien and Pichon. It is therefore desirable that an economical layout should be introduced.

There is a large amount of covered twin conductor construction work in the alleyways and this network has got out of control recently owing to the necessity (on account of shortage of external plant) for taking devious routes to supply service. This twin wire construction is in very bad condition owing to the large number of wires that are passed through the rings attached to the walls of the alleyways. Each time alterations are made there is a danger of damaging the old and dilapidated wire so that during the humid weather faults are unavoidable and serious.

The wire in subscribers offices is very old and in a very great measure needs renewing with a type of material less likely to be affected by local humid conditions.

For these reasons it is agreed that the reconditioning work is essential and urgent, and every effort has been made to impress upon the Telephone Company and the representatives of the contractors the need for completing the work by June next year. The contracts at present placed affect only the Central area but it is necessary to point out that the conversion of West and North to central battery working will place constant electrical pressure on the external plant of those districts and it is recommended that contracts be at once placed for those areas also, in order that the worst sections may be completed before the damp season.

The contractors are carrying out the work only of renewing the alleyway wiring. The running of large cables and the renewal of office leads rests with the Company's staff. It is necessary therefore to ensure that the Company and the contractors march together. (vide Section 10).

9.—Should the existing East exchange be retained?

It was ascertained that the Telephone Company's plans include the scrapping of the East exchange and I have examined the conditions carefully to see whether such a step is justified. Although the automatic equipment at East gave some trouble when the plant was first installed it has now been giving excellent service for some years and is perfectly satisfactory. It may be described now as an excellent plant. One is reluctant therefore to remove from service any element that is efficient, but it has to be recognised that the East exchange is not developing and that a neighbouring exchange at Wayside will be necessary in any event. East is quite out of the wire centre and its retention becomes a matter more of sentiment than of sound engineering.

To permit of traffic between the various exchanges of the area and East it is necessary to introduce special and costly intercommunication apparatus which it is estimated would involve Tls. 115,000 expenditure by 1935 and as the system grows, more and more of this intercommunication apparatus would be necessary and would have to be allocated at various points throughout the area to give the necessary intercommunication with East.

It also has to be realised that the growth of the telephone system in Shanghai will eventually necessitate six figure numbers, the East exchange would in that event need modification and the intercommunication apparatus also.

It is highly desirable that every step that can be taken towards unification and standardization in the Shanghai Telephone area should be made effective and the existence of East, an isolated exchange on a different system from all the others is not consistent with such a policy. It is believed that the equipment for East being in very good condition could be sold as it stands for a substantial sum and it is therefore recommended that the East exchange be discontinued and the plant sold.

10.—What remedial steps should be taken and how can they be made effective?

As stated previously the trouble with the Telephone system in Shanghai is due to the mixing of a highly modern automatic system with an obsolete magneto manual system operated under extremely difficult conditions. I am therefore of the opinion that the final remedy must be a complete conversion to automatic working and that with determination this could be carried out within a period of two years. Assuming that the conversion of the existing manual equipment to Central battery working and the reconditioning of the external plant is carried out as described in other sections of this report there will be a progressive improvement from now onwards resulting in satisfactory service about two years hence. This programme is recommended.

It appears clear that work carried out at Shanghai in the past has generally been delayed from one cause or another; particularly on account of delay in delivery of stores. It will be necessary for a vigorous policy to be pursued by the Company if such delay is not to occur during the two years in question and I think that the duty of maintaining the present difficult system so as to be reasonably free from public complaint together with the work of reconstruction is too great a load for one man to carry. I therefore suggest that instead of the present organization in which there is a Chief Engineer with an Assistant Chief Engineer working in series there should be a temporary change in which the Chief Engineer delegates to his Assistant the whole of the work of reconstruction and does not permit his Assistant to do any other duties. It should be the duty under these circumstances of the Assistant Chief Engineer to carry on all the routine and technical work of the conversion going to his Chief whenever dates appear to be falling or changes in plan are proposed.

11.—What are the financial effects of the foregoing proposals.

I have discussed this matter with the General Manager and Chief Accountant of the Company and it appears evident that to complete the reconstruction programme in two years as suggested in section 10 and to carry on the development during that period would involve an expenditure of Tls. 3,000,000. It is also necessary that the Company should be able to see at least five years ahead from now and the expenditure for normal development in the succeeding three years is estimated to be Tls. 1,500,000 a total of Tls. 9,500,000. The periods are assumed to end on 31st March, 1932 and 31st March 1935 respectively. This is a large amount of money to raise in a short period and it is obviously the difficulty that the Company has foreseen for some time. In my opinion the heavy financing can be deferred no longer and definite steps to provide the funds must now be taken. In considering these figures note should be taken of the fact that the Telephone Company have had a depreciation account but have replaced practically none of their plant. About Tls. 3,000,000 has been appropriated to "depreciation" and in accordance with arrangements that I am given to understand the Council approve the money has been absorbed by the business and is therefore not available at the present time for the purpose for which it was intended. It is right, however, to consider Tls. 3,000,000 of the present demand as on account of depreciation and not new capital. The subscribers have benefited by lower rates and the shareholders by higher dividends than would have been the case had the depreciation allotment not been used in the business but invested outside.

12.—Are the telephone rates inadequate?

The telephone rates at Shanghai appear to me to be very low and particularly is this the case when it is recollected that the calling rate is 11 calls per line per day. The corresponding calling rate for London is 6.5 calls per line per day. Shanghai has a flat rate and London a message rate tariff. The following figures show the rental that would have to be paid by a subscriber in London making eleven calls per line per day for 300 days in the year:—

	£	s.	d.		Tls.
Annual rental (300 x 11 = 3,300)	7	0	0	=	55	@ 2/0½
calls @1d	13	15	0	=	108
	£20	15	0	=	163

Increased rates have recently been authorized for Hongkong and the rates there now range from Tls. 94 per annum to Tls. 247 per annum with intermediate graduations according to the locality of the subscriber.

Having regard for the financial requirements in the next few years and the fact that much of the equipment will probably have to be imported with an unfavourable exchange operating it does not seem unreasonable to suggest a temporary increase in rates as follows:—

	Present.	Proposed.
Business Telephones	Tls. 78	Tls. 105
Residential Telephones	„ 52	„ 65
Private Lines (per section)	„ 40	„ 50
Extension Telephones and Switchboards	Increase by 25 per cent.

The foregoing revised tariff would give the Company a nett increase in revenue of about 25 per cent.

It is recommended that the special shareholders discount now in operation should be discontinued as soon as possible. Last year this discount totalled Tls. 80,700.

The rate increases mentioned are considered satisfactory only as an immediate temporary measure. Permanent rates should be fixed as soon as possible and with that object in view it is recommended that a small Committee be constituted with representation from the two Councils, the Company, and the Subscribers. Logically for a large system a message rate is indicated but there are many difficult conditions in Shanghai that may militate against its popularity and these should be fully studied. Many small systems operate quite successfully on a Flat Rate, but the bigger a system grows the heavier is the cost of the intercommunication plant and the greater must become the flat rate until at last a point is reached when the rates are too high for the small user and something must be done to encourage development. The usual solution to the problem then is the message rate. It might be worth while however for the proposed Committee to consider a system of graduated flat rates catering for 5 classes of users, say:—

Class 1. Light user
under 201 calls per quarter.

Class 2. Light-medium user over 200 but under 401 calls per quarter.

Class 3. Medium user over 400 calls but under 601 calls per quarter.

Class 4. Heavy-medium user
over 600 but under 801 calls per quarter.

Class 5. Heavy user over 800 calls per quarter.

A system similar to the above would have the advantage of keeping down complaints regarding the accuracy of the accounts. It would assist the Company because of the fact that a simple accounting and billing system similar to that of the flat rate could be used. It is suggested that with this system meters be provided at all exchanges to be read as required and that if a subscriber in three months exceeds the appropriate quarterly limit of calls a warning letter be sent him, and if in the succeeding quarter the limit again has been exceeded the subscriber be automatically transferred to the next class. Having once been transferred to a new class the question of transferring back should not be considered within a period of twelve months.

13.—Is the engineering staff competent to maintain the automatic system?

During the process of inspection I have had an opportunity of meeting nearly all the foreign employees of the Company and some of the principal Chinese employees and I have been very much impressed with the calibre of the staff. In my opinion, the average ability is quite equal to that available in England and I think that with proper organization there need be no apprehension as regards the future. A very satisfactory and up to date staff organization has recently been introduced into the Company and there is every prospect of benefit being derived therefrom.

It would appear that very great expense to the Company may be involved in future in tempting foreign staff to come to Shanghai and I am in agreement with the arrangements now being introduced for the training of apprentices both foreign and Chinese. It is necessary that a definite training scheme should be introduced early and that the maximum possible advantage should be taken of well educated Chinese recruits. The difficulty in this connection appears to be one that does not apply to apprentices in England, namely that a well educated Chinese recruit generally objects to performing manual work and wants merely to supervise. This "face" problem is somewhat serious but I have had the advantage of a visit to the factory of the China Electric Company at Chapei and there a single foreigner has been able to train Chinese recruits to read engineering drawings and perform engineering operations in exactly the same manner as apprentices do in England. The results of this work were most interesting and when it is recognised that maintenance work demands more initiative in the individual than does construction work that factor would appear to be one that under proper tutorial methods might be used to make easier the solution of the "face" problem. It is probable that Chinese recruits could be used extensively in drawing office and design work if training were directed definitely towards that end.

A large number of the existing workmen in the Telephone Company are of the coolie class and whilst they may be quite satisfactory for certain classes of external work I think that the time has now arrived when they should not be employed normally on apparatus maintenance. It is desirable that every man on subscribers' apparatus maintenance should be able to read a circuit diagram and to diagnose faults instead of adopting the present system under which a man frequently applies "hit or miss" methods, thus often creating faults instead of removing them.

Whilst on the subject of the Telephone Company's staff I should like to pay a tribute to the work done by the Yangtszepoo Workshop. The superintendent of the factory and his staff are able to carry out electro-plating, construction of tools, construction of special apparatus such as desk switch-boards, the moulding of ducts and manhole roofs and the construction of the special pole bases that are an excellent characteristic of the Shanghai external plant. It seems certain that without the Yangtszepoo Workshop the Telephone Company would have been in extreme difficulties during recent years and I am quite sure that such work as moulding of ducts is done far cheaper in this way than under any scheme of importation.

14.—Future policy as regards supplies.

In order to keep the cost of plant down to a minimum the most rational method appears to be to utilize Chinese labour as far as possible. The reference in the preceding paragraph to the Yangtszepoo Workshop is appropriate but it should also be noted that the China Electric Company at Chapei is in a position to perform a large amount of work for the Telephone Company at short notice. I am, of course, strongly in favour of competitive tenders but there seems to be little doubt that the China Electric Company's factory is on the spot will, for many commodities, be in a position to outbid all other competitors. It is recommended therefore that full use be made of local resources when such a course is practicable and that local efforts be encouraged so as to avoid the heavy delays that have occurred in the past.

15.—Future changes in subscribers' numbers.

In Section 10 I have recommended that one Engineering Officer should devote his full time to the work of completely converting the telephone system to the automatic working. It is necessary to point out that by the end of 1937 there will be nearly 60,000 lines equipped assuming that the rate of development proceeds at 10 per cent. per annum (compound interest law). By that time it will be necessary to foresee the implications of a change to six figure numbers and it is therefore recommended that as soon as the conversion to automatic telephony is completed the same officer should devote his attention to the processes involved in the conversion to six figure numbers. However carefully such a change may be planned it will cause some inconvenience to the subscribers and it is desirable that the whole scheme should be laid out in detail and a definite programme prepared.

There appear in the past to have been very extensive changes in subscribers' numbers and it is suggested that in order in future to reduce the inconvenience due to such changes a very definite scheme of advising subscribers well in advance of the change should be introduced. It would also be an advantage if at the Central Exchange all the final selector units were modified to take private branch exchange subscribers. The modifications involved are very slight and it would be possible under such an arrangement to distribute the traffic more evenly through the exchange and also in certain cases to avoid number changes.

16.—Supervision and control of service.

With regard to the maintenance of the automatic system after the conversion is completed I think it desirable that the following service departments should be centralised in one office, if possible adjacent to the offices of the General Manager and the Chief Engineer.

1. Centralised testing organisation.

2. Centralised complaint organisation.

3. Centralised service observing organisation.

These services are closely interrelated and could very well be placed under a single supervising officer reporting direct to the Chief Engineer.

17.—Testing of new equipment.

In accepting automatic equipment and switching plant of any type from manufacturers I am of opinion that a definite plan of testing out should be prepared in all cases by the Company. Unfortunately there is evidence that in the past the eagerness of the Company to bring new equipment into use has led to its hurried and premature acceptance from the contractor. There is evidence that in three important cases this has occurred and it is thought that in the interests of the subscribers it is very necessary to have comprehensive and searching testing out operations undertaken before acceptance is effected.

18.—Summary of recommendations.

It is recommended

(a) That a vigorous policy of conversion to automatic working be adopted and the entire system completed within 2 years. (Section 10).

(b) That a responsible engineering officer be placed in sole charge of the conversion with no other duties. (Section 10).

(c) That heavy financing be undertaken to the extent of Tls. 8,000,000 by March 31, 1932 and a further Tls. 1,500,000 by March 31, 1935. (Section 11).

(d) That the annual telephone rates be increased temporarily as under:—

Business Telephone from	Tls. 78 to Tls. 105
Residence Telephones from	Tls. 52 to Tls. 65

with other subsidiary increases of tariff (Section 12).

(e) That a permanent Tariff be fixed by a Committee representative of the two Councils the Company and the Subscribers and that a graduated Flat Rate Tariff be one of the schemes to be considered. (Section 12).

(f) That the contract for reconditioning of the external plant in Central be followed at once by similar contracts for the West and North areas. (Section 8).

(g) That the conversion of the Manual magneto exchanges C. B. Working be expedited. (Section 7).

(h) That the East Exchange be closed. (Section 6).

(i) That subscribers be circularised and requested to adopt 5 figure numbers for both automatic and manual working and requested to have letter headings and other notices amended. (Section 1).

(j) That a programme for changing from 5 figure to 6 figure numbers some years hence be prepared in advance. (Section 15).

(k) That subscribers be advised of number changes well in advance of the date of change. (Section 15).

(l) That the Final Selector Units at Central be all converted to accommodate lines to private Branch Exchanges and so permit of a mixed load. (Section 15).

(m) That the Main Distributing Frame at Central be changed as soon as practicable. (Section 5).

(n) That the Chinese Staff be used more extensively for drawing and design work so that an adequate supply of diagrams can be available for the maintenance staff. (Section 13).

(o) That all apparatus Maintenance men be capable of reading a circuit diagram. (Section 13).

(p) That locally produced supplies be used as much as possible to avoid delays and to promote economy. (Section 14).

(q) That certain important control services be centralised. (Section 16).

(r) That a stringent testing-out procedure be adopted by the Company. (Section 17).

In conclusion I desire to acknowledge the great assistance I have received from the General Manager and the Staff of the Company who have throughout facilitated my work in every way.

I have the honour to be,
Sir,
Your obedient servant,
B. O. ANSON.

Public Health Report for October.

The health of the community was satisfactory during the month, and the death-rates among both Foreigners and Chinese were about normal.

Only one case of Cholera occurred among Foreign residents, the patient being Japanese. Among Chinese residents nine cases were notified with one death.

The first Foreign case of Smallpox since June occurred, the patient being a Russian who was reported to have been vaccinated last February at Harbin, but the vaccination did not take. No Chinese cases were recorded.

Vaccination and re-vaccination are the primary and essential methods of prevention of Smallpox. Secondary measures include prompt isolation and disinfection, but these are no substitutes for vaccination.

With rare exceptions, one attack of Smallpox confers immunity against subsequent attacks, and vaccination, efficiently performed, gives a similar protection.

"I never expected that it would do more" said Jenner, the discoverer of vaccination against Smallpox in 1796, "and it will not, I believe, do less."

In China, the infection of Smallpox is so prevalent and so virulent, that it is advisable to maintain a high immunity by being re-vaccinated every three years. A good time to have this done is during the early winter months.

Experience shows that the protection acquired by the individual increases in proportion to the vaccinated condition of the community. Communal protection becomes complete by systematic vaccination and re-vaccination.

The campaign of free vaccination at the Branch Health Offices was begun on the first of the month, and altogether 5,152 Chinese, and 85 Foreigners, were vaccinated, 97 per cent. of whom were infants or children. Altogether 2,200 free doses of Smallpox vaccine were supplied to Hospitals in Chinese territory.

At this time of the year the common catarrhal cold and other acute infections by the respiratory tract are prevalent.

It may be said that, of all acute communicable infections, only those of the respiratory tract, as Pneumonia, Influenza, and the Common Cold, are still beyond the scope of effective control, but this is undoubtedly only a matter of time. These infections are caused by microbes which invade the nose and throat.

They are most commonly spread directly from person to person, also from such infected articles as toys, sponges, towels, pillows and handkerchiefs.

The air immediately surrounding infected persons who have just sneezed, coughed, spat, or even spoken, becomes laden with infection, so that such persons are a menace to other people, and should, whenever possible, be isolated.

Warmth and moisture are favourable to the life of microbes floating in the air, therefore rooms and public meeting-places should be kept cool, dry and well-ventilated. Bedroom windows should be kept open, but draughts avoided on head and neck.

Resistance against infection is fostered by a healthy "responsive" skin, and this is achieved by regular and reasonable exposure to sunlight, cool air and water, and by taking plenty of outdoor exercise, lightly clad.

Resistance is lowered by indigestion, constipation and excesses of all kinds.

Chronic catarrhs and persistently recurring colds often afflict those who have something wrong with the nasal passages, or some underlying cause of continued low resistance. In such cases it is wise to seek medical advice and treatment.

Here follow Tables of Vital Statistics, Communicable Diseases and the work of the Food, Dairies and Markets Division, Sanitation Division, Tuberculosis and Venereal Diseases Clinics and Municipal Laboratories, Hospitals and Slaughterhouse.

The chloride and saline ammonia figures have remained normal. Nitrites have been absent. Free chlorine have varied between 0.02 and 0.04 parts per million in samples taken from the laboratory and between 0.00 and 0.06 in samples taken from other points.

Bacteriological Examination. — During the month 24 samples of Shanghai Waterworks water were examined. 5 samples were taken from the main, the remaining 19 from taps in various parts of the Settlement. Of the 5 mains' samples, 3 contained no coliform organisms in 120 cc, one contained 10 B. Coli Communis per litre and the other 10 coliform organisms per litre (not of the B. Coli group). 7 tap samples showed the absence of coliform organisms in 120 cc amounts, the remaining 12 contained them in the following numbers, 25, 100, 100, 120, 190, 190, 190, 800, 1430, 1450, 2900 and 3140 per litre. In 6 cases organisms of the B. Coli group were found to the extent of 10, 10, 36, 36, 45, and 63 per litre. The total content of one sample 10, and 25 out of 36 of another were proved to be B. Coli Communis. The remaining organisms were either B. Aerogenes or could not be identified.

Report on Analysis.—Results of analyses of samples of water as it leaves the Waterworks showed compliance with the requisite standards and satisfactory purification.

Six samples taken from taps gave evidence of local contamination.

Duty at Places of Amusement amounted to 10,434 hours.

The fires more particularly of note were:—

October 8, 1.10 p.m., 96 Range Road, Residence.—Sections of Hongkew and Central Divisions.—Finding a gas meter in flames, the Division closed the control-cock and extinguished it, the damage being trivial.

It appears that servants, endeavouring to trace a leakage of gas, went to a cupboard under the staircase, where the meter was installed, and struck a match. An explosion occurred and as a result four persons were severely burned. They were conveyed to Hospital in the Brigade Rescue Van, where they were detained.

This explosion again illustrates the folly of using naked lights in seeking gas leaks.

October 18, 7.59 p.m., Chinese Dwellings off Lay Road.—Sections of Yangtzepoo Division.—This was a late call and the Division found a number of one-storeyed dwellings well alight and already in a state of collapse. Fifteen houses, of brick and bamboo construction, were destroyed and a number of others damaged before the fire was extinguished.

One Officer and two Firemen sustained slight injuries.

The following inspections were carried out by the Department during the month:—

1. Licences.—
   (a) Premises of Applicants for Licences 43
   (b) Re-inspections 38
2. Licensed Premises.—
   (a) Theatres, Cinemas and Places of Amusement 716
   (b) Garages and Repair Shops 138
   (c) Hotels, Lodging Houses, Restaurants, Tea Shops, Food Shops, etc. 8
3. Buildings under construction. 183
4. Completed Buildings.—

   (b) Stores (Foreign and Chinese) —

5. Public Buildings, Schools, Churches, Hospitals, Municipal Buildings 41
6. Pumping Connections 221
7. Miscellaneous Inspections 2
8. Storage of Hazardous Goods 39

   Total 1,499

The above inspections revealed 284 breaches of the Licensing Conditions laid down by the Council, and 268 letters were written with regard to Fire Installations.

In addition Hydrant Inspections were as follow:—

(a) Shanghai Waterworks 1,452
(b) Private Installations 472

1,924

172 permits for the discharge and transport of dangerous and/or hazardous goods within the Settlement were granted.

Official Announcement.

The following statement was issued by the Council on December 6, relative to the impending visit of Judge Richard Feetham to Shanghai in connection with his appointment in an advisory capacity to the Council:—

"Ever since the publicly announced policy of the foreign Powers, and particularly America and Great Britain, with regard to the gradual relinquishment of extraterritorial privileges in China, the Council has fully appreciated the important relation of this policy to the complicated problem of the future status of the International Settlement during the transition period which must necessarily ensue before such a policy can become fully effective, as well as the necessity of devising some constructive plan or scheme which, while giving full consideration to the aspirations of the Chinese people, will at the same time afford reasonably adequate protection during this transition period to the great foreign, commercial and business interests which have been developed in Shanghai.

"It has been unofficially intimated to the Council by persons intimately connected with government circles that the Council might well take the lead in formulating some such constructive plan or scheme and that in order to obviate, in so far as possible, any impression or suggestion of prejudice or bias with which any plan of merely local origin might possibly be regarded in official and unofficial circles, it is desirable that in formulating such a plan the Council should have entirely disinterested and open-minded advice of a high order.

"This idea appealed strongly to the Council and after careful consideration it decided by a unanimous vote, including the Chinese members, to seek the services of an expert of international reputation thoroughly to explore the subject and develop its practical possibilities.

"Upon investigation there appeared to be one outstanding figure in the person of Judge Richard Feetham of South Africa who by training, experience and achievements in Ireland, India, Johannesburg and Nairobi seems best qualified to undertake so difficult and complicated a task.

"An invitation was extended by the Council to Judge Feetham to act as an expert adviser to the Council. At the same time the Council appealed to General Hertzog, the Prime Minister of the Union of South Africa, to grant leave of absence to Judge Feetham to enable him to undertake this important task and the Council is grateful to Judge Feetham for his acceptance of its invitation and to General Hertzog for his prompt and courteous acquiescence in granting him leave. Judge Feetham is expected to arrive in Shanghai about January 8."

Land Commission.

Mr. H. Berents has accepted a seat on the Land Commission as the Council's nominee during the remainder of the current Municipal year 1929—1930.

   (b) Service in any other volunteer organization will not count towards qualification.
(2) The period for qualification for the medal shall be 12 years efficient and active service.
(3) In addition to the medal, a bar will be granted for every additional 5 years efficient and active service.

NOTE.

The question of the individual's "efficient and active service" will be a matter for a recommendation to the Commissioner of Police by a Board consisting of the Assistant Commissioner (Specials), one Assistant Commissioner or Superintendent and one Senior Inspector.

(4) The award of a medal and/or bar to an individual will be published in the "Municipal Gazette" together with a statement of the engraving he is entitled to have on the reverse side of the medal. Any unauthorized engraving entails forfeiture of the medal.

St. Joseph's Institution.—Statement of Accounts for 1929.

Shanghai, December 7, 1929.

DEAR SIR,—In sending you our yearly accounts, we are very pleased to have the opportunity of thanking you for your great kindness in helping us.

Because of the great distress among the poor Europeans, the number of destitute or orphaned children given to us by the Consuls or Benevolent Societies, has greatly increased and we have no other source of income to upkeep them but the donations we receive from yourselves and those who are kind enough to help us.

We are, therefore, pleased to give you an exact account of the work done and also, and above all, to thank you for the help given, without which we could not do it.

If you could only see the cases which fall into our hands, you would easily conceive our sincere gratitude towards those who enable us to accomplish a very necessary and indispensable work for the foreign community of Shanghai.

I remain, dear Sir,
Yours gratefully,
M. de ST. BERTHILDE.

Public Health Report for November.

The health of the community during the month was satisfactory, and the death-rates, both among Foreigners and Chinese were below the average.

Cholera was entirely absent among Foreigners; only one case was notified among resident Chinese and one case, which proved fatal, among non-resident Chinese.

Smallpox which was absent amongst Foreigners since May reappeared during the month.

Three cases occurred among the Japanese, in two of which vaccination had never been performed, and these were fatal. One case occurred among the Americans.

All persons who have not been efficiently vaccinated or re-vaccinated during the last three years, are earnestly advised to be done now, since Smallpox usually increases in prevalence in the winter in Shanghai. The campaign against Smallpox was carried on vigorously at the Branch Health Offices and altogether 68 Foreigners and 3,329 Chinese, of whom 94 per cent. were infants or young children were vaccinated.

There were 4 cases of Scarlet Fever notified among Foreign residents, two among the British and one each among the Russians and Japanese.

Among the Chinese five cases were reported as occurring in one house.

Scarlet Fever is often virulent in Shanghai, and the mortality has been as high as 30 per cent. of cases compared with the usual mortality of 5 per cent. or less. It is most prevaient in the Autumn, Winter and Spring. It is readily transmitted directly from person to person, but not so readily as Measles and Smallpox. The most dangerous cases are the mild unrecognized ones, and "carriers" by whom the infection may unknowingly be spread. It may also be transmitted from infected articles and from food and milk. The virus is resistant and clings persistently to clothing and other things.

Scarlet Fever is infective from the time of the earliest signs and symptoms in throat and nose, especially during the period of the rash, and may continue so, long into convalescence. A patient may usually be safely released from isolation, after the sixth week from the commencement of the illness, provided there are no morbid excretions from nose, throat and ears, nor any open sores about the body. Children under 10 are most susceptible, and at 90 per cent. of the mortality occurs among them, they should be protected with special care. On the first sign or symptom of indisposition, especially fever, sore throat, vomiting, convulsions, children should be isolated in bed and placed under medical supervision.

A haemolytic streptococcus is now generally recognized as the cause of Scarlet Fever, and an antitoxin is increasingly used with success in the treatment of the disease. Passive immunity may be obtained by means of a small dose of concentrated antitoxin, and active immunity by a small dose of streptococcal vaccine and of diluted and modified streptococcal toxin.

These procedures are of great value for those who have been exposed to infection and for those, like doctors and nurses, who are in close contact with the disease, but the prevention of Scarlet Fever, generally, depends upon personal hygiene.

Ceaseless efforts are made by the Public Health Department to safeguard the purity of the milk supply, and during the month 185 samples were taken for analysis, seven of which were found to be of poor quality or adulterated with added water.

Five unlicensed dairymen from outside the Settlement were prosecuted in the Provisional Court and fines inflicted varying in amount from $30—$100.

Here follow Tables of Vital Statistics, Communicable Diseases and the work of the Food, Dairies, and Markets Division, Sanitation Division, Tuberculosis and Venereal Diseases Clinics, and Municipal Laboratories, Hospitals and Slaughterhouse.

Parks Report for November.

Flower Gardens.—Half hardy annuals and sub-tropical plants, which adorned the flower beds in the various public parks during the summer and autumn were destroyed by frost during the latter part of the month under review; on removal of the above plants, flower beds were dug and prepared for the reception of hardy annuals. The carrying out of schemes, formulated for the embellishment of the beds, was commenced, many Hyacinth and Tulip displays being included in the above schemes.

Jessfield Park.—The carriage turn at the Brenan Road entrance was re-designed. Two stone horses were removed from the grass plot and placed in the Chinese Garden; three topiary specimens of Buxus Sempervirens being transferred to Wayside Park and planted at the entrance to that park.

The area vacated by the above was graded, returfed and planted with numerous varieties of Narcissus. To give a landscape effect, Juniperus Chinensis var Kaizuka and Juniperus Brocumbens were planted.

To give a brighter appearance to this entrance, many specimen pot Chrysanthemums were grouped south of the ticket-issuing kiosk, while on the north side, two groups of evergreen trees and shrubs were planted, crazy paving being laid where necessary.

Included in these groups are Thuya Orientalis, Torreya Nucifera, Ilex Crenata, Ilex Aquifolium, Juniperus Chinensis and Podocarpus Japonica.

Jessfield Park Zoological Garden.—The resurfacing of the pathways is practically completed.

Cement work, connected with the formal swan pond, situated immediately east of the entrance pathway has been completed and the pond is now ready for the reception of newly purchased exhibits; these include Aix Galericulata, Spatula Clypeata, Fuligula Cristata, Anas Falcata, Anas Penelope, Anas Formosa and Querquedela Circia.

The re-designed Fox-cage was completed, the interior being planted with mixed shrubs. Large service doors were installed on all new structures and renovation of the Pheasant Aviaries was commenced.

Hongkew Park.—General maintenance was carried out in the above park. The grounds allotted to football and hockey were in constant use, play being possible on 28 days during the month.

Rare patches on bowling greens were repaired and all greens were topdressed with a mixture of garden soil, guano and bonemeal, protection against frost being effected by a covering of straw.

Wayside Park.—The relaying of the south bowling green is practically completed; the north green received similar treatment to those at Hongkew Park.

Nanyang Road Children's Garden.—A matshed for use as a winter shelter was erected, a cement sandpit being installed therein.

Municipal Nurseries.—The "pricking out" of hardy annual seedlings into nursery beds, preparatory to their distribution to the various parks and gardens, attached to Municipal buildings, was completed; certain less hardy species being protected by bamboo framework covered with straw.

Tree and shrub plots are being dug and manured with activated sludge.

Roadside Trees.—Lawn spaces between trees on Yuyuen Road are being slightly lowered to allow for the free passage of rain water from the pavement and the hoeing of tree beds has been commenced.

Conservatory. — This erstwhile meeting place of all botanically inclined residents was restocked with flowering plants in season. Orchids (Laelia-Cattleya and Cypripedium), Poinsettia (Euphorbia Pulcherrima), Streptocarpus; Saintpaulia Ioanthe and Moschosma Riparium, being predominating features.

Quinsan Square Children's Garden.—The number of juvenile visitors to this garden exceeds the figures for other minor spaces by an average of 500 per day and these, plus the large number of coolies, who regularly gained admission through the iron railings, resulted in the "Square" becoming at times a seething mass of humanity.

To safeguard the interests of the children living in the surrounding area, the garden has been redesigned, the requirements of juveniles receiving primary consideration in the proposed general lay-out.

Operations rendered necessary by the re-design have commenced and these include:—

(a) Erection of a bamboo boundary fence having one entrance at the Quinsan-Chapoo Roads corner.

(b) Grading of the area adjacent to the boundary and the subsequent planting of trees and shrubs thereon to act as a dustshield.

(c) Formation of a 25 feet wide ash pathway around the area, shade trees being planted along the centre at 15 feet intervals.

(d) Formation of additional graded areas on the centre section, trees being planted to afford shade during the summer.

(e) Erection of suitable swings, see-saw and sand-pits.

On completion of the above scheme, the garden will be more effectually controlled and a reversion to former conditions is not expected.
